MUNICIPAL POLITICS

The nominations for the civic elections will take place at the City Hall on Monday, Jan. 14, and the elections on Thursday, Jan. 17.

At present there are three candidates in the field for the mayoralty chair, viz., the present incumbent, Mr. Thos. Uphill and Aldermen G. B. Thomson and Ed. Marsham. All three candidates are cock sure of winning and the fight promises to develop into a battle royal.

At the last municipal election Mr. Thomson headed the poll for aldermen and Mr. Marsham came second with only nine votes behind. Of course this may be no indication of their popularity in a mayoralty contest, but it looks like a keen competition.

The aldermanic fight has not yet developed. We understand that all the old aldermen will be in the field again with the exception of the two who are out for the mayor's chair. Dan Alton has also signified his intention of running again as has also ex-Ald. Wm. Robichaud.

Three trustees are retiring this year, viz., Messrs. W. Stockwell, S. F. Wallace and T. H. Williams. There is some talk that one or two ladies will enter the field for these positions although no names have yet been mentioned.

There are two police commissioners to be elected, the one receiving the largest number of votes sitting for two years and the other for one year. As the only qualification required is that the commissioner must be a British subject, it is intimated that one or two of the clergy may enter the field.

ANNUAL MEETING BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the Fernie Benevolent Society took place Saturday, Dec. 29, and the following officers were elected for the coming year:

President—Mrs. E. K. Stewart.
1st Vice-President — Mrs. Cummings.
2nd Vice-President—Mrs. R. Wood.
Secretary—Mrs. Macneil.
Treasurer—Mrs. F. Johnson.

Investigating Committee for the next two months—Mrs. Liphardt and Mrs. Cummings.

The following reports were submitted:

To the President of the Ladies Benevolent Society, Fernie, B.C.:

I have audited the books of the Society for the year from Dec. 1, 1916, to Dec. 1, 1917 and find the same to be in order. Following is a list of receipts and disbursements for the year:

Receipts—Balance on hand Dec. 1, 1916, $159.82; members' fees, $25.30; Rent of dishes, $24.00; Easter ball, $204.25; donations, $6.20. — Total of $419.57.

Disbursements — Groceries, $64.60; Meat, $8.50; Miscellaneous, $2.00; Drugs, $35.70; entertainment, $50.50; Balance on hand Dec. 1, 1917, $243.57. —Total $419.57.

Clara O. Cummings.

Secretary's Report:

During the year the Society has held ten regular meetings and one executive meeting, with an average attendance of 7 members out of a membership of 23. The President presided at all meetings. The work of the Society for the past year has been comparatively light. We have through our investigating committee attended to all the cases which came before our notice, aiding the destitute with food and clothing where necessary and if work was desired securing it for them.

Our finances were increased by our annual ball held on April 3, at which we realized $153.75.

A resolution was passed at the meeting extending a vote of thanks to Mrs. Cummings for auditing the books.

Winifred Macneil, Secy.

Christ Church

The Christmas service of song in Christ church last Sunday evening was most effectively rendered by the choir and was greatly enjoyed by the large congregation. The anthem was "I Bring You Good Tidings," and the tenor and soprano solos by Mr. Alexander and Mrs. T. Prentice were sung with great feeling. Mrs. T. Prentice also sang the solo in the well known carol "When Christ Was Born of Mary," in which her sympathetic voice was heard to great advantage. The choir, which numbers 28 voices, and is most ably supported by organist, Miss Nelson, is taking a keen interest in its work and in consequence the services, which lend themselves so well to music, are very bright and inspiring. Next Sunday, the 6th, will be observed as a day of special intercession to Almighty God that he will guide us in the way of victory and peace. There will be appropriate music and addresses. Mrs. Prentice will sing "O Rest in the Lord" from the "Elijah" at the evening service.

The services will be: Litany and Holy Communion (choral) at 11 a.m. Evensong at 7.30.

During the evening serbice the Roll of Honor will be unveiled.

"GREEN STOCKINGS"

The Cranbrook Amateur Dramatic Company will visit Fernie, as announced in our advertising columns, for the purpose of presenting the comedy "Green Stockings" at the Grand theatre on Saturday, Jan. 12.

This will be the fourth performance by the Cranbrook amateurs within a period of three weeks. Their first appearance was at Creston on Friday, Dec. 28, when the play was well received by a large audience. The following day the company proceeded to Balfour and entertained the patients at the Military Sanitarium. In addition to the patients and staff at the sanatorium, the audience was augmented by a number of the residents of Balfour, Proctor and other points on Kootenay Lake, and the reception accorded the play amply repaid the company for the long trip they had undertaken for the purpose of entertaining the returned soldiers.

"Green Stockings" is a comedy in which Margaret Anglin played the principal role a few years ago, and is conceded to be one of the best comedies ever produced. There is a vein of excellent humor running through the entire play, which abounds in mirth-provoking dialogue and humorous situations.

A performance is being given in Cranbrook this evening under the auspices of the I.O.D.E., and the proceeds of the Fernie performance will also be devoted to patrotic purposes.

ELECTIVE POLICE COMMISSIONERS

A change in the municipal law goes into operation this month in municipalities in British Columbia that have no special charter governing their powers. This change has reference to the appointment of Boards of Police Commissioners.

Hitherto the government has made such appointments. But alterations in the Municipal Act have provided for the election of members in the future.

The former section of the Municipal Act has been repealed and the following substituted:

"In every municipality there shall be a board of commissioners of police which shall consist of the mayor or reeve, who shall be ex-officio chairman of the board, and two persons who shall, except as hereinafter provided, be elected at the same time and in the same manner as the mayor and aldermen or reeve and council."

This means, in short, that the electors choose the two commissioners instead of the government. Elections take place annually and the term of office is for two years.

THE ISOLDE MENGES CONCERT

Seldom have music lovers of our city been privileged to listen to such a treat as awaited them at the Methodist church on New Year's evening, when Isolde Menges, the brilliant English violinist, accompanied by Eileen Beattie, appeared before them. Miss Menges aroused the enthusiasm of her audience with her opening item and maintained it throughout her varied and most interesting program. If the contemplated return to Fernie in the spring should materialize, Miss Menges will receive an enthusiastic welcome from all who have heard her.

British pacifists have been carrying on their campaign for a German peace by spreading the rumor that it is Great Britain's intention to repudiate her loans in the present war. Anonymous documents urging people not to buy war bonds have been circulated in England. Mr. Bonar Law has taken the trouble to reply to this infamous rumor. Pacifists apparently can descend to any depths. Lying appears to be their stock in trade. We had a sample of their activities during the recent election campaign in this country, and, no doubt, in the course of time, they will commence their activities again by the circulation of scurrilous pamphlets. Before they can resume their propaganda we hope the government will take active steps to deal with these enemies of the country. Not only should all their writings be seized, but those convicted of hampering the country in its war efforts should be held criminally responsible.

"THE DEEMSTER" AT THE ORPHEUM, WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY, JAN. 9 AND 10

"The Deemster" is the most powerful dramatic story written by Hall Caine. The locale is the Isle of Man. The time of action is the early 18th century. Its motive is law and atonement.

Daniel Mylrea is the son of the Bishop of Men, the hereditary baron of the isle, whose temporal power is higher than that of the Deemster, or governor. The Bishop desires Dan to take orders. He prefers to become a fisherman. The Deemster has a son and a daughter—Ewan and Mona. Dan and Mona are in love. They will marry when he can obtain her father's consent. Ewan becomes a clergyman in the face of his father's insistence that he take up business.

The Deemster opposes Dan's suit for Mona's hand because he has fallen from his high estate as the son of the Bishop and become a fisherman. His dislike turns to open hatred when Dan endeavors to borrow money from Ewan to pay off the crew of his boat. Dan has squandered the earnings of his fishing season in roistering with his crew at the inn. Ewan refuses the loan. Dan makes him a bitter enemy by knocking him down on his taunt that dissipating money in drink is as bad as theft.

The Deemster forbids Mona to see Dan. He meets her clandestinely. While these meetings are innocent, her father uses them to inflame Ewan's mind against Dan by leading him to believe his sister has been dishonored. Arming himself with a knife Ewan seeks Dan at his hut and finds him mending nets. He attacks Dan and in the conflict falls backward over a cliff and is killed.

Dan's men, the crew of the fishing boat, take Ewan's body to sea and sink it. The tide washes it ashore. The body is found and Ewan's death is revealed. Dan confesses and is committed to jail. The Bishop gives him an opportunity to escape. He refuses to go, feeling that he must atone for his sin.

Dan is tried for murder. His own father, the supreme civil and religious power of the island, to save him from the Deemster's sentence of death on the gallows, decrees that he shall be cut off from his people—none to speak to him, none to minister to him in illness and none to bury him in death.

For seven years Dan lives alone in a hut by the sea. Then a plague strikes the people of Man. The Bishop has learned of a monk in Ireland who has discovered a remedy for the pestilence and sends for him. The monk comes to the isle on a vessel which is wrecked on the shore near Dan's desolate hut. He dies in Dan's arms, who then dons the cleric's garb and carries the cure to the people.

When there is but one powder of the remedy left, Dan learns that the Deemster is a victim of the plague. He faces his enemy to minister to him. He finds himself stricken. Either he or the Deemster must die. Revealing himself to the Deemster he elects to die himself. Giving the Deemster the healing powder he staggers away to his hut. He is followed by Mona and dies in her arms.

"The Lonesome Chap," a Pallas-Paramount production, at the Isis on Friday and Saturday.

Al. Rizzuto has made some improvements to his residence property at the corner of Howland avenue and Thompson street, and will move his family in shortly.

Fernie, B.C., Dec. 28, 1917.

To the Electors of the City of Fernie :

Ladies and Gentlemen—At the request of a large and representative number of the ratepayers, and after careful consideration, I have decided to allow my name to appear before you as a candidate for Mayor for the ensuing year. The responsibility connected with the position is large, but I know I can fill the position to the satisfaction of the large majority if elected. I have a large amount of time at my disposal and if elected, will devote most of it to your interests in the fulfilment of my duties.

I would like to point out for your information and consideration the fact that my hands are in no way tied, and there are no straps on me. I do not know an individual, a firm, an organization, a corporation or faction who is in a position to tell me what I must or must not do, if elected Mayor.

I stated my views re salary for Mayor and Aldermen a year ago from the public platform. My views regarding salaries are just the same today. I will deal at greater length with this particular matter between now and election day, also with other matters which will arise between now and then. I will endeavor to see most of you personally before the day of election, and would ask you not to pledge yourself to any candidate until you have had my platform explained to you.

I earnestly solicit your votes and influence and wish all A Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Yours very truly,
GEO. B. THOMSON.

TO THE ELECTORS OF FERNIE :

At the request of a large number of Ratepayers I have decided to allow my name to be placed in nomination for the position of Alderman. If elected I will endeavor to work for the best interests of the City.

Soliciting your support. I remain, Yours truly,
DAN ALTON.

Fred Clarkston, of Fernie, a British reservist, who has put in two years and nine months in the trenches, has received his discharge and expects to be home in about three months. Fred was wounded in the hip a few months ago and has not recovered sufficiently to return to active service.

We are glad to state that Fred Spalding, who underwent a very critical operation at at Fernie hospital on the 15th of last month, is now out of danger and on the road to rapid recovery. He asks us to inform his customers through the medium of this column that he hopes to be able to return to business again by the end of the month and state that in the meantime Mrs. Spalding will be at the studio each afternoon to attend to the sale of views, etc.

Mrs. Sophia Jane McDonald, relict of the late John McDonald, of Lindsay, Ont., died this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sherwood Herchmer, of this city, after a lingering illness of several months. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald were among the pioneers of Northern Ontario, coming to Lindsay when it was practically a wilderness. Five daughters and four sons survive, all of whom, with one exception, reside in the west. They are: Mrs. S. Herchmer, Fernie; Mrs. H. W. Herchmer, Mrs. Gorlay, Mrs. Billings and Mrs. Annstey, of Victoria; Fergus R., of Vancouver; John, of Portland, and Cyril, who is at the front. The body will be taken to Victoria on tomorrow's train for interment. The bereaved sons and daughters, all of whom are well known in Fernie, have the deep sympathy of their many friends.

G. N. ENGINEER KILLED

Troy, Mont., Jan. 2.—Owing to the recent rains and heavy thaws Callahan creek bridge, a half mile east of here, gave way on Sunday morning, as engines 1757 and 1750 of an eastbound G. N. freight train passed over, precipitating both engines into the stream. Engineer J. O. Lucier of the first engine was killed and his fireman, Steve Harris, badly scalded about the face and neck.

Engineer "Silvertip" Sullivan escaped with cuts about the face. Wrecking outfits from Hillyard and Whitefish arrived and traffic was resumed on Tuesday. Lucier leaves a widow and two children at Whitefish.

On Dec. 22 the Young Ladies Progressive Class of Olivet Baptist Sunday school sent to the Halifax Relief Committee five pair of rubber gloves for the medical relief work. The following letter from Halifax, dated Dec. 28, shows the appreciation of the Halifax Relief Committee:

Dear Madam—The Relief Committee deeply appreciates your very thoughtful and generous contribution of rubber gloves for doctors here, and we wish to convey to you and to the members of your Progressive Class our sincere appreciation and thanks. —Ralph P. Bell, Secretary.

"DOWN TO EARTH"

Although typically a Douglas Fairbanks picture, "Down to Earth," which will be shown at the Isis theatre on Monday and Tuesday, is different from any of his previous Artcraft offerings. This is due to the fact that the photoplay does not feature the popular actor's thrillers but rather shows why he is capable of performing these hair-raising tricks. While "Wild and Woolly" was more of a thriller, the new Fairbanks picture gets most of its laughs from incidents concerning life as Douglas Fairbanks sees it, namely, under the great blue sky, close to nature.

"SEVENTEEN"

Have you ever stolen your father's dress suit to make an impression on your best girl? Or were you the girl for whom the dress suit was stolen? At any rate, you will appreciate the humor of the situation when you see it on the screen at the Isis theatre, where the Famous Players adaptation of Booth Tarkington's celebrated novel "Seventeen" is scheduled as the attraction on Wednesday and Thursday, January 9 and 10. Jack Pickford in the role of Wm. Sylvanus Baxter, commits the theft in order to impress Louise Huff, who is Lola Pratt, the Baby Talk lady, in "Seventeen."

Donaldson—Biggs

A happy occasion was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Biggs, 124 McPherson Ave., at 8.30 o'clock, Wednesday morning, of this week, when their daughter Bessie was united in marriage to Mr. John L. Donaldson, the C.P.R. telegraph agent here, Rev. A. L. Carr officiating. After the wedding breakfast and music and singing the happy couple, amid congratulations showered on them by the several guests present, left on the westbound train for points in the United States and Vancouver, where they will spend a couple of weeks before returning to make their home in Fernie. The popularity of the bride was quite in evidence judging from the many presents she received. We share congratulations.

"LABOR'S WAR," SAYS PRESIDENT GOMPERS

Washington, Jan. 1.—In a New Year's greeting to all organized labor Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, calls upon representatives and organizers to make plain to their fellows the issues involved in the war and the obligation that devolves upon all citizens. He also emphasizes the importance of seeing to it that the spirit and methods of democracy are maintained at home while the country is fighting to establish them in international relations.

"War means victory for our cause or danger to the very existence of our nation," said the address. "With our nation at stake, individuals can not interpose opposition to the war—a war declared by the will of the nation's representatives. Under the exigencies of war opposition to the war declared by constituted authority becomes treason.

"While this is true there is even more than ordinary need for the maintenance of the rights of men and women and for careful scrutiny and the fullest discussion of policies and methods before their adoption. The time for labor to interpose its needs and contentions is while policies are in the making.

"The fighting and the concrete issues of the war are so far removed from the people of our country that not all of our citizens have a full understanding of the issues involved. An understanding of the principles involved, an understanding of the autocratic force which the central powers desire to substitute for the real principles of freedom, makes clear to all citizens of this republic the effect of our possible defeat upon their own lives and activities.

"In addition to the fundamental principles at issue, labor has an additional interest in the war. This war is in the last analysis a people's war—labor's war. The final outcome will be determined in the factories, the mills, the shops, the mines, the farms, the industries and the transportation agencies of the various countries. That group of countries which can most successfully organize its agencies of production and transportation, and which can furnish the most adequate and effective agencies with which to conduct the war, will win.

"The workers have a part in this war coequal with the soldiers and sailors on the ships and in the trenches.

"Continuous production is an indispensable prerequisite to production of necessary war supplies. The government, as well as the workers themselves, is vitally interested in maintaining such conditions that there shall be no occasion for interruption in production.

"The chief responsible agents of the government have shown a desire to be fair and an understanding of the human elements involved in this problem. The organized labor movement has also shown an equally broad understanding and grasp of the situation."

Mr. Gompers quotes at length from the declaration adopted by labor's representatives meeting here March 12 and from the resolutions of the Buffalo convention of the American Federation of Labor outlining the attitude of organizzed labor toward war work.

LIFT YOUR CORNS OFF WITH FINGERS

Tells how to loosen a tender corn or callus so it lifts out without pain.

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn or callus the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, lifts off with the fingers.

Freezone dries the moment it is applied, and simply shrivels the corn or callus without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but will positively rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or hardened callus. If your druggist hasn't any freezone he can get it at any wholesale drug house for you.

Report of the Auditors to the Shareholders of The Canadian Bank of Commerce

In accordance with the provisions of sub-sections 19 and 20 of Section 56 of the Bank Act, 1913, we report as follows:

We have audited the above Balance Sheet and compared it with the books and vouchers at Head Office and with the certified returns from the branches. We have obtained all the information and explanations that we have required, and are of the opinion that the transactions of the Bank which have come under our notice have been within the powers of the Bank.

We have checked the cash and verified the securities representing the investments of the Bank at its chief office and principal branches at a date other than, and in addition to, the verification at 30th November, 1917, and found that they were in agreement with the entries in the books of the Bank relating thereto.

In our opinion the Balance Sheet is properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the affairs of the Bank according to the best of our information and the explanations given to us, and as shown by the books of the Bank.

GERMANY'S STRATEGY —AND BRITAIN'S

Anyone glancing over the German plans of campaign as revealed in the operations of the last three years notices one fact in particular—that Germany has spent a great part of her war effort in striking down her weakest enemies.

It was so when she turned on Russia in Galacian fighting, knowing that that country had run short of ammunition and equipment. It was so when she overran Serbia and when she sent Mackensen against Roumania. And, lastly, there is the attack upon Italy.

The governing idea of the German General Staff has been to deliver a blow at the antagonist it thinks is least able to parry it. With this in view observers of German strategy assert that the Huns' next offensive will be undertaken against the French front in Alsace.

On the other hand what has been the governing idea of the Allies' campaigns? It appears to be this: strike more or less isolated blows where the enemy is strongest. That is what the French and British have been doing on the west front since they have been able to undertake any large-scale offensives at all.

Critics who point to the political advantages of the German plain maintain that if the British and French had formed a "strategic reserve" of say 500,000 men similar to that formed by von Hindenburg at the beginning of this year, they could have thrown it into the battle for the Bainsizza plateau at a critical moment and Austria would now be invaded and the Istrian peninsula in Italian hands.

Probably there is much truth in this contention. It was, doubtless, the sense of having lost such a magnificent opportunity of forcing Austria to her knees that led Mr. Lloyd George in his Paris speech to allude to the mistakes that the Allies had made through lack of a General Staff which, if it had been in existence, would in all probability have recommended Anglo-French help for the Italian army in its victorious progress toward Liabach.

However, the fault has been remedied. The General Staff which will consider the Anglo-French and Italian fronts as one front, to be guarded as such, is now in existence. And as for striking where Germany is weakest, political reasons in war may be important but military results in the last resort govern them.

If Germany is completely defeated where she is strongest her defeat is the end of the war, and of her political gains.—World.

War has not even slapped us on the back in greeting. It has not snapped its fingers in our faces. Americans are rehearsing, at their convenience, for the part they are expected to take. It is not only as yet, business as usual, but pleasure as usual. The normal of American life is disturbed mainly by anticipation and imagination and not by event. Various lines of business have had to make readjustment and submit to government stipulations. Heavy taxation is coming but it has hardly begun to collect. Virtually the only homes which find a war condition are the homes entitled to the service flag.—Chicago Tribune.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a small bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhœa, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

Mrs. Ralph Smith, widow of the late Hon. Ralph Smith, minister of finance in the British Columbia government, has announced that she would be a candidate for the legislature at the bye-election in Vancouver, made necessary by the death of her husband last summer. While Mrs. Smith is in the field as an independent candidate, the Vancouver Sun editorially suggests that "it would not be a bad idea to accord her the honor of election by acclamation."

The latest returns in the Victory Loan campaign show a total of 782,714 subscribers, or one subscriber for every ten people in Canada. This establishes a new record with respect to the proportion of the population of a country subscribing to its war loans. The previous record was held in Great Britain, where one person out of every 23 subscribed to the last war loan. In the Liberty loan campaign in the United States bonds were sold to one person out of every 27 of the population.

WHERE THE FOREIGNER BENEFITS

An esteemed correspondent draws The World's attention to one problem raised by the operation of the Military Service Act. It is a problem of some difficulty.

The Military Service Act conscripts only Canadian citizens. It leaves untouched not only neutral foreigners of military age but persons born in the United States and living in Canada yet not recognized by the United States as Americans nor admitted to citizenship as Canadians. These men, when the Canadian citizen is compelled to go to the war, get his position and good wages. In other words they enjoy without cost to themselves all the benefits the Canadian has gone to give his life, if necessary, to preserve.

There are not a few such cases in British Columbia, while in Eastern Canada the workshops and factories are being driven more and more to rely on foreign labor.

It is an unfortunate state of things. But to devise a complete remedy is a hard, if not impossible task. If foreigners belonging to neutral countries are refused employment, difficulties which it is desirable to avoid may be caused with their home governments. If their wages are lowered to that of the Canadian drafted men they will give only such service as the low wages warrant. Canada cannot conscript these men, she cannot force them to work except they are vagrants; neither can she fix the wages to be paid them. And on the other hand, with the demand for labor increasing as the available supply is taken up for war purposes, any attempt to restrict the supply artificially would not be in the interests of the country's trade development.

The position of the men who are neither American nor Canadian citizens is, however, simpler. They should be given a certain time in which to determine their nationality and at the end of the period should be dealt with accordingly. Perhaps something might be achieved if employers of labor throughout the country were compelled to make a return of the foreigners in their employ. The information thus gained would be valuable as showing the number engaged in particular industries and precisely their right to exemption from military service on the ground of nationality.

Generally, the problem must remain it is to be feared, until the end of the war. But if employers in every possible case give the preference to returned soldiers, and, when the war is over, see that discharged army men get first consideration, the situation will largely rectify itself.

Canada's motto should be "Canada for the Canadians." And who is a better Canadian than he who has defended Canada at risk of his life?

FOR RETURNED SOLDIERS

Before the coming session of the Provincial Legislature Premier Brewster and his colleagues should communicate with the Federal government and ascertain what plans are proposed for dealing with the returned soldier problem. Whatever course is followed will require Provincial co-operation and not a moment should be lost in making provision for this. In a province which owns its natural resources the opportunities for legislating to aid the returned men are all the greater. British Columbia is not going to be niggardly in her treatment of those who fought for the country. Forthis reason she cannot find out too soon what is the best way in which to rehabilitate the returned men.

There is no indication of what is the intention of the Union government, but we venture to believe that the case of the returned soldiers will be among the first to be taken up when cabinet meetings are resumed after the New Year. The suggestion advanced for the creation of a new portfolio of demobilization has found many supporters. Obviously there should be a special department. Otherwise the work will be distributed so that effort will be dissipated and the problem may become very acute. Next to the task of winning the war, by utilizing every means at our disposal to that end, there is no question of greater moment than that of insuring that soldiers, when demobilized, find their way back into civilian life with the minimum of delay. Our government does not appear to have realized how immense this task may prove unless ways and means are found now and the structure of rehabilitation built up on a sure foundation. This is a task which should be considered, not by the Federal government alone, but by that authority in conjunction with representatives of all the provincial governments. A round table conference of this character should be able to devise a workable scheme in carrying out which both Federal and Provincial legislation would dovetail. It should be based on the possibility that the war may end next year, but at the same time so framed that it will be equally efficacious if the struggle is prolonged beyond present anticipations.

More than once we have drawn attention to the urgent need of preparing plans, on a far greater scale than any in existence, to handle this problem. If the government is deaf to the representations that have been made from many quarters it is laying up trouble that will bring about its downfall. We do not anticipate for a moment that it will shirk the task. It has the mandate of the people to do everything in its power to prosecute the war with vigor. That mandate also carries with it the public wish that the state should insure as little dislocation as possible in the country's economic machinery with the coming of peace. The only way this can be prevented is by a definite and comprehensive plan for taking care of returned soldiers, in other words, devising employment for them or so governing their movements as to direct them into civilian pursuits for which they show ability and inclination. In a problem of this character the different provincial governments can lend considerable aid. For this reason we hope Premier Brewster will take up the question with the Federal government without delay.—Colonist.

"FIGHTING ODDS" IS 'BIG BUSINESS' STORY

A story of big business exposing the intrigue and trickery of unscrupulous financial powers is told in the latest Goldwyn photodrama, "Fighting Odds," by Roi Cooper Megrue and Irvin S. Cobb, which will be presented at the Orpheum theatre soon, with Maxine Elliott, noted beauty and stage favorite, making her debut as a star for Goldwyn.

Her screen work marks the first appearance of Maxine Elliott before American audiences in several seasons and her return as a star in motion pictures is the more notable because she is presented in an emotional role admirably adapted to her wonderful dramatic powers.

The automobile industry furnished the background and foundation for "Fighting Odds." A rising manufacturer, James Copley (played by Henry Clive), becomes the object of the schemes of the unscrupulous John W. Blake (Charles Dalton), financial power of Wall Street, and is made the head of a gigantic motor combine. But in his sudden rise to power he steps into the trap set to ruin him as a business man.

SOUR, ACID STOMACHS, GASES OR INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" neutralizes excessive acid in stomach, relieving dyspepsia, heartburn and distress at once.

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress, due to acidity, will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest stomach sweetener in the whole world, and besides it is harmless. Put an end to stomach distress at once by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by fermentation due to excessive acids in stomach.

LOCOL AND GENERAL

Fred Adolph, of Baynes Lake, was in the city on Wednesday.

R. M. Young spent several days in Calgary this week.

I. F. Pickett spent the holidays with old friends in Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Trites spent New Year's day in Spokane.

Thomas Eran was fined $5 on Monday for being drunk and disorderly.

Tony Selmko, who is insane, was taken to New Westminster this morning.

Don't miss the big special features with special music at the Orpheum each Wednesday and Thursday.

Frank Ireson, the famous actor, appears in "My Mother's Rosary" at the Grand this evening.

Martin Hansen, of Hosmer, was on Monday fined $50 and costs or two months in jail for having liquor in his possession.

The patriotic dance on Tuesday evening was the most successful that has been pulled off during the past year.

One or two card games were opened on New Year's day but the heavy hand of Chief Brown fell upon them before they had been running very long.

Work was resumed on Saturday after an idle week at the mines owing to weather conditions. The local coal supply was down to the lowest ebb, the teamsters refusing to work in the rain and deep snow.

Up to date none of the men in this district have been called for service. The application of 36 miners for exemption was to have come up yesterday but the exemption court has been adjourned for two weeks.

A meeting of the executive of the Curling Club was held yesterday to discuss the advisability of postponing the District Bonspiel from the 14th to the 21st, owing to bad weather, but it was decided to wait a few days longer before definitely changing the date.

The Shakespearian drama "The Merchant of Venice," starring John E. Kellerd, the famous actor, showed at the Grand on Friday evening to a small but appreciative audience. The performance was very high class and those who failed to see it certainly missed a treat.

New Year's day passed off very quietly this year. The only ripple of excitement was caused by a band of Scotsmen, headed by pipers Graham and Macneil, who paraded the streets and called on a large number of friends extending the compliments of the season.

A series of five card parties and dances, beginning next Wednesday, Jan. 9, will be held before Lent at the Catholic church hall at 8.30 p.m. Admission 25c. A pleasant time is assured. Only serial prizes given; the winners for the five whist drives will receive a cash prize of $5.00.

The local banks will be open on Saturday, until 6 o'clock to receive the second payment on the Victory loan bonds. Do not get the idea that your bank will look after this for you if you do not call. The only authority the banks have to pay your instalment is when they receive your check for the amount.

A marriage has been arranged, and will take place towards the end of January, between Mr. S. McL. Norton, of Fernie, B.C., now serving with the 1st Canadian Division in France, the youngest son of Captain D. H. Norton and Mrs. Norton, of Birmingham, and May, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Medhurst, of Derby.

The old restricted district, which for many years has been within the city police limits, was this week taken over by the provincial authorities. There were only three inmates left in the district and they were given 24 hours to leave the city. This is the final result of the purity squad campaign, which has been fighting for many years to clean up this district.

The Orpheum theatre is putting on a special program with special music each Wednesday and Thursday. Manager Johnston announces that some of the best pictures ever brought to Fernie will be shown during the coming year. The specials for the next few weeks include Maxine Elliot in "Fighting Odds," Jane Cowl in "The Spreading Dawn," "The Auction Block" by Rex Beach, and Madge Kennedy in "Nearly Married."

The three lads who were arrested last week while attempting to burglarize N. E. Suddaby's drug store, came up before Magistrate Whimster on Wednesday and were committed for trial. They elected for speedy trial and appeared before Judge Thompson yesterday morning, when, after pleading guilty, they were sentenced to two years each in the Industrial School at Vancouver. They were taken to the coast this morning.

F. G. Perry is in Calgary this week on business.

Customs Officer Nicholson returned on Friday from a visit to his home in Rossland.

M. Whitlaw, of the Coal Co. staff, returned on Tuesday from a trip to Winnipeg.

Mr. and Mrs. Corning, of Prince Albert, are spending a few days with the latter's sister, Mrs. G. G. Moffatt.

Thos. Roe returned yesterday from Calgary, where he spent a week with his brother.

L. E. Hanson, of Vancouver, has charge of the commercial office of the C.P.R. during the absence of J. L. Donaldson on his honeymoon trip.

A. Cummings received a check this week for $500 from W. R. Wilson, as a donation to the Patriotic Fund.

Jack McDonald, of Portland, Ore., who has been in the city visiting relatives for some days, returned home this week.

Pictures of the great Halifax disaster at the Orpheum Friday and Saturday.

The last meeting of the old council will take place on Thursday, Jan. 10. The council will then decide whether to hold a public meeting before the election or not.

School will reopen on Monday. There is only one change in the teaching staff. Miss McVicar, of Nelson, will take the place of Miss Cochrane, who has resigned.

The regular monthly tea of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church will be held at the home of Mrs. Wilkes, on Tuesday, Jan. 8, from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Judge Thompson, who was to have given his decisions on the cases appealed in the local exemption court here today, was unable to be in Fernie owing to a call to West Kootenay, where he is also conducting the exemption court. The court will reopen in Fernie on the 21st inst.

The Dominion Express Co. delivered large consignments of liquor from Saskatchewan during the Christmas holidays. As the next three months will wind up the importation of booze, no doubt the Express Co. will be kept busy. Hooch has already advanced from $5 to $10 a case in Montreal since the 1st day of January.

AMERICAN VIEW OF QUEBEC

(From the Adrian (Mich.) Telegram)

To be sure, the election was the other side of the Detroit river; but that makes no difference. It was our victory just the same. It was a victory for Americanism. It was a moral triumph for the United States and for the American government just as much as though it had taken place in Ohio or Texas. It was a defeat for kaiserism, foreign factionalism and La Folletteism, just as much as though it had taken place in Wisconsin or Missouri.

The battle lines between us and our foes were clearly drawn in Canada. Our allies were the supporters of the Union government of Premier Robert Borden. Borden stood shoulder to shoulder with President Wilson, toeing the same mark. He and his government demanded conscription and an unflinching fight to the finish on the part of Canada. He was supported, just as our President is, by all native and loyal elements of the people.

On the other side was a group of insidious politicians of the type that is familiar to us on this side of the border, led by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, whom we might liken in a sense to La-Follette. They were against conscription; they were for a "referendum." Laurier and his lieutenants had a strong following. This following was exactly the same in its actions as the copperhead element in the States, though it was of different composition. Of course every German copperhead in Canada was strong for Laurier, and there was much blatting about "Liberty" by men with a German accent who devoutly prayed that the Kaiser might make Canada a Prussian province. All other copperheads, native and foreign, were also for Laurier; so were the I.W.W., and a small and scattered following of pacifists.

But all these elements were insignificant compared with the sinister forces that arose in the French-speaking provinces, chiefly the province of Quebec. One might have expected the French-Canadians to have been the stoutest of fighters on our side, for they are French in speech, blood and religion, while politically they are British and owe their liberty and their protection to Great Britain. But it turned out exactly the other way. Led by their parish priests and a knot of politicians, the ignorant French-Canadians virtually repudiated their allegiance and defied their government. There were loyal elements among them, including many of the higher business circles and the higher clergy, but the overwhelming majority remained sullen, obstinate and defiant.

These anti-American elements were bolder in Canada than they were on our side. At Berlin, Ontario, for example (a German community and a hotbed of treason), Sir Robert Borden was howled down by a crowd of 500 German hoodlums. In Quebec free speech ceased to exist, nobody speaking for the government, the Unionist party or the war, could get a hearing, and it was difficult even to hire a hall because of the threats of violence. Thus the issue was squarely drawn. It was just as it would be in this country if the state of Wisconsin under LaFollette should present a solid front against the government, refuse to let any American speak in the state and openly defy the draft. It is hard for us to imagine such a condition. It is also hard to imagine ourselves putting up with it as patiently as the loyal Canadians have done.

Such a situation had to be met squarely. There could be no compromise; Canada had to find out whether Anglo-Saxon loyalty or foreign speaking treason was to rule. The line was drawn and every voter stepped on the side where he belonged. Fortunately the verdict is decisive—a majority of thirty or forty seats for the Union government. This means that Canada will proceed with conscription, and Quebec will have to fight with the Canadians or against them. We Americans can only hope that Quebec will be compelled by relentless force to take its dose of medicine to the last drop.

The moral insurgency of Quebec is a very sinister fact, and one that the United States cannot contemplate with unconcern. It is one more proof that the only safe course in North America is to extirpate foreign languages. In Canada it happened that the French language was the source of danger. In the United States it has been German. Perhaps at some future time it may be Italian, Russian or some other tongue. There is but one language that can be trusted; that language is English. There should be no press in any other language; there should be no schools conducted in any other language; there should be no meetings or public speeches in any other language.

We are beginning to see these truths, and we shall see them more clearly before this hideous war is over. In the end we shall act accordingly and so will Canada. North America is all Anglo-Saxon in its ideals and there can be no truce or compromise with foreign ideals, foreign sympathies or foreign languages. We—the true Americans and the true Canadians—have the power to make it so. If we do not, we are guilty of weakness and stupidity and amounts to a crime against posterity.

Commenting on the above article the Toronto News says:

A Michigan paper regards the insurgency of Quebec in the recent election as a sinister development, "and one that the United States cannot contemplate with unconcern." This particular American journal goes so far as to say that North America demands the extirpation of all languages except the English language. We doubt if many English-speaking Canadians are of this mind. We doubt if many of them would deprive Quebec of the privileges guaranteed to it under the British North America Act. But while English-speaking Canada leaves Quebec to its own devices and its own special privileges, eight out of nine provinces are determined that the special institutions of the ninth province shall not be forced upon them against their will. Ontario, for instance, is resolved that there shall be no purely French schools in this province and that all French children in this province shall have a reasonable opportunity to acquire the English language along with the French.

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given to the electors of the Municipality of Fernie, and Fernie School District, that I require the presence of the said Electors at the Council Chamber, City Hall, Pellatt Avenue, Fernie, British Columbia, on the Fourteenth day of January, 1918, at twelve o'clock noon Coast Time (One o'clock P. M. Local Time) for the purpose of electing persons to represent them in the Municipal Council as Mayor and Aldermen and in the School Board as School Trustees, and on the Board of Police Commissioners as Police Commissioners.

The mode of nomination of candidates shall be as follows:

The candidates shall be nominated in writing; the writing shall be subscribed by two voters of the Municipality as proposer and seconder, and shall be delivered to the Returning Officer at any time between the date of the notice and two P.M. Coast Time (Three P.M. Local Time) of the day of nomination; the said writing may be in the form numbered 5 in the Schedule of this Act (Municipal Elections Act), and shall state the names, residence and occupation or description of each person proposed, in such manner as sufficiently to identify such candidate; and in the event of a poll being necessary such poll will be opened on the Seventeenth day of January, A.D. 1918, at the Council Chamber, City Hall, Pellatt Avenue, Fernie, British Columbia, of which every person is hereby required to take notice and govern himself and herself accordingly.

Qualification for Mayor

Any person who is a British subject of the full age of twenty-one years not disqualified under any law, and has for the six months next preceding the day of nomination been the registered owner, in the Land Registry Office, of land or real property in the City, of the Assessed Value, on the last Municipal Assessment Roll of one thousand dollars or more, over and above any registered judgment or charge, and who is otherwise duly qualified as a Municipal Voter.

Qualification for Alderman

Any person who is a British subject of the full age of twenty-one years, not disqualified under any law, and has for the six months next preceding the day of nomination been the registered owner, of land or real property in the City of Fernie, of the Assessed Value, on the last Municipal Assessment Roll, of five hundred dollars or more, over and above any registered judgment or charge, and who is otherwise duly qualified as a Municipal Voter.

Qualification for School Trustee

Any person who is a British subject of the full age of twenty-one years actually residing within the District, and having been for the six months next preceding the date of nomination the registered owner, in the Land Registry Office of land or real property in the Fernie School District of the Assessed Value, on the last Municipal Assessment Roll, of five hundred dollars or more, over and above any registered judgment or charge, and being otherwise qualified to vote at an election of School Trustees in the said Fernie School District.

Qualification for Police Commissioner

Must be a British subject.

Given under my hand at Fernie, British Columbia, this second day of January, A.D. 1918.

Sunny Sand Creek

On the sunny banks of Sand Creek,
Where the birdies sing,
Where the robin redbreast
Is herald of the Spring.
On its banks the beaver,
There they have their home;
Through Sand Creek's shady woodlands
Graceful deer do roam.
In its sparkling waters
Speckled beauties glide
Where the river rushes
By the mountain side.
In the dark deep canyon
Towering cedars grow,
Nourished by the streamlets
From the winter snow.
Money in the mineral
There is quite a store,
Hidden in the mountains
By Sand's Creek's sunny shore.
Far off in foreign countries
The cannon loudly roar;
There is peace and plenty
On Sand Creek's sunny shore.
There I have my cabin
And flowers at my door,
Living with a faithful friend
On Sand Creek's sunny shore.

GLORIED IN HER ESPIONAGE WORK

Sydney, N.S.W.—It is known on the authority of certain of the federal ministers that a Prussian lady, the Countess von Schaumberg, who caused quite a flutter in Australian society not very long before the war, was a spy of the very first water, and that she was instrumental in placing in German hands the monopoly of Australian metal products which was so vigorously smashed, not so long ago, by Mr. W. M. Hughes. This countess came to Australia with a bag-full of credentials, put up at the hotel Australia, and was worshipped in a somewhat adulatory fashion by a section of our noveau riche.

The countess had written out, apparently for her personal enjoyment, the story of her wanderings in this part of the world. She had hidden nothing. She gloried in the good work she was doing for her Kaiser, and her espionage triumphs in Australia. Some time since the outbreak of the war she was passing through Switzerland, and these interesting writings were taken from her bag, and found their way into British hands. Extracts from them have been published recently in American papers. Australian ministers, thereupon interrogated, admitted that the countess had been a very successful spy in Australia; but they have not yet allowed the newspapers to publish the true story of her Australian activities. Some of the papers have published the extracts from the American journals.

The countess says that she was selected by the Kaiser to proceed to Australia and get the metals concessions; that she met on the steamer a Sir Percy Plumer, who was going out, on behalf of English interests, to get the concessions; that she was beautiful, and got into Sir Percy's good graces; that he told her that h was going to inquire into a new smelting process which would greatly cheapen the handling of the ores an enable the English easily to outbid the Germans for the metal concessions. The countess says that when she arrived in Australia she consulted with certain German experts, who were in despair; they knew that the new process was a success and that they could not hope to bid against the English interests. So they concocted a plot. The countess used her friends and her influence to be admitted to the demonstration and she contrived to introduce a chemical which made the official test a failure. "Sir Percy berated the crestfallen inventor as a humbug, and the inventor left in high temper. Soon German interests had signed up for the output of the entire mines. I had not failed my Kaiser.

There are those who are not inclined to believe this account of the manner in which the Germans obtained their amazing hold on the Australian metal industry. But the fact remains that the Germans did get this monopoly; and that the German countess, on the admission of federal ministers, was one of the most successful and dangerous German spies who visited Australia in pre-war days.

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

AUSTRALIA AND COMPULSION

If the final count in the Australian referendum results in a defeat for conscription it must be remembered that the Commonwealth, with a population smaller than Canada's, has sent a larger army to the war, and that its remoteness has prevented it from reaping the financial harvest which has come to this Dominion through war orders. If the soldier vote fails to overcome the civilian majority against compulsion the reverse must be largely attributable to the Socialists, the I.W.W.'s, and Pacifists and the Mannixites or Sinn Feiners. According to the Melbourne Argus, the Socialists and the I.W.W.'s may be classed together, because they have one common idea. They acknowledge allegiance to no country.

"The world is their country, and apparently to do evil is their religion. They are not scrupulous in their methods; they are unpractical in their objectives. They would own the world and to attain ownership they would set the world on fire. Of the two parties, the I.W.W. is the less dangerous, inasmuch as its methods are more obviously menacing and terrifying. While the International Socialist is an intellectual snob, the I.W.W. is an avowed criminal. But neither the Socialist nor the I.W.W. would care if the British Empire were destroyed by this war. The one would fraternize with the German conquerors and the other would continue his policy of murder and arson against the Germans and the subjugated Australians indiscriminately."

The Mannixites take their name from their leader, Dr. Mannix, who is a Little Australian and a Sinn Feiner. The I.W.W.'s, or Industrial Workers of the World, are at work everywhere outside of the Kaiser's realms. It is probable that they are financed with German money. They are governed by similar ideas to those which rule the Russian Bolsheviki, the Irish Sinn Feiners and other anarchists. The arrest of the Russian steamer Shilka at an American Pacific port with stores of guns and munitions on board suggests that the Russian extremists are working in co-operation with certain undesirable organizations in the United States. German emissaries are employing every unruly and discordant element at their command in persistent efforts to break down the morale of the people in all Ally countries, and to prevent all these countries from making their maximum efforts in the war.

Germany Laughs No More

Germany affected to laugh as one by one the neutral States which are not great military powers fell off from her in horror of her crimes. She laughs no more. It is not, indeed the moral condemnation of so many peoples which disturbs her seared and hardened conscience. At that she can still scoff. But she is finding that the raw materials for her industries in war and in peace together with no small share of her food supplies are under the control of those who are her declared enemies, or who refuse to continue diplomatic relations with her. She is beginning to perceive what this may mean for her. —London Times.

LOSES LIFE IN G.N. YARDS

A sad fatal accident occurred in the Great Northern Railway yards on Tuesday afternoon when Paul Gyjenski, a miner, while rturning from work at the close of the shift and travelling towards his home in the Annex Extension, was struck down and instantly kil'ed by an M. F. & M. switching engine.

An inquest was held on Wednesday at which Coroner A. C. Murray, of Michel, presided. The evidence given by members of the train crew was that on returning from the south end of the G. N. yards after delivering a trainload of coal, and pushing a box car and car of fence posts ahead of the engine towards the transfer to the city yards the first intimation of the accident was when the engine passed over the body of a man. At the time snow was falling and being driven by a heavy wind from the north, making it difficult to see any distance ahead on the track, as well as giving rise to conditions which would make it difficult for the victim of the accident to hear the approaching train.

Within a few feet of the spot where deceased is supposed to have been first struck a cut-off path leads from Wright street across towards the Annex Extension, and it is assumed he was travelling this way to his home which is in the vicinity of the Fairy Creek cable bridge. Two G.N. section houses are located immediately to the south of this path where it crosses the tracks and in approaching the tracks a pedestrian's view suothward would be obstructed by these buildings, and he would be right on the main line before a train approaching from that direction would be noticed. This travelling way, which is used more or less extensively by residents of the Extension, is, nevertheless, not a public thoroughfare, and those using it are trespassing on the railway property and subject to penalty therefor.

Deceased was 55 years of age and has been employed as a miner at Coal Creek for a number of years. He is survived by a wife and six children, all of whom reside here. The funeral will be held on Sunday under the auspices of Gladstone Local.

The verdict of the jury was as follows:

We, the jury empanelled to investigate into the death of Paul Gyjenski, find that the deceased came to his death Jan. 8, 1918, about 4.40 p.m., by being run over by an M. F. & M. Ry. train while switching in the G. N. railway yards. From the evidence no blame can be placed upon the train crew or the R. R. Co.

NEW TEST METHOD MAY ADD TO SAFETY OF COAL MINERS

What it is believed by those experts who are carefully watching the experiments, will revolutionize existing methods of testing air in coal mines and will prove of the utmost importance in safeguarding the lives of thousands of workmen engaged in underground work in the mines of the Province, is now being put through its final tests. The Burrell gas detector is an instrument which is expected to produce the results looked for. If it does the work it is claimed it will, it will give immediate warning of the presence of smaller percentage of methane in the ventilating current in coal mines than can be detected with the safety lamps now in use. If the final tests now being watched by the officials of the Provincial Mines Department bear out expectations, no time will be lost in introducing the detector in the mines of the Crow's Nest Pass district, where the prevalence of gas in the mine workings has in the past proved such a serious problem.

Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, is not satisfied with the method now in use of testing the air for smaller percentages of the deadly methane, it being necessary to forward air samples to Ottawa for analysis and await the return of the examination, a process which involves a delay of ten days or more before results are known. It was proposed, as a result of the recent expert investigation made of the Crow's Nest field by George H. Rice, chief engineer of the United States Bureau of Mines, to place a competent chemist, with necessary equipment, in that district to take and analyze the daily samples of air, but this course, it is stated, may not be necessary, and, in fact, may prove entirely superfluous should the Burrell detector prove all that the tests so far indicate it will. And if the results are satisfactory, it will not be long before the mines at Coal Creek are equipped with the necessary number of detectors whereby the mine officials will know from day to day just what percentage of gas is present in various parts of the mines.

From a series of tests made with analyses, gas samples taken at the same time in reasonable velocities by the Burrell detector and those taken and dealt with in the ordinary way, the two have checked out very closely, within three-tenths of one per cent. In high velocities the results were not quite so satisfactory; but further tests are being made under these conditions, and it is these results which have yet to come to hand. Some of the comparative figures taken at the Coal Creek Colliery, which speak for themselves, are interesting:

PROVINCIAL PATRIOTIC FUND; WRITES DECEMBER REPORT

Contributions to the patriotic fund for the month of December from points in the province exclusive of Vancouver and Victoria amounted to $35,284.45. The following contributions from points in the district were received:

Cranbrook	$1642.48
Creston	242.79
Fairview	9.65
Fernie	627.40
Grand Forks	1073.45
Greenwood	899.91

Nelson	1000.00
New Denver	159.55
Trail (town)	632.63
Trail (Smeltermen's Fund)	2000.00

Total contributions for the province of British Columbia, including the city of Vancouver, to November 30, are approximately $2,452,000 and disbursements during the same period about $3,538,000. The difference between the receipts and disbursements of $1,086,000 was supplied by the Central Fund at Ottawa.

During the month of November assistance was rendered to 6899 families with 11,484 children—a total of 18,383 individuals.

His Excellency the Governor-General has issued a New Year appeal for the continued support of this Fund by the public. Its importance has been generally recognized and the Executive at Ottawa, composed of representative men throughout the Dominion, feel assured that there will be no lack of this generous support so long as necessity demands.

COUNCIL HOLD LAST MEETING

At last night's meeting of the city council, which was the final chapter for the present civic administration, the mayoralty candidates recorded a perfect attendance as His Worsip Mayor Uphill and Aldermen Thomson and Marsham, who are all undestood to be seeking election to the mayor's chair, were right on the job last night. Aldermen Beck and Brooks were absent from the official gathering. The minutes of the previous regular meeting were adopted formally and the communications were considered.

Secy. Martin wrote on behalf of Gladstone Local for permission to erect a private notice board, complaining that the public boards now in use were sometimes covered with notices and important union notices not properly exhibited. The council unanimously consented to Gladstone Local having a board of their own provided they supplied same and obtained permission of the property owner on which it was proposed to erect same.

The Department of Finance, Ottawa, transmitted a copy of a recent order in council for the information of the city council, setting forth that municipalities are now prohibited from selling certificates or debentures without first obtaining the approval of the federal department to negotiate any such loan. This was regularly received and filed.

The finance committee tendered two lots of accounts to be sanctioned for payment, one lot covering goods purchased and received during the latter part of 1917, and the other covering supplies, etc., ordered in 1917, but received during the present year. With regard to the latter bunch, Ald. Marsham rather strongly objected to passing them for payment, claiming that by so doing the old council was usurping the duties of the incoming council. Others present took the stand that inasmuch as the old council had contracted these obligations it was certainly up to them to O. K. them for payment. Everybody had something to say on the subject and after it had received reasonable consideration His Worship demanded that a motion to dispose of same be presented, otherwise the accounts in question would be held over. There was no motion forthcoming so there will be no checks issued for the accounts on this list until after the next council meets at least.

Ald. Jackson at this time intimated that he had a special motion to present with respect to some local "sleight of hand" enterprise, but first desired to know if the operative was paying a license to the city. He was promptly informed that the necessary license had been paid and thereupon stated his motion was not necessary at all. Bill then wanted to know positively who were on the delinquent list for water and light, and was informed that the consumers' ledger was considerably more free from accounts in arrears than it had been for some time.

Adjournment was then taken shortly after 9.00, but just before this it was arranged to engage the Grand theatre for Tuesday evening, Jan. 15, for the purpose of holding a grand rally when the electors will have the opportunity of hearing the policies with respect to civic government as advanced by the respective mayoralty, aldermanic and police commissioner candidates.

ANNUAL CIVIC MEETING

On Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock a public meeting will be held in the Grand theatre to discuss civic affairs. The Mayor and Aldermen and all the new aspirants for office are expected to be present and address the electors. A warm time is anticipated.

The mayoralty fight, which is the first three-cornered fight for this position in the history of the city, gives evidence of being a hot one. Mayor Uphill says he is confident of success, Ald. G. B. Thomson says there is nothing to it but the shouting, and Ald. Marsham claims to have a lead pipe cinch on the job. Time will tell.

Up to date there are only seven candidates for the position of aldermen, but more may put in an appearance at any time. Those mentioned to date are Aldermen Beck, Jackson, Brooks, Dudley, ex-Ald. Robichaud, William Hunter and Dan Alton.

For the position of trustees there are three names mentioned, viz., G. F. Johnson, Wm. Ramsay and J. S. Irvine.

For police commissioners the following are mentioned: R. Dudley, W. Jackson, Wm. Dicken and S. Graham.

Don't fail to see "The Amazons" at the Isis, Friday and Saturday.

MINERS GET AN INCREASE

A further increase of 14c a day, retroactive to Dec. 1, has been granted all the miners in District 18, as a result of the most recent enquiry into the cost of living, periodically conducted by Commissioner Harrison and his assistants.

This will make a total of 34c a day increase that the miners have received under the new arrangement which provides for these periodical enquiries and increases accordingly as the increase in prices of necessities takes place.

DECREASE IN FERNIE'S TRADE

Following are a few figures in connection with Fernie's business for 1917:

The collections by the customs department here indicates a decrease of $18,078.75 from the collections for 1916. The figures are: Collections for 1916, $80,634.96, and for the year just closed the collections were $62,556.21. The decrease was not confined to any particular line of imports, though those of mining supplies perhaps were the largest proportionally.

The decrease in customs was more than off-set, however, by an increase of $25,580.33 in inland revenue collections. The collections in this department were $79,805.73, for 1917, and for 1916 they were but $54,225.40.

In exports, nearly every article which goes across the international line shows a decrease from the figures for 1916.

In 1916 there were cleared through the U.S. consulate here, 585,187 tons of coal, and the figures for 1917 stand at 341,581, a decrease of 243,669 tons and a shrinkage in value of $76,977.

Coke shows a corresponding decrease, the amount [illegible] 1916 being 42,273, which fell last year to 13,116 tons and the value sank to the extent of $96,975.

The strike of last summer and the April explosion were chief factors in these reductions, and the decrease shown in the export of metals has for one cause, this shortage in production of coal and coke.

CITL HOCKEY LEAGUE

Owing to soft ice the two scheduled games for last week were postponed but will be played off at some future date.

Last night the people witnessed about as good an exhibition of hockey as has been played this season. The opposing teams were the Commercials and Bankers and the result was a win for the Commercials by a score of 6-3. Good combination was played by both teams but the Commercial goal tender either had a horse shoe in his pocket or he is all there as a goal tender because he was attacked by the Bankers all the time.

Scott and Wallace were the stars for the Commercials.

Next Tuesday the High School plays the Commercials, and on Thursday the Bankers play the Knights of Gladness, provided the curlers do not use the skating rink for the bonspiel.

MOSTLY BRITISH NOW

Nearly one-fourth of the earth's surface is comprised within the continent of Africa, and it is as far around the coast of Africa as it is around the world. Every eighth person in the world's population lives in the dark continent. The blacks double their number every 40 years and the whites every 80 years. There are 843 languages and dialects spoken among the blacks of Africa but only a few of them is written.

RETURNED SOLDIERS CLAIM THEY WERE POORLY TREATED

Pte. R. J. Cornish, who enlisted with the 242nd Batt. in Cranbrook and left for overseas in September, 1916, found the streets of England to be uqite as dangerous to him as the battlefields of Flanders. On June 8th Pte. Cornish was walking peacefully about a certain quiet place in old England, when the world was suddenly blotted out and he woke up on a stretcher.

"It was one of those air raids," he told a reporter for the Sun soon after his arrival with the crowd of 54 men who have arrived in Vancouver.

One of the party made a decided protest as to the treatment of the men who returned with him on the steamer to St. John. He said they were fed principally on bread and jam, while the officers lived on the "fat of the land." The men also complained that they were refused the use of the piano on board, though there were among them several who could play, and this would have helped pass the time away.

Of the crowd which arrived recently, none was especially daly "done up," the majority having been on the road to recovery for a considerable time. One of them, Pte. H. A. Lamb, who joined the Strathcona Horse at Lethbridge in August, 1914, soon after war was declared, and who was hit in the shoulder at Dickebush, Belgium, in October, 1915, was in the hospital practically all the time since that date up to the time he was sent back to Canada. He has not fully recovered yet.

FERNIE LOSES FLEISHMAN CUP

Wm. Cameron and Arthur Ward, two of Cranbrook's most expert skips, came down to Fernie on Wednesday evening and succeeded in carrying off the Fleishman Cup after a hard battle with two of our local rinks. This is the fourth effort that Cranbrook has made to lift the cup and their rinks went home feeling very happy at their final success. Cameron's rink, which was composed of Henderson, Brown and Bowness, played A. C. Liphardt's rink composed of Stewart, Henderson and A. Prentice, the former winning by a margin of 4, the score standing 11-10. Ward's rink, composed of Campbell, Wallinger and Hill, lined up against F. C. Lawe, playing T. Prentice, Guy Johnston and F. Greenwood, Cranbrook winning by a margin of 6, the score standing 8-14. The combined score was 18-25 in favor of Cranbrook.

It is expected that two Fernie rinks will go to Cranbrook tomorrow in an effort to regain the trophy.

APPEAL TO PUBLIC FOR HALIFAX RELIEF FUND

Mount Fernie Chapter I.O.D.E has been requested to make an appeal to the citizens of Fernie for subscriptions for Relief Work.

The I.O.D.E. of Halifax have established a home for orphans and unclaimed children and are asking for our help in this cause.

The Regent and members beg to remind the citizens of Fernie that this is an occasion to make return for help received by them when suffering from similar disaster.

Any monies so subscribed and sent to Mrs. A. B. Trites, Secretary of Mount Fernie Chapter, I.O.D.E., will be acknowledged in subscription list published in the Fernie Free Press.

Subscriptions already donated:

Mt. Fernie Chapter I.O.D.E.	$25.00
Mrs. G. G. Moffatt, Regent	25.00
Mrs. Suddaby	5.00

The following local skips have entered rinks in the District Bonspiel which opens in Fernie on Monday: T. Beck, F. Greenwood, F. C. Lawe, A. C. Liphardt, Jas. Johnston, W. Baldrey, S. Herchmer, J. R. Wallace, R. M. Young, A. Macneil, J. McLaren and W. Lancaster.

Chiefs of police over the Dominion have received circular letters from the department of justice to arrest all men who come under the Military Service Act who are unable to produce a receipt from the postmaster either for a report for service or an allowance for exemption. Failure to have the receipt in their possession is sufficient grounds for incarceration so all men are asked to keep their receipt convenient for inspection if stopped by the police authorities.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Since the miners of Fernie quit paying to the Patriotic Fund this city's place in the list of published subscriptions has dropped down the line to the village class. Even the lumber camp at Waldo digs up nearly double the amount of Coal Creek and Fernie. The miners in this district are receiving every consideration in the matter of wages and it is only fair that they should hold up their end in this cause. If they were paying too much before, cut the amount down but let them give something regularly each month.

The Calgary Herald says:

"In general, Calgary may be paying its civic employes as much as other western cities, but where men on the police force are being paid less than $25 a week there is something wrong. Less than that amount is not enough for a married man to live on in these days of high living costs."

In B.C. the Provincial government pays many a married man on the police force at the rate of $75 per month.

A Socialist delegate at the Alberta Federation of Labor convention charged that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation, had sold out to the Yankee profiteers. It is the foolish ravings of such irresponsibles as this man that put labor in wrong with many good people who would prefer to be friendly to the cause. It is a pity they cannot be kept quiet.

Chief of Police Cuddy says that the blind-piggers are flourishing in Calgary and that under the law as it stands they will continue to flourish. If the law is weak in this respect it should be amended. Blind pigs are infinitely worse than open bars.—Calgary Herald.

Liquor is coming into Pass towns at the rate of a parcel a week for every home, representing an average value of $3 each, which means more money's worth than was ever served over the bars of the Pass in that period.—Blairmore Enterprise.

Fernie can feel thankful that she is not in the position described by the Lethbridge Herald in the following editorial:

Financial conditions in the cities of Western Canada have come to a "show down." A solution for the difficulty must be found, or the alternative is that the cities will be forced to default on their bonds and go into receivers' hands.

The trouble in all western cities has arisen as a direct result of the boom spirit, which had two effects: First, the cities built too lavishly in the way of permanent improvements, and second, too many subdivisions were added, spreading the population over too great an area thus making necessary unprofitable extensions of public utilities, and at the same time bringing to the assessment roll thousands of acres of vacant property on which had been placed fictitious boom values thus creating a fictitious basis for taxation.

Today the cities all find themselves heavily involved, and with an ever-increasing volume of tax arrears. Much of the arrears is on this useless subdivision property which the owners in the majority of cases would rather relinquish than pay the taxes year by year in the distant hope that the property might some day be worth its assessed value. For the cities to continue to levy taxes, which are never paid, against such property only results in a larger volume of arrears being piled up, and a fictitious credit appearing on the city's books.

The sooner the outside properties on which the cities cannot hope to collect taxes, are wiped off the assessment roll the sooner will the cities get down to a permanent basis for financing. But in addition to this, something must be done to lighten the tax burden on those owners of inside property who must keep up their taxes owing to their heavy investments. There appears to be only one way in which the cities can accomplish this—unless of course there should be an enormous growth of population in the cities with a corresponding growth in basic industries to employ them—and that is to go to the bondholders, explain the situation, and gain their consent to a refunding or rebonding process which would spread the present indebtedness over a greater number of years thus lessening the annual tax burden on the ratepayers. This plan, with the exercise of the strictest economy in controllable expenditure, will probably help all the deeply involved cities to pay their just debts without undue tax pressure on the ratepayers.

OLD VARSITY TRAINING AIR MEN

Those who have imagined flying to be a sort of super sport, hazardous perhaps, but still a thrilling game for young men will be surprised to learn that aviation more nearly approaches a profession.

To see the classes of smartly uniformed Cadets, not books in hand, moving about the Toronto University buildings, gives one a better idea of the nature of their work. A cadet is trained to navigate the air in safety. He is taught to render useful service as an aerial observer. Before receiving his commission he knows flying thoroughly, but he is also something of an expert in Chartography, Meteorology, Wireless Telegraphy, Signaling, Aeroplane and Engine Manufacture, Aerial Photography, Bombing and Gunnery. Quite a formidable list, but all very interesting to the young aviator to be.

The School of Military Aeronautics established at Toronto University by the Royal Flying Corps is reputed to be the best equipped in the Empire. The instructors are men who have fought the Hun airmen in France. Many have served for months in the trenches before entering the R. F. C. They are earnest, painstaking teachers, who realize the vast importance to the Empire of thoroughness in training men for aerial warfare.

MISS RANKIN BUTTS IN

The only lady member of the United States House of Representatives Miss Rankin (who voted against war with Germany), is now engaged in meddling with matters which are no concern of hers. She has introduced a wholly irrevalent resolution in the House declaring the "right of Ireland to political independence" and that "we count Ireland amongst those countries for whose freedom and democracy we are fighting." The deplorable tactlessness of this action of Miss Rankin needs no emphasis. Perhaps she would realize it, however, if the British or Canadian parliament considered a resolution dealing with the domestic affairs of Montana, Miss Rankin's own state.

UNSKILLED LABOR WILL BE RECRUITED

Winnipeg, Jan. 9. — The Winnipeg Free Press today says:

It was learned on reliable authority today that within a very short time and certainly before the spring work in the farm commences, the Dominion government will announce the conscription of alien and unskilled labor, for the farm and mines and other necessary work.

Repeated representations have recently been made to the government from various organized and public bodies in the west asking that some such method of dealing with the question of labor be adopted. There has been grievous complaints that while the true sons of Canada are fighting in the trenches for a dollar a day, the aliens remain in safety in the country and are standing out for almost prohibitive wages, refusing to work unless these wages are paid.

"GREEN STOCKINGS"

The Cranbrook Amateur Dramatic Club will present "Green Stockings" at the Grand theatre on Saturday, Jan. 12. This comedy has been presented at Creston and at Balfour for the soldiers, and at other places, and has met with great success. It will be given here under the patronage of the I.O.D.E. and the Patriotic Society, and a large attendance is looked for.

AUSTRALIA'S THREE GREAT PUGILISTS

The death of Fitzsimmons calls to mind the fact that he is the last of the three great pugilists sent by Australia to this country and who in their day were all top-notchers, says the Butte Miner.

The three were Peter Jackson, Young Grifo and Fitzsimmons. These three, all invincible in their line despite their frailties, were beloved from one end of the great Australian country to the other.

Jackson lived in San Francisco for a long while, and it was there he met Corbett and other famous fighters.

When his career ended and he returned from California to his native land he met with perhaps the most wonderful reception ever accorded a prize fighter.

Crowds met him at the wharf on his arrival at Sydney and escorted him to Tattersalls, where a formal reception was tendered the old pugilist.

When he quit the steamer for his native shore, Peter's pockets were empty. Before he reached Tattersalls they were filled to the brim with enough gold to keep him in ease and luxury even through the balance of his life.

"SLEEPING FIRES"

Many a court room scene has figured on the screen but never a one like that which is seen in Pauline Frederick's latest starring vehicle, "Sleeping Fires." Because this particular court room scene was actually secured in the court room of a certain town where the judicial department prides itself upon its up to date improvements in equipment and procedure. The whole process is shown from the impressive opening of the court to the final breathless silence which seemed almost visible in its intensity which preceded the verdict "Not Guilty." Pauline Frederick as Mrs. Bryce will appear in "Sleeping Fires" at the Isis theatre on Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

SANCTUARY OF THREE FAITHS

Many episodes in the history of Jerusalem which has been a city for more than 3000 years, says a writer in the London Times, are familiar to every reader of the Bible. Others are enshrined in the traditions which cluster so thickly about the Holy City. On one spot alone—the Roca—now covered by the dome of "The Sakrah," it is recounted that Melchisedek offered sacrifices; that Abraham bound Isaac for the same purpose before finding the substitute ram; that the Ark of the Covenant rested, to be subsequently concealed beneath it; that the great altar of Sacrifice of Solomon's Temple was built; that our Lord's ministry culminated, and that Mass was celebrated during the Crusades. The Moslems claim that from this same spot the Prophet Mahomet started on his journey to Heaven, borne by El Burak; that beneath it the souls of the dead gather weekly for the Friday prayers, and that upon it will be erected the Throne of God on the Judgment Day.

The historical character of the third King of Israel, famous to Jews and Christians alike for the Temple which he built and the wisdom which was given to him, has, in the minds of the Moslems, become the terrible King Solomon, David's son, master of magic and absolute lord of the unseen inhabitants of this world.

No city in the history of the world has gained the passionate affection of a people as Jerusalem won from the Jews. It was to them the earthly dwelling of the Most High, the central shrine of their religion, the visible sign of their national existence. As long as it was theirs they were sure that God was with them. When it was destroyed and its citizens were carried to Babylonia they still dreamt of it, and refused to believe that it could remain in the hands of their enemies. It would come to them again.

General Allenby in taking Jerusalem adds his name to a long list of conquerors which records the achievements of some very famous men.

Four centuries of Turkish rule have left Jerusalem in a distressingly insanitary state, inadequately supplied with water and the last months of the rule of Jemal Pasha have considerably reduced the population of the Holy City.

TRIPLE WEDDING

There will be a triple wedding at the Isis on Friday and Saturday, Jan. 11 and 12. This will be in the Marguerite Clark picture, "The Amazons," and is one of the prettiest affairs of its kind ever filmed. Three hoydenish sisters who have been raised as boys, on account of their parents' disappointment at their not being sons, suddenly discover that they have grown to young ladyhood and are much in love with three valiant English lads. A triple altar had to be specially built for the wedding, for the ordinary altar would not have been wide enough for the three couples. Don't miss Marguerite Clark in "The Amazons," a screamingly funny picture with all the humor of "Miss George Washington" and the charm of "Snow White."

CLIP THIS AND PIN ON WIFE'S DRESSER

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns or calluses so they lift off with fingers.

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone, tell him to order a small bottle for you.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

POTATO PROFITS ARE REGULATED

Ottawa, Jan. 5.—Higher prices for potatoes than those now prevaling will not be permitted. The Food Controller is sending a letter to this effect to all wholesale handlers of potatoes, stating that any attempt to secure higher prices will be dealt with very promptly. If retail dealers should attempt to charge an unreasonable profit on potatoes the Food Controller is prepared to fix the margin of profit, and, if necessary, to fix maximum prices.

In a statement issued tonight Mr. Hanna said: "A recent survey of the situation by this office Indicates that there is still a large supply of potatoes in the hands of the growers and dealers to meet a continued and heavy demand until the 1918 crop will be available. All handlers of potatoes should understand the situation clearly and realize that a special effort to keep the public plentifully supplied at reasonable prices is necessary in order that no part of the large crop of last season be wasted. Nothing can be gained by withholding supplies from the market, because higher prices will not be permitted, and any attempts in that direction will be dealt with at once by the Food Controller. The trend of the market is now toward lower prices, notwithstanding the recent severe weather, which has made the movement of potatoes difficult.

"When Spring opens it is anticipated that much of the surplus will come on the market.

"In order to prevent possible loss later in the season, the Winter movement of potatoes must be stimulated by every possible means. Potatoes are the only food of which Canada has a large surplus not in great demand for export. No effort should be spared therefore to bring within easy reach of every family in the Dominion all the potatoes which can be eaten.

"In order to facilitate the movement of potatoes and other food commodities, an order already has been issued requiring prompt unloading of cars, and providing a heavy penalty for infraction of this regulation."

"THE PUBLIC BE DAMNED"

"The Public Be Damned" is an exceptionally strong presentation of one of the most vital problems of the day and concerns not only every individual householder and person in this country, but also the millions of nearly starving peoples on the other side of the great pond. Herbert Hoover, now Chief Administrator of the Food Supply of the United States and head of the American Commission for Belgian Relief, has exposed before the United States Senate the conditions which are the subject of the photoplay "The Public Be Damned," which will be shown at the Isis theatre on Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 14 and 15.

"FLIRTING WITH DEATH"

"Sky High" Wardwell was a soldier of fortune, living a care-free life in whatever station he found himself. When he was compelled to abandon circus life at the behest of the sheriff and was locked up in a country jail, he found a way out. Going to another town he became a newspaper reporter—and then fell in love. The girl's father was an inventor and as poor as inventors usually are. "Sky High" promoted a company to manufacture a parachute his prospective father-in-law had devised and when matters came to a show down, the adventurer went aloft to prove the worth of the contrivance. His safe descent landed him in the arms of the girl he loved and made secure the financial future of all concerned. Thus runs the plot of "Flirting With Death," the Bluebird photoplay to be exhibited at the Orpheum theatre on Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 14 and 15, with Herbert Rawlinson and Brownie Vernon playing the star parts.

ISIS—MONDAY & TUESDAY

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, cleanse little Lowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

The Highest Class Talking Machine in the World

Sonora

THE marvelous growth of Sonora (1917 sales 100 times those of 1913) is due solely to intrinsic value.

A phonograph merely "as good" or "slightly better" could never have achieved such results in the face of the vigorous competition and extensive publicity of older established machines.

If you want "The Highest Class Talking Machine in the World" you must buy the Sonora.

Constable Dooley returned on Monday from a trip to the coast, where he accompanied his children, who are attending school in Vancouver.

Herbert Rawlinson and Brownie Vernon in "Flirting With Fate," Orpheum, Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Constance Bonnell, who has been visiting her mother in Vancouver, returned this week to college in Montreal.

Constable Gorman, of Elko, gathered in a Chinaman the other day, who had in his possession two bottles of booze. The case came up before Fred Roo.

Married — At the Presbyterian Manse, on Thursday afternoon, Mr. Otto Schlieert and Miss Winnifred Radford, both of Baynes Lake, B.C.

The session of Knox church is asking for applications for filling temporarily the position of organist. Applications to be sent to the Clerk of the Session, R. H. McEwan, or the Pastor, not later than Monday, Jan. 14.

Donald McKenzie, formerly baker, of Fernie, who went over with the 54th, has been awarded the Military Medal for bravery on the battlefield. Fernie citizens extend congratulations.

Harry Page, of the Imperial Bank, is the first man to be called under the draft from Fernie. He is ordered to report on Jan. 21 at Vancouver. Quite a number have already been called from Nelson and vicinity.

Thos. Roe, the post king of Fernie, went west on Tuesday looking for fresh timber limits to conquer.

S. F. Wallace returned on Saturday from Montana, where he has been purchasing young cattle. Mr. Wallace intends to go extensively into the cattle business.

The marriage took place at Cranbrook on New Year's Day of Miss Hazel Madden, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Madden, of the Windsor Hotel, Lundbreck, to Mr. O. J. Sparrow, travelling agent for the Western Canada Wholesale Co., Fernie. After a two weeks' trip to coast points, the young couple will take up residence at Fernie.

Don't forget "Green Stockings," the comedy which will be put on tomorrow evening at the Grand theatre by the Cranbrook Amateur Dramatic Club. They have alredy produced this comedy with splendid success at Creston, Cranbrook and Balfour and we feel sure the people of Fernie will turn out in large numbers to the performance. Reserved seats $1; general admission 50c; children 25c. Proceeds in aid of I.O.D.E. work.

A change in the system of paying the employees of the C.P.R. comes into effect this month. The payments will be twice a month after this. It has been customary to pay on the 15th of the month, the company holding back the pay for the first 15 days. In future the men working by the day or hour will be paid on the 15th for the last part of the previous month and on the last day of the month for the first 15 days. The monthly men will receive half of their pay on the 15th and half on the last day of the month. Fifteen days' pay will be withheld as at present and the doctor's fee will be deducted from the pay at the end of the month.

For Sale—16 Head of Good Heavy Work Horses For Sale. Suitable for woods horses.—L. F. Bonnell, Lethbridge. D21-3

The pupils of Miss West gave a piano recital in the Methodist church on Wednesday evening which was largely attended. The music, which was of a very high order, reflected great credit upon the teacher, Miss West.

It had been the intention of the Fernie Dramatic Club to repeat the performance of "What Happened to Jones" next Friday night, but owing to the absence of several of the performers the show has been indefinitely postponed.

Every arrangement is being made for the big District Bonspiel which will open here on Monday, the 14th inst. Fernie will enter at least 12 rings and it is expected that at least 20 rinks will enter from outside points. The local rinks are practicing every evening after 9.30.

Dr. Simmons, who has been away for a couple of weeks, discovered upon returning that his premises had been entered and a quantity of drugs, liquor and several instruments stolen. From the goods taken it would look as though the thief were a dope fiend.

The ladies of the city are endeavoring to organize two hockey teams. It is said the school teachers have organized a ladies' team for their ranks.

Conductor Wm. Cameron, who visited Fernie on Wednesday evening, says he has quit work until after the curling season is over. He expects to take in the Fernie spiel and the Calgary and Winnipeg spiels.

Just how serious the United States coal shortage really is may be understood when it is known that ocean vessels loaded with supplies for the Allies have been held in port for days because it was impossible to supply them with bunker coal. In fuel as well as in food the whole world has now reached the point where it is living from hand to mouth.

Chief Welsby while making a trip to Crow's Nest the other day, quietly confiscated two suspicious looking suit cases which contained 24 bottles of booze. The suit cases were cached away in one of the passenger coaches, with no apparent owner in sight. The Chief did his best to locate the owner but those cases were evidently travelling alone, so he quietly gathered them in and they now repose in a cell in the local provincial building, where they are zealously guarded by the entire staff, who anxiously await the thirty days required under the Act before said booze must be destroyed.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get relief in five minutes by neutralizing acidity. Put an end to such stomach distress now by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by food fermentation due to excessive acid in stomach.

SKIPPER SENT MESSAGE THAT HE WAS KILLED WHEN SHELL STRUCK FISH SMACK

Never was the Victoria Cross more fittingly awarded, says the Morning Post, in telling the story of Thomas Crisp. On an August afternoon at about a quarter to three the trawl was shot from the Nelson while the fishing smack was on the port tack. The skipper was below packing fish. One man was on deck cleaning fish for the next morning's breakfast. The skipper came on deck, saw an object on the horizon, examined it closely and sent for his glasses.

Directly he sang out "Clear for action. Submarine!" He had scarcely spoken when a shot fell about a hundred yards away on the port bow. The motor man got his motor; the deckhand dropped his fish and went to the ammunition room. The other hands, at the skipper's orders, "Let go your gear," let go the warp, and put a dan on the end of it. Meanwhile the gun-layer held his fire until the skipper said "It is no use waiting any longer; we will have to let them have it."

Away in the distance the submarine sent shell after shell at the smack and about the fourth shot the shell went through the port bow just below the water line. Then the skipper shoved her round.

There was no confusion on board, not even when the seventh shell struck the skipper, passed through his side, through the deck and out through the side of the ship. The second hand at once took charge of the tiller and the firing continued. All the time water was pouring into the ship and she was sinking. One man, the gunlayer, went to the skipper to see if he was mortally wounded.

"It's all right, boy; do your best," and then to the second hand, "Send a message off." This was the message: "Nelson being attacked by submarine; skipper killed; send assistance at once."

All this time the smack was sinking, and only five rounds of ammunition were left. The second hand went to the skipper, lying there on the deck and heard him say: "Abandon ship; throw the books overboard." He was asked if they should lift him into the boat, but his answer was: "Tom, I'm done; throw me overboard."

He was too badly injured to be moved, and they left him there on his deck and took to the small boat. A quarter of an hour afterwards the Nelson went down by the head.

It was just drawing into dusk, and the crew of the boat pulled all that night. Toward morning the wind freshened and blew them out of their course. They pulled all that day and had a pair of trousers and a large piece of oilskin fastened to two oars to attract attention. Once a vessel was sighted and once a group of minesweepers, but they passed out of sight. At night the weather became finer, and through that night they pulled until daybreak, when, at 10.30 a.m. they found a buoy and made fast to it. By afternoon they were sighted and rescued.

The second hand, who took charge of the tiller after the skipper had been shot down, was his son, and so the great tradition goes on.

CANADIAN INCOME TAX DATE LIMIT IS FEB. 28

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—While no particulars have as yet been announced, it is officially stated that the organization which will have in hand the collection of the federal income tax imposed by parliament last session soon will be completed. The act provides for the payment during 1918 of 4 per cent on all incomes earned during 1917 exceeding $1500 in the case of unmarried persons and widowers or widows without dependent children, and exceeding $3000 by married persons.

On incomes exceeding $6000 a graduated tax is provided. Before the end of February every person liable to taxation under the act must provide a return showing his income for the previous year on a form to be provided by the department of finance. The act further provides for the appointment of boards of referees to act as courts of revision to hear and determine appeals made by taxpayers. It is understood that announcement as to the complete organization for the collection of the income tax will not be long delayed.

POLITICAL PARTIES AFTER THE WAR

Speaking at London recently Sir Edward Carson gave his views on post-war politics: "There are (he continued) those who think that after the war there will be no political parties. I do not take that view myself. I do not think it would be in the interests of the country. But there will be modifications of parties. And the party that will succeed best after the war is the party that recognizes best the changed conditions brought about by the war. We have in some countries bloody revolutions, in other countries threatened revolutions. Don't any of you be misled into thinking that there is no revolution going on in this country. It is not likely to be a revolution of disaster, but it is by facing the facts that you and I will prevent disaster and anarchy here. Do not forget that it is not a professional army that is fighting for us. It is the army of the nation. And do not imagine for a moment that you can call upon the men of the nation, whatever their class, to sacrifice themselves, their lives, their homes and their property, each in their various degrees, and that things can then be the same. If I might make a few observations on current events, I would ask you, in the present condition of affairs, to take as your watchword the simple word "Steady." We have arrived at a period of the war in which the grit and nerves and the soul of our people are being, and are going to be even more sorely tried. For myself, I believe the greater our difficulties the greater becomes our determination to overcome them. But to my mind nothing can be more mischievous, whether it be by the action of politicians or the press, than that anything should be tolerated which leads to an incitement to schism and mistrust."

INCALCULABLE VALUE

New York Times: Now, if General Mackensen is assembling an army at Aleppo to recover Bagdad, he will have to include Jerusalem in his campaign to oust the Russians and British from territory so dear to the Kaiser and so essential to the realization of his ambitions. A failure of the Germans to stiffen the Turks and undertake a dramatic enterprise for the confusion of the Allies in that part of the world is hardly conceivable. But with Mediterranean ports as a base in Palestine and the Tigris as a line of supplies and communication in Mesopatamia the British have an advantage that must be reckoned with.

Americans Will Stay in the Canadian Army

The American citizens who enlisted with the Canadian army since the outbreak of the war will not be transferred to the United States army after all. Their transfer might disorganize the units now at the front. There are approximately ten thousand such soldiers in the Canadian forces and not 30,000 or 40,000 which are the figures so frequently mentioned.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a small bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

G. H. O. Thomas, editor of the Bracebridge Gazette and Laurier candidate in the late election, speaks of one of the active workers against him as the "wall-eyed Methodist preacher who used to frequent leg shows in disguise in Toronto." If Thomas was as plain spoken during the election as he is since, Muskoka must have had a lurid campaign. But how does he know about the minister? Maybe he only means that he was an observer of the Highlanders on parade.—Lethbridge Herald.

APPEAL TO PUBLIC FOR HALIFAX RELIEF FUND

Mount Fernie Chapter I.O.D.E. has been requested to make an appeal to the citizens of Fernie for subscriptions for Relief Work.

The I.O.D.E. of Halifax have established a home for orphans and unclaimed children and are asking for our help in this cause.

The Regent and members beg to remind the citizens of Fernie that this is an occasion to make return for help received by them when suffering from similar disaster.

Any monies so subscribed and sent to Mrs. A. B. Trites, Secretary of Mount Fernie Chapter I.O.D.E. will be acknowledged in subscription list published in the Fernie Free Press.

Subscriptions already donated:

Mt. Fernie Chapter I.O.D.E.	$25.00
Mrs. G. G. Moffatt, Regent	25.00
Mrs. Suddaby	5.00

FERNIE GETS TWO CUPS

Today will bring the big District Bonspiel to a close in Fernie. The weather for the first four days was absolutely perfect but this morning it turned mild and as a result the finals were played off on rather heavy ice.

There were 13 rinks from out of town, viz: Lethbridge 3, Taber 2, Macleod 2, Carmingay 2, and Cranbrook 4. There were also 13 rinks entered from the city. Nearly all the old-time curlers were present, including Tom Henderson and Jack Ross, of Taber; Dugald McNab and Duncan Duff, of Lethbridge; Billy Cameron, Jim Henderson, A. C. Bowness and George Hogarth, J. Wallinger, A. Ward and F. Toppin, of Cranbrook.

The cups have been well scattered this year. The grand challenge will remain in Fernie, having been won by Wm. Baldrey's rink, as well as the Magrath which was captured by R. M. Young's rink. The Walker was carried away by the old reliables, Henderson and Ross of Taber. Kirkham of Lethbridge for the next twelve months will gaze with pride on the Trites-Wood trophy, and Stewart of Macleod will take home the cup donated by his own home town.

Following is the list of prize winners in the different competitions:

The Grand Challenge

1st. prize, Wm. Baldrey, Fernie 2nd. prize, D. McNab, Lethbridge, 3rd. prize, F. C. Lawe, Fernie, 4th prize Wm. Cameron, Cranbrook.

The Walker Cup

1st. prize, T. Henderson, Taber, 2nd. prize, Stewart, Macleod, 3rd. prize, W. Baldrey, Fernie, 4th. prize, R. M. Young, Fernie.

The Macleod Cup

1st. prize, Stewart, Macleod, 2nd. prize Jas. Johnstone, Fernie, 3rd. prize, L. E. McDonald, Fernie, 4th. prize, G. Hogarth, Cranbrook.

The Trites-Wood Cup

1st. prize, Kirkham, Lethbridge, 2nd. prize, Stewart, Macleod, 3rd. prize, W. Cameron, Cranbrook, 4th. prize, T. Henderson, Taber.

The Magrath Cup

1st. prize, R. M. Young, Fernie, 2nd. prize, S. Herchmer, Fernie, 3rd. prize, J. McLaren, Fernie, 4th. prize, T. Henderson, Taber.

The Grand Aggregate was won by the Stewart brother's rink, of Macleod with twelve wins, which was perhaps the best all round cambination at the spiel.

On Tuesday night the curlers, headed by Pipers Alan Graham, A. Watson and A. Macneil, marched to Victoria Hall, where the annual meeting was held after which a pleasant smoker took place.

At the annual meeting the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—J. T. Hamilton, Lethbridge.

Vice-President—T. McNaughton,

Sec.-Treas.—S. Herchmer.

Executive—F. C. Lawe, Fernie; A. C. Bowness, Cranbrook; Tom Henderson, Taber; D. Duff, Lethbridge; O. Stewart, Macleod; C. E. Law, Carmingay.

It was decided to hold the next District Bonspiel at Cranbrook.

The musical program of the smoker was furnished by Messrs. A. Watson, A. Prentice and Alan Graham, and among those who addressed the curlers were D. Duff, A. Young, T. Henderson, S. Herchmer, and J. T. Hamilton.

Following is a list of the curlers on the different rinks:

Fernie

Baldrey, Kastner, Killam, P. McLeod.

McDonald, L. E., Carmichael, G. F. Johnson, A. B. Trites.

GEO. B. THOMSON ELECTED MAYOR

The local municipal election, which took place on Thursday of this week was possibly the quitest and tamest affair which has taken place in this city for many years. The only ripple of excitement was in the mayoralty contest, where Thomas Uphill and G. B. Thomson put up a hard fight for the mayoralty chair, the latter winning by a margin of 23.

Although there were eleven candidates for aldermen there seemed to be very little excitement. All the old members of the council were re-elected, and Wm. Dicken and "Teddy" Rutledge to replace Aldermen Thomson and Marsham.

The fight for the mayoralty was a clean one, very little if any dirt being mixed up. Mayor Uphill, who has held the position with credit for four years, lost out on the ground that the honor of holding the chief magistrate's position should be passed around occasionally. He was also up against possibly one of the most popular young business men in the city in the person of Mr. Thomson. Ed. Marsham, who also ran, received only 69 votes.

There were only four candidates for the school board, viz., Messrs. Ramsay, Irvine, Lancaster and Johnson, the former three being elected.

There was quite a lot of interest taken in the contest for police commissioners, where the Rev. Carr, of the Presbyterian church, entered the contest in the fight for a closed town. The large vote he received shows that the people are evidently behind him.

Following is the official count, the names in black type being those elected:

For Mayor
Thomson	146
Uphill	123
Marsham	69
For Aldermen
Dudley	202
Beck	200
Jackson	196
Rutledge	149
Dicken	148
Brooks	146
Hunter	144
McEwan	135
Robichaud	130
Alton	101
Snow	66
For School Trustees
Ramsay	266
Irvine	198
Lancaster	191
Johnson	157
For Police Commissioners
Dudley	171
Carr	167
Jackson	129
Graham	99

Fernie, B.C., Jan. 18, 1918.

To the Electors:

Ladies and Gentlemen—I take this opportunity of thanking you for the honor conferred upon me yesterday, by electing me your Mayor for the present year. I wish especially to thank the lady voters, from whom I received a practically solid vote. I will endeavor to look after your interests to the best of my abilities during the coming 12 months.

Respectfully yours,

Geo. B. Thomson.

FERNIE PIONEER DIES AT COAST

Fernie citizens learned this week with regret of the death of one of our former prominent citizens in the person of Mr. A. H. Cree, of Victoria. Deceased, who left Fernie about five years ago, has been in ill health for a long time and his death was not unexpected.

Mr. Cree came to Fernie in 1897 on Mounted Police duty and shortly afterward resigned from the force and started a real estate office here. In the year 1900 he enlisted in the Strathcona Horse and went to South Africa, where he served with distinction for the balance of the war. At the close of the war he returned and resumed his business here. Mr. Cree always took an active part in civic affairs, serving on the council board of the city for several years.

He leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss.

LOCAL CIVIC MEETING

The civic meeting called by the City Clerk for Tuesday evening to discuss local political issues was largely attended, and the speakers each received a good hearing, in fact it was the most orderly meeting of the kind ever held in Fernie. Robert Duthie was selected by the meeting to act as chairman and officiated in his usual capable manner. He objected however to being called on to provide the program for the meeting and thought that the least the City Clerk could have done would be to have provided him with a list of speakers.

Mayor Uphill was the first speaker. He outlined the work of the council for the past year, giving the financial status of the City since he took office and appealed to the electors for their support on his past record.

Geo. B. Thompson then took the platform. He criticised Mayor Uphill's record since he had been in office, and appealed for votes on the grounds that he was not out for a salary, neitherwas he the servant of any particular interest. He was absolutely independent of any influence and having a large amount of time at his disposal could give the City affairs his undivided attention.

At this point Mayor Uphill asked Mr. Thompson some pertinent questions re salary and he in reply stated that if thre aldermen would vote against receiving any salary he would vote with them and thus save the City $1200 a year.

Edward Marsham also appealed to those present for their support in his campaign for the Mayor's chair. He was out for a clean city and an even break for everyone. He believed his record in the services of the city entitled him to the position of mayor. He attacked the mayor for disposing of some debentures for less than they had first been offered to local citizens.

Mayor Uphill explained that these debentures were a small allotment which had not been disposed of and an eastern firm had offered them 90 for them and they had accepted it.

The Rev. Carr, who appealed to the electors for their support for Police Commissioner, stated that it was common talk that if he was elected he would be out with the axe. He wished to inform the audience that this was not the case. He believed that the local police were not given the support they should receive from the commissioners. If the police commissioners were weak kneed he did not blame the police for being too lenient. If elected he would see that they were given every support, and then if they did not do their duty it would be time to start something.

Ald. Jackson also appealed for support in his candidacy for alderman and police commissioner. Bill made the speech of his life and certainly made a strong impression on the audience.

Robert McEwan, Dan Alton, Wm. Hunter and Wm. Robichaud also spoke breifly asking the audience for their support in the aldermanic fight.

EAST KOOTENAY CHAPTER I. O. D. E. NOTES

Waldo, B.C., Jan. 11.—East Kootenay Chapter I.O.D.E., met in Adolph's Hall, Baynes Lake. The financial report for December showed that a good sum of money had gone through the treasury during that month. The amount paid out by the Chapter for that period was about $75. Besides this was the amount collected for the Halifax Relief Fund for the children of Halifax. In response to a letter addressed to the Chapter from the Provincial I.O.D.E. several members undertook to collect money for this urgent call. A total of $52.45 was collected in Baynes and Waldo in a few days and forwarded at once.

Contributions to the Chapter's general fund included the proceeds of a "Silver" tea given by Mrs. Joule and Mrs. Clemens at Baynes Lake, which amounted to $10.00, a Whist Drive at Baynes which netted $11.50 and three Whist Drives at Waldo which cleared $23.80.

Mrs. Griffith of Baynes Lake gave $5.00 to pay for two copies of a Canadian historical picture which will be given to the schools at Baynes Lake and Waldo.

Contributions for the Canadian Red Cross Society were received as follows: From Mrs. Longworth of Elko the proceeds of a raffle $16.00 From Mrs. Morrow, Baynes Lake a donation of $5.00. Several weeks ago the Regent, Mrs. Joule offered a prize in each of the two schools for the best pair of socks knitted by a school girl before the January meeting of the I. O. D. E.

The prize in Baynes Lake was won by Margaret Blake. In the Waldo School two girls had made an equally good showing, Hilda Webb and Grace Taylor, so an extra prize is being given by Mrs. H. H. Ross.

"BORROWED PLUMAGE." TRIANGLE PLAY, STARS BESSIE BARRISCALE

A Triangle play of scenic splendors starring Bessie Barriscale as a rascally Irish girl of the Georgian period, is presented under the title of "Borrowed Plumage" at the Orpheum theatre Monday and Tuesday. It depicts the caprices of Bessie, who is determined to preen in the powdered wig and silken gowns belonging to the mistress of the castle. When Captain Paul Jones lands on the coast and the frightened ladies and gentlemen of the castle take flight Bessie has her chance. As the Americans enter the castle they are received in august manner by a dashing young woman wearing feathers and fine frills.

"Shure, 'tis Lady Nora that's a-spakin' to you," she tells them.

The New York critics gave the production enthusiastic praise in their reviews. Peter Milne of the Motior Picture News says, "It is a lavishly embellished costume production, excellent to the last degree."

While the New York Telegraph remarks its humor, saying: "Borrowed Plumage" is full of fun and merriment. It contains many good laughs."

Buckingham, Que., May 3rd, 1915.

For seven years, I suffered terribly from Severe Headaches and Indigestion. I had belching gas from the stomach, bitter stuff would come up into my mouth after eating, while at times I had nausea and vomiting, and had chronic Constipation. I went to several doctors and wrote to a specialist in Boston but without benefit. I tried many remedies but nothing did me good. Finally, a friend advised "Fruit-a-tives". I took this grand fruit medicine and it made me well. I am grateful to "Fruit-a-tives", and to everyone who has miserable health with Constipation and Indigestion and Bad Stomach, I say take "Fruit-a-tives", and you will get well".

THE CANADIAN PATRIOTIC FUND

His Excellency, the Governor-General, has been pleased to continue the policy of his predecessor, His Royal Higness, the Duke of Connaught, in issuing a New Year appeal to the people of Canada to continue during the year 1918 the voluntary system of support so generously accorded during the past three and one-half years to the National Patriotic Fund. The appeal is as follows:

"After giving most careful consideration to various suggestions, the Executive Committee of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, consisting of men representing all parts of the Dominion, unanimously decided to appeal again to the public for voluntary support, rather than to ask that the burden be borne by the public treasury. This conclusion was reached only after all other alternatives had been exhaustively considered. As President of the Fund, I again ask the people of Canada to continue their generous effort to help the families of the gallant men who, on land and sea, are so nobly defending the Empire and maintaining the principles of liberty and justice. We at home know the sacrifices they are making, and the very least we can do is to give them the fullest assurance that those whom they left behind are well and adequately provided for. For over three years the Fund, thanks to the support which it has invariably received, has dealt in a thoroughly satisfactory manner with the ever-increasing demands upon it, and I am confident that, in the future as in the past, we shall regard it, not merely as a duty, but as a privilege, to render all the assistance which lies in our power to the cause which we all have so deeply at heart.—Devonshire."

Charles Chaplin in "The Cure," at the Orpheum, Friday and Saturday

"SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPATE"

Wild freaks of action! Weird tangling of circumstances! Sudden and dynamic changes of humor! These elements, and considerable more, make George M. Cohan's new Artcraft picture, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," the most novel film of the year. When it was produced on the stage by George M. it defied the critics and won their most favorable reviews. It bewildered the audience and left them proclaiming it the most remarkable farce ever staged. It was heralded as the greatest novelty of the theatre and readinly accepted as such wherever it appeared. On the screen of the Isis theatre soon this famous theatrical hit will disclose not only the usual mystery, humor and thrills displayed by the original play but also the inimitable George M. Cohan himself, plus the wide scope of the cinema which was denied its stage presentation.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a small bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

VINOL CREATES STRENGTH

Positive—Convincing Proof

It is all very well to make claims, but can they be proven? We publish the formula of Vinol to prove the statements we make about it.

Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascarin.

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol as published above, combine the very elements needed to make strength.

All weak, run-down, overworked nervous men and women may prove this at our expense.

There is nothing like Vinol to restore strength and vitality to feeble old people, delicate children and all persons who need more strength.

Try it. If you are not entirely satisfied, we will return your money without question; that proves our fairness and your protection.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

RUSSIA'S DEFECTION

The Allied nations must realize by now that the Bolsheviki are determined to make a separate peace with Germany. All indications are that the threatened break-off in negotiations was a bluff, either to delude the Russian people or else to make it appear to the Allies that the Leninites are sincere in their declaration for peace with no annexations or indemnities. Probably the negotiations will be greatly prolonged, but even now the two nations are on the most friendly relations. Germany has already commenced her campaign of peaceful penetration. The bulk of the Russian people do not wish for a German peace, but, through disorganization, social disruption, industrial chaos, and military ineptitude, they have no other choice unless they wish to continue to fight when they know they are hopelessly beaten. Only a long period of reorganization can restore Russia's strength. The internal problems are so intricate that they cannot be solved with an enemy at the gates. In the hour of her weakness the world will extend its sympathy to the Russian people, but at the same time the Allies will have to take steps to offset German influence in the country.

More than ever now—and it always was the main pre-occupation of the war—the Allies must realize that victory can only be won in the West. The Russian defection has increased the military burden and at the same time put a new diplomatic one on the shoulders of the Allies, for they will have to exert every effort in their power to make the Russians understand that their aims are identical as far as the freedom of nations is concerned. A disconcerting feature of Russia's separate peace will be the release of so many German and Austrian prisoners, reputed in some estimates to reach 1,500,000. Of these possibly 500,000 are fit for service again, and to that extent the armies of the Central Powers will be reinforced. Obviously one of the first developments following peace between Russia and the Central Powers would be an enemy offensive in Macedonia. That is the danger of the coming months. The reports that Germany is preparaing a great offensive in the West are probably untrue, although they come from the best informed quarters. The enemy by now realizes that while he may gain temporary advantages in the West, he cannot win the decision there. This realization explains his different peace offensives. The danger point during the present year will be Macedonia and an attempted enemy sweep to obtain command of a large portion of the Mediterranean littoral. In this way he can strike at Britain, France and Italy. Doubtless measures will be taken to maintain such a pressure in the West that any plans Germany may formulate for victory elsewhere will be checkmated.

"THE MYSTERIOUS MISS TERRY"

Three hard working and ambitious young men all live in the same big, city boarding house. To this house also comes a young and charming girl in the person of Miss Terry, an heiress but who is working as a clerk in a hardware store. She makes their ambitions come true and they are in love with her, but only one wins out. You can find out which one if you come to see "The Mysterious Miss Terry" at the Isis theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 23 and 24.

WONDERFUL STUFF!
LIFT OUT YOUR CORNS

Apply a few drops then lift corns or calluses off with fingers—no pain.

No humbug! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness.

This drug is called freezone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This drug freezone doesn't eat out the corns or calluses but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist don't have freezone have him order it for you.

The Cranbrook Dramatic Club put on an excellent performance of the comedy "Green Stockings" at the Grand on Saturday night to a very slim audience. It was unfortunate that the company had selected Saturday to give their show as so many people are otherwise engaged on that night.

An enjoyable time was spent in the basement of Christ church last Monday evening, at a whist drive and dance arranged for by the Junior Entertainment Committee. Next Wednesday evening there will be a choir supper at 6.30 and at 8.30 all members of the congregation are invited to join the choir in an evening's enjoyment. There will be music, cards and dancing and refreshments will be served during the evening. A hearty invitation is extended to all the church people to come and have a good time.

Capt. R. Crowe Sword military representative on the exemption appeal tribunal, arrived here last evening from West Kootenay, where he and Judge Thompson heard appeals at Creston, Nelson and New Denver. Sessions will open here on Monday when several appeals for exemption from military service will be heard, among them being 36 appellants claiming exemption on the ground of being engaged as coal miners. F. E. Harrison, Asst. Director of Coal Mining Operations, of Calagry, will appear before the appeal court to defend the claims of the men.

Nick Shypyk Austrian, is in the local jail pending the arrival of the police from Fernie, who requested his detainment on a charge of theft in that place. Nick arrived in the city on the Nasookin Tuesday evening and was immediately apprehended by the local police, who were armed with a detailed description of the man. It is said that the prisoner is wanted on charges in which a woman is implicated. The article for which he is wanted on the charge is a woman's gown, it is said. When he was taken into custody and searched a bottle of gin was found and a charge of having liquor in his possession in other than a private dyelling was preferred against him. He was fined $50, which he paid. —Nelson News.

Archie Cartwright, one of our Fernie fire laddies who has been called to the colors, was the guest of honor at a little affair given by his friends in the fire hall on Wednesday evening. Chief McDougall occupied the chair and called upon Mayor Uphill, who on behalf of the company presented Archie with a beautiful wrist watch. Aldermen Marsham, Brooks and Jackson, who were present, expressed their regret that the city brigade was losing such an able young man and united in wishing him God speed and a safe return. A nice little program of songs and music was furnished, the following taking part: B. Smith, J. Blakeman Ald. Jackson T. McDougall and Jas. Woods. Mr. Cartwright left on Thursday morning's train for Victoria and the entire brigade were at the station to see him off. Archie is the thirteenth member of the local fire brigade to join the colors.

William Stewart, youngest son of Jas. Stewart for many years a resident of this city, died at Nordegg, Alberta, on Thursday, Jan. 17. The remains will arrive here on Sunday for interment. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon at 2.30 p.m. from the residence of James Maltman.

G. G. Henderson, one of our most enthusiastic curlers had the misfortune to fall and break his wrist on the morning of the bonspiel. He was coming around the corner of his building when a couple of rompin' dogs knocked his feet from under him and he fell with his wrist underneath him causing the break.

The ladies of the Benevolent Society are holding a shower in the basement of Knox church on Jan. 23 in aid of the Halifax sufferers. New clothing of any kind and odd lengths of goods will be acceptable; also old clothing in good repair. Tea will be served from 3.30 to 5.30.

Bonspiel Notes

Augmentation Bill from Cranbrook during his visit here was the recipient of a beautifully ornamented broom, the gift of one Joe Jackson of railroad fame.

Fernie curlers will be surprized to learn that the club has a member who quit a bonspiel game because he had been invited out to dinner. As this is the first time that a thing of this kind has taken place in the history of the game a committee will be appointed to investigate the sanity of the player.

The old war horse Sherwood Herchmer got away strong, winning eight or nine straight games, but he was covering too much territory and did not succeed in landing a cup this year.

The surprise of the spiel was R. M. Young, who took an average rink into the speil and carried off the Magrath, besides having a hard try for the Walker. He was also well up in the aggregrate.

Jimmy Johnstone as usual was right in the spiel till the last moment losing to Stewart by one point in the final game of the Macleod.

If a photographer could have caught a snap shot of a poor white horse trying to drag a bunch of weary curlers up the hill on Wednesday morning with Jim Henderson industriously sweeping ahead, he would have had some picture. Jim says the horse hogged three times before he got half way up.

G. G. Henderson broke his arm on Monday morning but he played all the games from the side lines just the same. Only a good live undertaker could keep G. G. away from a spiel.

There was rather a queer look came over the faces of one or two curlers when a prominent temperance advocate visiting the curling rink took a seat on a little old trunk in a corner. The same look was observed when the news came down that Rev. Carr had been elected police commissioner.

There was a rumor around town that cold tea was being served by the curlers. This was a malicious falsehood and a reflection on the entertainment committee.

After the smoker on Tuesday night Geo. Hogarth was invited out for refreshments and some of the boys thought they would give him a little reception on his return. His room was beautifully decorated for the occasion and a Chinaman undressed and put in his bed. But George never arrived, but we hesitate to think of what would have happened to said Chinaman if he had returned.

SERGEANTS' DEPENDENTS GET AN INCREASE

The Central Executive of the Canadian Patriotic Fund have authorized an increase of $5 per month in the allowance from this Fund to the dependents of sergeants, to take effect from Jan. 1, 1918, in other words account will only be taken of $20 separation allowance instead of $25 as formerly. This will place the dependents of a sergeant on the same basis as that of a private soldier so far as the Patriotic Fund is concerned.

THE LATEST DELINATOR

HAS HARDLY BEEN REALIZED

It is quite possible to deliver General Pershing's reports to President Wilson and President Wilson's orders to General Pershing by air in 48 hours for each trip—thereby not only solving the difficult problems created by the U-boat menace, but also cutting down the time required to transmit communication from Washington to the seat of war to a fraction of the time reqquired at present

The Washington-Paris air line can be opened in a few months—surely by next summer.

It can be done by employing six of the largest Caproni machines carrying the mail in relays.

The route will have five legs as follows:

1. From Paris to Portugal.
2. Portugal to the Azores.
3. Azores to Newfoundland.
4. Newfoundland to New York.
5. New York to Washington.

A separate machine and crew will be used for each leg and there will be one machine and crew in reserve.

The longest distance over water in this route is the leg from the Azores to St. John's, N. F., which is about 1190 miles, therefore well within the flying range of our largest Caproni.

The time of the trip may be cut down further by flying straight from the Azores to Paris, which is a distance of about 1150 miles, without stopping in Portugal.

Mail Will be Safe

It is hardly necessary to point out that the mail will be much safer carried by airplanes than carried by ships.

The same U-boats that terrorize ships will be afraid of the mail-carrying airplanes, therefore the mail line will at thesame time be an aerial U-boat patrol. The airplanes can be summoned by the ship's wireless to protect ships in distress. Carrying a few 50-pound depth bombs will not add appreciably to the cargo of the mail-carrying airplanes. There is nothing new in stating that the war is, above all, a war of material. The principle among the Allies is: We must produce more than the enemy. It is time that this principle was completed by its corollary. It is necessary also that the enemy's production diminish. Is this possible? Yes, and it depends upon us, the Allies.

War materials are produced in thousands of workshops but they are almost all tributaries of three or four immense industrial centres. If we paralyze these centres—which in Germany are to be found on the banks of the Rhine—in Westphalia, at Munich, etc., and in Austria, in the outskirts of Vienna and Budapest—we would create a crisis, perhaps a decisive crisis in the production of arms and munitions. This is possible thanks to the great progress of aviation.

A single large triplane of 900horsepower can transport and drop 1000 kilograms of explosives on Essen, 2181 kilograms on Pola and 1000 kilograms on Vienna. It is easy to form an idea of the capabilities of a fleet of 200 or 300 triplanes by simple multiplication.

Has Three Phases

Aerial warfare as I see it, has three phases; The first is the one I have just referred to; the others are the destruction of the enemy's naval bases and the bombardment of his rear.

It is not necessary to dwell upon the obstacle to Allied shipping created by the enemy submarines. It is also useless to repeat that the means so far employed to combat the submarines have not proved equal to their task. You cannot extirpate a swarm of wasps by going after the wasps one by one; you extirpate them by destroying the nest. Similarly, we shall never triumph over the enemy's submarine fleet by chasing isolated submarines at sea, but we shall attain our object by destroying their bases.

Coming to the third phase of the war in the air, it is evident that if we force the enemy by repeated bombardments to remove his aviation centres far behind the front we shall assure greater tranquility for the Allied fronts and territories. This is equally true as regards periods when the battle rages and when matters are quiet. As a matter of fact, airplanes can destroy bridges, roads, railways concentration camps, munition depots etc., in such a way as to hinder, if not to render impossible, the arrival of reserves and supplies of food and material.

Duels Not Important.

Hitherto an exaggerated importance has been attached to air duels. We forget, alas, that the war is not a duel. On the other hand minor importance has been attached to numerically strong raids against the enemy's bases. Why? Because they have been undertaken on too small a scale, and the results obtained almost never strike popular imagination. It was the same with respect to artillery. We ran away with ourselves as regards the "75" at the expense of the "350" In aviation we lost our way behind the small chasing machine. without paying attention to the heavy bombardment airplane. When will it be realized that if a fortress cannot be demolished with a " 75" neither can a factory be demolished with chasing airplanes?

Bombardment aviation has a double importance, military and political. From a military point of view, it can carry the offensive into no matter what part of the enemy's territory for it has a superiority over the artillery in having a greateer range than the cannon and is able to drop its projectiles at a distance of 400 or 500 kilometers. It also possesses greater rapidity of fire. Finally there are no intervening obstacles, and it carries its observers with it. An army with numerous squadrillas of large airplanes at its disposition, can therefore claim to possess a formidable heavy artillery.

Menacing Fist of Army

From a political polnt of view aviation is the menacing fist of the army, which carries the war into territory where life is peaceful but where the people prepare defensive and offensive means, and in this way it accomplishes the work of disorgnization and demoralization.

It is necessary for the Allies to have huge bombing air fleets. It is this aviation, these fleets of 200 or 300 large airplanes, each capable of transporting 1000 or 2000 kilograms of explosive to drop on workshops, naval bases, roads, bridges, emeny reserves, to hinder production, to exterminate the submarines, to disorganize the supply services of food, men, and material, which will hasten the victorious end of the war.

CITY HOCKEY LEAGUE

Commercials 7—High School 3

On Tuesday night the Commercials by winning from the High School by a score of 7-3 took the leadership, as up to that date both teams having won 2 games without losing any. The game was fast and spectacular, having the fans on their toes all the time, in fact some got so excited that they proceeded on the ice, which resulted in a fistic encounter between spectators and players, referee Dicken soon had the ice cleared and the game proceeded without further mishap. Scott of the Com's was again in the limelight.

Bankers 12—K. of G. 3

The second scheduled game of the week was played on Thursday between the Bankers and the Knights of Gladness. The Bankers snowing the Knights under to the merry tune of 12 to 3. Dicken of the Bankers who repeatedly kept up end to end rushes was the star of the evening.

Christ Church Notice

The annual Congregational meeting will be held on Sunday, Jan. 27 at the close of the evening service. It is hoped that all members and accustomed attendants of the church will make a special effort to be present. It is the one occasion in the year when the members of the congregation have the opportunity of learning what work is being done in the Parish, the progress that is being made and how the church stands financially. — Field Yolland, Vicar.

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months

EXEMPTION COURT SITS

Military Appeal Tribunal No. 12 opened here Monday, His Honor Judge Thompson presiding. R. Crowe-Swords represented the military; F. E. Harrison, Calgary, Asst. to the Director of Coal Mining Operations, appeared for those men who are essential to the coal mining industry, and H. Martin, Secretary Fernie Miners Union, and H. Beard, Michel, represented the miners. In all 50 cases are to be heard and it is expected the sittings will conclude today.

The first case was that of Henri Beaulaurier, telegraph operator in the employ of the G.N. railway, on whose behalf H. E. Douglas, agent for the G.N., appeared and gave evidence. He stated that the ground on which this appeal was based was the importance of the employment of the appellant and it was the belief of the witness that telegraphers were very hard to procure. He was unable to inform the court accurately as to the number of men employed in this capacity on the railway system or the number of applications received for positions. Last year the appellant had had a two months vacation and considerable difficulty had been experienced in obtaining a man to fill the position during that period. "You eventually were able to secure a man?" said His Honor, to which the witness replied in the affirmative. The finding as handed down by His Honor is: "In all cases where appeals have been made on behalf of railroad employees, I have requested that facts and figures be presented to me showing the indispensibility of the man called out for military service. In this case Mr. Douglas frankly says he cannot give me facts and figures. He does not know what the man-power of the G.N. railway company may be respecting telegraphers.

Without making an exhaustive inquiry into the man power of the G. N. railway company, I could not come to a satisfactory conclusion. The onus is upon the person requesting exemption to prove that the man called upon for military service would be of greater benefit for the national service by remaining in his present employment. This onus has not been satisfied and I must disallow the appeal."

George Frederick Roo, farm manager, appealed under grounds one, two and four, namely, importance of continuing employment in habitual occupation; importance as a farm manager, and serious hardship owing to exceptional financial obligations. The appellant did not appear in person but was represented by his father by whom he is employed. The letter written by the father to the Registrar in support of the appeal was read by the Court, wherein the local tribunal was accused of having been prompted in their decision to disallow the appeal by personal feelings rather than by deciding the case strictly on its merits. His Honor pointedly told the witness he considered this communication very ill-considered and ill-advised and that he did not for one moment believe Messrs. R. L. T. Galbraith and A. J. Joule, members of the local tribunal, would be guilty of any such practice, as it would render them liable to very severe censure and suggested that an apology was due them.

The witness was examined at length by the Court and then subjected to a very gruelling cross examination by M. A. R. Crowe-Swords. The finding by His Honor deals with the appeal conclusively and is as follows: "This is an appeal entered by the father and son. The only evidence given was that of the father. The father's notice of appeal makes the case somewhat difficult. He makes a very seirous accusation against the local tribunal at Fernie, namely that the members in arriving at their decision were actuated by personal spite emanating from political position. I cannot believe that this is the case and cannot help but severely censure the father for ever having made such an unwarranted assertion. He also made it more difficult by demanding an exemption and by foolishly endeavoring to obtain exemption from a source other than the proper tribunal.

It is my duty, however, to put aside a consideration of any impropriety on the part of the father and consider the case on its merits.

The father owns a ranch at Roosville and conducts a store at Elko, which are about 30 miles apart. On the ranch, which consists of 160 acres, he has 35 or 40 acres cleared. He raises oats, wheat, hay and vegetables. Through the stores he sells about 150 bushels of oats and a few tons of vegetables; he has practically no stock outside of horses. It is quite apparent that no great effort has been made by either father or son to materially increase production on the ranch on account of war conditions. I cannot arrive at the conclusion that the ranch is one which could be considered an adequately producing one.

The son has an independent income as mail carrier of $500. He is also allowed to keep any money which may be derived from the sale of produce other than what is sold to his father. Of course he receives food and lodgings for nothing.

The father contends that if the son enters military service he will have to close up the ranch and bring his family into Elko but I cannot see how it would be necessary to close up the ranch. The father has the mail contract and has been willing that the son should receive the emolument of $500 and a return for the extra sale of the produce. If he is willing to pay this over to his son for the upkeep of the ranch he should be willing to pay it to some other person for the same purpose. He, himself, would be no worse off financially and would be doing for his wife and children no more than he is doing today.

It seems to me that the real reason for the appeal is a sentimental one, which though very proper in a parent, is one the Court cannot consider.

I therefore feel that I would not be doing my duty if I were to allow permanent exemption or even any lengthy exemption. I think, however, that the father should be allowed some time to enable him to procure a substitute for his son. I will therefore allow the appeal by reason of business obligations until the 15th day of March 1918."

William Edwin Ashley made claim for exemption owing to serious hardship on account of domestic position. The appellant is in the employ of the Canadian Dairy Co. In deciding this case His Honor also took into consideration the appeal of Irene Roux, one of the partnership for whom Ashley works. The ranch in question has seven employees engaged, which number was considered by the court to be really a greater number than was required. At a former sitting the appeal of Roux had been disallowed principally due to the fact that the appellant omitted to present all the facts connected with his case. "Under these circumstances," said His Honor, "if it were possible I would allow a re-opening of that appeal or allow the appeal to go to the central appeal court judge and if Roux is granted exemption the appellant in this case would therefore not be entitled to exemption. This appeal is disallowed."

James Herbert McLeod appealed on the ground of serious hardship owing to exceptional financial obligations. The appellant is connected with a partnership known as the Cash Meat Market and he claimed that his partners could not operate the business as successfully during his absence. Questioned as to his earnings and same

COMMITTEES APPOINTED

The first meeting of the 1918 council was held in the city hall on Tuesday evening with Mayor Thomson and all the Aldermen present.

The following committees were then appointed for the ensuing year:

Finance — Aldermen Dudley and Beck.

Works and Property — Aldermen Brooks and Dicken.

Fire, Water and Light — Aldermen Jackson and Dicken.

Health and Relief—Aldermen Jackson and Rutledge.

Park—Alderman Brooks.

Assessment — Aldermen Beck and Dicken.

The regular night of meeting was fixed for the 2nd and 4th Thursdays in each month.

The usual motions in connection with the bank overdraft and the signing of checks were passed and the meeting adjourned until Thursday night.

CORRECTION

Fernie, B.C. Jan. 21, '9'8.

Editor Fernie Free Press:

Dear Sir—In your reort of the Civic Meeting held last week you state that a small lot of debentures was sold at 90. As this is innacurate I will be obliged by your giving this correction the same publicity that you gave the original report.

The whole block of Annex Sidewalk Debentures was sold at 92.

Yours very truly,
Arthur J. Moffatt,
City Clerk.

C.S.E.T. BOYS ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wilson entertained the Canadian Standard Efficiency Boys and officers of Fernie to dinner in the Methodist church basement last Wednesday evening. About one hundred guests sat down to a bountiful repast. There could be no mistaking the thorough appreciation of the host and hostess' kindness. If beaming countenances say anything, they were shouting out to all "For me this just touches the spot."

After supper an entertainment was given. Dr. Garner, President of the C.S.E.T. executive, took the chair. The Mayor, Mr. Thomson, was called on for his maiden speech. The maiden seemed comely and acceptable to the boys by the applause he received. The Mayor expressed in clear definite statements what he considered his duty regarding the carrying out of the law of the land, and his interest in any movement that would make a more moral and better city city for the boys to live in. The Chairman, Rev. Mr. Carr, Mr. Daniels and Mr. Cummings spoke on the aims of the teen boy movement, and the hopes that a more perfectly developed organization than we have at present with a permanent home might be obtained in future, so that any boy might have the advantages of the four-fold training the course offers.

Mr. Wilson, in answer to the boys' vote of thanks, expressed his and Mrs. Wilson's delight in having the boys as their guests. He gave them sound, practical advice, not from theory but from experience of those things which really counted.

Songs were rendered by Rev. Shaw, Mr. Parker, and the Boys Glee Club. The girls class gave a club swinging drill. The boys athletic class, under the tutorship of Mr. Owen, put on numerous gymnastic stunts.

Two boxing exhibitions were given by the boys.

All present spent a thoroughly enjoyable evening.

It is to the credit of the grown-ups of Fernie that the boys are receiving more attention than they have in the past. This is the second banquet the boys have been given this winter, the first being the Father and Son banquet. We hope it will not be the last. The boy after reaching 14 years of age has always demanded attention in a more manly way than before. In the past we have neglected him greatly at this critical period of transition from boyhood to manhood. With many of us the years slip by so silently that it takes some outside happening to wake us up to the fact that our children are really becoming grown-ups. Why, we say, it was only yesterday they started school. Boys of the teen age in Fernie have outside of their homes very little choice of where they shall go. It is up to us grown-ups to provide them with good accommodations.

FERNIE'S CONTRIBUTIONS TO PATRIOTIC FUND

Victoria, Jan. 12, 1918.

A. Cummings, Sec. Canadian Patriotic Fund, Fernie, B.C.:

Re 1918 Campaign

Dear Sir—It is with regret that we note the enormous fall in the contributions of your branch. We, of course, understand the reasons, but would like, if possible, to do something to reinstate the branch as nearly on the same basis as it has been since the inception of the Fund as possible.

I have just arranged a trip through the Okanagan country, beginning at Kamloops on Monday, 28th inst. From there I will go down to Enderby, Armstrong, Vernon, Kelowna, Summerland and Penticton, and I may have to go to Trail. It has occurred to me that, while in Southern British Columbia, it might be well, if your Committee think it advisable,, to continue my trip through to Cranbrook and to Fernie. I shall be very much obliged if you will advise me by night lettergram, as soon as possible after receiving this letter, what you and your committee think of the proposal. If you think it desirable, I will fix a date and advise you by wire.

The coast cities of Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, and possibly Nanaimo, have decided to inaugurate and hold their campaigns beginning the week of March 4th. It is thought that, by the four places combining, considerable enthusiasm might be infused. Several of the places throughout the Interior have already begun their campaigns. Grand Forks is holding theirs from the 23rd to the 25th inst. We are hopeful that the results may be as satisfactory as in the past.

For your information, I may tell you that British Columbia will be the only province during the year 1918 which will not be self-supporting. In view of the fact of the financial conditions of the Provincial government, it is not possible for them to assist as a province, as all the governments in the other parts of Canada are doing. We will probably have to draw upon the Central Fund this year for about one million dollars. In view of this fact, and the willingness of the other parts of Canada to make up our deficit, there can be very little logical argument by individuals who seek to disturb the present arrangement by demanding government administration. The same rule applies now, only in a more intensified form, that those who stay at home have a direct and personal responsibility in doing their part to assist in the prosecution of the war. If the government were to take this Fund over, why not all other similar Funds, and thus relieve that class of people from any personal inconvenience whatever, simply placing the whole responsibility upon the soldiers at the front. Surely if people will give this matter the consideration it deserves, they will readily see that such argument is purely selfish, and should not exist while such sacrifices are being made on their behalf.

F. Nation,
Provincial Secretary

DONALD McKENZIE WRITES

Pte. Donald McKenzie, late of the 225th and who has recently been decorated with the Military Medal, and now of the M. M. G. Brigade, writes to Mr. and Mrs. Jamieson, of West Fernie, as follows:

It is some time since I had your welcome letter with the cards. No doubt you received the Christmas card I sent. The boys all register their parcels as so many are lost, more from France than those coming to France. The P.O. staff think when a parcel is leaving France it contains souvenirs and it is easy for them to hang on to them. We were very doubtful if we would manage to have our Christmas dinner out of the line but were preparing quietly. The day before we started in earnest and rented a bakeshop from 7 p.m. the night of the 24th to 2 p.m. next day and four of us dug in and made pies, cakes, roasted the meat, etc., at the same time enjoying the change in the work. Perhaps the best way to describe the affair would be to enclose a menu card. The card itself is the work of a boy from our own battalion, the Nelson company (C company.) Our mail has been a bit irregular lately. Some think the Halifax disaster has something to do with it. Some of the boys of this battery came from near Halifax, so we had quite a time of worry and talk about it. I just had a letter from Jim McNicholas. He has returned from his leave and was mightly lucky getting it so early. They are now in the line. I had the pleasure of meeting Chubby Dudley the other day. The following day he went on leave to Paris; it is better than Blighty. With Blighty leave it is military all the way; report here, report there, but with Paris you get taken on a motor cycle to the nearest railway station; then it is all plain sailing provided you speak a little French. Of course with Blighty we get free passage; with Paris it is only a reduced rate but it is worth it for freedom's sake. With me it is my mother I consider. We were together so short a time. But for that it would be Paris for me. When Chubbie comes back we'll have a fine time. He is in B. battery, the same brigade.

The menu card was as follows:

1st C. M. M. G. B., "A" Battery, Christmas Menu:

Soup—Giblet Soup.

Entree—Cold Ham, Chicken, Potato Salad.

Roast—Roast Pork, Applesauce; Roast Beef, brown gravy.

Vegetables—Mashed Cream Potatoes, Mashed Turnips, Peas.

Dessert—Apple Pie, Raisin Pie, Cakes, Christmas Plum Pudding, with Brandy Sauce.

Oranges, Apples, Nuts.
Coffee, Beer.
Cigars, Cigarettes.

CITY FATHERS START YEAR

The 1918 council, composed of His Worship Mayor Thomson, and Aldermen Dudley, Beck, Jackson, Brooks, Rutledge and Dicken, held its first real business session last evening. Upon the minutes of the inaugurating sitting being read, Ald. Rutledge took exception to his having apparently been discriminated against with regard to appointment of standing committees, he having only been named on the relief committee, while Ald. Dicken, also a new councillor, had been included on three committees, namely, Fire, Water and Light, Works and Property and Assessment. A somewhat lengthy discussion took place during which His Worship expressed regret that Ald. Rutledge considered he was being slighted as such was not the case. He stated the reason which had prompted him to name Ald. Dicken on the respective committees was in view of the past experience that alderman had had on the council. Ald. Rutledge said he could not help feeling slighted but it would have to go and the incident closed and the minutes were adopted.

Ald. Jackson during the foregoing discussion when the matter of his absence from the city was mentioned, in his characteristic emphatic manner referred to the capital which had been made out of said absence. He claimed, however, up until last August, that during his five years on the council he had never been absent from a council meeting and for the ensuing term he pledged himself to be here and in attendance at any time the city required him.

Communications: A letter from the police commissioners suggesting that toboggan slides be provided next season on Jaffray street and the hill to West Fernie was referred to the works and property committee for report some time during the present year.

The District Registrar transmitted a plan of a new sub-division which [illegible] This property is within the city limits across the C.P.R. yards opposite Block 13. The matter was referred to the city engineer for investigation.

A resolution was received from the city council of North Vancouver relative to the development of a steel industry in this province. Endorsement thereof was requested but without discussion , on motion of Beck and Dudley the communication was filed.

The Salvation Army headquarters at Winnipeg wrote soliciting a donation. A grant of $25 was made to this cause last year and it was moved by Dicken and Brooks that a similar grant be made this year.—Carried.

The Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. advised that in view of the recent cost of living investigation an increase in wages of 14c per day had become effective. In view of this the company were obliged to advance the price of coal sold to the city 15c per ton, making the new price $4.25 per ton f.o.b power house spur. The amended price is retroactive from Dec. 1. The city clerk announced for the information of the council that these periodical increases during 1917 had cost the city $2000 over the cost of coal for 1916, and that this additional cost of operation was responsible for the reduction in profits of the electric light department. The letter was filed.

A lengthy printed circular was received from the Union of Canadian Municipalities with headquarters at Montreal, accompanied by a memorial addressed to the Premier, which if approved by the local council was to be signed by His Worship and the City Clerk. The object of the memorial is to bring about co-operation between the municipalities and the government with regard to the enforcement of war measures. The request was granted, Aldermen Dudley and Beck introducing the motion to that effect.

Over an item for relief some discussion ensued and it was decided with respect to the case in question that the Mayor endeavor to procure information as to the possibility of making arrangements for admission to the Provincial Home or with some institution for treatment of the infirm.

The finance committee's report, which covered a list of accounts left over by the retiring council, was unanimously passed with practically no comment.

Under the heading of new business the question of street improvement in the north end of the city was discussed and the city engineer was instructed to bring in a recommendation at the next regular meeting.

Ald. Dudley, chairman of the finance committee, came forward with the suggestion of renovating the city hall. The upstairs required kalsomining, for which an appropriation had been made last year but not used: for the city clerk's office also some improvements were necessary to make same more sanitary and convenient. Ald. Jackson took strong opposition to some of these suggested expenditures and launched forth on a digression of economy. The matter will receive further consideration when the annual estimates are presented.

Ald. "Bill" then pointedly inquired with regard to the relation of authority of the council with actions of the police commissioners particularly with regard to appointing members on the force and increasing salaries of the force. The statutes were consulted and he was advised that the police force was entirely under the jurisdiction of the three commissioners. Still on the new year economy strain Ald. "Bill" introduced the following motion:

"That the city council recommend the police commissioners be asked to reconsider the action taken by them in putting on a new policeman as from time to time the government urges the council to economize in finance and otherwise. Also to compare our city in this respect with others of the same size."

He passed the motion to Ald. Dicken to be seconded but not being in sympathy it was passed on to Ald. Brooks, who supplied the missing signature. The fact that Ald. Dicken did not see fit to agree with the motion caused Ald. Jackson to become riled and he went into presonalities by accusing Ald. Dicken of now acting in direct conflict with his expressed attitude a year ago, when he had been a candidate for civil office. Ald. Dicken very politely replied that he was not on the council to second or support anything and everything that Aalderman Jackson proposed, and with reference to the accusation of now being inconsistent with his former attitude this was not so. The statement Ald. Dicken had made regarding the police force was that if he could not get better satisfaction out of two policemen instead of four at the time, he wanted to know why and was still of that opinion. He [illegible] interests of the ratepayers and would not overlook his duty, but he did not feel it an opportune time to criticize until it had been demonstrated that the commissioners and the force were not doing their duty.

Aldermen Brooks, Beck and Jackson spoke in favor of the resolution, while His Worship, Aldermen Dudley, Dicken and Rutledge supported the action of the commissioners for the present at least. Ald. Jackson, after Ald. Dudley had advanced arguments showing why it had been deemed necessary to augment the force, sarcastically suggested to him that he had considerably changed his tune from last year when he had been an insistent advocate of reducing the force. Ald. Dudley said there was a great difference in the conditions in the city this year and last. "The town was in a worse condition and you know yourself the law has been broken every day since prohibition came into effect. I have heard you say so," said Ald. Dudley to Ald. Jackson. "You haven't," replied Ald. Bill. "You have," repeated Ald. Dudley, and after exchanges of half a dozen "you haves" and "you haven'ts" (local parliamentary terms for "You are" and "You're another,") somebody else chimed in with his view.

At this juncture Ald. Rutledge had to leave the meeting and shortly after the recommendation to the police commssioners by Ald. Jackson was put to a vote, resulting in Aldermen Jackson, Brooks and Beck voting in the affirmative; Ald. Dicken negative; Ald. Dudley not voting. His Worship declared the motion carried.

LABOR'S INFLUENCE

We are glad to note that a period of introspection has begun in the affairs of the Trades and Labor Council. It has been recognized for some time past that the Socialist element was exercising undue sway in the deliberations because of lack of interest on the part of the real representatives of Labor. Unfortunately the tpye of Socialism which has been introduced in the discussions of the local Trades and Labor Council has often been so impracticable that it has failed to secure support of the great body of workingmen. It is because of this staunch labor representatives have begun to recognize different methods have to be adopted if the officials of the organization are to command the support of the wage earners. The recent election—in which a Socialist received such scant support despite the fact that he was one of the members of the Trades and Labor Council—has served to show that body how necessary it is to effect reform in its officialdom if it is to be truly representative of Labor and secure its vote on the strength of its policies.

No one would begrudge Labor its share in the administration of the country. Why it has failed to take up the burden so far in the Dominion is because those who have run for office in its name have not, in many instances, been representative of the workingmen. The sanest type of Socialism extant today believes in the justice of the Allies' cause in this war. If it did not it must believe in the triumph of autocracy, which is the very antithesis of Socialistic views. But the element of Socialism which has wormed its way into the deliberations of our labor bodies in Canada is of the virulent, rabid kind, sometimes intolerant in its views and more often than not , impracticable in the solutions it advances for existing problems. It is the selfishness of this type of Socialism which is destroying its usefulness. Lack of constructiveness in its policies is the principle cause why it secures such limited support and why it misrepresents Labor and fails to secure adherents among the vast majority of the workingmen. At heart all men are Socialists, inasmuch as they want to accomplish the greatest good for the greatest number. The ways in which so many theorists would go about this task are myriad, so that there is no unison of thought. This means that, for the present, at all events, we have to be governed by the collective wisdom of those whom a majority vote puts into office.

We have wandered from the point we set out to reach. Labor in Victoria has taken a wise course in attempting to ascertain exactly what are to be its relations with impracticable Socialism in the future. Five-sixths of the workingmen in the city will rejoice that some definite steps are being taken to clear the atmosphere. If Labor, as represented by its officials, were once solidly united on all the main questions of policy and could command unanimous adherence from its followers it would have a very considerable voice in the direction of affairs. It is towards this end effort should be concentrated. If the officials of the different Trades and Labor Councils can secure and retain the confidence of the workingmen as a whole their influence in the body politic will increase immeasureably. Before they can do this they must look inside their own organization and find out what it is that has obtained a strangle hold on their endeavor and is seeking to utilize Labor for its own ends.—Colonist.

HOW IT IS IN EUROPE

In Mr. Hoover's latest communication to members of the United States Food Administration he says: "There is no waste of food among any of our Allies. There is the most drastic reduction in their consumption. There is actual privation among their women and children. There is starvation in Belgium." He explains that "every article of diminished consumption by the people of America is one particle more for the soldiers, men, women and children of our Allies, and for the starving people in other countries. Voluntary individual self-sacrifice to save the world is the call to the people of the United States and Canada in one of the greatest crises of the war."

SERVICE TO THE NATION DEMANDS GOOD HEALTH

War is bringing home to every man, woman and child the fact that service to the nation is not a matter alone for the soldier and sailor and munition worker.

There is work, necessary work, for everyone to do, in the way of thrift and production and to do this work, health is the first essential. Even the most willing will find progress is slow if the health is bad.

Probably the most common complaint among those doing unaccustomed tasks is backache. Work may cause a tired feeling that will easily pass off but this backache that almost doubles one up is an indication of a condition of the system that needs treatment. The Kidneys are giving evidence of their weakness and the sufferer should be thankful for the timely warning given by this pain.

The quickest and surest relief from backache is a treatment with Gin Pills. Gin Pills are the tested specific for the healing of the Kidneys. Anyone who wishes to perform his or her full duty to the Nation in these strenuous times will find relief from backache in Gin Pills.

XMAS DINNER FOR TROOPS IN SUSSEX, ENGLAND

In one of the very many dining huts of the military quarters in Seaford, enjoyed my Christmas dinner with the boys of my unit—Reserve Battalion In a double sized hut, three long tables were placed lengthwise, with about 150 men seated to both sides. There was just enough room for the waiters to move between the tables—tables with steaming dishes. The hut was decorated with flags of paper and festooned across and up and down with chains of bright colored papers. Bunches of greenery were on the curved roof and colored pictures tacked on the walls. On the outside of the hut in foot-long colored letters was the inevitable greeting, "A Merry Christmas." There was a huge gramaphone with a huge horn blowing its "lungs" out, but a few feet away from it ts loudest bray was lost. The men had soup, followed by heaped and pletiful dishes of roast pork and turkey, with vegetables. There was plenty of turkey in every dinner and no unit was without some. The waiters rushed up and down the tables, clearing or replenishing empty dishes. In this dinner all N.C.O's waited on their men and the junior officers on the N. C. O's, and very busy the men kept them. The popular jest of the diners was to pretend they were in some "classy" restaurant and there were continued calls for "Waitah!" and gusts of laughter, and amid the continual hub-bub could be heard calls to "bring me another roast pheasant, waitah! and more champagne, waitah, please." A corporal and a sergeant caught up the joke and fired out an order for "bully and hard tack.". Loud cheers announced the arrival of the real Christmas puddings. Outside a whistle blew three gentle toots and every man stiffened to stillness, the gramaphone was cut off sharply and dead silence fell now. The blast of the whistle was a signal and a voice translated the signal as the C.O. walked in—"Aeroplane overhead, take cover!" A roar of laughter went up, the Colonel joining in. He made a brief speech wishing the men a merry Christmas and a Victorious New Year. The C.O. retired to the loud chorus of "For he's a jolly good fellow." Cheese, fuit, apples and oranges, raisins and nuts followed the pudding and cigarettes began to sparkle all along the table. Beer was supplied to every man unlimited. Thus finished a splendid repast and one of the many fine achievements of a well-organized army.

There are several Fernie boys here and they are all well.

YES! LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN!

Cincinnati authority tells how to dry up a corn or callus so it lifts off with fingers.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of freezone cost very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.

WHAT MR. HANNA SAYS

"As Food Controller, I cannot change the fact of the world shortage. I cannot by decree overcome the tremendous deficiency of wheat in the Allied countries or supply the war demand from empty granaries, but I can, and I will, do all in my power to prevent speculation, to ensure equitable distribution of essential food supplies and to limit middlemen's profits to a reasonable compensation for necessary services."

GROW WHEAT IN QUEBEC

Prof. R. Summerby, of Macdonald Agricultural College, discussing the question of wheat-growing in Quebec says: "Farmers of this province can well afford to devote three to five acres of their land to wheat. Contrary to the opinion held by many wheat of excellent quality can be produced in all parts of Quebec."

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get relief in five minutes by neutralizing acidity. Put an end to such stomach distress now by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by food fermentation due to excessive acid in stomach.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

MINING NOTES

A rumor gained currency around Cranbrook recently that the American Smelting & Refining Company intended erecting a smelter somewhere in the immediate vicinity. This canard had its source in Spokane and by easy stages found its way here. The whole thing is nonsense. It has not been proved that the Company has, so far, spent a dollar in taking up any of its various options. It is quite true that somewhat extensive diamond drill exploration is actually going on on the Steinwinder and Ontario ground, on the North Star hill at Kimberley, but beyond this the Company has been making no expenditures in this locality. It is not wise to think, therefore, that they without having, so to speak, a ton of ore developed and in sight would entertain the idea of going to the expense of perhaps a million dollars in the erection of a smelter. That can only come when they have ore in quantity sufficient to justify the operation of such a plant; and even if they had, it does not follow that they would treat their ore in this province. They might take it to one of their own smelting plants in the States and in the beginning, there is no doubt this is the plan they would adopt. For this purpose they would need independent railway transportation and would, very likely, build to Elko to connect with the Great Northern at that point. For this development, too, we shall have to wait very patiently indeed.

All that can be said with regard to the activities of the American Smelting & Refining Company in the Kimberley area is that they, apparently, intend to look into the possibilities of the district; to give the locality a fair and thorough investigation and if they find conditions suit them they will then operate on a scale proportionate to the resources they will find fit for development. That is all that can be said conservatively and with certainty. There is no justification for going beyond it; but at the same time it may be said that when a concern of the enormous importance and financial power of the American Smelting & Refining Company finds itself warranted in investigating any particular district, it does not readily withdraw its hand. It keeps advancing. Further, its operations are the greatest advertisement our district can get. Where the American Smelting & Refining Company casts anchor is always considered safe ground for smaller investors who argue that they would not come in if the stuff were not there to justify them. There is more of the "sheep-instinct" amongst mining investors and operators than amongst other people.

Time was, not so long ago either, when if the American Smelting & Refining Company bought or took an option on a piece of ground, half the wild-catters in the country would flock in and start their magic. Many a wild-cat company was floated on a lump of ore not as big as a hat and which was, in many a case, brought from foreign parts. With all his lives, the wild-catter now seems to be fairly and satisfactorily dead. It has come to this that he must deliver the goods, he must show he has got the stuff before he can handle a dollar. During the boom days in the Slocan, Ainsworth and Rossland camps, the prospector always got a large payment of cash down before the purchaser struck a pick in the ground. That payment in advance was looked upon by the purchaser as a possible dead loss, just as might be the outlay he would make for the development of the property. Nowadays no man in his sober senses even expects a dollar until the claims have shown that the mineral is there to pay for that dollar. Those who expect "half cash on the signing of the bill of sale and the balance inside of two years" are simply fooling themselves. They wil not get it and it is only right that they should not. It is enough that the investor stands the chance of losing the money he may spend in costly examination without having to pay hard cash for the privilege of exploring another man's property. When prospectors and claim owners get this point clearly in their minds it will be better for the coutry and better for themselves in the long run.—Cranbrook Herald.

THE LATE ARTHUR CREE

(Victoria Colonist)

After a lingering illness of over two years' duration, Arthur H. Cree, late of Fernie, and also very well known in Victoria, passed away yesterday at New Westminster.

For over twelve years Mr. Cree was a prominent real estate and insurance agent in Fernie, B.C., where he built up a successful business, later on taking into partnership Major G. G. Moffatt. For a time in Fernie he was president of the Board of Trade and held other civic positions which brought him into touch with the representative men of the district. He was also a valued member of the Anglican church at that place.

It was in 1912 that he came to Victoria, and for a time was associated with the Provincial Secretary's Department.

Mr. Cree was born at Stoke-Damerel, Devonshire, England and was the son of the late Edward Hodges Cree inspector of hospitals and fleets. On arriving in Canada he was attached to the N.W.M.P. and served through the South African war with Strathcona's Horse as an N. C. O. In 1907 he married Muriel R. Suddaby, daughter of J. Suddaby, principal of model and public schools at Kitchener, Ont. She and two small sons are left to mourn his loss. There also survive four brothers: William Cree, M. D. Tavistock; Col. H. E. Cree, 26 General Hospital, France; Col. Gerald Cree, C.B., C. G. M.; and Douglas Cree, M. D., London, Eng.; and one sister, Mrs. Morley Edison Clough.

Mr. E. O. S. Scholefield, Provincial Librarian, who knew Mr. Cree well, paid the deceased a warm tribute when he said of him that "he was a man of wide reading and cultured manners and a most delightful companion."

The funeral was held from the B.C. Funeral Chapel. Rev. C. R. Littler officiated at the service and at the graveside in Ross Bay cemetery. Many friends, including delegations from the British Campaigners' Association, the Royal Northwest Mounted Police and the Provincial civil service, attended the service, at which the hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "Nearer My God to Thee." The casket was hidden beneath a wealth of beautiful floral tributes. The following friends of the family acted as pallbearers: R. S. Day, Col. McIlree, Major G. E. Moffatt, Dr. H. F. Young, J. Hutchinson and J. J. Nash.

VICTORY WON BY FAKE NEWS

Reverting to the disruption of the Second Italian army, it has been ascertained that the faking by the Germans of the Roman papers referred to was one of the most artistic pieces of work yet discovered in the remarkable German propaganda department. Not only the dates, folio numbers, etc. were reproduced, but the temperatures markets, leading news items, etc., with the added streaming headlines concerning how the streets of Turin, Florence and other Italian cities were running with blood as the result of the oppression of the "cruel English invaders." The men were told in circumstantial accounts how in view of the murder of their women and children they were required at home to protect them against the English, instead of being in the fighting line against the friendly and well-wishing Germans. Nothing, it is safe to say, according to trained observers of what happened through the German efforts, could have been more successful than the German effort in this respect. The Italians threw down their guns and went over in batches. —Editor and Publisher, New York.

THE TONIC THAT BRINGS HEALTH

"Fruit-a-tives" Builds Up The Whole System

Those who take "Fruit-a-tives" for the first time, are often astonished at the way it builds them up and makes them feel better all over. They may be taking "Fruit-a-tives" for some specific disease, as Constipation, Indigestion, Chronic Headaches or Neuralgia, Kidney or Bladder Trouble, Rheumatism or Pain in the Back. CITY POLICE GET ORDERS

A special meeting of the Board of the newly elected Police Commissioners was held in the city hall on Jan. 19, with all members present.

It was decided that the Board would hold regular meetings on the second Monday in each month at 7.30 p.m.

The minutes of the meeting held on Dec. 4 were read and adopted.

On motion of Mr. Dudley and Rev. Carr the clerk was instructed to notify the Chief of Police that the laws regarding the illicit sale of liquor, the social evil, gambling, pool rooms and the curfew be strictly enforced and that the Chief be required to show satisfactory results within 30 days from the date of the motion.

It was also unanimously decided to give Chief Brown and Constables Dooley and Killam an increase of $15 per month in their salaries in order to meet the increased cost of living, the raise in salary to date from Jan. 1.

In order to assist the police in their efforts to clean up the town it was decided to put on an additional man for three months and the City Clerk was instructed to advertise for same, the Mayor and Chief of Police being authorized to engage the new man.

On motion of Commissioners Dudley and Carr it was decided that the City Clerk place a recommendation before the city council that two toboggan slides be provided for the use of the children of the city, one on Jaffray street for the little ones and that the portion used be closed to vehicluar traffic; the other on the hill leading to the rink, the slide to be made on the east side of the walk.

Meeting adjourned.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a small bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

THE THEATRES WILL PAY THE WAR TAX

The new food regulations regarding the quality of flour has caused a large number of our citizens to immediately try to grab all the present article on the market. This is very poor patriotism as it ties up a tremendous quantity of flour for months ahead. The following letter from a large milling concern in Lethbridge to Dobson & Willingham, shows that there is no reason to fear the quality of flour which the new order will produce:

"In our opinion there is little or no grounds for the popular feeling against the use of war flour.

"According to the latest instructions which we have been able to get, we will be able to manufacture a very fine article under the government regulations. It should be of good color and good strength and we venture the opinion that the average person using it will notice only a very slight difference from the ordinary patent flour.

"We understand that we will be allowed to make a barrel of flour from 265 lbs. of clean wheat and if such is the case none of the coarser fibrous particles of the wheat will have to be included in the flour stream. Provided they allow us to use the regular run of milling wheat the flour should give everyone the very best of satisfaction after one or two bakings."

Japanese School Boy Will Drive Away "Blue Devils"

A comedy that will prove a most effective antidote for the blues or anything faintly resembling them, is "Hashimura Togo," a fascinating screened version of Wallace Irwin's own Japanese schoolboy stories which are so familiar to readers of the magazines and newspapers of this country.

Sessue Hayakawa, the well known star of "The Bottle Imp," "Alien Souls," and other productions is the star of the production and he has been able to lend to the character of Togo all the charm and humor of his great genius.

Manager Dragon of the Isis theatre has scheduled "Hashimura Togo" a Paramount picture for release at his theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 30 and 31.

SHOULD TELL THE FACTS

The remarks made by the British chancellor of the exchequer with reference to the set-back at Cambrai, are worth some attention. He told the house of commons that the higher command had not been surprised at the German attack and that "all proper and adequate dispositions had been made to meet it."

A reply of this sort is an interesting piece of impertinence. The British at Cambrai lost several thousand prisoners and something in the neighborhood of two hundred guns. Did this happen as the result of an attack which they knew was coming and for which they had made "adequate dispositions?" The question carries its own answer.

What the chancellor did was, in effect, to refuse to give the general public any information. Somebody blundered, but it is not for common persons to enquire into such matters. There is in his attitude something more than a trace of the old aristocratic notion that all the common people have to do is to sacrifice their lives and pay their taxes and leave the affairs of state to their betters.

Of course the chancellor would repudiate any such interpretation of his words. But it is there nevertheless. Such a reply would not be tolerated in the Canadian house of commons. The members would insist upon knowing who was responsible for the mistake that had obviously occurred and they would expect to be told that the officer who had thereby proved his incapacity had been transferred to some other sphere of usefulness.

Apparently in Great Britain the chancellor's rebuke to the curiosity of the representatives of the people was accepted quite meekly. But perhaps there was more feeling on the subject than the cabled dispatches indicate. This habit of mind on the part of persons in high places, is one of the things the war is expected to do something towards curing. — Vancouver Sun.

A SNEEZE

A sneeze—more than that — a Blanche Sweet sneeze — disrupted the entire Lasky studio for practically a whole day during the filming of her production "The Silent Partner," which will be the Paramount attraction at the Isis theatre on Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 28 and 29. In one of the scenes of this photodrama, Miss Sweet is supposed to enter hurriedly to prevent the man she loves from committing murder. Near the door through which she entered was a large vase fill ed with flowers and standing upon a table. Miss Sweet was to open the door quietly, close it behind her and advance into the room. A number of scenes had already been taken and the vase was well established. The particular scenes of Miss Sweet's entrance had been carefully rehearsed and the camera was grinding merrily away. Just as Miss Sweet opened the door, she sneezed—the door escaped from her grasp, swung back and knocked over the vase, which broke on the floor. To have kept back the sneeze in the picture would have destroyed a big dramatic moment so search had to be made throughout the town to find an exact duplicate of the broken vase and an entire day was required to do this, while the company had a holiday. Supporting Miss Sweet are Thomas Meighan, George Hebert, Ernest Joy and Mabel Van Buren.

"Let Me Help You Carry the Burden, Mother"

"If Canada fails us in October, we must curtail many of our activities."

Sir ARTHUR STANLEY,
Chairman, Executive Committee,
British Red Cross.

It now costs $300,000.00 a week to carry on the work of the British Red Cross, or $16,000,000.00 a year.

Every minute of the day and night it costs $30 to minister to the sick and wounded and dying.

Last year Canada's magnificent contribution paid for the entire work of the British Red Cross for nearly seven weeks.

This year, in view of the greater need, it is earnestly and confidently hoped that Canada's contributions will be as great proportionately as the magnificent offering of last year.

Our trust is, that the Citizens of Canada will give generously to this noble cause

A Few Facts about British Red Cross Work.

The British Red Cross Society is the only institution which carries voluntary aid to the Sick and Wounded of the British forces on land and sea in every region of the War.

Its work is therefore the concern of all classes of British subjects, whether living in the British Isles, in the Dominions and Colonies beyond the seas, or in foreign countries.

WHY BRITAIN IS SHORT OF FOOD

Disquieting reports come from London of a pending shortage of food in Great Britain. The illustrated newspapers reaching this country already show us long queues of people waiting in bitter weather outside the shops for their provisions. The working men are getting restive and food rationing on a national scale is advocated.

Is Great Britain really short of food? Is the nation which has a mercantile fleet amounting to two-thirds of all the ships in the world not able to feed itself, with every wheat-producing country except Russia and the Teutonic alliance ready to pour foodstuffs into its granaries?

If Great Britain had no other claims on her mercantile marine than to supply her own people with food and her own army with what it requires to make war, her shipping would be ample. But Great Britain not only meets her own needs, but at the same time lends thousands of tons of her ships to Italy and France, supplies the Allied forces in Macedonia, has supplied hitherto most of Russia's requirements and now is helping the United States.

The consequence is that Britain's own needs have to be strictly circumscribed. She has to put up with a sugar shortage of an unprecedented kind, with a meat shortage though the cold-storage houses in New Zealand are bulging with supplies; with a fuel and gasoline shortage, as well as many other deprivations. In a word, the country has to be placed on a strict war basis.

Considering the restrictions the British public is showing exemplary patience. Though there may be occasional disturbances before the winter is over—and the winter in western Europe this year is exceptionally severe—there will be nothing like the restlessness that is showing itself in violence and bloodshed in Central Europe. There the populations have nearly reached the limit of endurance. They are buoyed up by one hope—the hope that this is their last winter of war. Somehow, they believe, peace must come before another harvest has been gathered and consumed.

But if peace does not come? Well, then most probably revolution will come instead.—Vancouver World.

SEVEN KEYS

When George M. Cohan appeared in his first Artcraft picture, "Broadway Jones," recently, he scored what was generally conceded to be the most immediately successful film debut ever experienced by a popular theatrical star. His unique characteristics and mannerisms adapted themselves admirably to the silent drama and that he is an ideal motion picture subject was instantaneously established. Never before has a stage star stepped from the theatre on to the screen with such complete ease and success. In his second film for Artcraft, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," coming to the Isis tonight (Friday) and Saturday matinee and evening, George M. Cohan presents a picture that is more Cohanesque by far than even "Broadway Jones."

DEVELOPING OUR COAL RESOURCES

As Alberta mines are operated now they cannot be exepcted to supply more than the western market. They have the capacity for a greater market but since the demand can only be met in the winter months, it is impossible to do much more than supply the prairie markets. Were it possible to store our coal without injury to its properties as a fuel, then we could extend the market to Ontario by developing more mines and operating steadily all the year round. Storage, transportation and labor are all factors in the problem and the greatest obstacle to overcome is storage.—Lethbridge Herald.

RED TAPE AT WASHINGTON

But with the conduct of the War Department under Mr. Baker we are not at all satisfied. Few men of intelligence can be. There is no more dismal tale of incompetency on record, we dare say, than the disgusting juggling with the machine gun problem. The Lewis machine gun, in use by England and France, and tried out under all conceivable conditions, was actually repudiated by the department in favor of an experiment. The gun is good enough for our own navy, it is good enough for the trenches in the hands of British and French soldiers, but the War Department repudiates it and is still fooling around with drawings on paper. Result, no machine guns. As for rifles, there are not enough to furnish even the training camps, while we are borrowing from France field artillery for our own men. Red tape has hampered progress in the War Department—red tape and prejudice—and red tape, too, of the sort that was manufactured away back in the days of the Civil War. There has been either no desire to cut it or the lack of knowledge of how to do it. Mr. Baker is the most conscicuous of the cabinet failures, and the president should acknowledge the truth and act accordingly.—Philadelphia Enquirer.

XMAS DINNER AT THE FRONT

David Gash received a letter from his son David, in France, this week, in which he states that he had been slightly wounded but was still with No. 3 Co., 2nd Batt, and he enclosed in the letter a printed menu card of their Christmas dinner, which was as follows:

Soup.
"Dusty Holden," Roast Turkey.
"Happy Pringle," Roast Pork with Apple Sauce.
"Bill Gardner," Mashed Potatoes.
"Langille," Boiled Onions.
"Bob Lynch," Boiled Brussel sprouts
"Happy Hepburn," Plum Pudding, with Passchendaele sauce.
Nuts, Raisins, Apples, Cigars.
"Bob Leavitt," English Beer.
"Jock Weir," Scotch Whiskey.
Coffee, Bread and Butter.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhœa, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

REMARKABLE RECORD OF ARMY DESERTER

How a young Englishman by the name of Joseph Cyril Godson (alias Arthur Hill) worked his way by means of forged military documents from France to Victoria was shown in the police court at Victoria, when Godson was arraigned charged with desertion from the Imperial Army.

Before enlisting he was a cinematograph operator at Hull, England, and soon after the outbreak of hostilities in 1914 joined the 12th East Yorkshire Regiment, being drafted to Egypt and later to Marseilles, France. He spent some time in the trenches near Abbeville and took French leave for Paris on one occasion, being let off on suspended sentence. While on his way to Rouen, in charge of a corporal he "gave the escort the slip" and returned to Abbeville, where in front of the Y.M.C.A. he picked up a railway warrant belonging to one Pte. Arthur Hill. Deciding to use the warrant and discard his own name in favor of Hill's, he started off on his long journey which was to culminate in his arrest in Victoria. The warrant passed him to Marseilles, where he corrected it so that he had no trouble in reaching Alexandria, Egypt. After serving some time here on depot duty, he decided on a move and fixed the destination on the warrant to read Delhi, but on reaching Bombay last April found that a new document was needed. This did not trouble him long, however, as he soon found a Hindu typist who supplied him, for a rupee, with the necessary papers. A couple of signatures of officers, to give it an official appearance, completed the document, and with it Godson made his way unchallenged to Calcutta. By forging another document here he was taken by transport to Hong Kong, where he caught a transpacific liner to America, landing in Victoria, where he was halted on Aug. 7 last. During his journeyings from France he collected the soldier's allowance for Arthur Hill at the various military depots along the way and rose from private to lance corporal.

In a letter sent to the military authorities here, written while he was being held in the city lock-up pending investigations into his past, he complained that someone had played a "foolish joke" on him and protested as a man who had been wounded twice (which was shown to be false) at being held in the city jail, denied that he was a forger and a deserter and objected to being placed with civilian prisoners.

He was placed in the custody of the military police.

Many Interesting Values Make Their Appearance

Odd Lots and Broken Sizes of Merchandise are placed out for quick clearance. None but dependable goods can be found among them, but as it is our usual custom to make room for each Season's Latest Fashions and Fabrics, you will find many money saving numbers which we have not time to enumerate at this season.

DRY GOODS SECTION

A CORSET BARGAIN
For Small Women and Misses. Sizes 18, 19.
$1.25 Values—25c Pair

White or Grey Cottille is the fabric. A good model for average figures. Four hose supporters and lace trimmed top.

WOMEN'S THEATRE SHAWLS—Special 65c

Knit of fine Shetland Wools in white and colors. Square shapes and oblongs. You'll appreciate the value when you see them. Reg. $1.25

10—O'CLOCK—11
Domestic Cotton, 6 Yards $1.00

Another case of forethought in purchasing. We were successful in purchasing a highly finished cotton free from filling some time ago and can offer at this absurd figure, which is indeed less than today's purchase price. Like flour, the supply is limited. Not more than 12 yards to a customer.

11 O'CLOCK TILL 12
Children's Wool Rompers—95c

Mothers will do well to investigate this saving by following the rush to this table Saturday. There are Brown and Cardinal, Grey, White or Navy; assorted sizes and weaves.

2 O'CLOCK TILL 3
Women's Wool Caps. Reg. $1.25—3 for $1.00

Not less than three sold at one time to ensure their clearance. Never again will such an opportunity accrue to family folks till after the war.

AFTER SUPPER SALE—8 O'CLOCK TO 9
Children's Heavy Worsted Hose. Values to $1.15.
75c Pair

These hose require no introduction, one and one staple lines of hosiery, fast black in color and of dependable quality. All sizes.

having been approximated, he was asked if he did not truthfully think one or two men could be procured to take his place. The witness agreed that this might be possible but he felt that the interests of the firm would not be as well conserved as under his own direction. Asked what would be the result if he were taken ill for a period of three months or more, the witness said he was personally insured against illness but the firm was not, and in fact he had never considered that aspect of the case. Since being called up witness stated he had endeavored to dispose of his business but so far had failed. Upon this announcement Mr. Crowe-Swords pointed out that the appellant in the event of being successful in disposing of his interest apparently did not consider the interests of his partners as seriously as he had at first endeavored to contend. "I thought I was doing what was fair and square and I am merely asking for an extension of time," said the witness. Exemption was allowed until March 1st, 1918, by reason of business obligations.

A. E. McBean, for whom his mother appeared, and who had been allowed until June 30, 1918, by the local tribunal, appealed against this decision. The decision of the local tribunal was upheld and the appeal disallowed but leave was granted to apply for further extension on or before June 30, 1918.

James Edward Robson, at present engaged in the coal mining industry, but who appealed on the ground of importance of continuing his education or training which was disallowed by the local tribunal appealed against this ruling. In view of his present employment the appellant desired to amend his claim to that of importance of continuing employment in habitual occupation. In his evidence he said that since being passed as A-2 he had suffered from rheumatic fever and His Honor ordered a medical re-examination. The contention of the appellant was upheld and he was placed in Class E.

J. F. Percival, accountant at the local branch of the Imperial Bank of Canada, who had been granted exemption by the local tribunal from which an appeal was made by the military representative, resulted in the appeal being allowed. A. M. Owen, manager, appeared for the bank, claiming exemption for Mr. Percival. His Honor stated in view of all appeal tribunals having referred the question of bank employees to the central appeal court judge, said he felt bound to allow the appeal of the military representative in order that this appeal could be considered by Mr. Justice Duff and a general decision covering the whole question would then be rendered.

The appeals of Wm. F. Montalbetti, J. Rivero and P. Di'Martini, employed at Corbin in the coal mining industry and for whom on the appeal by their employer before the local tribunal an exemption had been granted until May 1, 1918, appealed for an extension. These appeals were disallowed but leave to apply for further extension was granted until the expiration of their exemption.

Isidoro Boscarios, claiming occupation as a miner but who formerly had given his occupation as farmer, made application for exemption on the ground of continuing habitual occupation. The original appeal had been disallowed by default and subsequently he had been apprehended and taken to Vancouver under escort. He claimed that at Vancouver he had been released and allowed to return to Michel and would receive notification there when and where to present his appeal for exemption. Upon being asked for proof he produced a document which on examination proved to be a pass good from Dec. 12 to Jan. 12, showing that the appellant had been duly sworn in and was not attached to No. 1 Depot Battalion. In view of this man having been a defaulter and again after entering the service having overstayed his leave of absence, the court stated he could not deal with the case as the man was under the jurisdiction of the military authorities. Military Representative Crowe-Swords thereupon ordered that the man be taken into custody, and telegraphic advice to the effect that an escort is now enroute here to take charge of him was received today.

There are now eight men who have been gathered in here awaiting the arrival of this military escort to be taken to the coast.

The following was the judgment handed out by His Honor Judge Thompson in the case of James L. Hunter et al:

This case with 35 others are appeals made by the United Mine Workers of America on behalf of men of military age whose claims have been disallowed by the local tribunal at Fernie.

Each case will be dealt with individually on its merits and on the principles which I am stating in this general judgment. In each case this general judgment is made part of the individual one.

In making my decision upon the claims of these appellants I cannot consider what they promise to do in the future; I can only judge their future conduct by their past performance.

The country has been at war for nearly four years; for months the Military Service Act has been discussed in the House of Commons and in the press, and for months the Act has been in force. Both this winter and last we read statements made by Ministers of the Crown and from many other sources that increased production of coal was essential to the welfare of the country. If a man has not shown that he has been spurred quest of his country, it is not likely on to greater production by the re he would willingly obey the demand of his country.

These applicants must understand they are now soldiers. And where exemption is granted to them it is so granted because the Court is of the opinion they are of greater value to the nation by remaining coal miners than by becoming soldiers. And the only way they can continue to be of greater value as coal miners than as soliders is by producing coal.

I repeat my statement, men to whom exemption is granted are in the position of soldiers and they must work as steadily and continuously as though they had donned khaki. To my mind they should esteem it an honor and privilege to be in the position where they are called upon to help their country by using extra efforts for the production of a commodity so essential as coal; and they should carry on their duties here with the same willingness and the same cheerfulness that their brothers and friends have shown when they went to the front.

It must be understood that in granting exemptions I am endeavoring on the one hand to protect the interests of the worker. He cannot be bound down to any one particular employment in the mine or to work for any particular employer. That would be placing him too much in the power of his employer. I can understand also that there may be many reasons why a man will be unable to work continuously every working day. There may be sickness, some accident may happen in the mine whereby the man is unable to work, therefore I would endeavor to frame rules to cover these conditions.

On the other hand there must be no mal-lingering, no holidays other than specified, no letting up on the production of coal, but rather a speeding up on the part of these appellants. If it can be shown by the military authorities at any time that any man is not following the rules I am establishing, that man must understand that his exemption ceases and he will at once become liable for military duty.

I will give both the men and the military authorities every opportunity to come before me from time to time and state their respective cases, but I think it only right I should now warn every appellant that in the event of there being any letting up or any cessation of work by him, either individually or collectively their exemptions will stop and they will at once be drafted into military service.

The rules I establish are as follows:

1. In cases where I grant an exemption it shall be conditional upon the appellant being continuously employed in his occupation. Either that in which he is now engaged or some other occupation in the mine.

2. Any person ceasing to work for more than 24 hours will be deemed to be not continuously employed, unless he can show some just cause or reason for his non-employment. This prohibition does not apply to recognized holidays and the holding of funerals pursuant to the book of rates and conditions (pages 16 and 17) as adjusted and amended by the Commissioner on June 27 and July 31, 1917.

A lay-off of 24 hours without just cause or reason being shown shall not occur more than once a month.

3. In case of illness a certificate signed by some medical practitioner must be procured within 48 hours, and if demanded by the military or civil authorities, produced and filed in the office of the Chief of Provincial Police at Fernie.

4. When a stoppage of work is occasioned by some cause beyond the workman's power to prevent, for example accident, gaseous condition of the mine, shortage of material, or any other reason whatsoever, a certificate must be obtained from the manager of the mine where the workman is engaged, and upon demand by the military or civil authorities, must be produced and filed in the office of the Chief of Provincial Police at Fernie.

5. In the event of a strike or cessation of work by workmen other than exempted men whereby the latter are prevented from working, exemptions shall cease, subject, however, to the provisions in rules 9 and 10.

This may seem a harsh ruling but it must be remembered that this appeal has been made by the United Mine Workers of America, and it will be the duty of the officials of the brotherhood to see that no such strikes or cessations of work occur.

6. No exempted man shall occupy an official position, or carry on work, which will necessitate his absence from work at his usual occupation in the mines.

7. In the event of any person to whom exemption is granted desiring to change his employment from one employer to another, he may do so upon application being made in writing to me, and a certificate allowed by me.

8. Exemption granted shall continue until the 1st day of June, 1918. On or before which date application may be made to me for an extension of time.

9. In the event of any dispute arising between the military authorities and any person to whom exemption is granted, or in the event of the military authorities drafting, detaining or arresting an exempted man for alleged non-compliance with these rules, or from any cause, the matter shall be brought before me as speedily as possible for determination.

10. All parties have leave to apply to me in a summarily manner respecting any matters which may arise from time to time in order that they may obtain any further special or general ruling.

CHRIST CHURCH

The annual congregational meeting was held in the church last Sunday evening at the close of the service. There were about 110 people present. The Vicar, who presided, gave a summary of the work done during the three months of his charge. He paid a tribute to the work of Mr. A. F. Marcer, who for 18 months had carried on the services of the church and so successfully taken care of the Sunday school. The large increase in church attendances and the growth of the Sunday school were commented upon as gratifying evidence of progress. The Vicar spoke of the excellent work of the choir, to whose faithful services the increase in attendance was largely due. The Ladies Guild had been of great assistance to the church and had contributed most generously to the funds. They had been most helpful, too, in the work of visitation. The Sunday school teachers and the church committee were also thanked for their assistance.

The treasurer, Mr. F. White, then read the financial report, which showed a balance in hand in all branches. Mr. White commented on the increase in subscriptions and took a very hopeful view of the future prospects of the parish.

The report having been adopted with a cordial vote of thanks to Mr. White for his faithful work, the election of officers for 1918 was proceeded with. The following were elected:

Lay Delegates to Synod—Messrs. F. White, Hewat, P. H. Fowler.

Churchwardens—People's, Mr. F. White; Vicar's, Mr. Hewat.

Sidesmen—Messrs. Bonnellie, Beck, Austin, Andrews, Reynolds, Alexander and Rhodes.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Wardens and Committee, the Ladies Guild, and the Vicar.

The meeting closed with prayer and the benediction.

Dorothy Phillips in "Bondage," at Orpheum, Wednesday and Thursday Feb. 6 and 7.

MITCHELL GETS D.C.M.

Mrs. Joseph Mitchell received word yesterday that her husband, Lance Corporal Joseph F. Mitchell, has been wounded in the shoulder and has been admitted to a base hospital.

Mrs. Mitchell had just received a letter from her husband in France, written on Jan. 5, in which he stated that he had received the Distinguished Conduct Medal for services in the battle of Passchendaele Ridge. Mr. Mitchell, previous to his departure with the 54th, was an employee of the Trites-Wood Co. His many friends and Fernie citizens extend congratulations and wish him a speedy recovery.

A great many letters have been received from men at the front and the following letters will show how the men appreciated our parcels and the fact that thy are not forgotten by their home town:

France, Dec. 15, 1917.

To the Regent:

I received your Christmas stocking O.K. and must thank the ladies of the I.O.D.E. I had a Free Press a few days before the stockings arrived so I saw all the names of the Fernie boys who were to receive Xmas stockings. Some of those on the list were killed and the boys of the 2nd C.M.R., as well as the residents of Fernie will take off their hats as a token of respect for those who have fallen and those they have left behind at home in Canada.

With best wishes for a Happy and Prosperous New Year, I remain, Yours truly, an old Fernieite.

Pte. Harry Murray.

Flanders, Dec. 29, 1917.

Dear Friends—Many thanks for your parcel, which I received today. Should have had it sooner but was up the line. There are not many Fernie boys with us but I met quite a few when the Canadians were here and they are all looking forward to the time when we can see our old home town. We are having a cold snap and believe me, your socks escpecially are very greatly appreciated, and at the same time it bucks a fellow up again when he knows there are some kind friends thinking of him while he i away. So once again I thank you for your very welcome gifts.

Yours respectfully,
J. Drew, No. 2 Tunnelling Co.

France, Dec. 26, 1917.

To. Sec. Mt. Fernie Chapter, I.O.D.E.

Dear Madam—Just a line to thank you for your kindness in sending us these Christmas stockings but of course you have heard by this time that Joe is not with me now as he was wounded and went to Blighty, and it is an unwritten law out here that if a parcel comes for anyone in Blighty, we share it up, so he missed a treat, but I guess it would have paid you for your trouble and time if you could have [illegible] enjoyment it gave us. There are six of us in a nice little dug out and the way the candies and fags went was not slow, but they left me some chewing gum and cap and socks and mirror, so I am not doing bad. I hope you all had a good time this Xmas and wish the Order the very best of success in the coming year. We spent a very nice time on Christmas day. We had a fine supper but are living in hopes of spending the next in dear old Fernie. Thanking you again, I remain. Yours truly,

Alf. Lyne.

CITY HOCKEY LEAGUE

On Tuesday, Jan. 22, the K. G. after winning a postponed game tried to make good their getaway from the cellar but the Coms proved too much for them, losing again by a score of 8—6. Thursday's game was postponed owing to soft ice.

Bankers 5, Commercials 4 — On Tuesday of this week the Coms. suffered their first defeat at the hands of the speedy Bankers, having five games up to that date and winning all of them. The score indicates the class of hockey the boys are putting up.

Last night the High School and K. G. teams engaged in what turned out to be one of the hardest fought games of the season, with every player up on his toes and in the fight all the time. The result was a tie—4 all in spite of extra time played. The game will be played over again at some future date.

Games next week: Tuesday, Bankers vs. High School; Thursday, Commercials vs. K. of G.

League Standing—
Commercials, won 5, lost 1.
High School, won 2, lost 2.
Bankers, won 2, lost 3.
K. of G., won 1, lost 4.

LLOYD GEORGE AND THE AGRICULTURISTS

In a recent address to a deputation of English agriculturists, Rt. Hon David Lloyd George said that unless it were possible to supply with food the population behind the lines, as well as the soldiers at the front, the prospects of winning the war were remote. "The enemy is not going to starve us; but that is not enough," he declared. "We have got to produce such a quantity of food that we need not go into the American market and snatch the food out of the mouths of our Allies. If the Allies are short it is because the farmer is handling a rifle to defend his country, instead of the plough."

JAMES MAVOR GETS M.C.

Dick Tuthill is in receipt of a letter from Lt. Jas. Mavor, formerly with the purchasing department of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co., which says in part:

"I told Walter Brown all about losing my left hand so will not go over it again. I am beginning to feel pretty well again only I have the pleasure of looking forward to another operation as soon as my arm is thoroughly healed, and well, the skin is too tight over the end of the stump and it has to be cut open again and the bone cut off, but they cannot do anything to it while there is any inflammation. I don't know when they will be able to operate but very likely I shall have to remain in the hospital for another month after.. Am told it takes from two to three months to get artificial limbs working so I am not likely to be free for some time to come. I can go out now so the time does not pass so slowly.

I have had all kinds of visitors and they certainly have been more than kind. I have on the list a viscountess, a countess and a duchess. The countess and duchess invited me to have Christmas dinner with them but I could not accept on account of a previous engagement. I am going to have tea with the countess next Monday and going out with her sister on Wednesday. I'll have to be careful or I will have a swelled head.

You may be nerested to know that I have been awarded the Military Cross. Only knew a day or two before Christmas so got the ribbon on for Christmas day. Am going to endeavor to get my decoration from the King while I am around here. I got a nice letter of congratulation from Major-General Lipsett, our divisional commander. All this is some consolation but I would willingly forfeit it all and go back to the line if I could only get my hand back. However, I suppose I [illegible]

ELKO NOTES

(By Fred Roo)

Well, here we are again after the holidays, and receiving letters asking what was the matter with Elko. Nothing, Mabel, nothing. Only we found out where the fellow got the inspiration that refers to Canada as Our Lady of the Snows. Jim Thistlebeak says it was an Elko blizzard and we believe him. We have had several this winter that would blow the curl out of a Persian lamb or the teeth out of a crosscut saw.

An enjoyable affair of the past week was a directors' meeting of tre Elko Light & Power Co. More power to them. Gorman, the human ferret, is going on the collecting staff (pay up or you'll sure miss the water) and the well won't be dry.

The lumber business is booming in this district, and they mostly all go by creeks, Tunnel Creek, Rock Creek Meadow Creek, Rainbow Creek, Red Canyon Creek, and the managers all red headed and Irish—thank Scotland for that.

The coming and going of our well known families is always of interest and furnishes a happy bit of gossip over the teacups. After spending over a year in Glasgow, Scotland, Mrs. Ray G. Hirtz returned to Elko and has given some very interesting and also very thrilling experiences she met with in her travels in the old country at several bun struggles where she was the invited guest. Miss E. B. Patterson, for three years in charge of the Roosville temple of learning, left the big red apple country for the Kootenay orchards, near Cranbrook. A lady you don't meet every day. Mrs. Fred Roo, of Roosville, was up to Elko making arrangements to move her family to the old historic burg. Mrs. Ellwood and daughter Della, of Flagstone, spent a couple of weeks the guest of Mrs. A. E. Ingham, at Sheep Mountain Ranch. Miss Brewer, nurse, Winnipeg, is visiting her mother at the South Fork Nurseries and is greatly impressed with the beautiful scenery surrounding the old historic burg. Miss Nichols, of Creston, is in charge of the Roosville school. Mrs. Frank Murphy, of Newgate, was visiting with Mrs. C. A. Klingensmith. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mott moved to Newgate, for a couple of months. Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Roberts and daughter moved back to Elko from Alberta where Mr. Roberts has been engaged in farming, and it is expected that he will open up the Elk Meat Market again. Mrs. and Mrs. Gorman were Fernie visitors last week.

The Fairy Creek philosopher from Fernie says the city's election took place and "of all the sad words of tongue or pen, are these, the lid is on again."

The way of the tippler is certainly getting harder and dryer in and around Elko.

Frank Allen, of Cranbrook, was in Elko last week looking over the Merchants Bank property on the corner of Main and Market street, with the intention of putting up a palatial hotel. Frank was wearing a smile you could warm your hands on and will sure get the business.

If with pleasure you are viewing any work a man is doing,
If you like him or you love him, tell him now;
Don't withhold you approbation till
the parson makes oration,
And he lies with snowy lillies o'er his brow;
For no matter how you shout it, he really won't care about it;
He won't know how many teardrops
you have shed;
If you think some praise is due him,
now's the time to slip it to him,
For he cannot read his tombstone
when's he's dead.
More than fame and more than money is the comment kind and sunny,
And it gives you heart and spirit to the end.
Perhaps he's waiting, yearning, sighing, and the days are swiftly flying,
While the ups and down of life his ways attend.
If he earns you praise, bestow it; if you like him, let him know it.
Let the words of true encouragement be said;
Do not wait till life is over and he's underneath the clover,
For he cannot read his tombstone
when he's dead.

LETTER OF SYMPATHY FROM FERNIE BOYS

The following letter has been received by Mrs. Poxon, of Coal Creek, [illegible] last fall:

November 3rd, 1917.

To Mrs. S. Poxon,
Coal Creek, B.C.

Dear Madam—Understanding only too well the depth of your emotions, we feel that we cannot neglect the duty of expressing to you our share of sympathy in this, your great hour of trial, and we hope that all that is British within you will assist you to bear nobly the loss you have sustained, and with the fortitude which characterizes so many of your sisters and is the distinguishing mark of the true Briton, find solace in the fact that your husband made the great sacrifice in the midst of duty.

As one who was with him at the time, I can assure you that his demise caused him no suffering and he was carried and reverently laid to rest in one of the Military Cemeteries in France, and a distinctive cross has been placed at the head of the grave. It might, in a small measure, please you to know that this ceremony was carried out in the presence of the combined unit with military honors. The inscription reads as follows:

"In loving memory of Corpl. S. Poxon, M.M. (No. 532744) 13th Canadian Field Ambulance, Killed in Action, October 25th, 1917. R.I.P."

Your husband, and our comrade, proved himself in every sense a man, and we share your loss. He was fearless, and in every instance performed his work faithfully and well and the unit suffers by his loss. His preferment and honors were well won, and a great future was in front of him, as his courage was pronounced.

We, the representatives of Fernie, on behalf of all our comrades, therefore subscribe ourselves in deepest sympathy, hoping that the knowledge that Sam was respected by all and sundry will help to make you feel in a sense solaced thereby, as your loss is also ours.

We are, dear Mrs. Poxon, In deepest sympathy, Yours sincerely,

James Hall, T. C. Smith, B. Drew, W. Tapton, Alf. Dyne, J. G. Larmont, C. K. Christian, A. Bunch, W. J. Watmough, F. J. Nie, M. Horn, Peter Green, W. H. K. Anderson.

WHEN THE WAR WILL END

Absolute knowledge I have none,
But my aunt's washerwoman's sister's son
Heard a policeman on his beat
Say to some one on the street
That he had a letter just last week,
Written in Swedish—or was it Greek?
—From a Chinese coolie in Timbuctoo,
Who said the niggers in Cuba knew
Of a colored girl in a Texas town,
Who got it straight from a circus clown,
That a man in Klondike heard the news
From a gang of South Illinois Street Jews
About some lady in Borneo
Who heard of a rascal who claimed to know
Of a swell society female rake,
Whose mother-in-law would undertake
To prove that her second husband's niece
Has stated in a printed piece
That her brother's son has a friend
Who thinks he knows when the war will end.—Exchange.

SCOTT CASE LOOMING UP ONCE AGAIN

The last of the famous Scott case has not been heard. A writ, launched in the supreme court, which will be fought by the five defendants against whom it is issued, is expected to throw some light upon the escape from the custody of detectives of the young man who was convicted by royal commission of being involved in the plugging conspiracy that featured the provincial bye-election in Vancouver in February, 1916.

The defendants are Premier C. H Brewster, E. M. N. Woods, D. E. McTaggart, Ashworth Anderson and R. T. Elliott, the latter being the premier's legal adviser and the action is brought by the William J. Burns National Detective Agency for $1055.27. The writ reads in part as follows: "The plaintiffs claim as against the defendants the sum of $1055.27 for services rendered and expenses incurred for and on behalf of the defendants by the plaintiff at the defendants' request."

Whether Scott was in charge of the Burns Detective Agency will probably be one of the questions to be determined in the suit if it comes to trial.

"I do not know just what claim the agency has against us," said D. E. McTaggart, one of the defendants, "but this will come out in the statement of claim. On the surface I should say that the detective agency wants to be paid for letting Scott go, or in other words, for double-crossing the people who employed them.

"We all know a good deal about the escape of Scott, but I hope what the detective agency knows will come out at the trial, for the case will be fought. It says in the writ, 'for services rendered.' I think services not rendered expresses the case. The detectives were hired to hold Scott and they let him go. That is all I know about the case at present."

UNHAPPY RUSSIA

An illuminating article on conditions in Russia is contributed to The Nineteenth Century by Mr. Leslie Urquhart, the manager of a large Russian mine. He recounts the rapid advance in the towns from the moderation of the first Revolution to a state of plunder and terrorism. Small revolutionary committees known as the Soviets, encouraged the workmen to strike for higher, and still higher wages, until the demands were beyond all reason and industries had to close down. In like manner the railways were disorganized and ruined.

In the country the peasants were informed that they were at liberty to seize all lands. This gave rise to agrarian riots. The division could not be made equitably and the strong fought for their claims. The result was a great deal of bloodshed and a practical state of anarchy. In the main this turmoil has ceased. The peasants see that the abolition of property is a two-edged weapon, and they are beginning to hoard their foodstuffs. They refuse, in some districts, to sell a pound of wheat or of anything else to the industrial classes. In others, while the peasants are ready to sell, there is no means of transportation. The result is that the towns are beginning to feel the pinch of famine and vast numbers of the extremists find themselves in an unenviable position. Even the soldiers' rations are being cut down.

One may understand the anger that will arise is Russia when the people learn that Lenine is permitting wheat to be sent to Norway—evidently at German dictation. The food problem is most serious in Petrograd and in every town where unbridled license has been running free. In the army, the "new" ideas had their greatest success amongst the infantry. In the opinion of Mr. Urquhart, the cavalry and artillery remained sound at heart. Besides, he points out, soldiers of certain infantry units which deserted and made their way back to the interior encountered violent hostility in their native villages. For this and other reasons, Mr. Urquhart thinks that public order will yet be restored by a Military Dictator, who will have the support of the Cossacks and of the moderate minded people of all ranks of society.

His belief that it would be possible to produce an effective army of 3,000,000 men is particularly interesting in view of Trotzky's statement that hostilities might be resumed if Germany rejected a peace without annexations or indemnities. Trotzky mentioned 3,000,000 as a possible force. It must be remembered that the mobilized Russian army at the moment of the Revolution was 12,000,000 strong. Germany and German agents who fomented the trouble at Petrograd must be exultant over a "diplomatic" victory which wiped out at one blow 9,000,000 effectives, destroyed the railways and munition plants and wholly disorganized the nation.

THE CONTRAST A BITTER ONE

The increase of price all about us is a grievous thing, and we are grumbling. Meat has gone up, bacon has gone up, currants have gone up and it is hard for us to procure supplies. Some of us have to wait in queeus outside shops. Still we get sufficient food to keep us in bodily health anyway, and we manage to carry on. Are any of the inconveniences we undergo comparable for one moment with the dangers, the suffering, the pains, the privations of those glorious boys at the front? Here is the very flower of our race exposing itself to death and perishing in the trenches, in the open battle, by land and sea, and those for whom the youth of the nation is fighting are grousing about prices and supplies; and young men of military age sheltered in the munition works, are meeting to discuss increase of wages or strutting the streets "on strike." The contrast is bitter.—The London Daily Mail.

To Deal With Social Diseases

The nature of the proposed social diseases legislation is not disclosed, but in framing the bill the Ontario government has had the advantage of expert advice. It will find a useful model in the law in Western Australia, based on compulsory notification, examination and treatment, while insuring privacy for patients. The extension of hospital facilities for free treatment is also a feature that should be copied. Probably the Ontario government will take this occasion to begin an attack on the problem of the feeble-minded, which is intimately related to that of social diseases. —Toronto Globe.

I.O.D.E. MEETING AT VICTORIA ON TUESDAY NEXT

Victoria Times: The second general I.O.D.E., will be held on Tuesday, Jan. meeting of the Provincial Chapter, 9, at Alexandra House, and among those from the Mainland who have expressed their intention to attend the event are Mrs. Moffatt, Fernie; Mrs. Watson, Chemainus; Mrs. Martindale, Nanaimo; Mrs. Creery, Vancouver and a member from Chilliwack. Other officers expected from the Mainland are Mrs. Boyle, vice-president; Mrs. A. H. MacNeill, organizing secretary; Mrs. Hatewood, Echoes secretary, and Mme. Gauvreau, New Westminster.

The morning session will open at 10.30 with the usual ceremony, and, after the minutes and correspondence have been heard and the roll called the reports for the last quarter will be received as follows:

Executive, treasurer, organizing, education, and echoes secretaries, which will include special reports on the work accomplished for the Military Convalescent Hospital, the proposed association with the Navy League of Canada and other matters of importance to the order.

A resolution of moment presented from Vancouver suggests the discontinuance of the "War Clasp" from the date of compulsory service. This badge has during the last three years been presented by the chapter to those among the members having sons or husbands serving overseas.

HEALTHIEST ONE IN THE FAMILY

No Sign Of Dropsy And Kidney Trouble Since Taking "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

HATTIE WARREN

Port Robinson, Ont., July 8th, 1915.

"We have used "Fruit-a-tives" in our house for over three years and have always found them a good medicine. Our little girl, Hattie, was troubled with Kidney Disease. The Doctor said she was threatened with Dropsy. Her limbs and body were all swollen and we began to think she could not live. Finally, we decided to try "Fruit-a-tives". She began to show improvement after we had given her a few tablets. In a short time, the swelling had all gone down and her flesh began to look more natural. Now she is the healthiest one in the family and has no signs of the old ailment. We can not say too much for "Fruit-a-tives" and would never be without them".

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

CONSULT THE WAR VETERANS

British Columbia possesses exceptional advantages for helping to rehabilitate returned soldiers, inasmuch as the Province owns its resources. We have bright hopes that during the coming session a definite and practical scheme will be put before the House whereby land will be thrown open to the returned men and financial aid offered them on the most favorable terms. As we have pointed out before, whatever plan of land settlement there is should not be based on the cummunal system. If the government has sounded the opinion of returned soldiers on the subject it will have found the majority object to any proposal of that kind. There are four specific ways in which the government should help the returned soldiers; in giving them the land; in helping them to clear it; in financing them on easy terms and in establishing a training farm so that they may learn the pursuit of agriculture.

We do not believe that a very large percentage of the returned men will go on the land, but the fact that at least 300 are available at the present time, if the government will assist them without delay, is a proof that the aid they can give in the agricultural industry will be considerable. But unless whatever legislation is devised is put into operation within the next few months the men now waiting to go on the land will be forced to engage in other pursuits. Provision should have been made during the last session of the legislature. We urged that it should be, but without avail. The returned soldiers are exhibiting some uneasiness because the government is not displaying more interest in their rehabilitation in civilian pursuits, and it is claimed that, at least as far as land settelement s concerned, something should be done. The Land Settlement Board is now preparing legislation which will be submitted to the government, and, if approved, go before the legislaure. We think it highly desirable that those interested should be informed of the nature of the legislation that is in view. The advice and co-operation of the returned soldiers would be an important factor in framing plans, which are, presumably, for the exclusive benefit of those who have served and are serving their country in this war.—Colonist.

"REBECCA OF SUNNYBROOK FARM"

"Rebecca is delightful from beginning to end; she is just the nicest child in American literature," said Thomas Bailey Aldrich, the author of "The Story of a Bad Boy," and perhaps there can be no better description of youthful Rebecca. As a classic for old and young, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" takes rank beside "Little Women" in the hearts of the American public, who mingle tears and smiles in affectionate interest over her progress toward womanhood. The story has been translated into several languages and is used in English reading in the public schools of European cities. In this famous story now appears America's Sweetheart, Mary Pickford, in its screen adaptation. A more fitting association could not have been selected for either "Little Mary" or for the film portrayal of the book. The new Pickford-Artcraft picture will appear at the Isis theatre on Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 3-4.

Single Copies Only to Old Country

By proclamation of the British government the importation into the United Kingdom of newspapers and periodicals other than in single copies has been strictly forbidden. This means that any person mailing newspapers or periodicals to friends or soldiers in either England or France must place each copy in a separate wrapper, properly addressed. The rate on Canadian newspapers or periodicals for Great Britain is one cent for each four ounces, to France one cent per two ounces. American publications one cent for two ounces.

"THE UNDYING FLAME"

Mme. Petrova, the Russian actress who is starring in "The Undying Flame," at the Isis theatre this Friday and Saturday, Feb. 1 and 2, is one of the most talented actresses on the screen and has an enviable international reputation on both screen and stage. The fact that she is appearing in pictures produced by the Jesse L. Lasky Co. for Paramount, recalls the fact that it was Mr. Lasky who first introduced this great actress to America. A few years ago, while Mr. Lasky was making his customary trip to Europe in search of new talent for his "Folies Bergeres," he heard of a remarkable young girl at the Tivoli in London who had created a sensation by her singing. He attended the performance, was greatly impressed and proceeded to negotiate for a contract with her to make her American debut under his management. Mme. Petrova proved to be a phenomenal success in the "Folies" and later went into vaudeville and also appeared in serious drama.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a small bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhœa, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

Why Best for Babies?

"I am often asked why Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is best for babies. Well, there are several reasons:

First: It is perfectly harmless and can be given with every confidence to the youngest or most delicate child.

Secondly: It contains no alcohol, opium, chloroform, morphine or any other narcotic.

Thirdly: Children like it, and no persuasion is needed to get them to take it.

For the above reasons alone it is impossible to get a better medicine for babies than

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

But aside from its safety it relieves coughs and colds, is the best remedy known for croup, and when given as soon as the croupy cough appears it will even prevent the attack."

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

ELK ARE SAVED BY PRIVATE ENTERPRISE

Recently the provincial game warden received instructions to get rid of the herd of wapiti (elk) which were raised by the provincial government at the experimental farm. Sportsmen of the mainland hearing of it, at once moved in the matter with a view to preserving the lives of the animals and having them turned out in the woods, where they might have a chance to re-stock some of the lands which were formerly famous for their herds of these, the most noble of the deer family on the American continent.

Naturally the herd would have had a better chance if kept in confinement until spring, but the fiat went forth that they must go immediately and that no public funds might be used for transportation. Nothing daunted, the private citizens, who were large-minded enough to do their best to save the animals, undertook the shipment of the herd into the Lillooet country, a matter of no small difficulty. The bulls had to be dehorned in order to pack them in crates for the journey and two killed themselves in their efforts to resist handling. However, one bull, eight cows and one calf were successfully transported over the Pacific and Great Eastern Railway.

The residents of Lillooet have taken great interest in this shipment and voluntarily bore the expense of teams and labor in conveying the wapiti from the railway to the point of release. They are greatly pleased that these magnificent animals have been saved to the province, and are determined to do all in their power to see that they are properly protected. The general opinion is that they will do well in that district if given a proper chance, although it is a thousand pities that they could not have been kept in captivity until next spring, which would have been the proper time to turn them out.

Lillooet is considered to be an ideal country for elk, and if this shipment is properly protected it will prove the nucleus of a very valuable asset to the province and a very great attraction to sportsmen in years to come. Numerous indications have been found pointing to the fact that years ago large herds of elk roamed the district, which is today rough and secluded enough to again become a famous haunt for these monarchs of the deer family.

It is a matter of strong comment among sportsmen that although the government has made a net profit of approximately $100,000 in the past four years out of the game licenses paid by sportsmen of this province, they could not see their way to pay the paltry sum required to transport and take care of these valuable animals, and it was left to a few private citizens, through the efforts of the Vancouver Angling & Game Association, to furnish the money to save them for the province.

ALIEN LABOR

Discussing the shortage of labor in connection with farming operations, the Calgary Herald says that there are in all Canadian towns and cities a very large number of young men of military age and fitness who do not come under the terms of the Military Service Act because they are of alien birth and not naturalized citizens. Very few of this large company have volunteered for fighting service. They are quite content to remain in their present occupations which are to a great extent non-essential when judged by the war standard.

What should be done with these men? Is it a fair proposition that native sons should be taken from their peace-time employment and sent to the firing line while these are left free to make an easy living in work that in many cases could be done as well by women? If there is likely to be a shortage in the ranks of agricultural labor why should these men not be recruited for that employment, which is so essential to war success?

Toronto Saturday Night has strong views on the subject. It says: "If these men will not go to the front and will not of their own free will take up work that would be of real benefit to the community, they should be organized under the militia department and assigned to proper occupation . . at a fair but not high rate of wages. These men are now consumers but not producers in any sense of the word and it would be far better to be relieved of them entirely than to have them in their present occupations. This is a case where the proper authorities should say, 'Either get out of the country or go to work.'"

The government is undertaking to control food production and distribution. It is figuring on some sort of control of railways and other transportation interests. In the realm of finance it is saying to the people "you may not invest your money in ways that are not in line with war interests." Why, then, should it not assume as full control of the man-power of the country?

In these times it is suicidal to tolerate any drones in the hive. Every man should be a producer in some essential way so long as there remains need for producers.

That Winnipeg judge was not far out in his castigation of the husky young foreigner who came before him the other day claiming exemption from military service and admitting that his occupation since coming to Canada had been the study of science. Such men should be set at work or told to leave the country.

GLACE BAY MAKES GREAT PATRIOTIC SHOWING

Glace Bay, Cape Breton, has a population of 17,000, and has sent 2400 men to the front. Of these 215 have been killed. Among awards won by Glace Bay soldiers are six Military Crosses, seven Military Medals and four Distinguished Conduct Medals. High school boys of the town last year raised 6000 bushels of potatoes on an old golf links. This record is set down as an evidence of patriotism. It is one that will be difficult to beat, for, as well, Glace Bay did its share in Red Cross and other work connected with the war.

WHAT ARE EGGS AND TEA?

The fact that the people of Great Britain have begun to eat horse-flesh should bring the blush of shame to all those Canadians who have not responded to the Food Controller's appeals for table economy. Any family that has refused to sign a Food Card is worthy of persistent and outspoken condemnation by all its neighbors. People on this continent who grumble about meatless and wheatless days and other war-time restrictions, which are really beneficial to their health, should remember the fine spirit in which our British, French, Italian and other European Allies are meeting the real brunt of the struggle. On behalf of the British people, Mr. Louis N. Parker, the eminent dramatist, has addressed the following New Year's message to the British troops at the front:

We know how much must still be done
Ere you'll be finished with the Hun;
We watch you, wonder at you, where,
Heroes on land, on sea, in air,
Laughing at death and scorning pain
You fight, and fight, and fight again.
And we fight with you. Yes! although
Ours is a paltry little show.
We're elderly civilians, and Women and children, but we stand
As firm as rocks to help you win.
We welcome Gothas with a grin.
No tea? All right. No sugar. Good.
No meat? A kipper's healthier food.
No coal? No bacon? butter? beer?
No Christmas cheer?
All right, all right! The less we eat
The sooner you'll march down our street!
In God's name, what are eggs and tea
Compared with final victory?

Surely every decent Canadian is ready to join in a similar message of cheer and patriotism to the Dominion's gallant defenders on the far-flung battle-line. What if we have to go short on luxuries and long on abstinence!

Little Mary Pickford in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," at the Isis on Monday and Tuesday.

FIXED PRICES FOR BRAN AND SHORTS

The Food Controller has fixed the prices for bran and shorts at $24.50 and $29.50 respectively, per ton in bulk, f.o.b. Fort William. The prices for feed at Western points will be fixed less freight to Fort William. At places west of the points of milling the prices will be the Fort William prices less freight from the mills to Fort William, plus freight from the point of milling to destination. At Eastern points the prices will be fixed prices, plus freight from Fort William. The cost in bags will be about $6.30 per ton higher in each case.

SOUR, ACID STOMACHS, GASES OR INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" neutralizes excessive acid in stomach, relieving dyspepsia, heartburn and distress at once.

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress, due to acidity, will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest stomach sweetener in the whole world, and besides it is harmless. Put an end to stomach distress at once by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by fermentation due to excessive acids in stomach.

MOTHER GAVE THIS DELICATE CHILD VINOL

And He Got Well and Strong. That's True

Monaca, Pa.—"My little boy, who is the youngest of three, was weak, nervous and tired all the time, so he was most unfit at school, and nothing seemed to help him. I learned of Vinol and gave it to him. It has restored his health and strength and he has gained in weight."—Mrs. Frederick Sommers, Monaca, Pa.

Vinol is a constitutional cod liver and iron remedy for delicate, weak, ailing children. Formula on every bottle, so you know what you are giving them. Children love it.

Staff Wilson of Cereal, Alta., is in the city, the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wilson. Staff says he will have 500 acres under cultivation this year, 400 of which will be in wheat. Last year's crops in the section where he is located were more or less of a failure owing to dry weather conditions.

The third installment of the Victory Loan is due at your bank today. A few days grace have been allowed, but it is important that you call and leave your check at the earliest possible moment so as to relieve the pressure on the banking staff on the last day. Remember, the banks have no authority to make payments without you give them your check.

At the dance on Friday evening last the young men present were compelled to show their exemption papers to Military Representative Crowe-Swords before they were permitted to go home. The police say they got hold of three or four slackers in the crowd who had not reported. It is said that several made their escape by the fire escape.

Harold Minton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Minton, has completed his training at Oxford, Eng., and is now a full fledged flight lieutenant in the Royal Flying Corps. Harold, who was in the employ of N. E. Suddaby when the war broke out, was one of the very first from Fernie to sign up and he has been in the thick of the fight for the past three years. His brother Robert is also in France. He is in the artillery.

The families and dependents of the 85 men who were killed in the Stellarton mine disaster require immediate assistance to carry them over the next three months. All who know the sufferings which such a happening entails on those who are bereaved will sympathize deeply with them in their time of want. We hope Fernie despite all the calls to which she has responded, will not turn a deaf ear to the appeal of the mine workers' families at Stellarton.

J. Anderson and family wish to thank their friends and neighbors for kindness shown to them in their sad bereavement; also Mrs. Winstanley, Mrs. Cairns, O. Winstanley, Mr. and Mrs. Lees, Mr. and Mrs. Todd, Lady Terriss Lodge and the Pythian Sisters for floral tributes.

There was quite a shake up in provincial police circles this week in this district. Three men were released from further duty, viz., Constable Fowler, of Michel; Constable Gates, of Bull River; and Constable Ainsworth of Corbin. Three stations were also closed, viz., Hosmer, Constable Norgrove being removed to Michel; Wardner, Constable Duncan being removed to Bull River; and Marysville, Constable Shipman going to Corbin.

The local police took a number of boys from the skating rink and others off the street on Wednesday night to the police station and gave them a warning for being out after nine o'clock. Of course some of the parents and guardians were hostile and made it their business to get after the police commissioners, and it would almost look from the report of the police commission meeting this morning that they had stampeded the commissioners. The Curfew law as outlined in the report looks to be about as flimsy a joke as was ever put on the city books. The majority of the people of this town want the children off the streets after 9 p.m., and if there are some who think they have model boys who should be made exceptions of, they are mistaken. From our experience there are very few model boys. If you give them an inch they want a mile. A little stiff discipline in this connection will not hurt any of them.

FREEDOM OF THE SEAS

The term "freedom of the seas" has been much in the mouths of those who have talked of the peace which is to conclude this war. The Germans have used it and President Wilson has used it, the former with a view to crippling the British Empire and the latter, no doubt, with a view to the highest interests of all nations. In answer to a question put to him by a Labor man the other day, Mr. Lloyd George said:

"I wish to know what the freedom of the seas means. Does it mean freedom for submarines, and does it mean starvation for this country? After all, we are in a very different position from America or Germany, or France, or any other continental country. We islanders must scrutinize with the greatest care any proposal which might impair our ability to protect our lines of communication across the seas. The freedom of the seas is a very elastic term. There is a sense in which we would rejoice to accept it, but we must guard very carefully against any attempt to interfere with our capacity to protect our shores and our shipping, that has alone enabled us to keep up to the present moment."

This frank statement expresses the attitude of all true citizens of the British Empire. Great Britain and the Empire could not exist a day without an adequate navy. But for the power of such a navy at the outset of the war the Empire would have gone down to destruction before Christmas, 1914, and all the rest of the civilized world would rapidly have come under the German heel. For three years and a half the British navy has kept the seas open to Allied troopships and to ships carrying food and other war supplies to the Allied armies and peoples. But for the enormous service thus performed by the King's fleet the war would have been over long ago and the German Kaiser would have ruled supreme throughout the world, as he does today from the North Sea to Constantinople.

It should also be pointed out that the British Empire is not a compact mass of land like France or the United States. The various self-governing States and dependencies over which George V. rules are scattered all over the world. They are linked together by the waters of the Seven Seas. Ship routes are to the British what railways are to other nations. It is thus clear that in sheer self-defence the British Empire needs a powerful navy as other large nations require considerable armies. Not for centuries has the British navy been employed for the oppression of other peoples. It has uniformly been used in the extension of civil and religious liberty and in the planting of democratic institutions all round the world. In the light of such facts it would be a crime against humanity and civilization to think of introducing such a "freedom of the seas" as would cripple such a benevolent agency.

All friends of democracy hope that the present conflict will result in such a settlement of international relationships as will permit a great scaling down in armaments. The British people have long desired relief from the heavy taxation imposed upon them by necessity of maintaining a huge navy. We look forward to such an overwhelming defeat of Prussian pretensions as will reduce Britain's naval bill to a fraction of what it was before the war. We even trust that it will be possible to form a permanent alliance of the Great Powers for the restraint of nations which break the peace. The British Empire and the United States would have to be the chief towers of strength in such a partnership. But their influence for good would be destroyed by any such "freedom of the seas" as the German militarists desire.—Toronto Daily News.

LOST IN TRANSIT

Lovers of clean-cut, incisive photodramas with all the thrills of the old "melodramish" type and yet a new appeal of the realest sort of human interest—the sort that makes a lump gather in one's throat the while one is laughing, will be interested to know that George Beban, famous Italian impersonator, and who has perhaps done as much as any one other person towards the improvement of the photoplay, is to be seen on Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 5 and 6, at the Isis theatre in his newest Paramount picture, "Lost in Transit."

MINING NOTES

(Cranbrook Herald)

The other day the first of the big steel freighters now under construction in Vancouver slipped down the ways of the Coughlan yard and was named the Alaska. She is about 9,000 tons register. There are many to follow her from the same and other yards. The ship building industry is building up Vancouver to a point of prosperity it never knew even before the disastrous day when the bottom fell out of the real estate market. What is of interest to us here in Cranbrook is that every pound of steel that goes into these vessels comes, in general terms, from the Eastern States. In other words, our ship building is at the mercy of the U. S. steel masters. This is not saying that the steel manufacturers of America will do anythingg wrong or unfair while the war is on, at any rate; but it does mean, when we get down to brass tacks, that the industry is not self-sustained. There is not an iron-making blast furnace in British Columbia; and until there is, not one, but several and the necessary rolling mills to turn out the steel plates and girders for the hulls, we shall have no independent, self-sustained ship construction. It is hard to understand why this is so. On the coast, especially on Texada Island, there is a large supply of iron ore, magnetic mostly, available. Now magnetic, by itself, does not produce a very good grade of either pig iron or steel. It needs an admixture of hermatite and this was procured from the State of Washington and the industry started in a half-hearted way. It never had the real breath of life in it and died away. We notice a faint stirring in the direction of vagely "doing something," but the "something" is never done and never will be done until the Dominion government takes up the whole matter seriously, a la Uncle Sam.

When the day comes East Kootenay is bound to be heard from. We have the iron ore close to Cranbrook. On the summit of Fenwick Mountain, just above the Bull River Falls, there is a crown granted property of about 400 acres where, in two beds out of five known and opened, there are over 800,000 tons of red and red-blue hematite averaging over 60 per cent metallic iron and with the adulterants, sulphur and phosphorus, running respectively 0.062 per cent and 0.0282 per cent, both being away below the danger mark for bessemer practice. There is over 10,000 h.p. of developed electric energy going to waste within three miles of the mines and coal and coke in plenty within 45 miles or so by rail from Bull River station. Away back in 1892 the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. at Fernie had the exploitment of the iron resources on Fenwick Mountain under their consideration. What a tremendous thing it would be for all of us, for Cranbrook, Fernie, and the Crow's Nest Pass generally if the Company would only take up the matter again and push it to actual iron and steel production.

COMPENSATION BOARD MOVES TO VANCOUVER

On Saturday the Workmen's Compensation Board moved its headquarters to Vancouver, where, hereafter, will be located its head office. Victoria will be graced with a branch office under the charge of a staff of two, while the balance of the staff of 45 will be moved to the Mainland. As a result of the change Vancouver will secure an expenditure of approximately $75,000 per year.

While there is no reason to believe that the announcement of the intention to make a change in the location of the Workmen's Compensation Board to Vancouver was purposely made at the time when a by-election campaign was being waged in Vancouver, the fact of the decision of the board to make the change came most opportunely for the campaign managers of the candidate in Vancouver, who received the support of the government party. A day or two prior to the election cards were freely circulated in Vancouver bearing the legend, "Vote for the government that moved the Workmen's Compensation Board from Victoria to Vancouver!" Presumably this election propaganda was expected to have weight with the Vancouver electors.

THEATRES MAY BE CLOSED

Winnipeg, Jan. 28.—The Free Press Ottawa correspondent says: "While the general question of fuel conservation in Canada is under consideration by the fuel controller, a number of suggestions have been submitted, the report that the government has decided to order the closing down of all theatres and places of amusement for three days each week is denied by Assistant Fuel Controller Peterson today. Mr. Peterson declares that no action of the sort has yet been decided upon. Fuel Controller Magrath is at present in Washington and it is not possible that any announcement as to his decision on the matter of conservation methods will be made until his return."

Winnipeg, Jan. 28.—Preliminary warning that all theatres in Canada will be ordered closed for three days a week in the interests of fuel conservation, is said to have been given to theatre manager in several western towns by an official of the fuel controller. While no confirmation of the report is forthcoming from government quarters, theatre men are taking it seriously. A Free Press special from Toronto says that a delegation of theatre owners from that city already has started for Ottawa to put their case before the war council against the closing of places of amusement.

Noblesse Oblige

The 1918 edition of Debrett's Peerage is an illuminating commentary on what Britain's Nobility have done in the war. There is a Roll of Honor of nearly 2,200 names. These include one member of the Royal Family, 21 peers, 31 baronets, 11 knights, 11 members of parliament, 562 companions, 149 sons of peers, 135 sons of baronets and 208 sons of knights. The doctrine of noblesse oblige was never better illustrated than in this war.

LIFT YOUR CORNS OFF WITH FINGERS

Tells how to loosen a tender corn or callus so it lifts out without pain.

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn or callus the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, lifts off with the fingers.

Freezone dries the moment it is applied, and simply shrivels the corn or callus without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but will positively rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or hardened callus. If your druggist hasn't any freezone he can get it at any wholesale drug house for you.

JUDGMENT IN LIQUOR CASE

On Tuesday and Wednesday, Judge Thompson held court, when two criminal cases were heard. The first was the appeal of W. A. Ross, proprietor of the Queen's hotel, who had been found guilty in the city police court of having sold three bottles of whiskey to one John Mastally in November last and was sentenced to six months. However, pending the appeal, accused was out on bail and the final trial came on Tuesday.

Only one witness, John Mastally, was called by the Crown and he claimed to have purchased the liquor from Mr. Ross. The defence called Tony Chiz, bartender at the Queen's, John Ross, a brother of the accused and the accused. The evidence for the defence went to show that the witness Mastally had been in an intoxicated condition during his stay in town. Accused swore he had never seen the man before and certainly never sold any liquor to him or anybody else since October 1st last. The brother, John Ross, stated that on the morning the alleged sale was supposed to have been made, the witness for the Crown had approached him and desired to purchase some whiskey but he had been refused as there was none available and with this Mastally departed.

In dismissing the accused, His Honor covered the case in a very broad manner and his judgment, which follows, is primarily for the guidance of magistrates when dealing with similar cases in future.

Judgment follows:

The law in this case is contained in Section 10 and Section 41 of the Act.

"10. Except as provided by this Act, no person shall, within the Province, by himself, his clerk, servant, or agent, expose or keep for sale, or directly or indirectly or upon any pretence, or upon any devise, sell or barter, or offer to sell or barter, or in consideration of the purchase or transfer of any property or thing, or for any other consideration, or at the time of the transfer of any property, give to any other person any liquor."

"41. If, in the prosecution of any person charged with committing an offence against any of the provisions of this Act in selling or keeping for sale or giving or keeping or having or purchasing or receiving liquor, prima facie proof is given that such person had in his possession or charge or control any liquor in respect of or concerning which he is being prosecuted, then, unless such person prove that he did not commit the offence with which he is so charged, he may be convicted accordingly."

The Act is a very drastic one. The English speaking people have been brought up to believe that until the Crown can bring home, beyond any reasonable doubt, a charge against the accused, he must be presumed to be innocent. Here the law goes further: The Act states that where a mere prima facie case is made out guilt must be presumed.

Under the old system of common law, where a prima facie case was made out, there would be sufficient evidence for committal by a magistrate, but the Court could throw out the case or instruct the jury that although a prima facie case had been made out it was so weak they should acquit; the two cases were left open to the Judge. Here, the Act, as I say, has gone further and if any prima case had been made out the onus is upon the accused; in other words his guilt is presumed.

Under the old common law the evidence of any person who was a participant in a criminal act and really an accomplice, was admissable and formed a prima facie case against the accused.

Under this Act the evidence of a man participating in the offence is sufficient to constitute a prima facie case against the accused and therefore guilt is presumed. The judge cannot dismiss the charge because of the weakness of the Crown's evidence. The statement is made that on the 1st of February, John Smith sold James Brown a bottle of liquor. Evidence is given it was sold somewhere about two o'clock in the afternoon. Now unless there are certain special circumstances whereby the accused can tell his whereabouts at that particular time—on that particular day, and the circumstances are very, very, peculiar, the accused cannot deny the fact, except by a general denial. He cannot tell where he was. I defy any man to be able to tell at any particular time on any particular day, haphazard, where there is no question of moment, whether he was on the street, at somebody's house, in his office or where he may have been.

Still, in my view while a prima facie case may be made out against the accused, when a person makes the statement that the accused sold him a bottle of liquor, the onus is satisfied when the man gives a general denial. He says, "I did not sell liquor at that time or any other time." And when I say at any other time I mean within an appreciable distance of that time. The man cannot be tried for his general conduct since the 1st of last October, when the Act came into force. It must be on or about the day on which the alleged offence occurred.

Here the accused says he did not sell the liquor and satisfied the onus, thus the onus is cast upon the Crown to prove that the sale was made.

I have stated these principles fully because this is the first case that has come before me where the general question has been open. It is not only the first case in Fernie but the first case in my district where the question has become an open one. I am saying this for the guidance of magistrates; where charges are laid and evidence given of unlawful sale, and there is prima facie evidence of that sale, the accused is placed upon his defence, but where there is a general denial of the charge, then the onus is upon the Crown.

In this case I do not believe a word the witness Mastally says. I believe the man came into town; went to the sporting houses, and got drunk. The first thought in the man's mind when arrested was to say the proprietor of the hotel where he was staying was the guilty party. He desired to shield the man from whom he obtained the liquor. Then a man under the influence of liquor may not have known where he got it and he simply places the blame on the proprietor of some hotel whom he knows. I do not believe a word the man has told and I would not have taken the time to enunciate the principles I have laid down were it not for the fact that this is the first case and I desire to set forth some guidance for magistrates.

The appeal is allowed and accused discharged. I will allow costs in the sum of $50.

ORGANIZE TO SAVE FOOD

His Worship Mayor Thomson has received a communication from J. W. Gibson, Provincial Organizer of Food Conservation Committees, Victoria, that he will pay an official visit to this city on Monday, Feb. 18.

The Food Controller has requested that each city in British Columbia organize a local Food Conservation Committee for the purpose of direction and co-ordinating all activities in connection with the conservation and increased production of foodstuffs. It has been considered advisable to have this conservation committee organized under civic auspices, and for the purpose of Mr. Gibson's visit is to interest the city council to take steps and arrange an organization meeting, in which he will assist.

Local committees of this nature it is suggested should not consist of more than twenty in number, and to include representatives from the city council, those from local organizations which have already taken an active interest in food conservation work or that may be induced to do so. The essential feature of those appointed is that the men and women should be well informed and genuinely interested in the work, which particularly at this time has become a pressing national service.

The meeting will be held in the council chamber at 8 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 18, and all who have had experience in connection with local patriotic matters, business men who for some time past have been required to act under the supervision of regulations laid down by the Food Controller, those who in any way contribute to the production of food commodities, and all others who are genuniely interested in performing this national service in a time of stress, are cordially invited to attend this meeting and endeavor to at least make the local organization equal to those of any other community of this size, if not a more successful one.

Mrs. G. G. Moffatt, Regent Mt. Fernie Chapter, I.O.D.E.:

Dear Madam—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of the Christmas parcel which reached me safely two days before the good old feast day.

It is nice to be remembered by the home folks, and I am deeply appreciative of the kindly remembrance. No parcel is given a more enthusiastic reception by the soldier, sick or well, than that sent by the ladies of the I.O.D.E.

Kindly convey my thanks to the ladies of your organization together with the hope that the coming New Year will see the end of war, and a reunion of the families who have sent their loved ones out in service of their country.

Sincerely your,
Campbell Lewis,

FIRE LOSS IS $2,000

At 12.30 last Sunday night the fire brigade was called to box 36 and on arrival found the residence of Kasamar Lassalle a seething mass of flames, which had started, it is presumed, from an overheated stove. The fire had made rapid headway and on the arrival of the brigade the entire interior was ablaze and had broken out through the side windows and ignited the roof and side of the adjoining dwelling. Under the direction of Chief McDougall, however, first attention was directed toward preventing the fire from spreading to the adjacent buildings and their efforts were very successful. The original fire, however, was a different proposition and it required a battle of practically two hours before the last embers were extinguished, but by this time the dwelling and contents were practically a total loss. The insurance on the building and contents was $2000, and H. Thomas, adjuster for the underwriters, who was in the city yesterday, after viewing the property authorized settlement in full amount of insurance carried for the claim.

"Useless Toys in War Time"

Italy's customs authorities, in a laudable spirit of restricting imports to things necessary for the furtherance of the aims of the Allies, have declared that baseballs and bats sent for the use of American troops are "useless toys." Baseball is to our boys abroad the first aid to nostalgia, a tonic atmosphere, a civilizing and a heartening influence. It deserves to follow the flag. The football under shell fire to which the British Tommy is addicted robs the Hun bedevilment of half its terrors. And who minds a trifle like a creeping barrage when it's the ninth inning and the score is a tie and the bases are filled? — Philadelphia Ledger.

JUDGE SAYS BED OF INIQUITY

The trial of Rex vs. Nick Skripnec alias Nick Smith, charged with the theft of a woman's ball dress and some underclothing from a room in a local apartment block, and who when arrested at Nelson some weeks ago while en route from this city to the coast, and upon his trunks being searched the missing articles were found, occupied almost two days. The party to whom the missing articles belonged, Mrs. E. Loxton, and Constable Dooley, were the Crown witnesses. The accused and Mrs. K. Clark were the principals for the defence. While this was a case on which the charge was theft, the evidence throughout was more or less unsavory and indicated that the characters of all those implicated, morally at least, was questionable.

In summing up the case His Honor said: "The evidence in this case is very unsatisfactory on both sides. My own impression is there is something that at all events I have been unable to fathom, which has been concealed by everybody. It seems to me that this place was a bed of iniquity. The life this girl has been living has not been a moral one; I have no doubt about it. The life that this accused has been living and that of Mrs. Clark, I also have no doubt has been an immoral one. I have seen the premises and I do not doubt for one moment that this man and Mrs. Clark were practically living as husband and wife. Dealing with this class of persons we have therefore to look upon their evidence with a great deal of suspicion.

Then after dealing exhaustively with the many improbabilities, of which there were a vast number, presented in the evidence by both sides, the Court continued: "Under such circumstances, when I do not believe anybody, with a great deal of hesitation I have to give the accused the benefit of the doubt—the benefit of the persistent lying that has taken place on behalf of the Crown witness. I have to give him the benefit of the doubt and discharge him." And then to the prisoner: "I am discharging you, Skripnec, because I have to give you the benefit of any doubt that I may have. Your career in Fernie has been nothing to your credit, and I have a shrewd suspicion that you know how those things got into your trunk; that you could tell us. I am not going to tell you to reform because I don't think you are able to reform. I don't think it worth while to argue to try and have you make a man of yourself and live decently. Unfortunately I have to let you go."

Skripnec was apprehended at Nelson and when searched was found to have a bottle of gin in his possession and was accordingly fined $50. On his return to this city on account of being an Austrian and having failed to report his intended departure to the local police, he was charged and fined $50 for this offence, and very narrowly escaped punishment for the major offence.

PRESS COMMENT

John L. Sullivan, deceased, once said that he had spent a million of the two millions he had made out of the fight game in buying liquor for himself and his friends. Only absence of opportunity has kept many another man from being equally foolish.

M. Camille Flammarion, the noted French astronomer, believes that the comet which will be visible to the naked eye during the coming spring is Encke's which was last seen in November, 1914. This comet was first discovered in 1818-1819 and has been observed, with more or less success, in every subsequent appearance. Its orbit touches that of the earth but there is no danger of contact as the two bodies do not revolve in the same plane. It is a comet rich in explosive materials according to M. Flammarion. Its periodicicy is about three and one-third years.

Labor's recommendations to the war council of the Dominion government printed in Saturday's Herald, indicate that the big men of the Labor party in Canada have a very clear and well defined conception of the war need and Canada's responsibility in connection therewith. There is a marked difference between the tone of these resolutions and some that were passed at the recent Dominion Labor Congress. The Union government did well to take the heads of the Labor party into its confidence; it will do well to give most careful consideration to the recommendations that are now made. Never before in the country's history have the relations between government and labor been so amicable. —Calgary Herald.

In the mining news column yesterday was published the judgment of Judge Thompson, who recently, at Fernie, Crow's Nest district, heard appeals from some of the decisions of the local military tribunal; also the remarks of counsel who appeared for the military authorities. It is noteworthy that both judge and counsel lay stress upon the imperative necessity of every man who shall be granted exemption on the plea of his work being of national importance working regularly and working hard. Clear rules were established by the judge, and it was made very plain to those directly concerned that if they do not faithfully carry out the full intent and purpose of those rules, exemption will cease and they will at once be liable for military service. The judgment and rules have doubtless been read by many with interest.—Colonist.

PROPOSED SURVEY OF MANPOWER IN CANADA

Dispatches from Ottawa state that a survey of manpower was recommended by the labor delegates at the conference last week with a subcommittee of the cabinet.

If such a survey is taken, it should in effect be a census of the whole population, male and female, except possibly the very young and those over, say 60 years of age. Probably it would be most convenient to make the census include every person, no matter what the age.

Census takers — and much of the work could be done by women and retired soldiers—should, of course, be given full powers to obtain the information desired. To give them false information, or to refuse to give information, should be made an offense.

Such a census would show the number of aliens in the country, their ages, nationalities and occupation. It would show how many young men, now below military age, will reach military age within the next two or three or four years, and how many are in each of the draft act classes. It would provide statistics as to labor which is available for the basic industries which need it, and labor now engaged in other occupations which could be invited to undertake essential work. Answers to other questions should show how many girls and women are willing and able to engage in national work.

It would seem that exact information of this nature would be of the greatest value to the government in formulating and carrying out its policy of efficient organization of the country's resources for the prosecution of the war.—Nelson News.

"BARBARY SHEEP"

The matter of supplying a star with a vehicle that she personally feels is particularly adapted to her capabilities is by no means the most simple procedure in the activities of the producer. At the Artcraft studio recently, Elsie Ferguson, the famous stage beauty, who makes her screen debut in "Barbary Sheep" at the Isis theatre on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 8 and 9, expressed great delight over the selection of this story as her first motion picture play.

"Barbary Sheep," said the popular stage star, "is, I feel, an ideal play for me. The part of Lady Wyverne, the English noblewoman, fits me perfectly, and in reading Robert Hichen's description of the young lady I almost thought he was painting my own picture, even to the color of my hair. I hope I have done the part full justice and that the public will enjoy seeing this characterization to as great an extent as I did in portraying it."

SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND

To the Friends of the Blind in Canada:

In view of the recent terrible explosion in Halifax, and the number of persons who have become totally or practically blind as a result of the same, the several organizations in Halifax for the care and training of the blind find themselves almost overwhelmed in meeting the new conditions which have arisen. Even before the disaster the resources of the Halifax School for the Blind, the Home Teaching Society for the Blind, the Maritime Association for the Blind, etc., found it almost impossible with their limited resources to meet the demands upon them, but these demands have been suddenly increased by the necessity for providing shelter, care and training for upwards of two hundred men, women and children who lost their sight as a result of the recent disaster. Under these cimcumstances it is imperative that an appeal be made to all sympathetic and public spirited Canadians. The best and most effective way of making provision for these sightless people is to immediately increase the Blind Endowment Fund so that it may reach a total of $500,000. The income arising from such an endowment fund will enable us to meet the problems of the blind in Halifax in a systematic and practical manner, and we bring to many a one now helpless and hopeless new opportunities to fit himself or herself for the battle of life. No greater need to help the blind has ever arisen in any part of the world and I believe that when the people of Canada fully appreciate the situation generous help will be forthcoming.

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, cleanse little bowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

THE HIGHWAY OF HOPE

Kathlyn Williams, the brilliant Morosco-Paramount star, will be seen at the Isis theatre on Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 11 and 12, in a picturization of Willard Mack's thrilling story, "The Highway of Hope."

Miss Williams is introduced in the picture in a most unique and novel manner. At first all that is seen is a wooden stairway, then a cascade of water pours down the steps; this is followed by feet clad in heavy shoes, and gradually, scrubbing down step after step, Miss Williams appears. Her usually beautiful hair hangs in coarse strands about her face and down over her torn gingham dress. Later in the picture, after months of privation on the desert, Miss Williams is seen handsomely gowned and a capable business woman. Her wonderful transition from a drudge in a mining camp saloon to a beautiful woman of modern society is considered one of the finest examples of character portrayal ever seen on the screen. In the cast supporting Miss Williams and Mr. Peters are included Jim Farley and Harry de Vere.

COALLESS DAYS

A very considerable and important portion of the Dominion has been brought under special fuel regulation by the Dominion fuel controller. Three fuelless days and a succession of fuel less Mondays have been ordered for Ontario and Quebec provinces, where most of the fuel shortage has occurred during the present winter.

After the United States heatless day order there is nothing very drastic in the Canadian regulation. Very sensibly manufacturers of the east are accepting the imposed conditions with good grace, and there is not likely to be any serious protest. The fuel situation for weeks past in eastern towns and cities has been such as has impressed upon everyone the need for some drastic action, and if there has been any criticism it is that action was not taken sooner.

It is only reasonable that Western Canada should be exempted from the fuelless day order. Manufacturing in this part of the Dominion is not extensive enough to prove a factor in the fuel situation, besides which there has never been any really serious shortage of fuel on the prairies or in the coast province. We have our own fields of supply and when the railways and miners permit, use them.

Aside from the direct benefit which is expected to result from this new regulation in the east it is to be hoped the experience will serve as an object lesson to governments and peoples of the two provinces affected. Dependent as they are upon United States mines for their supplies of anthracite coal, their position is never secure. In the past it has been always subject to railway and coal strikes across the line, and now with national fuel scarcity in the States they are threatened with a complete failure of supply through possible embargo.

It is foolish to continue such an insecure arrangement for so important a commodity, especially when there are other and more secure sources of supply available within the Dominion. Development of peat resources in Ontario and Quebec and extension of the distribution field for Nova Scotia coal would make both of the coalless provinces independent of any foreign policy. It may be that soft coal is not as handy or pleasant to feed into house furnaces, but it is infinitely preferable to no fuel at all, and this is the situation that may face Ontarians and Quebeckers at any time under existing conditions.—Calgary Herald.

CLIP THIS AND PIN ON WIFE'S DRESSER

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns or calluses so they lift off with fingers.

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone, tell him to order a small bottle for you.

DOCTOR SAYS VINOL IS THE BEST TONIC

Honest Opinion Doctor Gave His Patient

Bedford, Ohio.—"I was in a pitiful condition, weak, nervous and run down so I could not do my housework. I had doctored for years and tried everything under the sun. A friend told me about Vinol. I asked my doctor about it, and he replied, 'It certainly is the best medicine that can be had today. I couldn't give you any better.' I took it, and today I am as well and strong as any woman could wish to be, and it was Vinol that saved me."—Mrs. Frank A. Horkey, Ash St., Bedford, Ohio.

What time-saving secret does this box hold?

WHY is it that this box of Gold Dust will save so much time in dishwashing? We'll whisper the answer:—

"Gold Dust dissolves the grease."

Proof? Wash some greasy dishes with Gold Dust. Notice how quickly Gold Dust fairly slips the grease away. Notice the real time-saving.

But don't stop at saving dish-washing time with Gold Dust. Scrub the floor with Gold Dust and save time. Dissolve grease from pots and pans with Gold Dust. Save time in washing woodwork—with Gold Dust. In fact, "Use Gold Dust for any kind of dirt that you can't brush up or sweep off."

But remember this: To get Gold Dust results be sure it is Gold Dust you really get.

A MOMENTUOUS FACT

If the Russian democracy have decided to abandon the struggle against military autocracy, the American democracy are taking it up. This, in the Prime Minister's phrase, is the most momentuous fact of the year. It is the substitution of a highly skilled, scientifically organized, and enlightened nation, for one, which though great hearted and valiant, has always been the worst organized state in Europe. But America is not yet ready for the fight, and meantime the ring must be held in the main by Great Britain. The Central Powers will do all they can to force a decision before the great American army can be trained and transported to Europe. — The Scotsman.

REPREHENSIBLE

(From the New York Times))

There is absolutely no foundation for the statement made by the Washington correspondent of the London Times that there is in this country "profound uneasiness in respect to Irish affairs." His dispatch is a fabric of misrepresentations; the correspondent had been grossly deceived by some persons bent upon mischief.

His assertion that "most disastrous consequences would inevitably follow the collapse of the Irish convention and failure of the British government to apply to Ireland principles which both Lloyd George and Mr. Wilson have declared essential to the future happiness of mankind" is capped with the specification "that no power on earth can prevent an immediate outburst of feeling here which will not only very greatly hamper Mr. Wilson, but will have great effect upon America's participation in the war." This is wild work for one who should aim faithfully to present existing public opinion.

The people of this country have a natural sympathy with the misfortunes of Ireland, they would be glad to see the Irish happy, but they are well aware of the almost insoluable difficulties the Irish question presents to the British government, and they have no desire to proffer impertinent advice, much less no intention to let their participation in the war be conditioned upon the determination of that question. Speeches about Ireland may be made in Congress, and candidates for re-election to that body may appeal to the Irish sentiment in their constituencies next fall —that has been the way of our politicians for a generation. But the Irish question is not dominant in our politics or in our thoughts. There is a Sinn Fein element here, it is very active, we judge that it has been adroit in getting its view before the British public. But the great mass of the American people have other things to think about than Ireland. Was the censor asleep when this reprehensible dispatch was filed at the cable office? It is a false picture of American public opinion and manifestly intended to stir up discord helpful to the enemy.

Granny's Talk to Young Mothers

"Granny" Chamberlain

"Few young mothers realize the extent to which a cold lowers the system and makes it susceptible to disease. The majority of diseases arise from germs, but it is not widely known that a healthy system will repel their attacks.

Mothers should never allow a cold to run for 24 hours without attention. If this is made a rule there will be less sickness for young mothers to worry over. A good reliable medicine for coughs, colds, croup and bronchitis should always be kept in the home. You may say that you have no confidence in cough medicines, but that is because you have never tried the medicine that is thoroughly reliable and has stood the test of half a century. There is nothing in it unsuitable for even the baby.

A LABOR PARTY

Mr. J. H. Hawthornthwaite uttered a truism when he said that the Socialist party of Canada is not suited to this country and does not fulfil its functions. He urged at a Labor convention in Vancouver that a new Labor political party should be formed but one which covers a wide sphere and is not confined to any particular class. A new political party is coming into existence but we note among the names of the committee of organization some of the old time Socialists whose lack of political strength in the community has been exposed time and again. More than once we urged the Labor Party, when it developed aspirations for political office, to divorce itself from those who are sure to bring about its defeat. We know that is not an easy task for those alluded to have been staunch members of their different organizations, and assiduous workers but whatever good they have accomplished is lost sight of when they run for office. It is perfectly obvious that in matters political they do not enjoy the confidence of the vast majority of the workingmen and gain little or no support from any other class of the community.

Probably Mr. Hawthornthwaite realizes this as well as anyone, but he is powerless to press his views on an organization such as the B. C. Federation of Labor, which has among its officials a considerable body of Socialists of the type we mentioned. We do not believe Mr. Hawthornthwaite agrees with the destructive theories which are advanced by these from time to time. On the contrary we gather from his labor policy as enunciated when he was a candidate in the recent Newcastle by-election that he has constructive ideas which are certainly worthy of consideration. Possibly the new party, considering the aegis under which it has been launched, will be of short duration and will give way to a true Labor party made up of all workingmen in the country, both organized and unorganized. In any platform Labor puts before the people it has got to remember that if it wishes to secure power by representation in our parliaments it must cater to the unorganized workers of the Dominion, who constitute at least ninety per cent of the population that comes under the title of Labor. What we have contended all along is that Labor will come into its own when it divorces from its tenets class hatred and evolves a scheme of government which will meet the requirements of the many shades of opinion held among those in this and every country. Labor's handicap at present is that it wants to achieve the impossible task of making all think alike. —Colonist.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a small bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get relief in five minutes by neutralizing acidity. Put an end to such stomach distress now by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by food fermentation due to excessive acid in stomach.

ELKO NOTES

(By Fred Roo))

There's a smear upon our shirt front,
And a smudge upon our ear;
We've been cleaning all the stove pipes
For the blooming winds are here.

—Charles Kay in the Elko Bladder.

Without wishing to start anything unpleasant, it may be asked: How long is that Morrissey internment joke going to run, and when will the next commission on Mulligan Stews be touring through the province at the taxpayers' expense.

The presence of a hypocrite is a sure indication that there is a Bible and a Prayer Book not very far away.

The Elk Hotel is under new management and is going to do the business of the town. There's big business for the right man.

A. J. Carter, engineer, Eli Cooper, mill foreman, and Frank Scott, bush foreman, for the Downs Lumber Co., Red Canyon Creek, Roosville Valley, were in town this week.

Jim Sheirlock, who represents the Saskatchewan Meat Trust, was in Elko last week telling stories that would bring the blush to the face of a mahogany table, and handled them as cool as a slab of salmon in a butcher shop.

J. Broley, of the Sunkist Orchards, Roosville, returned from Winnipeg this week looking as rosy as the rosiets apple in the whole orchard.

Miss E. May Roo, of Elko, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood, Flagstone, several days last week.

The Patriotic dance in the Roosville school house last Saturday night was well attended and a big social and financial success. The Kalispell Bush League String Band supplied the music and the Jack Rabbit Luncheon was greatly enjoyed by the visitors.

The Rainbow Creek Lumber Co., one mile north of the Roosville Post Office, expects to start running this week.

Mr. Cassidy, from Grand Prairie, B.C., was in Elko last week visiting friends. His optimism reminds you of mother's doughnuts. He said in all his travels the only place that had anything on Grand Prairie country was the Roosville Valley.

Fred Roo was notified by wire that he had been selected Chairman for Elko for the Food Conservation, production and elimination of waste, etc.

O. C. Thompson, manager of the Burton Mine Co., left for Calgary on Saturday to attend a directors' meeting.

Jim Thistlebeak says a woman simply has to love something, even if it is nothing but a man.

A. E. Ingham, the Sheep Mountain rancher and mining man met with a serious accident while splitting wood. A knot of wood hit him in the left eye, and when examined by a Fernie medical man he was advised to take the first train to Spokane to consult an eye specialist, and he left on Monday morning for that point, accompanied by Mrs. Ingham.

Johnny Palmer, of Krag, and well known throughout the district, writes to Jim Thistlebeak, Elko, a very optimistic letter from somewhere in France. He says while it is dry in B. C. it is awful wet out there and that the Hindenburg line is already looking lonely and friendless and will be knocked higher than Gilroy's barn and broken up with centimeter punches that will make it disappear like a Kootenay river fog before long. He wishes to be remembered to all his friends and what few enemies he might have. He says London is a live shop to spend a vacation in but the Whitechapel Cockney is as hard to understand as a B.C. Siwash. They always seem to have their mouths full of carrots when they say anything but great entertainers and fighters, as the editor said, I don't want any reporter around this office who never makes a mistake. A man that never made a mistake never made anything, says Jim Thistlebeak.

RE LETTERS TO ENEMY COUNTRIES

Up to the present it has been permissible to send letters destined for persons in an enemy country or a country in the occupation of the enemy subject to censorship through the medium of an intermediary in a neutral country. An arrangement has now been made whereby such correspondence can be forwarded through the medium of Messrs. Thos. Cook & Son, 530 St. Catherine St., W., Montreal in connection with the authority received by their London House from the British government to undertake the transmission of such correspondence.

The letters to be forwarded must relate only to private news and must not contain any reference to military or naval movements, to political and economic conditions or the like. The letter should be enclosed in an envelope legibly addressed to its ultimate destination, and must be left open in accordance with the censorship regulations of enemy countries. This should then be placed in another envelope addressed to Thos. Cook & Son, 530 St. Catharines St., Montreal, together with a slip bearing legibly written, the name of the sender and also a postal note for 25c to cover the charges. This amount covers the expense of transmitting the letter to a neutral country, from thence to an enemy country and the reply. There are certain towns to which on account of restrictions imposed by the enemy they cannot forward correspondence and in other cases they are only able to transmit the letter without making arrangements for the reply.

Letters addressed to enemy and enemy occupied territory can only be sent in this manner and any which are being forwarded through other than this authorized channel will be returned to the sender. This does not affect in any way correspondence addressed to Prisoners of War in enemy or enemy occupied territory which is to be forwarded in accordance with the Prisoners of War regulations.

WILL WOOD FUEL TAKE THE PLACE OF COAL?

During the current season the unfortunate dependence of Canada on the United States for its supplies of coal has been brought into vivid prominence, and as a result there has been much searching for possible substitutes. Naturally, wood was one of the substitutes to attract attention. The fuel value of good hardwood compares unfavorably with anthracite coal, a pound of such coal being equal to approximately two pounds of hardwood. For this reason, in markets that are far removed from sources of supply, wood is more expensive than anthracite, so long as the prices and available supplies remain as now.

The southern portions of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta have no large supplies of wood. Up to a few years ago wood, cut locally, was used to some extent, but with the gradual exhaustion of these supplies the demand for coal is increasing yearly. The cord wood used in the prairie provinces comes from the Rainy river district of Ontario, south eastern Manitoba, the western shores of Lake Winnipeg and Manitoba, the Riding Mountains, the vicinity of Prince Albert, the Kootenay district of British Columbia and Minnesota.

These sources of supply are at a considerable distance from the centres of population, and as cord wood is bulky the long freight haul to market largely increases the price. Even in certain of the areas mentioned supplies of cord wood are becoming exhausted, and it is evident that under present conditions of transportation there is no likelihood of its being used to any greater extent than at present.

—Rossland Miner.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Cure Sick Headache, Constipation, Billiousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath—Candy Cathartic.

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches, how miserable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish bowels—you always get relief with Cascarets. They immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet and head clear for months. They work while you sleep.

POLICE FORCE RAID HOTELS

At the council chamber on Monday evening the regular police commissioners meeting was held, on which occasion His Worship the Mayor and Commissioner Dudley were in attendance, Rev. Carr being absent from the city on a tour of the province. After disposing of the minutes of the two previous special meetings the first business considered was that of the new curfew bylaw, which is necessary in order to comply with the Municipal Clauses Act, the old one now being obselete and unworkable. The principal features of the new bylaw are that children of fifteen years and under, if on the streets after 9.15 p.m., fifteen minutes after the ringing of the curfew bell, they are liable to be warned by the police and after, if this first warning is not obeyed, then they may be taken home by a constable and the verbal warning repeated to the parent or guardian. This notice upon the parent may also be submitted in writing after which upon failure to observe the regulation, the said parent or guardian becomes liable to be summonsed before the magistrate and upon conviction fined $1.00 without costs; for the second offence $2.00, and the third offence $5.00. Under the old by-law the parent could not be penalized, it only covering the party guilty of the offence, namely, the child, and accordingly unworkable.

Samples of license tags for the newsboys and also of probation cards were received but decision regarding these matters was left temporarily in abeyance.

Asked if he had anything to report, Chief Brown stated he had no special report to make to the commissioners. The new member of the force was giving satisfaction and the general conduct in the city was good. Only three drunks had been arrested during the interim between meetings.

The Mayor then took up the matter of the recent search of the hotels and questioned the Chief closely regarding his movements. The Chief explained that he, accompanied by Provincial Constable Boardman, Chief Welsby and Constable and Killiam, and Provincial Constable McNeill and City Constable Dooley comprised the squads that simultaneously conducted the searches. He, the Chief, and Constable Boardman, searched the Roma, Queen's and King Edward hotels. Regarding the searches elsewhere he did not have first hand knowledge of how they were conducted.

Commissioner Dudley said he was under the impression that there had been a leak at the time a previous raid was to have been made. He also claimed to have knowledge that one of the hotels was "Dishing out whiskey fifteen minutes after the search, while another had a jug, as usual, behind the bar and dumped the contents down the sink as soon as the men came in."

Regarding the fact that the search was confined only to the basements and various public quarters in the hotels, Commissioner Dudley satirically stated those were positively the only places that supplies of liquor would not be found. The Mayor immediately took the responsibility for this, stating that he personally had issued instructions that the private apartments of the guests were not to be entered. He admitted his action was open to criticism but contended that he felt positive that there were guests in hotels and public buildings who had been in the habit of keeping liquor for their personal use in these, their only homes, for the past ten or twenty years, which practice could not be expected to be abruptly terminated, and moreover, on this occasion it was not these parties who were sought but only those who were engaged in illicit sale. However, the guests would now undoubtedly understand the risk they were running and refrain from contravening the law in future or suffer the consequences.

Commissioner Dudley agreed it was only the large stocks they were anxious to locate, but it would only be in the semi-private portions of the hotels this would be found. The whole trend of this discussion very emphatically indicated that the commissioners are unanimous in their determination to entirely suppress the indiscriminate illicit sale.

The annual estimates as presented by Chief Brown were gone into at some length. The total estimated expenditure for the current year amounts to $6,790, which is some $1300 in excess of the expenditure of last year. This increase is accounted for by increased salaries of the force and unavoidable repairs to the city gaol. Subdivided into three police departments this year's estimates are: Police expense, $5,162; gaol maintainence $1528; police court expenses, $1285.

Commissioner Dudley inquired regarding a quantity of confiscated beer at present stored in the gaol and was informed that no disposition of this as yet had been contemplated. The suggestion was thereupon advanced by the Mayor that the commissioners personally undertake the consumption of this, but in order that there may be a unanimous decision it was decided to await the return of the Rev. Carr.

VALENTINE BALL

A very enjoyable event took place on Thursday evening, when the Misses Todd and Winnett and Messrs. Meade and Winnett entertained about sixty of their friends to a Valentine ball. The hall was artistically decorated for the occasion, while the program and music were of the best. A splendid supper was served and dancing continued until the early hours of the morning. All present voted it the best time that has ever been spent in Fernie.

MILLS OF THE GODS GRINDING

Judging from the following list of police court convictions, the police of the city are not letting much slip through their grasp.

Frank Martin, for having liquor in his possession, fined $50 or 40 days.

Frank Martin, drunk and disorderly, $21 or 2 months.

William Johnson, drunk and disorderly, $21 or 40 days.

Dawson Benedict, drunk and disorderly, $31 or two months.

James Boutlier, rape, committed for trial.

Hugh McKinnon, drunk and disorderly, $31 or two months.

Ole Oleson, drunk and disorderly, $31 or two months.

Wm. Mills, having liquor on his hotel premises, $77 or three months.

George Lakusta, fined $100 or four months in jail, under the Alien Enemy Act.

ANNUAL REPORT OF I. O. D. E.

Officers for 1917—

Regent—Mrs. G. G. Moffatt.

1st Vice-President — Mrs. E. K. Stewart.

Second Vice-President — Mrs. J. R. Wallace.

Secretary—Mrs. A. B. Trites.

Echoes Secretary — Mrs. R. W. Wood.

Treasurer—Mrs. F. Johnson.

Standard Bearer—Miss Olive Brown

Councillors—Mesdames A. I. Fisher, R. Hewat, W. R. Wilson, H. J. Johnson, F. C. Lawe, J. Barber.

I beg to submit the sixth annual report, and am glad to be able to say that the work accomplished during the year has greatly exceeded our expectations.

During the year nine regular, four special and six executive meetings have been held.

We are sorry to say that in the passing away of Mrs. W. Lancaster the Chapter lost a valued member.

At present there is a membership of 62.

In February a donation of $5 was sent to the National Treasurer, Mrs. John Bruce, for the British Sailors' Relief.

A monthly subscription of $5.00 is given to the Y.M.C.A. for their Overseas Fund.

During the year $365.63 has been sent to Mrs. Rivers Bulkeley to pay for parcels for prisoners from this district, and a monthly subscription of $4 is also sent to Miss C. D. Pelly for the Prisoners of War Fund, making a total of $413.63 for Prisoners of War. Many subscribe each month to this fund, among them being Mrs. F. C. White.

We were exceptionally fortunate that our Regent, Mrs. G. G. Moffatt, was willing, at her own expense, to represent the Chapter at the Annual Meeting of the National Chapter at Victoria in May, and gave the Chapter a most excellent report of the work accomplished at that meeting, and it has been the means of linking the Chapter more closely to the Provincial and National Chapter, and has made us realize what a privilege it is to be even a small part of such a splendid organization.

During Chautaqua week, in August, Mrs. A. I. Fisher entertained the members of the Chapter at a garden party given in honor of Miss Ada L. Ward, and many who had not heard her lecture, "Stories from the Trenches," had an opportunity of hearing of her experiences in the war zone.

By a sale of refreshments and other supplies on Labor Day, $248.98 was realized. Of this amount $52.25 was made in raffling a 7 lb. fruit cake, which had been donated by Mrs. Howard Marshall. The fortunate winner of the cake sent it to her son, who is a soldier in France.

In September, Capt. Henshaw gave a very interesting and instructive illustrated lecture on "The Fields of France, from which $42.60 was netted at Fernie and $28.30 by the East Kootenay Chapter at Waldo. At Capt. Henshaw's request the money was sent to No. 7 Stationary Hospital in France.

On October 11th, Mrs. A. H. Macneil spoke in the interest of Junior Chapter work and school libraries and afterwardskindly consented to represent the Chapter at the Provincial meeting at New Westminster in October.

632.50 was collected for the British Red Cross Appeal. A Tag Day was organized for this but a large part of the amount was obtained by making a weekly appeal through the Fernie Free Press, which paper has always gratuitiously offered their services and has helped to promote an interest in Red Cross work.

The work room has been kept open Tuesday and Thursday afternoons each week and as a result of canvassing for workers at the beginning of the year, the workroom has been well filled and a large amount of work is also done in the homes. Work is also given out to the school children on Tuesdays and Thursdays and the interest among them is very great. On Tuesday and Saturday evenings many girls and young ladies meet at the workroom to knit and sew and the result of our combined efforts has been shown by the enormous amount of supplies which have been shipped to the Red Cross, to the Canadian War Contingent and to men in the trenches and hospitals.

During the year:

110 property bags.
479 filled comfort bags.
212 socks.
1007 pyjamas.
34 dressing gowns.
468 vermin suits.
591 sheets.
2376 pillow cases.
1537 towels.
1488 wash cloths.
360 T bandages.
720 many tail bandages.
108 abdominal bandages.
1273 handkerchiefs.
192 pair slippers
208 miscellaneous articles.
1 case stretcher caps.

1300 yards gauze and 2 cases magazines have been sent to the Red Cross. 1914 pairs socks and 450 knitted caps have been sent to the Canadian War Contingent or direct to the men who are in France, which includes 300 pairs filled Xmas socks and 82 parcels of knitted comfort mailed by Mrs. W. R. Wilson.

Several Christmas parcels were also sent to men at Blairmore, and one case containing night shirts, property bags, pyjamas, handkerchiefs, fomentation wringers, cup covers and mouth wipes, was sent to the Military Hospital at Balfour.

At the Sock Shower on Nov. 18, $485.25 and 408 pairs of socks and other supplies were donated by a generous public, which enabled us not only to send 300 pairs of filled Xmas socks valued at $3 per pair, but also 108 pairs of unfilled socks to the Canadian War Contingent Association.

A committee attends to the sending of magazines and papers to the hospitals and to the Red Cross.

Owing to our agreement with the Patriotic Society being still in force we have not, to any extent, had to solicit funds, although during the last few months exceptions have had to be made. The Patriotic Society has continued to give us the monthly allowance of $300 which was promised, although unfortunately their collections have become much too small owing to many subscribers having discontinued their support. For this reason they were obliged to ask us hold a Tag Day for their benefit. The amounts collected were: Fernie, $177-.75; Michel, $140.75; Coal Creek, $115.85. If their present finances are not increased it will solve itself into the Chapter being obliged to revert to regular Tag Days and entertainments to raise funds.

With the money received from the Patriotic Society, the many donations made by generous friends and the assistance given by Michel, Natal, Waldo, Baynes, Flagstone, Newgate, Roosville, Elko, Jaffray and Bull River, we have been enabled to carry on the work, and thanks are especially due Mr. W. R. Wilson for many magnificent contributions.

As there were no collections boxes in the moving picture theatres it was decided to have boxes made and these have produced a small revenue each month.

During the year $5750 has been expended on Compassionate Fund, in caring for the soldiers' dependants.

In November the Victory Loan Committee asked the assistance of the Chapter in floating the Victory Loan and our members helped to advertise and stimulate an interest among the citizens. The money raised from the sale of the bonds exceeded all expectations, the sum of nearly $350,000 having been subscribed.

On Dec. 8th a Tag Day was held for the Navy League and $352.10 was collected.

The Chapter has donated $25.00 towards the Daughters of the Empire Home in Halifax for unclaimed children and a weekly appeal for this fund is still being made.

During the year several Patriotic dances have been catered for and on Feb. 12, the Great War Veterans Association are giving a dance under the auspices of our Chapter. The money will be used to provide a reading

U.M.W. OF A. CONVENTION

The 15th Annual Convention of District 18, United Mine Workers of America, will open in Miners Hall on Monday next, when there will be some thirty odd delegates in attendance from the various local unions in the district. The miners' annual convention upon this occasion will have been held in this city three consecutive years, and since the first occasion in 1916 the reason for the convention returning here has been attributed to the reception tendered them. It is hoped therefore that the citizens will give them an equally generous reception on this occasion and that the delegates will vote for the return of the convention here next year.

RATE WILL BE 38 MILLS

From eight o'clock last night until 1 o'clock this morning the city council earnestly considered the large volume of civic business which required their attention. They were all there, His Worship and his six colleagues, and there were very few idle moments during the whole five hour session.

In connection with the Workmen's Compensation Board there was a voluminous file concerning the payment of one cent per diem by the civic employees under the medical aid scheme approved by the Board. Some exception has been taken by some of the employees to making this additional payment on account of already contributing $1.50 per month for medical attendance, which includes themselves and families and sickness as well as accident, the payment of the Compensation Board covering only the event of accident to the employee while engaged by the city. The Board offered to cancel their present arrangement but upon the suggestion of the City Clerk it will remain in effect until April 1. Ald. Beck considered the local arrangement between the employees and doctors was a personal matter and of no concern to the council. This was the view taken by all and it was decided that the Act be complied with.

The communication to the Mayor from the Organizer of Food Conservation Committees, J. W. Gibson, of Victoria, was read. A. B. Trites has been appointed local chairman and the meeting announced in last week's issue will be held on Monday evening in the council chamber at 8 p.m.

A lengthy memorandum from the Secretary to the Minister of Militia regarding methods of dealing with correspondence concerning soldiers serving at the front with the Canadian forces was received and those who desire to communicate in this connection can see these instructions by calling at the city hall.

Gladstone Local Union wrote announcing the 15th annual convention of District 18, U.M.W. of A., would open here on Monday next and requested a small grant from the city for entertainment purposes of the delegates. $25 was appropriated and the Mayor and Ald. Jackson were authorized to attend the opening session and officially welcome the visitors.

The Curfew by-law, with the change of the age limit to 16 years and under was read a first, second and third time and finally passed. The matter of newsboys license and probation cards was left over until next council meeting.

A deputation from the I.O.D.E., consisting of Mrs. E. K. Stewart, as spokeswoman, Mrs. A. B. Trites and Mrs. R. Duthie, waited upon the council in the interest of the Great War Veterans Association, for whom it is proposed to establish a clubhouse or reading room. The Health and Relief Committee, consisting of His Worship and Ald. Jackson and Ald. Rutledge, were appointed to go fully into this question with a view to deciding the amount to be granted for this purpose by the city, if any.

Increases in salaries to the following civic employees upon application were authorized:

Fire Chief from $115 to $125 per month.

D. Harrison from $68 to 73.

James Blakeman from $84 to $95.

A. Davis from $3.25 per day to $3.50 per day.

The annual report of the city engineer was received and covered the work performed in detail. His Worship commended the city engineer for his complete report.

In connection with the case of Mrs. Hesketh, recently taken to New Westminster, the council authorized the city clerk to receive all cash and make all necessary disbursements in this matter and to open an account in the name of the husband on the city books. Ald. Jackson rendered a complete report regarding the care of the Hesketh children.

A case of relief to which the city has been donating $5 per month for some time, was considered and it was decided that steps be immediately taken to have the party admitted to the provincial home. Failing to consent to this arrangement his relief from the city will be discontinued.

The school board appeal to the council for some suggestion with regard to certain land adjacent to the Annex school which is being used for agricultural purposes and from which in the spring of the year disagreeable odors permeate and affect the ventilation of the school. The council considered that they could not interfere.

The school board estimates were received and amount to $22,449.13 for general expenses, with special estimates for new high school totalling $46,000, made up, $9,000 for purchase of school site, $30,000 for buildings and $7,000 for furniture and equipment.

The fire, water and light committee reported a new schedule of discounts on electric light, changing the rate from 15 to 40 per cent, based on the amount consumed to 10 to 35 per cent.

Another more or less important change was made with regard to water rates. These have been shown on the accounts sent out for electric light, the latter being for the past month, while the water was charged in advance and caused confusion. In future water will be charged in the same manner as electric light, namely, for the past month's consumption. This will mean that on the accounts sent out for the month of March no charges for water will appear, and commencing in April the accounts will show electric light and water for the month of March.

During the discussion in this connection Ald. Dicken pointed out that when water was charged in advance sometimes he had three and sometimes five head of horses. If he had five in January the charge for February was made for five, while he might have hired two or more to some outside point and he was required to make claim for refund for such overcharge made in February. Ald. Dudley, after repeating Ald. Dicken's statement in order to learn and was so advised, asked Ald. Dicken if he had understood him correctly if in the event of his being charged for three horses in February and then in March the number was increased to five, did he voluntarily report to the city clerk that he had not charged for the full amount consumed. The matter closed with the city clerk advising Ald. Dudley that it was surprising how many people did come and volunteer the information that they were not being charged enough.

The accounts as approved by the finance committee were authorized to be paid with practically no comment.

The owner of Lot 13, Block 18, was notified to remove the collapsed band stand forthwith as same is within the fire limits and has been condemned as a public nuisance.

The estimates for the current year were brought down, the following being the estimated expenditure:

School Sinking Fund and Interest, $4,688.09—2 5-10 mills.

School, General Expenses, $22,449.13. —11 6-10 mills.

City sinking fund and interest, $14,-060.34—9 mills.

General Expenses, $21,862.63 — 14 mills.

Total 37 1-10 mills.

All items were gone into at length but there does not appear to be one single department where the estimates can be reduced, and in fact the result of last night's deliberations was directly the opposite, as in some cases it was found absolutely necessary to increase the proposed estimates, so it is quite possible that when the final rate is struck it will be 38 mills or an increase of 9 mills over last year.

Arising out of the estimates for Health and Relief the question of the medical health officer's duties were apparently very vague to some of the aldermen. It was finally moved by Ald. Dicken, seconded by Ald. Jackson, that the medical health officer in future submit a monthly report to the council.

When considering the estimates of the works department it appeared that nearly all the council from the mayor down had received complaints regarding the conduct of some of the civic employees with reference to the amount of their time occupied on city business. The city engineer will convey to the various employees in his department that in the event of it being proved to the chairman of the respective committees under whose direction the branch of the service may come, that there is loitering and wasting of time while on duty, said employee will be summarily suspended.

Shortly before 1 a.m. the fatigued city fathers wearily wended their way —apparently homeward.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior

FRANCE STILL HAS FORMIDABLE ARMY

The Germans are supposed to have two and three-quarters million of fighting men now on the western front. But the French have as many.

This revelation by the editor of Le Matin, one of the leading Paris journals, will come as a surprise on this side of the Atlantic where the impression hitherto has been that France was becoming less and less a factor to be reckoned with in the offensive this spring.

The opposite is the truth. France is still a formidable military power. She has more men in the field now — 1,20,000 more—than she had in 1914 when she fought the Battle of the Marne. She is turning out shells and guns so rapidly that she can give the United States army of 250,000 men now in Europe all they require and still have some to spare. Since the war began the French parliament has voted $20,000,000,000,000 for war purposes and by far the greater part of this huge sum was subscribed by the French people.

These facts should give confidence to the pessimists. France is far from being "bled white." And when you add to her fighting power the greater power of the British Empire, you can see how the Allies look with confidence on the coming German stroke. —Vancouver World.

HAUL TOO MUCH RUBBISH

After the government of the United States has straightened out the railway tangle it may have time to tackle the problem of excessive ash in coal. It is reckoned that failure to remove at the mines a reasonable proportion of the slate and other refuse mixed with the coal as hoisted has involved the haulage by railways of over 32,000,000 tons of rubbish during the past year that lessened the heat producing power of the coal. Here in Toronto the excess of ash has crippled the scavenger service, which because of the scarcity of men and teams has been unable to move the ashes promptly.—Toronto Globe.

NEW WEALTH IN OUR NORTHERN RIVERS

Wilsonium, the rare radio-active element discovered and isolated last year by Roy Franklin Heath, of Billings, Montana, has been found in the heavy sand from the Yukon district and the Grand Canyon and Hell Gate of British Columbia.

The element was first discovered from Montana sand. It is also present in Idaho, Oregon, the Carolinas and Mexico.

Only two grams have been recovered and this at the great cost of over $25,000. Radium costs over $32,000 to recover a gram.

The chief use of Wilsonium is in medicine, and for chemical and experimental purposes. Dr. Henri Bonaparte has reported that he has cured a case of leprosy. The Wilsonium cure for cancer is now more successful than radium. In miners' consumption the results were more than successful.

The new element was named Wilonium in honor of the president of the United States.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a small bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its nutre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; then the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

A MORMON MAID AT THE ORPHEUM WED. AND THUR

Mormonism, as practiced by the disciples of Joseph Smith, who settled in Utah in the late forties, is the background of the production of "A Mormon Maid", in which Mae Murray is starred.

For the first time in the history of photodrama a vivid portrayal of Mormon life, as lived in those days, is pictured, from the flights westward of the caravans of Smith's followers to accurate picturization of their strange beliefs and customs that caused them to be "Persecuted," as they called it in practically every state in which they settled.

An insight into the practices of Mormonism is given in the pictures by means of scenes depicting the pursuit by one of the elders of the daughter of a pioneer who has come under the Mormon influence, after having been saved from massacre by the Indians. Marriages, under pressure of the council, and the system of spies that prevented enemies of the "Faith" from getting in and tale-bearers from escaping, are also pictured realistically.

AMERICA AROUSED

If the Kaiser and his war-lords had specially designed to speed up the energies and harden the resolution of our American allies against Germany they could have discovered no better method than the sinking of a troop ship full of American soldiers. Nothing that has yet happened, not even the Lusitania outrage, will rouse America like the torpedoing of the Tuscania. Already Uncle Sam has shown much of his characteristic vim and efficiency in preparation for the great conflict, and a promptitude of decision in matters affecting the daily life of the people in relation to the war that could well be copied by Canada. All that was needed to set the American spirit aflame, and concentrate its tremendous force against the common enemy of all free peoples, was such a shock of war's stern realities as it has now received.

Another great good at the heart of the tragedy will be the tightening of the bond already growing strong between the hearts of America and Britain. Common suffering brings common sympathy and understanding. The American soldiers who have been rescued will also have a real opportunity of proving the warmth of Ulster hospitality, and learning some things which will be of great benefit in the difficult days of reconstruction in Irish affairs after the war. — The Western Witness.

My Best Friend

Is a mother who has once used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, for she makes a point of telling other mothers about it, and they pass the news around. This has made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a household favorite through the world.

Just ask some mother who has used it what she thinks of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy—She will tell you that it enables her to get her children through the winter without serious illness from coughs, colds or croup.

"Granny" Chamberlain

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

She will tell you that it is as thoroughly reliable for the youngest child as for the oldest members of the family. You can give it to the baby, the children going to school, or take it yourself, always with the same result—a quick relief.

A Ford Car Takes the Place of All These Things

WHEN you own a Ford you can do away with many articles that are a source of continuous expense to the man who still drives a horse. For instance, not only your driving-horse and buggy, but the single harness, blankets, whips, currycombs, brushes, horse-shoes, pitch-forks, feed-bins, etc.

In their place you have a speedy, dependable, dignified, roomy Ford Car—complete in itself. It is vastly superior to the narrow, cramped buggy that travels so slowly. And when a Ford is standing idle it does not eat three meals a day, and it requires no "looking after."

A Ford will save you time, trouble, and money. It is the utility car for the busy farmer and his family.

WONDERFUL STUFF! LIFT OUT YOUR CORNS

Apply a few drops then lift corns or calluses off with fingers—no pain.

No humbug! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness.

This drug is called freezone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This drug freezone doesn't eat out the corns or calluses but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist don't have freezone have him order it for you.

The Highest Class Talking Machine in the World

Sonora

THE marvelous growth of Sonora (1917 sales 100 times those of 1913) is due solely to intrinsic value.

A phonograph merely "as good" or "slightly better" could never have achieved such results in the face of the vigorous competition and extensive publicity of older established machines.

If you want "The Highest Class Talking Machine in the World" you must buy the Sonora.

Prices

$65, $110, $150, $205, $240, $280, $350, $500, $1,500.

SOUR, ACID STOMACHS, GASES OR INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" neutralizes excessive acid in stomach, relieving dyspepsia, heartburn and distress at once.

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress, due to acidity, will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest stomach sweetener in the whole world, and besides it is harmless. Put an end to stomach distress at once by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by fermentation due to excessive acids in stomach.

BEEFLESS, PORKLESS DAYS ARE CHANGED

Ottawa, Feb. 12. — The food controller's regulation in respect to the serving of beef and bacon in public eating places have been amended, making Wednesday and Friday of each week Canada's beefless and porkless days instead of Tuesdays and Friday, as heretofore. The change is effective on and after tomorrow, the Ash Wednesday beginning the Lenten period. The new regulations extend their regulations on the use of bacon and pork of all kinds so that tomorrow (Wednesday) will be the first beefless and porkless Wednesday throughout the Dominion.

Under the amended regulations, beef must not be served at more than one meal on any day, while its use on Wednesday and Friday is absolutely prohibited. Similarly pork must not be served at more than one meal on any day and on Wednesdays and Fridays must not be served at any time.

Henceforth no proprietor of a public eating place can avoid serving corn bread, oat cakes or similar substitutes for white bread under the contention that potatoes are recognized as a substitute in the food controller's regulations. To avoid this difficulty, the word potatoes has been definitely eliminated from the enumerated substitutes and in future some substitute must be served at every meal at which white bread is served.—Nelson News.

Mrs. Capt. Urquhart met with a sad when she fell and broke her wrist and dislocated her elbow.

Mrs. James Kerr received word today that her son, R. C. Kerr, of the Engineers, in France, had been gassed by a shell.

B. L. Simmons, of Toronto, insurance inspector for the C. N. railway, is the guest of his brother, Dr. Simmons, for a few days.

There will be a meeting of the Amalgamated Patriotic Fund executive in the council chamber at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 19. All members please attend.

A Year Book will very shortly be issued by the I.O.D.E., in order to make up a good report for this publication, all members of Mt. Fernie Chapter are requested to hand in their dues at the very earliest possible date. accident the first part of the week

On Saturday night last the fire department was called out to the residence of Mr. Haydock, which was totally destroyed. As it was located out of the city limits the firemen had to lay 1200 feet of hose to reach the building. $500 insurance was carried on the house.

The dance given by the Great War Veterans' Association on Tuesday evening was a success from every point of view. From the size of the crowd it seems that Fernie should have a larger hall. Everybody enjoyed themselves and the returned veterans netted a neat sum towards their reading room fund.

When everybody gets together and works there is bound to be a success in the thing undertaken. So it was with the Valentine Bazaar given on Wednesday evening by the Progressive class of the Baptist church. The girls of this class are from 13 to 17 years of age and have done very well indeed. Every article was sold and the girls' trueasury is now richer by $30.

THE WINNIPEG SPIEL

The local rink at the Winnipeg bonspiel is making good progress. Out of eight games played they have won 5 and lost three. They are still in the running in four competitions. If their luck stays with them Fernie may yet see a Winnipeg cup.

CITY HOCKEY LEAGUE

After two weeks of delay owing to soft ice, the hockey league games are in full swing again. On Wednesday the Commercials were defeated by the High School by a score of 3—1. This makes it a little more cheerful for the rest of the teams as the Coms were far in the lead.

On Thursday night the Knights of Gladness met the Bankers in a fast and clean game which resulted in a tie. Score 8—8. This leaves two tie games for the Knights to play. They have been in the cellar all season but are now beginning to brace up and next game will see them with something to their credit—maybe.

The Fernie Midgets went to Waldo on Sunday last and put up a good game against the Waldo kids. The score was 1—1. If arrangements can be made the Waldo boys will play the local kids on Monday night at the Fernie rink.

LETTERS OF APPRECIATION

Mrs. T. Beck has received the following letters from France:

Dear Madam—I take pleasure in writing to you thanking you for your kindness in sending socks and other things, which I was very pleased to receive, as gifts of this nature show that there is still someone back home who thinks of the boys in France.

Thanking you very much, I remain,
Yours sincerely,
Pte. J. Allcroft, 54th Batt.

My Dear Friend—I am writing in response to the little card enclosed in a little parcel I received as a Christmas gift from Fernie. I thank you very much, also convey my thanks to Mt. Fernie Chapter, I.O.D.E., for the little gifts come in very handy and are appeciated by the boys—the socks especially, snow and rain being the weather conditions now.

I left Fernie over two years ago and a line from the old burg looks good to me. We have still four Fernie boys left in the bugle band, namely, two Brothers Sheridan, George Lynn and myself.

Bugler George A. Mitchell.

ROD AND GUN

"The Condition of the Fur Seals To-day" by Bonnycastle Dale; "His First Duck," by F. V. Williams; "The Civilizing of Split Rock" by M. A. Shaw; "Injun Devil" by H. A. Sturtzel; "A Toilet Set For the Camper" by E. G. Brewer; "The Old Time River Brigade" by R. J. Fraser; "Wandering Trails" by H. C. Haddon; "A Hunt with New Brunswick Guides"; these are some of the stories and articles that go to make up the mid-winter number of Rod and Gun in Canada, published at Woodstock, Ont., by W. J. Taylor Limited. In addition to the above their February number contains under the heading of "Guns and Ammunition" two fine articles by expert gunmen, namely Thomas K. Lee and Major Townsend Whelen. Mr. Lee is described by the editor of this department as "undoubtedly the finest target shot with the .22 rifle that has ever lived" and his article on Repeating and Single Shot Rifles will be read with great interest by gunmen.

DOUKHOBORS MAY GO BACK TO RUSSIA

That the Doukhobors of Canada — officially known at the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood Doukhobors — have in contemplation the removal of all members of their several communities in Canada back to their native country in Russia, was the statement of Peter Veregin, leader of the Doukhobors in Canada, in an interview with the Grand Forks Gazette while in Grand Forks the other day. The statement was made through an interpreter, John Zebroff, one of the executive members of the local colony, in reply to a query.

Mr. Veregin pointed out that there was still a large number of Doukhobors in Russia and it was desired to bring them and the Doukhobors in Canada together either in this country or over there. He said the Socialistic government now in power in Russia was in line with the ideals of the Doukhobors and has had a considerable bearing in bringing about the probability of those here returning to their native land. No decision has been arrived at, however, and in any event would not be put into effect until after the war, said Mr. Veregin. Asked as to the disposal of their property in the Dominion, the Doukhobor chieftain said that nothing had been done about it as yet, but pointed out that all their property was now in good saleable condition.

The Doukhobors came to Canada in 1899 and first took up settlement in Saskatchewan. In 1909 communities were founded in British Columbia. It is estimated that there are about 10,000 of the sect in the various communities in Saskatchewan and British Columbia with holdings valued at several million dollars.

News that Doukhobors will probably leave the country will be regarded as news too good to be true. While it cannot be denied that the sect are not without good qualities and have performed a service in bringing under cultivation many districts that might have remained idle the conditions under which they exist make them more or less of a menace to the Canadian population which has them for neighbors. There is no possibility of assimilation and a problem is created for many years to come at least.

A suggestion that Federal or Provincial governments might with wisdom acquire the Doukhobor holdings in British Columbia for settlement of returned soldiers is one which has many features to commend it.—Grand Forks Gazette.

WHO IS YOUR NEIGHBOR ?

A theme that wll have a universal appeal is found in "Doube-Crossed," a Paramount Picture starring Pauline Frederick, which will be shown at the Isis theatre on Friday (tonight) and Saturday. This is the fact that not one of us really knows all about the persons nearest to us in daily life. For instance, in "Double-Crossed," a devoted young wife learns for the first time of a youthful slip on the part of her husband whom she adored and whom she had unconsciously placed upon a pedestal too high for any man. What happened when she found out his crime and how a new and deeper understanding was brought about between them, is pictured by Miss Frederick with all the wonderful artistry of which she is capable.

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

TYRRANY IN RUSSIA

Mad republicanism may be just as tyrannical as Czarism. The former government of Russia was unjust and clumsy, but in comparison with the Bolshevik administration it was element and efficient. In practice, the Bolshevik is just as dependent upon force as the Czar was. In the abolition of law he makes justice impossible. No one in Petrograd has rights today. There is no distinction between honest men and thieves. Murderers may be members of a Soviet. Property is practically abolished. The city has become a burglars' heaven—until the burglars discover that there is no security in their plunder. Petrograd and Moscow have reverted to the Social order of the stone age, when the tsrongest man was the only property holder.

The Bolsheviki have an unending quarrel with the bourgeoisie. In their opinion no "middle-class" person is worthy of the least consideration. The Ukranian representative assembly appointed delegates to the Brest-Litovsk peace conference. The Trotzky-Lenine government refused to recognize these men, and replaced them with a number of Ukranian Soivet members—in all probability wholly incompetent—solely because the official delegates were from the so-called middle classes. It has been enacted in Petrograd that no family may occupy more than four rooms. Surely this is as much a tyranny as the Czar's edict that a revolutionist should live in one room—in a fortress, or in Siberia. Indeed the advantage was with the Czar since the revolutionist was often a criminal and a public danger.

If property is not inviolable, if the government is not concerned to maintain the rights of ownership, and the sanctity of human life, then the only result can be chaos, starvation, and homicide. Since ordered government began on earth it has been recognized that the "middle-class" should have a stabalizing role in every free nation. This must be so even when the wage earners secure the increasing governmental authority to which they are surely entitled. It must be especially so in a country which is 80 per cent illeterate. Because of the peculiar hatred of the ignorant Russian peasants and workmen towards the bourgeoisie it seems clear that the day of true liberty is still afar off. The people are in far worse condition than if Germany had conquered the country and established brutal Kultur of militarism throughout the provinces. — Toronto News.

ORIENTAL LABOR ON THE FARM

B. C. Fruit and Farm: The Fruit Growers in session at Victoria in January went on record in favor of the importation of Oriental labor to make possible the proper handling of the crop of 1918.

This whole question will shortly confront the Canadian people, for the problems which are vexing our growers apply with equal force to the prairie rancher and the eastern farmer. There is no permanent place for the Oriental in the landed holdings of British Columbia. The abuses following Chinese land ownership in the dry belt are too well known to require enumeration. How to avoid this danger, by the indenture system or otherwise, and yet obviate the danger of a servile class in this province, will be the task of our public men if the request is granted.

The Fruit Growers themselves recognize the serious problem involved and ask that this relief be afforded them only under conditions which will safeguard the future of this country. But relief they feel they must have.

India's Aid To Britain

In man-power India's contribution is estimated at 1,100,000 men. These figures were given at a recent meeting of the Indian legislative council at Delhi. Her money contribution to England during the war approximates $1,000,000,000. India has furnished aid also in the form of equipment and labor.

WALLACE REID'S LATEST "STUNT"

Wallace Reid, the ever popular Paramount star, who will be seen at the Isis theatre on Monday and Tuesday in "The Hostage," has accomplished nearly everything possible in the line of "stunts," fights, etc., except being tortured by fire; and this is what is done to him in "The Hostage."

The scenes were taken the day after Mr. Reid had been severely sunburned and, according to his own statement, no great call upon his artistic ability to depict the pain was necessary, for every moment was the realest sort of "torture."..

Why does Gold Dust so quickly loosen dirt? Because it more quickly dissolves the grease which makes dirt stick. One test will prove it.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhœa, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

ELKO NOTES

(By Fred Roo)

Jim Thistlebeak says the soil is so rich in the Roosville valley that a man dare not stand on one foot any length of time lest that leg becomes longer than the other one.

Simon Taylor, of Cranbrook, was in Elko this week and was met by his nephew Gordon, who drove him down to the Sheep Mountain Pineries, where his brother, Robert Taylor, is operating a logging camp.

A Winnipeg syndicate, representing 25 families, is trying to buy sufficient land in the Roosville valley for settlement this spring. The required amount is available and the agent is expected this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Downs and family, of the Red Creek Canyon Lumber Co., were Fernie visitors this week. They also made a trip to Claresholm, where the Downs have big interests in land, cattle and horses.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Mitchell, of Fernie, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hirtz, Riverside Park, Elko, this week end.

Jim Bates, of Vancouver and several other commercial travellers, were in Elko last week, and one young man said to a young lady, "My but you are a beauty." "Oh, don't try to pose as Columbus," she replied, "I was discovered years ago."

Doc. Rutledge, the well known veterinarian, of Cranbrook, was down to Elko last week and in a happy bit of gossip told a very amusing story of a farmer in the St. Mary's valley, who in drenching a cow used gasoline instead of the medicine he gave him; the cow got well, he relates, but instead of saying "Moo" now, she says "Honk, Honk."

Mr. Ireland, representing a Calgary dry goods house, was in Elko this week with silks and sateens to rival the rainbow in the multiplicity of their rich and daring shades, and laces from the convents of France; also a Spokane man with the bloom of roses on his cheeks, selling coreless apples and pitless peaches.

A young lady in Fernie told Jim Thistlebeak that every time she saw Charlie Chaplin a film came before her eyes.

Pity the British workman in an ammunition factory, one eye on the efficiency boss and the other peering skyward for Zeppelins.

Jim Thistlebeak says he once knew a man who was very anxious about the salvation of his wife. His theory was that if she was taken to Heaven and he was in torment, she'd raise "hell" about it until they took him out and brought him up to glory, just to get her to dry up and quit fussing.

Mr. J. Broley, manager of the Rainbow Creek Lumber Co., of Roosville, was in Elko this week and says the sawdust is flying at the mill.

TO ELIMINATE THE WASTE

On Monday evening last J. W. Gibson, organizer for the provincial committee of food conservation, gave an address in the council chamber of the city hall, after which His Worship Mayor Thomson appointed a nominating committee, which committee will name a number of district citizens to form an organization to urge the conservation and production of food. The committee consists of Mrs. R. Duthie, Mrs. A. B. Trites, E. K. Stewart and W. M. Dicken.

The date of the meeting of the nomniation committee and the number of members to be appointed on the executive is left to the arrangement of the nominating body.

In his opening remarks Mr. Gibson stated that he was in charge of agricultural instruction in the province and that he had undertaken the organization work of the provincial committee in the cities of British Columbia as a patriotic service.

The main truth of food conservation the speaker said, was not hard to understand, but as the matter became more serious and more thoroughly gone into, it became more complex. There were two main points. First, every citizen should be careful with food and should try to avoid waste. The second point was to increase production.

There is a world-wide shortage of food. The policy of the allies is that all of the soldiers be supplied all of the food they need and that after that the civilian population should be looked after. Before war was declared less than 40 per cent of the population of Canada was engaged in the production of food. A shortage had been forecasted for years. The war had hastened the inevitable.

With reference to the cost of living Mr. Gibson said that the subject was almost as old as civilization. The food control department of the government was not touching on the cost of foodstuffs. It would be a great thing if this could be done, he said. Now that the nation was facing an actual shortage of food the thing to do was to get busy and increase and incidentally this might help to keep down the soaring prices.

While Canada was doing a great deal in this regard there had been little real sacrifice as known in the old countries. He spoke of the action of the French in having diverted several ship loads of food to Italy at a time when France had less than a week's supply ahead, but thought that Italy's need was greater.

In urging the production of small garden stuff, Mr. Gibson remarked that during the year 1917 the United States had adopted the plan of a campaign for many gardens. As a result of the nation wide movement over 3,000,000 gardens were planted and an estimated $350,000000 worth of vegetables were grown.

At the food controller's office many suggestions were received. Oftentimes two or three ideas came from a single district. In these instances it was found that the suggestions conflicted. This only made more complex the food controller's work. The matter led to the plan of local organization. It was proposed to form local committees and let each one ferret out its own problems and in this way to find out best the needs of the district.

Mr. Gibson made several suggestions as to the different subcommittees which might be appointed from the members of the original committee. One body might be named a vigilance committee to assist in the elimination of waste. A better method for the distribution of goods from retail stores suggested another committee. Mr. Gibson remarked that the public generally demanded a patronage delivery service not in keeping with war time economy.

The signing of pledge cards which had proved valuable when undertaken by personal canvass brought up the advisability of another committee. Members of this body, as well as others, might include members of women's organizations.

The pulpits, schools and theatres were other factors which should be factors in a successful local campaign he said.

As soon as the committee was appointed the names should be forwarded to the provincial committee and the individual members would be enrolled both in Vancouver and Victoria, as well as at Ottawa.

CITY HOCKEY LEAGUE

This week some of the delayed games, as well as the regular games were played.

On Monday evening the High School won from the Bankers. Score 3—2.

On Tuesday night the High School met the Knights of Gladness in one of the roughest games of the season, judging from the following penalties:

1st period—Dahl 3 mins.; McBean, 2 mins.; Naddon, 2 mins.

2nd period—Dahl 3 mins.; Commons, 2 mins.; Colton, 2 mins; Naddon 3 mins.

3rd period—McBean, 3 mins.

Wednesday evening the Knights of Gladness won from the Commercials in a clean game, the final score being 10—7.

Thursday evening the Commercials won from the Bankers by a score of 5—4. This practically cinches the league championship for the Commercials, unless the High School win their next two games, which would make it a tie between these two teams.

League Standing—

	W.	L.	D.
Commercials	6	3	0
High School	4	3	1
Bankers	3	4	1
Knights of Gladness	2	5	2

BROUGHT THE CUP BACK

On Wednesday afternoon two rinks from Fernie journeyed to Cranbrook to endeavor to bring back the Fleishman Cup, which was lost to Cranbrook a few weeks ago.

The following composed the rinks:

A. C. Liphardt, skip; E. K. Stewart, H. J. Johnson, A. Prentice.

F. C. Lawe, skip; T. Prentice, Guy Johnson, H. Brown.

After a hard fought game the Fernie boys won out by a margin of four points. The score in favor of Liphart's rink was 9-6; and that of Lawe's rink 11-10 in their favor.

After the game the visiting rinks were the guests of Skip Cameron at his residence, and a most jolly time was spent.

Several challenges from local rinks to the winners have been made, but as the Cranbrook rinks will be here after the cup during the first of next week, it is not likely that any of these will be pulled off until after the Cranbrook aggregation has made a try for this much coveted trophy.

On Monday and Tuesday, Regal Film Co. will show their great spectacular production, "The Fall of the Romanoffs" at the Isis. The world got its greatest shock in the whole history of the great war when the reeking mass of corruption and tyrrany known as the monarchy of Russia, fell to the ground. This production shows the intrigues of the infamous monk, Rasputin, and takes the spectator step by step to the time of the assumption of the dictatorship by Kerensky. The production rights have been acquired at great expense and the price of admission will be: Children 15c; adults 50c.

The Fernie City Band and the I. O. D.E. wish to thank all those who so generously contributed toward the prizes and helped to make the Skating Carnival a success.

U.M.W. OF A. CONVENTION

The 15th Annual Convention of District 18, United Mine Workers of America, opened in the Miners hall last Monday, with the following delegates present:

Fernie—W. Dickinson.
Fernie—W. Potter.
Michel—Dave Grundy.
Corbin—John Finn.
Coleman—J. Johnston.
Blairmore—R. McDonald.
Hillcrest—Ben Carter.
Bellevue—J. Brooks.
Carbondale—J. Atkinson.
Lethbridge—C. Peacock.
Frank—Evan Morgan.
Coalhurst—J. R. Barkhouse.
Taber—A. McRoberts.
Chinook—Ernset Pisto.
Bankhead—E. Dunnigan.
Canmore—T. Bolettino.
Nordegg—J. Yates.
Drumheller—J. Ordza.
Drumheller—Y. P. Thomson.
Brule—A. Susnar.
Yellowhead—Y. H. Darst.
Star Mine—R. Renas.
Wayne—John Kent.
Pocahontas—I. A. Williams.
Mountain Park—K. McGillivray.
Lovett—J. Roughley.
Oliphant—J. Pawlyshyn.
Evansburg—J. McKillop.

H. Martin, Secretary of Gladstone Local Union, took the chair and called the convention to order at 1.30 p.m. After welcoming the delegates on behalf of Fernie Local he called upon Mayor Thomson to address the assembly.

Mayor Thomson on behalf of the citizens of Fernie extended a most cordial welcome to the delegates attending this 15th annual convention, and stated that so far as he was concerned and the city council, everything would be done to make their stay in the city as pleasant as possible. He also referred to his recent appointment as a coroner and said that in the event of his having to act in that capacity that the fullest latitude would be extended by him to arrive at the conclusion as to how such fatal accident had occurred. He was loudly applauded at the conclusion of his address. Ald. Jackson also tendered a hearty welcome to the delegates, after which Chairman Martin handed the gavel to President Biggs.

President Biggs on behalf of the delegates expressed hearty appreciation for the kind greetings tendered by the Mayor and others, and felt that the delegates were quite capable of accepting and enjoying to the fullest extent the freedom of the city granted to them.

The following telegram from W. H. Armstrong, Director of Coal Operations, was read:

"Please convey to the President and members of your organization my best wishes for a successful convention."

Also one from F. E. Harrison, Asst. Director of Coal Operations:

"Best wishes for a successful convention and continued prosperity."

The different committees for the convention were then appointed.

The following letter from Secretary Browne to His Honor Judge Thompson was read:

Feb. 14, 1918.

Hon. J. H. Thompson, Judge of Appeal Tribunal No. 12, Cranbrook:

Dear Sir—Re Exemptions granted to Coal Miners of Fernie and Michel.

I am instructed by the Executive Board of District 18, United Mine Workers of America, to write you expressing dissatisfaction at conditions under which exemptions were granted coal miners of Fernie and Michel.

Under the circumstances the Executive Board are desirous that a small committee should interview you with a view to obtain a better understanding with regard to the status of coal miners in District 18, resident in British Columbia, who come within the Military Service Act.

As members of the Board will be in Fernie next week in Convention I think the time would be most opportune to arrange to meet our committee. Yours truly,

H. Browne, Secretary.

The reports of the different officers were received and turned over to the different committees.

On resuming business on the second day of the convention the committee on officers' reports made their report, and this having to do with the Drumheller trouble, lengthy discussions followed, and the greater part of the second and third day were taken up with this subject, and discussions on "the single shift" and a weekly pay day.

The matter of the yardage dispute at Coal Creek also aoccupied the time of the convention on Wednesday afternoon.

LATEST WAR NEWS

London, Feb. 22.—The War Office today announced the capture of Jericho, Palestine, by Gen. Allenby's forces.

American raiders in the region of Chemin des Dames killed one German and captured another.

The Bolsheviki government has again changed its mind and has ordered its troops to "defend till death" their country against the German invasion.

THE SKATING CARNIVAL

The largest crowd that ever attended the Fernie Skating rink was present last Friday night when the City Band and the I.O.D.E. gave a Skating Carnival. The rink was filled to capacity and all thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The costumes were splendid and showed that there was a keen competition for the prizes. The music rendered by the band was excellent despite the fact that the musicians were handicapped by their instruments freezing. The following is a list of the prize winners:

Best Patriotic Lady — Miss Cora Wilkes.

Best Patriotic Gent—H. Robson.

Best Dressed Lady—Miss E. Biggs.

Best Dressed Gent—H. E. Kennedy.

Best Comic Lady—Miss F. Hammill.

Best Comic Gent—T. Branch.

Best Dressed School Boy—Thomas Cole.

Best Dressed School Girl — Edna Johnson.

Best Comic School Boy — Thomas Nelson.

Best Comic School Girl — Helen Rudnicki.

Financially the affair was a big success also, the City Band and the I.O.D.E. each receiving a substantial amount from the proceeds.

RATIONING IN CANADA

Rationing is a subject that is receiving much newspaper attention in Canada at present. It is a thing that is as new to us in theory and practice as war was three years and a half ago. That must be the only excuse for some things which are written. The general assumption is that rationing can be carried out, just as some people thought price fixing could, by a mere wave of a magic pen. When it is remembered, however, that Canada's seven and a half million people are scattered over an area greater than Europe, the question at once arises: "Who is to see to the carrying out of the ratinoning scheme?" For rations mean that each family would be under obligation not to eat more on any day or in any week than a certain set amount of particular foods.

It would not be hard to make a rule that so much bread should be used by each person at a meal. But how many million police would be wanted to attend to the execution of the order? Even the making of orders that would be fair in a large city as compared with a county home offers difficulties little thought of. In the Maritime Provinces fish is plentiful and comparatively cheap as in the West are wheat and beef. But more fish is not needed "at the front" to anything like the same extent that beef and wheat most urgently are wanted.

What rationing plan could ignore the "customs of the country?" Yet immediately here a discrepancy arises. One might prescribe the use of beef and wheat in Canada by decree but its incidence would be unequal from the first. There is, however, one way in which the food saving could be made which is the whole end and object of rationing. It is by a voluntary pledge of each home. In three words this is nothing else than by unremitting patriotic saving of food stuffs that are known to be wanted by the Allies. No amount of talking can make up for this. It is not a legal question at all but a moral one, which must be left to the conscience of each household head. There is no better way for the present in which those who cannot go to the trenches can actually help in the fight in Europe for moral uprightness and pure ideals of life than in practicing in each home at all times of the day that honest carefulness to avoid waste which would have to be done under a compulsory rationing scheme.

There will be special music at the Isis theatre on Monday and Tuesday. when the great picture, "The Fall of the Romanoffs," will be shown.

POLICE GET BOOTLEGGERS

The city police have been pretty busy during the past week, as will be shown by the following report of police cour cases:

Joe Sing was fined $100 or two months for having a ten gallon keg of whisky in his place of business.

Ted Downs, $100 or two months for bootlegging.

John Setlo, fined $75 and $2 costs, and $25 and $2 costs, on two charges of having a gallon of pure alcohol in his possession.

Jack Montgomery was fined for being drunk and disorderly, $26 or two months.

Mike Brobrosky drew $100 or two months for bootlegging.

Mike Rouchik also drew $100 or 2 months for the same offence.

The total fines amounted to $530.

GOOD SHOWING AT WINNIPEG

S. Herchmer and A. Corrie returned today from the Winnipeg bonspiel. The Fernie rink put up a good game all the way through, but on Friday last, which seemed to be their off day, they lost every game they played. Mr. Herchmer lays their defeat to the fact that the Fernie rink had never curled together before and were not used to each other's style of playing. However the following will show that they did splendidly considering that the bonspiel started in the 256s. They reached:

32nd in the Dingwall.
32nd in the Hudson Bay.
16s in the Walker.
8s in the Robinson.
16s in the All Comers.

The All Comers defeated the City of Winnipeg this year, which is only the second time in 28 years that this has happened.

Mrs. Page, Coal Creek, Canada.

Dear Madam—Just a few words of thanks in appreciation of the nice parcel which I received from Coal Creek a few days before Christmas. I really do not know who sent the pacel, but I noticed your name on two pair of socks, and you will allow me to thank you very much for them, and also for the remainder of the parcel, as everything in it was most useful. I would like to express myself in warmer words, but I am a poor writer, but I must say that it is very nice to think that the ladies of Canada have not forgotten us lads at the front.

S. Brewer (Michel)

Dear Mrs. Birkett—Just a line from one of the Fernie boys to convey my thanks for the socks which I have received through the I.O.D.E. of Fernie. I found your note in one of the socks. I am still in England and have been here for nearly 18 months with the 5th division, but we are not lying idle and have done a lot of work. But by the time you get this I will be with the rest of the Fernie boys over the way. You will excuse this short note as I have been called out with my long eared friends, the mules, on a trip to Oxford for rations.

Yours sincerely,
Driver J. W. Tully,
Late Driver for C. N. Trading Co.

Fernie, B.C.

Secretary—It gives me great pleasure to thank you and your Order for the lovely Christmas Stocking which I received through my old Battalion. The contents were real handy and I appreciate them all very much indeed.

The work done by the ladies of your Order since we came out to France has brought great joy and comfort to every boy from the district.

Again thanking you for your kindness. Yours sincerely,

Corpl. W. E. Duthie.

France, Jan. 25, 1918.

Dear Mrs. Page—Being the fortunate recipient of your Christmas stocking, I take the pleasure of thanking you sincerely for it. No doubt you will have wondered how I have fared since leaving Coal Creek. I assure you that I consider myself very fortunate for I have escaped injury up to now and had the pleasure of going over to Blighty on 14 days' leave of absence and was much benefited by my holiday. There are not many of the Fernie boys of the 225th left with us now. I saw Billsborough while I was in England and he is recovering and looks well but I do not think under the circumstances he will be sent to France again. The Christmas stockings arriving late, as it were, are very much appreciated by the boys and the socks are a godsend at this time of the year. The socks sent to the boys who are deceased are distributed amongst other men of the regiment who have not been as fortunate as those who belong to Fernie and Coal Creek. It is a pleasure to see the joy these comforts bring to all, and I feel proud that I was of some assistance to so worthy a cause before I donned the uniform. It has been noted by us all what a struggle you have had to carry on the good work in the district owing to labor troubles, etc.

Yours respectfully,
D. F. Markland.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

Found New HEALTH

OF greater value than gold and silver is health restored. Up in the mining district of Larder Lake, Ont., Mr. Sid Castlemen discovered something—that the high words of praise given to Gin Pills are true. Here is his story, in part.

"I think most of your

and decided to give them a trial at once, as I had been suffering for some time with my kidneys and urine. I sent my claim out to get them (about 60 miles) and I am pleased to inform you that in 48 hours 9 hours I felt relief. In two days the pain had left me altogether. . . . To-day I feel as well as ever I did and my kidneys are acting quite naturally." (Full testimonial sent on request together with FREE SAMPLE of Gin Pills.)

HOURS OF LABOR

How many hours of manual labor should constitute a day's work? A prominent automobile manufacturer in the United States has given his opinion that the employer who does not favor an eight hour day does not know his business.

Some interesting evidence is to hand in confirmation of this view. The statistical department at Washington publishes figures which seem to establish that in the anthracite coal industry no gain in production results from increasing the hours beyond eight per day.

In Great Britain a special committee on Health of Munition Workers testifies that a reduction of from seven to twenty hours per week in various branches "in no case resulted in more than an insignificant reduction of total output, while on the average it produced a substantial increase."

It is self-evident that alterations of hours may have very different effects in different operations. But in every industry there must be a point which strikes the best balance among all the interests effected.

Why should not this point be ascertained by the state by a series of experiments, and then enforced by legal enactments?—Vancouver Sun.

A HUN PLOT TO DIVIDE BELGIUM

There are two races in Belgium — Walloons and Flemish. There are two languages—French and Flemish. Before the war the two peoples lived at peace and in friendship.

After Belgium had been stricken to the earth by the Prussian sword the Huns endeavored to light the fires of animosity between the Flemish and Walloons. They encouraged the Flemish, whom they look on as a German race, to dominate the country — under German tutelage, of course. They opened a Flemish university and gave scope for the teachcently they established the 'council' of ing of the Flemish language. Re-Flanders" and declared the independence of Flanders after a farcical attempt to hold elections.

The vast majority of the Belgian people are not to be misled by these subterfuges intended in disguise to Germanize the nation. They have ignored the elections. Belgian judges have been arrested for attempting to prosecute the Flemish traitors who sought to overthrow King Albert's government. Demonstrations of loyalty have been held in the great square in Brussels—demonstrations dispersed only by bullet and bayonet ruthlessly used by the Huns. At the moment all the courts in Belgium are threatening to strike if the imprisoned judges are not released.

Belgium will not lose her soul to the Hun. The people are united in defence of their fatherland and attempts to split them apart must fail. If only the Allies' plans succeed by Christmas next the little iand that saved Europe by its devotion will be free to live its own life again.—Vancouver World.

YES! LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN!

Cincinnati authority tells how to dry up a corn or callus so it lifts off with fingers.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of freezone cost very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.

VINOL MAKES GOOD BLOOD

Positive—Convincing Proof

Many so-called remedies for anaemia are only so in name. Their makers are afraid to prove their claims by telling what their medicines contain.

The only way to be honest with the people is to let them know what they are paying for. Here is the Vinol formula. When the doctor knows what a medicine contains, it ceases to be a "patent" medicine.

℞ Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascarin.

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol, as named above, will enrich the blood and banish anaemia and create strength. When the blood is pure and rich and red, the body is strong and robust.

You can prove this at our expense because your money will be returned if Vinol does not improve your health.

ATTEMPT TO ENFORCE SUNDAY ACT FAILS

Victoria, Feb. 18.—The attempt to enforce the Lord's Day Act in Victoria has come to an end, expiring owing to differences of opinion regarding responsibility between the police commissioners and the attorney-general. The former have written an official letter to Hon. Mr. Farris thanking him for his courtesy in his dealings with them but making no further suggestions regarding prosecutions. The police announce they have been instructed to take no names. Those places of business which have been closed for the last two Sundays were able to re-open business without interference.

Germany's Economic Plotting

Germany is making every preparation to resume her insidious eceonomic campaign, and she is hoping to carry her Allies with her in the warfare after peace. "As on the blodd soaked battlefields, so in the field of economic policy and work, we shall stand loyally with our Allies and naturally we will help one another to achieve the common aim," says Helfarrich. The common aim is the expansion of the Mittel Europa scheme. Germany's greatest need after the war will be for raw material and for money with which to pay for them. For this reason she curries favor with the Ukraine and opposes the democratization of the rich province of Russia, over which she wants to retain an iron hand.—Montreal Star.

CALLING ANOTHER CLASS

It looks as though the Ottawa authorities are preparing the public mind for another call, under the Military Service Act. Those to be summoned next are the married men or widowers who were born not earlier than 1883 and who are now 20 years of age and who have no children.

If this is a necessity, it will have to be borne. But the people will first want to know the full particulars regarding the results of the call already made—the single men less than 34 years of age.

Is the number of these obtained from each province in proportion to population? What allowance, if any, has been made for the fact that some provinces did not contribute their fair proportion of volunteers? How many have been exempted for other reasons than being medically unfit? What arrangements have been made regarding single men with minor ailments that could be easily cured? Are they to escape permanently, while married men must go?

And how about the appeals? There are said to be ten thousand of these excluding Quebec. Should they not be heard and decided before the married men are called? If Mr. Justice Duff is not equal to the task of dealing with them all within a reasonable time—as indeed he is not—why should not the whole supreme court be turned in on the job? They could afterwards catch up with their regular work by chopping a few months off their summer holidays. — Vancouver Sun.

Children Like It

It is not an easy matter to get a medicine that children like, or to force them to take one they don't like. Most mothers know that a cough medicine, while palatable, should contain no drug injurious to the child. The great popularity of is explained by the fact that it contains no opium or narcotic of any kind, and at the same time is so pleasant and agreeable to the taste that children like it. For this reason it is a favorite with the mothers of young children.

NOTES FROM EAST KOOTENAY CHAPTER. I.O.D.E.

The East Kootenay Chapter I.O.D.E. held its annual meeting in Ross' hall, Waldo, on Feb. 7th.

The report of the year's work, which was read, gave the membership for 1917 as 54. Twelve regular and two special meetings were held during the year.

Starting with a balance of $11.16, the Chapter added during the time $1162.31, making total receipts of $1178.47. Of this total $352.45 was collected by members for the Halifax Relief Fund; $87.30 was net proceeds of several concerts given under the auspices of the Chapter; $1.75 was made by giving "silver" teas; $158.90 was cleared from whist drives held in Baynes and Waldo.

The expenditures for the year totalled $1071.25. Among the sums donated to special objects were $324.00 to Prisoners of War Fund, and Adoption Fund, Y.M.C.A. $40.00; British and Canadian Red Cross Societies, $126.30, Belgian Relief $36.50. 23 Christmas pacels sent to men overseas cost $34.56, and on Soldiers' Comfort Bags $48.30 was expended.

The report of the Red Cross committee was most encouraging. The total number of articles made since February, 1917, was 759.

Quite a number of wash cloths and ties, as well as some trench caps and socks, were knitted by the school children of Baynes and Waldo, who began working for the Red Cross a few months ago.

Fifty-seven pairs of machine knit socks were made by Mr. Walter Wilson of the Ross-Saskatoon Lumber Company.

In each of the Christmas pacels was enclosed a pair of well made socks in addition to the other articles.

A copy of a historical picture has been purchased for each of the two local schools.

A patriotic library was presented to Waldo school by Mrs. H. H. Ross. 32 of the pupils have become members of the Children of the Empire Library by reading ten of the volumes.

Suitable clasps and pins were presented to Mesdames Joule, and Radford, who have sons on active service, and to Mesdames Tanner, Williamson and Hardman, whose husbands are serving overseas.

Much credit for the success of the past year is given to the retiring Regent, Mrs. Joule.

In appreciation of her faithful devotion and willingness at all times the members of the Chapter are presenting Mrs. Joule with a life membership.

Votes of thanks were given to the three local lumber companies in whose halls the Chapter meetings are held.

Whist drives are being held in Waldo every two weeks in aid of the I.O.D.E.

A large number of articles were contained in the January shipment of Red Cross supplies sent to Fernie, 202 pieces as follows:

16 suits pyjamas.
33 ties.
2 fomentation wringers.
46 pair hand knit socks.
13 large pieces linen and cotton.
4 personal property bags filled with various suitable articles.
15 pair bed socks.
1 scarf.
9 trench caps.
5 pair machine knit socks.
23 dozen mouth wipes.
34 wash cloths.
1 dressing gown.

Dr. Bonnell M.P. has been delegated by the Fernie Veterans to represent them at the Provincial Convention being held at New Westminster next week.

The dance held to raise funds to assist in the establishment of club rooms for returned soldiers was a distinct success financially, $294 being the result. The Veterans wish to thank all those who assisted in making their first dance a great success.

The G.V.W.A. meet tonight and every alternate Friday. All returned men are cordially invited to attend.

Pte. Thomas Speers arrived in town yesterday morning from the front. Pte. Speers enlisted with the 13th C. M. R. and was drafted to the 50th Battalion for service in France.

C. J. Jamison, of the West Fernie Grocery, has sold out his business and will leave for the coast in a short time.

There will be a meeting of the Past Noble Grands Association in the K. P. hall on Thursday evening at 7.30 sharp.

J. Coffey, of Nelson, has arrived in the city to take over the management of P. Burns & Co. K. B. Smith, the present manager, has been transferred to Lethbridge.

Esther Rebekah Lodge will give a whist drive and dance for Odd Fellows, their wives and friends in the K.P. hall, on Thursday, Feb. 28, commencing at 8.30 p.m.

A small blaze occurred at the premises of the Pollock Wine Co. on Monday night but on the arrival of the fire brigade they found that the fire had already been put out.

J. A. Broley, of the Rainbow Creek Lumber Co., spent a few days in Fernie this week. He brought up one of his men to the hospital, who had the misfortune to break his leg.

Died—On Feb. 20, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Duncan. The funeral was held from the parents' home, Thompson St., on Thursday, Feb. 21, Rev. Carr officiating.

Jack Brown, formerly of the Brewery staff, but who went overseas with the 2nd C.M.R., is in town on a short furlough. He has orders to report in England again on March 31.

There will be a meeting of the Fernie Poultry and Pet Stock Association in Ingram's hall on Tuesday evening, Feb. 26. Business: Election of officers for 1918. Remember the time is 7.30 p.m.

A local hockey team will go to Baynes on Sunday and endeavor to take the starch out of the Baynes Lake boys. This should be a good game as Fernie is sending her best team and Baynes Lake claims to have a strong aggregation for the boys to run up against.

The Board of School Trustees is willing to establish a night school if a sufficient number of students can be enrolled. Any who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity should send in their names to the Secretary of the Board at the City Hall, stating the subjects they desire to study.

On Wednesday and Thursday the Famous Players will present, at the Isis, a most unique five reeler, showing off their new star, Julian Eltinge. Mr. Eltinge is the greatest female impersonator on the screen and his "Princess Charming" is the very spice of comedy.

L. E. McDonald has been appointed road superintendent for the Fernie district by the provincial government, in place of Wm. Ramsay, who has been transferred to Nelson district. In the departure of Mr. Ramsay, Fernie will lose a man who has the respect and esteem of every good citizen.

C. McNabb, of Waldo, spent a few days in the city this week.

J. R. McEwan returned today after an extended visit in the east.

Bonnell Dunlap had his leg crushed in the mines on Thursday.

Furnished house to rent, 5 rooms and bath; fully modern. Apply to P. R. Lundie.

On Friday and Saturday the Isis management begs to announce the engagement of that super feature of the Paramount program, "Bab's Diary, with the inimitable Marguerite Clark in the title role. Readers of the Saturday Evening Post will remember Mary Roberts Rinehart's story and Miss Clark will surely provoke the risibilities of even the most sedate. You cannot afford to miss this presentation.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear Mother, Mary Ann Wilson, beloved wife of James Stewart, who died on Feb. 23rd, 1917.

What peaceful hours we once enjoyed,
How sweet their memory still;
But Death has left an aching void
The world can never fill.

Inserted by her daughters — Mrs. Craig, Mrs. Maltman.

MAN ELOPES WITH WIFE IN "NEARLY MARRIED"

The story of "Nearly Married," the new Goldwyn pictures starring Madge Kennedy, to be seen at the Orpheum theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 27 and 28, details the adventure of a pair of newly-weds, Harry and Betty, separated because Harry declines to permit Betty's brother, Dick, to accompany them on their honeymoon.

Believing that Betty really wants a divorce, which seems all the more likely because Dick, who is just opening a law practice, is threatening legal action on his sister's behalf, Harry enlists the legal advice of his friend, Tom Robinson; and Robinson, in turn, engages the services of Hattie King, a professional correspondent, who will compromise Harry for the sum of a thousand dollars and expenses.

The separation continues for several months with the principals thoroughly miserable; and then Tom Robinson, and his wife, Gertrude, who is a friend of Betty, compare notes and conclude that it was all a mistake and that it is their place to bring the couple together again. Accordingly, they arrange a meeting which is quite successful in most particulars.

Harry makes a satisfactory explanation to Betty, and they elope in his racing car. The Robinsons exchange congratulations, but are speedily thrown into consternation when Dick appears, announcing that the divorce has been granted and that if his sister goes off with Harry she will be a ruined woman. A chase ensues, the pursuing party being augmented by the appearance of Hattie.

The outcome of the situation is thrilling in the extreme.

WARNING

In connection with the large business in the sale of liquors now being carried on, in view of the enforcement of Dominion prohibition on April 1, a number of unknown eastern firms are circularizing residents of the province, offering liquors at phenomenally low prices. In some cases these are far below the regular quotations of firms in the business on well known brands. How this is possible is explained by Vaucouver residents who report having been badly "stung" as the result of answering the appeals for business, their shipments of liquor being neither of the brand or quality described in the price list. As the money had been forwarded and the concerns were thousands of miles away, there was nothing for the purchasers to do except pocket their loss and accept their disappointment. Under conditions now prevailing persons purchasing liquor should deal with firms which have an established reputation and are willing to stand behind their shipments as to brand and quality.

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, cleanse little bowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

THE VATICAN AT THE PEACE TABLE

During the debate on the reply to the address from the Throne at the opening of the Imperial parliament, an Irish member brought up the question of a "secret treaty" between the Allies and Italy regarding the Pope's participation in the peace conference. This "secret treaty" it appears, was given out recently by Trotsky after he had rummaged through the government archies at Petrograd.

As the inadequate news reports reaching Canada have given a somewhat false idea of the treaty, quotations of its terms as applied to the Vatican will be profitable.

The treaty was concluded on April 26, 1915, between Great Britain, Russia, France and Italy. It outlined the assistance Rusia was to give Italy on land and the Anglo-French fleet on sea. It also outlined in detail the territories Italy was to receive after the war had been won.

Article XV stated: "France, Great Britain and Russia undertake to support Italy in so far as she does not permit the representatives of the Holy See to take diplomatic action with regard to the conclusion of peace and the regulation of questions connected with the war."

In view of Italy's known relations with the Vatican, this clause was taken as a matter of course by the other powers. As Lord Robert Cecil pointed out in parliament, it really meant no more than this: that if Italy did not want the diplomatic representatives of the Vatican at the peace table the other Powers concerned saw no reason why they should invite them.

Besides, a conclusive point would appear to be that neutrals are never invited to peace conferences, but only belligerents.—Vancouver World.

WAR AIMS ARE WELL KNOWN

The Teutonic powers have opened up no door to peace. When the London Daily News repeats the tiresome demand "for explicit declarat'ons of the allied war aims," it is sufficient to reply that the Allies have repeatedly declared their war aims.. The Germans and Austrians have also declared theirs. The war aims, respectively of the Allies and of the Teutonic Powers are irreconcilable and the Allies are now making it their principal business to prosecute the war with the utmost vigor in effective co-operation, until the enemy shall be ready to make a peace which shall be based upon the "principles of freedom, justice and respect for the law of nations." That is the only road to peace now open.—New York Times.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a small bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

Would you like to save time three times a day? Then use Gold Dust for dishwashing. It dissolves the grease quicker.

CONSERVE TEH TIMBER

Canada holds the only large forests in the whole British Empire. Australia and New Zealand and South Africa have sacrificed most of their original timber to the fire fiend and ruthless exploitation. These facts emphasize Canada's strategic position as containing the only "woodpile" available to the Empire except those of Russia. Sixty per cent of Johnny Bull's timber demand is supplied by the Russian people today, for the British provide only one log out of eight actually needed for home use. What part Canada's forests will play in British trade after the war is problematical, but there is no lack of prophets to predict that every square mile of timber will double in value under the strain of post-bellum demands from the devastated district of Europe. Meanwhile Canadian governments can prepare to take full advantage of increasing timber values by thorough fire protection and scientific control of wasteful lumbering.—Hamilton Spectator.

ALTERING THE U. S. CONSTITUTION

No other presidency can compare with that of Mr. Wilson in the number and magnitude of constitutional changes. On the top of the Banking Act, the nationalization of railways and the great war, such events make his term of office far overshadow any other period in American history. Probably not only the war but the influence of British example, has been operative, and President Wilson himself, a deep student of economic and social conditions and as progressive as he is profound, has plainly exercised a dicert influence on the march of events. But without the rise of the British Labor party, the epoch-making Lloyd George budget of 1910, its corollaries, and the political overthrow of the House of Lords in 1912 it is doubtful whether things would have moved so fast in the United States. The Motherland, once supposed to be effete, has led the way lagging after her the moss-covered, imbedded rock of the American constitution.—Free Press, London, Ont.

TO ABANDON P. G. E.

Hon. John Oliver, Minister of Railways in the B.C. government, makes the announcement that as far as his information goes, the Pacific Great Eastern Railway company has washed its hands entirely of the whole situation which has surrounded its affairs for some time past. Immediately on receipt of a wire from Manager Sperry to the effect that he had been given instructions to close the line and discharge the employees, the minister arranged for Chief Engineer Proctor to go to Vancouver and get in touch with conditions. The chief engineer returned with the information that the company "is through" and that it was absolutely abandoning the road.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

ELKO NOTES

(By Fred Roo)

C. McNab, manager of the Baker Lumber Co., Waldo, has returned from Los Angeles, Cal., where for the past month he has been basking in the magic sunshine. (like h——). Charlie says he would not live down in that country on a bet. Ninety per cent of the people were suffering from la grippe, pneumonia, and their chilled expressions looked like a seven year famine. The cattle were dying for want of feed, which had all dried up. While in Waldo the cattle were rolling fat and the green grass growing al around, and the creeks all have running water.

Miss Adella Ellwood, of Flagstone, is visiting Elko this week the guest of Miss E. May Roo.

The Calgary Herald says that the Doukhobors may all move back to Russia again, and Jim Thistlebeak says, O, let it be soon.

A commercial traveller was telling about being held up by a "lone bandit" on one of the southern boulevards in Seattle, and then said he, "He turned and stuck a large piece of coast defence artillery in my face and says savage like, 'hold up your hands.'" And did you hold them up, asked the young lady at the switch board. "Did I; I held them so high when I took them down the right one had a star sticking to it."

Sam Barclay, head teamster for the Downs and Reinecke Lumber Co., of Roosville valley, hauled ten thousand feet of lumber from the mill to Flagstone at one load last week.

In the matter of looking ahead, Jim Thistlebeak says that every girl should take lessons in elocution. The training makes their voices carry at least five blocks farther when they call their children home in the evening.

Mrs. Ferguson, of Regina, and two sons, are the guests of Mrs. J. McKee, Kilmarnock Castle, College Avenue, Elko.

Jack Wallace, of the Fernie Free Press, says if the war don't end soon the newspaper men may run short of type metal.

Yes, said a Vancouver traveller in Elko the other day, I am in a bad fix. My father was a Frenchman and his father was a Swede. My mother was Irish and her father was a German. My wife is a Norwegian. Well, said Alex. Birnie, what in the name of Harry Lauder are you going to do about it. What can I do? Nothing except to preserve a strict neutrality, sell Fred Roo a car of groceries and mind my own business.

W. J. Barrington, of Frankfort, Kentucky,, is looking over the Roosville valley with the intentions of buying. Here's to old Kentucky, the state where he was born, where the corn is full of kernels and the colonel's full of corn. A health, gentlemen. Let it go round.

Mrs. A. J. Mott came up from Newgate to Elko last week to attend the I.O.D.E. meeting, which by the reports was a very pleasant affair. The cake and sandwiches were something that your mother used to try and make but always failed.

A. L. Walker, of Vancouver, spent the week end in Elko visiting his sister, Mrs. M. Purcel Hardman, head trick at the central office.

If you are happy you are wealthy. Wealth cannot buy happiness. Bring on the Mulligan and never mind the scenery.

McTavish and Kerr, the Jaffray cattle kings, were not in Elko last week, as reported in the Chicago Blade.

Fred Coffey, who is moving from Nelson to Fernie, to take over the management of the P. Burns Co., may move his family to Elko to reside.

BRITISH TROOPS ON ALL THE FRONTS

In the hour of waiting before the culminating struggle of the war begins in France a brief summary of the military situation as it effects the British Empire will be reassuring. This is not an hour for pessimism despite the tremendous issues hanging in the balance.

Great Britain and the Overseas Dominions have at least two million soldiers in France ready for the trenches. Germany has no greater number. Possibly more of the Germans are veterans than the British but this is off-set by the greater determination and tenacity of the latter.

A highly significant fact must be taken into account when comparing the fighting strength of the British and the German troops today. It is this: that during the battles of 1917, 131 German divisions (one and a half million men) were defeated by three-quarters of a million of British troops. This is Sir Douglas Haig's own statement and is thoroughly relable.

It will be seen, therefore, that two million British troops by themselves are more than a match for the Germans on the western front.

But Britain and the Dominions have other great responsibilities. They are defending a highly important sector on the Italian line on the Piave. The Montello area, north of the town of Nervesa, is certain to be the scene of heavy fighting when the Austro-Germans resume their efforts to break through to Treviso.

Then there is the Macedonian war theatre where the forces which have been almost immobile for the last two years will attempt to put Bulgaria out of the war. Added to this come Mesopotamia and Palestine where the Turks, with the troops released from the Armenian front, will doubtless make a desperate attempt to re-take their lost territory.

In 1918 on all these battle-fronts British troops will face the Teutonic Allies. And on the seas the British navy may be acllled upon to face the naval might of Germany. On the guns of the sailors of the Empire, and upon the bayonets of the soldiers, will assuredly hang the fate of the war and of the world's democracies.

Nevertheless they who know the British race best at home and overseas are least afraid.

TAKING NATIONAL INVENTORY

Another "accurate and complete inventory" of the men and women of Canada is to be made by the Dominion government.

The last effort at this sort of thing has not yet been forgotten. It resulted in nothing very definite except the retirement of the eminent Calgary statesman who had charge of it.

He did the best he knew how, but the circumstances were against him. The people knew that the registration at that time could serve no useful purpose and was merely a futile effort to pretend that the government was doing something.

Will anything more important be accomplished by the new inventory? Its chances, at any rate, look better. Organized labor this time is being asked to co-operate instead of being dragooned. The object now sought — the increase of food production—is recognized as being a profitable necessity.

It is a case wherein the federal administration should be given credit for good intentions. No harm, however, will be done by watching the whole operation closely to see that it does not involve anything in the nature of conscription of labor, or a forced reduction of wages. The people of Canada are willing to work for the good of their country, but not for the benefit of profiteers.—Vancouver Sun.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY MAR 1 1918 VICTORIA, B.C.

CITY FATHERS HOLD SESSION

The regular meeting of the council was held last evening when all attended with the exception of Ald. Dudley.

A letter from Mr. Cummings, District Engineer, proposing that the city rent the rock crusher to the government, was received, and it was decided to allow the government the use of the crusher at a time as yet undecided but as soon as the city can conveniently spare same, at a rental of $50 per month.

Regarding the renewal of the Fairy Creek traffic bridge, the government briefly advised the council that "it was entirely out of the question" to undertake this work the present year.

Applications for increases in wages for the power house staff were received, also from the city clerk's staff of $10 per month, and the volunteer firemen asked for $2.50 per month advance. These requests were referred to the Fire, Water and Light and Finance committees respectively, to bring in a report to the council for the next regular meeting.

A very lengthy report was received from the Medical Health Officer in which a number of suggestions were outlined. The report was received and tabled until a later date, when some action along the lines suggested will be taken.

The usual annual motion relative to the collection of dog taxes was passed and notices in accordance therewith will be posted and advertised.

It was decided that no tax sale will be held this year. The customary temporary loan bylaw to the extent of $91,260, which is the limit permitted by law for the current year, was read three times and will be finally passed at the next meeting. A favorable showing this year is noted in the wide difference in the amount of delinquent taxes. At the beginning of 1917 the delinquent taxes amounted to $52,000, while at present the amount is only $28,000.

Dr. Corsan was formally appointed medical health officer at a salary of $75 per month. This was necessary in view of the dissolution of the firm of Bonnell & Corsan, who formerly held the appointment.

Ald. Jackson mixed it with Ald. Brooks relative to the hours worked by the public works employees. Ald. Jackson's manner indicated that he had been making quiet personal observations in connection with the manner in which these employees who come within Ald. Brooks' jurisdiction as chairman of the works and property committee, were performing their duties, and as a result thereof had acquired an evident grouch. As this was not directly in connection with Ald. Jackson's department and apart from his effort on behalf of the ratepayers, it appeared to some of the councillors that he had made himself active to this extent from personal motives. Ald. Brooks pointedly informed him that his "butting in" would not promote harmony and if he had found things amiss he should have at least had the courtesy to inform the chairman of that committee under whom the employees in question came. Ald. Dicken took the opportunity to inform Ald. Jackson that if he had investigated affairs in connection with his own department as chairman of the fire, water and light committee, he might have found in connection with the laying of the hose and turning on of the water at the Lassalle fire, there should have been some explanation forthcoming for the delay. The matter closed with Ald. Jackson parrying verbal thrusts from His Worship, Ald. Brooks and Ald. Dicken, all of whom were in anything but a congenial mood.

After passing a motion to call for tenders to kalsomine the interior of the city hall, adjournment was taken.

FERNIE GREAT WAR VETERANS ASSOCIATION

At the last regular meeting of the Fernie and District G.W.V.A. the appointment of officers for the ensuing term was made as follows:

Hon. President—Capt. S. Bonnell, M.D.

1st Hon. Vice President—Major G. G. Moffatt.

2nd Hon. Vice President—Lt. Thos. Corsan.

President—W. J. Claridge.

Vice President—S. Stevenson.

Sec.-Treas.—H. Kennedy.

A committee represented by the city council, I.O.D.E., returned soldiers, Aid Committee and G.W.V.A. have been appointed to arrange for and establish club rooms for returned soldiers. The opening of the club room is expected within a week or so and the Vets are looking forward to this event with great expectation.

Dr. S. Bonnell was appointed delegate to attend the Provincial Convention G.W.V.A., which will be held at New Westminster shortly.

Secretary Kennedy has received from Capt. Jukes, Officer in command of War Service Badges, M.D.M., forms for application for new War Service Badges. Any returned soldier or discharged C.E.F. man can obtain same by making application to the Secretary.

UNION GOVERNMENT HAS BIG MAJORITY

The official soldiers and naval vote taken in France, in Canada and in the United States, announced by W. F. O'Connor, general returning officer, has increased the majority of the Union government in parliament to 60. It was 45 when the civilian home vote counted. The soldiers' vote taken in Great Britain has all been allocated to the various constituencies and a staff of 60 officers has commenced to count it.

The standing of the government and opposition by provinces is as follows:

Province—	Gov.	Opp.
Prince Edward Island	0	4
Nova Scotia	12	4
New Brunswick	7	4
Quebec	3	62
Ontario	72	10
Manitoba	13	1
Saskatchewan	16	0
Alberta	11	1
British Columbia	13	0
Yukon	0	1
	147	87

Government majority 60.

There is one deferred election. Port Nelson, Man.

In the Fernie district the vote now stands: Dr. Bonnell 3055, having gained 136 in the North American soldiers vote, and 695 in the Continental vote; Beattie, 1532, having gained 12 in the North American and 68 in the Continental. He still saves his deposit by a very narrow margin but this will no doubt be wiped out when the English vote is counted.

R. F. Green, in West Kootenay, increased his lead over his opponent by 330, giving him a total majority of 3179.

Fred Stork, Fernie's first mayor, who was elected by over 500 majority, is now defeated by over 400.

CITY MAY BE IN DARKNESS

The engineers and firemen employed at the power house issued an ultimatum to the city council today demanding $4.53 per day for engineers and $4.16 for firemen, and unless their demands are complied with by 3 p.m. tomorrow they will cease work.

A special meeting of the council is called for 5 p.m. today to consider the demands and it is to be hoped that some arrangement can be arrived at which will prevent the city being left in darkness.

Later—The council has decided to comply with the men's demands.

Methodist Concert at Michel

On Thursday evening under the auspices of the Methodist church a concert was given in the Michel Club Hall, when a good audience was present. The programme was wholly by local talent as follows:

Part 1—March, Michel Band; Chairman's remarks; solo, Mr. Williams; recitation, Miss Sissy Cunliffe; piano duet, Mrs. T. Horrocks and Miss Lyons; solo, N. Parkinson; quartette; melodian solo, Carl Lavazelli; solo, Mrs. P. Bell; violin solo, A. Almond.

Part 2—selection, Michel Band; recitation, Mrs. Donaldson; solo, W. Dawe; bell selection, H. Parkinson; quartette; solo, Mr. Williams; mandolin selection, Mr. Moore; solo, W. Horrocks; recitation, Master A. Butcher; melodian solo, Carl Lavazelli; solo, B. Elliot; march, Michel Band.

Accompanists at piano: Miss Monkler, Mrs. T. Horrocks, A. Almond.

The pastor on behalf of the church wishes to thank all who helped to make the concert such a success.

To Fernie Chapter I.O.D.E.

To all members of the above organization I wish to extend my hearty thanks for the Xmas parcel which I received from you. It was indeed most useful. I am out of the trenches again and back to Blighty and am having a good time. At Xmas time our battalion had a fine big dinner, with plenty of good things, the gift of our officers.

Hoping that the war will soon be over. Yours truly,

Dave Gash.

U.M.W. OF A. CONVENTION

The 15th Annual Convention, District 18, United Mine Workers of America, closed yesterday afternoon shortly before 6 o'clock, after having been in continuous session for eleven days. When it came to deciding the place for holding the next annual convention Fernie and Calgary were placed in nomination but on the ballot the choice fell to Calgary.

Last Sunday evening the management of the Northern Hotel entertained the delegates to the convention and their friends, when over fifty attended and a most enjoyable time was had by all. The managements of the Orpheum and Isis theatres also entertained the delegates this week.

Fifth Day—Morning Session.

President Biggs addressed the Convention announcing that Mayor Fulton of Drumheller confirmed the authenticity of the telegram from Premier Borden relative to the authorized settlement in that field.

Immediately before adjournment Pres. Biggs read the following telegram, which referred to the statement of Del. Ordza made at a previous session:

Calgary, Feb. 22, 1918.

Hugh McDonald, Fernie, B.C.

The statement that I have interest in Moody Mine is a malicious falsehood.

W. H. Armstrong.

Afternoon Session

Chairman Martin called order at 1.55 and Int. Rep. Rees took the floor and read telegram referred to during previous discussion from Int. Organizer Irvine to John P. White.

Calgary, May 25, 1917.

John P. White, President U.M.W.A., Indianapolis, Ind.

Policy Committee of District 18 to be in session here three days. Not inclined to agree to instructions of the Board. To ignore them and order men to return to work would disrupt the District.

David Irvine.

Del. Johnston under special privilege took the floor and read a statement that appeared in the News-Telegram, Calgary, of the issue of Feb. 21, as follows:

"Another session was held by the miners at Drumheller on Thursday morning, at which Coal Commissioner Armstrong came in for violent denunciation, the following telegram being sent to Sir Robert Borden in protest:

Sir Robert Borden,
Ottawa.

We, the organized miners of the Drumheller Coal Mines, in meeting assembled, do hereby recommend the removal of Federal Commissioner Armstrong in his capacity of fuel commissioner and emphatically protest against his retention in that capacity, as he has apparently exhibited gross incompetence and inefficiency in the face of national need and suffering, and because weakness and vacillation have taken the place of firmness and courage and efficiency in the execution of his duties, and we condemn him as no longer entitled to the confidence of the government, the miners the mine operators, citizens and the Canadian people of the west.

Pres. Biggs then announced that F. E. Harrison had arrived and the information also was received that the miners in the Drumheller field had refused to comply with the instructions from the Convention. The discussion that followed these announcements unmistakably censured the Drumheller miners for their stubborn attitude.

Moved, seconded and carried, That a telegram be drafted by the President and Secretary immediately to be dispatched to Premier Borden, and also a letter to W. H. Armstrong, deploring the action of the Drumheller miners as published and same to be presented to the convention for approval.

Del. Johnston referred to the statement made some days previous by Del. Ordza, of Drumheller, to the effect that W. H. Armstrong held an interest in the Rosedale mine and suggested he be given an opportunity to substantiate his former statement in view of the denial contained in Mr. Armstrong's telegram. Del. Susner reminded the delegation that the delegate from Drumheller had repeatedly uttered irresponsible statements which should not carry any weight. Board Member Wheatley desired Del. Ordza to state his source of information. Del. Ordza responded and admitted the statement made by him was based only on hearsay.

F. E. Harrison, Asst. to the Director of Coal Operations, was asked to address the Convention relative to the Drumheller situation.

Mr. Harrison addressed the Convention at some length, reviewing the situation in detail, incidentally mentioning that since the operation of the mines in District 18 under the director of coal operations, 262 disputes had been taken up and settled.

Del. Susner replied and endeavored to present to Mr. Harrison the sentiment of the majority of delegates as being favorable to the administration under the director of coal operations.

The following telegram was sent to Hon. R. L. Borden:

"We, the delegates assembled in Annual Convention, representing the entire membership of District 18, U. M. W. of A., deplore action of Drumheller men in sending message condemning W. H. Armstrong, Coal Commissioner, and wish to go on record stating that an injustice has been done him by those men at Drumheller. This Convention goes on record unanimously having the fullest confidence in his ability in filling his office of trust with honor and justice to all concerned. (Sgd.) T. Biggs, President; Ed. Browne, Secretary."

The following are resolutions which also were passed at later sessions:

Re the District Ledger:

That the paper be re-established at once.

That the plant remain at Fernie until the time is opportune to move it to Calgary.

That an assessment of $1.00 be placed on the membership to be collected, 25c in March, 1918, and the balance of the $1.00 levy not to be collected unless it is decided by the District Executive Board to remove the District Ledger plant to Calgary.

All monies collected by this resolution to be used entirely for the District Ledger.

That the paper be published in the English language.

That the subscription be voluntary, price $1.25 per year.

That the District Executive Board shall be directly responsible as a whole for the proper conduct of the paper, and shall hire an editor to carry out the policy of the paper as outlined by the Executive Board.

The policy of the paper shall be that of a purely Labor Paper to serve the working class interests only.

Special Resolution—

Whereas in the 1917 Commission on the increase cost of living, it was agreed that the increase should apply by the week, except in case of strike,

And whereas as the Government and Miners Officials agreed that it should apply this way.

And whereas the Operators understood that it would apply by the week.

And whereas when the Policy Committee agreed with Mr. Green to a commission every four months, it was intended that it should apply in the same way.

Therefore be it resolved, that this Convention ask Commissioner Armstrong that the application of the finding of the Commission shall be the same as that award in the War Bonus negotiations.

The following resolution re the Miners Union building in Fernie, was passed:

Whereas we, Gladstone Local Union, did notify District 18 that Gladstone Local Union Hall was going to be sold for taxes and no notice was taken of our communication, and whereas we have assessed ourselves 25c per month to pay said taxes off; therefore be it resolved, that District 18, U.M.W. of A. give Gladstone Local Union a Quit Claim on said hall.

Resolution submitted by Gladstone Local Union—Accident Defined:

Compensation for time lost or permanent partial disability is only payable when the disability is the result of an accident while in the course of employment. An Accident as interpreted by this commission is an unforseen event occurring without the will or design of the person whose mere act causes it; an unusual or undesigned act; the effect of an unknown cause being unknown; unprecedented consequences of it; a casualty; something fortuitous or unexpected.

We are strongly of the opinion that the above interpretation of the above word is not broad enough to cover the many and peculiar accidents which occur in and about the mines; Therefore, be it resolved, that we do request the governments of British Columbia and Alberta to eliminate the word "accident" from the Compensation Act and insert the following: "This Compensation Act shall cover any disability, either partial or total, occurring to any person or persons arising in, out of, or because of their employment."

Charlie Chaplin at the Orpheum, Friday and Saturday, in "The New Janitor," a one reel Keystone.

COMMISSIONERS' AXE FALLS

On Monday last a secret meeting of the city police commissioners was held and it was decided to ask for the resignation of Chief Brown, same to take effect on March 31.

Notices were posted asking for applications for the position and at a meeting of the commissioners held yesterday, Chief Welsby, of the provincial force, was offered the position at a salary of $150 a month.

The dismissal of Chief Brown has caused a wave of indignation to sweep through the entire town, as he is very popular and nearly everyone believes he has been endeavoring to carry out the law to the best of his ability.

A month ago when the commissioners met and instructed the police that the town must be cleared of all blind pigs and gambling joints, everybody thought that the new commissioners intended to play fair with the police and give them every chance to make good, but notwithstanding the fact that every game has been closed and over $1000 realized from fines connected with the contravention of the Liquor Act during this month, this was not sufficient for these narrow-minded gentlemen. The only thing that would satisfy them was the conviction and imprisonment of every hotelkeeper in the city, and as this was absolutely impossible Chief Brown had to go.

The new chief, Mr. Geo. Welsby, is a man of sterling worth and has made a fine reputation for himself with the province, but he will have his work cut out for him if he can satisfy the demands of these commissioners.

Dear Mrs. Moffatt—I received the parcel sent by the I.O.D.E., so I must thank the Order very much for the same. It places great credit on those who put them up, as the contents all came in useful and are highly appreciated. It is gratifying to know that the women of the I.O.D.E. are thinking of the boys from Fernie who did not wait but came at the call of democracy.

Thanking you again for the useful Christmas gift. Yours truly,

Pte. T. C. Smith.
Somewhere in France.

I.O.D.E. Ladies:

It gives me great pleasure in thanking you for the parcel I received. I am sure the good work the I. O. D. E. are doing in sending parcels to the boys out here is much appreciated by the boys from Fernie in this ambulance. Yours,

George Lamont.

Jan. 12, 1918.

Dear Sisters—Which I believe I am entitled to call you, as I am a son of the same Empire, and also fighting for right, I am writing these few lines to thank you for the nice parcel you sent me for Christmas. I can tell you it gives us great pleasure to receive parcels from home. It lets us see that the people at home are with us although we are far apart.

I remain, Yours sincerely,

L.-Cpl. G. E. Bainbridge.

DRAFTEES MUST GET CONSENT TO JOIN R.F.C.

Men called up under the Military Service Act will no longer have the option, hitherto extended to all draftees, of enrolling in the Royal Flying Corps before joining the battalion to which they have been allocated. This is the interpretation given at Recruiting Headquarters of the R.F.C. to an order recently issued by the Militia Department, which says that in future all draftees must report for service to the Depot Batalion.

Such men, however, will still be eligible for the Air Service. After reporting to his Depot Battalion, the draftee, if he is anxious to train for an aviator, in the Royal Flying Corps, may apply for discharge to his Commanding Officer, upon whose consent he may re-enlist in the R. F. C.

Just what effect this new regulation will have upon the number of recruits applying to the Flying Service, it is difficult to say. At the present time, despite the fact that all cadets enroll voluntarily, the training school in Toronto is kept filled to capacity and there are many young men waiting to get started. The new procedure undoubtedly puts added difficulties in the way of aspirants, but at the same time it is anticipated that the Commanding Officer's consent will in most cases where men pass the essential qualifications be given readily, while the fascination and novelty of the aviator's work should be sufficient incentive to most men to make the extra effort called for by the new regulation.

The Patriotic Committee are arranging for a dance to be held in Victoria Hall, on Friday, March 8, 1918.

BONSPIEL A BIG SUCCESS

The patriotic bonspiel, which commenced Wednesday afternoon, was a huge success from every point of view. Forty-seven rinks entered the competition and a draw was pulled off every two hours until midnight, and the games had not then been worked out to the sixteens, so play was adjourned until last night, when the competition was finally worked down to the jewellry class. The semi-finals will be on tonight at 6.30 and the finals at 8.30.

Those in the fours are J. S. Irvine, R. M. Young, W. Lancaster and F. Greenwood.

The financial returns will net the Patriotic Fund over $125.

Following is a list of the rinks:

H. J. Johnson, J. G. Billings, Miss Wilde, Mrs. Brown.

E. K. Stewart, H. Gould, A. Bonallie, Mrs. Bonnallie.

FAMOUS SCOTTISH COMEDIAN COMING TO FERNIE

Billy Oswald, who coined the expression "Is tha' a fac'," and used it in the big production of "Aladdin" last season, is still using it to good advantage in "Henpecked Henry," the musical farce that will be seen at the Grand theatre on Saturday, March 9. The United Producing Co., Ltd., under whose management this production is being offered, have surrounded Mr. Oswald this season with a very strong supporting cast and a big beauty chorus called 'The Sunshine Sextette.' Probably no vehicle could be written that would show Billy Oswald to better advantage than that of a Henpecked husband. His stage personality is best suited for a role of that sort and with Kathryn Sheldon as the henpecking wife, these two alone could supply comedy for an entire evening, but assisted as they are by Beatrice Carmen,, also late of "Aladdin" Co., Phil Ainsworth, Claire Coupez, Chas. Bates, Stan Brown and the best costumed chorus ever seen in the West, an evening's entertainment is provided that for comedy and novelty, will be hard to excel. From the time the curtain rises on the first act until it falls at the finish of the performance, laughter reigns supreme. The plot of the play is interesting as well as funny, and a large number of musical numbers are interpolated that with the excellent voices rendering, coupled with the dancing and costumes of the Sunshine Sextette make it an entertainment that will long be remembered. If you have seen Billy Oswald before you will want to see him again. If not you want to make his stage acquaintance when he appears with "Henpecked Henry."

This is the largest and best theatrical attraction to visit Fernie this season. Prices $1.00; 75c; children 25c.

FRIENDS THOUGHT HE WOULD DIE

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Conquered Dyspepsia and Restored His Health.

MR. ROBERT NEWTON.

Little Bras d'Or, C. B.

"I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation for years. I had pain after eating, belching gas, constant headaches, and did not sleep well at night. I lost so much weight — going from 185 pounds to 146 pounds—that I became alarmed and saw several doctors who, however, did me no good. Finally, a friend told me to try 'Fruit-a-tives'.

In a week, there was improvement. The constipation was corrected; and soon I was free of pain, headaches and that miserable feeling that accompanies Dyspepsia. I continued to take this splendid fruit medicine and now I am well, strong and vigorous". ROBERT NEWTON.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

LIFT YOUR CORNS OFF WITH FINGERS

Tells how to loosen a tender corn or callus so it lifts out without pain.

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn or callus the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, lifts off with the fingers.

Freezone dries the moment it is applied, and simply shrivels the corn or callus without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but will positively rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or hardened callus. If your druggist hasn't any freezone he can get it at any wholesale drug house for you.

VINOL MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG

Positive—Convincing Proof

We publish the formula of Vinol to prove convincingly that it has the power to create strength.

Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascara.

Any woman who buys a bottle of Vinol for a weak, run-down, nervous condition and finds after giving it a fair trial it did not help her, will have her money returned.

You see, there is no guess work about Vinol. Its formula proves there is nothing like it for all weak, run-down, overworked, nervous men and women and for feeble old people and delicate children. Try it once and be convinced.

RECRUITS WANTED FOR RAILWAY SERVICE GUARD

Recruits are wanted at once for the Railway Service Guard for duty on special trains between Vancouver and Halifax and other eastern points.

This unit is enlisting large numbers of men between the ages of 18 and 50 who find in it an opportunity of travelling across Canada engaged on interesting work which is not arduous.

Many of those joining up now are returned soldiers or civilians unable to go overseas, often through minor physical disabilities; the returned discharged soldiers fit for lighter duties find in the railway Service Guards an excellent opening.

The unit is commanded by Major Haynes in Vancouver with headquarters in the heart of the city. The pay, separation allowance and advantages enjoyed are the same in the Railway Service Guard as in the Canadian Expeditionary force.

In barracks the duties and drills are easy. General leave is given at week ends and at holiday times as when the men are at eastern ports and on return from transcontinental trips. A splendid mess, canteen and recreation room are provided, also facilities for billiards, football and other games.

Full information as to conditions of service can be obtained from Lt. Anderson, recruiting officer, or at the Orderly Room, Railway Service Guard, corner of Beatty and Dunsmuir Sts., Vancouver, B.C.

"The Man From Painted Post"

Never before has such a collection of notable cow-boys appeared in a motion picture as is displayed in Douglas Fairbanks' new Artcraft picture, "The Man From Painted Post," coming to the Isis theatre next Monday and Tuesday, March 4 and 5. All the cowboys appearing in this picture are winners of championships in roping, riding, shooting and other western sports. In addition to these experts are seven of the most fiery bucking bronchos used in the Frontier Meet at Chayenne, Wyo. All of which promises some excitement for those who will view popular Douglas' new photoplay.

"THE MOTH"

From a would-be modern Cleopatra trifling with Fate and forever in pursuit of pleasure to an unselfish and devoted woman wrapped up in her two small children—that is the character transition portrayed by the versatile Norma Talmadge in her screen impersonation of the heroine of "The Moth," her newest Selznick picture, which will be shown at the Isis theatre on Friday and Saturday, March 1 and 2.

DRY LAW OPERATION MAY BE POSTPONED

Ottawa, Feb. 27.—There has been much speculation here as to whether the bone dry liquor law, affecting trade between the provinces, will go into effect on April 1. It is now stated in government circles that it may be postponed, but there is nothing certain yet.

Export liquor companies have been urging an extension of two months. The government's previous intention was April 1, but the order-in-council has not yet been passed.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a small bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

No Camouflage!

There's not a word in the text or descriptive matter of this advertisement which would deceive or mislead buyers of liquor in any way.

WE DO NOT SUBSTITUTE. We have the goods—the real article. We fill your order—true to brand, to quality, to strength. When you buy from us your shipment is taken from the largest and best selected stock in Canada. It is backed by the guarantee of a responsible company which has been in business in British Columbia for 20 years, the managers of which are known all over the province as responsible men.

WE PREPAY ALL EXPRESS CHARGES. Beware of firms quoting liquor f.o.b. at various points or making indefinite statements as to shipping charges. Express charges to B.C. points are high. Our method takes care of all this. Our price means actual delivery (all charges—express, jugs, kegs, packages, war tax, etc.—paid) at your door or nearest station.

Many firms do not state in advertisements that prices are f.o.b. shipping points; this is fraudulent advertising, because express charges are very high. In comparing our prices, remember first we ship genuine goods and no substitution—then remember we pay all charges.

Croup

"I don't think there is a more anxious time for parents than when their children have croup. Without they are prepared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they must wait for the doctor and listen to the choking, metallic cough and watch their little one gasping for breath.

You know the great danger of croup is the formation of a false membrane in the larynx, and until this is expelled relief cannot be obtained, and the spasmodic choking continues. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in frequent doses. It will loosen this membrane and cause the child to expel it by vomiting.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is an absolutely safe and certain remedy for croup, and if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack."

ELKO NOTES

(By Fred Roo)

Most editors fight the paper borrowing habit, but Jim Thistlebeak says if you don't take this paper, borrow it from your neighbor. You don't know what mention you might get in its columns, and the only thing that makes money without advertising is the mint, and you cannot afford to miss reading these notes.

Notable among the social events of the week was the annual meeting of Elk Canyon Chapter of the I.O.D.E., which was held at the home of Mrs. L. Foisy, Cardigan Place, Canyon Park. The new officers elected were as follows: Regent, Mrs. H. C. Waters; 1st Vice Regent, Mrs. Thos. Roberts; 2nd Vice Regent, Mrs. Raymond G. Hirtz; Sec.-Treas., Miss E. May Roo; Standardbearer, Mrs. Eli Cooper. There was a large attendance and the affair passed off as smooth as a Wednesday evening prayer meeting. At the close of the meeting, which was voted one of the best ever held in the old historic burg, Mrs. Foisy, assisted by the newly appointed officers, entertained all to a most delightful tea.

Outsiders might not suspect it, but the town of Kelly on the Grand Trunk Pacific railway is settled mainly by Huns.

George Millett, who owns the Carnation Restaurant in the Hoffman Block, had the Geo. Earle Co. of decorators and flower wall paper hangers, of Fernie, down last week fixing up the eating corral and making other improvements.

One of the lumberjacks working near Elko sent his clothes to the laundry and forgot he had left his watch in his shirt pocket. The wringer changed the appearance of the time piece considerably but it is still keeping accurate time.

J. L. McKenny, of Calgary, was down to Elko this week the guest of O. C. Thompson, manager of the Burton Mine.

The patriotic dance at the Roosville school house last Saturday night was well attended and a financial success. These Saturday night dances are getting to be very popular as Sunday gives the boys a chance to rest up.

Miss Irene McKee, postmistress, is just in receipt of a letter from Sergt. James Osborne, well known along the Crow and for years the B. & B. Dept. C.P.R., also with the B. C. government bridge crew, but at the time he enlisted was head mixologist and wine steward at the Waldorf hotel, Fernie. Thirty-one months in the trenches, he is now with the British Military Mission at Camp Dodge, Iowa, U. S. A., instructing the Sammies for overseas service.

O. C. Thompson, manager of the Burton mine, was down the Roosville Valley looking over some of the copper property down in the ElDorado.

An old lady in Spokane who wished to back up Hoover, the United States Food Controller, in every way she could, said to a lady friend: "When Mr. Hoover said he wanted every housewife to save a loaf of bread every week, I made up my mind to do just what he wanted. I have now saved a loaf every week for 26 weeks and I wish Mr. Hoover would tell me what he wants me to do with them.

J. Broley, of the Sunkist Orchards, Roosville, was in Elko this week.

T. Letcher, of the Square Deal Ranch, Roosville Valley, is logging on Red Canyon for the Downs & Reinecke Lumber Co. Alex. McIntosh, champion mouth harp soloist, is the chief roller and canthook man.

The rubber men are out in full force this week from the prairie provinces and coast points, and are still stretching the price on account of the war, with 2 per cent off for cash.

Fred Roo is down at Flagstone and Roosville this week with the intention of putting in a portable mill on his timber limits, and will plant the clearing to sunflower seed and two-handled pumpkins.

Chief Okum alias Fred Ryckman, of Cranbrook, passed through Elko on his way to Tobacco Plains, Indian Reserve.

The finding of a coroner's jury in the cases of sixty infants whose deaths were due to fire on the fifth story of a Montreal nunnery was that the whole affair was accidental, and that was all. But surely it was not accidental that these infants should have been housed on the fifth floor of what proved to be a firetrap of a building. That fact in itself indicates almost criminal carelessness.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior

SOUR, ACID STOMACHS, GASES OR INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" neutralizes excessive acid in stomach, relieving dyspepsia, heartburn and distress at once.

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress, due to acidity, will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest stomach sweetener in the whole world, and besides it is harmless. Put an end to stomach distress at once by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by fermentation due to excessive acids in stomach.

Get Behind the Wheel of a Ford and Drive

TRY it just once! Ask your friend to let you "pilot" his car on an open stretch. You'll like it, and will be surprised how easily the Ford is handled and driven.

If you have never felt the thrill of driving your own car, there is something good in store for you. It is vastly different from just riding—being a passenger. And especially so if you drive a Ford.

Young boys, girls, women and even grandfathers—thousands of them—are driving Ford cars and enjoying it. A Ford stops and starts in traffic with exceptional ease and smoothness, while on country roads and hills its strength and power show to advantage.

Buy a Ford and you will want to be behind "the wheel" constantly.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Premier Brewster is dangerously ill at Calgary.

Charlie Chaplin in a good one, at the Isis, Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Macneil visited Lethbridge on Monday to hear Harry Lauder.

Archie and Tom Prentice went up to Calgary yesterday to hear the famous Harry Lauder.

The Hosmer Lumber Co. has closed down temporarily owing to the deep snow in the bush.

U. S. Consul Rasmussen, who has been seriously ill for the past month, is slowly recovering.

John Dingwall, of Hosmer, was arrested and fined $50 this week for having liquor in his possession.

Coroner G. B. Thomson held an inquiry into the death of Mrs. Levy, of Galloway, on Tuesday of this week.

There will be 18 episodes of "The Great Secret" serial shown at the Isis, instead of 15 as originally advertised.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lowe leave this evening for Detroit, where they will visit with Mrs. Lowe's mother for several weeks.

Chas. Lange, of Newgate, is leaving today for Halcyon Hot Springs. He is suffering from an attack of rheumatism.

J. A. Broley, of Newgate, is in the city today. He says their new mill is running smoothly. They have been cutting for about a week.

Pearl White in "Pearl of the Army" at the Orpheum, Monday and Tuesday. This is the 13th episode and excitement is growing intense.

Wm. S. Hart in "Double Crossed," a two reel Ince Kay-Bee production, at the Orpheum, Wednesday and Thursday, March 6 and 7.

There will be a meeting of the Amalgamated Patriotic Fund Executive in the Council Chamber at three o'clock, Sunday, March 3.

Pte. A. McLeod, of Calgary, is spending a few days with his mother here after being ill in the Calgary hospital for several weeks.

Fair Wage Officer Harrison, assistant to the director of Coal Operations, was in the city this week in connection with the Miners Convention.

The ninth episode of the "Secret Kingdom" entitled "The Swamp Adder," is a thriller. See it at the Orpheum, Friday and Saturday.

Don't forget Jack Pickford in the new Paramount production "The Ghost House," at the Isis, Wednesday and Thursday. It's a Paramount.

Enid Bennet in "Happiness" at the Orpheum, Monday and Tuesday, March 4 and 5, a picture that everybody should make an effort to see.

On Wednesday last 14 members and Bandmaster Harrison of the Salvation Army, went to Cranbrook to attend the funeral of Mrs. Cox, who died on Saturday, Feb. 23. Mrs. Cox is the mother of Capt. Cox, who was stationed in Fernie for some time.

On Monday and Tuesday, Douglas Fairbanks will be on the Isis screen in "The Man From Paintêd Post." He is famous for his well known stunts but in the new screen story he surpasses himself — and as a cowpuncher he has ample opportunities. See "The Man From Painted Post."

On Saturday last the Ermaroco boarding house at Michel was raided by the provincial police and 12 persons arrested for violating the liquor act. Three others escaped just before the raid. The case came up for hearing on Monday, but was adjourned for a week, the prisoners being released on $100 bail each.

M. A. Kastner was called east on Saturday last owing to the sudden death of his father at Stratford, Ont. Mr. Kastner, who was well known in Fernie, having spent several months here visiting his son, was a pioneer of Perth County, Ont., and known throughout Western Ontario for his racing stables. He leaves a family of five to mourn his death.

Delegate Donohoe, of Bankhead, who is in Fernie attending the Miners Convention, took a great interest in the patriotic bonspiel. He says that in Bankhead curling is the principal sport of the miners, and he was very much surprised to learn that there were so few miners among the curlers here. He thinks it is the greatest sport on earth.

Three car loads of booze arrived in the city during the past week for local consumption. The express every day is bringing in big consignments and it looks as though the town would be thoroughly stocked by April 1. All this liquor is coming in to private parties and if the new chief of police expects to keep the drunk off the street he is going to have his hands full.

Books at Half Price—See Bleasdell's window.

His Honor Judge Thompson held chambers here on Tuesday.

District Passenger Agent Proctor, of Calagary, was in the city on Wednesday.

Carl Ingham, of Hosmer, is slowly recovering in the Fernie hospital from an axe wound in the foot.

Lt.-Col. Lyons, of Blairmore, who went across with the 192nd, has returned to Canada. He is still in the east.

Jos. Aiello, who has been in the Fernie hospital undergoing an operation for appendicitis, expects to be out again tomorrow.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Benevolent Society will be held at the home of Mrs. N. E. Suddaby on Saturday at 3.30 p.m.

J. G. Billings, official liquidator for the Fernie Lumber Co., has asked permission of the courts to operate the plant this season for the benefit of the creditors. If the permission is granted it will be of great benefit to the city as the mill and bush camp will employ nearly 200 men.

Starting tonight (Friday) the shows at the local picture houses will start at 7.30, except on Saturday nights, when they will start at 7.00 o'clock sharp.

J. W. Carnwath, of Lethbridge, formerly of the Coal Co. staff, is in town auditing the books of the city of Fernie and shaking hands with old friends.

Returns received up to date from the count of the English vote place two more seats in the Unionist column. The two added are in Prince Edward Island.

The regular monthly tea of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church will be held at the home of Mrs. D. McVannell, Jaffray St., on Tuesday, March 5th, from 3.30 to 6 o'clock.

There will be a business meeting of the Ladies Guild of Christ church on Wednesday, March 6, at 3 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Hewat. All members are particularly requested to attend.

The Ladies Altar Society of the Roman Catholic church have arranged to hold a St. Patrick's Dance on the evening of the 18th of March in Victoria Hall. Tickets $1.50. Extra lady 50c.

The bodies of Jules Pouillandre and J. Redoutez, victims of the explosion in No. 3 mine last April, were recovered this week. This brings the total number recovered up to 30, leaving four still in the mine.

Small quantities of tea, sugar and butter may now be sent to the old country, sugar and tea in 1 lb. packages and butter to the weight of 2 lbs. but it must be packed in a tin box with the top soldered on.

Five stars—Ella Hall, Gretchen Lederer, Emory Johnston, Harry Holden, Winter Hall—headed by Little Zoe Rae in the Bluebird production, "My Little Boy," at the Orpheum, Wednesday and Thursday, March 6-7.

Dr. Bonnell, M.P., returned on Tuesday from Victoria, where he paid a visit to Mrs. Bonnell, who is slowly recovering from a long illness. He expects to leave in a few days for Ottawa to be at the opening of the House.

E. Heaphy, of Winnipeg, manager of the Union Lumber Co., is spending a week in town. He says that they are looking forward to a big season's cut. The mill crew have nearly all been engaged and the mill will be opened at the earliest possible moment.

Friday and Saturday the Isis management will show the well known Norma Talmadge in a new Selznick production entitled "Moths." The story is of a young girl of wealth still in her teens, bereft of parental guidance and fascinated by the subject of Cleopatra's conquests, and you have established the character of Lucy Gillam, the role played by Miss Talmadge in a greater attraction than "Poppy," the "Moths." "Moths" is said to be even star's biggest triumph under the Selznick management.

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

Mr. W. R. Wilson is in Spokane on business.

A slight bump in No. 1 South Mine this morning at Coal Creek released a quantity of gas which compelled the crew to lay off for the day.

Five men were arrested at Hosmer yesterday charged with having venison in their possession. They are employees at the camp of Baskin & Stedman. They came up this morning before Magistrate Hewat and were fined from $10 to $100 each.

Judge Whimster handed Tony Ruta a $100 touch on Tuesday for having in his possession 12 bottles of booze on Sunday night at the C.P.R. depot. It is alleged that Tony has been bootlegging on the prairie for some time and the city police finally got him with the goods. Constables Killam and Dooley made the arrest.

Cranbrook Herald: The friends of Ed. Doolan, son of M. L. Doolan, one of the oldest of the old timers in the C.P.R. service and formerly roadmaster on the Cranbrook division, will be interested to learn of Ed's. progress in France. A recent letter contained the information that after being for a time in charge of a workshop where tractors, motors, aeroplane engines, etc., were sent for repair, he could no longer resist the desire to be really "at the front" and accordingly left the shop for the trenches. Rapid promotion followed and in June, 1917, he secured his commission as Lieutenant in the Royal Engineers. In August last he was appointed District Locomotive Superintendent on the light railway system and since January 1 has been holding the important position of Army Tractor Superintendent for the Third Army South.

DRUMHELLER MINERS RETURN TO WORK

The striking Drumheller miners who returned to work on Wednesday morning did so on the understanding that the steps outlined in Mr. Armstrong's statement of that morning would be taken. In the event of these steps not being taken it was the declared intention of the men to resume the general strike again.

Mr. Armstrong's statement follows:

Calgary, Feb. 27.

I have received official notification from the Dominion government that an order in council has been passed placing the Rosedale mine under my jurisdiction.

An order has been issued notifying the company that it will be subject to the working conditions and day wage rates as set out in the "tentative agreement" under which the other mines in the Drumheller field also operate.

W. H. Armstrong,
Director of Coal Operations.

Interviewed by the Herald, J. F. Moodie, general manager of the Rosedale mine, stated that he had received the official notice from Mine Commissioner Armstrong and that he is now awaiting instructions from the directors of the company but as they are in the east he is unable meantime to predict what these instructions will be.

"The trouble did not start at the Rosedale mine," he said, "nor was it started by the Rosedale men. In fact the Rosedale men did not go out until after the mob had threatened their lives. Lein, the official organizer of the union, stated in court that he had been paid $6 a day by the U. M. W. of A. above his wages to organize the Rosedale camp, and quit after two months' effort, as he was unable to do so. The stand taken by Commissioner Armstrong will not remedy matters."

On Thursday evening the Fernie hockey team defeated the Waldo team at the Fernie rink by a score of 11-4.

In the Elsberry paper of June the 23th, 1917, there were a few diabolical remarks of rattling suggest in responding to my Epistle, and in my Second Epistle I will respond to its prudents. I will buy and send a good lot of those papers to Elsberry, Mo. I first suggest a disclose on a part of my biography as royal and all as any eight year old boy may be. You know full well if that boy's opportunity be extirpated of the company of woman as my opportunity were from two years before I was emancipated into the hands of vehement man. In the space of twenty years if any boy be thus prohibited you know that it is liable to produce a execration even to the production of that garism which is obtained by being reared under a compulsion prior to nature. He also compelled me to drink beverage during harvest, and George Irvin, were present and rebuked the idea and in case of my oldest brother going with women, the Downing family provoked that idea of him. Being thus prohibited in 1862, and in my case, Wright Mayes in 1865, and Sam Daniels in 176, and Jim Trail in 1877, to convey me often those in my presence told him of the injustice of compulsion of which I were incapable of that vehement man. Which it take quite a while for evolution and grace to evoke and replevy and supercede me as I were when I were first born and as I were when I were emancipated in royal integrity, he reared a grandson also with whom he were slack so his grandson escaped the compulsion of this injustice. Though some diabolical rumor were falsely added to this compulsion which vibrated in 1898 and in 1899 to aid in making a obscure rage upon that 120 acres of land that Iowned at that time four miles west of Elsberry, Missouri, to make it rage by suggesting it were thus.

And we observe even in California, San Francisco, in Chinatown, and Buffalo, many in Portland, Oregon, who were the execraters of hundreds of young girls by compulsion, by kidnapping and by all manner of compulsion, and when those young girls grow to years of maturity is it prudent that we impute the execration to them. And we observe a man who was compelled to break the bank and to obtain some money, when being placed before the udge and when the udge perceived by preliminary that the man was compulsed to break the bank then the judge rendered the man obvious and swinged the man who did the compulsion. I did see a colored preacher stand before a large audience and suggest that such incidents were of choice. Well if a boy be in swimming water and his nature would land him out right and if you prohibit him from the safe landing and the boy perish, who then is the execrater of the accident, do you see any choice for any compulsed child, and it is written in the volume that the same which a man sow the same shall he reap, though do we see it written in the volume that the child shall be forced to sow evil and then be forced to reap the same, which would render God a god of injustice. You see clearly that the substantiates is obvious of execration in all of those incidents.

Now, we note that King Solomon had 700 wives and 300 concubines and Solomon got into idolatry. See 1 Kings, chapter 11, verses 3-8-9. And we see that Solomon were saved by faith as he believed God. Thus we see that faith is the foundation and bed rock of all righteousness.

Sam Nemore, of Elsberry, Missouri.

And it is written, that upon this rock I build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

POWER HOUSE MEN KICK

The power house crew for the time being at least effectively wielded a club over the city council last week when they forced compliance with their demands for an increase in wages under threat of ceasing work on 24 hours' notice. That the power house crew were entitled to an increase under existing conditions is taken for granted but their coercive measures hardly seemed warranted under the circumstances. They made application for a "substantial increase" which was formally presented at the regular meeting of the council last Thursday. This application, together with those from the volunteer firemen and the city clerk's staff were referred to the respective committees to bring in a recommendation at the next regular meeting. This, however, did not meet with the wishes of the power house crew and the following morning their representative waited upon the mayor and a member of the fire, water and llight committee demanding in lordly fashion the reason why the council had not immediately complied with the request. It was pointed out that the matter was only taking the ordinary course and that whatever increase was recommended by the committee to the council in al probability would be approved at the next council meeting and also that it would be retroactive from March 1st. Every effort to persuade these employees to act fairly and reasonably failed and the request for a "substantial increase" was superceded at 3.00 p.m., Friday, by an ultimatum in effect that unless the engineers' wages were increased from $110 per month to $4.53 per day ($135.90 per month) and the firemen's from $103.00 per month to $4.16 per day ($124.80 per month) the entire power house staff would suspend operations within 24 hours.

This drastic action necessitated the calling of a special meeting of the council, thus incurring unnecessary expense upon the ratepayers, in addition to their wage increases, which we admit were justified. But this is only a further demonstration of the cause for the alleged breach between labor and employer. Employees are always eager to decry the actions of the employer as unjust and that they are forced to accept his terms but taking this case for example, when the employees have the whip hand they adopt identically the same tactics which they superficially profess to abhor.

The power house crew had no grievance other than that their request had not been granted immediately upon its being presented. They had no sound argument in support of their ultimatum or threat because never for a moment was their right to an increase denied. But in spite of this they took the position: Unless in 24 hours you do just as we say, we will quit, and the city would have been plunged into darkness and power cut off and the citizens subjected to all the inconveniences contingent upon such a situation. That, however, is only of minor consequence and our demands must be unconditionally conceded.

They won, but in that victory they sacrificed their esteem and reduced themselves in the eyes of the citizens, we believe, to a position of contempt, and their adoption of the "might is right" principle will not likely soon be forgotten.

REX BEACH'S BIG PRODUCTION, "THE AUCTION BLOCK," AT THE ORPHEUM

Another example of a play that does not depend upon a star for its popularity appears in Rex Beach's great photoplay, "The Austion Block," which comes to the Orpheum next Wednesday and Thursday.

There are no stars in the "Auction Block," although there are doubtless many in the making, for it is said that there are few more striking examples of histrionic ability than those which appear in this action. The various characterizations which figure in the story are rounded out in the great novelist's best manner, and probably as much of their force is due to this fact as to the splendid capabilities of the players themselves.

It is from a finely conceived character that the action springs, that of a young girl, Lorelei Knight, daughter of a small town politician and an ambitious but nagging mother. She is so beautiful that her parents determine to make capital of it, and bring her up carefully, hoping to reap from their sacrifices in due time by marrying her off to much money.

This p[illegible] works out very well indeed as fa[illegible] they are concerned, for, through the machinations of her worthless brother, Lorelei is given a fat part in a famous "girl show" on Broadway and subsequently is married to the dissipated young son of a millionaire.

But little time elapses before the unhappiness of this arrangement begins to manifest itself. The husband is cut off by his father and drifts rapidly down his evil path, while Lorelei becomes the bright particular star of the night world in which she figures. Presently the action of her rascal brother in attempted blackmail, and a situation which thoroughly compromises her, leads her to an awakening, and she deserts her husband.

This brings the young man to his senses, too, and he begins a struggle against the evil that envelops him, to win her back again. The circumstances which develop from this situation are intensely interesting, and thrills are contributed by a series of spectacular scenes showing the death of a number of workmen when a vat of molten metal overturns on them, a raid on a gambling den and a sensational orgy of a feast arranged by a notorious spendthrift.

FINAL RETURNS OF ELECTION

The complete returns from the soldiers' vote give the following final results for this constituency:

Bonnell		3398
Beattie		1549

The soldiers' vote results were as follows:

Continental	695	68
North American	136	12
England	343	17
	1174	97

None of the reports give any of the soldiers' vote to Mr. Biggs, the Labor candidate, who will lose his deposit.

The final returns for Skeena give Col. Peck a majority of 869 over Fred Stork.

A Ratepayer.

NEW SCHOOL ACCOMMODATION

Fernie, B.C., March 5, 1918.

To the Ratepayers of the Fernie School District:

For a number of years the school accommodation in the Fernie School District has been inadequate, and the 1917 and 1918 School Boards have been considering the building of a new school to be known as a High School, but for some time to be used for both High and Public School purposes. At the present time there are three rooms being used outside the Public School and Annex and West Fernie schools, and by the fall there will probably be four. The Board has endeavored to secure the very best available accommodation but the same is not in the least satisfactory and has become more or less condemned by the school authorities and by the Medical Health Officer, and the parents of the children in these outside schools and the teachers themselves are thoroughly dissatisfied with the accommodation.

After a great deal of trouble the Board has at last been offered a suitable site at a fair valuation and is on the eve of putting to the people a by-law for the purchase of the site and the building of the new school. It has come to the attention of the Board, however, that several of the ratepayers in the city have signified their intention of fighting against any by-law along the lines indicated and it is apparent that there is some, and perhaps considerable opposition. Putting a by-law to the people entails an expenditure of something over $200 and the Board is of opinion that before any such steps are taken it would be a wise course to endeavor to ascertain whether there is any real opposition. Consequently it has been decided to hold a public meeting on Sunday evening, March 10, in the Orpheum theatre at the hour of 8.45 o'clock p.m. The reason Sunday evening has been chosen is that the mines are working on other nights and a large number of ratepayers are unable to attend unless the meeting is held on Sunday.

I might say for the information of the public that the question of building a school has been fully and carefully gone into by the Board, and not only do all those in authority here consider it absolutely imperative to go on with the work, but the Government of the Province of British Columbia (which is refusing grants for public works all through the province) has decided, after the School Inspectors and Minister of Education visited Fernie, to give $25,000 towards the building of a school, provided we supply a similar amount, and all these officials have stated that it is absolutely essential that a school should be built immediately.

There has been considerable talk around town in regard to the increased taxation for this year, which has jumped from 29 mills to about 38, and in this connection I might say that the increase is not in any way due to the cost of keeping up the schools except in regard to a small increase made to the teaching staff due to a more equitable method being adopted as to promotion from year to year. This increase, however, only amounts to two or three hundred dollars. There is also in the neighborhood of $2000 increase in school expense due to the extra room which was put on this year in the Calgary Cattle Co. block, but otherwise there has been no increase. The other increase in the mill rate has been due to the loss of liquor licenses, which amount to $4700, the estimated reduction in the amount of police court fines ,$700; loss on electric light due to increased cost of coal and upkeep, $4000; making a total of $11,400, which represents 8 mills on the dollar.

At the meeting in question everything will be fully discussed, and it is hoped that each and every ratepayer who can attend will avail himself of the opportunity as the matter is of very great importance to the City at large.

Yours truly,

Fernie Board of School Trustees,

A. J. Moffatt, Secy.

BANK EMPLOYEES CALLED

Ottawa, March 6.—Two thousand bank employees will be called up for military service under a judgment rendered this morning by Hon. Justice Duff, central appeal judge. Of this number 834 will be called up on March 15. The remainder are to report for duty in three drafts, approximately equal, on May 15, July 15, and September 15.

The military service exemption appeal claims of the following have been dismissed by the central appeal judge at Ottawa: A. Dragon, merchant, Fernie; H. C. L. Sloan, electrician, Grand Forks; John Z. Boyovsky, miner Ladysmith.

Don't forget the St. Patrick's dance on March 18th.

A. I. FISHER TALKS TO HOUSE

A new note in the discussion on the necessity of development of the resources of B. C. was sounded by A. I. Fisher, Liberal member for Fernie, in his speech on the motion on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, when the legislature resumed its sessions.

The address as moved by Mr. Fisher and seconded by Mr. Barrow was as follows:

"That an humble address be presented to His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, thanking His Honor for his gracious Speech at the opening of the present session.

"We much appreciate the recent visit of His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire, Governor General of Canada, and assure His Excellency that, both as the representatives of our gracious King, and for his own sake, His Excellency will ever be a welcome visitor to British Columbia.

"We are sensible of the importance of and deeply grateful for the entry of the United States into the war, a one of the Allied countries, on the side of liberty and justice, and we reaffirm the unanimous support of the people of British Columbia in achieving the aims of the Allies.

"Our grief over the loss of so many gallant men is tempered by pride in and admiration for the splendid heroism of all branches of Canada's overseas forces.

"We welcome to the legislative Assembly its first woman member, and feel certain that the recognition of the right of women to a share in the legislative functions of their country will be productive of much good.

"We note with appreciation that His Honor's government was represented by the Provincial Secretary at a Federal conference respecting returned soldiers. Our hearty co-operation will be given in all measures for the care of those who return mentally or physically affected.

"We will be pleased to consider proposals respecting the minerals in the Esquimalt and Nanaimo railway belt, and for the removal of disabilities against acquiring mineral claims in Strathcona Park in order to encourage prospecting in those areas.

"We warmly approve of the action of His Honor's government in securing expert advice on the electro-thermic treatment of iron ores, and we will give our best consideration to proposed measures for the encouragement of iron and steel industries.

"We observe that the government proposes to submit a measure dealing with the production of spruce for aeroplane purposes, to which important matter we will give fitting attention.

"We regret that the situation in connection with several irrigation projects has reached an acute stage, and note that legislation will be proposed to meet this.

"We commend the action of His Honor's government in regard to proposals for caring for neglected and destitute children.

"Legislation dealing with labor matters will have our careful attention.

"We note that a measure will be submitted relating to the supply of seed grain to farmers.

We are pleased to learn that proposals for legislation based upon the findings of the Board of Taxation will be submitted, and we can assure His Honor of our earnest consideration for all plans directed to such coordination of the several taxes as will bring about a more equitable distribution of the burden of taxation among the various economic interests in the province.

"We are glad to know that steps will be taken to exempt the property of soldiers and sailors on overseas service from sale for unpaid provincial taxes.

"The Public Accounts for the past fiscal year and the estimates for the ensuing year will receive our close scrutiny.

"We assure His Honor that all measures laid before us shall receive our attentive and serious consideration."

The member for Fernie expressed the opinion, when devoting his attention to the question of the development of the iron and steel industry in the province, that the time has arrived when the people of the province might well rely upon themselves rather than to look to the Federal government for assistance, especially at the present time when the Dominion has its hands full attending to the pressing wartime problems. Co-operation, he believed, in the financing of the province's needs, would meet requirements and he instanced the success of the recent Victory bond issue as a sample of what the people of the province can do.

The member for Fernie who last year coined the comprehensive phrase "the simultaneous development and cor-ordination of industries," has another one to offer. It is not so much a political democracy as an industrial democracy that British Columbia needs, he said.

It was natural that the speakers should refer to the recent by-elections, but Mr. Fisher saw little in them to comfort the opposition, and, he declared, taking the legislative and administrative record for the past 12 months, and the anticipated program to be brought down, the government was entitled to every commendation. He laughed at the opposition claims to have been responsible for the granting of the franchise to the women, congratulated Vancouver on having chosen a woman as its sixth member in the house, and cautioned the independent members, Mrs. Smith and J. H. Hawthornthwaite, against the wiles of the leader of the opposition. He admitted that the government's taxation policy was not one calculated to enthuse the electors, and that, perhaps, was the real explanation of the outcome of the by-elections, but it was a policy that, in the long run, would justify itself. To the carrying out of the premier's policy of no patronage, he credited the government defeats at the by-elections, though admitting that that policy had not been carried far enough as there still remains part of the Bowser machine. Had the "casualty list" been longer the results would have been different. But the government would have no particular objection to seeing the newly elected members for Alberni and Similkameen on the floor. Mr. Fisher condescendingly remarked, but he cautioned Mr. Hawthornthwaite that the latter had never before been called upon to oppose a government so liberal, so radical.

Complimenting the Minister of Lands upon the legislation designed to assist the speedy production of spruce for aeroplane purposes, Mr. Fisher compared it, from the standpoint of the Empire, with that passed last year to assist mineral development. He pointed to the fact that British Columbia contains approximately 400,000,000,000 feet, one-half of Canada's supply, but he urged the need of securing expert loggers to prevent waste, saying at such work a logger would be doing his bit fully as well as if at the front.

Expressing his satisfaction at the setlement of the P. G. E. difficulty and saying the Minister of Railways had at least done something. Mr. Fisher blamed the present financial conditions upon the late Government's railway policies.

Must Help Itself

Assuming that the Province possesses the iron deposits and that conditions are favorable for the establishment of an iron and steel manufacturing industry, Mr. Fisher expressed doubt that in going to Ottawa seking assistance, this Province is doing the right thing. Here on Vancouver Island all the resources in generous abundance exist. Do not the people of British Columbia possess faith in themselves to develope their own wealth, especially in this time of Empire stress? He believed they do. Not alone would such an industry aid in winning the war, but would also build up the industrial developement of the Province after the war is over, and especially to the end that industrial work may be available for the men on their return from the front. Why, in the face of the noble response for funds for the Victory loan the people of the Province could not also provide amply for industrial progress, was something the member for Fernie professed not to know. To wait for private enterprise to take hold to develope the resources of Vancouver Island or any other section merely meant that ultimately a few millionaires would be translated into multi-millionaires.

A strong plea for developement of the agricultural industry hand-in-hand with that of mining was made by Mr. Fisher, who blamed the late government for a policy under which large tracts of good land adjacent to mining sections were left undeveloped and settlers forced to go far away where they found no market for their product. That was one reason for the increasing cost of living in the mining centres. He strongly advocated the introduction of an eight-hour law, a measure the government would bring down. Localization of production to the end that the farmers would find a ready market at hand was an imperative necessity.

Mr. W. R. Ross: Is this not one of the problems this government was

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

This Is Labor's War"

When the carpenters and joiners employed in the United States shipyards on the Atlantic coast went out on strike President Wilson intervened and asked them: "Will you co-operate, or will you obstruct?" And then he said to body of men have the right in the present circumstances of the nation to strike until every method of adjustment has been tried to the limit. If you do not act on this principle you are undoubtedly giving aid and comfort to the enemy whatever may be your conviction." The American Federation of Labor also took a definite stand on the subject. "This is Labor's war," was the declaration. "It must be won by labor at every stage in the fight and the final victory must be to count for humanity."

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a small bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

The Ford Saves the Hay and Oats the Horses Eat

It has been estimated that five acres of land are required to maintain one horse for a year, and that the same five acres would produce nearly enough food for two people. If 50,000 Canadian farmers each replaced one horse with a Ford, 250,000 acres would be added to the Nation's source of food supply and enough extra food made available to feed 100,000 people.

Just think what a great service this means to the country at the present time and the benefit to the farmers from the sale of the food produced on this acreage.

A Ford car also saves the farmer a week or more of valuable time each year, which can be used for further productive work. The Ford travels three times as fast as a horse and rig—costs less to run and keep, and is far easier to take care of. With labor so scarce and high priced, time means money, so do not delay in getting your Ford.

VINOL MAKES CHILDREN STRONG

And Invigorates Old People

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol as printed below contain the elements needed to improve the health of delicate children and restore strength to old people.

℞ Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascarin.

Those who have puny, ailing or run-down children or aged parents may prove this at our expense.

Besides the good it does children and the aged there is nothing like Vinol to restore strength and vitality to weak, nervous women and overworked, run-down men.

Try it. If you are not entirely satisfied, we will return your money without question; that proves our fairness and your protection. Millions of people have been convinced this way.

The Word "Bolsheviki"

The word "Bolsheviki" in Russian, means "majority." The particular Bolsheviki the world is now talking about are the majority of the Russian Social Democratic party. The Social Democratic Party has its main strength among the industrial classes in the cities. The Social Revolutionist party of Russia, the other great Socialist party counts the vast majority of its members among the peasantry. Distinct from the Bolsheviki at present also are the Mensheviki, or majority of the Social Democrats. It must be understood, however, that the Bolsheviki, though their very name mean "majority," are not quite an actual majority of the Socialist and Socialistic urban population.

"HENPECKED HENRY" COMING TO GRAND

Billy Oswald the famous comedian who plays the part of the henpecked husband in "Henpecked Henry" is without doubt the best and most favorably known comedian in Canada. His early theatrical training was received in Scotland but for the past few years he has been seen in Canada with such attractions as "Alladin," "The Girl From Nowhere," "Florodora," etc. Mr. Oswald with this attraction has been surrounded with a number of first class artists including Katherine Sheldon, an old favorite in Western Canada, Beatrice Carmen, another former member of the "Aladdin" Company, Claire Coupez, Chas. Bates, Phil Ainsworth and a big "Sunshine Girls" chorus. The plot of the play is farcical and deals with the trials and tribulations of a henpecked husband, who innocently gets into a number of compromising situations that cause further henpecking much to his disgust. The story is told in a very novel and out of the ordinary way and is a scream from start to finish. A number of the late song hits will be interpolated during the action of the piece. This attraction will be seen at the Grand Theatre on Saturday, March 9.

FORMAN WRITES VIVIAN MARTIN SCENARIO

Young Tom Forman, the clever young actor who has recently appeared in several Paramount pictures, has recently transferred his activities to the scenario end of the business, in which he bids fair to score a tremendous success. His first venture along this line is the story he wrote especially for Vivian Martin, "The Trouble Buster," which is to be shown at the Isis theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, March 12 and 13.

"The Trouble Buster" is brimful of optimism and charm of both these clever young stars who seem to have injected therein all the appeal of their two winning personalities. Vivian Martin is widely known as "Miss Merry" for her sunny disposition, while Mr. Forman's smile is famous. Thus it would seem that the name was exceptionally well chosen and that a happy hour's entertainment is insured in "The Trobue Buster."

Lay troubles away and see the big musical comedy, "Henpecked Henry," at the Grand, Saturday, March 9.

CLIP THIS AND PIN ON WIFE'S DRESSER

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns or calluses so they lift off with fingers.

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone, tell him to order a small bottle for you.

Don't Be Stung

UNDREDS of B. C. citizens have been badly "Stung" by sending orders for liquor to unknown Eastern and Middle West concerns. In return they received shipments which are short on case lots—contain goods other than that ordered and paid for— and liquors not of the brand or strength quoted. Substitution is a general practice and spurious brands common.

DON'T BUY LIQUORS FROM CONCERNS YOU DON'T KNOW — Gold Seal, Ltd., has been in business in British Columbia for over 20 years. It is a responsible firm. It stands back of its goods.

OLIVER IS PREMIER

Victoria, March 6.—Hon. John Oliver, minister of railways and agriculture has been chosen as the successor of the late Hon. H. C. Brewster as premier of the province. He is a familiar figure in the political life of the province and is a fighter. He was very close to the late premier. He has given close attention to the railroad problems of the province.

John Oliver was born in Hartington, Derbyshire, England, on July 31, 1856. His parents came to Canada and settled in Ontario in 1870. At the age of 11 years John Oliver became a wage earner in the lead and iron mines of Derbyshire, and at Maryboro, Wellington county, Ontario he worked on the farm in the summer and in the woods in winter up to 1877. About that time he secured employment with a C. P. R .survey party and in the same year took a homestead farm in Surrey Municipality, B.C. In 1880 he acquired the title to his present farm in East Delta and overcoming drainage conditions has brought it to a high state of efficiency. In the course of his life at Delta he operated a threshing machine and a portable saw mill. In 1900 he was elected to the legislature for Delta and after years in opposition took a place in Mr. Brewster's cabinet as minister of railways and agriculture.

SPLENDID TYPE OF PUBLIC SERVANT

(Lethbridge Herald)

H. C. Brewster was an honest public man, too honest for certain elements in the Liberal party in British Columbia. When the Liberal party appealed to the people of British Columbia in the general election of 1916 it had a platform. When the party was successful Mr. Brewster endeavored to carry out the platform but was combatted by men, who thought evidently that platforms were intended as mere camouflage for elections and not for adoption in administration methods or in legislation. It was because Mr. Brewster was honest and upright that he did his utmost to put the platform into effect. He had many obstacles to meet but he did not yield to the machine politicians and he passes away with a reputation for the highest type of public service during his short career at the head of affairs in the neighboring province. British Columbia will certainly have difficulty in replacing Mr. Brewster.

One of the most worthy tributes paid to Mr. Brewster is that of the Saskatoon Star, for it is a perfectly correct estimate of the deceased premier. It says:

"Premier Brewster lived long enough to make a name for himself as a square and honest politician. The fact is, he was a little too square, a little too honest, a little too unyielding to suit the men who were his chief political supporters. His spirit will march on. He helped to teach Canadian politicians that it pays to be honest, to be four square, to be strong and straightforward and to put the welfare of the country ahead of every other consideration."

PAT BURNS PROJECTS A NEW RAILWAY

Edmonton, March 4.—P. Burns, packing magnate of Calgary, is the financial backer of the new Calgary and South-Western Railway, a bill to incorporate which has been introduced in the house by George Hoadley, M.L.A., of Okotoks. The principal object of Mr. Burns is to construct a line which will tap the immense anthricite coal fields which he holds under lease in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains southwest of Calgary.

According to the report, it is intended to begin construction on this line at once in order to bring the coal into the Calgary market next winter if possible.

Section 16 of the act gives the Calgary and South-Western Railway Company the right to enter into an agreement with the Alberta, Hudson Bay Railway Company for the acquiring of the route of that company, which covers generally the route of that authorized the new company in the present act.

This route is described as "from point within or near the city of Calgary by the most feasible route to a point on the western boundary of the province in township 19, 19 or 20; also from a point on this railway route to a point at or near the town of Okotoks on the Calgary and Edmonton railway.

BLAME ALIEN MINERS

Toronto, March 6.—Resentment at the fact that alien enemies are earning from $6 to $10 a day while our own flesh and blood are in the trenches at $1.10. flashed out at the close of the morning session, by D. B. Hanna, vice-president of the Canadian Northern railway, before the C. N. R. arbitrators today .

Mr. Hanna had referred to the coal director which the government has appointed, not referring to Mr. Magrath. His principal occupation, Mr. Hanna believed was directing the miners to get increased wages.

The price of coal had been put up from $2.10 at the mines to $3. A serious and lamentable thing for the railways. "Sixty per cent of the miners are alien enemies," he said, "and while they are earning $6 to $10 a day our own flesh and blood are in the trenches at $1.10. It is an outrageous situation."

Sir Wm. Meredith—If they strike what are you going to do?

Wallace Nesbitt—Shoot them.

A. R. Butler—We won't take time to do that just now.

Mr. Nesbitt added that the high rate of wages had induced a disinclination on the part of the workers to work for more than a short time each week elected to solve. What has it done?

A. I. FISHER TALKS TO HOUSE

Mr. Fisher: While my friend was Minister of Lands he opened up sections forty and fifty miles from Fernie for settlement, when the product could not be got to a market, while he left the Crown lands adjoining that town undeveloped and untaxed, but not a word was heard from him in fovor of a change in that policy. That is why he left Fernie and went to Fort George.

On the question of the returned soldier, Mr. Fisher suggested government assistance to industries in which employment could be given the returning men and urged the necessity of continuity of employment. He expressed gratification at the entry of the United States into the war and paid an eloquent tribute to the bravery of the Canadian who went overseas, declaring his certainty that the last shot would be fired upon the soil of Germany.

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, cleanse little bowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

The annual report of the Fire Chief shows that during 1917 the losses amounted to $17,314.50, which is the greatest loss for any given year since the big fire of 1908. The bulk of this amount is confined to two fires, namely, the Cole residence in the Annex the night the valve was dynamited, $4500, and the fire in the store of N. E. Suddaby to the extent of the insurance, $8,500, which was considerably under the actual loss. The fire apparatus is reported to be in first class working order and value of the emergency hose boxes distributed throughout the residential section of the city has been amply demonstrated since their installation.

Takes Important Position

Arthur Kennedy, who operated a Linotype at the Ledger office for a couple of years after the fire, has taken a position with the McLean Publishing Co., of Toronto as editor of the Financial Post. The Guelph Mercury has the following to say of Mr. Kennedy:

"It is with more than ordinary regret that the Mercury has said good by to A. R. Kennedy. He was associated with this paper for more than seven years for over six of which he filled the important position of editor In all his work he gave the best that was in him. That is saying much, for few newspaper writers possess more versatile gifts. He was equally at home in producing the reasoned article or the humorous paragraph. The forces of the McLean Publishing Co., Toronto, will be enriched by the acquisition of Mr. Kennedy, who will edit the Financial Post and three other of this company's publications. The best wishes, not only of the Mercury, and all associated with it, but of this community generally, will go with him in his new work."

"THE NARROW TRAIL"

For Friday and Saturday of this week the management of the Isis announce the release by Artcraft of the first new production starring the famous Wm. S. Hart. Hart is the greatest delineator of Western character. A great many critics concede that he has been responsible for the success of the Triangle Studios which blazed their way into the picture world a short time ago. The title of the new photoplay is "The Narrow Trail." It co-stars Fritz, Hart's famous pony, which should be of interest to the thousands of admirers in all parts of the country. In the cast are some of the best known Ince players, the cowboys and roughriders who are familiar to photoplay goers the world over.

RE LETTERS TO ENEMY COUNTRIES

It has been found that the charge previously stipulated (25c) for the forwarding of correspondence from Canada to enemy and enemy occupied territory through the medium of Thos. Cook & Son, Montreal, does not cover the costs of such transmission, and in future the charge for forwarding such correspondence will be 35c per letter.

This amount is to be remitted by means of a Postal Note, together with the letter which is to be forwarded to Thos. Cook & Son, 530 St. Catherine Street, West, Montreal, in accordance with the instructions which may be obtained on application from Thomas Cook & Son.

All enquiries on this subject are to be made to Thos. Cook & Son, 530 St. Catharine Street West, Montreal, who will furnish a copy of the regulations to be observed in sending such correspondence. When writing Thos. Cook & Son a stamped addressed envelope must be enclosed if a reply is desired.

Too much attention cannot be paid to the regulations governing this correspondence, as any item which contravenes these regulations in any way will not be transmitted.

MEN AND WOMEN TO EARN MORE MONEY

The most powerful single influence in greater production, and consequently in greater earning power, is the energy of the worker.

To work his or her best, the worker must be in possession of perfect health. So many who start the day's work with full vigor, tire as the day's work goes on and are forced to make frequent stops to relieve an aching back.

This backache is not due to the work, but to defective kidney action, and will disappear if treatment with Gin Pills is resorted to.

We have a number of testimonials on file from men who have had to give up work on account of backache, rheumatism, and the various ills that follow poor Kidney action. Gin Pills enabled these people to resume steady work again, with the vigor of youth and all the happiness of unfettered activity.

We will gladly send a free trial of Gin Pills to all who feel the need of this tested remedy, or we urge you to buy from your dealer on the strict understanding that your money will be returned by us if Gin Pills fail to benefit your particular case, accepting your word on this matter. Gin Pills are 50c. a box or 6 boxes for $2.50, Write for sample to National Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto, or to the U.S. address Na-Dru-Co Inc., 202 Main St., Buffalo N.Y. 122

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get relief in five minutes by neutralizing acidity. Put an end to such stomach distress now by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by food fermentation due to excessive acid in stomach.

After 38 years in the Liquor Business The Government Says Get Out

Liquor only exists for two purposes--to drink and to sell. Between our bonded warehouses in Montreal, Winnipeg, Dryden, Ont., and Virden, Man., we carry over a quarter of a million dollar stock of liquors. We can't drink it. We've got to sell it, and have only a few weeks time to do it. That's the "why" of this big price-cutting sale.

ELKO NOTES

(By Fred Roo)

Mrs. Billy Williamson passed through Elko for Baynes Lake on Saturday, returning from the coast, where she had been visiting her husband, who is in the military hospital there from wounds received in France.

Mrs. Jack Ingham and daughter Jean, of Cranbrook, spent the week in Elko the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hirtz, Dreghorn Villa, Riverside Park.

Jim Thistlebeak says, train your mind to delight people. Don't follow the crowd but step softly among human hearts. Stop wailing over flowers that will never bloom on the north side of your house. Go round to the south side and start a new garden. Decorate your centre table with a copy of this great family paper and be convinced that no person could be saved from drowning if there wasn't any water. You can run a store without advertising and you can wink at a girl in the dark, but what's the use.

Music as advertised in a Vancouver paper:

"Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," with illustrated cover, 35c.

"Trust Her Not" for 75c.

"Home Sweet Home" in one flat, 15c

Messrs. Broley and Nolan, who own the mill one mile north of the Roosville Post Office and twelve miles from Newgate, motored to Flagstone and took the train to Fernie and returned the next day with the south bound cannon ball. They started cutting last week and are cutting the best clear lumber ever seen in these hills. They expect to be shipping from Flagstone in a few weeks and this will make Flagstone a shipping point for three mills.

James Findley, of Shawnigan Lake, was down to Flagstone visiting with the Joyce Bros. of the Rock Creek Lumber Co., this week.

Jim Thistlebeak says that according to the papers that city of the plains known throughout the world as Calgary, seems to have an overdose of imbecile Sunday observance kill joys. Do these people know that Christ stopped every funeral that came his way and sent the mourners home singing. Funeral sermons were too sad for him to preach. Every sick room he entered became a health resort. He made graveyards unpopular. We wonder what he would think of these kill joys whose looks would remind you of a seven year famine. If he came to Calgary today, report says he Visited Victoria. Do you know that the kingdom of God is joy. You've heard of the minister who was so chilly when he said grace it froze his coffee. May God have mercy on Calgary.

Mrs. J. P. Stocks, Clear Springs Farm, Roosville, expects to leave for Ottawa shortly and points in Nova Scotia.

Report says that there is a woman in Cranbrook so frugal that she takes off the medicines she finds around the house to keep them from going to waste.

Old Man Simpson, editor of the Kamloops Standard-Sentinel, who in the early days of East Kootenay kept Cranbrook on the map with hot air like front scenery and banana trimmings, is now inviting the residents of the coast cities to move to Kamloops if they want to get in the sunshine.

Miss E. B. Paterson, who is teaching school at the Kootenay Orchards near Cranbrook, and was for two and half years in charge of the school at Roosville where the big red apples grow, tells a good story of the first fall she was there and shortly after the deer season came in. She told a certain pupil to compose a brief essay in which he was to say something about all the days in the week, and the youngster turned in the following: Last Monday my brother Dick and I killed a deer in the cabbage patch and mother told us that the meat would last over Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The Downs and Reinecke Lumber Co., Roosville Valley, who have been sleigh hauling all winter to Flagstone and made their last haul last week, will put on several tractors when the roads permit. They are shipping their lumber to Claresholm and other prairie points and are getting fancy prices on account of the high grade lumber they are shipping. It is expected that another mill will go in about three miles north of the Roosville post office and that the government will build the short cut off from the valley to Flagstone, which will also be a great help to the farmers.

W. H. Dobson, of Medicine Hat, the well known flour and feed man, said the government had camouflaged the whole business and made things worse for him than they did for Old Man Brown when they kicked him out of heaven.

Patrons of the screen will be interested in the first appearance of the doubtable Bill Hart under the "Artcraft" auspices in a great story entitled "The Narrow Trail." Bill don't need any introduction to a Fernie audience, having long ago established a reputation as the cowboy par excellence. See him at the Isis on Friday and Saturday.

THE LATEST DELINATOR

W. R. ROSS STIRS THINGS

Victoria, March 6.—In an hour and a half speech full of irony and sarcasm W. R. Ross, former member for Fernie and one time minister of lands, now representative in the legislature for Fort George, twitted the government members unmercifully today. Mr. Ross said the government, almost ever since inauguration, had pursued a policy of "laissez faire," or, in upper country vernacular, "get by." It had gone along the course of least resistance and by a plentiful use of camouflage expected to deceive the public. The rebuffs given the administration in bye-elections served to show that the people were not misled. Minister by minister, from Premier Oliver to Dr. McLean, the speaker scored the cabinet, and so biting seemed his comment that time after time Premier Oliver rose to his feet to interrupt. The premier was up at least 15 times and Mr. Speaker Keene finally had to instruct the government to do less interrupting.

Mr. Ross covered a wide range. First, he pointed out where the government had failed in its pre-election no-patronage promises. Then he discussed the expensive Fort George by-elections inquiry, and despite the protests of Mr. Manson, of Omenica, he succeeded in getting before the house a statement of the results of that commission, which, he said, showed that affidavits produced against him and on which the investigation was based, were false. Several of the men who swore to them had been drunk at the time, he stated. He demanded that Premier Oliver produce a concrete platform for the future to indicate what course the new government intended to pursue and strongly urged upon the government the necessity of giving more serious attention to the returned soldier question without merely attempting to "sluff it off on Ottawa."

The government members sat silent and Mr. Ross attacked them, naming them one by one in his denunciation of those who failed to give support to the Unionist government which swept the country in the federal election. The provincial Liberal members for the most part had only played politics in that issue, he declared. Mr. Ross called upon the new premier to express himself on the subject, but Mr. Oliver declined.

Mr. Ross expressed pleasure at the settlement of the Pacific Great Eastern, but urged that it be extended to Fort George and on to the Peace River country as soon as possible. He pointed out that although Liberals had been loud in their charges of fraud against the Land Act in connection with staking agents, the minister of lands had not yet removed the offending section.

Dealing with the land settlement board, which, he claimed, had been given too great powers, he stated that in his opinion the board was the most useless institution created in the province and its members for more than a year had done nothing but draw their salaries. He rapped the minister of lands for closing up the Toronto and prairie timber agencies of the province, pointing out that no pains should have been spared to develope this industry in order that the market might be held till the present abnormal wartime demand disappeared. He accused the lands department of being slothful in connection with developing the market for British Columbia forest products, and pointed by way of contrast to many admiring comments on the timber policy of the old government made by outsiders.

Twitting the minister of mines for his paper smelter and diamond drilling legislation, he asked what smelters or sampling works had ever been built under this legislation or what diamond drilling had been done. All Hon. Mr. Sloan would do in reply was to grin broadly, he said.

Concluding, the former minister urged an aggressive mining policy for the benefit of the prospector as well as the big owner for the development of the iron and steel industry by means of a substantial subsidy appropriation, for a land policy which would mean real colonization, for a permanent market creating development of the provincial timber resources, for complete and adequate irrigation legislation and for proper attention to the needs of war veterans.

Mr. Ross received several compliments upon his speech.

"The Auction Block" will grip and hold you from the first moment to the last. The life action which has made Rex Beach's novels loved wherever books are known fills every reel; there is a "punch" in every scene. Among the more stirring moments are a fight in a New York gambling house raided by the police; the overturning of a great pot of molten steel in a Pittsburg mill and the engulfing of a score of workmen; the lavish banquet given by the steel millionaire at which the "souvenirs" for the young women guests are golden meshbags, and so on almost without number.

"SORE SPOT" BREAKS OUT

The cty council met in regular session last evening, when all were present with the exception of Ald. Dudley, who is still confined to his home on account of illness.

The minutes of the last regular meeting and an intervening emergent meeting, were adopted as read.

A deputation consisting of W. J. Claridge and E. K. Stewart, applying for a grant from the city on behalf of the Returned Soldiers Club, was heard. It was announced that tentative arrangements had been made for acquiring three rooms in the 41 Market Co. block, which are to be furnished and opened up within a week. This club will be the local headquarters for resident and visiting returned boys, and it is the intention to make same as pleasant as possble. After discussing the matter at some length, it was moved by Brooks, seconded by Dicken, that a grant of $250 be made to the Returned Soldiers Club and the motion was unanimously carried. E. K. Stewart expressed hearty appreciation at the decision and assured the council that they had responded to the appeal as fully as had been expected. Mr. Claridge also thanked the council and stated that the Returned Soldiers' Club was not to be confused with the Great War Veterans Association, but was purely a local organization, and with a vew to making it a permanent success the affairs would be administered by responsible business men of the city.

Harry Martin appeared and directed the attention of the council to an account for lumber used in connection with certain repairs, etc., performed at the city park for the Labor Day celebration. This account amounted to $103 and was charged against Gladstone Local Union and of which they had now paid $57. With regard to the balance the Local Union felt in view of the fact that the city would derive all the benefit of these improvements in future that the council therefore should asume the remaining liability. A cheque in settlement of the amount owing by Gladstone Local Union will be issued but with the distinct understanding that the city will then become the owner of the structures in question and all the loose lumber remaining at the park.

A lengthy communication from H. Braithwaite dealing with the powerhouse question and the qualificatons of some of the employees re-opened the recent controversy and from the discussion it was quite evident that the majority of the council very strongly resent the methods adopted to force the recent settlement. City Electrician Finn during this discussion was brought up on the carpet relative to certain applications received by him at the time the last appointment on the power house staff was made. His Worship and Ald. Jackson questioned Mr. Finn closely in this regard, from which it developed that the appointment had been made by Mr. Finn and that two applications (one written and one verbal) received had not been referred to the fire, water and light committee, or anybody, and he had personally made the appointment. With reference to departmental heads assuming authority, His Worship pointedly remarked that the council this year would not permit such indifference as apparently had been countenanced by former councils. An investigation as to the qualifications of power house employees will determine whether or not the city is violating the statutes and if so the matter will be speedily rectified.

A written request was received from the school board asking that a by-law be prepared and submitted to the ratepayers for additional school accommodation to the extent of $46,000. This was referred to the finance committee.

The question of the Annex Sewer debentures, which have been held on hand for some time awaiting a favorable market, when same will be sold and the installation of the Annex sewer system commenced. It was very clearly demonstrated that on account of there being such a large variety of gilt-edged national securities on the market at the present time that it would be almost impossible to dispose of these debentures and realize anything like par value. In view of this the only apparent solution will be to re-issue the Annex Sewer debentures at a much higher interest bearing rate and this matter will be considered in the near future.

A circular quotation for "fertilizer" was received from the Provincial deputy minister of agriculture but as the city fathers have not received any urgent requests for this commodity the communication was filed.

District Engineer Cummings forwarded written acceptance of the city's proposal for the rental of the rock crusher and asked that he receive prompt notification when the government may have the use of this equipment.

A further communication relative to the proposed introduction of the iron and steel industry in this province suggesting that the city have a representative accompany the delegation to Ottawa shortly and lay the matter before the federal authorities, was filed without any action being taken.

Sealed tenders for kalsomining and renovating the interior of the city hall as follows, were received: Covert & Baldrey $175; Locke & Hawthorne $132. The contract was awarded to the lowest tenderer but the work will not be commenced until the necessary repairs have been made to the roof.

The auditors' report for 1917 was read and accepted. The city clerk was formally appointed city assessor for 1918, and returns are to be presented to the council by April 25.

Dealing with the matter of Traders' license arrears it was decided that the police in future be authorized to issue these licenses when making demand upon those in arrears, and then on default of payment prosecution may automatically follow.

A formal motion was passed in effect that no tax sale will be held during 1918 and that the regular notices to delinquents will be forwarded by mail.

The monthly water and light cut-off list was laid on the table and closely scrutinized by the aldermen; ditto those in arrears for traders' licence.

On the suggestion of the city clerk regular motions were passed whereby a source of revenue, while it may be very small, will in a measure bring in returns to the city exchequer for the accommodation extended. They are: Ordinary tax statements on demand, 25c each; those requiring greater detail will be furnished for $1.00 each. When anyone desires to inspect the minutes of council meetings, this may be done upon payment of 25c. Typewritten copies of by-laws will in future be supplied at the rate of 30c per single spaced page or 15c per double spaced page, with a minimum charge of $1.50 for any by-law.

Tenders for sidewalk lumber by the carload will be called for from the various lumber companies in the district as well as the local dealers.

The volunteer firemen were granted a war bonus of $2.50 per month from March 1.

The regular harangue over charges for the use of the ambulance to outside patients took up the usual ten minutes without any definite alteration n the present no charge schedule.

The city engineer will in future submit at the first regular monthly meeting of the council a detailed report of the work performed by the city team and other public works department employees. The card system for recording minutely the distribution of labor for these employees is also to be undertaken by the city engineer.

Ald. Dicken, as a member of the fire, water and light committee, while the others were inspecting the never failng bunch of accounts, took the opportunity to advise those members of the council who had been absent when the special meeting relative to the power house controversy was held, that the article published in last week's issue had accurately stated the facts of the case without exaggeration. The "sore-spot" discussion consequently was renewed with the result that the apparent misconstruction that said employees had been forced into the position of issuing the drastic ultimatum by the committee, was corrected when it was stated and repeated without denial by all members of the committee, that at 1 p.m., when the meeting between the committee and the employees terminated with the distinct understanding that the matter should remain in abeyance till the next regular council meeting, and then like a bolt from the blue came the complete repudiation of this verbal understanding when the ultimatum was placed in the hands of the city clerk at 3 p.m.

The temporary loan bylaw authorizing the borrowing from the local bank to the extent of $91,000 for the current term was finally passed and then adjournment was taken at 11 p.m.

NOTICE

Members of the I.O.D.E. are requested to meet at the Methodist school room a few minutes before the service to attend the funeral of Private George Pollard, on Sunday.

The big special production, "For the Freedom of the World," will soon be shown at the Orpheum.

MEETING FAVORS NEW SCHOOL

The citizens' meeting held in the Orpheum theatre on Sunday evening for the purpose of discussing the need of a new school building was fairly well attended, although there was a noticeable absence of a number of the larger ratepayers.

Sherwood Herchmer, representing the School Board, occupied the chair and opened the meeting with a short address in which he referred to the deplorable condition of affairs which exists in the city owing to lack of school accommodation. Children were compelled to go to school in basements, old butcher shops and other poorly ventilated and poorly heated rooms which the board had been compelled to use for lack of other accommodation. He scored the property holders of the city unmercifully for their lack of interest in this vital matter. The greatest question of the day was the education of the youth of the land and it was up to the citizens of this town to see that the children growing up here were not neglected.

The School Board's proposition was to secure half a block on Howland avenue near the Baptist church, and erect a $50,000 high school building upon it, the upper rooms of which could be used at present for a high school and the lower ones for the public school pupils who are at present scattered around the city in isolated makeshift rooms.

The land selected could be secured for about $7,000, and the government had promised $25,000 to assist in the erection of a permanent building.

The Minister of Education and the school inspectors had expressed the opinion that Fernie had the best teaching staff in British Columbia and it was only fitting that they should not be hampered in their efforts by poor school accommodation.

The chairman then asked the audience for an expression of opinion on this vital matter and among those who took part in the discussion were R. Phillips, J. Dobson, A. Cummings; T. Uphill, Mayor Thomson, A. Hancock Wm. Minton and Dr. Garner, all of whom supported the school board in their demand for more school accommodation. Not a dissenting voice was raised and it was decided to ask the city council to bring in a bylaw at an early date to provide money for the venture.

DEATH OF WAR VETERAN

George Pollard, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pollard, died at the family residence on Wednesday night and the sympathy of the entire community is extended to the parents and family in their bereavement.

George, who has resided in Fernie since childhood, enlisted in February, 1915, and entrained at Vancouver, going overseas with the 48th Batt. He served in the trenches one year and nine months, when he was wounded and badly gassed, the effects from the latter he never recovered, and his death occurred as stated on the day of his arrival home from Frank Sanitarium, where he has been receiving treatment for some time past.

The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon, leaving the family residence at 2.30 p.m., thence to the Methodist church, where services will be held.

Interment will take place in the Great War Veterans plot in St. Margaret's cemetery with full military honors.

S.O.S. CALL

FOR TEEN AGE BOYS

This week J. D. McGregor, Winnipeg Director of Agricultural Labor of the Canadian Food Board, and C. M. Wright, National High School Boys' Work Secretary of the C.S.E.T., are in communication with the Local Advisory Committee of the C. S. E. T., laying before that committee the arrangements for supplying farm labor for the farmers of the four western provinces for the coming year. "A proclamation," writes the Director of Agriculture, "has been issued setting March 17 apart as a 'Soldiers of the Soil' Sunday and asking everyone occupying a pulpit in the four western provinces or in charge of a service of worship on Sunday to make an appeal to their congregations to co-operate in an endeavor to solve the labor problem."

The National High School Boys' Work Secretary says that "25,000 older boys, from 15 to 19 years of age, are being enlisted and organized under the direction of the Canada Food Board, to go out to the farms to do their bit in the campaign for greater production." "British Columbia has the smallest percentage of rural population in the Dominion. Yet it is estimated that there are 16,000 farms on the majority of which help will be required." "There are 2000 boys in the high schools of British Columbia; a large percentage of these can be organized and placed on farms where their help will be of great value." "Education regulations will be announced shortly. The Provincial Department of Education are in hearty sympathy with this movement. They realize the emergency call and desire to co-operate in every way they can but they do not wish to lower the educational standard unduly, nor place bright boys at a disadvantage for their later careers."

Enlistment week is definitely fixed all over Canada for March 17 to 23, and the aim is to secure 25,000 older Canadian boys and have them ready if needed to render three months farm service. If the farmers know that this labor is available they will undoubtedly increase the acreage under cultivation this year considerably. Enlistment blanks are now in the hands of Mr. Harold Wilson (Post Office) Secretary of the Local Advisory Committee of the C.S.E.T. Teen age boys call at once and find out all particulars. It is a patriotic duty devolving upon every citizen at the present time to do all he possibly can to assist in this work of greater food production.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilkes are visiting friends in Spokane.

BONE DRY ON APRIL 1

Ottawa, March 11.—Canada virtually goes dry on April 1, under regulations issued tonight, the manufacture of intoxicating liquors being prohibited from that date. It is provided, however, that "in case the sale of intoxicating liquor of any class for beverage purposes is permitted in any province, this regulation shall not apply to the manufacture of such intoxicating liquor in such province until December 31, 1918." The latter provision in regard to manufacture, is operative in two cases:

The manufacture of beer in Quebec.

Manufacture of native wines in Ontario.

In both instances, manufacture is to cease at the end of the present year.

The order-in-council authorizing the regulations recites that prohibitory laws have been passed, and are in force in every province, except in the province of Quebec, where the prohibitory law is to go into effect on May 1, 1919. It is in order to make such legislation more effective, the order-in-council states, that regulations have been enacted to supplement the provincial laws.

Other provisions in the regulations are:

1—Nothing in these regulations shall prevent a manufacturer from making or manufacturing intoxicating liquor for sacramental, industrial, artistic, mechanical, scientific and medicinal purposes, in accordance with the terms of his license.

2—No person, after the first day of April, 1918 shall send, take, transport into or deliver in any prohibited area any intoxicating liquor or cause any intoxicating liquor to be sent, transported or delivered.

3—No person after the first day of April, 1918, shall either directly or indirectly, sell or contract or agree to sell any intoxicating liquor, which is in or which is to be delivered within any prohibted area.

4—Nothing in these regulations contained shall prevent a licensee or manufacturer from selling, sending, taking or transporting intoxicating liquor to a licensee to a prohibited area, or prevent a common carrier by water or by railway from transporting or carrying intoxicating liquor from any licensee or manufacturer to a licensee in a prohibited area, or prevent any intoxicating liquor from being so carried through a prohibited area nor prevent a licensee in a prohibited area from selling and delivering intoxicating liquor for sacramental, industrial, artistic, mechanical, scientific and medicinal purposes, in accordance with the terms of his license.

5—If in any prohibited area there should be no licensee authorized to receive and sell intoxicating liquor for sacramental industrial, artistic, mechanical, scientific and medicinal purposes, the governor in council may authorize one or more persons in such prohibited area to receive and sell intoxicating liquors for such purposes, and any person so authorized shall be deemed a licensee within the meaning of these regulations.

6—The carriage of intoxicating liquor from a licensee or manufacturer to a licensee in a prohibited area, and carriage through any prohibited area, shall only be by means of a common carrier by water or by railway and not otherwise.

7—During the time intoxicating liquor is being transported or carried into or through a prohibited area as aforesaid, no person shall open, or break or allow to be opened or broken, any package or vessel containing it, or drink or use, or allow to be drank or used, any intoxicating liquor therefrom.

8—The burden of proving the right to make or manufacture intoxicating liquor, or cause intoxicating liquor to be made or manufactured, or to send, carry, or deliver intoxicating liquor, or cause intoxicating liquor to be sent, carried or delivered into or in a prohibited area, shall be on the person accused.

Provision is also made for the issue of search warrants.

The regulations continue in force during the present war and for twelve months thereafter.

PLAN DRASTIC REGULATIONS TO PUNISH PEOPLE WHO NEEDLESSLY WASTE FOOD

Winnipeg, March 14.—The Ottawa correspondent of the Manitoba Free Press, in a dispatch dated last night, says:

"The cabinet council gave approval today to important new regulations drafted by the Canadian food board providing machinery and authority for preventing and punishing wilful waste of any food or food products either by individuals or by cold storage or other food handling companies; providing for prompt sale of food products by wholesalers, retailers or warehouses, in cases where hoarding longer would result in deterioration; giving the food board power to forbid the use of any kind of food except at certain specified times and power also to prescribe the amount of any kind or kinds of food that may be sold, consumed or used at any one meal or within any specified time. In the case of violation of the regulations in regard to food waste, the onus for prosecution and enforcing of penalties is passed on to the municipal authorities, each municipality being made responsible for the enforcement of the regulations within its own municipal limits."

"As a further safeguard aganst the holding of food for speculative price increases, the board is given power to define the amount of any kind of food that may be purchased or held by any one person or company and may seize all amounts purchased or held in excess of the amounts prescribed.

"The penalties provided for violation for any of the provisions of the new regulations are a fine not exceeding $1000 or imprisonment for a period not exceeding three months or both fine and imprisonment. Where the prosecution is instituted by the municipality the fine goes to the provincial treasury."

PATRIOTIC APPEAL

Victoria, March 7th, 1918.

A. Cummings, Secy. C. P. F.,
Fernie, B.C.

Dear Sir—Upon reviewing the records of contributions received through the Provincial Branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, I have felt that special acknowledgement should be made to a number of places in this province.

Fernie and district is one of outstanding merit. I find that the contributions to the end of February amounted to the splendid total of $65,822.90. I feel quite sure that the time will come when every man who has contributed a dollar towards that splendid amount will feel that he has been well repaid.

The Patriotic Fund has not only made it possible for many men to enlist in order to serve their country in this great war, but it has been of vast assistance to the Federal government who require all the resources they can possibly raise for the active prosecution of the war.

Money raised through channels of this kind assists tremendously in conserving the country's resources and conservation is the crying need of the hour.

As has been frequently pointed out that, what the Canadian Patriotic Fund is able to do for twelve million dollars per annum, would cost the government double that amount. Obviously the difference would be that much money wasted.

In addition, the Patriotic Fund is able and does render great services to dependents, many of whom are not capable of looking after their own business interests. The Fund also acts in an advisory capacity for the Militia department in connectionwith the payment of separation allowances, pensions, etc. The organization is so complete, covering the entire Dominion, that serious delays are eliminated and information readily obtained, which to government officials would be a most difficult and expensive operation.

While thanking your committee and the contributors in your district for what they have done in the past, I desire to take this opportunity of again appealing for a continuation of the same generous support. So long as we are at war it will be necessary, if we are to succeed, that each individual shall do his or her utmost to assist the government and the Army and Navy in the tremendous undertaking in which they are engaged for the liberty and freedom of the world.

I shall be glad if, when you have an opportunity of placing this letter before your committee, you will let me have areply as to the prospects and probable amount which may be expected from your district for the current year. Yours very truly,

F. S. Barnard,
Lt.-Governor, Chairman Provincial Branch.

The Miners Union held a charity concert in the Grand theatre on Monday night, which was largely attended. The proceeds were in aid of a sick member.

"MAGDA"

In "Magda," the new Select picture in which Clara Kimball Young is starring at the head of her own company, the famous screen artist achieves the triumph of her career. Playing the title role, she depicts the struggle of a girl forced to rebellion by the menace of an undesired marriage, and the subsequent events of the play move up to a vivid and compelling climax. This stage classic adapted to the screen will be shown on Friday and Saturday, March 15 and 16 at the Isis theatre, and is the first of a series of eight pictures made by Miss Young, to be released during the coming year.

The action of the play is built about the clash of wills between a domineering father and his high strung, independent daughter. It is a striking exposition of the stupidity of a certain class of parents and Miss Young in her portrayal of the misunderstood and driven daughter, makes a strong appeal to the sympathies.

Magda is her father's child. Of all his household she alone inherits his indomitable will and the fearlessness with which she opposes his wishes. When he orders her to marry the minister, she, with a young girl's romantic dreams of love, refuses to accede to his wishes, with the result that she is turned out of doors.

When she again flashes on her home town in the personality of Madalene Dall'Orto, the world famous singer, feted by the Governor and his officials, her father promptly agrees to forgive her. He insists, however, that she leave the hotel and live under his roof. Magda consents on condition that he ask her no question about her outside life.

The tensity of the situation is tightened by the appearance at her father's home of Von Kellner, the man who was responsible for her betrayal after she had left the family shelter. Von Kellner, who has risen to affluence and respectability learns for the first time that Magda has borne him a child. Her father coming in suddenly is made aware of their relation and in a towering rage threatens to challenge his daughter's betrayer.

How the tangled snarl of Magda's life is finally straightened by the removal of the domestic tyrant, and the way made clear for a continuance of her career, makes for an absorbing story and Miss Young's interpretation of the role more than fulfills the promise of her previous work.

TAKE NOTICE that the Annual General Meeting of the Shareholders of the MORRISSEY, FERNIE & MICHEL RAILWAY COMPANY, will be held in the Board Room of the National Life Assurance Company corner of Toronto and Adelaide Streets, Toronto, on Friday, the 12th day of April, 1918, at 3.30 o'clock in the afternoon to receive the report of the Directors for the year ending the 31st December, 1917, to elect Directors for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of such other business as may be transacted at a General Meeting of the Shareholders.

Dated at Toronto, Canada, this 7th day of March, 1918.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

February 20th, 1918.

I now write you a few paragraphs. When he responded to my spistles in the Elsberry Democrat, June the 29th, 1917, he states by suggesting that I am the mystery of the men who do without knowing. Why I am the clutch of an idea and the reasoned purpose of resolution. I did see in a vision that the United States government would not interlock or compound with the European war except by perplexity. I wrote it to the Elsberry paper in 1917. I knew it when that first man were killed the execration of the war. He also states that I am panic and yet it were first perceived in me as a similitude of inspiration from birth and were spoken of by a man of intellect on the day I were born and in his house. And when I were two years old a cherubim and a cherub appeared to me in the body. When I was seven years old two angels appeared to me out of the body and when I were thirteen years old I begin to be carried about in the spirit of God two or three times a year. And the older I got the more marvellous were my views. Even to this day is not this resolution and reasoned. He also suggests that I were panic and heartbroken, tho he is mistaken; I implore doxology God every that which God said he would do the same, he did do for me in four miles of Elsberry. See Numbers 12 chapter and 6 verse. There were people near Elsberry who knew of God speaking to me with lovely talk conversing. I am not of this world. If I were of this world this world would fight for me, who being forced by a vehement man to a damage, then when that child is grew up to years of maturity then make him pay the damage done to him by slurs and suggestion. He also suggests that I am all that you can believe I can be. It is written that we who believe in Jesus Christ we shall be like him, and it is written again that nothing comes out of a man only what is in him. God gave me power to become the son of God. See St. John, Chapter 1, verse 12. All things are possible to him that believe. See St. Mark, chapter 9, verse 23. He that believeth on him is not condemned but he that believeth not is condemned already. See St. John, chapter 3, verse 18. The world spurns the true works of God, as it is written, now there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord and Satan came also among them. See Job, chapter 1, verse 6. I amof the same integrity vitality that I were when first born and first emancipated, and as for this execration I am obvious. The Elsberry paper states that Abraham Lincoln said I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives, and the paper responded thus, I like to see a man who lives in it so that his place will be proud of him. I respond, Abraham Lincoln's case reminds me of Adam's case. Adam lived in it so that his place were proud of him till the serpent emerged into the place full of that ego that blasts udgment. Abraham Lincoln did the same for the American Ethiopian as I would do for the American casian in America. All men were created equal if God's image is equal to itsself. Caucasian if I met with the same opportunity. I would emancipate every Cau- See Genesis, chapter 1, verse 27. Apparently the greatest day of the European war is to come yet. In that day when dinner and supper will be eat at the same time, about 5 o'clock p.m., and apparently that day's war will cause the greatest conversion of the known world in February 5th, 1919. In a vision God made it known to me that as true as the sun rise in the east just so true it is that this earth will sink in a time to come and in that day women will declare this to men. It is not what a man knows that saves him in Christ but what he believes. Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God. See I John, chapter 5, verse 1. And whosoever is born of God he cannot sin for the seed of God remain in him. See 1 John, 3 chapter and 9 verse. We see that God's people come from the east, west, north and south, come up in the heaven and sit down.

SAM NEMORE

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

Good for the whole family

A good cough remedy is one that can be depended upon to cure coughs. Not one that cures some particular cough, but coughs in general.

While the causes of all coughs are primarily the same, yet the condition of the patient is what makes the difference in the nature of the cough itself. Coughs of healthy persons are easier to cure than the coughs of invalids. The more powerful convulsive cough of a big man is harder to cure than the cough of a baby. If you get a remedy that will cure a big man's cough and yet not be too powerful for the baby, you have a good cough remedy.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is just this kind of remedy. It is good for any member of the family. It relieves coughs of all kinds. It is composed of things which cure easily and soothingly without harming the delicate tissues of the throat, and is the ideal remedy for coughs, colds, croup, influenza and whooping cough.

Yours for Health — Granny Chamberlain

PEACE TRAPS

There can be no wiser war advice to the people of the Allied countries than to put no actual reliance in anything that comes from Germany about internal dissentions making for peace, disagreement between Germany and Austria or reports of this nature. It is a safe assumption that there are internal troubles that tend to weaken German efficiency but we shall [illegible] less from disappointment if we do not expect too much from them. As to the reports that appear to leak out from the Central Empires there is strong evidence that in many cases these are concocted and distributed by the government for the supposed psychological effect in the enemy countries. This is particularly true of the stories about increasing friction between the German and the Austrian governments. Most of these are stage-managed for effect. Dr. Dumba, formerly Austrian ambassador at Washington, in a speech in Vienna on Nov. 27, a report of which has come through, admitted this, when he said:

"I believe that the words of Count Czernin were intended much more for the peoples of the enemy than for their governments. There is need of a campaign whose purpose would be to act on the psychology of the masses of the enemy nations. Such a campaign is possible through strengthening and fortifying the pacifist element in the camps of the enemy, and it is my conviction that it will be successful. The peace movement in England is growing perceptibly. The labor movement in England has already reached significant dimensions, and there is no doubt that the French Socialists, under the leadership of Thomas, who are in opposition, begin to waver in their war aims and are in part prepared to admit a plebiscite on the question of Alsace-Lorraine. This dream must grow and become a flood which will rise to the necks of the war lords. These must give way to more moderate individuals."

This is a very useful speech, which should be given the fullest publicity in the Allied countries. The Greek bearing gifts was the soul of candor compared to the German or Austrian politician talking peace. Peace can only be obtained by one road — hard knocks and plenty of them. To give way to any other expectations is simply to weaken the civilian morale —which is the object of these psychological drives planned in Berlin and Vienna.

THE FARM-LAND "LOOTER"

In the case of British Columbia, where good agricultural land is mostly in valleys, and is very high-priced, the boom of 1912-13 led to scandalous looting of the public domain. On March 31, 1913, the amount owing to the province on lands sold, but unpaid for, was $12,000,000. For the 11 years previous, the total cash receipts from land sales had been $11,450,000. One payment and sometimes none had been made on tracts applied for by the land sharks with whom the province teemed, and the closing up of such business became inevitable when the financial affairs of the province approached a crisis. The days of the farm-land looter are, we hope, pretty well done. Canada has to make its way by real production, by unflagging industry, by developing its resources—not by "dickering" in half-townships and passing them from hand to hand." —Mail and Empire.

WONDERFUL STUFF! LIFT OUT YOUR CORNS

Apply a few drops then lift corns or callusses off with fingers—no pain.

No humbug! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness.

This drug is called freezone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This drug freezone doesn't eat out the corns or callusses but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist don't have freezone have him order it for you.

COAL MEN HOPE FOR STORAGE TRADE

(Lethbridge Herald))

Coal operators in the Lethbridge field are in hopes that they will be able to keep their plants working steadily until the end of this month, but they see nothing in sight but slack time during April and May unless the government steps in immediately and deals with the summer storage question. "Orders are tapering off now," said one operator to the Herald this morning. "It will be all we can do to keep a full crew going till the end of the month."

The steam coal mines in the Pass, according to information at the local railway offices, will be busy throughout the summer. The railways in the west are storing every ton of coal they can get. During the winter they were forced to draw largely on their reserves and these must again be built up. It is understood that all the coke being produced in the Pass is now being shipped to Trail, B.C., where it is being used for smelting purposes. Much of this coke formerly went south over the G.N.R. to the copper smelters in Montana.

The Federal Coals, Ltd., the local concern which bought the Grace mine and is also opening up a new shaft just west of the brewery, is now under the management of Mr. Mack. Mr. Hanna, former manager, has severed his connection with the company and is now in charge of the Diamond mine at Diamond City which will be known hereafter as the Union, though it is understood the coal will still be sold under the name of Diamond coal. The Union Company's offices are being removed today from Lethbridge to Diamond City, and development of the mine will be pushed all summer to bring it up to 500 tons next winter. This winter the rejuvenated property had been brought up to a possible output of 200 tons a day.

See "Magda," with Clara Kimball Young, at the Isis, on Friday and Saturday.

G. W. V. A.

All members of the above Association are requested to attend the funeral of the late Sergt. Geo. Pollard. Members are to be in uniform if possible and meet at the Fire Hall at 2 p.m. on Sunday next.

Arrangements are being completed to have a portion of St. Margaret's cemetery set aside for the interment of all ex-members of the Allied forces who were engaged in the present war. The Veterans plan to have this portion of the cemetery suitably laid out and a memorial erected to those from the district who have made the supreme sacrifice in answering their country's call.

DANGER LURKS IN EVERY ONE OF US

We Are As Full of Deadly Poisons As A Germ Laboratory.

AUTO-INTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Absolutely Prevents This Dangerous Condition.

The chief cause of poor health is our neglect of the bowels. Waste matter, instead of passing from the lower intestine regularly every day, is allowed to remain there, generating poisons which are absorbed by the blood.

In other words, a person who is habitually constipated, is poisoning himself. We know now that Auto-intoxication, due to non-action of the bowels, is directly responsible for serious Kidney and Bladder Troubles; that it upsets the Stomach, causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Sleeplessness; that chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Pain In The Back, are relieved as soon as the bowels become regular; and that Pimples, Rashes, Eczema and other Skin Affections disappear when "Fruit-a-tives" are taken to correct Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives" will protect you against Auto-intoxication because this wonderful fruit medicine acts directly on all the eliminating organs.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

SOUR, ACID STOMACHS, GASES OR INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" neutralizes excessive acid in stomach, relieving dyspepsia, heartburn and distress at once.

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress, due to acidity, will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest stomach sweetener in the whole world, and besides it is harmless. Put an end to stomach distress at once by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by fermentation due to excessive acids in stomach.

Income Tax Forms
Are now available
Returns must be filed on or before 31st March

THE Dominion Income War Tax Act requires you to fill in one or more of the five special Forms provided before 31st March, 1918. In order to assist the public to understand just what is required of them, information on each Form is given below. Read carefully, then get three copies of the form that fits your case and fill them in. Answer all questions fully and accurately. For making false statements, a penalty of $10,000 or six months' imprisonment, or both, is provided.

Individuals.—All persons unmarried, and all widows or widowers without dependent children, whose income is $1500 a year or more, must fill in Form T1. All other persons whose income is $3000 or more, use the same Form. Where any income is derived from dividends, list amounts received from Canadian and Foreign securities separarely. Fill in pages 1, 2 and 3 only. Do not mark on page 4. Partnerships, as such need not file returns, but the individuals forming the partnerships must.

Corporations and Joint Stock Companies, no matter how created or organized, shall pay the normal tax on income exceeding $3000. Use Form T2—giving particulars of income. Also attach a financial statement. Under Deductions, show in detail amounts paid to Patriotic Fund and Canadian Red Cross or other approved War Funds.

Trustees, Executors, Administrators of Estates and Assignees use Form T3. Full particulars of the distribution of income from all estates handled must be shown as well as details of amounts distributed. A separate Form must be filled in for each estate.

Employers must use Form T4 to give names and amounts of salaries, bonuses, commissions and other remuneration paid to all employees during 1917 where such remuneration amounted in the aggregate to $1000 or over.

Corporation Lists of Shareholders.—On Form T5 corporations shall give a statement of all bonuses, and dividends paid to Shareholders residing in Canada during 1917 stating to whom paid, and the amounts.

A GOOD PIANO IS A COMPANION to the lone and lonesome. Its music whiles away many an otherwise tedious hour; soothes many a care. The Gourlay Piano is peculiarly adapted for companionship. It has a sweetly sympathetic tone that reflects the feelings of the player be they grave or gay. Come and test it here. You'll want one in your home and our terms make it easy for you to have it there at once.

The Great War Veterans have located reading-rooms over the 41 Meat Market. These rooms are being prepared now and the Veterans hope to be able to occupy them at once. Any donations of easy chairs, small rugs, card tables and any other useful and necessary articles of furniture would be gratefully received. Any donations could be left at the 41 Meat Market, or Mrs. Duthie or Mrs. Wallace could be communicated with by phone.

Sergt. David Donaldson arrived in town this week from France and is spending afew days with his mother before returning to his home in Edmonton. Sergt. Donaldson is well known in Fernie, having lived here for six or seven years before he moved to Edmonton. He enlisted with the 50th from Calgary over three years ago and has been overseas for nearly that length of time. He has been wounded three times and walks with quite a limp, but each time he was fixed up and sent back to the trenches until finally put out of business by shell shock at Passendale. Dave was in all the big fighting around Lens and was only about ten feet from Tommy Martin, brother of Harry Martin, Secretary of Gladstone Local, when that young man was blown to pieces last August. During his stay in France he met many of our Fernie boys. He says Dick Hammond is looking fine. He has charge of the waterworks department and is also connected with the electrical work. Sergt. Donaldson also met Major Maffatt, who at that time was in charge of the prisoners' department.

FLEISHMAN CUP GOES BACK

The Fleishman Cup has changed hands no less than four times in the past week.

On Friday evening last the two teams, Lawe and Liphardt, who brought the cup from Cranbrook, were defeated by two teams of third men, skipped by Carmichael and Winters. Then on Sunday Sherwood Herchmer and L. E. McDonald took the measure of the third men and garnered the trophy by a small margin. But the victors only held the cup for 24 hours, when Lawe and Liphardt again put them into the discard.

On Wednesday two teams from Cranbrook, skipped by McPhee and Topham, got a hunch that while the cup was changing hands every day or so they might have a chance, came down, and after two strenuous games on heavy ice defeated the local teams by the small margin of two points.

As there is no ice in Cranbrook that city will have the honor of holding the trophy until next season.

AFTER SICKNESS THEY GAVE HER VINOL

And She Soon Got Back Her Strength

New Castle, Ind.—"The measles left me run down, no appetite, could not rest at night, and I took a severe cold which settled on my lungs, so I was unable to keep about my housework. My doctor advised me to take Vinol, and six bottles restored my health so I do all my housework, including washing. Vinol is the best medicine I ever used."—Alice Record, 437 So. 11th St., New Castle, Ind.

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

After 38 years in the Liquor Business The Government Says Get Out

Liquor only exists for two purposes--to drink and to sell. Between our bonded warehouses in Montreal, Winnipeg, Dryden, Ont., and Virden, Man., we carry over a quarter of a million dollar stock of liquors. We can't drink it. We've got to sell it, and have only a few weeks time to do it. That's the "why" of this big price-cutting sale.

Two weeks' time to dispose of over a quarter of a million dollar stock--- that's why we are coming to you.

and---

Right now we have over 40,000 satisfied customers in Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

With these cut prices you can order from us--- pay all express charges---

and---

still save 25 per cent.

You will get just what you order---

because--- with our enormous stocks---

WE DON'T HAVE TO SUBSTITUTE.

Everybody knows that bulk goods are cheaper—

if—you can only be sure of what you buy. That's the rub!

YOU MAY BE ABLE TO FIND BULK WHISKIES QUOTED LOWER THAN THESE—

but—when you do, you can pretty nearly put it down that you would not be satisfied after you bought from them.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a small bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

NEW SHERIFFS ACT

The Act to amend the Sheriffs Act now before the Legislature will meet with general approval, for in effect it makes salaried officers of these appointees of the Crown, whereas formerly they were financially interested in demanding and taking rewards which were often out of all proportion to the services rendered. In future the bulk of these fees will form part of the Consolidated Revenue Fund, and the people will benefit proportionately. In some of the States on the American side similar legislation has been enacted and we believe with satisfactory results. And in a number of those States it is specified that no one shall hold the position of sheriff, or that of any of his assistants, who has unsatisfied judgments standing against him in any courts. This is clearly a wise provision for it does not create a healthy feelng if any officer of the Crown is himself within the toils of the law of which he is the agent of enforcement on others.—Colonist.

GRADUATED WAR TAX ON INCOMES

If the income war tax law, about to be applied, did nothing more than cause a national stock-taking, it would serve a most useful purpose.

The taking of an inventory of one's resources invariably induces a desire to save when translated, as it very frequently is, into a determination to save, means getting on with the war, as well as happiness all around. This process; first an inventory of one's resources, then a desire to save, applied to every unmarried person, or widow and widower without dependent children receiving an income of $1500 and over, and to all other persons receiving an income of $3000 and over, will unquestionably result in a large proportion of cases in a determination to save. And that means more general prosperity and renewed national strength.

But a national stock-taking is only incidental, of course, to the chief purpose of the income war tax, which is to provide revenue for the prosecution of the war in as equitable a manner as possible. The tax is to be graduated, according to one's ability to pay. Those who are in receipt of only a living wage or salary will not be called upon to pay; those enjoying the highest incomes will be called upon to pay the greatest amounts, and the great body of income receivers between, will be called upon to pay in their due proportion.

Moreover, the purpose of the act is to distribute the burden equitably among all classes. By way of illustration, the farmer will be required to add to the value of his actual income, the value of the home-grown products which his own family consumes. This places the farmer on a plane with the salaried man, the value of whose services is wholly represented in the income received and against which he must charge all his living expenses.

Canada has established a war record that is the envy of the world. It is certain that the Canadian people will run true to form in answer to this latest call of their war government.

"FOR THE FREEDOM OF THE WORLD"—COMING TO ORPHEUM

A Ford Car Takes the Place of All These Things

WHEN you own a Ford you can do away with many articles that are a source of continuous expense to the man who still drives a horse. For instance, not only your driving-horse and buggy, but the single harness, blankets, whips, currycombs, brushes, horse-shoes, pitchforks, feed-bins, etc.

In their place you have a speedy, dependable, dignified, roomy Ford Car—complete in itself. It is vastly superior to the narrow, cramped buggy that travels so slowly. And when a Ford is standing idle it does not eat three meals a day, and it requires no "looking after."

A Ford will save you time, trouble, and money. It is the utility car for the busy farmer and his family.

ELKO NOTES

(By Fred Roo)

Miss E. May Roo, chief stenographer for Jim Thistlebeak, was visiting with Miss E. B. Paterson, Kootenay Orchards, and Mrs. J. O. Ingham, of Cranbrook, and on her return to the old historic burg told Jim Thistlebeak that it was reported around Cranbrook that Billy Atchison had a hen that was laying hard boiled eggs, but all efforts so far have failed to get her to lay before breakfast.

The Elk Canyon Chapter of the I. O.D.E. are giving a 17th of Ireland Tea, whatever that is, at Mrs. A. L. Carter's residence on Main Street. Mrs. H. C. Waters, Regent, is boosting the affair with a blarney that would make a Belfast alderman green with envy. Monday, March 18th. You will miss it if you miss it.

Several well filled automobiles left Elko on Friday night to attend the dance at Saskatoon Flats, Waldo, and report a splendid time, and the costumes, said a young lady visitor, would remind you of a love story by Laura Jean Libby.

Fred Roo is advertising in U. S. papers the scenic automobile drive from Fernie to Elko, the beautiful Roosville valley, that contains so many rapid streams, which make it ideal for tourist travel, and which in the very near future will be dammed and the electricity used to light the houses and barns of the farmers, grind the grain, churn the butter, make the ice and turn the ice cream freezer, fan the baby to sleep, run the threshing machine and stimulate the crops. And it is likely that milking machines will also be installed at some of the dairy farms, so all that will be necessary to do to milk a dozen cows before breakfast will be to touch the button and wink at the hired man. A man suffering from rheumatism in his left leg or gout in both legs will be able to farm with pleasure under these conditions. The Flathead trail from Roosville into Glacier Park will be opened up early in the spring, 26 miles. Several rich copper properties will be shipping ore along this route. Roosville valley has everything but sufficient settlers and they are coming in like Methodists to a pink tea.

It pays to advertise if you have the goods, and a country worth fighting for is a country worth saving. Buy your groceries from Fred Roo and you'll do both.

M. Gorman, the human ferret, smelt something the other morning and was at the Great Northern depot when the cannon ball pulled in and the proprietor of the Columbia hotel got off the train with a sack full of headaches, and the ferret nabbed him and the government soaked him $300.

Lorne Joyce, of Edmonton, returned to Flagstone and took his old position as chief accountant with the Rock Creek Lumber Co.

Calgary papers are giving considerable space to the soliders' representative. Some of these fine days you will hear of Miss Roberta McAdams being married, not for her wealth, but for a home.

Contractor Billy Morrison was down looking over his timber limit in the Roosville Valley last week, and will put in a crop on his cleared land.

Mrs. Brock, of Gateway, Montana, and daughter, is visiting her brother, Alex. Butts, timber contractor, Sheep Mountain Pineries.

Elko is not the show town it used to be before the war. Even "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" refused to stop there the other week.

Some people are everlastingly complaining that it costs more money to live now than it did before the war started. Jim Thistlebeak says it is worth a lot more to live now than it was then.

The Elko-Waldo stage auto line line started running Monday for the summer. The roads between Elko and Eureka, Roosville Valley and Flagstone, are open now for auto travel.

Mr. Hart, Canadian Sales Manager for the White Motor Truck Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, with headquarters at Edmonton, Alberta, was in Elko this week and the Roosville valley, selling motor tractors to the lumbermen.

Arthur Purdy, the biggest dairy farmer on Tobacco Plains, was in Elko last week visiting with Fred Roo. Mr. Purdy controls the milk and butter business of Eureka, the best town in Lincoln County, Montana.

CONGRATULATIONS

(The B. C. Veterans Weekly)

We have tendered congratulations to several comrades who have been elected to parliament, and congratulated the constituencies on their soldier representatives, but, in common with other papers, we made an accidental omission.

Capt. Saul Bonnell is member-elect for East Kootenay. He is an active member of the Fernie branch, G.W.V. A., and he was endorsed by the Fernie local. He was elected by a majority of 900 and more, without the soldiers' vote, which will increase his majority —for he is well known—and popular.

There will be a Saul among the prophets, and Saul is too big a man to be thus overlooked. Capt. Saul Bonnell is late C.A.M.C., C.E.F. He proceeded overseas with the B. C. Hospital unit, saw service and did good service at Salonica and was returned to duty in Canada. We shall hear often—and good—of him, we are sure. He has the welfare of the men at heart.

SOCIAL STANDING IN ELEVATORS

New York's leading women's hotel has substituted colored elevator runners for the girls hitherto employed. Guests complained that the girls were too familiar. It is an old story. Women who must earn their living like to work for men, but not for women. A man can keep his domestic servants without trouble; in fact, the chief trouble of a single man who keeps house s to get rid of the cook or maid when he wants to make a change. Were it not for women, class distinction would disappear in this country. When elevator girls and paying guests in an exclusive women's hotel fail to draw the social line in the same place the elevator girls have to go. Emancipated women are still trying to teach their political equals of their own sex that the common right to vote confers no guarantee of social equality. They seem to think it easier to maintain the color line than the social line, so white girls give place to black boys. — New York Commercial.

THE BRITISH CAPTURE HIT

In Mesopotamia the British troops have captured Hit, an historic town on the Euphrates, 80 miles west of Bagdad. This advance would suggest that instead of aiming at Mosul as his objective the British Commander-in-Chief is bent on making his way up the Euphates to Aleppo where, if it be possible, a junction may be effected with Sir Edmund Allenby's forces pressing northward through Palestine.

The number of troops in Mesopotamia or in Palestine is, of course, unknown; consequently an estimate of the real purpose of these campaigns is difficult to reach. However, the existing state of the war-map in these countries shows that even if no other important gains be recorded, those already achieved have made the Indian Empire safe and also the Suez canal.

Hit is the centre of one of the great undeveloped oil districts of the world. Near the town are bitumen springs. Gypsum cliffs crop out here and there in the country about and on the other side of the Euphrates there are naptha springs. From the time whereof the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, Hit has supplied Babylonia with the bitumen used in the making of river boats, many of which are still turned out just as they used to be thousands of years ago.

Across the desert from Hit, which is the head of navigation on the Euphrates, runs the caravan route to Damascus. In olden time this route brought to the Levant the wealth of

"FREEDOM OF THE WORLD" STIRRING WAR SPECTACLE

A great war spectacle threaded by a love story that rings true is "For the Freedom of the World," soon to be shown at the Orpheum Theatre. This stirring drama of the battlefields of France has been pronounced the most fascinating and interest-compelling war story ever done for the screen. It has never been equalled, it is said, for spectacular magnitude.

"For the Freedom of the World" tells the romantic story of the thousands of brave young men in the American Legion of Canada. It concerns particularly the adventures at camp and in the field of Gordon Harvey, reformed young idler, who wins a lientenant's commission and the hand of the beautiful Betty Milburn before duty calls him to France.

Betty, distracted at having to part with her husband, passes herself off as a nursing sister and follows him to France, where another officer of the Legion, once a suitor for her hand, reveals her presence and her husband's knowledge of it. This, by a general order from headquarters means death for them both—for a soldier is strictly forbidden to have his wife at the front.

Rather than have her face death before a firing squad, Harvey shoots his bride and as she falls at his feet rushes out to fulfil a mission he believes means certain death. Betty miraculously has escaped fatal injury, and Harvey though terribly wounded eventually is rescued from a shell crater under fire by Ralph Perry, the treacherous officer who reported him and who has been sentenced to death for another offense.

Harry wins the Victoria Cross and he and his bride, after many vicissitudes, are restored to happiness.

BOARD OF TRADE HOLD MEETING

The first meeting of the Fernie Board of Trade that has been held for some considerable time was convened in the council chamber last evening by President A. B. Trites, and in the absence of G. G. Henderson, permanent secretary, R. G. Bonnallie, local manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, acted in that capacity.

A very fair representation of the local business men was present and owing to the lengthy interim since the last meeting of the Board, there was quite a lot of more or less antiquated correspondence, which was read.

Among the important matters to come up first was the question of reaffiliation of the East Kootenay Board of Trade with the Associated Boards. It was decided, however, that it was not in the best interest of East Kootenay at large to do this as from past experience the desires of the localities in East Kootenay usually conflicted with those of West Kootenay and vice versa, consequently it was deemed advisable to remain independent and use every endeavor to make the East Kootenay organization a real active one for the communities it represents.

A lengthy resolution passed early this year by the Cranbrook Board of Trade and widely circulated, which dealt with the proposed coast to coast or transcontinental highway, was read. It outlined the route through East Kootenay along the Crow's Nest Pass to Cranbrook, thence through Marysville and crossing the Purcell range to Pilot Bay on Kootenay Lake, where a gasoline ferry barge service would connect the traffic with the already established highway from Balfour to Nelson. This was unanimously endorsed.

The residents of Corbin, where between 600 and 700 persons reside, and who only have access with the outside world by the Eastern British Columbia railway, which connects with the main line of the Crow at McGillivray, submitted a resolution supported by a lengthy petition, that the provincial government be requested to construct a wagon road from that town to connect with the present trunk road through the Pass. The distance would be approximately 16 miles and a rough estimate of the cost would be $24,000. If this connecting link was established access from all Crow's Nest outside points could be made into the Flathead country as there is already a permanent road from Corbin into that more or less undeveloped region, extending to the International boundary, a distance of some 40 miles. It was pointed out that it is doubtful if there are any other communities in the province with such a large population that are absolutely dependent upon only one means of ingress and egress, namely, only a very limited and unsatisfactory railway service. The local board will use its influence with the view to having the residents of Corbin realize their desire.

The matter of the "rules of the road" in this province came in for some criticism and it was forcibly shown that particularly in East Kootenay the existing rule was exceedingly dangerous because on the south from the American side and the East from Alberta the rule of the road is directly opposite to that of this province. Annually the transient motor traffic is increasing and this, together with the hazardous nature of the roads through here enhanced the danger. All these features upon the occasion of the visit here of the Hon. Dr. King, minister of public works, had been pointed out, at which time he appeared favorably impressed with the suggestion that the rule of the road be changed within East Kootenay.

It was pointed out that while an unrestricted policy of conflicting sectional or district legislation was not advisable, nevertheless wherever it was expedient the government had in the past adopted such measures. The varied application of the game laws and the distinctions with respect to lumbering and timber legislation between the interior and the coast were quoted as examples. A further urgent appeal to the government to rectify this condition, as well as requests to all East Kootenay boards of trade and automobile associations to endorse same will be made.

The exceedingly important enterprise, at least as far as this city is concerned, namely, the installation of bi-product ovens, was introduced. This matter about a year ago was earnestly considered by the local board of trade; details concerning same were gone into at length, and the establishment of this industry was favored by all interested parties, and it was on the verge of being realized, at least in the experimental stage when the labor troubles of last year arose, it was stated. R. M. Young, Secretary of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co., upon being asked to make a few remarks relative to this proposed industry, referred to the recurring labor troubles here and their widespread effect apart from the distress occasioned locally. He pointed out that the large consumers of local coke, owing to the uncertainty of the supply of that commodity so essential in the smelting industry, from this locality, had caused them to attempt to find a remedy. This had resulted in the Granby Con. Mining, Smelting and Power Co. deciding to instal coke ovens at their Annoyx plant. He believed construction on these had already commenced, and that the Canadian Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. at Trail were also seriously considering the installation of ovens at their plant, by which means it was hoped the difficulties of the past through labor disturbances here would in no small degree be alleviated. The type of ovens being built at Annoyx, the speaker believed, were bi-product ovens, and undoubtedly should the Trail people decide to follow along similar lines, that type of oven would be installed.

At present the Annoyx smelter receives its supply of coke from companies operating on Vancouver Island, but as soon as their own ovens were producing that supply from the Island would be a competitive factor with regard to the Granby at Grand Forks and possibly Trail.

The situation, which has developed only within the past year, had put a decidedly different complexion on the matter as far as the local company is concerned. Another factor which might now affect the realization of same is that the cost of construction at the present time is estimated as being easily double what it would be in normal times. However, the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. had not as yet definitely decided not to undertake this modernizing of their local plant, but it will come up for consideration at the annual meeting of that company in Toronto next month.

It was decided to write the management of the company, stating that in the event of their deciding to put in bi-product ovens the Fernie Board of Trade was at all times ready to use their influence with the city and the government to secure any concessions which the company may require.

After appointing a committee to wait upon the city council relative to the present disgraceful condition of the main thoroughfares and the sidewalks of the city, the meeting adjourned.

GREAT DRIVE HAS STARTED

All indications point to the fact that the great German drive has begun. The enemy began a tremendous bombardment at 5 o'clock yesterday morning from a point just south of the Scrape River to the right flank of the British army. This is a distance of about 50 miles in an air line and comprises nearly 75 miles of front.

London, March 22.—The great battle on the Western front continued until late last night, the War Office reports. The British are holding the enemy. During the enemy's attacks yesterday his massed infantry offered remarkable targets to the British rifles, machine guns and artillery, of which full advantage was taken by the British troops. All reports testify to the exceedingly high losses suffered by the Germans. No serious attack developed this morning but heavy fighting is still to be expected, the official statement says. The eagerly awaited official statement of today was read with great satisfaction in so far as it revealed the enemy had been held and had suffered great loss.

Copenhagen, March 22.—The Berlin Tagleicsht Rundshau says: We are now entered on a decisive battle for general peace. A single combat between England and Germany, which is to decide the war, our future position in the world and whether the Anglo-Saxons shall continue to press their will on the world, opened today.

The session of Knox church has released Rev. Mr. Carr for six weeks beginning April 1, to serve as campaign director for Y.M.C.A. war work funds in this district, from Crow's Nest west to Kootenay Landing and north to Golden, and south to the International boundary line. Mr. Carr will make his headquarters either in Fernie or Cranbrook.

FUNERAL OF SERGT. POLLARD

Last Sunday the last sad rites were performed relative to the late Sergt. George W. Pollard, who died at the family residence on the 13th inst., when the burial in the Great War Veterans' plot at St. Margaret's cemetery took place. Despite the inclement weather an exceptionally large number of citizens turned out. The Methodist church, where the remains were conveyed from the family home and the funeral services conducted by Rev. Shaw, was filled to capacity, and large throngs congregated along the route which the cortege proceeded.

George was loved by all with whom he came in contact in civil life and during his twelve years' residence here was practically known by everyone. He was 12 years of age when the family came to Fernie to reside and attended both public and high schools here, graduating from the latter in 1909.

His first employment was in the local office of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co., from which he went into the shops of the M. F. & M. Ry., and thence to the Great Northern railway as trainman. Early in 1915 he responded to the call of his country and enlisted, joining the 48th Batt., and went overseas from Victoria in April of the same year. In England he transferred and went into the front line trenches with the 29th Batt., in July, 1915. From that time on until the storming of Vimy Ridge he was in the thick of the fray practically continuously, and fought with his unit in the important engagements in Flanders and on the Somme. At the battle of Courcellette he was wounded but he never left the trenches on this account, and during his whole period at the front from July, 1915, until laid low with gas at Vimy Ridge, he only had one brief furlough to England, when he visited his younger brother John, who was then wounded and in the hospital

George, on account of his valiant conduct and excellent work on the field received regular promotion and and was later recommended for a commission and also the D.C.M. He returned to Canada last fall but the dreaded gas had already claimed him as a victim. He went under medical treatment at Frank but gradually continued to decline and when the end appeared near he was permitted to return to the home of his parents here, where he expired within 12 hours of his arrival, but even to the last his remarkable courage and self-possession never deserted him.

France, Feb. 10, 1918.

Dear Friend—Some time ago I received a parcel from the I.O.D.E. but have only just found your note. Strange to say I noticed it between my toes after taking off the socks. No doubt you would like to hear that they arrived safely and are much appreciated. The receiver, L.-Corp. E. H. Boxall, was in Fernie three years ago, although only there for two weeks while waiting for our small band to leave for Victoria. I made several friends whom I still write to. It will be a great day when I see the place again. Of course, like all the other boys here, I am sure to get back to Canada. Wonder what this spring has in store for us. Do you believe in that Beast of Revelations prophecy about the war lasting 42 months. Think it is getting overdue. It feels so anyway. E. H. B.

The War Veterans will open their reading rooms this evening (over 41 Meat Market) by giving a reception and musical evening and will be pleased to see all their friends present. All will be welcome.

REGULATIONS RE. S.O.S.

The Department of Education has issued the following regulations to make provision for pupils attending high schools as well as the students attending the Senior Fourth Grade in the public elementary schools in the Province of British Columbia who desire to join the "Soldiers of the Soil":

Elementary School

(1) Pupils in Senior Fourth Grade of the public schools who have been in regular attendance throughout the school year and whose services are required in connection with agricultural pursuits may receive their promotion to high school on the recommendation of the principal of the school. Certificates from their employers should also be furnished, showing that they were regularly employed for at least two months and had given satisfactory service.

High School

(2) Students in the Preliminary Course, Junior Grade; Advanced Course, Junior Grade; First and Second year Technical Course; or in the Commercial Course, who have been in regular attendance throughout the school year, and whose services are required in connection with agricultural pursuits, may receive their promotion on the recommendation of the principal of the school. This recommendation should be signed by all the teachers who taught the class. Certificates from their employers should be furnished, showing that they were regularly employed for at least two months and had given satisfactory service.

(3) Students taking Intermediate Grade work who have been in regular attendance throughout the school year and whose services are required in connection with agricultural pursuits, may receive their certificates on the recommendation of the principal of the school. This recommendation should be signed by all the teachers who taught the class. Certificates from their employers should be furnished, showing that they were regularly employed for at least two months and had given satisfactory service.

(4) All students who intend to write for their Teachers' Certificates must take their examination in the usual way.

(5) Forms for confidential reports and also certificates of employment required in connection with the above regulations may be obtained by the principals and teachers from the Department of Education.

CARD OF THANKS

The membership of the Great War Veterans Association wish to thank the Band, I.O.D.E., and other kindred associations for their kind assistance at the funeral of Comrade George Pollard.

THE PATRIOTIC CONCERT

The Patriotic concert last Sunday evening drew a full house. The audience expressed their appreciation of the artists and speakers in no uncertain manner. The organizing committee are to be congratulated on the program they had arranged for the evening. Mr. Uphill acted as chairman and the artists and speakers were as follows:

Violin solo, Mr. A. Watson.
Vocal solo, Mr. Traherne.
Speech, Capt. H. A. Pearson of the Military Y.M.C.A.
Vocal solo, Mrs. Watson.
Vocal solo, Mr. A. Prentice.
Speech, Mr. F. Nation, Pro. Secy. C. P. F.

Capt. Pearson in his vivid style painted some interesting pictures of life at the front as seen from a Y.M.C.A. hut. From these word pictures, that could only be given byone who has been through it all, we realize somewhat of the hardships that our boys have to meet. There is a pride in the assurance that the boys are meeting it like true men. His message was one of Hope for and Trust in the future. We have now the implements of war and above all we have the men unequalled by any country and certainly not nearly approached by Germany. To reach this high standard a cheerfulness is sustained in the most disagreeable surroundings. It is not the deeds of daring that are the hardest to go through, but the routine, the constant haphazard shelling, and by no means least the mud, rats and other creeping things. As he pointed out, anything we can do at home is but a small thing compared with what the boys are doing at the front. Our places under any circumstances are but easy chair jobs. He said we should respond to the noble example of our men and do our part unstintingly. He would put a new meaning to the letters "Y.M.C.A.," "You Must Continue Assistance."

Mr. F. Nation, Provincial Secretary of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, took up fully the question of voluntary vs. government operation of the Fund. He said it was a principle of democratic countries that the majority should rule in questions of policy. More than eight-ninths of the representatives from all the provinces of Canada were for continuing the voluntary system administered under the C.P.F. With this representation the Central Executive at Ottawa had no choice but to continue the system. That the opposition to the present system came from parts of B.C. and Alberta. It seemed strange that British Columbia should make objection when she was receiving from Eastern Canada one dollar for every dollar she collected herself. If B.C. had to raise all she disbursed she would have to get double by taxes or other method that she was now raising. He said that British Columbia had accepted the expression of policy of the majority, and with the exception of the the Crow's Nest Mines and Sandon, were contributing to the Fund. Contrary to statements made here, the mines of Ladysmith, Nanaimo and Cumberland were contributing liberally to the Fund. This is a time when the great call is for conservation of food and money. The method which will spend the least amount of private or public funds should be the one adopted. If the government should administer the Fund the disbursements would be about double of what it is now. No government can discriminate as another fund can. An example of this is the separation allowance. There are forty thousand more separation allowances given than there are soldiers families assisted by the C.P.F. The government made no distinction. The wife of a soldier with a large income got separation allowance the same as the wife of a soldier with no independent income. The C. P. F. discriminated and tried to meet the needs of the family, giving more where the family was large and less where it was small. They were an auxiliary in supplying information to the military department, and assisted the soldiers' families with any advice that could be given when asked. The Fund was efficient and economical. Its expenses did not now equal the interest from its money in the bank. Most of its officers worked without remuneration. Many of them gave their services and large sums as well to the Fund. He said the wealthy men of Canada were showing their confidence in its administration by giving heavily to it. It was one of the channels by which we could do our "bit" toward this great war. The great real fact of the time was that we were at war with a powerful autocratic force, and that all were required to do something to help uphold the world's democracy. Russia today was surely a convincing argument against any peace talk or the non-need of resistance. We must all pull together and do our part in this great fight against militarism. It should not be a question so much of "What is my neighbor doing toward it?" but "What is the right thing to do?" Still, if comparisons will be made what will our position in the Crow's Nest Pass be after the war is over if we are the only large community who refused to take a part with the rest in this great work because some of us thought the work would be better done another way. In its essence any opposition to war work was really pro-Germanism, at least to the extent that it assisted the enemy. When the boys come home, when history is written, will Fernie have the notorious distinction of being a slacker?

BENSON—WINSTANLEY

A very pretty wedding took place at the English church on Saturday afternoon last, when Miss Annie Winstanley, of Fernie, and Mr. Harry Benson, of Blairmore, were united in marriage. The happy couple left on Tuesday evening's train for Blairmore, where they will make their home.

Sergt. Geo. Spears, one of Fernie's well known young men, returned on Tuesday from England, where he has been undergoing treatment for the past ten months for a shattered wrist, which he received in the famous fight when the Canadian took Vimy Ridge last April. A piece of shrapnel passed through the wrist badly breaking the bones and making a nasty flesh wound in the hip. The wound in the hip healed quickly but his arm is still in splints and it may be a year or two before the wrist wound heals. Sergt. Spears enlisted in January, 1915, with the 56th at Calgary and put in nearly a year in the trenches, being promoted from private to sergeant. He is the proud owner of the Military Medal, which was awarded for conspicuous bravery at Vimy Ridge.

KILLED AT COAL CREEK

Albert Kaleta, while engaged in certain repair work in the return airway of No. 1 South mine, last Saturday morning, was instantly killed when a huge piece of coal from the side wall, which he was endeavoring to loosen, suddenly broke away and in some manner caused the deceased to be thrown violently down, breaking both limbs, which, together with as yet some unknown internal injuries, caused his demise.

Coroner Thomson immediately issued instructions for the empanelling of a jury and on Monday the following jury was sworn in: Wm. Potter, foreman; William Hunter, William B. Phillips, Wm. Robson, Wm. Perry and James McLachlan. The body was viewed and a majority of the jury not being satisfied that the superficial injuries were sufficient to cause death ordered a post mortem examination to be made in order to ascertain the exact cause of death. Then the coroner accompanied by the jury journeyed to the mines and visited the scene of the accident.

On Tuesday evening on the opening of the inquest at the Court House, Coroner Thomson read a communication from Messrs. Herchmer & Martin, on behalf of the Coal Co., wherein objection was taken to jurors Wm. Potter and Wm. Hunter on the ground that they were disqualified from so acting in accordance with Section 90, sub-section 7, of the Coal Mines Regulation Act, which prohibits any "official of a miners' union" from acting on juries sitting on inquests prescribed by the Coal Mines Regulation Act. The allegation by the Company is that these two jurymen on account of being members of the Pit Committee in No. 1 East and No. 2 bines respectively, are within the meaning of the Act, "officials of the union." The jurors in question and Mr. Martin on behalf of the union, deny this by contending that the members of the Pit Committee are not union officials and moreover that they in any event do not act in this capacity in the mine where the accident occurred.

Coroner Thomson, however, after permitting a rather animated discussion in this connection, took the position that he did not feel it incumbent upon him to personally decide such an important technical point and announced that he would refer the matter to the Attorney General for legal interpretation. In the meantime the inquest stands adjourned until Wednesday, March 27.

HOW TO FEED FAMILY OF FIVE

Following is a budget, recommended by the government, for a family of five: A man and his wife at moderate work; a boy of 12 years; and two other children of 9 and 3 years respectively. This food will provide adequate nourishment for one week. According to well known authorities, it allows sufficient material for body-building as well as energy for the various activities of the family.

1. Meat and Meat Substitutes—
   4bls. lean meat.
   2 lbs. fresh fish.
   1 lb. salt fish.
   1 dozen eggs.
   1 lb. cheese.
   2 lbs. dried beans or split peas.
2. Fats—
   2 lbs. butter or oleomargarine.
   1 lb. cooking fat.
3. Milk—
   7 quarts whole milk.
4. Sugars—
   3 lbs. sugar.
   1 lb. corn syrup, molasses or honey.
5. Cereal Products—
   10 lbs. flour.
   10 lbs. cereals in other forms.
6. Fresh Vegetables—
   40 lbs. potatoes.
   14 lbs. other fresh vegetables.
7. Fruit—
   14 lbs., according to season.

1. Meat and Meat Substitutes—
   4 lbs. Lean Meat—
   This weight does not include bone and fat. When these are purchased with the lean, the weight ordered should be increased accordingly. If much fat is attached to the meat, the order for cooking fat should be lessened.
   As we are asked to conserve beef and pork of all kinds for overseas, these should be avoided when possible.
   When obtainable, considerable variety is possible with mutton, sausage, poultry, rabbit, game, tongue, heart, liver, kidneys and sweetbreads.
   2 lb. fresh fish—
   This may be any fresh caught or frozen fresh fish, e.g., cod, mackerel herring, white fish, skate, lake trout, hake, pollock etc.
   1 lb. Salt Fish—
   Salt codfish, finnan haddie, red herring, etc.
   1 Dozen Eggs—
   These may be replaced by—
   2½ pints whole milk with ½ lb. frozen or fresh fish; or 2 qts. buttermilk with 1½ oz. fat;
   or 2 qts. skim milk with 1½ oz. fat or 8 oz. cheese with 6 oz. frozen or fresh fish; or 1¼ lbs. frozen or fresh herring with 1 oz. fat;
   or 4 oz. dried codfish with 3 oz. fat
   1 lb. Cheese—
   This may be replaced by—6½ pints whole milk;
   or 2 lbs. fresh or frozen fish with 5 oz. fat;
   or 4 oz. dried codfish with 5 oz. fat
   or 4 qts. skim milk with 3 oz. fat.
   or 1 1-3 lbs. lean meat with 3 oz. fat.
   2 lbs. Dried Beans and Split Peas—
   12 oz. split peas with 1½ oz. fat may replace 1 lb. lean meat.
   5 oz. split peas with 1½ oz. fat may replace 1 qt. whole milk;
   1 lb. split peas with 5 oz. fat may replace 1 lb. cheese;
   12 oz. split peas with 1½ oz. fat may replace 1 doz. eggs;
   15 oz. dried beans with 1¼ oz. fat may replace 1 lb. lean meat.
   6 oz. dried beans with 1½ oz. fat may replace 1 qt. whole milk;
   1 1-3 oz. dried beans with 1½ oz. fat may replace 1 dozen eggs;
   1¼ oz. dried beans with 5½ oz. fat may replace 1 lb. cheese.
2. Fats—
   Margarine and Butter—These are interchangeable as regards fat content.
   Cooking fats may include dripping, rendered fats, and commercial cooking fats and oils. These may replace butter or margarine if about one-eighth less is used. Butter and margarine contain water and do not go as far.
   Children should not be deprived of butter unless furnished with plenty of milk.
3. Milk—
   1 Qt. Whole Milk—This may be replaced by—
   1 qt. skim milk with 1½ oz. fat;
   or 1 qt. buttermilk with 1½ oz. fat;
   or 1 qt. sour milk with 1½ oz. fat;
   or 6½ oz. lean beef.
   Whole milk is much better for children than meat.

Condensed milk will not replace fresh milk for children.

. Sugar—
Corn syrup, honey, and molasses may replace sugar if one-quarter more is used.

As we are asked to conserve sugar for overseas, corn syrup should be substituted wherever possible.

5. Cereal Products—
   10 lbs. Flours—
   These include wheat, rye, barley, oats, corn and buckwheat flours.
   by substituting for part of the wheat
   Great variety of bread is possible flour one or more of the others. Whenever obtainable the other flours should be used freely.
   Potato flour and cornstarch will not replace the other flours, but may be used for cakes and thickening liquids.
   As we are asked to conserve wheat for overseas every effort should be made to secure other flours.
   10 lbs. Cereals in Other Forms—
   These include oatmeal, rolled oats, white cornmeal, yellow cornmeal, barley and rye meals and rice.
   These may be used for breakfast cereals, but much also may be used for breads and cakes,, puddings and pancakes, e.g., oatcake, corn breads, buckwheat muffins, barley scones, rice pancakes.
   If bread is purchased deduct 10 oz. flour for each pound of bread bought.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get relief in five minutes by neutralizing acidity. Put an end to such stomach distress now by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by food fermentation due to excessive acid in stomach.

March 20, 1918.

I will write you a paragraph to explain myself in my writing of January 20th, 1918, as some people do not understand it. When I stated in my first letter, January 20th, 1918, if any boy be thus prohibited you know that it is liable to produce a execration even to the production of that garish, the word is delusion. It is not a injustice by the law though a injustice to the body even to the production of that garish. And as I told you of false reports added to this delusion, self-delusion, it were not of Caucosians people though of some most common black people who suggested plural things about me and told me that he and the people they knew those plural suggestions were not true though for a appalling. By the power of God I did see the time transfigured from morning to even and from day to night. The magicians cannot extirpate the Pentateuch. I have lived here ten years and have not been seen drunk or skulking about for inustice and if I have harmed any man I am willing to give four to one. It is written that nothing comes out of a man only that which is in him and it is written again that the faithful are the children of Abraham. With all of the enchantment of the world and yet it cannot abolish the immortal works of God—and nothing comes out of a man only that which is in him. True I stand upon this Rocky Mountain and I declare to all who believe that every man, woman and child shall be saved under this flag of a free salvation. Regardless to nationality, creed or olitics though all who believe every man, woman and child shall be free under this flag of a free salvation you shall be free.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

ORDER NOW :: You Can't Afford to Delay

REALIZE WHAT "BONE DRY" PROHIBITION MEANS—It means that after April 1 you cannot purchase liquors of any kind for home use—medicinal, personal or social—without a doctor's prescription—for which you have to pay, as well as get the liquor at prescription prices.

BE WISE—LAY IN A REASONABLE SUPPLY NOW

CAUTION—Just now all kinds of liquor are being made by unknown firms. BE ON YOUR GUARD. Vancouver residents have been badly "stung" by dealing with some of these firms, the liquor being of lower grade and different brand than was ordered and the cases being short. DON'T BE STUNG.

Gold Seal Ltd. absolutely guarantees its liquor as being true to brand, of full strength and perfect purity.

NOTE: Look out for offers at f.o.b. prices at points in the east or middle west. Express charges are high. You never know what your liquor costs until you get it.

OUR PRICES INCLUDE PREPAID EXPRESS—

FOR THE FREEDOM OF THE WORLD

The Great Eight Reel War Spectacle, at the Orpheum Monday and Tuesday, March 25 and 26

A great war spectacle threaded by a love story that rings true is "For the Freedom of the World," which comes to the Orpheum theatre on Monday and Tuesday, March 25-26. This stirring drama of the battlefields of France has been pronounced the most fascinating and interest-compelling war story ever done for the screen. It has never been equalled, it is said, for spectacular magnitude.

"For the Freedom of the World" tells the romantic story of the thousands of brave young men in the American Legion of Canada. It concerns particularly the adventures at camp and in the field of Gordon Harvey, reformed young idler, who wins a lientenant's commission and the hand of the beautiful Betty Milburn before duty calls him to France.

Betty, distracted at having to part with her husband, passes herself off as a nursing sister and follows him to France, where another officer of the Legion, once a suitor for her hand, reveals her presence and her husband's knowledge of it. This, by a general order from headquarters means death for them both—for a soldier is strictly forbidden to have his wife at the front.

Rather than have her face death before a firing squad, Harvey shoots his bride and as she falls at his feet rushes out to fulfil a mission he believes means certain death. Betty miraculously has escaped fatal injury, and Harvey though terribly wounded eventually is rescued from a shell crater under fire by Ralph Perry, the treacherous officer who reported him and who has been sentenced to death for another offense.

Harry wins the Victoria Cross and he and his bride, after many vicissitudes, are restored to happiness.

EDITORIAL

A public meeting was held on Sunday vening, March 10, for the purpose of giving the school board an opportunity of explaining first hand to the ratepayers the reasons for their decision to have a by-law put through to raise $46,000 by sale of debentures for the erection of a new eight roomed school building, which by way of distinction only has been termed "high school."

The attendance can only be said to have been fair and not as satisfactory a representation of the ratepayers as we believe the board desired, but even with the fair sprinkling present there was not an audible note of criticism or opposition to the proposal. While this appears to be the fact as far as the meeting was concerned, it now appears quite evident that there is a strong under current of opposition, which can only be attributed to the personal desire or in abrupt terms "selfishness," when any proposal would affect the pocketbooks of individuals, regardless of the ultimate benefit to the community and eventually the nation. Even those who quietly oppose the suggested expenditure have not the courage of their convictions to openly do so. It can hardly be expected they would, because there is absolutely no gainsaying the fact that the additional school accommodation is imperative and that education is absolutely essential.

A new school of four rooms is needed right now and ample demonstration of this is easily found when the cramped condition in the central school building together with the three rooms in use outside, is noted. To a large extent we believe the opposition to the proposal is as above stated—that the $46,000 appears to be a tremendous financial burden to add to an already heavily taxed community. Some undoubtedly have jumped to the conclusion that this reduced to the mill rate basis would mean approximately 22 mills and the term "high school" further adds to the confusion. Of course other opposition, such as choice of sites, etc., are made, but closer scrutiny of the facts reveal that the proposal is not going to be the huge burden it might appear to the unthinking.

The cost to the local ratepayer is estimated at $46,000, but basing this on 30-year term debentures actually means that the annual tax rate will only be increased by reason of such expenditure to the extent of two and one-half mills at the most. The maintenance cost if increased at all will be only an infinitesimal amount. This is accounted for by reason of the fact that already there charges are being borne in supporting the extra school accommodation, as the ratepayers are already paying for the rentals of these quarters, the salaries of the teachers, fuel, janitor and supplies. When all these features are taken into consideration the project is not so extreme, and there is one outstanding fact of vital importance—the new school must be provided and the sooner the better for the community.

In due course the bylaw will be presented and even though it may seem on the surface that a drastic policy of economy should be adopted, such a policy of economy should not be extended to retard the educational progress of the coming generation. There is but one sound course to pursue and that is to furnish this urgent need at once, because failure to do so will only temporarily defer it and may lead to possible complications whereby the pinch might be felt much more keenly than at the present time.

AGREE TO SUPPORT S.O.S. MOVEMENT

(Vancouver Sun, March 12)

Hearty co-operation in the "soldiers of the soil" movement was promised at a meeting in the King Edward High school yesterday, under the auspices of the school boards of Vancouver and the adjoining municipalities. The chief speaker was C. M. Wright, national high school boys' secretary of the Y.M.C.A., who has recently been appointed as superintendent for Alberta and British Columbia of the work to be done by the soldiers of the soil.

Mr. Wright pointed out that all the available British Columbia high school boys would be needed in B.C. The department of agriculture at Victoria is sending out forms to farmers who want boys. In British Columbia the department of agriculture was taking the plan up from the standpoint of the farmers, the education department is taking it up from the standpoint of the boys, and the Y.M.C.A. is being entrusted with its general supervision.

There are about 2000 boys in the high schools of British Columbia; a large percentage of these can be organized and placed on farms where their help will be of great value.

In British Columbia the needs are greatest where the population is thickest and where the greatest number of boys are available. It is estimated that half the production of the province comes from the lower mainland. Here the largest number of boys can be secured and closer supervision will be possible.

With respect to wages, it is not desirable to set a minimum wage, which would undoubtedly be adopted as a standard. We hope to help every farmer to get all the help he needs, but he ought to be willing to pay for it. If a boy does a man's work he ought to get adequate pay. It may be necessary to say some plain things to farmers regarding tre right treatment of boys; they must not expect through this patriotic movement to get cheap labor.

For general work experienced boys may be needed any time after April 1. There is not likely however to be any general demand before June 1. The greatest need will be in July, August and September.

It is expected that Mr. Wright will visit Fernie in the near future.

J. A. Broley, of the Rainbow Lumber Co., left on Monday for Toronto, where the firm has disposed of the entire season's cut.

YES! LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN!

Cincinnati authority tells how to dry up a corn or callus so it lifts off with fingers.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of freezone cost very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.

WAR BRIEFS

Amsterdam, March 22. — Thirty German soldiers were killed and more than 100 others injured and 500 munition wagons were blown up by an explosion at the Mevrignch Station, near Mons, Belgium. The Germans had stocked an enormous munition train under camouflage at Mevrignch.

Rome, March 22.—Fighting is becoming more active along the whole front, an official statement says. The Italians drove back patrols at several points on the front and ejected an Austrian detachment which had forced its way into an advanced post in the Frensela Valley; Along the Piave the artillery fighting became more intense.

Paris, March 22. — Local attacks were made by the Germans at various points during the night but they achieved no success, the war office reports. French troops repulsed strong German raids south of Juvincourt in the sectors of Godat north of Courcy and north of the Aisne. In the last two named regions German detachments were driven from advanced French positions after lively fighting. The enemy suffered considerable loss. In the Champagne a German attack also was repulsed.

Jack Crawford, who about 8 years ago was connected with the Fernie Livery Co., and who for the past two years has been in the mining district about one hundred miles north of Prince Rupert, is in Fernie visiting his family.

SKOVGAARD AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

On Wednesday, April 3rd, at the Presbyterian church, the Girls Club will present Skovgaard, Denmark's greatest violinist, and the New York Metropolitan Company of singers.

This Company is a combination of Grand Opera singers and concert performers, each one being a star and well known to the public. They will not only sing the arias and operatic duets with which they have won their fame, but when you hear Marie Kern-Mullen sing, "Oh, Dry Those Tears," you will know that there is more than one Schuman-Heink in existence—and Sofia Stephali? Yes, she will sing the "Rosary." Skovgaard will, with his $50,000 hand and his $13,000 violin, carry you back to the days of the great Ole Bull; and the pianist, Alice McClung Skovgaard, will charm you, not only through her splendid accomplishments, but when she plays Liszt you cannot fail to recognize that you are listening to one of the most brilliant pianists of today. The tentertainment given by this remarkable company of instrumental artists and grand opera singers is of the style of the popular Sunday concerts held in the Metrpolitan Opera House in New York City.

SECOND SON TO GAIN A COMMISSION

Information has been received from France that Robert William, third son of Sergt.-Major Minton of the 107th Regt., now at Bonnington Falls, has been recommended for a commission by the General commanding the Canadian forces in France, and will be attached to the Royal Flying Corps for an aviator's course of instruction. This is the second son of Sergt.-Major Minton to obtain a commission from the ranks while in France. His brother Harold E. Minton successfully passed as a flying officer a few months ago.

Robert was only a boy of 17 when he left Fernie with the 2nd contingent on Nov. 1, 1914, to join the 30th Batt. at Victoria. He afterwards joined the 13th C.M.R. and in the spring of 1915 he was transferred to the Royal Field Artillery at Calgary as a trumpeter and proceeded to France with that unit in August, and while in France in the summer of 1916 he was again transferred to the mechanical transport, in which unit he has served since, being in his third year actually in the fighting zone.

BIG ALL-CANADIAN SERIAL COMING TO ORPHEUM

"The Red Ace" has scenes laid in Hope, B.C. Marie Walcamp, "The Girl Without Fear," in leading role.

"The Red Ace" is the name of a carefully hidden mine where the Dixons obtain the platinum with which they have contracted to supply the government. The enemies of the government have discovered the fact, and have diverted every shipment to their own sorely pressed munition makers. The government of the United States naturally concludes that the Dixons have turned traitors. They order an investigation in Lost Hope, and in Washington, where Virginia Dixon, the daughter, lives. Virginia receives a letter from her brother, which tells her that some mysterious power is tampering with their shipments, that all the messengers have been killed, and that her father has disappeared. He says he will blow up the entrance to the mine and leave the directions for finding the mine and hidden platinum in a certain ring. Then the letter is broken off sharply.

Virginia hastens to Lost Hope, and with all the strength and ingenuity at her command, sets about unraveling the mystery of the phantom beast, the voice in the tree, the hidden chamber and the lost mine, and clearing the name of her family of the charge of treason lodged against it.

"The Red Ace" will be in sixteen chapters of two reels each, thirty-two reels.

TIRED, NERVOUS HOUSEWIFE TOOK VINOL

Now She is Strong and Wel

Berkeley, Cal.—"I was nervous, irritable, no appetite, could not sleep, and was always tired, so my housework was a great effort. After many other medicines had failed Vinol built me up and made me strong. I have a good appetite and sleep well. Every nervous, weak, ailing woman should try it."—Mrs. N. Edmunds, 2107 Dwight Way, Berkeley, Cal.

We ask every nervous, weak, run-down, ailing woman in this town to try this cod liver and iron tonic on our guarantee to return their money if it fails to help them.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a small bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

FOR THE FREEDOM OF THE WORLD

THE most brilliant, spine-thrilling patriotic drama ever made into a motion picture — a picture to challenge the pride and the conscience of all humanity.

Thousands of men organizing and drilling to fight the battle of civilization. Thousands of men marching away to the front and into the jaws of death.

Before your very eyes nations banding together in a blood brothership against a common enemy.

Heroes and cowards transformed into supermen of gigantic courage walking and scurrying into a living hell of shells and fumes to bring in the wounded from artillery-raked plains.

Women showing their bravery in the home and at the camps; women living through the Inferno of battle to nurse and stimulate their men to victory; women risking certain death to be near the men they love.

And the arrival of the Stars and Stripes on the battlefront in France in a climax that brings audiences up to their feet with cheers—Watching the patient, brave women of the Red Cross take their places of duty near the men of the Allied Armies, you thrill as the entire American nation thrilled when 30,000 women paraded down Fifth Avenue, New York, proving woman's gigantic role in the present world conflict.

Feats of daring to set your blood a-tingle; thousands of men giving their all in defense of a nation's honor; a great crisis that made even cowards transform before your eyes into heroes deserving of decorations for bravery.
In this mighty eight-reel production you see feats of human courage almost beyond credence—how the American youth and manhood behave under fire—how our Canadian boys mobilized and went into action in behalf of the Motherland.

TOO MUCH FOR SKOVGAARD

Upon his arrival in a certain town in Washington, to his astonishment, Skovgaard, the Danish violinist, found a big sign printed below his poster: "This is not a moving picture. He weighs 300 pounds." Immediately the Danish artist went after his advertising agent for permitting such outrageous advertising. The agent, in his turn, demanded an explanation from the theatrical manager who had taken it upon himself to print those signs. The manager answered: "As I had heard of Skovgaard being a mighty big fellow, and as my people always think that everything I present in my theatre are moving pictures, to make it strong I printed "He weighs 300 lbs. and is not a moving picture." But if I had known he was that swift on the violin I would not have mentioned the weight at all." Skovgaard dropped the matter but he will play for you in Fernie, on Wednesday, April 3rd, at the Presbyterian church.

The Highest Class Talking Machine in the World

Sonora

THE marvelous growth of Sonora (1917 sales 100 times those of 1913) is due solely to intrinsic value.

A phonograph merely "as good" or "slightly better" could never have achieved such results in the face of the vigorous competition and extensive publicity of older established machines.

If you want "The Highest Class Talking Machine in the World" you must buy the Sonora.

ELKO NOTES

It takes more than soap to make a saint, says Jim Thistlebeak, but why go dirty when you can buy five large bars of soap for 25c.

There was a lot of travellers on the train the other day going west and there was a bunch of show girls on the same train and in the same coach, when one young cub said he would bet the girl that was overpainted would not be hard to kiss, and Jim Thistlebeak, the old fried egg says, but would she be worth the kissing.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mott returned to Elko from Hurlingham, Tobacco Plains and have taken up their residence in Kensington Square.

The nice weather, the roads all open for auto travel, the jitneys started again, brought in a full complement of travellers to the old historic burg last week, with samples and a line of language that makes the fellow that wrote the English language look like the figure O with the rim torn off. Sherlock Holmes with a sweet clover smile, Nick Carter with a sour look selling vinegar; grocery men with ginger snaps, war flour cookies and self-raising buckwheat specialties. Hardware men with anvils, one man bucksaws, monkey wrenches and stem winding mouse traps. Specialty men with samples of mother's mince meat, Aunt Minnie's pickles and loads of other good things such as only the youthful stomach could hope to digest. Candy travellers with fresh caramels and hot chocolate kisses, gum drops and all day suckers. A delegation of the meat trust with overland trout and reckless rabbit. Blue, black and green tea travellers with a coffee side line as black as your hat and strong as sin. One fellow with diamonds all over him like a pawnbroker's bride and a walk like a tragedy queen with the springhalt. Lumber buyers from Saskatchewan's shimmering plains, looking as innocent as two curates at a Sunday school teachers' picnic, but with the pride of the Prince of Wales. An insurance man looking as if he'd struck a child with a club, robbed a church and set an orphanage on fire, and several others that would remind you of Dante's vacation place.

J. G. Cummings, Govt. District Engineer and Govt. Bridge Builder Kerr were in Elko this week conferring with Mayor Klingensmith re the city's much needed improvements.

Now that the British have captured Jerusalem and Jericho it might be possible to make the journey between the two historic burgs without falling among thieves.

Mrs. John Minker, of Seattle, Washington, is visiting with Mrs. George Millett, College avenue.

Doc. Rutledge, the well known veterinary, passed through Elko this week with a smile that would keep you awake nights and said that he had been on the jump for the last ten days and was going through to Cranbrook to get acquainted with his wife.

Mrs. Richards, of Winnipeg, came in from Spokane, where she was visiting her daughter, and stopped off at Elko for a few days to visit the Neldratts of the South Fork Fruit tracts.

A man from Spokane got off the train at Elko the other night and seeing Jim Thistlebeak standing on the platform said: Why, hello Jim, are you still in Elko. No, says Jim, I'm down at the coast picking lilies of the valley.

William Grapejuice Bryan, that United States leather lunged prince of platform orators, seems about as popular in Canada as the Kaiser would be in Paris. Just wished we had his gall; we wouldn't be selling all day suckers, gum, boots, overalls and bacon with buttons on.

Billy West, "The Candy Kid," coming to the Isis.

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, cleanse little bowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

REGARDING EXEMPTIONS

Since the actual ratification of the Military Service Act when the Union government was elected to power last December, from certain quarters there has been more or less opposition, principally of course from the source of those who were directly affected. Murmurs of resentment; requests and appeals for exemption, some justifiable and some absolutely unjustifiable, have arisen from many quarters. One of these cases was brought to the attention of the Board of Trade at its meeting last evening. The sponsor for the affected parties very earnestly endeavored to present the sacrifice by the enforcement of the law in the particular case of Irene Roux, one of the proprietors of the Canadian Dairy, and apart from its personal aspect, the possibility of inconvenience to this community was represented with more or less vigor as a calamity, because the remaining partner, Maurice Roux, is reported to have announced that if the law takes its course and requires the younger brother to go, he will be obliged to sell out the business of the firm, as he will find it utterly impossible to continue otherwise.

Without the question of a doubt this firm has been, we will say, seriously affected, but not one whit more so than thousands of others, and even at that not to anything like as serious a degree is the sacrifice which has been demanded in this case as compared with many others even right in our midst.

Those claiming exemption presented their claims in the proper order. They were considered strictly on their merits of national importance. When the present case came up in the regular manner the evidence was submitted, but even though it was contended that this city might be required to do without the convenience of a dairy, it was not considered to be approaching national importance, and that the appellant would be of much greater benefit to the community and the nation by going to the front. Later another employee of the firm appealed and same was disallowed. At no time was any evidence brought forward that the frm were producers of commodties other than merely dairy products and at that chiefly milk. Evidence, however, was adduced that originally ,including the two partners, seven persons handled the business of this firm, among whom were two females, one boy of tender years and one elderly man, neither of whom come within the ages required for military service. Therefore in normal times when over 55 per cent of the labor can be performed by those unfit for military service, surely in a time of national stress, by greater effort, all the work could be done by this class of labor with the exception of the management.

Undoubtedly there are some grounds for complaint but we do not think it will be at all necessary to sacrifice the business entirely. A profitable $4000 or $5000 investment need hardly go begging or be disposed of for a song. The sacrifice is great indeed, but we believe in this case, as in hundreds and thousands of others, when time has dulled the bitter sting cherished for sentimental reasons, those who thus oppose the call of the country now will live to see the day that they will look with pride upon these very sacrifices no matter how great they may be.

COUNCIL HOLD SECRET SESSION

City council opened on Thursday evening with His Worship the Mayor and Aldermen Beck, Jackson, Brooks and Rutledge present. There was a fair representation of spectators present, indicative that something of interest at least to those present was to be sprung.

One complaint was directed to the attention of the council, relative to stray poultry, etc., and the nuisance of stock and poultry at present permitted to roam at large in the city. The council passed a motion that this question be drawn to the attention of the police commissioners for proper action to be taken in having the by-laws covering same enforced by the police.

The delegation from the Board of Trade re sidewalks was represented only in the person of J. R. Wallace who requested that this matter be laid over until the full committee of the Board would attend.

A communication was received from a financial house regarding the Annex Sewer debentures stating that as these are of the 5 1-2 per cent interest bearing type the present value would be $78 with little demand.

Re the proposed school bylaw debentures, should the floating of these be ratified by the ratepayers, this house suggests that same be on the basis of 7 1-2 per cent, at which rate of interest it will be possible to realize more upon sale than if offered at a lower rate of interest.

When the proper time arrives Ald. Jackson desires the press to underline the different rates at which any such debentures are proposed to be sold and the interest bearing rates so as to distinguish the difference between 5 1-2 per cent sold at 78 and 7 1-2 sold at 98.

The amounts of accounts in re Hesketh children will be submitted to the Attorney General as requested in a letter.

The resignations of City Electrician Finn, Engineer Duff and Fireman McNally, the former to date from April 16, the two latter from March 31, were accepted on a motion of Aldermen Jackson and Brooks.

Applications from the following seven parties for Mr. Finn's position were then presented:

John Turner, city, $115 per month if permitted to work portion of time with his own personal business or $140 for full time.

H. E. Wright, of Drumheller, $165 month.

J. J. Brown, Hosmer, $140 month.

Fred Watson $150 month.

H. W. Chambers, no salary stated.

Norman McLeod, Underwood, Washington, $150 month.

On motion of Ald. Beck and Rutledge council went into committee of the whole and the whole of the spectators were excluded from the meeting.

(Heard among the spectators gathered on the city hall steps: "What is the matter with this bunch of boobs we've got in the council. Have they any sand at all? Guess this business is as much the affair of the public as theirs. Some one must have an axe to grind. Thought old Bill Jackson had more sand in him but he was as mute as a mouse. They'll have a secret session of an hour to hire one man. Guess I'll go home.")

The balance of the council meeting will appear next week.

MINERS ASK GOVT. FOR MINIMUM WAGE OF $4.08

Edmonton, March 27.—Representatives of the United Mine Workers waited on Premier Stewart Wednesday morning to present the amendments to the mine act as passed at their recent convention, chief among which were arrangements for inspections. During the afternoon they will see the premier in regard to some changes they want in the workmen's compensation act, whereby in cases of disability the compensation shall be greater than that outlined by the government bill.

In connection with some of the amendments asked for, the premier asked the delegation how many of the mine workers were alien enemies and the reply was less than 50 per cent, and that the great majority of these were naturalized Canadians. They had their families here and were becoming very useful citizens, they considered. Being married men, practically all their money went into circulation through the store keepers of the localities. In some of the mines great numbers were Italians but they were allies in the present world struggle and had bought Victory bonds. It was suggested by Premier Stewart that a census of the nationality of the mine workers be taken in order that the rumors that were circulating through the country as to the trouble in the mines being due to this enemy influence might be quieted. It was doing a great deal of damage to the miners generally.

In regard to the elimination of Asiatic labor for which the delegation asked, the premier said that the provincial government had no power to stop that, except by voicing a protest. Personally he was very much against that. He advised them not to urge that matter at the present time, however, as outsiders might be inclined to suspect them of holding up the industries of the country by keeping out the necessary labor.

In connection with an 8-hour day, for the war, he also counselled them to wait for the same reason.

They further asked for a minimum wage of $4.08 a day. This was being obtained at some of the mines now through their agreements, but they wanted it included in the law, so it would be universal. The premier expressed appreciation of their contention in this respect, also in regard to their request that the miners be paid according to the mine-run rather than on the coal marketed. According to the present mode they insisted that the miners were mining the slack and the bone, etc., for nothing.

One of their chief requests was that their secretaries be given power to act as inspectors in the mines. This had been a bone of contention for some time, said the premier, as the operators fought it at every inch. The miners want the inspectors to be their own men but paid by the government, and they do not want any discrimination against a paid official of the organization doing this work.

VETERANS RETURNING

Several ex-permanent and temporary residents of this city during the past week have returned home from overseas. They are Lt. J. Lewis, the erstwhile likable game warden, of Elko; Sergt. Dufficey, who for some time previous to enlisting with the 54th Batt. was tonsorial artist at the Fernie; Harry Hughes, son of Constable H. Hughes, of Michel; George Cody, Thomas Allen, of West Fernie, and W. Henderson. All these boys have very interesting tales to relate but they all much rather talk of home and of the boys who left here than the horrible experiences through which they have gone.

UNION CHURCH SERVICES

Union church services will begin on April 14, continuing every night except Saturdays, in Hawthorne's Hall, until May 5. These services will be conducted by the Rev. F. A. Robinson, M.A., and his three helpers: Rev. D. J. Craig, special worker; Mr. T. H. Nichol, soloist and director of song; and Miss A. B. Niven, soloist. Concerning Mr. Robinson, Dr. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor) says: "He knows nothing of arts and tricks sometimes supposed to be necessary to the skilled evangelist, but his quiet, simple, tender, masteful handling of a situation of exereme delicacy is only possible to one of fine nature and deep spiritual power."

Mr. Robinson has been conducting special services in Vancouver and New Westminster in the last two months. The New Westminster Columbian says:

The personality of Rev. F. A. Robinson, leader of the Evangelistic Band, that opened special services yesterday in St. Andrews church, was a study to the congregation yesterday. His message was closely Biblical; he spoke in tones that were conversational; instead of the usual superficial things that are often expected at such services, he dealt with the most profound realities, and he gripped the audience as if he possessed hypnotic power.

"The devil does not object to your going to church," he declared. "He will go along with you so long as church-going is a respectable formality."

Mr. Nicoll, the director of song, worked wonders in getting the congregation singing from the new book of revival hymns. Before a week is passed, it is safe to predict that they will be sung everywhere in the city. For fifteen minutes at the opening of every service, these swinging tunes will be sung.

The Elk Lumber bush camps were closed today temporarily owing to the bad conditions in the bush.

GREAT WAR VETERANS ASSOCIATION

The Club Rooms over the 41 Market were opened on Friday, March 22. Great credit is due Mrs. J. R. Wallace and her helpers for the excellent results obtained in such a short time. The Veterans wish to publicly express their thanks to the Returned Soldiers Club Committee, I.O.D.E. and various donors of furniture, etc.

The Knox Church Dramatic Club are playing "What Happened to Jones" on April 10, in the Grand theatre, proceeds for the benefit of the G. W. V. A. The Association is urgently in need of funds and the above kind offer is gratefully appreciated.

It is the intention of the members to hold a social as a farewell to Pte. Brown, who returns "over there," leaving here on the 6th inst.

On Tuesday evening next, April 2, at 8 p.m., at the Club Rooms, there will be a meeting of female relatives of men serving in the C.E.F. or Canadian Naval Forces. All female relatives are cordially invited.

The House Committee will meet on Tuesday at 9 p.m. and the Social Committee at 9.30.

LATEST WAR NOTES

Rome, March 28.—Italian artillery yesterday engaged enemy movements on the east of Badanche and caused the explosion of a munition depot east of Vider.

London, March 28. — The entire Turkish force in the Hit area in Mesopatamia has been captured or destroyed by the British the war office announced today. Three thousand prisoners were taken.

Paris, March 28.—Blocked on the Lassigny and Noyon fronts and on the left bank of the Oise, the Germans last night threw forward important forces in the region of Mont Didier. Here the fighting rapidly took on extraordinary ferocity. French regiments fought hand to hand with the enemy and inflicted heavy losses. Finally the French fell back to the heights immediately to the west of Mont Didier.

London, March 28.—Severe fighting took place again yesterday evening and during the night astride the Somme and northward from Albert to Bovelles. Repeated attacks made by the enemy along the valley of the Somme and in the neighborhood of Beaumont Hamel Puiseux and Moyenneville, were repulsed. A number of prisoners and machine guns were captured. The fighting is continuing fiercly on both sides of the Somme.

London, March 28.—A further advance by the British forces which have crossed the Jordan in Palestine is announced officially.

Moscow, March 28.—Russians must take a rifle in one hand and a hammer in the other, submit to the most strict discipline and work 16 hours a day if they hope to combat the menace threatened them, declared M. Podversky, assistant minister of war, in an address advocating the immediate creating of a regular army.

SOLDIERS' CLUB IS OPENED

Last Friday evening the formal opening of the Returned Soldiers Club, which henceforth will be located in the 41 Market Building, was held. The boys' newly appointed quarters have been superbly arranged and their accomplishment in this direction is something they may well feel proud of. They also clearly demonstrated that they can be real hosts. A very entertaining program was given, those taking part being Mr. and Mrs. A. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Graham, Mrs. J. R. Wallace, Archie Prentice, S. Herchmer, W. R. Wilson, and T. H. Willets. Mayor Thomson acted as chairman and formally turned over the quarters to the returned boys, while Lieut. W. J. Claridge officially accepted the same. At the conclusion freshments were served and everyone of the program for the evening reattending were loud in their voluntary expressions of pleasure at the successful venture which the local returned boys, with the assistance of prominent citizens, had accomplished. The administration committee of the Club are Mayor Thomson, Ald. Jackson, E. K. Stewart, T. Uphill, Mrs. R. Duthie, Mrs. J. R. Wallace, W. J. Claridge and H. Kennedy.

A burglary was reported to the city police last Saturday morning when the place of business of A. Saad, operating in the north end of the city, reported the loss of over 300 pair of men's trousers, 10 dozen pair boys' pants, 15 dozen pair men's overalls, 25 dozen pair men's socks, etc. The boldness of the thieves as reported was incomprehensible, because they forced entrance through the rear doorway in close proximity to where Mr. Saad and his family slept, and this action must have caused considerable noise. They even took the time to carefully parcel up some of the spoils. One large bundle of mackinaws was found in the rear of the Palace Meat Market. It is understood that the city and provincial police are co-operating in connection with the robbery and have the matter well in hand and that it is quite possible some more or less startling developments concerning the wholesale theft may transpire in the near future.

CORONERS' INQUEST

The adjourned inquest touching the death of Albert Kaleta was resumed at the court house last night when the first matter for consideration was the objection raised by the Coal Company relative to Jurors Potter and Hunter being disqualified under the Coal Mines Regulation Act on account of their appointment as members of the Pit Committee in No. 1 East and No. 2 Mines. Coroner Thomson at the opening of the proceedings read the telegraphic exchange between himself and the Attorney General from which it was apparent that the final decision in the matter was reverted to himself. Some considerable discussion arising out of the aforesaid telegrams followed but it was without any apparent progress towards adjusting the difficulty which had arisen. The communication from the Attorney General instructed the coroner that if the said Pit Committee had been appointed by a meeting of the Union he would rule that they were thereby disqualified but if appointed at a mass meeting of the miners they would not in his opinion come within the meaning of the Act. Coroner Thomson in accordance with this ruling had demanded the production of the minutes of the meeting at which Potter and Hunter were appointed and as same clearly indicated that it was a mass meeting of the miners and technically not a union meeting the objection was consequently overruled. In rendering his decision the coroner without hesitation asserted that he did so without prejudice to either party and sincerely regretted that he had been obliged to make the decision himself after having referred the matter to those of wide legal experience. However, when called upon to perform the duty of the office he was prompted in deciding the matter on the evidence produced.

The formal inqust was then continued and the evidence of those immediately present when Kaleta met his death was given. Dr. Workman and Dr. Asselstine also gave evidence with regard to the cause of death, the latter having performed the post-mortem examination from which it was divulged that the internal injuries were almost inconceivably in keeping with the almost entire absence of their severe nature from the superficial indications.

After all the evidence was in the jury retired and after considering the matter for nearly two hours rendered the following verdict:

"We are of the opinion that Albert Kaleta's death was caused by a fall of coal and rock, at place designated on plan as shown at No. 1 South Mine, Coal Creek, at about 10 a.m., March 16th, 1918. We would recommend that more care be taken in work of this nature."

Deceased was engaged in certain repair work in the return airway of said mine, which necessitated removing a portion of the side wall or taking "off a skip," and while so engaged a huge piece of coal broke off and while apparently not directly coming in contact with the body of deceased in some manner hurled him downward and the impact from the fall fractured his ribs, one of which punctured the aorta causing a severe internal hemorrhage.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Auditor Phillips, of the C. P. R., Cranbrook, is in the city.

E. Heaphy, of Winnipeg, is in the city on business.

Billy McIntyre is slowly recovering from two dangerous operations.

A. McDougall, of the Croydon Lumber Co., is spending a few days at his home here.

G. G. Henderson, who has been spending the winter in the city, returned to Croydon, B.C., where he is office manager for the Croydon Lumber Co.

Jules Andre received a wire yesterday from his partner, Tommy Roe, who is in Calgary, stating that he had just been married and would not be back for two weeks.

Tomorrow is the last day for delivery of booze in this province, but judging from the amount delivered here in the last month, it will be at least five years before there will be any great drought felt.

The Trites-Wood Co. Easter windows are very beautiful. This store certainly has some real artists in the window dressing line. You will travel a long way before you will see a store which can compare with this institution.

The provincial government has withdrawn the commission of 5 per cent allowed to provincial constables for collecting poll tax where the money is secured from employers with more than five men. The act is retroactive. One poor constable at Fort Steele has to refund $57. This is a sore touch when a man gets a salary of $75 per month to keep a wife and family on.

A quiet wedding took place at the Church of England last evening, when Mr. J. F. Percival, accountant at the Imperial Bank, was united in marriage to Miss Whitney, of the Bank of Commerce staff, Rev. Yolland officiating. Both the young people have a host of friends in the city who unite in wishing them every happiness.

Call at the fire hall for a fire alarm card.

Fernie will have an opportunity of hearing a musical treat, when Skovgaard, the Danish violinist, assisted by his new Metropolitan artists will give their concert in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday, April 3 at 8 o'clock. It will be remembered by those connected with the Coal Creek Explosion Fund that on his last visit Skovgaard gave a special concert in aid of this fund.

COTTAGE MEETINGS

The following is the plan for a series of cottage meeting, commencing April 2, with the date, time, place of meeting and leader of the meeting:

Tuesday, April 2, 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Munkwitz, McDonald Avenue West Fernie. Leader, Rev. J. F. Shaw.

Wednesday, April 3, 8 p.m., at home of H. Wilson, corner Mason and Jaffray, Annex. Leader, Rev. Eugene Fantetti.

Thursday, April 4, 8 p.m., at home of Dr. Garner, 3 Victoria Ave. Leader, Rev. A. L. Carr.

Friday, April 5, 8 p.m., at home of Mr. Laithwaite, Macpherson avenue. Leader Mr. Stewart.

Monday, April 8, 8 p.m., at home of J. C. Forbes, McLeod Ave., W. Fernie. Leader, Rev. A. L. Carr.

SOLDIERS DISCHARGED

On March 26, we understand, the Provincial Game Warden advised all game wardens in this locality at least, and also believe all those holding the appointment of deputy game wardens in the province, that on March 31st their services would no longer be required. It is also understood that the provincial police have been instructed within this short period that they are to take over all the equipment of the deputy game wardens. Undoubtedly those who direct the operations of the game department have some plan devised whereby the work of the game wardens will be undertaken by some other branch, and from the meagre information to hand it is presumed that the custodians of the peace will in future be required to act in the dual capacity, which to say the least it is apparent will entirely sacrifice the efficiency of the department heretofore conserving the game of the province.

Apart from this feature, however, the termination of employees' positions on five days' notice is in itself an undenibale demonstration of unbusinesslike methods which even governments stoop to. Another astounding feature on the part of the government is that they appear to have not the slightest regard for pre-election pledges. Before the last provincial election those now in power were unusually loud in their declarations for non-patronage and the assistance they would render to all returned soldiers. It is commendable that they did appoint returned men to many civil service appointments and they have enjoyed these appointments for varying periods for the past year, but with one fell swoop a new policy appears to have been inaugurated, because on reliable information we are given to understand that 90 per cent of the returned veteran appointments were to the game department and on five days' notice, without explanation, their services are no longer required.

BRUTAL TREATMENT OF BRITISH PRISONERS

A shocking story of German cruelty to British prisoners of war is told in an official and authentic narrative published in the Scotsman. This record of the suffering and miseries during transit to Germany of those officers and men of the original Expeditionary Force, who were unfortunate enough to fall into the hands of the enemy in the first month or two of the war, will stand in its naked horror beside other equally well documented proofs of German savagery, such as the Wittenburg cruelties and the atrocities committed in Belgium and Northern France in the early days of occupation. The evidence of German barbarism, especially before the innate cruelty of the German nature had been to a slight extent chastened by reverses or subdued by fear, is cumulative and complete. No gloss can be put upon the revolting conduct of the enemy which will in the least degree affect the verdict, and if it could be assumed that Germany has found her conscience — which all evidence effective punishment for her sins than contradicts—there could be no more effective punishment for her sins than to insist upon her representatives at the Peace Conference hearing to the end such stories of burning shame and lasting infamy as that of the German treatment of Belgian civilians and British prisoners of war. The evidence upon which the report published in the Scotsman is taken is from more than 120 separate narratives, which corroborate each other in the most striking and convincing way. It is told how 50 or 60 wounded men would be thrown into cattle trucks, inches deep in animal manure, and compelled to travel for days in these indescribably filthy pens without medical attention, often without food, and forbidden to leave their moving cells for days and nights at a time for any purpose whatever. On a three days' journey 4 officers and 28 men were given as their complete rations for the whole 3 loaves of black bread, and they received nothing to drink, not even water, until the third day, when they were given a cup of coffee each. All other prisoners of war, even negroes, were treated better than the British, upon whom was heaped every species of insult and degradation. When the trains stopped at a station or the prisoners were marched through a town or village, they were displayed "as an exhibition to the crowd," and suffered "the grossest forms of abuse." Even school children were drawn up in ordered rows to "chant their chorus of hate." Revolting as this treatment was, the report states that the behaviour of the German Red Cross was even worse, food and medical appliances, although plentiful at all stations on the route, being refused with insult. The women especially were "extraordinarily venemous in preventing anything from reaching the prisoners, and their general display of spite, their heartless cruelty, their profusion of gross insult were barbarous beyond all words." These sisters of charity, these wearers of a badge recognized all over the world as the emblem of pity for suffering, treated the British prisoners worse than dogs, spitting deliberately in the cup of water they insultingly offered our wounded. Such is the refinement of German womanhood.

RE PARCELS FOR PRISONERS OF WAR IN GERMANY

The German authorities have issued a memorandum to the effect that parcels for Prisoners of War interned in Germany must be addressed to the "parent" (or main) camps to which the prisoners belong and must not bear the names of any branch or working camps or of any other place to which the prisoner might be detailed for special services.

The memorandum states that prisoners who have been detailed for services outside the "parent" camps have been enjoined by the German authorities from the very first, to inform in this sense any relations or other persons from whom they expect to receive postal parcels. Parcels for prisoners of war in hospitals also come within the meaning of these regulations.

In the interests of the prisoners it is therefore essential that these regulations should be strictly adhered to as otherwise the German authorities will not deliver the parcels to the prisoners of war for which they are intended, and it is suggested that persons in Canada when writing to prisoners in Germany should ascertain definitely the name of the "parent" (or main) camp so that they can comply with the regulations of the German authorities in addressing parcels to prisoners.

A TOUCHING APPEAL

The Valve World, of Chicago, prints under the title of "Lest We Forget To Do Our Part," a touching excerpt from the leter of a United States soldier described as No. 258, —th District, National Army. It reads: "They say, who have come from Over There, that at night, when troubled ca[illegible] between the lines, carpeted with pain. They say that death rides whistling in every wind, and that the very mists are charged with awful torment. They say that of all things spent and squandered here young human life is held least dear. It is not the pleasantest prospect for those of us who yet can feel upon our lips the pressure of our mothers' good-bye kiss. . . . But, please God, our love of life is not so prized as the love of right. In this renaissance of our country's valor, we who will edge the wedge of her assault make calm acceptance of its hazards. For us the steel-swept trench, the stiffening cold—weariness, hardship, worse. For you for whom we go, you millions safe at home—what for you? . . We shall need food. We shall need care. We shall need clothes for our bodies and weapons for our hands. We shall need terribly and without failure supplies and equipment in a stream that is constant and never-ending. From you, who are our resource and reliance, who are the heart and hope of that humanity for which we smite and drive must come these things."

DUNCAN MARSHALL DENOUNCES MEDDLERS

Calgary, March 27.—"Those persons who are going around talking minimum wages and limited working hours on farms are only meddlers and should be turned out of the country," said Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture, in an address to the board of trade on "Greater Production" at the noon hour today. "There is no such thing as an eight hour day in the trenches," continued the minister, "and any one who stands in the way of further production in Canada this year should be put on the stone pile and made to break rock for the construction of better roads in the country."

NO TAX ON AUTOS

Ottawa, March 27.—Authoritative announcement was made today that no decision had been reached by the Government in respect of the rumored Federal tax of 10 per cent on automobiles. No order in council, it is further announced, has been passed placing an embargo on automobile parts.

AESOP ON RUSSIA

About 2500 years ago a slave named Aesop, one of the masters of literature wrote, or perhaps dictated, our editorial for this week on Russia.

At least he is reputed to have done so.

It was as follows:

"'Why should there always be this implacable warfare between us,' said the Wolves to the Sheep. 'Those evil-disposed Dogs have much to answer for. They always bark whenever we approach you, and attack us before we have done any harm. If you would only dismiss them from your heels, there might soon be treaties of peace between us.'

"The Sheep, poor silly creatures! were easily beguiled and dismissed the Dogs. The Wolves destroyed the unguarded flock at their pleasure.

"Change not friends for foes."

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhœa, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

"Fruit-a-tives" is certainly a wonder. For a year, I suffered with Rheumatism; being forced to stay in bed for five months. I tried all kinds of medicine but without getting better; and thought I would never be able to walk again.

"One day while lying in bed, I read about 'Fruit-a-tives' the great fruit medicine; and it seemed just what I needed, so I decided to try it.

The first box helped me, and I took the tablets regularly until every trace of the Rheumatism left me.

I have every confidence in 'Fruit-a-tives' and strongly recommend them to every sufferer from Rheumatism".

Why Best for Babies?

"Granny" Chamberlain

"I am often asked why Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is best for babies. Well, there are several reasons:

First: It is perfectly harmless and can be given with every confidence to the youngest or most delicate child.

Secondly: It contains no alcohol, opium, chloroform, morphine or any other narcotic.

Thirdly: Children like it, and no persuasion is needed to get them to take it.

For the above reasons alone it is impossible to get a better medicine for babies than

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

But aside from its safety it relieves coughs and colds, is the best remedy known for croup, and when given as soon as the croupy cough appears it will even prevent the attack."

Yours for Health — Granny Chamberlain

A Ford Car Takes the Place of All These Things

WHEN you own a Ford you can do away with many articles that are a source of continuous expense to the man who still drives a horse. For instance, not only your driving-horse and buggy, but the single harness, blankets, whips, currycombs, brushes, horse-shoes, pitchforks, feed-bins, etc.

In their place you have a speedy, dependable, dignified, roomy Ford Car—complete in itself. It is vastly superior to the narrow, cramped buggy that travels so slowly. And when a Ford is standing idle it does not eat three meals a day, and it requires no "looking after."

A Ford will save you time, trouble, and money. It is the utility car for the busy farmer and his family.

THE URGENT NEED OF GREATER PRODUCTION

France, England and Italy in peace times did not depend upon America but on Russia, Roumania and Bulgaria for most of their bread stuffs. With these sources closed the crisis of the hour demands that we see that our soldiers and the Motherland are fed.

Germany's hope for victory is in the starvation of Britain through the submarine. Canada's sons will have died in vain if hunger compels the Motherland to surrender.

The land is waiting—the plough is ready—will we make the plough mightier than the sword? Will we help the acres to save the flag?

People are starving today in Belgium, in Servia, in Poland, in Armenia, in many quarters of the globe. Famine conditions are becoming more widespread every day.

Is it any wonder that food production is the greatest problem the world faces today? Owing to destruction by submarines, ocean ships are scarce. It is much easier to protect shipping between Canada and England than on the longer voyages from India and Australia. Therefore every ton of food stuffs grown in Canada is worth to the Motherland two tons grown in India or four tons grown in Australia.

If this country does not raise a big crop this year, not only will the people of Canada suffer but the Motherland and her Allies will suffer and their military power will be weakened if not paralyzed. Therefore, the right solution of the present war comes back to the farm, as to a foundation upon which our whole national and international structure must be built and maintained.

Lloyd George, in a letter addressed to farmers throughout the Empire, says:

"The line which the British Empire holds against the Germans is held by those who work on the land as well as by those who fight on land and sea. If it breaks at any point it breaks everywhere. In the face of the enemy the seamen of our Royal Navy and mercantile marine and the soldiers gathered from every part of the Empire hold our line firstly. You workers on land must hold your part of our line as strongly. Every full day's labor you do helps to shorten the struggle and brings us nearer victory. Every idle day, all loitering, lengthens the struggle and makes defeat more possible. Therefore, in the nation's honor, heed! Acquit yourselves like men, and as workers on land do your duty with all your strength."

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a small bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

GREASE is bound to get on things even in the most spic-and-span kitchen. But careful housekeepers know that Gold Dust dissolves the grease. Try Gold Dust on your kitchen floor, on your painted woodwork and on your cupboards.

Dunlop "Gibraltar RedSpecial" Belting

Abnormal Friction Pull vs. Elasticity of Friction

Note the Short Grain Rubber Friction

This Belt Section illustrates a Heavy "Poundage-Pull" Friction. To secure this result the Friction Grain is short and stiff. Elasticity and Flexibility have been sacrificed to secure such a result.

BETWEEN every ply of specially-selected, heavy Cotton Duck in Dunlop "Gibraltar RedSpecial" Belting is a layer of pure Rubber which, through a Dunlop calendering process, so permeates the fabric that it binds the several plies into one integral piece.

Some belt manufacturers offer to sell their product on the basis of "Heavy-Poundage in a Friction-Pull" Test. To obtain the latter result it is not necessary to secure such an expensive Rubber Friction as is used in "Gibraltar Red Special." This fact alone ought to be a pretty good gauge of the value of the "friction-pull" test.

In buying "Gibraltar RedSpecial" you get the advantage of years of careful laboratory work on our part with this result: The friction is of that "just-right" elastic quality which allows for the give and take necessary in rounding the pulleys; hence the reason "Gibraltar RedSpecial" is known for maximum Power, Speed and Service.

Note the Long Grain Rubber Friction

Dunlop "GIBRALTAR REDSPECIAL" has a Friction of Special Dunlop Rubber that retains its life indefinitely. "Note the long grain Rubber Friction," as illustrated. Elasticity has not been sacrificed for Abnormal Friction Pull.

UNLIMITED capacity for service is an intrinsic quality with Dunlop "Gibraltar RedSpecial" Belting. The success of nearly a quarter of a century in the manufacture of Rubber Products is built into Gibraltar. The original Made-in-Canada Red Rubber, Frictioned Surface Belting, "Gibraltar RedSpecial" has stood the infallible test of time in turning the wheels of industry in a multitude of Canadian plants from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The Dunlop Unreserved Guarantee

If you have a difficult drive anywhere in your factory drop a line to our Head Office, or to our nearest branch, and we will send a man experienced in belt engineering to consider your requirements. If it is an instance where the "Gibraltar" Belting may be suitably employed we will recommend its use; and we will stand behind our recommendation with the fullest guarantee ever issued by a firm producing rubber products.

MARY GARDEN IN "THAIS" COMING TO ORPHEUM —WATCH FOR DATES

It was to be expected that Mary Garden could give an interpretation of "Thais" without flaw, but those who come to the screen from the operatic stage do not always leave their mannerisms behind, hence her performance was a delightful surprise. She carried the role without marring theatrical affectations, though with so much dignity at times that she was perilously near losing the characterization. The note of dignity, however, was sustained by her support, notably by Hamilton Revelle as Paphnutius, and by a nicely adjusted decorative spirit in production, at one time buoyantly luxurious, at another severely ascetic, the one life-enhancing and supposedly demoralizing, the other cold, cramping and conventionally religious. From the warmth and joy of wealth and popularity, Thais of the single standard, who believed in according women the liberty enjoyed by men, could only be weaned by that strange quality of human nature which reaches out for spiritual happiness through martyrdom.

That strange note was to be sounded by Paphnutius, who was among those fascinated by her in Alexandria, who could not forget three years later at a convent in the desert. The desire to convert beautiful Thais, and, incidentally, serve God, led the handsome priest back to Alexandria and supplied the influence necessary to abruptly divert Thais from her delightful misdeeds. She follows the priest to the convent, takes the black veil, and the ancient struggle between the spirit, the flesh and the devil begins, with the priest wavering in his faith. Thais conquers through suffering, is given the white veil and becomes inspired at death, just as the futility of it all begins to dawn on her reformer.

"Thais," as an opera, scored a triumph for Mary Garden, and "Thais," as a visualization, preserves that triumph in that it vividly portrays her strong personality, and this is made possible by a wealth of decorative charm throughout the presentation.

A NEW BANKRUPTCY LAW

(Vancouver World)

A new bankruptcy law in this Dominion has long been a crying necessity. Every business man knows at present the ease with which a "merchant" having made a "clean-up" can start again in business and repeat the process.

Under the existing law creditors find it difficult to bring about voluntary liquidation, except by a slow process of liquidation. In the second place, a debtor who has honestly surrendered his property to meet his debts finds difficulty in securing a clear release. Also the costs of liquidation have been too great.

In the proposed new law the principle suggested is to curtail the intervention of the courts and to allow trustees for the creditors to liquidate in the quickest and most economical manner.

The Canadian Creditmen's Trust Association has met in Winnipeg to discuss the question. It is one that concerns Vancouver also. Business in this city has suffered heavily in the past through defects in the bankruptcy laws. The opportunity of bringing about an overdue reform has arrived.

FILL OUT AND FILE INCOME TAX FORMS

It was inevitable that an income war tax law should have been placed on the statute books. The growing demands made upon Canada, as one of the free nations of the world, engaged in the life and death battle with the forces of barbarism, and the necessity of distributing the burden as equitably as possible, made the imposition of a tax, based on ability to pay, merely a matter of time.

All the great nations engaged in the conflict have found it necessary to make the income tax one of their principal sources of revenue. Among the more striking evidences of the will to win in these times of sacrifice, is the spirit with which the people of Great Brtain—upon whose shoulders rests the major portion of the war's financial burden are going about the work of supplying the sinews of war. The people of France and the United States are as cheerfully doing their part and it is a foregone conclusion that the people of Canada, already inured to sacrifice, will make of the income war tax an opportunity to serve the holiest cause which has ever engaged the attention of mankind.

Like the fathers of the American Revolution, the free peoples of the earth have dedicated their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor" to the cause which they espouse. The call upon the fortunes of the people of Canada is to take the form of a graduated tax on all incomes of $1500 and over enjoyed by all other persons, as or widows and widowers without dependent children, and of $3000 and over, enjoyed by all ohtre persons, as well as by all corporations and joint stock companies.

The Department of Finance is now calling for the filing of the necessary forms, filled out as required, before the 31st of March. While penalties for failure to carry out the requirements of the act are provided, it is confidently expected that the people of Canada, jealous of their right to play a major role in the conflict, will respond to this latest call in a spirit of quiet patriotism.

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

KEEP YOUR HOLIDAY HEALTH

Make it your business to always look and feel as well as you do at the end of your vacation. Sunshine, fresh air and exercise are nature's great restorers and the health gained during a holiday should carry you well along to the next vacation.

It is most important that the blood be kept cleared of impurities. This is the business of the Kidneys. One hour's incapacity on the part of the Kidneys and the blood begins to get clogged with poisons which are carried to all parts of the body—giving rise to one or more of the following symptoms:—

Rheumatism follows the crystalizing of uric acid in the muscle tissues and joints. Uric acid poisons should be eliminated by the Kidneys.

Swollen joints and ankles indicate the immediate need for Gin Pills. Pains in the sides and back and through the groins, constant headaches, restless nights, derangements of the urinary system, stone and gravel, puffiness under the eyes and frequent chills—all these should be taken as warnings and a treatment with Gin Pills taken at once.

50c. a box or 6 boxes for $2.50, or a free sample will be sent upon request to National Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto, or to the U.S. address, Na-Dru-Co Inc., 202 Main St., Buffalo, N.Y. 123

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

SOUR, ACID STOMACHS, GASES OR INDIGESTION.

"Pape's Diapepsin" neutralizes excessive acid in stomach, relieving dyspepsia, heartburn and distress at once.

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress, due to acidity, will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest stomach sweetener in the whole world, and besides it is harmless. Put an end to stomach distress at once by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by fermentation due to excessive acids in stomach.

The C.P.R. are furnishing a fine line of platform accommodation for their passengers. It is often necessary to walk a distance of four or five cars through the mud and slush to reach the coach you desire. The Board of Trade should make a kick about this matter. The C.P.R. always seems to be of the opinion that anything is good enough for Fernie.

The C.S.ET. gymnasium classes will give a gymnasium display at the gymnasium in the Methodist church on April 11, at 8 p.m. Admission 25c. The proceeds are to go for equipment. The classes have been doing good work and have lots of splendid stunts ready so that a good exhibition is assured. Come and encourage the boys in their physical development.

Wm. Eschwig has decided to move to Brant, a new town in Alberta, where he will erect a hotel. He has purchased several large buildings in the abandoned town of Hosmer and has a wrecking crew at work moving them to Brant. Mr. Eschwig has been one of Fernie's most enterprising and successful business men and his departure is a distinct loss to the community. The new town he is going to has bright prospects ahead of it, having already seven elevators in operation.

See the poultry exhibit held by the Fernie Poultry and Pet Stock Association in Ingram's Hall, on Saturday evening, March 30, at 7 p.m. Any male bird in the heavy classes can compete. SHOULD FIGHT THE ENEMY IN CANADA

Mr. James W. Gerard, American ambassador to Germany, tells of the persistent enemy propaganda carried on in France in the hope of breaking down the morale of the beleaguered French race:

"But even while war goes on, even while the French poilus hold fast the long battle line, the French people are beset within by agents of the Kaiser. Face to face they are with the secret agents, spies, the informers, the buyers of newspapers and of public men, the traffickers in honor who, behind French citizenship or neutral passports, seek to divide France, to make the soldier at the front feel that he is betrayed by traitors at home, to render the French distrustful and suspicious of each other and thus to strike as mortal a blow at the French defence as was attempted at Verdun."

Spain is alive with German propagandists, who bribe newspapers, divide the country, and threaten revolution if the King sides with the Allies. So it is in Switzerland and Norway, Sweden and Denmark. Russia is the most terrible example of how the insidious and persistent Huns can break down the morale of a brave people and make them bow to the conqueror's yoke. Thousands of spies and rumor mongers are at work in all Allied countries in the hope of demoralizing them as the vast Eastern Empire has been demoralized. Mexico is full of the Kaiser's agents. So is the United States. As Mr. Gerard says:

"The German autocracy always hopes to divide us, to make of us a Russia, torn by Maximalists and Minimalists, by Militarists and Bolsheviki and, consequently, impotent for war . . . The blows of war must be struck quickly. Delays are dangerous, and the temporary paralysis of the country by propaganda may mean the loss of the war. The United States has been at a great disadvantage because our officials have not had the authority, the means or the money to fight the German propaganda with effective educational campaigns, both offensive and defensive."

The warning is for Canada as well as for other Allied countries. We must be constantly on our guard against the underhand machinations of the German spy system and against the feeble-minded fools who constantly lend themselves to the Kaiser's campaign. We must be prompt in our punishment of those who make statements or retail rumors designed to break the war will of the Canadian people.

SKOVGAARD HERE ON WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3RD, IN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

A most attractive and remarkable attraction of great variety is presented in Axel Skovgaard, the Danish violinist and the New York Metropolitan Company, consisting of Alice-McClung-Skovgaard, pianist; Sofia Stephali, soprano, and Marie Kern-Mullen, contralto, who are to be presented in a concert in the Presbyterian church in Fernie on Wednesday, April 3rd. The program not only presents "arias" and operatic duets with which the singers have won their fame, but also the more popular folk songs with which we are all familiar. Skovgaard with his $50,000 hand and his $13,000 violin carry you back to the days of the Great Ole Bull.

As this concert is the principal event of the season it is expected that Knox church will be filled to its utmost capacity.

CHINESE LABOR ADVOCATED

The supply of white labor is diminishing. Immigration has ceased and will not be renewed until after the war. It is Chinese labor alone that will speed the plough, and if Chinese labor can be obtained we should not hesitate to employ it under proper regulation. The true interest of the labor organizations will be promoted not injured by an increased agricultural production. If Labor Councils will not approve the introduction of Chinese on the farm, let them provide an alternative. Will they suppy farm hands in sufficient number. They well know it is impossible, and so from mere prejudice they would risk a shortage of food in Britain and France rather than have it furnished from the only available source.—The Montreal Gazette.

ELKO NOTES

(By Fred Roo)

Numerous functions have held the attention of the social circle in the Old Historic Burg and the Roosvillle Valley during the past week, several of them having been large affairs and everybody contributing to make the week a bright and busy one.

The St. Patrick's dance held at Roosville school house on March 16, brought out every Irishman in the valley. The local string band supplied the music, assisted by George Dingsdale, banjo and concertino soloist, for several years with the Moore and Burgess Minstrels, London, England. Dick A. Roo, the well known broncho twister, acted as floor manager and kept the dance in full swing, and made it as pleasant as marrying a poor girl for love only and before the honeymoon is over her uncle dies and leaves her two million dollars. Miss Jennie Nichols, of Creston, took first prize for waltzing. The free supper provided by the ladies of the valley would discount your grandmother's Thanksgiving dinner and was a marvel of the confectioner's art; cakes that would really taste good to an angel; the lemon meringues would melt in your mouth; coffee like a dream of joy with real cream. It was a brilliant success and everybody had a good time and promised to come again. The receipts of the dance after expenses are paid will go to the Patriotic Fund.

Mrs. Jack Graham, Westmoreland Cottage, Riverside Park, was the charming hostess at a party this week in celebration of her birthday anniversary, and a number of Elko's upper ten were invited. The afternoon was spent with conversation and fancy work and later light refreshments were served, consisting of salad, sandwiches, cake and coffee.

That I am glad you're here on earth,
These few remarks will show you.
And let me add, I'm also glad
That I am here to know you.
—Jim Thistlebeak.

Alex. McMillan, one of Elko's popular young men, was tendered a farewell banquet at the Kootenay Ice Cream Parlors last week, which was attended by about 30 of Elko's Queen Bees and Beaux-esprits. The parlors presented a very pretty appearance with the pink candles and decorations of smilax and pink carnations. The piano recital by Mrs. Waters, of Winnipeg, was greatly enjoyed, while several musical selections were well received. The evening was spent with dancing and cards and at midnight delicious refreshments were served, after which song and stories and good cheer mingled with smoke and bonbons, until the cold daylight began to splash through the windows. The Home, Sweet Home waltz was something to write home to your aunty about as the whole party broke into song "For he's a jolly good fellow," which woke up the city police and brought out the fire brigade, that made everybody smile like a girl with a new doll on Christmas morning. Mr. McMillan left on Sunday for Vancouver, where he will join a party of big game hunters.

It pays to advertise if you know how but some merchants don't know enough to display umbrellas when it is raining and have no more sense of humor than a cigar store Indian.

Among the notables visiting Elko last week we noticed Senator Grey of the Imperial Tobacco Co., Purity Earsine with samples of war flour and receipes for making doughnuts with or without; Mr. McKenzie of Rossland doing the compensation act with the bush leagues, mine prop slashers and tie-hackers; the well known Jimmy Black with special colthing for golfers; Jack Colvin with spiked boots for river drivers and embroidered slippers; Bill Heartshorn dispensing wisdom and carbolic acid for a Winnipeg house; the veteran Jimmy Greer with a full line of family foodstuffs and other household urgents; a young dandy from Vancouver just recovering from pip, known in medical parlance as the spooney infantum, with red peppers, baking soda and little white beans, and so sunburnt he couldn't laugh without cracking his ears; Wilcox with Pacific milk that thick the cream couldn't get to the top, and just as fresh as the new telephone girl; a fur buyer from Winnipeg with mountain goat trimmed whiskers but docile as Mary's little lamb; and a dozen other rubber men from Rubberville; Montreal dry goods man showing samples of sheepskin lined sourdough coats that buttoned up close to the chin. It was his first trip in the mountains and he seemed to be having a time like an admiral's dream; a Lethbridge specialty traveller with ammonia, asparagus, axle grease, ball and bottle blueing, beans, borax, side and back combs for beehives, and also brooms. If you want to meet people come to Elko, the Queen City of the Crow's Nest Pass.

Mrs. Jim Thompson, of Cranbrook, was down this week visiting with Mrs. Alex Birnie, of the Aberdeen Blue Line Auto Livery.

FAMOUS DANISH VIOLINIST MISTAKEN FOR A SPY

A few days ago when the Northern Pacific train pulled into Pocatello, Idaho, Skovgaard, the Danish violinist, was greatly surprised when the guard accompanied by policemen, approached him and demanded a case of ammunition which he was reported to possess. It did not ease matters any when the artist vigorously explained that he had no ammunition. His leather case, which contained the precious Stradivarius violin was pointed out, and only after Skoxgaard had drawn the bow over his violin a few times was the guard appeased. Then the train again continued its journey toward the Pacific coast. The colored porter admitted to Skovgaard that he was the cause of all the trouble. He had refused to allow the porter to carry the violin case and had been carefully watching that it did not come near the hot pipes for fear of damaging the violin. This had aroused the suspicions of the porter who had wired ahead that among his passengers he had a tall foreigner with a case full of bombs and he was sure something was going to be blown up. The Danish artist is devoting much of his time to Red Cross Benefit concerts, and he has, in the States as well as Canada earned many thousands of dollars for war relief funds. He will be heard at the Presbyterian church in Fernie, on April 3rd, and a full house is expected.

ENGLISH WOMEN MUST BE THIRTY TO VOTE

England's new electoral reform act not only gives the ballot to women, but also to a large number of additional male voters. It is the most sweeping measure of enfranchisement in British history. The number of voters will be at least doubled—increasing from 8,000,000 to 16,000,000, and the latter figure is probably an underestimate.

The men voters will still be in a substantial majority for several reasons. The first is that the qualifying age for men is 21 or if serving in the army or navy, 19; while no woman under 30 is admitted on any ground In the second place, there will still be plural voting, and although both men and women are restricted to not more than two votes each, there will be far more men than women to qualify as twice-voters.

A woman may have two votes only if she is a university graduate, in which case she has a vote in her home district and also a vote for her university candidate. A man may have two votes under the same conditions, but he may also have two votes if he is a business-property owner in another county than his home.

As an illustration, take a family consisting of husband and wife and two sons, one aged 19 in the army, the other 23 and a university graduate. The family lives in a London suburb and the father is in business in London. He has a vote in his home district, and also one in the district where his business is. The wife, not being a university graduate has but one vote. The two sons will each have a vote as residents and the elder will have an additional vote in the university constituency, and one or both may have a second or alternative vote on account of the occupation of business premises outside his residence district.

WELCOMING THE CONQUERING HEROES

As the Toronto Daily News has already urged the members of the First Canadian Contingent now coming home on furlough should be given the warmest reception ever extended to returning heroes. More than 2000 of them are already on Canadian soil, and are being hurried to their homes. Every one of the many municipalities to which they belong should forthwith organize a great demonstration in their honor.

The veterans we are about to receive are no ordinary men. They have been through three years of hell on the Western Front. Going into the trenches in the spring of 1915, they were the first of the Allied forces to be "gassed," but they withstood the new horror without flinching. In so doing they blocked the Kaiser's road to Calais and Boulogne. They helped to hold the Western line while Great Britain, Canada and the rest of the Allies prepared their larger armies.

They have been through a thousand engagements and a score of big battles. They are coming home for a respite from the tremendous conflict. In a little while they will be returning to their places of danger in the firing line. Let all homestaying Canadians unite in praising them as they deserve. Let us show them that we understand and appreciate their Herculean labors for the salvation of civilization.

Watch for "The Red Ace."

PRICES UNCHANGED

Not all our economic sky is overcast. There is a spot as large as a man's hand which shows a touch of radiance. In the list of household needs, and their prices, given to the country by the Labor Gazette, we discover that white wine vinegar is no more expensive now than it was before the war. People who are perishing for white wine vinegar have every opportunity of satisfying their longing without clutching apprehensively at the ends of their purse-strings.

The one curious thing about the price list is the quantity required by the average household for a week. We find:

Potatoes	2 pks.	58.7c.
Vinegar, white wine	½ "	8

Is it true that the average Canadian home needs half a peck of vinegar every week? If so, we regard the price as amazingly reasonable.

COUNTERACT I.W.W.

Ten thousand soldiers are being sent into the woods of the Northwest as the Spruce Production Division of the U.S. Signal Corps. Their duties are to get out spruce and fir for areoplane stock. These men are volunteering from Western National Army camps and from civil life and from other services to counteract the trouble caused by I.W.W. agitation in the western lumber camps. A monthly production of 15,000,000 board feet of spruce is required to take care of the extra needs for the aircraft construction programme, and small operators are being encouraged to get rived timbers in order to speed up production. Four New York State College of Forestry students have enlisted in these logging squadrons and have left Syracuse for Vancouver Barracks. — St. Thomas Times.

LIFT YOUR CORNS OFF WITH FINGERS

Tells how to loosen a tender corn or callus so it lifts out without pain.

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn or callus the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, lifts off with the fingers.

Freezone dries the moment it is applied, and simply shrivels the corn or callus without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but will positively rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or hardened callus. If your druggist hasn't any freezone he can get it at any wholesale drug house for you.

MAYOR THOMSON REFUSES SALARY

When the council again went into open session after the secret conclave the following applications were received for the position of engineer at the power house:

John Brown, salary $4.53 per day.
J. T. Edgar, salary, $4.53 per day.
J. A. Robertson salary $4 53 per day
John Dolstra, salary $4.53 per day.

On motion of Aldermen Jackson and Brooks the position of engineer was awarded to John Brown at $4.53 per day.

Applications for the position of fireman were received from the following:

John Reid, salary not mentioned.
John Laithwaite, $100 per month.
Hugh Brown, $4.16 per day.
Albert Thomas, $124 per month.
Harry Meen, not stated.
Wm. Shenfield, $4 16 per day.
Wm. McGladrey, $4.16 per day
Bert Bertwhistle, $125 per month.
Fred Woodhouse, $4.00 per day.
Wm. Marshall, $4.16 per day.

Moved by Aldermen Jackson and Brooks that the position of fireman at the power plant be awarded to Wm. McGladrey at a salary of $4.16 per day.

Messrs. Henderson, Reid & Patterson were engaged as auditors for the year at a salary of $600.

The appointment of a man to fill the position of Jas. Finn was laid over until Monday evening.

On motion of Aldermen Brooks and Jackson the city engineer's report was accepted and he was authorized to secure the necessary supplies from Metals, Ltd., at Calgary, to the value of $470.

On motion of Ald. Beck, seconded by Ald. Rutledge, the salaries of Miss Dragon and Miss Carmichael were raised $10 per month each.

Moved by Ald. Beck, seconded by Ald. Rutledge, that the city clerk be instructed to prepare bylaws governing the salaries of the Mayor and aldermen, to be at the same rate as last year.

By the request of Mayor Thomson the mayor's salary was withdrawn from the motion, it being his intention to serve the city gratis.

The city clerk was instructed to call for tenders for kalsomining the isolation hospital.

Meeting adjourned.

At a special meeting held on Monday evening, at which the Mayor and Aldermen Beck, Jackson, Rutledge and Brooks were present, Harry Clift was engaged to take charge of the power house at a salary of $150 per month and Jos. Langdon was appointed city electrician from April 1, at a salary of $135 per month.

MISS SUTHERLAND GOES TO TRAIL

Nelson News—Miss Sutherland, deaconess for the Presbyterian church in Nelson, will leave the city Tuesday morning to assume similar duties in Trail. The announcement of Miss Sutherland leaving in the city follows a request of the presbytery under which she serves. At the church last evening she was the recipient of a purse of $100 in gold which was presented to her on behalf of the congregation. Miss Sutherland most suitably replied to the presentation address made by Capt. D. C. McMorris and to expressions of appreciation from others in attendance.

"It affords me great pleasure," Mr. McMorris said, "to represent the congregation of St. Paul's and on their behalf to present you this very slight token of their appreciation of the admirable and praiseworthy manner in which you have discharged the onerous and responsible duties appertaining to your office.

"Your high character, integrity, zeal and self- sacrifice have not only won the esteem and confidence of your friends and of those brought into immediate contact with you, but have radiated far and wide and have left an impression that will be lasting because of the sacrifices made by you and the spirit of love which prompted the work done.

"That you may long continue in the service which you so admirably adorn is the wish of the many to whom your virtues are as household words. With this purse let me, on the part of those whom I represent, wish you health, happiness and prosperity."

Besides acting as deaconess in Nelson at two different times, Miss Sutherland has been engaged in the same capacity in Cranbrook, Greenwood, Phoenix and prior to returning here in September last year was at Fernie.

Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes has been arrested in Missouri under the Federal Espionage Act for declaring that the United States Government is not entitled to the unqualified support of all citizens in war-time, and for adding: "No Government which is for profiteers can also be for the people, and I am for the people." There is need for similar action in this country against a number of individuals who have made statements far more likely to weaken the war morale of the nation.

FOR OUR COUNTRY'S SAKE (?)

The following questions and answers came up in the House the other day re the discharge of Game Warden Frank Harmer. The questions were asked by Mr. Bowser and replied to by the Hon. Mr. Farris.

1. Was one Frank Harmer, of Fernie, formerly a Deputy Game Warden?
2. Did he prosecute one C. D. McNab, of Waldo, on July 17th last for carrying firearms without a license, and also for carrying firearms in a motor-car during the close season?
3. Was he found guilty?
4. If so, what fines were imposed?
5. Were said fines paid?
6. Were they afterwards rebated?
7. Was said Harmer dismissed the next month?
8. If so, why was he dismissed?
9. How long had said Harmer been in the Service?

The Hon. Mr. Farris replied as follows:

"1. Yes.
"2. Yes.
"3. No; was fined in his absence.
"2. $5 for carrying fire arms; $5 for carrying firearms in automobile.
"5. Yes.
"6. No and no application made.
"7. Yes, on August 31.
"8. In the public interest, and to make way for a returned wounded soldier.
"9. April 1, 1913 to Aug. 31, 1917.

To those in Fernie who know the ins and outs of the above affair the answer of Farris to question 8 is a joke. Mr. Fisher would hardly have the nerve to have given that answer.

JUDGE RYAN OF CRANBROOK DEAD

Cranbrook lost one of its best known residents, through the death on Monday evening of Joseph Ryan, and there was a feeling of sincere regret in the entire community when it became known that he had passed away.

Judge Ryan, as he was familiarly called, appeared in the best of health and spirits on Sunday but early in the afternoon suffered an attack of heart failure and was taken home in a serious condition. He rallied however within a few hours and on Monday it was generally understood that he was making rapid progress toward recovery and would be out and around again within a few days. He suffered a relapse that afternoon and breathed his last shortly before seven o'clock.

It is about eighteen years since Mr. Ryan came to Canada from Ireland. He settled first in West Kootenay, where he spent some six years being chiefly occupied as a broker and doing also considerable accounting and conveyancing, his legal training in the land of his birth, proving of great value in the latter connection. He moved to this district about twelve years ago undertaking Secretarial work in connection with mining undertakings. He was Police Magistrate for several years and for some time past conducted a Brokerage and Conveyancing office. —Cranbrook Herald.

MORRISSEY NOTES

By permission of the officer commanding Morrissey Inernment Camp, Capt. Mitchell, a very successful dance was held on Thursday evening, March 28th in honor of Pte. Thomas Allen, who has just returned from the front, he being the first returned man whose home is located in the camp, his father, Pte. J. Allen having had his wife and family here for some time. Pte. Allen who is a sniper, has been in several engagements, viz: Ypres Somme, and Vimy Ridge, being twice wounded, once at Ypres and again at Vimy Ridge. While in England he met Miss Clark of Gravesend, whom he married in London, returning with him to Canada.

At the end of the first half Sergt. Major Neale in a few appropriate words welcomed him back, to which Pte. Allen very modestly replied, but everyone present could see the effect of the trying time he has gone thru.

The executive much regret that owing to bad roads the rigs from Fernie with returned men and their escorts were unable to get through, but hope that our visitors from Elko enjoyed the evening, and that we shall have the extreme felicity of welcoming them on another light fantastic occasion.

OLD TIMER PASSES AWAY

News came to hand to-day that Thomas Thane McVittie, a resident of this district for nearly forty years, died at Edmonton on Monday morning last.

Mr. McVittie was born at Barrie, Ont., about 63 years ago. He was one of the young men who was attracted by the great possibilities of the west and after spending some time surveying townships on the prairie for the Dominion Government, came to British Columbia in 1897 and has practised as a Provincial Law Surveyor since 1881. He was made a Justice of the Peace on the withdrawal of the North West Mounted Police and was held in high esteem for the manner in which he performed his judicial duties. Mr. McVittie was a member of the Anglican Church and acted as Lay Reader at Fort Steele for several years. He married a Miss Galbraith, niece of Mr. R. L. T. Galbraith, and has been in failing health since the death of Mrs. McVittie in 1916. The deceased leaves one brother, Archibald now living at Victoria, also a sister, Mrs. Scott, who, with her husband, Mr. Justice Scott, were at his bedside when he passed away. The funeral took place on Wednesday.

His death makes a third gap in the ranks of the old timers during the present month. Two weeks ago we recorded the death of Mrs. John Levett, while Joseph Ryan and Thomas T. McVittie both passed away on Monday last.—Cranbrook Herald.

BRYAN VISIT TO DOMINION BIG MISTAKE

"A very large percentage of the people of the United States will find much satisfaction in the treatment accorded to William J. Bryan by an audience in Toronto," says the Muncie (Ind.) Star. "While the procedure may not have been altogether decorous, it was effective. It served to bring out, where that could be done without suspicion of party politics, an expression of the conviction that has been spreading among patriotic Americans, that Bryan is fiddling when Rome is burning.

"His fellow countrymen do not believe that Bryan is pro-German, although Canadians might have that impression from his record. We do not believe he is consciously unpatriotic. He is just Bryan, the same Bryan who thought the salvation of the nation depended on sixteen to one, who imagined he could bottle up the German fleet in the Kiel Canal with his dreadnoughts Friendship and Goodwill, who had a notion, as Secretary of State, that a sharp note to Vienna was for home consumption.

"He is a pacifist and proud of it, even in these strenuous times when pacifism is so generally discredited. Bryan has disappointed a host of his admirers by his attitude in the war. He had a following that was large and enthusiastic. He might have been a source of great strength to the nation at this time. While former President Taft had been visiting the cantonments and doing his best to arouse the spirite of our soldiers; while former President Roosvelt had been preaching patriotism day after day; while former Presidential nominees Hughes and Parker have had their shoulders to the wheel of the war chariot, Bryan has been going about lecturing on prohibition and other subjects, as if the world were at peace and war is not the all-absorbing topic at present."

The Bloomington, Ill., Bulletin says:

"His loyalty as an American cannot bejustly questioned, but he made a big mistake in going up to Canada where the people were putting their sons over the top at a time when the people of the United States were generally hoping and praying that they might not have to enter the awful conflict.

"The Bulletin entertains no doubt of Mr. Bryan's loyalty to America, but regards his offence in going to Toronto in the light of an impudent attempt of an outsider to interfere with the domestic affairs of another nation."

NO TIME TO THINK OF PEACE

When a criminal is in deadly struggle alone with a policeman there are only two ways in which the criminal can escape. One way is to overcome the policeman by superior strength or skill; the other is to divert the policeman's attention from the struggle and thus relax his strength and skill.

For nearly four years Germany has been struggling against the powers of law and order. She has failed so far to make good her escape with her booty by superior strength or skill. And now she is attempting by intrigue, suggestion, device, and propaganda to divert the attention of her antagonists from the struggle itself, and thus to gain her ends by relaxing the strength and skill of her antagonists.

What she can gain from these tactics is plain to all the world in the sorrowful experience of Russia.

Germany's most dangerous weapon is not her zeppelin. That is obsolete. Not her submarine. That can be overcome. Not her machine-like army. That has been repeatedly hurled back by the living armies of freemen. Her most dangerous weapon is the propaganda of peace.

While liberty is in peril, there is threat of lasting disaster in the very word peace.

Voices warning against such disaster are raised at this time none too soon. Pointing to Russia as an example of what the present exigency is, Charles E. Hughes, in an adress before St. David's Society of New York the other day, declared that the chief danger to America is psychological. "Let there not steal over this people," he said "the palsying feeling that perhaps effort may not be needed . . . This is a serious moment . . . It is plain to all of us by the events of the past days the recent days, that this is not the time even to think of peace."

Such a warning as this of Mr. Hughes' needs to be heard up and down the land, among all the people; for Germany has set out to beat down, not merely armies, but nations. As General von Ludendorf has said, "Battles are no longer decisive. The people must be defeated.—New York Outlook.

THE LATEST WAR NEWS

London, April 5.—The Germans concentrated troops early this morning near Albert, the war office announces. British artillery took them under its fire. Between the Luce River and the Somme heavy fighting continued yesterday during the afternoon and evening till a late hour. The Germans employed strong forces and delivered repeated assaults on the British positions. These attacks were beaten off with loss to the enemy but the British troops were pressed back a short distance to positions east of Villiers Bretton-Neux (about 10 miles east of Amiens) which they now maintain. North of the Somme the enemy's artillery has been active during the night in the neighborhood of Bucquoy and in the Scarpe Valley.

Paris, April 5.—German forces continued their attacks during the night, says today's official statement. Despite the superiority of the German effectives which the statement says were spent recklessly, the Teutons were unable to reach their objective, which was the railway from Amiens to Clermont. The French regiments by their resistance and counter attacks maintained the line in its entirety. The French conquered the greater part of Epinette Wood, north of the town of Orvillers-Soel. All German efforts to dislodge the French were in vain. The French captured St. Aignan Farm, south east of Grivesnes and held it against all assaults. In the north the French withdrew from Arriercourt Wood, west of Mailly Ramoval.

MAY START GOLF CLUB

The agitation for a local golf course is again on. There are several places in the vicinity where a small course could be secured and as we have a number of strong fans here it looks as though this season would not pass without an effort being made to get a club started. Judge G. Thompson says that in A. Watson, manager of the Home Bank, and Alan Graham, of the firm of Herchmer & Martin, Fernie has two of the best golf players in the west. Some of the enthusiasts advocate starting a club down in the Elko country where a large course would be available, but others are of the opinion that as this would limit the membership to car owners and their friends every effort should be made to have the course located as close to the city as possible. There is quite a stretch of land between the town and the Fernie Lumber Co. which might be available if the Coal Co. were approached in the matter and sufficient money could be raised to clear the ground.

TECHNICAL TRAINING

A meeting was held in the city hall last night to consider the question of installing manual training and domestic science in the school. There was a small but representative gathering, with Mr. Herchmer occupying the chair. In introducing the speaker, Mr. John Kyle, organizer of technical training for the province, Mr. Herchmer said he was in hearty sympathy with the scheme and also strongly supported one for organizing the forces in the city in order to provide sound, healthy amusements for the adolescent population. In his opinion nothing was more important in Fernie than that the growing population have the privileges of undergoing the physical training that the young have in many other cities in British Columbia.

Mr. Kyle in his address on the value of hand work in school showed that it was and has been looked upon for hundreds of years as a means of training the brain. The boy and girl are doing their best thinking when they are planning out things to make. Such work leads to perfection of taste, skill and improved production. Hand work by its appealing nature to the young mind, forms an excellent educational expedient. It is a natural mode of training the young, as the greater proportion of the children at school have what may be called practical minds.

The human mind is the greatest producing agency in the world and it pays any country, state or province to train the minds of its inhabitants. There is a direct ratio between the amount of money spent on the education of the population and the amount of wealth produced by that population. In British Columbia there is a vast inheritance of natural resources and it will pay the people to spend money on training the young to work them. By installing manual training and domestic science in the Fernie school the means will be provided for conducting night schools and the teaching of the fundamentals which are required for technical work generally. The Education Department provide 75 per cent of the cost of equipment besides paying a liberal grant for the teachers. Night schools are also well supported, a grant varying from two-fifths to four-fifths of the teachers' salaries being paid to encourage such work. So sure is the government that training means improved and greater production that in addition to the grants stated above, they will also pay dollar for dollar in purchasing technical equipment. All that remains is for the citizens of Fernie to be alive and ready to take advantage of such grants and to launch out without further hesitation into a system of education which cannot but act in a beneficial way on the whole community and on the province in general.

Many speakers voiced their opinions and sentiments and it was unanimously voted that Mr. Kyle should return at a later date in order to address a public meeting on the question.

It is expected that Mr. Kyle will return in about a month's time and his address on that occasion will be "The Necessity of Training Industrial Recruits."

FERNIE MAN GETS PROMOTED

The following clipping from the Jacksonville Daily Journal refers to Charlie Buhrer, late manager of the Trites-Wood Co. store at Coal Creek, and son-in-law of Mrs. Jas. Kirkpatrick of Fernie:-

At the regular monthly conference of the salesmen of the Jenkinson Bode Co. held Saturday announcement was made that C. J. Buhrer will become manager of the company's business succeeding F. H. Bode June 1. As previously announced, Mr. Bode and his family expect to leave about that time for California, where Mr. Bode will establish a business in conjunction with his present associates.

Mr. Buhrer was an employe of Mr. Bode and his associates in Springfield twelve years ago. Subsequently he became manager of a large retail store in British Columbia. He gave up that position three years ago to become city salesman for the Jenkinson-Bode Co. here. The first of the present year he was appointed assistant manager and he is soon to assume the duties of the managership. He will have general charge of the business of the Jacksonville and Beardstown plants. Roy Peyton of Beardstown is the resident manager of the plant there. Mr. Buhrer is thoroughly experienced in his present work and has proven himself a very competent business man. He will spend most of the time during the next two months making a personal visit to the company's customers in the Jacksonville and Beardstown territory.

POLICE MIXUP AT MICHEL

Five or six men at Michel are under arrest for interfering with the provincial police in the discharge of their duties. It appears that Constable Norgrove and Constable Hughes while on patrol duty Sunday night, ran across an Italian who was crouched in a suspicious manner in front of a house. One of the officers turned a flash light on the man and he ran out and struck Constable Norgrove. Both officers immediately pounced on the man and succeeded in getting a handcuff on one wrist when a bunch of about twenty Italians arrived on the scene and proceeded to beat up the police, who finally made their escape but not before they were badly cut up with rocks and clubs. The next morning the officers returned to the scene of the trouble and succeeded in locating the escaped prisoner, who had in the meantime filed the handcuff off his wrist. The police informed him that he was under arrest but as the prisoner was calmly cutting some tobacco with a large butcher knife the officers didn't like to interfere with him. They departed to the C.P.R. station, where they sent out S.O.S. calls to the different officers throughout the district and by night had sufficient help on hand to round up the prisoner and five or six of his friends.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

The local poultry exhibition in Ingram's Hall on Saturday night was very successful, there being a fine display of birds of every description.

The miners laid off on Tuesday to discuss several matters in dispute. A committee was appointed to interview the Coal Co. management.

There is some talk of the city issuing a special licence to the merchants handling the cigarette and tobacco business of the town. The contention is that if the cigar stores are closed on Sunday the police will be better able to enforce the law if the business is confined to two or three responsible dealers.

The White Lunch Cafe has closed its doors.

A. BIRNIE

A RELIGION OF SERVICE

It is interesting in these days of evangelistic effort to observe the various methods brought into use by those in this line of work, to create a temporary enthusiam or permanent interest in the church life and the deeper needs of the human soul.

Those who from night to night are flocking to the meetings in Devine Street Methodist church are certainly not rewarded with anything of a sensational nature, and the quiet and reverent atmosphere that pervades these gatherings is in marked contrast to much that we have witnessed.

Mr. Robinson does not present to his hearers a religion that comes as a dread from some faroff world, or a religion that arouses temporary excitement expressing itself in demonstrations and display, but a religion that by its simple and practical presentations touches the daily life of every man and woman, lessening the evils and expressing itself in service to the community.

In his impressive addresses he appeals to the intelligence of his audience rather than to their emotions and one cannot but feel that such meetings must bring permanent results.

The musical part of these services is being made very attractive by a large choir under the skillful direction of Mr. T. H. Nichol. Mr. Nichol's experience in choir training and organization is of great value in this work. He has a splendid baritone voice and his solo work is very much in harmony with the rest of the service.

Miss A. B. Niven has sung with much acceptance during the past two nights and has a voice of unusual quality.

On Monday evening Mr. Robinson will give the story of "Probable Sons". This is one of Amy LeFeuvre's attractive and winsome child stories and is of interest to old and young. The story which will occupy the entire evening is illustrated with a large number of beautifully colored slides. At a later date Henry Van Dyke's famous story, "The Other Wise Man" will be given the views of which are said to be exceptionally fine.

Owing to the meeting for women only on Monday at three o'clock, the Bible Study usually conducted by Mr. Craig at that hour will be withdrawn but will continue on Tuesday. Mr. Craig is an exceedingly helpful teacher and brings messages of inspiration to all Christian workers.

There will be no preaching services in St. Paul's Presbyterian church tomorrow, Sunday, that congregation worshipping with the Devine street Methodists according to the plan of co-operation in the special mission.

GERMAN COLONIES LOST FOREVER

The Germans still hanker after the return of their lost colonies, still think that by some diplomatic dodge they will be able to them back. Even General Smuts' recent speech, to which the German Colonial Secretary has now made a rambling and pointless reply did not convince them of the hopelessess of any such dream. Yet there are at least three obvious reasons why Germany will never again be allowed to resume her colonial career:

1. Our self-governing dominions would never permit it. Australia, New Zealand and British Africa, who have given their blood and treasure to the task of making an end of "Greater Germany," would feel that Downing street had unscrupulously sold them if it even considered the question of planting once more the old and avowed enemy on their flanks. They would feel that the statesmanship capable of such criminal stupidity had proved itself wholly incompetent to conduct the affairs of a world wide empire. We believe that any proposal to surrender the German oversea possessions would go near to disrupting the British Empire.

2. Wherever Germany has planted herself she has intrigued against her neighbors, has converted her settlements into military strongholds, has used them as jumping-off grounds for her predatory ambitions. Throughout the whole empire there is but one determination—that on no pretext whatever shall she be given a chance of stirring up further trouble.

3. Germany has never shown that she can rule subject aliens with either mercy or justice. The native races have hated her bloody and brutal rule. The one happy moment in their lives was when her power over them was destroyed by the British, French, Belgian and Portuguese troops. Even if all her colonies were handed back to her as a free gift, Germany would have to reconquer them one by one before she could resume possession.

There are plenty of other reasons why Germany's co[illegible] in Africa and the Pacific a[illegible] must end now and forever. But the three are decisive.

Gin Pills FOR THE KIDNEYS

SUCCEEDED

Where Travel and Change of Climate Failed to Restore Health

Hamilton, Ont., Apr. 10th, 1917.

"About four years ago I wrote you of my condition from Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble and my efforts through travel and change of climate to rid myself of these unwelcome guests, and how I only found relief in Gin Pills after spending a lot of time and money in foreign lands.

"Since then Gin Pills have been my sheet anchor. I find in advancing years a tendency of the kidneys to get out of order more easily than formerly but a few doses of Gin Pills puts them right and wards off other and more serious trouble. When I remember what I endured through Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism and the freedom from these which I now enjoy, I feel it not only a duty but a pleasure to recommend Gin Pills for Kidney and Bladder Troubles to my thousands of personal friends throughout Canada to whom I am well known as a commercial traveller of over forty years' active service."

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, cleanse little bowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

WAR LABOR PROGRAM ENDS STRIKES AND LOCKOUTS

Washington, March 30— An agreement that there shall be no strikes or lockouts during the war, and a recommendation that all industrial disputes be settled by a government mediation body are the principal provisions of a national war labor program projected by representatives of capital and labor and made public tonight by Secretary of Labor Wilson.

The program was drawn up by six representatives of capital, six of labor and two men representing the public, after conferences lasting for more than a month. The public representatives were former President Taft and Frank P. Walsh.

The mediation body would be known as the national war labor board, to be made up as was the board that prepared the program. In addition there would be local boards in the industrial centres to deol immediately with any contoversies that might arise.

Principles and policies to govern the relations of workers and their employers in war industries were agreed to as follows:

"There should be no strikes or lockouts during the war.

"The right of workers to organize in trade unions and to bargain collectively, through chosen representatives, is recognized and affirmed.

"The right of employers to organize in association of groups and to bargain collectively, through chosen representatives, is recognized and affirmed.

"Employers should not discharge workers for membership in trade unions, nor for legitamate trade union activities.

"The workers, in the exercise of their right to organize, shall not use coercion to induce persons to join their organization, nor to induce employers to bargain or deal therewith.

"In establishments where the union shop exists the same shall continue, and the union standards as to wages, hours of labor and other conditions of employment shall be maintained.

"In establishments where union and nonunion men and women now work together and the employer meets only with employes or representatives engaged in said establishments the continuance of such conditions shall not be deemed a grievance.

"Establishment of safeguards and regulations for the protection of the health and safety of workers shall not be relaxed.

"If it shall become necessary to employ women on work ordinarily performed by men they must be allowed equal pay for equal work, and must not be alloted to tasks disproportionate to their strength.

"The basic eight-hour day is recognized as applying in all cases in which existing law requires it. In all other cases the question of hours of labor shall be settled with due regard to governmental necessities and the welfare, health and proper comfort of the workers.

"The maximum production of all war industries should be maintained and methods of work and operation on the part of employers or workers which operate to delay or limit production or which have a tendency to artificially increase the cost thereof, should be discouraged.

"For the purpose of mobilizing the labor supply with a view to its rapid and effective distribution a permanent list of the number of skilled and other workers available in different parts of the nation shall be kept on file by the department of labor.

"In fixing wages, hours and conditions of labor regard should always be had to the labor standards, wage scales and other conditions prevailing in the localities affected.

"The right of all workers, including common laborers, to a living wage is hereby declared.

"In fixing wages, minimum rates of pay shall be established which insure the subsistence of the workers and their families in health and reasonable comfort."

The national war labor board's functions and powers would be as follows:

"To bring about a settlement by mediation and conciliation of every controversy arising between employer and workers in the field of production necessary for the effective conduct of the war.

"To do the same thing in similar controversies in other fields of national activity, delays and obstructions in which may affect detrimentally such production.

"To provide such machinery by direct appointment, or otherwise, for selection of committees or boards to sit in parts of the country where controversies arise, to secure settlement by local mediation and conciliation.

"To summon the parties to the controversy for hearing and action by the national board in case of failure to secure settlement by local mediation and conciliation.

"If the sincere and determined effort of the national board shall fail to bring about a voluntary settlement, and the members of the board shall be unable unanimously to agree upon a decision, then as a last resort, an umpire appointed shall hear and finally decide the controversy. The members of the board shall choose the umpire by unanimous vote. Failing such choice the name of the umpire shall be drawn by lot from a list of ten persons to be nominated by the president of the United States.

"The board shall meet in the city of Washington.

"The board shall refuse to take cognizance of a controversy between employer and workers in any field of nidustrial or other activity where there is by agreement or federal law a means of settlement which has not been invoked.

PRESS COMMENT

There is neither politics, nor party, nor dissension, nor criticism, nor impatience in the Motherland at this hour. Not a whisper of pacifism, nor of "peace by negotiation" nor of "forgiving Germany" her infamies is heard. The whole kingdom is intent on the mighty struggle in France and is ready to sacrifice all that that struggle may be won. It is in crises that the real strength of the British character shows itself.

CLIP THIS AND PIN ON WIFE'S DRESSER

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns or calluses so they lift off with fingers.

Ouch ! ? ! ? ? ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone, tell him to order a small bottle for you.

Get Behind the Wheel of a Ford and Drive

TRY it just once! Ask your friend to let you "pilot" his car on an open stretch. You'll like it, and will be surprised how easily the Ford is handled and driven.

If you have never felt the thrill of driving your own car, there is something good in store for you. It is vastly different from just riding—being a passenger. And especially so if you drive a Ford.

Young boys, girls, women and even grandfathers—thousands of them—are driving Ford cars and enjoying it. A Ford stops and starts in traffic with exceptional ease and smoothness, while on country roads and hills its strength and power show to advantage.

Buy a Ford and you will want to be behind "the wheel" constantly.

Dunlop "Gibraltar RedSpecial" Belting

Abnormal Friction Pull vs. Elasticity of Friction

Note the Short Grain Rubber Friction

This Belt Section illustrates a Heavy "Poundage-Pull" Friction. To secure this result the Friction Grain is short and stiff. Elasticity and Flexibility have been sacrificed to secure such a result.

BETWEEN every ply of specially-selected, heavy Cotton Duck in Dunlop "Gibraltar RedSpecial" Belting is a layer of pure Rubber which, through a Dunlop calendering process, so permeates the fabric that it binds the several plies into one integral piece.

Some belt manufacturers offer to sell their product on the basis of "Heavy-Poundage in a Friction-Pull" Test. To obtain the latter result it is not necessary to secure such an expensive Rubber Friction as is used in "Gibraltar Red Special." This fact alone ought to be a pretty good gauge of the value of the "friction-pull" test.

In buying "Gibraltar RedSpecial" you get the advantage of years of careful laboratory work on our part with this result: The friction is of that "just-right" elastic quality which allows for the give and take necessary in rounding the pulleys; hence the reason "Gibraltar RedSpecial" is known for maximum Power, Speed and Service.

Note the Long Grain Rubber Friction

Dunlop "GIBRALTAR REDSPECIAL" has a Friction of Special Dunlop Rubber that retains its life indefinitely. "Note the long grain Rubber Friction," as illustrated. Elasticity has not been sacrificed for Abnormal Friction Pull.

UNLIMITED capacity for service is an intrinsic quality with Dunlop "Gibraltar RedSpecial" Belting. The success of nearly a quarter of a century in the manufacture of Rubber Products is built into Gibraltar. The original Made-in-Canada Red Rubber, Frictioned Surface Belting, "Gibraltar RedSpecial" has stood the infallible test of time in turning the wheels of industry in a multitude of Canadian plants from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The Dunlop Unreserved Guarantee

If you have a difficult drive anywhere in your factory drop a line to our Head Office, or to our nearest branch, and we will send a man experienced in belt engineering to consider your requirements. If it is an instance where the "Gibraltar" Belting may be suitably employed we will recommend its use; and we will stand behind our recommendation with the fullest guarantee ever issued by a firm producing rubber products.

On Friday last a smoker was held in the Club rooms for the purpose of entertaining the men who have recently returned from "over there" to the city. A very enjoyable time was spent. Among those contributing to the program were Privates Joinson, Mulligan, McNally, Dawson, Messrs. A. Graham, A. Prentice, A. Watson, W. Jackson and others. Chief McDougall addressed the gathering on behalf of the citizens, explaining the purpose of establishing club rooms, etc. Chairman Claridge expressed thanks on behalf of the members for the attendance and welcomed home the men for whom the smoker was held. Thanks are due to all those who so kindly donated the essentials that go to make a smoker a success.

If a returned man or any of our workers, the Auxiliary, bump into you with tickets for the play on the 10th inst., please purchase one, as the Association is greatly in need of funds, and moreover we will guarantee that you will be pleased and satisfied with our friends, the members of the Knox Church Dramatic Club. The play to be presented is the ever popular comedy, "What Happened to Jones." It has been presented before in the city and was voted a great success. "What Happened to Jones" runs neck and neck for popularity with "Charlie's Aunt." Laugh and grow fat, they say. So if you desire corpulency don't forget the 10th inst., when you will get all the laughter you desire.

A well attended meeting of the female relatives of men serving overseas was held in the club rooms on Tuesday evening, and was addressed by President Claridge of the G.W.V.A., who explained the calling of the meeting, with the result that the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fernie G.W.V.A. was formally organized with the following officers: President, Mrs. G. G. Moffatt; vice-president, Mrs. R. Duthie; secretary, Mrs Hilton. An investigating committee to look after the welfare of widows and orphans, pensioners, was appointed. If there is any case needing investigation application to the Secretary is all that is needed to insure speedy action by the Ladies and the G.W.V.A.

A farewell social for Pte. Brown, who returns to France on the expiration of his furlough this week end, was held in the Club Rooms on Thursday evening. Among those contributing to the program were Ptes. Dawson and Joinson, Mr. Traherne, Mr. Baker, Mr. Stevenson, W. Jackson, Mrs. Birkett, Miss White, Miss Nelson, Miss M. Brown and Mr. Harold Anderson. Pte. Brown was presented with "smokes" by his comrades and in a neat little speech thanked the citizens for their good wishes and also for the assistance that had been rendered him during his brief visit home. The Ladies Auxiliary attended to the refreshment end and a very enjoyable time was spent by a large number of returned men and friends. Pte. Brown leaves for "over there" with the good wishes of all, who wish him bon voyage and a safe and happy return.

Any person who is good at mental calculation should watch the window of the Trites-Wood Co. during the coming week, when the Veterans will display a novel competition. Full particulars next week.

COMMUNICATION

Fernie, B.C., April 3rd.

Editor Free Press:

Dear Sir—In view of the desire of the people of Fernie to have a general clean-up, why draw the line at the petty crap shooters or a game of seven-up? Would it not be desirable to unmask this ever stalking giant they call "hypocrisy," which at times cuts a wide swath and is apt to use a confusing form of ludicrous camouflage which seems a little bewildering to the average uncouth dweller in the mountains. To elucidate the following questions might be opportune:

1. How many licensed places of amusement are there in Fernie?
2. Is it a fact that the Grand, the Isis and the Orpheum are licensed places of amusement? If so, what amount of tax is paid in each case?
3. When did Knox church become a licensed place of "amusement?"
4. Is it a fact that the Skovgaard concert was held in Knox church? If so, was it held for a charitable purpose and what per cent of proceeds was donated to charity?
5. Under what particular guise was the Knox church allowed to hold a concert of this class?
6. Have the police commissioners power to exempt the church from payment of license when they cater to the people in the character of places of amusement?
7. Is there any truth in the rumor that the term "Danish" means "Schleswig-Holstein," which is too utterly utter in these piping days? Has Scotch Presbyterianism begun to flirt with the Hun?

Next attraction will be Harry Lauder.

One in the "Gallery."

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a small bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

Don't fail to see "What Happened to Jones" in the Grand Theatre on Wednesday, April 10th. Proceeds in aid of Great War Veterans Association

Don't forget the laddies who have fought for you. See "What Happened to Jones" on Wednesday, April 10. Proceeds in aid of Great War Veterans Association.

Thos. Roe who has been visiting on the prairie for a couple of weeks arrived home on Saturday. He says the report published in our last week's issue re his marriage was pure camouflage.

Rev. A. L. Carr has been granted six weeks leave of absence to lecture on Y.M.C.A. work throughout the interior of B.C. He left on Tuesday for Cranbrook, where he will open the campaign

Manger Owen, of the Imperial bank received word this week that his brother Lieut. Herbert Owen, of the 1st Cheshire regiment had died of wounds. This is the second brother that Mr. Owen has lost in the great war.

It is seldom that you can do two things at once and do them well, but by going to see "What Happened to Jones" in the Grand Theatre on Wednesday, April 10, you will enjoy a hearty laugh and help the Returned Soldiers as well.

Octave Critty, proprietor of the Central Hotel was on Tuesday sentenced to six months in Nelson for violating the liquor act. The case will be ppealed on the ground that the charge was not sufficiently explained to the accused who does not understand English very well. Sherwood Herchmer will act for the accused.

Mrs. John Bough received word on Monday that her son, Jack, had been killed in action in France on March 21st. The young man who was well known in the city enlisted with the 54th. He is the first Fernie casualty of the great German drive which is now on. The young man's father is with the Army Medical in England.

Fair Wage Officer Harrison, Mr. McNeil and Frank Wheatley arrived in town on Monday to make their regular quarterly investigation as to prices of commodities entering into the consumption of the miners in this locality, in accordance with the terms of the terms of the arrangements entered into by operators and miners last year, by which the rate of wages is determined that is to govern for the three months which are under investigation. After hearing the evidence of local merchants the board of commissioners left for Blairmore and other Crow's Nest points.

Col. Jos. McKay, of Great Falls, Mont. spent the holidays in the city. He was accompanied by an American official who is working in the interest of the United States government in connection with railway matters. This officer is most exacting in his inspections as to proper use of freight cars, seeing that each and every car is loaded to its greater capacity, and that no cars are allowed to remain in the yards over twenty-four hours, after having been unloaded. Stringent regulations are also being enforced as to demurage in case of cars arriving with freight, being left standing. The soliciting of freight by railways in the U. S. is strictly forbidden, and millions of dollars are being saved by discontinuing hundreds of freight agencies and expensive office staffs throughout the benighted country to the south of us, and the freight business is being directed over the most economical and shortest routes. The American railway official is visiting the Coal Company offices and other heavy shippers and instructing them regarding the new regulations and rendering all possible aid in order to facilitate the railway business under the new order of things.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall, of Nelson, spent the Easter holidays in Fernie.

McGladrey Brothers have added a motor truck to their dray equipment.

Mrs. G. G. Moffatt, who has been spending the winter in Victoria, arrived home on Saturday evening.

A. I. Fisher, M. P. P. was in the city over the holidays. He returned to Victoria Tuesday morning.

Private Fred Clarkson, one of the early reservists to leave for the Great War, is expected home tomorrow.

"The Red Ace," Universal's latest serial with Marie Walcamp, starts Monday and Tuesday at the Orpheum.

Caleb Saad has leased the vacant store in the Dobson and Willingham block and will move his business from the north end of the town.

M. A. Kastner arrived home on Saturday morning from Stratford Ont. where he attended the funeral of his father.

Mrs. (Dr.) Simmons, of Vanvouver, is expected to arrive in the city in a few days. She will spend the summer with her husband here.

The Easter Patriotic dance was only fairly well attended. People seem to prefer a church dance in this town in preference to helping the patriotic fund.

Percy Bean, of the Fernie garage has disposed of two new Fords already this season. Pete Zoratti, of Natal, has purchased one and the Canadian Swift Co., the other.

Jas. Madison, of Natal, spent Good Friday in the city. Mrs. Madison has just recently returned from England where she has been visiting for the past eighteen months.

Saturday was the final windup of the booze game in Fernie. It is safe to say that everybody has a fair supply on hand. The local brewery sold $7000 worth of beer during March.

Private Jack Brown who has been spending a two month's forlough with his children leaves tonight for Nova Scotia where he will visit for a couple of days previous to his return to France.

A. C. Brown, who has been in Blairmore on business for the past three weeks, returned to Fernie on Sunday. He will take a position as travelling salesman for the Fernie-Fort Steele Brewing Co.

Don't forget the Hallowell Musical Company at the Grand Opera House, on Monday, April 15. Part proceeds go to Great War Veterans Association. Big dance following at Victoria Hall, with full Hallowell Orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Walmsley, of Lougheed, Alta., who have been in the city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Wilson, returned home on Wednesday evening. Arthur Walsmsley is a brother of Dave Walmsley, at one time a well known Fernie boy.

S. Young, the well known representative of the Imperial Oil Co., with headquarters at Nelson, was in town on Wednesday This is Mr. Young's last trip for the company in this territory. He leaves in a few days for Vancouver.

John Kyle, of the Provincial Educational Department at Victoria and organizer of Technical Education, addressed a meeting of citizens in the council chamber last evening. He spoke on the advantages of technical training for boys and girls and illustrated his address with slides showing the work that is being accomplished in Canada, Great Britain, the United States and other countries.

Ed. Erickson, a West Fernie lad who went overseas with Fernie's first contingent and later joined the Lord Strathcona Horse, returned home on Friday. He has been in France for a long time without receiving injury until he was kicked in the back by a horse and also received a shrapnel wound in the jaw. The spine was injured and Ed is temporarily out of business. His people now reside near Medicine Hat, where the young man went on Tuesday.

The Misses Todd and Winnett and G. Mead entertained a number of their friends at a farewell social evening on Thursday in honor of Miss Peart, who is leaving for her home in Edmonton on Wednesday next. The first of the evening was spent in card playing, the prizes being won as follows: Lady's prize, Miss Peart; gentleman's prize, C. Dahl; lady's booby prize, Miss Watkins; gentleman's booby prize, C. Commons. Supper was then served and dancing indulged in until the early hours. The party broke up by everyone singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Dr. Orner of the Fernie Optical Parlors has secured the agency for the Pathe Phonograph and will give a free demonstration on Wednesday, April 10 from 2 to 4.30 p.m. at the Northern Hotel Cafe, when the entire opera from Carmen will be rendered. Refreshments will be served Come and bring your friends.

Rumor has it that two of the police commissioners are in favor of closing down the ice cream parlors, cigar stores and livery stables on Sundays. Why not also prohibit the use of automobiles on the Lord's Day. In fact, a stringent law should be passed forbidding anyone going for a walk on that day. Before the city has another chance to unload these commissioners this town will resemble a quakers' prayer meeting.

Dr. Orner, agent for the Pathe Gramaphone Co., with generous consideration of the present urgent need for Red Cross supplies, has offered the I.O.D.E. the privilege of taking up a voluntary collection at his Pathe Carmen concert and tea at the Northern Restaurant on Wednesday, April 10. At this concert, which will be free to the public, the grand opera Carmen will be produced and refreshments served. The I.O.D.E. will be glad to accept the generous offer and in view of the urgent demand for Red Cross supplies, hopes that the public will take advantage of this opportunity to hear Good Music, get refreshments free and GIVE TO THE RED CROSS

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches, how miserable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish bowels—you always get relief with Cascarets. They immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet and head clear for months. They work while you sleep.

MARY GARDEN IN "THAIS" AT ORPHEUM WED. AND THURS.

Mary Garden will be seen at the Orpheum theatre in "Thais," a Goldwin photoplay from the same sensational novel by the great French writer, Anatole France, that was the basis of the opera in which she made her debut in America as a prima donna. "Thais" also marks the first appearance of Miss Garden in motion pictures.

Throughout the operatic career of the great diva, she has been, noted almost as much for her remarkable acting ability as for her magnificent voice; so her advent on the screen is far more than just the exploitation of a famous woman.

She has long contemplated an excursion into motion pictures, although she has repeatedly turned down tempting offers made her by various producing firms; but until now she has not felt that the time was ripe for her appearance. During the last three years her activities have been many, virtually all of her time not devoted to the regular opera season being given to the wounded soldiers in the hospitals on the western battle front in France.

She now wears the Red Cross of Serbia and the wreath of public devotion of France for the work she has done in the fighting zone. There is no single figure that is of more importance in the artistic capitals of the world than Mary Garden.

The story in which she appears on the screen, "Thais", is the work of one of the greatest living French writers, Anatole France, and his permission to present his famous story in cinematographic form was secured only on condition that Miss Garden would appear in it. M. France was already familiar with her interpretation of his heroine through her work in the opera.

Mary Garden in "Thais." This wonderful picture will be shown at the Orpheum, Wednesday and Thursday, April 10 and 11.

GIRLS GOOD AND BAD POINTS ON BANK STAFFS

In view of the fact that inevitably more girls will be required for bank work, various banks have been asked to express their opinion of the ability of girls to carry on this work. An interview with the manager of one of the big banks appeared here two days ago.

The same questions which he answered were asked of half a dozen different bank managers. While the majority praised the service the girls are giving there were those who lacked something in enthusiasm when discussing the matter.

"Our experience is that it takes four girls to do the work of two men," said one official of the Home Bank. Perhaps in a year three girls could replace two men."

The majority of these girls had never taken any part in commercial life previously, it was explained, and thus they were quite without experience.

"One thing we find," was another remark, "is that they are more anxious to leave sharp on the minute than they are to finish any piece of work they are doing. They do not show quite the interest as young men."

Another objection was that the girls are too deeply concerned in relating their little social adventures of the night before when they should be working. These statements were not given as complaints but merely illustrating the situation.

The Bank of Toronto in discussing the question thought that a girl's physical strength prevented her from giving service equal to the men's services.

Practically all agreed that a girl could not be of the same value to a bank. With young men, they were training them with the expectation that the men would remain in their service for many years. With girls, there was little thought of the career, as subconsciously the girls anticipated marrying some time and giving up the work in the bank.

"A girl cannot stand in a teller's box all day," was another conviction of the Bank of Toronto. "It is nervous work for anyone, and too much so for girls."

"However," they added, "we have been using girls to our fullest capacity."

They found girls capable, though not anxious to take responsibility. Moreover, it was harder to utilize the service of girls as employees in that they were not ready to move from one town to another, as frequently proves necessary in banks.

"JERICHO"

Jericho, the "city of palm trees," is in the hands of General Allenby's troops; and British cavalry are encamped on the banks of the Jordan and on its western tributary, the Wady-el-Auja. This is the satisfactory stage reached within a few days of the beginning of the new spring offensive in Palestine. There are excellent military reasons why the British commander should, from his base at Jerusalem, stretch out his hand in this direction and clear the right flank of his advance. Jericho, although in these days but a wretched village, is the chief centre of cultivation and population in the Jordan valley. It is the confluence of roads which follow the line of the river and of the Dead Sea, Samaria, with facilities, so long as they held Jericho, for retiring into unassailable country in the region beyond Jordan. The seizure of this point of vantage with the command it gives over the bridge and its approaches, has turned the tables on the enemy. The Turkish headquarters make the usual clumsily obvious en- or ascend steeply into the hill country which bounds on either hand the extraordinary gorge on the floor of which Jericho lies. Since the war began the rickety wooden bridge across the Jordan, five miles from Jericho, has been replaced by a substantial concrete structure, across which has been carried a narrow gauge railway uniting Jerusalem with the Hedjaz railway from Damascus to the Holy Cities of Arabia, which has been the object of successful attacks by the Arab forces. The army in possession of this connecting link was in a position to threaten the British flank from the east, and to co-operate with the Turkish troops opposing our northward advance towards Nablus and deavor to represent their defeat as a moral victory. Only at one or two places, they assert, have they been compelled to "withdraw to their main positions." These happen to be the main strategic points, and apparently include Tel-es-Sultan, the historic mound which covers the ruins of ancient Jericho, the stronghold that since the days of Joshua has been accounted the key to the land of the Canaanites. A significant gain has been achieved with singularly slight losses on the side of the victors; in this quarter at least, in spite of having been strengthened by two German divisions, the Turks appear to have little stomach for resistance. With his right freed from danger, and with the crossing of the river brought almost within grasp, General Allenby should be able to give practical attention to the project of striking at the Turkish line of railway communications and their main depot beyond Jordan, at Rabbath Ammon, lying some thirty miles as the crow flies east of the bridge—objectives which are already being approached from the south by the forces of the King of the Hedjaz. The ground which our troops have now reached is steeped in historic and hallowed memories. Pishgah, from which Moses gazed on the Promised Land, looks down upon it; in the immediate neighborhood are the scenes of the investment of Elisha with the prophetic mantle, of Saul's victory at Gilgal over the Philistines that had gathered at Michmash, and of the final fight that preceded the leading of the Jews into Babylonian captivity. In New Testament times it is reminiscent of the stories of Zaccheus the Publican, of Blind Bartimeus, of the Good Samaritan, and of the institution of the rite of baptism. In symbolical, as well as in Eastern history and geography, the Jordan and Jericho have always signified a dividing line and point of decision. But apart from its sacred and historic associations, the region in which our flag has been for the 1st time hoisted, presents, in its merely physical aspects, one of the strangest features of the earth's surface. Buried in a trough which is carved to a depth of nearly 1300 feet below the level of the Mediterranean, at the point where the turbid stream empties itself into a lake of brine, whose bottom is sunk an almost equal depth beneath the Dead Sea surface, the Jordan Valley near Jericho is supposed to preserve "a remnant of the Miocene world." It is "a tropical oasis scooped in the temperate zone," and overhung by high mountains, and, like its situation and its history, its climate and its products are abnormal. A new page is being graven in the annals of this Valley of the Shadow. The impression which it will make at Constantinople will not be lessened by the fact that Tel-es-Sultan and the fertile ground around it are a personal property of the Sultan of Turkey.

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN

Make this beauty lotion cheaply for your face, neck, arms and hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It is marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.

How can I make dishwashing easier?

—by using Gold Dust every time you wash dishes. Gold Dust has the knack of dissolving grease quicker than soap. It leaves dishes cleaner, too.

But dishwashing is only one of the many uses to which you can very profitably put Gold Dust.

Try it on the zinc, tin or galvanized iron under your stove—for the kitchen cupboards—for the ice-box that has to be kept sweet and clean—for the sink where grease is forever collecting.

Real Gold Dust results are possible only with Gold Dust—so be sure it really is Gold Dust that you buy. There is only one Gold Dust—in large and small packages.

THE RED ACE AT THE ORPHEUM NEXT WEEK

Lost Hope, British Columbia,
Canada, April 8

Dear Sister Virginia— Everything has gone wrong since we contracted to sell the mine's output of platinum to the U. S government.

Every shipment has been stolen, and the messengers killed. Father started with the last shipment. He also has dissappeared. I have sent my Indian, Little Bear, to notify the Mounted Police. I will bury 400 ounces now on hand, and, if necessary, will blow up the mine entrance.

Am placing instruction in cache.

Your loving brother,
DICK.

Such was the alarming leter which Virginia Dixon received at her beautiful Washington home. Virginia knew nothng about the business in which her father and brother were engaged. She did know, however, that they were intensely patriotic, and that they would give their lives, if necessary, to the United States in the present war. Platinum was much more valuable than two human lives, and the Red Ace Mine was apparently an unfailing source of this precious metal. It was located at Lost Hope, a frontier villiage in the Canadian Northwest, and the principal citizens had been bought by the secret agent of the foreign power which was capturing the precious metal as fast as it came from the mine.

Her own government suspected Virginia, and she determined to go to Lost Hope, vindicate her brother, and find her father. Foreign sples, however delayed her.

"Just a little more speed, there, Patrick."

The car in which she was endeavoring to overtake the Western express was already making sixty-five as Virginia, her feet on the bumper, crouched., for her desperate leap to the swiftly moving observation platform, Patrick stepped on the throttle hard, and Virginia leaped

MR. SEVIGNY'S LETTER

Hon. Albert Sevigny's letter of resignation is a singularly noble and patriotic document. Having gone down to defeat while courageously challenging the known hostility of his own Province he finds consolation in the knowledge that the nation as a whole has stood by its defenders on the firing line. He has the approval of his own conscience because he led a forlorn hope against a majority of his own compatriots. He braved angry mobs in order to remain true to those who have fallen on the field of honor. He risked his own life for what he properly calls a Holy Cause. Contrast his conduct with that of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who took the parochial view of the Military Service Act, treated the war as a secondary consideration, and trifled with the national destinies in the vain hope of returning to power on the backs of the anti-British and pro-German elements in thepopulation.

Mr. Sevigny holds no feeling of resentment against his native Province. He does not want it to continue in the path of isolation into which it has been drawn by the most stupid of advisers. He forshadows national re-union under the Prime Minister's leadership. Nothing could be finer than the record of Hon. Mr. Sevigny and Hon. Mr. Blondin throughout the present war. They have been the courageous and undaunted spokesmen of that gallant French-Canadian minority which has proudly sent its sons overseas in defence of Canada, the British Empire and civilization. The time is coming when French-Canadians everywhere will acknowledge that these two men took a statesman-like course in the gravest of national crises. They will yet be acclaimed by their own people as wise men and true patriots.—Toronto news.

HALLOWELL MUSICAL COMPANY
Ten Real Artists—With Baritone
THIRTEENTH ANNUAL TOUR

Having heard the Hallowell Musical Company, I feel it due the patrons of good entertainments that they be advised of the quality of work rendered by these artists. Every member of the company is a soloist of the first rank, and the ensemble work is above comparison. No other organization of its size has ever been heard on the American continent that can be mentioned in the same breath. Yours truly,

GAVIN SPENCE,
Late of the Scottish Entertainers, Edmonton, Alberta.

This is what the Lethbridge Herald has to say of the Hallowell Musical Company: "There is no question it was the best Musical Company that has ever appeared in Lethbridge."

The Morning News, Moose Jaw, Sask., says: "Hallowell Company Delights Large Audience—An enthusiastic audience filled the theatre to hear the Hallowell Company, who delighted everyone with the excellent rendering of the selections they gave. Time after time they were recalled by the hearty applause."

Military Service Act

Important Announcement to All
EXEMPTED MEN
and to the Public Generally

IN dealing with the very large number of claims for exemption brought forward for consideration in connection with Class 1 under the Military Service Act, it has occurred, as was inevitable, that as a result of false statements and difficulties put in the way of investigation, some individuals have secured exemption whose proper place is in the Army.

It is not the intention of the Government to allow these men to evade permanently their obligation to bear their part in the military defence of the Country and of the ideals for which we are fighting. To do so would defeat the purpose of the Act, and cause grave injustice to men in the second class necessarily called out to fill their places.

Exemptions Granted on False Grounds

It is, therefore, proposed to scrutinize carefully all exemptions granted to date in order to separate those which have been granted on false or insufficient grounds from those that are well founded.

With this object in view the various Registrars under the Military Service Act have been instructed to issue a series of questionnaires to exempted men. These questionnaires must be filled up correctly and returned promptly under penalty of forfeiture of exemption for failure to do so.

Exempted Men Who Have Changed Address

It is therefore important in their own interest that all exempted men who have changed their address since their exemption was granted and who have not already notified the Registrar of such change should notify him at once. Under the Regulations it is the duty of exempted men to keep the Registrar advised of any change of address, and failure to receive the questionnaire by reason of neglect of this duty must be treated as equivalent to failure to return the questionnaire after receipt.

Citizens Urged to Assist

In many instances information has been furnished by members of the public which has led to the cancellation of exemptions obtained by false or misleading statements. Further co-operation of this character is invited. The Government regard it as the Duty of all loyal citizens, not only to the Country, but to the men at the front, to assist in this way in securing reinforcements on a just and legal basis. Correspondence of this character will be treated as strictly confidential and will receive the fullest investigation.

CHARLES J. DOHERTY,
Minister of Justice.

Correspondence should be directed to Robt. S. Lennie, K.C., Registrar under the Military Service Act, Vancouver, B.C.

MARCH and APRIL DELINEATORS FOR DISTRIBUTION

ELKO NOTES

(By Fred Roo)

Among the distinguished visitors to Elko last week was, J. H. Tabor, the man that put the candy in the Hat, and chocolate around the kisses, a gentleman and a scholar. A lively young man from Nelson flirting with the Pan try Queen, and buying her Cremo for breakfast. Delegates from the Alberta and Saskatchewan Meat Trusts, smiling like a crack in an ice chest. Young Mr. McEwan from Chicago with a nice red complexion like a restaurant lobster, selling milk in tall tins at bargain prices. R. U. Herron, Prince Rupert, looking like a can of imported sardines, selling whale meat. A drug traveller from Winnipeg selling patent medicines and handing out whooping cough literature and other astounding facts which tells how so and so was yanked from the grave at 50c. per bottle. Ed Clay, Vancouver, the superdreadnaught with delicious Italian dainties and plantation syrups, and his face shining like a dutch woman's warmng pan, said merchants were always welcome to look at his samples, if they meant business. A book agent from Toronto with some of Pastor Russel's works going south like a nigger that mistook the bull dog's kennel for a chicken coop. Atraveler from Fernie telling a hard luck story about a Coal Creek miner who pawned his false teeth so he could buy a beefsteak and then found himself unable to eat it,with a full line of concentrated emergency rations and olive oil. No travellers arriving Sunday or Monday, but well filled automobiles from the west and south.

Jim Thistlebeak says, some people eat soft boiled eggs, thinking they were in a shower bath.

Miss E. B. Patterson of Kootenay orchards, Cranbrook, and Miss E. May Roo, Elko, are visiting with Mrs. A.M. Ellwood, Flagstone, and the Roosville Valley during the Easter holidays.

Jim Thistlebeak was invited out for Easter dinner and remarked that, its always better in these hard times to get a dinner for nothing, than nothing for dinner (so say all of us.)

Mr. Oliver Johnson, contractor, Leth bridge, bought the logging camps on Long Prairie, and has a gang of men tearing them down and loading the lumber.

A man went into Fred Roo's store the other day and said to Ray Hirtz, the manager, I want to buy some of Jim Thistlebeak's "physical culture apparatus" and Ray sold him a hoe, rake spade and a dozen packages of garden seeds.

Mrs. Booth and family of Fernie, came down to Elko on Good Friday and motored to Flagstone.

Scientists now tell us that eggs contain microbes, Jim Thistlebeak says, being a microbe in some eggs he has known must be a very unpleasant job.

C. C. Thompson, manager, the Burton mine, was a Nelson visitor last week and on his return left for Calgary, where Sunday observance cranks are thicker than fleas on a Victoria, B. C. dog, which is going some.

Miss Annie Murray of the central office was the guest of Miss Lottie Terris, Fernie, last week end.

Contractor W. Woods, College Ave. Elko, was a business visitor to Lethbridge and Taber last week.

The apaches of Potsdam, just to show they have not forgotten how, publicly hung two sisters of charity from the hospital of St. Elizabeth, Antwerp, last week.

A CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swanson and family of Elko, B. C. desire to return sincere thanks for the many kind expressions of sympathy received in their sore bereavement, also to Fernie friends, the teacher and school children of Elko, for the beautiful wreath and flowers sent.

Death often comes to show
We love more dearly than we know
But love in death should make us see
What love in life should always be.

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory of Edward Coates, who was killed in the Coal Creek Explosion, April 5th, 1917.

One year has passed and friends around
Think the wound is almost healed.
But they little know the sorrow
Deep within my heart concealed.

The rolling stream of life rolls on,
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile
Of one who once sat there.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Hidden tears oft-times flow.

Could I but have raised his dying head
And wished him a last farewell.
What would I give his hand to clasp,
His patient face to see,
To hear his voice and see his welcome smile
That meant so much for me.

—Inserted by His Loving Wife and Children.

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory of Willie Silverwood, who was killed in the Coal Creek Explosion, April 5th, 1917.

He little thought his time so short
In this world to remain,
Nor thought when from his home he went
He would never return again.

Oft I think of you, dear husband,
When my heart is sad with pain,
And this world would be a heaven
Could I have you back again;
But you have left me to remember
Three dear treasures in your place.

Day by day we miss you, daddy,
Words would fail our loss to tell,
But in heaven we hope to meet you,
Evermore with you to dwell.

If your eyes could open what a change you would see,
But the Lord thought it best not to be.
Death sometimes comes to show we love far better than we know;
Our love in death should make us see
What love in life should always be.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get relief in five minutes by neutralizing acidity. Put an end to such stomach distress now by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by food fermentation due to excessive acid in stomach.

RETURNED MEN REGISTER KICK

The regular meeting of the city fathers was held in the council chamber last evening with all the members present.

The minutes of the last two meetings were read and adopted.

W. J. Claridge and F. Warwick appeared as a delegation from the Great War Veterans in regard to the recent appointment of a ratepayer in preference to a returned soldier for the position of fireman at the power house. He particularly got after Ald. Jackson, who had been the father of the motion, alleging that some private motive was the cause of the returned man being sidetracked.

The Mayor stated that it had been the opinion of the council that the preference should be given to a ratepayer. The matter had been given a good deal of consideration.

Ald. Jackson defended himself vigorously. He stated that in the interests of efficiency he was willing to stand the criticism of anyone and that he believed the appointed man was the best applicant for the position.

Ald. Brooks said that he did not believe the returned soldier Brown was capable of doing the hard work that the position required.

There were a few minutes of hot controversy between the delegation and members of the council, the former maintaining that if Brown had not been qualified there were several returned men who would have been glad to have secured the position. The delegation wanted to put the council on record in the case of future appointments. Delegate Warwick said that in Lethbridge, where he had recently resided, the city commissioners were in all cases giving the soldiers the preference; the Alberta government were doing likewise and they would very much like for the city of Fernie to do the same.

Ald. Beck stated that the appointment of the ratepayer to the position of fireman was the act of the entire council and that body should not enter into controversy with this delegation over the matter. The council was responsible to no one but the ratepayers for their actions.

Mayor Thomson told the delegation that the matter of further appointments would come up before the board later in the evning.

Harry Martin headed a delegation from the Miners Union, who were very indignant that Knox church should be allowed to use their church for travelling amusements without license when the Grand theatre was paying a heavy business tax to the city.

He was informed that their kick would be given due consideration.

Dan Alton appeared before the council asking for permission to keep a few hogs.

The Mayor stated that the council had placed themselves on record at a previous meeting in this matter. Anyone desiring to keep hogs could do so, so long as their premises were kept in a sanitary condition.

A communication from the Old Man's Home was received stating that the application of Mr. Dewsbury could not be considered at the present time as the Home was full, but would be given consideration as soon as there was a vacancy.

The Mayor stated that the only course open was for the city to continue the support of Mr. Dewsbury as he was in a very decrepit position. On motion it was deided to contribute $10 per month towards his board.

A letter was received from the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. stating that in the event of a raise in the miners' pay owing to the recent investigation into the cost of living the price of coal would be advanced from April 1.

The following letter from Mayor Thomson was received:

April 11, 1918.

To the Aldermen of the Municipality of the City of Fernie:

Gentlemen—The salary paid to the Mayor of this city in recent years has been $500 per annum and I have decided not to accept any salary during my term of office.

I would, however, make the request that the sum of $500 be added to the account for donations and grants and that authority be given me to instruct the City Treasurer to disburse the said sum in whatever manner may seem most expedient.

If my request is granted the money would be given to such societies as the Patriotic Fund, Red Cross, C. S. E. T., G. W. V. A., I .O. D. E. and the Returned Soldiers Club.

Thanking you for your kind consideration. Yours truly,

G. B. Thomson.

On motion of Ald. Dicken and Jackson it was decided to comply with the request of the Mayor.

The tender of the Free Press for printing the financial statement, although slightly higher than the Winnipeg tender, was accepted.

Currie Bros. were given the contract for fixing the roof of the city hall at $135.

River bank protection next took up the time of the council and the city clerk was instructed to get in touch with the provincial authorities to find out if they would carry out their promise to do their share of this work. It appears that a piece of the work near the septic tank has to be done this year, and if not done and high water should prevail this year, the rinks are in danger of being washed away. The council deferred all action until the Minister of Works can be heard from.

Quite a number of tenders were received for a car of lumber wanted by the city. The Rock Creek Lumber Co. offered to supply the lumber for the sum of $602.80 f.o.b. Fernie, but the contract was given to Kennedy and Mangan at a slightly higher figure owing to the firm being a local one and taxpayers.

The works committee reported that they had had the isolation hospital kalsomined at a cost of $30.

The resignation of Miss Dragon from the city office staff was accepted.

Applications for bookkeeper in the city office were received from A. E. McBean and Miss E. A. Grundy. The position was given to Miss Grundy at an initial salary of $50 per month.

W. H. Whimster, police magistrate, made application for an increase in salary from $100 per month to $125 a month. The police commissioners on motion of Coms. Carr and Dudley had recommended this increase. A long discussion followed. Ald. Beck stated that he considered $100 per month, along with the fruit inspection fees and other money received by the police magistrate in taking declarations, etc., amounted to quite a salary and that the present salary of $100 per month was quite sufficient for the service rendered by the police magistrate. Ald. Brooks thought that the Rev. Carr as a member of the police commission was practically an impostor as he did not own any property or pay any taxes to the city and could pack his bag tomorrow and get out. After a long chew-fest a motion to increase the salary of the police magistrate $15 per month was carried by the casting vote of the Mayor. The vote was as follows:

For the increase: Aldermen Dudley, Dicken and Rutledge.

Against the increase — Aldermen Beck, Jackson and Brooks.

The city clerk was instructed to prepare by-laws for the raising of $46,000 by debentures for the building of a new school.

Accounts were then passed with practically no discussion.

The question of Knox church running as a place of amusement was next discussed and the matter was finally left to the police commission to figure out if Knox church had been breaking the law. This caused some laughter and comment inasmuch as the pastor that that church is a member of the police commission.

Ald. Jackson also had a grouch about some churches running card games and giving prizes, and declared his conviction that it was a case for the police commission to get busy and carry out the law.

A long discussion re the breaking of many of the city bylaws followed and this included chickens, pigs, animals at large of all kinds, the number of eggs laid by hens, etc., the whole being mixed up a la Sam Nemore.

Ald. Dudley here stated that the police commissioners had given instructions to the police to carry out all the provisions of the city bylaws. He intimated that if the said bylaws were obsolete and a joke that the council should get busy and amend them.

The early closing bylaw was read by the city clerk for the information of the aldermen and Ald. Dudley discovered that the drug stores had been breaking the law by selling other than the prescribed articles on Sunday.

Hawkers and peddlars fees next had a short session.

Ald. Bill Jackson here launched out in a speech justifying himself and the council in their action re returned soldiers. Bill was told that the reason the returned men were sore at him was on account of a rumor that he had engineered things by giving McGladrey a place in the power house in preference to a soldier for the purpose of getting a position himself which McGladrey held on the provincial road gang.

The by-law to pay aldermen a salary received its different readings and was finally passed, all voting yea except Ald. Dudley, who did not vote.

Ald. Dudley introduced a motion instructing the city clerk to prepare a bylaw imposing a special tax of $50 a year on every place selling cigarettes. Ald. Jackson inquired of Ald. Dudley if this was introduced for the moral good or for the sake of giving a monopoly of the business to two or three dealers. Ald. Dudley replied that it probably was for both purposes.

The vote on this motion was a tie and the motion was declared lost on the casting vote of the Mayor.

Council then adjourned.

HAVE SELECTED GOLF COURSE

A meeting for preliminary organization of a local golf club was held in Herchmer & Martin's office last evening with the following gentlemen present: Messrs. Kastner, Bonnalie, Kinnear, Corrie, McLean, Brawders, G. Johnson, Young, Herchmer, Watson, Macneil, Judge Thompson, Graham, T. Prentice and Daniels.

The formation of a club was thoroughly discussed, together with the prospective course at the north end of the city, and a committee consisting of A. Watson, A. Graham, A. Macneil and Jas. McLean was appointed to lay out a course.

It was also decided that all those present, together with any prospective members who could do so, would be invited to visit the grounds on Saturday afternoon to help prepare the course. There will be a lot of preliminary work to do and a large amount of money can be saved if the members are willing to do a little real work.

Those present obligated thmeslves to the extent of $10 per man to guarantee any expense incurred in the preliminary work.

CLOCKS IN CANADA PUT FORWARD MONDAY

Ottawa, April 9.—Sir Robert Borden intimated tonight that Canada's daylight saving bill will go into effect on Monday, April 15.

The bill, which is now before the senate, will be put through its various stages this week and assented to. The necessary proclamation to bring the bill into effect will probably appear in the Canada Gazette on Saturday and the clocks will be advanced an hour at midnight on Sunday.

MINERS' PAY ADVANCED 20C.

The commission investigating the cost of living, after thoroughly looking into the matter, have decided that the men employed in mining shall receive an advance of 20c per day in their wages, to date from April 1.

As the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. have about 2000 men in their employ this will mean an increase in their monthly pay roll of nearly $10,000.

There will be a meeting of the representatives of the miners and the operators with the government at Ottawa on or about April 18, to discuss the existing conditions.

Rumor has it that the government is growing weary of the frequent stoppages of work at different points for practically no reason and that drastic steps may be taken to put an end to this sort of things.

RESERVIST RETURNS

Pte. Fred Clarkson arrived home on Saturday morning after nearly four years of service at the front and has been kept busy receiving the glad hand from his old Fernie and Coal Creek friends. He has certainly done his part in the great war, wounded three times and gassed once, he was finally discharged as unfit for further active duty.

Fred Clarkson was a resrvist and upon the outbreak of hostilities, he went overseas at once and was with the famous Cold Stream Guards throughout the fighting in the retreat from Mons. That fighting unit was on the right flank of the French army during the harrassing retirement of the army before such odds of German soldiers that most of the time the Guards were fighting rear guard engagements in order to save the rest of the army from entire defeat. Once, after one of those fights the roll call of the Guards brought answers from 67 men out of more than a thousand that had gone into action. Three times the Guards have fought their way through surrounding Germans in hollow formation, and three times has the roll call fallen below the hundred mark.

RESULT OF POULTRY SHOW

The following are the winners in the poultry show held in Ingram's hall on Saturday evening, March 30, in which the marked quality of the birds was a wonder to all who saw them. The competition was for "Males of the Heavy Classes" and was judged by Fancier Robt. Jones. There were about 25 birds shown.

1. Jas. White.
2. Wm. Green.
3. Sid Ward.
4. Alex. Aitkin.
5. Wm. Green.
6. E. Cartlidge.

After the winners were placed the judge explained why he had given these birds their positions. A warm discussion took place, which was highly educational to the spectators.

Don't forget that there will be another exhibit in the same hall on Saturday evening, April 27. This time "Females of the Heavy Classes" will be up for competition. There will also be an egg competition.

C. S. E. T. EXHIBITION

The large audience which attended the exhibition given by the C.S.E.T. gmy boys and girls on Thursday night were delighted with the work done by the different classes. Special mention should be made of the Indian club swinging by the girls as being exceptionally good. Joe Longden's class of junior boys on the parallel bars and on the horse won the hearty applause of the audience as did the various stunts put on by the senior boys on the horizontal bars. The clowns, Mr. Owen, the gym instructor, and Clifford Yolland, kept the audience in a constant state of mirth.

In the absence of W. R. Wilson, Mr. Parker took the chair. In making a few seasonable remarks on the work of the C.S.E.T., he heartily commended the physical instructor, Mr. Owen, and his assistants, for the hard work done which made such an exhibition possible.

COMMUNICATION

Fernie, B.C., April 11, 1918.

Editor Free Press:

Dear Sir—One item appearing in your paper seems to have aroused quite a little comment. I refer to the special license propaganda with regard to the sale of cigarettes, tobacco, etc.

It would be most unfair to the many small dealers who are striving to eke out a living under the shadow of the big stores, who have pretty nearly swamped the town.

There are a large number of unspoken kickers anyhow, and a step further to accentuate the evil may easily bring forth a line of action which would not stop at a tobacco monopoly, which is said to be designed.

Would the city, by reason of an alderman or so in favor of a proposition of this sort, deprive all the other dealers of handling a commodity which by reason of the margin in it is only an accommodation. The province of B.C. has legislated eleven hotels out of existence in Fernie. For the benefit of their boarders they may carry tobacco, etc., for an accommodation. It would be ludicrous to say the least for a man to leave a hotel to search for the cigarette monopolist, whoever it might be.

It is said this change is suggested that the police may have better supervision. God knows our police have been very discreet in their supervision in the past. They haven't been able to find booze for the smell of it. Why put them on their mettle with a cigarette problem, or shall I say there is a cull'ed gentleman in the woodpile, who may be aiming at a monopoly with a specious pretence. And we have arrived at an reduckio ad absurdum, when ridicule can have its ironic grin, and have all the plumbing relegated to one person with a pull—or a push, and really the undertaking business is not fully conserved with stringent by-law. I was not going to mention anything about the wood and gravel representative on the council, because I have no doubt but what his interest will be fully guarded by the government of the day.

Mr. Editor, this letter may seem to you as if my sarcasm is getting the better of my reason. But "reason" in this town seems to be a minus quantity and Kaiser-like efficiency seems to have taken its place.

One church, one store, one plumber, one wood man and when Mr. Halipaloola opens the Ledger, one paper and when we've got to the other end of the vale of tears, one undertaker to plant us in our mother earth and a requiescat in pace by the Union church—See what we get.

One in the Gallery.

G.W.V.A.

A very large audience witnessed the presentation of "What Happened to Jones" by the Knox Church Dramatic Society, on Wednesday last, April 10. All the characters were well played and everyone enjoyed themselves, judging from the boisterous laughter of the audience. The successful manner in which the company went through the three acts without a hitch was a credit to them and showed the thorough and zealous manner in which the whole company worked in rehearsal. The Veterans thank the company most heartily for the presentation of the above on their behalf. Our funds will be augmented by a goodly sum.

On Monday next, April 15, the Hallowell Musical Co. are to be in town under our auspices. The concert will commence at 8 p.m. in the Grand Theatre, and at the conclusion of the concert a dance will take place in Victoria Hall, at which the full Hallowell orchestra will be present. The program to be presented at the Grand is first class in its entirety and one that all will enjoy.

Trites-Wood have the Guessing Competition staged now. The prize, a mission style spring Morris chair, is on view in the main window, together wth the jar of beans, the number of which is to be guessed. The jar was filled by Mr. Walker in the presence of Messrs. Warwick and Claridge and was immediately sealed by Mr. Huntington. Tickets are now on sale and a ballot box on the counter (grocery) at Trites-Wood is the place to deposit the ticket after you have recorded your guess.

APPOINTED SUB-INSPECTOR FOR KOOTENAY

Announcement was made Monday from headquarters that Capt. Forrester of Creston had been appointed sub-inspector for Kootenay under the Military Service Act, and will probably make his headquarters at Creston. His duties are to generally superintend the enforcement of the act by the new Dominion military police in his territory, and assisting public prosecutors wherever necessary. The authorities have made the best possible selection for the post. Cap's police experience and knowledge of the country admirably adapt him for the successful carrying out of the work, while his services as military representative on exemption tribunal work have shown him to be fair but fearless in seeing to it that all liable to serve the empire must do so, or show good cause for exemption. — Creston Review.

LATE WAR NEWS

Washington, April 12. — Reports from Paris indicate that the American troops are in the midst of heavy fighting in the Toul region. They have repulsed heavy German attacks and their artillery have broken the German waves before they could reach American entanglements.

Liberty Loan subscriptions for the first four working days in ten out of twelve districts amount to $275,919,000.

London, April 12.—Extremely heavy fighting occurred last night near Merville and Neug Berquin, where the Germans are still exerting a heavy pressure and have made some progress. Merville itself was taken by the enemy in a night attack. The British have also retired to new positions near Ploegesteert and Neuve Eglise owing to heavy attacks by the Germans. There is nothing of importance happening at present on the rest of the British front. A part of the British posts near Festubert, where the enemy had forced the British to retire, have been retaken by a brilliant counter attack. Between the Loisne and the Lawe rivers the German attacks were repulsed with heavy loss to the attackers.

London, April 12.—There is more anxiety amongst the people of Great Britain now than at any time during the war and they are watching the progress of the critical battle now being waged in Belgium and France. The anxiety is mingled with admiration for the tenacity of the British troops.

NIGHT SCHOOLS WILL START ON APRIL 16

Night schools under the direction of the Fernie Board of School Trustees will commence on Tuesday, April 16, in the High School class room in the Central School at 7 o'clock p.m.

Do not forget that time is changed one hour (to 6 o'clock old time).

Use central entrance on Victoria Avenue.

Term, April 16 to June 30.

UNION SERVICES

The Vancouver Sun in speaking of Rev. F. G. Robinson, when opening his campaign in Vancouver, said that "His face and manner give ready suggestion of a man who would be equally happy and tactful in dealing with an enquiring Nicodemus or in giving a practical helping hand to a down-and-out. By way of preface he said his methods were not spectacular and he asked any who might be out of touch with special services to withhold criticism during the next two weeks, as the evidence would not be in till the end of the mission, and in a great sense not even then."

When closing his campaign at Vancouver the Vancouver Province said: "Mr. Robinson's work in Vancouver is described as very successful. At least 200 conversions have been made and a large number of people benefited by the thoughtful sermons. Mr. Robinson is not a sensational preacher and does not rely on the theatrical aids employed by many evangelists to attract attention. Rather are his discourses delivered in simple, thoughful language, carrying an effective appeal to reason."

TIME TO CALL A HALT

The Lethbridge Herald of the 10th inst. contains the following strong article relative to the strike of coal miners at that city:

It is about time that the government, through its officials, took a strong stand in the mine disputes in this coal area. Is it going to go along until the end of the war allowing alien enemy agitators to dictate in a matter of vital importance in the winning of this war as the fuel production in Alberta? If so the people would like to know. Then they could prepare for the worst.

The present strike in the Federal mines here is a high-handed piece of work from beginning to end, with an alien enemy at the bottom of it. The employees of the mine are out on strike today without the shadow of right on their side; they have broken their agreement with the operators which provides that the employers shall have the right to hire and discharge and they have backed the play of an alien enemy subject who boasts that he can close the mine "tight as hell" while the sons of Canada are shedding their life-blood to secure forever in Canada the freedom which men like Petras came from Austria to obtain. Imagine a Canadian in Germany or Austria today making such a threat. It would be a stone wall and the firing squad for him.

The miners of District No 18 would be well advised to remove men of the Petras type from official positions in their organizations. The present arrangement whereby miners wages are set every quarter by a special commission which bases any advances on the cost of living in the district, is satisfactory to the men. The latter fact we know from public statements by District No. 18 officials. Why these officials, in the face of such an agreement, should allow alien-enemy subjects to hold important positions within local unions where they are given an opportunity for the exercise of sinister influences, is more than we can understand. Certainly it does not tend to increase public confidence in the cause of labor. It looks rather as if labor were indifferent and allowed its organizations to play the enemy's game.

Failure on the part of the mine commissioner to take a strong stand in the Federal mine strike will leave the government at Ottawa open to severe censure on the part of the public.

THAT MICHEL TROUBLE

Natal, April 10, 1918.

Editor Fernie Free Press:

Dear Sir—Would you kindly allow space in your paper for the following information concerning the "Police Mixup At Michel" as it has been termed and published in the Free Press of last week. Though an Italian, I will endeavor to place before the public (as unbiased as possible) really how this incident happened, because what has been printed about same is incorrect and clearly shows that the correspondence has been sent by some interested party with the purpose of turning public opinion in its favor and putting the peaceful Italian colony of Michel and Natal in a dim light in the eyes of the people.

A. Gazzola, an Italian, was celebrating a christening at his home at which a number of his countrymen were present. One of the guests, D. Cossarini, went out of the house and was proceeding through the yard to or from the lavatory, when he was met by Policemen Norgrove and Hughes (not crouching in a suspicious manner, as it was not necessary in his friend's premises). What happened, of course, we trust will be proved in court, but we know that D. Corrarini was badly beaten over the head with a policeman's club.

Hearing the noise outside the house in the yard a bunch of the Italian guests went out to find that the police were attempting to arrest D. Cossarini and they were dragging him along the back yard with the evident object of placing him in jail. Upon seeing the crowd coming out of the house the policemen dropped their charge and it is only reasonable to assume that they withdrew; so there was no such thing as a mixup with the police. It is certain that if those people were desirous of assaulting the policemen and the police had remained in possession of D. Cossarini either the constables or some of those people would have been hurt. However, we notice the only person who was hurt was the man D. Cossarini.

These facts arose general indignation and a public mass meeting of protest, attended by the most respectable citizens of every nationality, was held. If the incident happened as your paper described it, do you think that people of different nationalities would have attended this meeting of protest. The Italians in Natal and Michel have a good conception of what fair play and justice means, but if the police can come into a person's yard and attempt to arrest somebody when no charge of illegal doing has been made against the house, then we are obliged to change our opinion with regard to what is meant by the term British fair play.

Yours truly,
Aldo Gialli.

Y.M.C.A. OVERSEAS WORK

The big drive for raising in Canada $2,250,000 for overseas work of the Y.M.C.A. among our boys is set for May 7, 8 and 9. At present all the machinery in that drive is being set going throughout Canada. Mr. Carr reports that all the towns in the Crow's Nest district of which he is director, are entering upon the campaign with enthusiasm. A central committee of twelve business men has been formed at Cranbrook for its district, with a treasurer, H. C. Howard, manager of the Imperial Bank, who will handle all the funds raised in the district and forward them to the Provincial Central Treasurer, at Vancouver. The apportionment for B. C. is $100,000.

AMERICAN PUPILS AGAINST GERMAN

Empty benches are confronting the teachers of German all over the United States despite the insistence off school boards and school superintendents that the scholars ought to learn the beauties of the Teutonic literature war or no war. The pupils simply won't do it, it seems. A thousand replies from every part of the United States in response to an inquiry show that the German classes are dwindling in various parts of the country—10 per cent here, 50 per cent there, 100 per cent in many places. No educational question is agitating the public mind like that concerning the teaching of German. So contrary must be the opinions on this question in a territory of such extent as the United States that it has seemed wise to take a poll of each State to determine, if possible, where we stand as a nation in regard to the language of our enemy. We are only traversing the ground already trod by Germany's nearest enemies, and if we arrive at different conclusions it will not be strange, because at our distance the same problems do not confront us. Hence it probably is that while France and England feel impelled all the stronger to continue their study of German, in order to miss no point in the enemy psychology, or no fact in the enemy's procedure, our own necessities are different. Nevertheless there are many who urge upon us a greater need to become familiar with the German language now that we have Germany as an enemy than there was incentive for us to succumb to the insinuating bait of the German language study while that nation presented herself to us in the guise of a friend.

THE FIRING SQUAD

The Louisville, Kentucky, Times thinks that the firing squad is the proper cure for spies and other miscreants who do all they can to handicap the efforts of the American nation in the war. It prescribes the death penalty for all who interfere with the military aims of the nation. It mentions a series of outrages perpetrated at the instigation of German sympathizers and demands that the army punish the offenders.

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

FRIENDS THOUGHT HE WOULD DIE

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Conquered Dyspepsia and Restored His Health.

MR. ROBERT NEWTON.

Little Bras d'Or, C.B.

"I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation for years. I had pain after eating, belching gas, constant headaches, and did not sleep well at night. I lost so much weight—going from 185 pounds to 146 pounds—that I became alarmed and saw several doctors who, however, did me no good. Finally, a friend told me to try 'Fruit-a-tives'.

In a week, there was improvement. The constipation was corrected; and soon I was free of pain, headaches and that miserable feeling that accompanies Dyspepsia. I continued to take this splendid fruit medicine and now I am well, strong and vigorous". ROBERT NEWTON.

COAL STRIKE AT LETHBRIDGE

Because Supt. Chris Donaldson dismissed Mat Petras an alien enemy of Austrian birth, 30 miners of the Federal Coals, Ltd., mines on the river bottom, held a meeting and delivered an ultimatum to the company that if Petras was not reinstated without delay the men would go out on strike. Petras was not reinstated and the mine is closed.

Petras is secretary of Local Union No. 1185 which embraces the miners working in Federal No. 1 and 2. Up till yesterday the miners have all been working on day wage, but there had been an agitation to be put on the contract schedule. Yesterday morning Supt. Donaldson put the men to work on contract but at the same time he dismissed Petras, who had been agitating the men against the company on various grounds, one being that the bosses were driving the men too hard. On the other hand Petras, according to Mr. Mack, the managing director, had said some time ago that the company was not getting the work out of the men that they should get. It appears that the reason for Petras' agitation is that he was at one time fire boss of the mine but was superceded in that position for very good reasons. Since that time he has been a source of trouble, according to the manager of the mine. — Lethbridge Herald.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhœa, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

SAYS LEMON JUICE WILL REMOVE FRECKLES

Girls! Make this cheap beauty lotion to clear and whiten your skin.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.

STRAYED

A mouse colored horse weighing about 1000 lbs. Anyone giving information that will lead to recovery of same will be awarded $5.00. If finder will return a reward of $10 will be paid.

HALLOWELL MUSICAL COMPANY

Ten Real Artists—With Baritone

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL TOUR

Having heard the Hallowell Musical Company, I feel it due the patrons of good entertainments that they be advised of the quality of work rendered by these artists. Every member of the company is a soloist of the first rank, and the ensemble work is above comparison. No other organization of its size has ever been heard on the American continent that can be mentioned in the same breath. Yours truly,

GAVIN SPENCE,
Late of the Scottish Entertainers, Edmonton, Alberta.

This is what the Lethbridge Herald has to say of the Hallowell Musical Company: "There is no question it was the best Musical Company that has ever appeared in Lethbridge."

The Morning News, Moose Jaw, Sask., says: "Hallowell Company Delights Large Audience—An enthusiastic audience filled the theatre to hear the Hallowell Company, who delighted everyone with the excellent rendering of the selections they gave. Time after time they were recalled by the hearty applause."

ELKO NOTES

(By Fred Roo)

The sap is running from the trees,
The crocus shows its head;
Spring fever, too, I'm told it's true,
Has just begun to spread.

The beautiful rug donated by Mrs. Wm. Morrison for the benefit of the I.O.D.E., realized $33 and was raffled at the Elko Mining Exchange. The winning number was 117, held by Miss Anna Gallagher.

Among the prominent visitors to the old historic burg of Elko last week were: Fred Coffey, of Fernie, who just moved down from Nelson and was down in Elko looking for a building location. He tells a story while he was living in Nelson of a young lady cook in one of Nelson's swell homes who used some of her mistress' violet scented face cream instead of Shamrock lard in frying chicken for a company dinner, and the result was not quite the success that she anticipated. A very heavy Frost, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, but his front name was William and he came from Spokane. His real estate dope would convert an arctic iceberg into a Turkish bath. Ernie Ford, of Calgary, no relation to Henry, but a runabout just the same, father of twins and several singles. He said that Elko had beautiful scenery but that it was business he was after, said his crockery was the best on the market and was drawing people like a watermelon patch draws coons. Si Young, one of the old timers on the road, making his last round, having through his excellent axle grease slipped into a good job at the coast. Shaw, of Lethbridge, one of the greatest authorities on the products from the Shamrock in the Crow's Nest Pass. Booth, not the fellow who shot Lincoln, but Swifts great pride, with lamb chops and overland trout.

Mr. and Mrs. Simkins and family, of Ainsworth, Kootenay Lakes, moved to Elko this week to spend the summer.

Tom Gorrie, manager of the Clydebank Stock Ranch, Roosville Valley, was an Elko visitor this week.

Mrs. Fred Roo, of Roosville, is visiting Elko this week with Miss E. B. Patterson of the Kootenay Orchards, who has been the guest of the Roos at Roosville and Elko during the Easter holidays.

Several very enjoyable social events have taken place during the past week and Jim Thistlebeak says the hand that once rocked the cradle is now dealing bridge whist.

Fred Wildman, the B.C. game warden, was in Elko this week and said that some fish will only lie on a sandy bottom, but Jim Thistlebeak says the average fisherman will lie anywhere.

There is good in everything, says Jim Thistlebeak, even dyspepsia, that awful curse of humanity, has its lighter side—it saves grub.

Many a man grows rich attending to his own business strictly. The man who walks off with a chunk of success, no matter how small, is sure to have the ill will of the failures.

The citizens of Elko are entertaining their returned soldiers this week and invitations have been sent to every returned soldier south of Elko to the international boundary line.

Mrs. A. M. Ellwood, of Flagstone, entertained several lady visitors, through the Easter holiday, from Elko, Cranbrook, Creston, Roosville and Victoria.

CONCERT AND DANCE AT MORRISSEY CAMP

A very successful concert and dance was organized by Mrs. Mitchell, wife of Capt. Mitchell, officer commanding internment operations at Morrissey, in aid of the Red Cross. The amount realized was $65.85. The garrison to a man assisted in the success of the evening, which started with a concert, the program of which was as follows:

Overture, orchestra.
Song, with cello obligato, Sgt. Nelson.
Cello solo, L. Corp. Chorlton.
Song, Mrs. Mitchell.
Raffle.
Song, Mrs. Mitchell.
Cello solo, L. Corp. Chorlton.
Song, with cello obligato, Sgt. Nelson.
Song and chorus, Mrs. Mitchell.

The artists were all encored and greatly pleased the audience by responding. Sergt. Nelson was in splendid trim and rendered his songs in his own inimitable way, the first being "A Perfect Day," and encore "Flight of Ages"; in the second half "Sunshine of Your Smile." Is it possible to express in plain English, at the same time do him justice, what one feels when L. Corp. Chorlton draws his bow across the strings of his cello? His marvellous rendering and sympathy with the composer was proved by the acclamations of the audience, whom he could not satisfy and never will so long as he can draw a bow. In the first half he played "La Cinquantaine" and for an encore "On Stilts," and in the second half "Humoreske" by Drotak and encore "Serenade Bedini."

Credit is due Mrs. Mitchell in her kindly thought for those who are doing so much for us amidst the carnage in Europe and we sincerely hope there will be many other occasions upon which she will entertain us, although the acoustic properties of our concert hall are not what they should be. Mrs. Mitchell has a beautiful soprano voice and her sweet rendering of "An Old-fashioned Town" so enchanted her audience that it was some seconds after the last note had died away before the applause came, which undoubtedly proves how entranced they were. For an encore we heard "Jessie's Dream." Her next turn was the stirring song, "On to Victory," which gave us a chance of hearing what power and control over her voice Mrs. Mitchell has. As the audience would not keep quiet we heard "Mary of Argyle." The last turn on the program was "Rule Britannia" and Mrs. Mitchell had on the platform assisting her the Misses Nora and Claire Mitchell, Master Jack Day and Miss Margaret Day.

At the end of the first part of the program two articles were raffled, a lady's bag, made and presented by Mrs. Day, and a box of cigars, presented by the officers. The winners were Lt. Dunbar-Abbott and Corp. Stewart.

The refreshments were supplied by the officers and looked after by Pte. Goodman.

Dancing started at 9.30 p.m. and through the kindness of the officer commanding continued until 2 a.m.

Much regret was expressed that A. Prentice and Miss Nelson, of Fernie, who had offered their services, were unable to get through owing to the bad state of the roads.

LAURIER AND QUEBEC

An open letter has been addressed to Sir Wilfrid Laurier by Mr. Albert J. Bentley, who proclaims himself a consistent follower of the Quebec statesman ever since 1896. Mr. Bentley refers to the shameful outbreak which has recently occurred in the city of Quebec, and asks the Opposition Leader what he is going to do about it. He contrasts the conduct of the Quebec malcontents with that of the country's gallant defenders who are selling their lives dearly overseas. He calls upon Sir Wilfrid "to come out from the petty differences and prejudices of partizanship," and to give Quebec the lead that it requires. Mr. Bentley adds:

"If the Union Jack is not sufficient—and this is an issue where individual flags count for little—raise the Cross of Christ, the cross so dear to all Catholics—go through the Province of Quebec—the Province because of so much false teaching has done so little in comparison with the other provinces of our Dominion—rally the young men to your standard—tell them of the great necessity—show them the justice and the righteousness of the cause for which we are fighting."

IN MEMORIAM

In ever loving memory of Major R. J. Black, 54th Batt., who was wounded at Vimy Ridge on the 9th and died on April 12th, 1917.

It is not the tears at the moment shed
That tell how beloved is the soul that's fled;
But the tears through many a long night wept,
And the sad remembrance so fondly kept.
We do not forget him; we loved him too dearly
For his memory to fade from our lives like a dream.
Our lips need not speak for our hearts mourn sincerely,
And our thoughts often go to the days that have been.
His memory is as fresh today as in the hour he passed away.

ZONE SYSTEM FOR COAL DISTRIBUTION

The United States Fuel Administration, in cooperation with the Director General of Railroads announces a zone system to govern the distribution of bituminous coal during the coal year beginning April 1, 1918.

Heretofore coal has been distributed practically without regard to the distance between the mine and the consumer. Under the zone system coal will be distributed to consuming territory under restrictions that will avoid as far as possible waste of transportation facilities, but nevertheless consistent with the maintenance of the greatest possible production and a proper coal supply to all coal users. Every effort has been made, however, to preserve long-established trade relations.

We must have adequate coal supply in order to win the war, for otherwise we can not make munitions or other war supplies, or build ships or use them when built. Without adequate coal supply industries will be stopped, labor will be idle and homes go unwarmed.

In view of these necessities and of the serious danger of coal shortage the United States Fuel Administration and the United States Railroad Administration have devoted several months to the study of what can be done to remove the causes which have hampered the enlargement of the coal production. It has been found that a factor which has largely diminished the number of cars available for loading in the mines and the number of locomotives available to haul coal is that in a substantial sense the country has been engaged in "carrying coals to Newcastle": cars and locomotives have been occupied for many unnecessary days in hauling coal hundreds of unnecessary miles in order to deliver it at places much more accessible to other coal fields, whence coal could be obtained with far less tax upon the transportation energies of the country.—U.S. Bulletin.

There will be good music for the dancing at the Catholic church hall next Wednesday, April 17. Come and enjoy yourselves.

ALL BYLAWS TO BE ENFORCED

On Monday evening last the police commission held its regular monthly meeting with His Worship the Mayor and Commissioners Carr and Dudley attending.

Chief Welsby directed attention to the fact that before the next meeting according to the original arrangement the extra constable appointed some time ago would automatically expire. After discussing this question at some length it was moved by Dudley and Carr: "That on the recommendation of Chief Welsby that it is necessary for the efficient service of the force to have either a fourth constable or a jailor, therefore we recommend that Constable Pollard be added to the force for three months.—Carried.

In the matter of deputations, Mr. Ireland appeared to learn what the commissioners intended to do with respect to the enforcement of the poultry bylaw, complaints regarding which had been lodged with the council. His Worship took the view that bylaws should not be enforced in isolated cases and unless it was the intention of the commissioners to enforce all. Undoubtedly there were some enacted in this city which never had been enforced, and it was doubtful if it would be possible to do so, as he contended the enforcement of some would be impossible. Com. Dudley claimed nothing was impossible and that was what the commissioners were elected for. His Worship relative to the poultry bylaw pointed out the probable effect by its enforcement would mean a material decrease in the production of poultry within the city and at a time when the hue and cry was for universal increase in the production of aricles of food. Com. Carr took the view that if one by-law was to be enforced all must be enforced, and Com. Dudley insisted that this course must be adopted as he believed that was the reason for the election of the present commissioners.

The following motion was then introduced by Commissioners Dudley and Carr:

"That inasmuch as the city council recommend the poultry bylaw be enforced and as we cannot conscientiously enforce one by-law and permit others to be broken, therefore, resolved, that EACH and EVERY BY-LAW now enacted be at once enforced and a copy of this resolution be handed to the Chief of Police by the city clerk.—

Referring to the wording of the foregoing motion, wherein it states "Each and Every By-Law" to be enforced, His Worship took strong objection to the commissioners permitting themselves to be placed in the ridiculous postion, as he claimed, of adopting revolting measures so manifestly savoring of inconsistency and detrimental to the liberties of the citizens in general. A very heated discussion followed but the above motion was passed by Coms. Dudley and Carr supporting it as originally submitted, despite the opposition of the Mayor. The Mayor thereupon told Chief Welsby he sincerely hoped he would be capable of carrying out the wish of the commissioners but if he did he would be the first official in that department that had ever been able to do so during the past ten years.

A deputation through Mr. Arnold, the spokesman, presented a protest in that the Presbyterian church were allowed to hold entertainments conducted by certain travelling entertainers without payment of the regular license. The commissioners were in possession of legal advice in this connecton and advised the delegation that it was very doubtful whether the city could impose a license as suggested. Com. Carr made a very lengthy and earnest address regarding the holding of entertainments in the church and very emphatically told the delegation that it was not the intention of the church to interfere in this but that with regard to the recent entertainments held in Knox church he was informed that the companies had applied but had been refused permission to show in the theatre on the dates shown here. A somewhat lengthy discussion took place but finally the matter was concluded after all parties had explained their respective positions.. Ald. Jackson upon privilege then asked the commissioners if it was permissable to allow gambling in the churches. Chief Welsby advised Ald. Jackson that if the game was "blackjack" it was possible to prosecute but if "poker" or other games unless there was a rake-off taken it was not possible. After asking what rate was charged churches for electric light and being informed, Ald. Jackson retired. (Ald. Jackson is chairman of the fire, water and light committee of the city council).

The meeting closed after Chief Welsby had recommended certain bylaw amendments so that they could be enforced in accordance with the Municipal Clauses Act. It will also be necessary to provide a suitable pound as the old one will not accommodate "chickens."

COMMUNICATION

(We do not hold ourselves responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.)

Fernie, B.C., April 17.

Mr. Editor—I was glad to see you published my letter last week; also very pleased to see any attempt to put one over a long suffering town failed.

The meeting of the council, however, is worthy of anyone's attention and to say the least is worthy of comment. The main item to me seems to be the communication of the worthy mayor re that $500, which he would not take. This seems to be a big departure from the platform attitude before the election, where the impression sought to be given was that if an aspirant for civic honors was really and truly working for the city's interest no affairs of the ducats ought to be considered. I was "one in the gallery" on that occasion and I thought here is a public spirited man at last. Alas, alas. Here now when the dollars are at hand it looks like hell to see them fleeting past, and the best of a bad deal can only be made out of it. So the little voice whispers "Advertize, advertize." Oh, George, how could you be tempted.

The friend who sits along side me being of a hilarious turn of mind, and a bit of a poet withal, here burst into flame:

He'll give ten bucks to the Patriotic Fund,
And ten to the G.W.V.A.,
And there's the C.S.E.T. and the I.O D.E.,
And the balance to B. S. A.

What he refers to as the B.S.A. is a new one on me, but there you have it.

However, I give the Mayor his meed of praise when he developed backbone enough to sit down on the "Dudley motion." The mayoralty job at nothing per is devoid of glory and is something like the coroner's job these days—not much honor either, for I'm sure if George had the same wireless from Victoria as a friend of mine had (re inquest) he would sure have a fit. I suppose it would be a jocose moment when the august Minister of Mines, the Attorney General and the infallible one from Fernie met and discussed the coroner's letter. There was several little breaks in the current which my friend took for ha, ha, ha. However, they agreed to "let George do it." His Worship might know when he lives long enough in B.C. that an attorney general is supposed to know nothing. Surely he must have seen the news item: The government of B.C. hires a legal sharp at $500 a week to frame up new laws, samples of which we gape at and marvel at his profundity.

Mr. Editor, I hope you will pardon this digression. I meant to confine my comment to the show in Fernie and let Victoria alone. However, that was only what the movie picture man calls a flash back and did not ought to interfere with the comedy, for pretty soon from the way things are going they will have to charge a price of admission at the city hall.

The piece de resistance of the city hall affair to be impartial, was the city magistrate's turn, and I hear quite a few comments on the street anent the same. I'm going to put it up to Bill Jackson to get the following information for the public. Bill is the only one of the bunch that has the sand to go after it. The office has the data so it should be easy for Bill. If Bill does this I'll let him down easy on the McGladrey stunt. I'll even overlook his misfortune of working the Liberal government.

Questions for elucidation:

Who wrote in the amount on the motion paper of the increase that was granted the police magistrate?

What is the amount received by the police magistrate each month?

Does he pay income tax?

Is it a fact that the police magistrate receives $300 a month?

How much does he receive from the side issues appertaining to his office?

Is the Methody platoon a menace to the efficiency of the council?

Did the Mayor boost for McGladrey at the time of his appointment?

Give the reason why the police commissioners changed their time of meeting without due notice, that is, from 8 p.m. to 7.30 p.m.

One in the Gallery.

LT. MINTON'S FIRST SOLO

Lt. Harold Minton writing to his mother in a couple of letters received this week gives some of his experiences in flying, also a description of his first solo trip. They are worth reading:

March 18, 1918.

"A few lines to let you know that I am getting to be quite an aviator; slow but sure. I had quite an experience whilst up about 8000 feet. One of our pistons broke and it being a rotary engine it caused a lot of vibration. I thought sure a main plane had broken loose. I gave the machine the once over very quickly and found everything in order. The instructor shouted to me to stop the propeller, which I did by putting the nose of the machine up to what they call a stall, which stopped the propeller and we glided down in great shape, making a perfectly good landing in the aerodrome. Suppose I shall make a pilot some day. The landing seems to be the hardest thing to get on to. Expect I shall be going up solo in a few days now, providing the weather holds out. Suppose you have heard that they are making the R.N.A.S. and R.F.C. the one unit, which will be the Royal Air Force after April 1. They are also changing the uniform but that will not come into effect until the other clothes are pretty well worn out, which will be a matter of six months."

March 23, 1918.

We had a station holiday on Thursday and my instructor went down to Cambridge, so I went down on the train with him and went on to Broxbourne. He made me promise that I would keep early hours and rest myself generally as I was to go up solo on Friday afternoon. Needless to say I was very anxious about Friday afternoon. We started out and made a few landings. I kept the engine ticking over while he got out; then strapped myself in. He told me to be careful and advised me not to do any stunts, but I didn't give him any reply but smiled and said "Here goes nothing." He took my hand and wished me the best of luck. He could see that I meant business for I told him a few days previous that I was going to loop, etc., on my first solo. I started off and I can tell you I did feel lonesome but at the same time quite at home. I was busy looking at my instruments and the ground, looking for a soft place to land if anything should go wrong. My aneroid was gradually going up, 2000, then 3000, until it reached 4000 feet. I made a few steep turns and it took me a little time to gain sufficient courage to loop. I turned the old bus into the wind, then hesitated for a bit and thought I could try anything once, so I pushed the "jay stick" forward, getting the nose of the machine down until I was going about 100 miles an hour and I pulled the "stick" back and over she went, making a lovely loop; shut off the petrol and put it into a spin, and how the ground did seem to come up to meet me and the wires whistling. I did all the stunts I had done before with my instructor, then came down, making a perfectly good landing. The instructor ran over to meet me, full of excitement, more so than myself. I jumped out of the machine and everyone gave me the glad hand. The O.C. complimented me and told me not to get too confident.

BY-LAWS OF THE WOMEN'S AUXILIARY

This organization to be known as the Fernie Branch Women's Auxiliary to the Great War Veterans Association.

Members—All women can become members who are near relatives and interested in the work of the above named Association for returned soldiers and their dependents.

Officers—The officers to be nominated and elected by ballot at the first regular meeting of each year: Two Patronesses, Honary President, Honorary Vice-President, President, 1st Vice-President, 2nd Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer.

Meetings—Meeting to be held on the first and third Wednesdays of each month at 8 p.m. promptly. The President has authority to call a special meeting when necessary.

Work—The Auxiliary to be entirely subordinate to the local branch of the Great War Veterans Association. Our work is to assist them both socially and in raising monies to operate said Association.

Finances—We should have a separate account and carry a small balance for working purposes. At the end of each month our secretary-treasurer shall turn over to the above named Association all monies except a small amount necessary for running expenses. The President to countersign all cheques.

Membership Fees—The membership fee to be fifty cents per year payable when signing the roll and at the first meeting of each year.

Committees—The committee, Sick and Social, to be appointed each month and to consist of three members. Auditing Committee to be appointed yearly. This committee is to audit all bills and to report in writing on all books at the first regular meeting of each year. A committee consisting of our President and two members to be appointed to receive requests for temporary financial aid to members and present same to the Great War Veterans Association.

The issue of a badge has been authorized. The description of this badge is as follows: It is made of sterling silver, constructed in the form of a medallion, consisting of miniature replica of the Active Members badge, set in a silver field, surrounded by a circular, blue edging on which appears the name of the Association. It is suspended by a silver link from a bar on which the inscription "Women's Auxiliary" appears. The cost will be 75c each.

RETURNED SOLDIERS' CLUB

The first regular meeting of the committee of the above Club was held in the Club Rooms on the 17th inst. The first business was the election of officers and resulted as follows:

President, His Worship Mayor Thomson.

Vice-President, Mrs. G. G. Moffatt.

Sec.-Trea., Mrs. J. R. Wallace.

Executive Committee to consist of four members of the I.O.D.E., two from Returned Soldiers Committee, G.W.V.A. Ladies Auxiliary, Rebekahs, Pythina Sisters, G.W.V.A. and city council. Those already represented are:

I.O.D.E.—Mrs. Moffatt, Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Duthie.

G.W.V.A. Auxiliary, Mrs McBean and Mrs. E. Stewart.

City Council—Mayor Thomson and Ald. Jackson.

Returned Soldiers Aid Committee—E. K. Stewart and T. Uphill.

G.W.V.A.—W. J. Claridge and H. Kennedy.

The others to be named by the lodges.

Messrs. Stewart and Uphill were appointed a committee to see to the procuring of a pool table for the extra room to be taken at the quarters.

The meeting night of the Club committee is to be the first Monday in each month.

COMMUNICATION

Fernie, B.C., April 18, 1918.

Editor Fernie Free Press:

Dear Sir—With reference to your report of the council meeting held on Thursday, April 11, which appeared in your issue of April 12, you state that "I thought Rev. Carr as a member of the police commission was practically an impostor." As I did not use the word "impostor" at all, I will be glad if you will kindly publish this letter in your next issue.

What I intended to convey was that I did not think it right for a police commissioner, who has no property in the city and who does not contribute to the upkeep of the city by payment of taxes, to have power to either propose or second or support any motion to incur any expense which would not have to come out of his pocket at all.

I am, Yours truly,

E. L. Brooks.

THE LATEST WAR NEWS

London, April 19.—The following statement has been issued to the Canadians by Sir Arthur Currie:

"Looking back with pride on the unbroken record of your glorious achievements, making you realize that today the fate of the British Empire hangs in the balance, I place my trust in the Canadian corps, knowing that where Canadians are engaged there can be no giving way. Under orders of your devoted officers in coming battle you will advance or fall where you stand facing the enemy. To those who fall I say, you will not die but step into immortality. Your mothers will not lament your fate but will be proud to have borne such sons. Your name will be revered for ever by your grateful country and God will take you unto himself. Canadians, in this fateful hour, I command you and I trust you to fight as you have ever fought, with all your strength, with all your determination and with all tranquil courage. On many hard fought fields of battle you have overcome this enemy and with God's help you will achieve victory once more."

London, April 19.—British troops today completely defeated the German attempts to advance in the Givency-LaBasse region on the northern battlefront in Flanders. Over ten divisions of German infantry have been identified in this battle but after their assaults had ceased they had only been able to obtain a slight foothold in one or two of the extremely advanced British positions. Last night the enemy again attacked the British posts south of Kemmel but they were broken up by the Brtish artillery and machine gun fire before they were able to reach our positions. The night passed in comparative quiet along the entire British line in France and Flanders, excepting the usual artillery bombardments on both sides.

Paris, April 19.—Rheims, one of France's most ancient cities, is now nothing but a pile of smoking ruins as a result of the terrble fire which has been raging there for over a week. Over 100,000 German shells have been hurled into the city during the last few days.

French troops last night raided German machine gun positions and scattered them in front of the enemy's line before Amiens. There has been no artillery action in this region.

On the Verdun front the French raided German trenches in the neighborhood of Besonvaux and brought back some prisoners.

Only intermittent artillery actions are reported from the rest of the French front.

Rome, April 19.—British troops operating on the Italian front made a successful raid yesterday in the Asiago region, where they inflicted losses on the Austrians and took 22 prisoners.

COUNTY COURT DECIDES CASES

In Judge Thompson's criminal court this week the cases of Rex vs. D. Casarini, charged with assaulting a peace officer in the execution of his duty came up; also the cases of Rex M. Leresi, F. Montonati, Gismond, Volpati, and Yob, charged with obstructing a peace officer. The alleged crime was committed at Michel on the night of March 31, when Constables Norgrove and Hughes, when noticing Casarini at about 11.30 p.m. in the rear of a dwelling house, attempted to investigate and Casarini, not responding to the command to state who he was, Constable Norgrove used his flashlight, whereupon accused immediately invoked a violent attack. This culminated in a general mix-up between the accused and the two constables and caused them to place him under arrest. Casarini continued to resist forcibly and the constables after taking him a short distance temporarily lost their prisoner. They soon recovered him, however, and attempted to handcuff him but he put up such a lively scrap that only one handcuff was fastened on him. During the mix-up, however, in response to accused's cries there soon appeared on the scene between 20 and 30 of his friends and these re-inforcements soon rescued Casarini from the constables. After hearing the evidence for three days His Honor found Casarini guilty and fined him $100 or six months. The remaining 5 prisoners are comng up for trial this afternoon, when, it is understood, they will plead guilty to the charge of obstructing.

Relative to the Michel liquor appeals, of which there are eleven, His Honor allowed the appeals and set aside the convictions in the case of Ermacora and Volpati. The Crown had made application for a stated case but judgment was reserved until May 16. In the nine remaining appeals the Crown consented to allowing those three which included visitors to the place where the police raided, and found the liquor, but adjournment of the remaining six cases was granted till next month.

The appellants in these liquor cases were ably represented by F. C. Lawe, while A. Macneil handled the cases for the Crown.

Judgment—

The result of these decisions enables me to give a definition of "boarding house" and "lodging house." I would define a boarding house or lodging house to be a place kept for profit, where any member of the general public, if acceptable to the proprietor, may obtain board or lodging.

This definition requires some explanation. It is clear from the authorites in re Gun Long that the place must be kept for profit, but the second part of my definition requires further explanation. In my opinion the mere fact that a relative or a friend, or even one specially favored individual lives in the house of another and pays board or lodgng does not constitute the place a boarding house or lodging house. There has to be the idea of members of the general public being invited to board or lodge as the case may be and pay. Of course the keeper of a boarding house or lodging house has the right to say who he will admit to his premises but to put it briefly in order that a place should cease to lose its position as a private dwelling house and become a boarding house or lodging house there must be the occupation or business of a boarding house keeper or lodging house keeper carried on therein.

In the present case there was no board or lodgings supplied for profit, nor in any way could it be suggested that the business of boarding or lodging was carried on on the premises by Ermacora or his wife. The appellant bona fide lived on the premises, slept there, and ate his meals there, and I hold under the circumstances it is as much his private dwelling house as it was that of Ermacora and his wife. The appeal is therefore allowed and the conviction set aside. Question of costs reserved.

I would point out the danger to the authorities of arresting men charged with an infraction of the Prohibition Act or any other Provncial Statute without first having obtained a warrant.

OLDEST CITIZENS ARE LEAVING

Fernie will shortly lose two of its oldest citizens in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pollock, who expect to leave in three or four weeks time for California, where they will make their future home.

Mr. Pollock is perhaps our oldest citizen. Representing a mining syndicate he first visited this valley, coming over the mountains from the head waters of Wild Horse Creek and down Wilson Creek near Michel early in 1896. At that time there was only one lone shack on Coal Creek and Fernie townsite was forest primeval. Again he came back in construction days, having charge of Wellman's crews, and when the town sprung up in 1898, W. W. Tuttle engaged him to manage the old Royal Hotel. It was in that year that he married Mrs. Pollock, who was then a resident of Fort Steele. For the past thirteen or fourteen years he has been manager of the Pollock Wine Co., and for a large part of the time U.S. Consular Agent here. Mr. Pollock still has large interests in timber and coal lands, in addition to owning valuable property here, which will hold his connection with Fernie and will necessitate him visiting us at frequent intervals. For the past three or four years Mrs. Pollock has been in failing health and it is hoped that a permanent residence in California will greatly assist in her recovery. They have not yet decided in what part of the state they will locate.

John Biggs and his son Wilfrid are in Calgary purchasing a car. They expect to motor home.

Food will win the war. Don't waste it.

DOCTOR SAYS VINOL IS THE BEST TONIC

Honest Opinion Doctor Gave His Patient

Bedford, Ohio.—"I was in a pitiful condition, weak, nervous and run down so I could not do my housework. I had doctored for years and tried everything under the sun. A friend told me about Vinol. I asked my doctor about it, and he replied, 'It certainly is the best medicine that can be had today. I couldn't give you any better.' I took it, and today I am as well and strong as any woman could wish to be, and it was Vinol that saved me."—Mrs. Frank A. Horkey, Ash St., Bedford, Ohio.

ELKO NOTES

(By Fred Roo)

Elko entertained three of her returned soldiers on Wednesday evening to one of the most delightful social events ever held in the old historic burg. The affair was engineered by Mrs. A. J. Mott, who got every citizen interested and made the affair a big family affair, and the beauty and chivalry turned out enmasse to do honor to the brave men who had done their bit. By kind permission of the officer commanding the 107th at Morrissey the band came down and supplied the music, which was a feature in itself and very much appreciated by all present. The hall was beautifully decorated with flags and bunting and the floral decorations were exquisite and the occasion made the happiest possible. The fair ladies had on their new Easter dresses. R. G. Hirtz was M. C. and with railroad promptness started the ball at 8.30, and the merry crowd hesitated, Lame Ducked, Winnipegged, Waltzed and one-stepped, but Fred Wildman's Ping Pong Two Step got everybody going and coming. It was heaven with the cream left on, and put your backbone where your wishbone is now. The Waldo crowd was so enthused with it that they advertised a dance the Friday following. Wildman said that dance would drive the poison out of your system. The waxed floor shone like a mirror and the ladies all looked as sweet as the ladies in Laura Jean Libby's novels. At midnight an excellent supper was served. Cakes that would really taste good to an angel, sandwiches that would put flesh on a mine prop, coffee with real cream beyond reproach, and the service a miracle of speed and politeness. During supper there were speeches by the returned men, who were Lieut. C. J. Lewis, who certainly made the speech of the evening and was well received; Sgt. N. Brewer, wearing two gold stripes on his left arm, and Pte. Tom Hardman. Bandmaster Chorlton gave two cello selections which were well worth going miles to hear and worth three times the price of admission and then some. The Morrissey contingent made fast friends in Elko and every citizen of Elko thank them for the brilliant success they made it. As Jim Thistlebeak remarked, had it not been for the boys from the 107th regiment the affair would have been as flat as one of Mrs. Brown's pancakes and as cold as two hours after. At a little after 1 o'clock the band struck up Wildman's Ping Pong, and such dancing and prancing was never seen in the old historic burg before, and the dancing lasted till after four o'clock, when the beauteous rays of the morning sun were just twiting with ruddy glow the eastern sky, the orchestra swung into that plaintive melody of Home Sweet Home and the guests who had stayed late said the last good bye. The receipts will go to the Red Cross and for returned soldiers' comforts.

Among the visitors to Elko last week the following registered at Roo's store: Good Old English Bawn, Officer Commanding, the Black Watch Chewing Tobacco, and Abide With Me Cigars. Halpenny, the hardware man from Calgary, whose oratory would woo the birdies from the trees and skim the turpentine off the white lead, with a full line of happy days washboards, blacksmiths' anvils, fly traps and monkey wrenches. "Sam Black," an insurance man from Winnipeg, to put his words into music would crack the bass drum and to listen to him a few minutes you begin to think how nice he would look in a coffin. Al. Simpson, for several years with the C.P.R. dining cars and had to resign on account of a sprained wrist taking tips, with peanut soup and walnut pot roast, canned rabbit and suffed owl, said he would go up and kiss a cow in the face if he could get some fresh milk. A dry goods man from Toronto with a complexion like an under done pie crust, wearing a white shirt he couldn't take off without a can opener, and looking as if he could catch anything from pip to Spinal McGinnes, with silken hosiery and billowing multi-colored mists of frocks divine, bandama handkerchiefs and overalls. He also had a line of lingerie the names of which were harder to pronounce than the roll call of a Japanese regiment. Cleary, with Fowler's waterplane fizz, submarine whiffs, iron brew and other kinds of stomach bitters, an old timer in these hills. J. W. Smart from Brandon, in Manitoba, about as interesting as a lump of dough, with leather gloves, horse blankets and a side line of cambrick handkerchiefs, pink candle shades and red tape, and looked as lonesome as a sheepherder in a cow camp. Miss Hattie Maria Mabelle Two Stockings from Macleod, Alberta, her jet black hair hanging down her cheeks like seaweed round a clam, going down to Tobacco Plains.

From Somewhere in France—There is snow, snow, that is slushy and wet, snow that makes an old antique like me forget that somewhere flows the Elk on its way to the sea. When this card arrives in your hands from poor me you'll be wallowing in warmth and sunshine and joy. May you have a fine Easter, Jim Thistlebeak, old boy, and live to be at least 910.—From Randolph Stuart, late editor Morrissey Mention, who wishes to be remembered to all his old friends.

M. Robb, of Merryfield, Alta., who left Tobacco Plains eight years ago, is back in Elko, and left for Roosville valley looking up locations for several families who intend to move to B.C. next fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Roo were in Fernie this week.

An Austrian was sentenced to two months in jail by Magistrate Hewat this week for beating his wife. It seems the woman smashed a jug of whisky over the prisoner's head and he forcibly resented the waste of good booze.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a small bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

MAE MARSH HEROINE IN "FIELDS OF HONOR"

"Fields of Honor," the new Goldwyn Picture starring Mae Marsh, which will be seen at the Orpheum theatre on Friday and Saturday, is a screen version of the popular story of the same name that appeared in the Saturday Evening Post.

It details the history of Marie Messereau, a little French girl who arrives in America seeking better things, only to find for a time that everything seems to be against her. First her brother is called back to the colors of his native land. Then her sister is taken violently ill and the doctor orders that she be sent to the country, which the slender resources of Marie cannot afford.

When she thinks she has found happiness in the arm of Robert Vorhis, the son of a wealthy judge, who has fallen in love with her, a friend of Robert whose advances she has spurned, takes revenge by telling Robert's parents that she is a fallen woman. Of course, she is not that, but her scant knowledge of English and of American ways is against her. Thereupon Robert yields to the urging of his parents that he go to California for a few weeks and try to forget her.

Word comes that Marie's brother, in the French army, and her sister's sweetheart in the German army, have died on the battlefield. This is the last straw for the fragile sister and she collapses. Marie goes for the doctor, and he advises that the sister be taken to a charitable home for tuberculosis patients. Marie goes forth without the address, but hoping to find the house by asking her way. This leads a detective to suspect and arrest her.

The outcome of this situation is one of the most thrilling parts of the play.

Fight with Food

A Call to the Whole Dominion for the Utmost Effort to Produce Food for our Soldiers and Allies

CANADA FOOD BOARD

OUR ALLIES are desperately short of food. In the midst of plenty ourselves we must face the stern reality of England on shorter rations than she has been for over a hundred years, and France with only three days' food reserve. Even from their present small supplies they are saving Italy from collapse through hunger.

Since shipping must be concentrated on the shortest routes, Canada and the United States must continue to be practically the only source of supply.

Canada must provide wheat and meat in increasing quantities to meet a situation that imperils the issues of the war.

Men who can be spared for work on the farms must serve in this way. Those who are obliged to remain in the city or town can at least raise vegetables in their gardens or on vacant lots.

Every effort will be made to see that labor is forthcoming to harvest the maximum crops that farmers can produce.

An increased spring acreage in wheat and other grain is vitally needed.

Stock raisers are asked to provide the greatest possible production of meat, especially pork.

Starvation is threatening our Allies. Everyone in Canada must fight by doing his or her utmost to produce and to conserve food.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

NEARER TO THE BOYS

In an interview with Ralph Connor, the following occurs:

"But I often hear comments — not always friendly—about the prices that the Y.M.C.A. charge for some of its supplies."

"Such comments have no justification. The prices are as near right as they can be made. If there is any profit on the sales to the boys in the camps or back of the lines,, every cent of it goes to provide things free —absolutely free—to those who are in the front line trenches. As a matter of fact, the canteens and other organizations under the control of the churches and chaplains have pretty much the same schedule of prices as the Y.M.C.A."

"Then I may tell the people that in its war work, especially in the matter of creature comforts, the Y. M. C. A. is nearer to the boys than anyone else."

"Yes. It stands nearer to them than anything else except the military organization under whose discipline they live—and die. You see, they are specially organized, trained and outfitted for this kind of work — and they are a mighty spiritual force, too."

1500 S. O. S. BOYS IN B.C.

In the province of B.C. about 1500 boys have enlisted for farm service and are ready and anxious to serve their country by assisting in greater food production. Employment has already been arranged for nearly 500 boys, and applications are being received daily.

Every farmer in the province who will require the services of boys — whether it be for immediate service or later in the season—should make application now. Application forms are being sent out by the Department of Agriculture to all Farmers' Institutes, Women's Institutes, Boards of Trade, and Postmasters in the Province, or may be procured direct from the Department at Victoria.

Arrangements have been completed with the Education Department whereby boys are permitted to go out for farm service if required, but no boy should leave school with the expectation of being placed until he is actually needed and receives a letter from Mr. James Beatty, Associate Provincial Superintendent, Parliament Buildings, Victoria.

The entire province has been divided into districts and capable boys' men who will give voluntary service, are being secured to take charge of the supervision of the boys in each district. In addition to these supervisors, a local committee will be appointed in each centre to keep in constant touch with both the boys and their employers and to assist in the supervision.

The matter of railway rates for Soldiers of the Soil has been taken up and a definite announcement will be made shortly.

PUNISHING THE PROFITEERS

The firm of Wood & Co., of Moulton, Iowa, sold twelve cars of storage eggs at an excessive profit to Zinn & Co. of New York; they in turn sold the eggs to Swift & Co., who disposed of them to the public. The United States Food Administration, after looking into the transaction, has handed out punishment to both Zinn & Co. and Swift & Co. Zinn & Co. were ordered to suspend all business in eggs in New York for seven days, while Swift & Co. had to drop out of the egg business in New York for thirty days. Both corporations were ordered to donate to the American Red Cross "the unjustified amounts involved in the transactions." The Board finds that neither company made for itself an undue profit; their offence was in "assisting the seller to profiteer."

HOW THE TROUBLE STARTS

If more people knew how Rheumatism and kindred ills started there would be infinitely less suffering.

It should be a matter of popular knowledge that the blood stream completes the circulation of the body in approximately three minutes, gathering up waste matters. It is the function of the Kidneys to remove these impurities or poisons from the blood and eliminate them from the body. Should there be any derangement of the Kidney action the poisons are not eliminated but are carried around again in the blood stream, to accumulate slowly and occasion sickness and distress. Then follow pains in the back, in the region of the Kidneys, Rheumatism, constant headaches, and the many complaints arising from derangements of the Kidneys or Bladder. First, the Kidneys must be put in order and until these organs are healed and regulated no real health is possible. Gin Pills contain the medicinal and tonic properties that the Kidneys require.

You can get Gin Pills at all dealers—50c a box or 6 boxes for $2.50, or a sample will be sent free upon request to the National Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto, or to the U. S. address, 202 Main St., Buffalo, N.Y. 124

The Bulletin of the United States Food Administration from which we take this interesting story does not say what was done to the original offenders, the Iowa company that actually got away with the money. One would think that the heaviest penalty would be imposed upon them; but apparently the theory is that if the distributing companies are prevented from paying an unreasonable price there will be an end to profiteering.

The incident is interesting as showing that the public can devise machinery by which it can protect itself against food hogs. The lesson learned in war will not be forgotten in peace.

ARCHDEACON CODY'S TRIBUTE TO Y.M.C.A.

The following reference to the Y.M. C.A. in its relation to the Church was written by the rector of St. Paul's Church, Toronto: "The Churches at hame are keeping in touch with the men overseas through the chaplains, through the personal gifts and messages sent by individuals and congregations, and, not least, through the splendidly organized and ubiquitous work of the Y.M.C.A. The Red Triangle is a symbol of a great and efficient instrument of the Christian Church. Innumerable letters from the front and from England, many of them enclosed in envelopes bearing the stamp of the Red Triangle, testify to the helpful social and philanthropic service rendered to our soldiers by the Association. Its officials and its equipment are ministering to their material socal, intellectual and spiritual needs. Its organization of study classes behind the lines is a stroke of genius, for mere amusement finally palls. Whatever helps to give our fighing champions cheer, comfort, education and religious faith deserves and will receive the hearty support of the homeland."

Franklyn Farnum in "The Scarlet Car," at Orpheum, Monday, April 22.

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, cleanse little bowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

Dunlop "Gibraltar RedSpecial" Belting

Abnormal Friction Pull vs. Elasticity of Friction

Note the Short Grain Rubber Friction

This Belt Section illustrates a Heavy "Poundage-Pull" Friction. To secure this result the Friction Grain is short and stiff. Elasticity and Flexibility have been sacrificed to secure such a result.

BETWEEN every ply of specially-selected, heavy Cotton Duck in Dunlop "Gibraltar RedSpecial" Belting is a layer of pure Rubber which, through a Dunlop calendering process, so permeates the fabric that it binds the several plies into one integral piece.

Some belt manufacturers offer to sell their product on the basis of "Heavy-Poundage in a Friction-Pull" Test. To obtain the latter result it is not necessary to secure such an expensive Rubber Friction as is used in "Gibraltar Red Special." This fact alone ought to be a pretty good gauge of the value of the "friction-pull" test.

In buying "Gibraltar RedSpecial" you get the advantage of years of careful laboratory work on our part with this result: The friction is of that "just-right" elastic quality which allows for the give and take necessary in rounding the pulleys; hence the reason "Gibraltar RedSpecial" is known for maximum Power, Speed and Service.

Note the Long Grain Rubber Friction

Dunlop "GIBRALTAR REDSPECIAL" has a Friction of Special Dunlop Rubber that retains its life indefinitely. "Note the long grain Rubber Friction," as illustrated. Elasticity has not been sacrificed for Abnormal Friction Pull.

UNLIMITED capacity for service is an intrinsic quality with Dunlop "Gibraltar RedSpecial" Belting. The success of nearly a quarter of a century in the manufacture of Rubber Products is built into Gibraltar. The original Made-in-Canada Red Rubber, Frictioned Surface Belting, "Gibraltar RedSpecial" has stood the infallible test of time in turning the wheels of industry in a multitude of Canadian plants from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The Dunlop Unreserved Guarantee

If you have a difficult drive anywhere in your factory drop a line to our Head Office, or to our nearest branch, and we will send a man experienced in belt engineering to consider your requirements. If it is an instance where the "Gibraltar" Belting may be suitably employed we will recommend its use; and we will stand behind our recommendation with the fullest guarantee ever issued by a firm producing rubber products.

WRIGLEY'S

EDITORIAL

We publish in another column a letter signed "One in the Gallery." We think if this individual would cut out his ridicule and criticize the actions of public officials in a fair and impartial manner, he might do some material good. The Mayor of Fernie is sacrificing quite a lot to the public welfare in devoting his time to the city affairs and the least we can do is to give him credit for being honest in his actions. We believe Mayor Thomson and the majority of the aldermen are working for the very best interests of the city without either fear or favor. They may make mistakes but we have never had a council which was infallible.

It does not seem to us that the officials of Gladstone Union can be very loyal subjects or else they little appreciate their responsibilities as British citizens in this great crisis in the history of the Empire. When the Canadian government and the United States government are making every effort in their power to facilitate the production of coal, these irresponsibles must need call out the men for an entire day to discuss some trivial matter which does not amount to a row of pins. A few days ago it was some matter up at Hillcrest or Drumheller over which they were worrying. Again on Monday the change of time was an excuse for a layoff. Of course these matters could not be handled on Sunday. That would be out of the question even though it saved the men themselves six or seven thousand dollars a day.

The Dominion government backed the Union and compelled the companies to comply with the demands of the men at a time when they had been turned down cold by the International Union, when a three or four months strike would have smashed their Union high and dry, and in return for their action they now call a holiday whenever the whim suits them.

The same trouble seems to prevail at Lethbridge. The Herald of Tuesday of this week contains the following item:

"Are the high wages being received by the miners of District No. 18 at present responsible for a lack of energy on the part of some of the men? Are the men receiving such high wages that they need to work only part of the time?

"Whether or not this is the case, the local mines, which are turning out a grade of domestic coal for which there is the greatest demand ever known at this season of the year, are falling off in their output. 'We have plenty of orders to take our full output,' said one mine official to the Herald today, 'but we are getting out 35 per cent less coal than we did during the winter. And we have almost as many men on the payroll. The trouble is that they are taking too many holidays. Anything seems to be an excuse for laying off work these days.'

"It is known that the output of the Galt Collieries has dropped from 1300 tons a day to 900, though very few of the men have gone to other work for the summer.

"The Drumheller mines are practically all closed and the miners are going away but few of them are drifting to the southern fields."

10 CENT "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Cure Sick Headache, Constipation, Billiousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath—Candy Cathartic.

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches how miserable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish bowels—you always get relief with Cascarets. They immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet and head clear for months. They work while you sleep.

A VIMY RIDGE MEMORIAL

The following letter is clipped from the Vivtoria Colonist:

Sir—Time may be a healer, but in these sad days, when so much loss of splendid lives is taking place daily, it is doubly difficult to heal the open wounds in the hearts of those whose portion is to stay behind and who, with crossed hands, bow to the will of God.

April the ninth is the first anniversary of Vimy Ridge, where our gallant fellows did so splendidly and added one more wreath of laurels to their glorious country.

Many throughout Canada will be thinking today, with sadness, of the dear ones they lost a year ago. The 103rd Battalion recruited on this island, and broken up when it arrived in England, suffered an irreparable loss on this great day. Major R. J. Black, Lt. Ashcroft and Lt. Banfield who were attached to the 54th Battalion in France and who took part in the fight, were all three killed by snipers in a shell hole after their objectives had been obtained. From information suppiled by an officer who was with them and who was severely wounded I learnt that Major Black who was wounded twice and had visited his forward posts, stopped to talk to Lieuts. Ashcroft and Banfield; a runner saw them sitting in a shell hole and on returning found all three shot by snipers — lying dead. Why the snipers were there is another story and this is neither the time or place to discuss it. So died three brave comrades. Major Black, who came from Fernie, was well known and highly respected throughout Canada and was the finest man I ever met—a delightful companion—a real soldier and a man who could not only handle his men with tact and judgment but who earned their respect and devotion. He was loved by all who knew him and his wonderful physical strength had stood him in good stead many a time in his railroad construction days. I shall never forget poor Black on one occasion when he went to the hut where one of his platoons were quartered to put three men under arrest. They taunted him to take his coat off—he told them that he had to respect his uniform otherwise it would give him the greatest pleasure to take the three at once. He could have done it, too, as he certainly was the strongest man I ever knew and had many a time in the old days "cleaned up" half a dozen strikers. As a boy of fifteen he went out to work to keep his mother and sister and attended a night school to educate himself. Long before he died he had provided a home for his old mother besides his home for his wife and kiddies.

Lieut. Ashcroft was a magnificent specimen of a boy of 22 and a great athlete. At the sports held here before he sailed he won the largest aggregate of prizes and jumped five feet ten inches. He came from the Coldstream, Vernon, and was loved by all yet never spoilt. On one occasion at Seaford, England, he was giving a lecture on bombing and having withdrawn the pin from a Mills bomb (which was supposed to be a dummy) it began to sputter; believing it was a live bomb he rushed to the window but saw a number of men standing outside; he instantly backed to the wall and held the bomb behind his back to save the others in the class room—it fortunately did not go off but that did not in any measure detract from the bravery of his action.

Lieut. Banfield, who came from Cranbrook, was a very popular officer, a conscientious worker and thoroughly efficient in every way.

So died three brave men a year ago. They are buried in France and their graves are well cared for, but I should like to see some permanent memorial put up in Victoria to the memory of those three heroes who died together. They left here for "the great adventure" and crossed the "Great Divide" together into the unknown. Surely we who have come safely back and those who have to stay behind can spare a few cents to perpetuate the memory of their self-sacrifice which is so greatly to the credit of our Capital City.

I should be happy to act on any committee that may be formed to put this suggestion into practical form.

Major, late 103rd Battalion, C.E.F.,

Vast Issues Depend Upon the Welfare of Our Men!

Cheer Up and Thank God for the Y.M.C.A.

TRY to picture yourself in the muddy cold trenches after exciting days and long nights of mortal danger and intense nervous strain. Rushing "whiz-bangs" and screaming "coal boxes" are no respecters of persons. You are hit! But despite shock and pain you still can face the long weary trudge back to dressing station. Weary, overwrought and depressed, you are prey to wild imaginings of that other coming ordeal with the surgeon. There are other "walking wounded," too! You must wait, wait, wait. And then—

Up comes a cheery Y.M.C.A. man, the ever-present "big brother" to the soldier, with words of manly encouragement. Close beside the dressing station the good generous folks at home have enabled him to set up a canteen. He hands you biscuits, and chocolate or coffee.

Canada-Wide Appeal

"In thousands of cases," writes an officer, "it was that first hot cup of coffee that dragged the man back to life and sanity."

The tremendous helpfulness of the Y.M.C.A. as an aid to the "morale," or fighting spirit, of the soldiers is everywhere praised. No wonder the Germans make every effort to smash the Y.M.C.A. huts out of existence.

The Y.M.C.A. is everywhere. You first met the helpful, manly Y.M.C.A. worker in camp, then on train and boat, at camp in England and in France, close to the firing line. Often he risks his life to reach you in the trenches. He has won the warmest praise from military authorities, statesmen—the King!

Have you a precious boy at the front? You cannot be "over there" to guide him away from fierce temptations of camp and city. You cannot comfort him in his supreme hour of trial. Your parcels to him are necessarily few. But the Y.M.C.A., thank God, is "over there," going where you cannot go—doing the very things you long to do—doing it for you and for him.

Will you help? This vast organization of helpfulness needs at least $2,250,000 from Canada for 1918. For your boy's sake be GENEROUS!!

War Work Summary

There are:

—96 branches of Canadian Y.M.C.A. in France.

—79 branches in England.

—Dozens of Y.M.C.A. dug-outs in forward trenches under fire.

—Over 120 Military Secretaries overseas.

—300,000 letters a day written in Y.M.C.A. overseas buildings.

—$133,000 needed for athletic equipment. (Helps morale of soldiers.)

—Y.M.C.A. saved hundreds of lives at Vimy Ridge by caring for walking wounded.

—Over 100 pianos in England and France, also 300 gramophones and 27 moving picture machines.

—Y. M. C. A. helps boys in hospitals.

—More than 60,000 cups of hot tea and coffee distributed daily in France—free. Estimated cost for 8 months, $48,000.

—150,000 magazines distributed free every month. (Estimated cost $15,000.)

—$125,000 used in 1917 to build huts in France.

—Concerts, sing-songs, good-night services and personal interviews energetically conducted. Concerts, lectures, etc., cost $5,000 a month.

—Thousands of soldiers decide for the better life.

—Y.M.C.A. sells many needful things to soldiers for their convenience. Profits, if any, all spent for benefit of soldiers.

—Service to boys in Camp hospitals.

—Red Triangle Clubs for soldiers in Toronto, St. John and Montreal. Centres in Paris and London for men on leave.

—Out of Red Triangle Fund, $75,000 to be contributed to the War Work of the Y.W.C.A.

Boys!

Here's your chance to do a fine stroke in the big war! Help the Y.M.C.A. to help your big brothers overseas by joining in the

"Earn and Give Campaign"

Six thousand Canadian older boys are invited to earn and give at least Ten Dollars ($10) to the Red Triangle Fund. That means $60,000 in all! Splendid! Five thousand dollars will be used for boys' work in India and China; another $5,000 for the National Boys' Work of Canada, and $50,000 to help big brothers in Khaki. Ask your local Y.M.C.A. representative for information and pledge card. When you have subscribed one or more units of Ten Dollars, you will receive a beautifully engraved certificate.

J. G. Billings, former manager of the Southern Lumber Mills, Limited, Sidney, and the Woodworkers, Limited, Victoria, is now official liquidator of the Fernie Lumber Co., Fernie, for many years operated by A. McDougall, one of the best known lumbermen in the interior. As a result of the splendid business outlook the Fernie plant may be started up this spring by permission of the Court after a spell of idleness, in which event about 200 men will be needed for the mill and camps.—Western Lumberman.

The many friends of Col. H. Norman Stewart will be sorry to hear of his death, he having been killed while with his regiment, 14th Northumberland Fusiliers, near Amiens some days ago. Col. Stewart, who also was a South African veteran, left for Great Britain in September, 1914, and at first joined the Scottish Yeomanry, afterwards being promoted to colonel of an infantry regiment. Up to the time of his departure he owned a large ranch near Newgate and was also manager of the B. C. Farms Association, Ltd., operating in the same vicinity. He had many friends in Fernie and the winter before the war was quite a keen curler. He was an expert polo player and took an active interest in organizing the Spokane Polo Club. He leaves a mother residing in Ayrshire and several sisters and brothers.

JUST LIKE A HOUSECLEANING

Every room needs an occasional "Cleaning up", no matter how carefully the regular sweeping and dusting is done. Especially is this true after any unusual event, a party, a wedding or a quilting bee.

So it is with your body. No matter how regular your habits or well cooked your food, there comes a time when you don't feel just right. You may recall an unusually hearty meal or two, irregular hours, or eating something that "didn't agree with you", or it may be just the "dust-gathering".

In any case a few doses of a really good carthartic is all you need to put you right. For this purpose nothing is quite so suitable as

Chamberlain's Tablets

Two or three after supper the first night, and one each night for two or three days, and your digestive apparatus is just like the well-cleaned room. Every part of your body is more vigorous, you go about your work with a new feeling and begin again to enjoy life. Are these benefits not worth getting? You know they are.

And you need have no hesitation about beginning them for fear you must "keep it up". The effect is just the opposite.

FERNIE BRANCH, - - - A. M. OWEN, Manager

Branch also at Natal.

Harry Pollock, of Edmonton, is visiting his parents here.

It is understood that W. J. (Charlie) Claridge will very shortly go into the insurance business in Fernie.

Miss May Morris is leaving the city to join her brother at Rossland, and from there will go to Vancouver.

Owing to the exchange supplying wrong dates for "Fields of Honor," this feature will not be shown at the Orpheum on Friday and Saturday.

Manager Menthrum, of the Fernie-Fort Steele Brewing Co., has leased the Bonnell residence for the summer. He will bring his family from Spokane.

The Knights of Pythias will hold a grand ball and supper in Victoria hall on Friday, May 24', in aid of the lodge fund for dependants of soldiers at the front and the Red Cross.

In the report of the council meeting last week an error was made in stating that Mayor Thomson gave the casting vote, killing Ald. Dudley's motion for the introduction of a cigarette by-law. We understand the aldermen voted 4 to 2 aganst the motion.

Major General R. G. E. Leckie, C.N.F., D.O.C., visited Fernie this week on a trip of inspection to the Morrissey Internment Camp. General Leckie is a hero of the present war, being wounded near Ypres in the hot fighting which took place there a couple of years ago.

G.W.V.A.

The Hallowell concert and dance proved successful and the Association benefited from the result financially. The concert was poorly attended but was first class in its entirety. The dance was a great success, some 120 odd coples attending, and the music was voted great. Heard on the side: "Say, these Veterans are sure the people to put on a dance. This is the second time they have mixed in and both were A1." We would therefore point out to our friends that the Rebekahs will hold a dance on May 1, proceeds for the Returned Soldiers Club, and we will assure them the same good time enjoyed at the last two.

We have to thank the Knox Church Dramatic Society for $104.00, proceeds from the presentation of "What Happened to Jones," on the 10th inst.

The bean guessing contest closes on Tuesday next, April 23, and the result will be announced in next week's issue. Those who have not obtained a ticket to guess are asked to hustle up and do so. Guesses are to be placed in a ballot box at the Trites-Wood grocery counter.

Any C.E.F. returned men or discharged Canadian Naval Force members or members of the Allied armies who have not yet joined the Fernie G.W.V.A. are asked to obtain application forms from Secretary Kennedy. The next meeting of the Association is to be held tonight,, April 19, and on every alternate Friday.

General R. G. Edwards Leckie, C. M.G., D.O.C., was a visitor at the Club Rooms on Wednesday evening last. The General met the members of the G.W.V.A. and stories of old days in France were swopped. He expressed great pleasure with the Club rooms and commented that the citizens of Fernie had done splendidly in furnishing such comofrtable quarters for returned men.

Military Service Act

Important Announcement to All

EXEMPTED MEN

and to the Public Generally

IN dealing with the very large number of claims for exemption brought forward for consideration in connection with Class 1 under the Military Service Act, it has occurred, as was inevitable, that as a result of false statements and difficulties put in the way of investigation, some individuals have secured exemption whose proper place is in the Army.

It is not the intention of the Government to allow these men to evade permanently their obligation to bear their part in the military defence of the Country and of the ideals for which we are fighting. To do so would defeat the purpose of the Act, and cause grave injustice to men in the second class necessarily called out to fill their places.

Exemptions Granted on False Grounds

It is, therefore, proposed to scrutinize carefully all exemptions granted to date in order to separate those which have been granted on false or insufficient grounds from those that are well founded.

With this object in view the various Registrars under the Military Service Act have been instructed to issue a series of questionnaires to exempted men. These questionnaires must be filled up correctly and returned promptly under penalty of forfeiture of exemption for failure to do so.

Exempted Men Who Have Changed Address

It is therefore important in their own interest that all exempted men who have changed their address since their exemption was granted and who have not already notified the Registrar of such change should notify him at once. Under the Regulations it is the duty of exempted men to keep the Registrar advised of any change of address, and failure to receive the questionnaire by reason of neglect of this duty must be treated as equivalent to failure to return the questionnaire after receipt.

Citizens Urged to Assist

In many instances information has been furnished by members of the public which has led to the cancellation of exemptions obtained by false or misleading statements. Further co-operation of this character is invited. The Government regard it as the Duty of all loyal citizens, not only to the Country, but to the men at the front, to assist in this way in securing reinforcements on a just and legal basis. Correspondence of this character will be treated as strictly confidential and will receive the fullest investigation.

CHARLES J. DOHERTY,
Minister of Justice.

Correspondence should be directed to Robt. S. Lennie, K.C., Registrar under the Military Service Act, Vancouver, B.C.

CANADA'S PRIDE

CANADIANS have good reason to be proud of the position Canada holds in the world today. This pride is justified by the activities of her people, by her unlimited natural resources, by her splendid institutions, and particularly by her Industries.

Facts about the immensity of some Canadian industries would astonish most people.

These industries, when viewed in the light of comparison with other countries, are simply tremendous.

The growth of any industry is limited to the number of people it can serve, and that is a fact not often properly appreciated when Canadian industries are compared to similar enterprises in, say, the United States.

For example: the population of the United States exceeds 100,000,000. Opportunity for industries there is almost unlimited. In comparison, Canada with its seven million population is a small country—yet in spite of this comparatively small population, Canada possesses several industries which in actual size rank among the biggest in the world.

In shoemaking, one Canadian concern has developed a volume of business and a service to the Canadian people which is not equalled by another shoe manufacturer anywhere in the world. This concern, if located in the United States, would rank as one of the twelve largest out of some two thousand shoe manufacturers there.

While the sales of the largest shoe manufacturer in the United States—selling to the American people—do not exceed twenty-five cents per capita per year, the sales of Ames Holden McCready to the Canadian people last year were approximately eighty cents per capita.

In a comparative sense, therefore, this Canadian concern is greater than the foremost American shoe manufacturer in the United States.

Thus Ames Holden McCready truly merit the distinction of their title "Shoemakers to the Canadian Nation."

Just imagine for a moment the enormous work of supplying a large portion of Canada's 7,000,000 people with its boots and shoes:

—it requires—huge up-to-date factories equipped with the most modern machinery able to turn out 8,000 pairs of shoes a day.

—it requires—a variety of nearly 800 different styles to meet the requirements of all classes of people, for different grades, shapes and kinds of shoes.

—it requires—the maintenance of six large distributing branches in principal cities from coast to coast, and in these are carried over a million dollars worth of stock, ready for quick delivery to retailers.

—it requires—sixty travelling salesmen to call on the retail trade, because out of approximately 10,000 retail dealers who sell shoes in Canada, more than 5,000 handle A.H.M. Shoes.

—it requires—many other details of organization and equipment, but this brief outline will give you some slight idea of the part that this great shoe concern is playing in the business of supplying footwear to the Canadian people.

You will be interested in these facts, because the next time you buy footwear bearing the A.H.M. Brand, you will know that they are the product of a large and efficient organization making shoes which will in every case give you the greatest value for your money.

Y.M.C.A. AND THE NAVY

While much has been heard of the war work of the Young Men's Christian Association among the allied nations and their soldiers right from the period of enlistment, through the training period, on the fighting front and in many other soldier activities, comparatvely little has been heard of what the Canadian "Y" is doing for the sailors who are training for the war theatres. Shortly after the helpful influences of the Association secretaries had been noted among the soldiers in the European camps, by the army commanders, similar encouragement was given on the part of the naval officers and eventually the sign of the "Red Triangle," so familiar to the overseas and home forces, found its way into the Halifax dockyard.

The stern reality of sea warfare has created a revolution in the idea of naval values and a modern fleet is not what it was some years ago. Today it is realized that the battle is not always to the strong nor the race to the swift. The smaller boat, the transformed trawler, and the converted tug, have come into their own. Their work of sweeping the seas free from deadly mine and lurking submarine is no less important than the more spectacular mission of the mighty armadas with their shell and thunder.

In this modern and up to date sense Canada has a navy and if its coming into being has not called for imposing and sensational program its quiet development has accomplished a magnificent work in the training of the men. The mother ship of this patrol fleet and the training school for Canada's future navy is the famous "Niobe," which is credited with the capture of nearly 80 boats carrying contraband of war since the war started, and with the training of no less than 30,000 men for the Canadian and Imperial navies, and her services in this regard are only beginning.

The visitor to the dockyard at Halifax cannot fail to be impressed with the general air of bustle and activity. Near the coaling wharf is a trim, snug, building of the bungalow style bearing on its front elevation the sign of the Red Triangle. Here congenial surroundings might have been secured for the Y.M.C.A. hut, but none more convenient for the use of the man for whom it was built. Like a true home, the real environment of the "Y" hut are inside the building, not outside.

Those who may have had the experience of carrying coal for a period of ten hours at a stretch at the conclusion of which ablutions were conducted in a small bucket wherever it might be found, may appreciate to the full the luxury of a hot shower bath such as that to be found in the Y.M.C.A. building at Halifax. Night or day there is always a plentiful supply of piping hot water, a concrete bathroom where the boys can splash to their heart's content, a comfortable, commodious dressing room and an ample supply of towels and soap.

Adjoining the bathroom is the canteen, where hot drinks are served. Bathed, warmed and refreshed, the sailors can enjoy the attractions of the large central room, where piano, gramaphone, billiard table, games, reading matter and stationery are supplied without cost, for their use and entertainment.

The fact that the Y. M. C. A. is located inside the dockyard—the only Y.M.C.A. building in the Empire so situated—makes its service of inestimable value. The men do not always want to run up town; frequently they cannot get leave to do so. Here close at hand are fine ,large, beautifully furnished premises giving them free privileges that many of the most exclusive clubs afford. The place is doubly attractive to the men due to the fact that no irksome rules and regluations are imposed. The boys are free to forget such arduous duties as coaling, dirty weather, long watches and close, uncomfortable quarters.

As a class the naval men are highly educated and accomplished, every ship having its quota of talented musicians and entertainers. One man in particular who is employed on a mine sweeper is ex-organist of an English cathedral. Others are former "footlight" favorites who are in great demand at the various entertainments and concerts conducted under the auspices of the "Y" secretary. Many of the men who have joined the Canadian navy have done so as a means of doing their bit. They were unaccustomed to the discomforts of a seafaring life. To all of them the Hut is a great blessing, a buffer to counteract the hard knocks of their lot and a place where they can retain their boyhood, and strengthen and develop their manhood.

The disaster which laid waste a large section of the city of Halifax in December last, did not spare the Y.M.C.A. hut in the dockyard. After being opened for a fortnight, it was reduced in the explosion to a mass of quivering splinters. Writing to the Y. M. C. A. naval secretary a short time after the disaster Admiral Sir Charles E. Kingsmill, Director of Canadian Naval Board at Ottawa, said:

"It gives me great pleasure to be able to say that the services rendered by the Y.M.C.A. to the men of the Canadian Naval Service at Halifax have been inestimable and it was with regret that I learned that the Hut at Halifax had been demolished by the explosion in the harbor on December 6. I am sure that anyone who has knowledge of the conditions at that seaport will understand the great benefit the petty officers and men of our patrol fleet would derive from such a building."

AT THE ORPHEUM—FRIDAY & SATURDAY

THE DECISIVE STRUGGLE OF THE WAR

The prophecy, ascribed to Lord Kitchener, that the war would last three years has been falsified by events which could not have been imagined in 1914. The indications that the decisive struggle of the war would come in 1917 were completely reversed very early in that year. But there is every ground for the belief that the words of Mr. Lloyd George will, in real earnest, apply to the series of battles which commenced with the great German offensive south of Cambrai. Whether the struggle be long or short, it is difficult to imagine that either side can afford to leave it indecisive. From now on the utmost effort of the Democratic Alliance must be flung, ungrudgingly and unhesitatingly, into the balance in which hangs the future freedom of the world.

The British Prime Minister drew no rosy picture of impending victory. The measure which he foreshadowed evidenced no optimistic temper among those who directed the forces of democracy. On the contrary, the keynote of the review of the situation was that of grim determination in face of heavy responsibility and overshadowing danger. The British people were invited to heroic sacrifices for the reinforcement of their armies. The workers especially were asked to face conditions hitherto contemplated only with hesitancy and dislike. The necessity which alone could demand them was described as extreme.

The review of the military situation which accompanied these proposals sufficed, in tiself, to justify them. Something clearly occurred in the earliest stages of the offensive which precipitated an unexpected retreat. Mr. Lloyd George refrained from censure until the facts could be ascertained. But the fifth army evidently fell back where it should have stood its ground, and thus allowed the German drive to gain the impetus without which little could have been accomplished.

Much has to be reckoned on the credit side of the account, in spite of the convincing proofs of shortage of men, in comparison with the present strength of the enemy, which the Prime Minister gave. The losses of material are not irretrievable; are, in fact, practically covered by reserve stocks. The momentary shock of surprise has been succeeded by a powerful access of national energy and dogged persistence which, in combination with similar effects in the United States, will more than compensate for the temporary retirement in the field. And particularly encouraging are the fine achievements in Palestine and Mesopotamia, which have removed a threatened danger to British prestige in Asia.

The commencement of the decisive struggle of the war finds, therefore, the Allies in the cause of world freedom steeled to yet greater sacrifices, nerved to yet finer deeds of military and industrial preparation, set in yet firmer resolve to emerge victorious over autocracy in its worst embodiment. The final test has indeed to be endured. Those few small sections of the peoples who owe their present rights and privileges to the democratic idea will surely recognize in time the fate which threatens those who fail in the darkest hour of trial, and will rally to the ranks which interpose their "will to be free" to the brutal "will to conquer" of the barbaric Hun.

Save the food, and then save; it must win the war.

YES! LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN!

Cincinnati authority tells how to dry up a corn or callus so it lifts off with fingers.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of freezone cost very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.

MARCH and APRIL DELINEATORS FOR DISTRIBUTION

EXEMPTIONS TO BE CANCELLED

Ottawa, April 16.—Owing to the critical situation which has with some suddenness developed on the western front and which is likely to continue until the allied nations have materially increased the strength of their forces, the government of Canada, after the most careful consideration of all the circumstances and possible consequences, has reached the decision that it is not only desirable, but absolutely essential that substantial reinforcements be secured for the Canadian expeditionary forces without delay.

In view of the emergency that has arisen it is now recognized that the additional men so urgently needed can not be secured within the time required through the ordinary operation of the Military Service act or of any system of individual selection, the government has therefore decided that the only way in which reinforcements can be secured in time and in sufficient numbers is by taking authority to order out for service all men of certain defined ages who are physically fit and to abolish all exemptions in the case of all men so ordered out.

It is the intention to call out in the first instance unmarried men and widowers without children between the ages of 20 and 23 both inclusive. It is believed that these young men can be spared with the least disturbance to agriculture and other essential industries. The calling out of men of other ages under the proposed order in council must necessarily depend upon the exigencies of the war and the need for reinforcements.

In the meantime the Military Service act will continue in operation as to all other men in Class 1 and as regards other classes under the act. The men of 19 will be required to register without delay. Every effort shall be made to speed up the work of the tribunals and appeal courts in dealing with the balance of exemption claims outside, of course, of the men called out under the new order.

In order that the government may have full power to deal with the situation as it may develop from time to time, parliament is asked to approve of the governor in council being given the necessary authority to call out the men of any age in any class under the Military Service act and to abolish all exemptions in the case of any class so called.

The order in council not only makes all young men now 19 years of age subject to the provisions of the Military Service act, but also all other young men as and when they attain the age of 19.

The act removes the exemption now enjoyed by officers and men who have served in the expeditionary force but who did not proceed farther than Great Britain and have since returned to Canada and have been discharged. They will be required to serve if physically fit when their class is called.

Certain treaties are now under negotiations with foreign governments, under which citizens of such governments resident in Canada may be made liable to military service. Where any such treaty is concluded, the order in council gives the government the power to call out the citizens of such country for service as members of the Canadian expeditionary force in the same manner as British subjects.

The number of men the government is authorized to raise under the Military Service act remains at 100,000. Whether or not parliament will be asked to increase this number before the house prorogues depends entirely upon developments at the front and the prospective need for reinforcements. The minister of militia is given authority to grant exemptions in the class called to young men who have relatives at the front. This is absolutely the only recognized ground for exemption, it being considered that in view of the exegencies of the military situation there are no men in Canada between the ages of 20 and 23 who are indispensible.

UNION SERVICES

Those who have been attending the Union Services at Hawthorne's Hall have found that the reports of Mr. Robinson's work as an evangelist have not been exaggerated. His earnest, thoughtful addresses have been a help to everyone, and all have been blessed through the singing of Mr. Nichols and Miss Niven.

The pictures used in the talk on the life of Jesus on Wednesday night were especially fine, both in clearness and quality. They were all reproductions of great masterpieces and were very inspiring.

On Thursday afternoon the hall was filled to the doors with children, who were not only entertained by the fine singing and Mr. Robinson's story of "Tommy and the Mouse," but were given helpful instruction as well.

Under the direction of Rev. Mr. Craig a meeting for prayer and Bible study is held at the Methodist church every afternoon at 3 o'clock. Many are finding this meeting a source of new light and inspiration.

On Sunday afternoon there will be a Sunday School mass meeting at the hall. The Sunday Schools will gather at their respective churches for roll call and then go to the hall to hear Mr. Robinson speak.

The Union Services will be continued until May 5th and all are invited to attend. There is a message for each and every one, no matter what their particular belief may be.

WATER NOTICE

Take Notice that the Jewell Lumber Co., Ltd., whose address is Cathiness, B.C., will apply for a license to use 100 acre-feet of water out of Rock Creek, which flows southerly and drains into the Kootenay River about three miles below the mouth of Sand Creek. The storage dam will be located about 400 yards above the railway crossing. The capacity of the reservoir to be created will be about 100 acre-feet. The water will be used for mill pond purposes upon the land described as E. K. L. Co. Block (J) Lot 4590 Kootenay district. This notice was posted on the ground on the 15th day of April, 1918. A copy of this notice and an application pursuant thereto and to the "Water Act 1914" will be filed in the office of Water Recorder at Fernie. Objections to the application may be filed with the said Water Recorder or with the Comptroller of Water Rights, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C., within thirty days after the frst appearance of this notice in a local newspaper. The date of the first publication of this notice is April 19th, 1918.

GIRLS! WHITEN YOUR SKIN WITH LEMON JUICE

Make a beauty lotion for a few cents to remove tan, freckles, sallowness.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply you with three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Squeeze the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle, then put in the orchard white and shake well. This makes a quarter pint of the very best lemon skin whitener and complexion beautifier known. Massage this fragrant, creamy lotion daily into the face, neck, arms and hands and just see how freckles, tan, sallowness, redness and roughness disappear and how smooth, soft and clear the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless, and the beautiful results will surprise you.

CITY COUNCIL IN SHORT SESSION

A very brief and businesslike meeting of the city council was held last evening. After approving the minutes of the previous session the first matter for consideration was a claim for damages as the result of an accident owing to alleged unsafe condition allowed to prevail on one of the city streets. The claim was made for damages to wearing apparel and not on account of any injury sustained. The council by regular motion announced they were in no way responsible and no compensation would be paid.

On application by the Elk Lumber Co. it was regularly passed that the company be permitted to connect with the city's water pipe line leading to the park and use water therefrom for domestic purposes only but the city at all times reserves the right to cut off said supply whenever it deems it necessary. The Elk must also instal a check valve to guard against water entering the city main. A rental fee of $15 per month for the service will be charged.

The resignation of Jos. Longdon as city electrician, who very recently succeeded James Finn, but who this week has been ordered to report for military service, was accepted. Wilson Quail was then appointed city electrician at a salary of $125 per month, commencing May 1. M. Mulligan received the permanent appointment as fireman at the city power house at the present scale of $4.16 per day.

Authority was given the city clerk to transfer Lot 5, Block 63, Fernie Annex, to Mario Oliva. The consideration in lieu of transfer of ownership from the city was $160. Upon request the council granted free light for a room in the Napanee hotel, which is to be used by the I.O.D.E.

After finally passing by-law No. 182, which authorizes payment of salaries to the aldermen for the current term the same as heretofore, the meeting adjourned.

Soldiers Letters:—

To the Members of Mt. Fernie Chapter I.O.D.E.:

Dear Ladies—I take the pleasure of writing you all to thank you for the Xmas parcel. When I received it on Xmas eve, I thought it was from the Odd Fellows lodge and wrote a letter of thanks to the I.O.O.F. I am now informed by my mother that I made a mistake for which I am sorry and hope you will forgive me. I was very pleased with all those good things. I received some papers and saw by them letters from some of the other boys who had got parcels from you. We had a very nice Christmas. I will close wishing you all and the lodge every success.

Pte. D. Gash.
March 4th.

Sec. Mt. Fernie Chapter I.O.D.E.:

A few lines just to show my appreciation of the socks, etc., which I received safely a short time ago. I may say that the socks are a never ending necessity out here and mostly all of the Fernie boys I have met in the line have received parcels from Mount Fernie Chapter. I am quite proud of the Chapter, as are the other boys and I want to thank all those who have a hand in the good work. Believe me, it is a credit to old Fernie.

Wishing the members every success,
Yours, Pte. J. J. Riley.
Feb. 25th.

Dear Mrs. Moffatt—I now write to let you know we received another 18 pair of socks from the I.O.D.E. and I wish to thank all the workers of the I.O.D.E. for sending us such useful presents. I gave them all out to the Fernie and Michel men and they asked me to write and thank you all for your goodness in forwarding them on. With best regards. L. Corp. C. Clarke.

Also acknowledgements and thanks from Major W. H. K. Anderson for bundles of socks, candles and local newspapers, which he says arrive regularly and are greatly appreciated, adding, "I wonder if you realize how dear to us is even the smallest bit of news from home—even the advertisements."

The Change and the Rest

Archbishop Magee of New York after staying at a hotel, had an extortionate bill presented to him by his host, who, after receiving payment, solicitously inquired if his lordship had enjoyed the change and rest. "No, I have had neither," replied the archbishop; "the waiter had the change, and you've had the rest."

PATRIOTIC CONTRIBUTIONS

At a recent meeting of the executive of the Amalgamated Patriotic Fund a decision was reached that the method of reorganization be adopted with the main aim in view to revising the old list ofsubscribers. This work has been turned over to Pte. F. Clarkson, and Pte. Bramshaw, both of whom have recently returned to this city after having spent long periods at the front.

These boys have energetically taken up their dutyies and are making a complete canvass. They have so far met with very satisfactory success but there are many whose names have not been placed upon the new Patriotic Fund Roll. Ptes. Clarkson and Bramshaw, however, will continue and if they have not paid you a visit be good enough to leave yourself open to receive a visit from them and help this cause along.

The revised list to date is as follows:

We, the undersigned, hereby agree to subscribe and pay to the Canadian Patriotic Fund the monthly sums set opposite our respective names. We also agree to pay such sums to the Secretary or to one of the Chartered Banks each month:

POULTRY SHOW

On Saturday evening, April 27, in Ingram's Hall, at 7 p.m., the Fernie Poultry and Pet Stock Association will conduct their second monthly poultry exhibit, to which everyone is welcome. This time the class will be females of the Heavy Classes. There will aslo be an egg contest. A. Hancock will be the judge.

Following is a list of the prizes, competition for which is open to anyone on paying an entry fee of 10 cents per bird. The eggs will be the entry fee in that competition and will become the property of the Association.

For birds—

1st prize, $3.00 cash.

2nd prize, 20 lb. sack sugar.

3rd prize, sitting White Wyandotte eggs.

4th prize, $1.00 cash.

For Eggs—

White—1st, sitting valuable White Wyandotte; 2nd, $1 cash.

Brown—1st, sitting valuable Black Orpington; 2nd, 1 year's subscription to "Reliable Poultry Journal."

An invitation is extended to everyone, especially the ladies, to visit the show on Saturday evening. The poultrymen will enjoy the pleasure of showing you around.

The general meeting of the Fernie Poultry and Pet Stock Association will be held in Ingram's hall on Tuesday evening, April 30.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT MICHEL

William Dunn, fire boss in New No. 8 Mine at Michel, was the victim of an accident about noon on Wednesday, and from the injuries sustained he died a few hours later in the Michel hospital. Coroner A. C. Murray held an inquest on Thursday evening and from the evidence adduced it appears that a gang of five men were engaged on putting up a bridge stick and Fireboss Dunn while making his round of inspection happened on the scene while the operation was in progress. One end of the bridge stick had been placed in position on one of the posts or legs of the set and two of the men were detailed to stand in an empty car and hold that end in position while the other three workers hoisted the remaining end to its position on the other leg. While being raised, in some manner the timber slipped off the first support and fell, but not suddenly enough, however, to prevent those actually engaged in the work from gaining points of safety. Fireboss Dunn on the opposite side was not so fortunate because the timber on the first rebound from the empty car on which it first feel, struck him on the chest and knocked him over and then swinging downward pinned his head down. He was immediately released and although he never lost consciousness he complained of great pain, and that respiration was difficult. This was later explained by Dr. Morris, who stated both lungs had been ruptured from fractured ribs and clavicle, and that the diaphragm was paralyzed.

The Coroner's Jury which sat on the case was comprised of Miles Estabrook, foreman, Albert Allen, Robert Hall, Parkinson, J. Parkins and Henry Gibson.

The Verdict—We, the jury empannelled to inquire into the death of Wm. Dunn, find that on the 24th day of April, 1918, in New No. 8 Mine at Michel, B.C., the said William Dunn met his death through a falling timber accidentally striking him and we attach no blame to anyone.

GIGANTIC LOCOMOTIVE

The greatest steam locomotive in the world has been put into service by the Baldwin Locomotive Works. It is so gigantic that its boilers had to be made flexible at three different joints so that the locomotive could turn around a curve. It is more than 100 feet long and weighs some 450 tons. Twenty-four driving wheels, each standing as high as an average sized man, afford its traction. The driving wheels are distributed along the length of the locomotive in sets of four pairs, the wheels of each set being coupled together and driven by two giant steam cylinders. Under full steam the locomotive can exert a 83-ton pull on the cars behind it, which means that it can easily haul a freight train two miles long and 23,000 tons in weight over an ordinarily good roadbed at an average of fourteen miles an hour, and possibly more. Bad roads will retard it only slightly.

THE LATEST WAR NEWS

London, April 26.—Twelve men belonging to the Australian Navy represented that body in the recent naval raid on the German submarine base at Zeebrugge. All twelve returned uninjured.

Paris, April 26.—There is a violent artillery bombardment in progress south of the river Somme. The French took several prisoners in raiding operations on several other sectors of the French front last night.

London, April 26. — The Germans gained a footing on Mount Kemmell as a result of heavy massed attacks on the northern battle front this morning. Heavy fighting is still in progress in this region. All day yesterday the Germans were attacking Allied troops along the entire front from Bailleul to Hollebeke, a distance of nearly ten miles, and finally pressed back the line slightly.

The British have cleared up all the German posts which remained around the town of Villers-Bretonneux and are now firmly holding this part of the front.

Washington, April 26.—The Dutch government have placed an embargo on exports from the Dutch West Indies of tin, tin ores, chicona bark, quinine salts and kapok, all of which are being used by the United States in large quantities for war purposes.

Unconfirmed reports state that the Germans have forced a wedge through the French lines south of Mont Kemmell and have surrounded a large number of French troops who are still fighting strongly for over eight hours, preferring death to surrender. Reinforcements are being rushed up to fill the gaps.

SHORT OF COAL? NO, SAYS CROWE

S. J. Crowe, M.P. for Burrard, made his maiden speech in the House of Commons on April 15, speaking to a motion by Joseph E. Armstrong, of East Lambton, advocating development and utilization of the fuel resources of Canada. His remarks were as follows:

Mr. Speaker, I do not intend to take very many minutes of the time of this House, but having listened to the hon. members from Nova Scotia, Saskatchewan and Alberta telling us what vast bodies of coal they have ni those different provinces, I feel that I should tell the House that in British Columbia we have vast coal beds. Our climate is such that we do not require to burn so much coal as they do in Ontario, Quebec and some of the western provinces. If the people of these provinces have not sufficient coal next winter, I would invite them to come to the Pacific coast because we will have sufficient heat to keep them quite warm. We have vast coal areas on Vancouver Island and besides supplying the lower mainland of British Columbia with coal, we ship as far south as San Francisco from 1,500,000 tons to 2,000,000 tons per year. You see, therefore, that we are not short of coal. The only thing we complain about is that the fuel controller does not keep down the price of coal to what it should be. In the city of Vancouver we pay $9 a ton for coal. We have coal beds in the Nicola Valley but we cannot ship our coal out from there because it costs too much to transport it to the larger centres of the province. We have coal in the Crow's Nest Pass from which they ship east. We have anthracite in northern British Columbia, in the Skeena river region. An American engineer has reported that there is almost ten times as much anthracite coal in the Skeena district as there is in the whole province of Nova Scotia. I only wanted to inform the House that British Columbia is on the map when it comes to the question of coal.

UNION SERVICES

The interest shown in the meetings at Hawthorne's Hall is increasing daily. New faces appear from night to night. Last Monday evening Rev. F. A. Robinson presented with the stereopticon the charming story of "Probable Sons." His impersonation of the characters was remarkable and served to impress deeply the truths taught by the story. It is the old and yet ever new story of the prodigal, who, bathed in sin and shame, decides to return home: "I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven and before thee, and am no more worthy to be called thy son." God the Father is waiting for every such son and daughter.

Mr. Robinson has a fine collection of beautiful colored slides which he is using from time to time.

Many have also found the trios sung by Mr. Robinson, Miss Niven and Mr. Nichol, and the solos by Miss Niven and Mr. Nichol, very helpful. Especially have they enjoyed Mr. Nichol's singing of the illustrated hymn, entitled "Alone."

But the benefit from the meetings has been the spiritual uplift. When the appeal was given Wednesday evening, a goodly number signifed the desire to live a Christian life.

The afternoon meetings at the Methodist church led by Rev. D. J. Craig are increasing in attendance and interest and are a very real help to all who come.

The meetings will be continued through the coming week.

WANTS TO STOP AIR RAIDS

Germany's latest suggestion is that a general agreement be made to stop air raids on places outside the zone of military operations. This proposal comes, appropriately enough, from Karlsruhe, which has been one of the chief sufferers from Allied air operations.

Of course, the Allies will pay no attention to any such suggestion. It is interesting merely as an evidence that the balance of advantage in the air is inclining permanently to our side.

In this, as in everything else, the rock bottom difficulty is that no promise from Germany is any good. If such an agreement were made, she would keep it as long as she pleases and no longer.

Her broken faith has had the terrible result of convincing the world that the only possible way of peace with her is to put her where she must do as she is told. Mankind can never feel easy again until this is done.

LOUIS NEUNTHAL IS UNDER ARREST

Butte, Mont., April 20.—Louis Neunthal, native-born German, was arrested in a raid today on his home, in which a large quantity of dynamite, six boxes of caps and more than 1000 feet of fuses were discovered. Chief of Police Murphy has placed a close guard over the prisoner and he is being held for the federal authorities.

Following a cross-examination of the prisoner by federal and city authorities he admitted that he had been arrested about five years ago in South Wellington, B.C., where he was president of the local Mine Workers Union in connection with serious labor troubles.

He also admitted that the police report that he had worked in Colorado coalfields during labor troubles was correct, stating that he was employed at Lafayette, Colo., but denied that he had been arrested there.

The arrest was made on direct orders from J. W. Farrell, U.S. inspector of explosives for Montana. After preliminary arraignment and failure to provide bond he was ordered held for the government.

Vancouver, April 20.—Louis Neunthal, arrested in Butte on a charge of having a store of dynamite in his possession is Louie Neunthal, who led the rioting strikers at South Wellington during the disturbances in that camp in 1913. He was later convicted and sentenced to a term in prison at the Assizes at New Westminster.

"Big Louie," a man of powerful physique, was one of the chief agitators at the South Wellington camp, and was a prominent figure in the United Mine Workers of America organization, it having been said that he was one of the men brought from the United States to engineer the strike in the Vancouver Island camps. In August, 1913, when the miners commenced rioting, Neunthal was extremely active, being at that time president of the local organization, and it was he who led the attack on Sgt. Kemp, who was acting as guard at the pithead, badly mauling the unfortunate soldier. He was among the first arrested by the provincial police after militia battalions had been called into the coal regions of Vancouver Island to restore order, and with others was sentenced to jail, being liberated when the government finally allowed all the imprisoned miners to go free after having served periods of the respective sentences.

Neunthal was not looked upon as a German by his associates in the coal pits, but was always thought to be a Croatin. He was recognized as a dangerous agitator and firebrand, and since he and several others of the more inflammatory leaders of the miners union left the country no labor disputes have taken place in the coal camps.

A COLD PROPOSITION

(Winnipeg Free Press)

Worthy of admiration in a way is the "nerve" of the Alberta coal operators in hastening to advise the authorities at Ottawa that there is no need to worry about the fuel supply of Canada, west of the Great Lakes, since they will guarantee a full supply from their mines. They are not lacking in confidence or ambition; but it would be literally a cold day for the people of this city if the Fuel Controller were to listen to their siren song.

Alberta is the place where the alien enemies who condescend to operate our coal mines strike every other week for higher pay. The government has a special representative out there, who is kept galloping around from coalfield to coalfield, adjusting difficulties which spring up over night, and boosting wages. Last year, all the miners in the district were out for weeks in defiance of the orders of the officials of the international organization to which they belong; and during the month of March this year most of the coal mines in the Drumheller area were out of business because of labor troubles.

According to very reliable reports, 60 per cent of the miners in this district are registered alien enemies. They have got their wages up to the point where they can earn $15 a day. Not having any use for so much money, most of them only work part of the time, thus restricting output in an essential of life.

The proposal to put a city of 200,000 people at the mercy of such a combination is amazing. The first thing that would happen, if anthracite coal were barred from Western Canada, would be another wholesale strike, which would be ended by the obliging representative of the government putting the wages of the miners up to perhaps $25 a day, on the plea that, since coal must be had, the demands of the alien enemies must be conceded. Judged by heat values, the coal for Winnipeg houses would cost probably twice what it does under existing conditions — constituting a killing burden upon the poorer element of the populaton.

DEMOCRATIC PROGRESS IN CANADA

We are making progress in Canada along certain democratic lines to an extent not yet fully understood by the public. This action of the government brings the C.P.R. into partnership with the nation to a certain extent. There is no longer any dispute—there is no longer any doubt in the mind of the government of its right to control railway rates, and more than that, to expropriate the profits which a rate increase yields to one company, although other companies may not have similar profits to show. In this case the principle is asserted that although it is a company that operates transportation it is the country that giveth increase, and it is the country that is going to gather it in.

Not only in this case but in others the upheaval caused by the war has forced the nation to adopt rational and progressive measures. The financial experts of the government are going behind the screen of private ownership and making audits, as governments were too timid to do until now. The tax on excess profits is an instance of it. A man's business is not utterly his own; it is his country's also for his country makes it possible and defends it and him.

In time of war truths of this kind are easier seen than at other times, and so we have an excess profit tax just now, which necessitates a scrutiny into the affairs of individuals and companies, so that taxation may be levied where the ability to pay exists.

The governing of Canada is developing into a business very rapidly these days, with something like a grasp of the scientific principles that should shape the system. — Toronto Star.

STIFFENING OF LINES PROVES FOCH RIGHT

Further stiffening of the British front justifies General Foch's reluctance to use up a large part of his reserves in defensive fighting to protect Ypres and Hazebrouck.

If Von Hindenburg's bloody effort to reach the Channel ports can be permanently checked without disturbing the allies' reserves, the Germans will have met one of the most serious defeats of the war. It will mean that Hindenburg has failed to compel Foch to accept the German conditions for an allied offensive. This unquestionably is the reason why Foch is showing such persistent refusal to employ his reserves along the northern end of the battle front.

It is unreasonable to expect Foch to develop at this time so overwhelming a counter-offensive as would force the Germans back to the positions they occupied before the present drive began. When the Germans started their advance four weeks ago, they were fresh and had spent all winter preparing their plans and accumulating vast stores of munitions. The allies are now weakened because of their defensive fighting and have shot away a large part of their reserve ammunition.

For Foch to use his reserves now for offensive purposes would be to attempt to drive the Germans back while the allies have probably not more than 50 per cent of their maximum offensive efficiency. To take the offensive about Ypres and Hazebrouck would mean for Foch as heavy a price in casualties for meager gains as Hindenburg is now paying. This would suit Hindenburg admirably. He could then turn to the German people and declare that the allies' reserves had been enticed into battle at the farthest point away from German territory and at a time when the allies' efficiency was far from its potential maximum.

HYPOCRISY AND TREACHERY

Austrian hypocrisy, says Mr. Balfour, is worse than German treachery. The fact is, of course, that the hypocrisy and the treachery are both regarded by the Central Powers as legitimate weapons of war.

When the Emperor Charles suggested that France should have Alsace and that an ocean port might be given to Serbia, did he intend to deceive the French or to betray the Kaiser? Probably his idea was to ultimately do whichever was to his own advantage.

Attempts at underhand negotiation are being made constantly. As President Wilson says, suggestions reach him frequently from all sorts of sources, but always in such form that they can be denied if the denial happens to be convenient for Germany.

The democracies will have nothing to do with secret treaties, a fact which by this time may have penetrated the mentality even of Lord Lansdowne. When the time comes, the terms of peace are going to be discussed in the open where neither hypocrisy nor treachery will have much chance.

The only way to deal with the enemy was exactly exemplified by General Smuts. "Do you want a separate peace? Yes or no?" was his blunt question to the Austrian envoy, who subsequently accused him of bad manners. If this story isn't true, it ought to be. The Smuts method of diplomacy is the only right one.—Vancouver Sun.

CAME BACK ON WHEELBARROW

Professor Whipple, recently in Russia, tells the following good story: "The manager of a large industrial plant was suddenly surrounded in his office by a crowd of the employees, whon informed him that, since the people were now the rulers, he was no longer wanted; they were going to run the plant. He informed them that he was there to do the managing and that he was going to do it. Upon this, two stalwars hustled him to the door, deposited him in a wheelbarrow, and, with boastful ado, conveyed him to his home. A few weeks later the same crowd obtruded itself into his home and announced that an automobile was waiting to take him to the plant. It was explained that the people were making a miserable failure at the shop and that he must return. He refused on the spot, but finally agreed to go on condition that his former status should be completely restored. The men spontaneously consented, and started to escort him to the waiting car. "No, sir!" said the manager; "you take away the automobile and bring here that wheelbarrow, and the same two men who trundled it before!" And thus did he return to his former dignity.

GIRLS! LEMON JUICE IS A SKIN WHITENER

How to make a creamy beauty lotion for a few cents.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhœa, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

SOME THINGS GENERAL FOCH HAS DONE

From the beginning of August, 1914 General Foch, with his 20th Army Corps—the finest in the French army—formed part of the army commanded by General Castelnau. This army took the offensive. It crossed the Lirraine frontier and entered enemy territory. Its impetuous advance swept away all resistance until the 20th of August, when at Morhange, the 20th Corps was confronted by formidable forces already interenched on the ground prepared beforehand. So great was the impetuosity of the troops of Foch that ,in spite of everything they would probably have overcome the difficulties of terrain and the strength of the foe, but, on the right, another French army corps, less well trained and experienced, weakened under the impact. The line of battle yielded. Retreat was necessary and it was to the soldiers of General Foch that the duty fell to cover this retreat. They did this with incomparable energy, equal to that which they had put into attacking. The fact that, two weeks later, Nancy was saved and the Grand Couronne stopped the Germans, was largely due to General Foch and to his covering of the retreat.

General Foch himself was not present at the defence which he had prepared and made possible. Summoned to command a group of armies he was sent to Champagne, to the Marne, and there he accomplished the first of the two great exploits which will forever shed glory upon his name.

Placed in the very centre of the immense battle line of the Marne, it was he who bore the brunt of the struggle; against him, between Chalons and Fere-Champenoise, the divisions of the Prussian Guard were hurled. So terrific was the pressure that Foch's right and left weakened. He then sent to the General Staff Headquarters, to General Joffre, this dispatch, destined to eternal renown: "My right has been driven in, my left has been driven in—consequently with all that I have left in my centre, I now will attack!"

He suited the action to the word. He drew together all his exhausted divisions, all his reserves, and, at the very moment when the enemy thought him routed, he smashed against the Prussian Guard at Fere-Champenoise and Saint-Gond, in a violent, desperate effirt. He broke into its lines and crushed it. The assailants, in their turn, obliged to give way and retreat. The retreat became almost a rout. That battle of the Marne, conceived and commenced by Joffre, was won, because he had in that battle a genius to execute his plans, whose name was Foch.

The second exploit of Foch, perhaps, less sensational and well known, was no less marvellous—his exploit at the battle of Flanders.

There it was not a case of attacking but of demanding; the main thing was not to allow himself to be outdistanced by the enemy. The Germans, beaten along the whole Marne front, were trying to force a way through Flanders and Pihardy—that is, through Western France—by flanking the entire French army. The French General staff, who foresaw and guessed this move, extended its own battle front toward the west in order to bar the way to the enemy. It was what is known as "the race to the sea"—each was trying to move more quickly than the other and arrive at the shore of the English Channel, which would make an envelopment and encircling of the Allies impossible.

In this race to the sea the Germans had at their disposal forces superior to the British and French and, what was still more important, they had material means lacking to the French railway material, auto-machine guns, motor trucks, motor tractors, etc. But the French, who had none of these, had Foch. And Foch handled the little defensive means at his disposal with amazing skill and versatility. He moved and placed them with a certainty and dexterity that were simply incomparable. Always at the crucial moment, at the critical point, he set them up against the enemy—he plugged holes, patched rips. In short, during the race to the sea, he arrived first; and when, at the end of October and beginning of November, the Germans, finding all doors closed, hurled a formidable and supreme attack against Yser and Ypres, they again found before them Foch, who, having assembled forces at the strategic point, met them with a desperate resistance and defeated the Prussian battalions attacking in masses.

VIOLET MERSEREAU AT ORPHEUM, MONDAY

Picture a young lady, attractive in face and figure, becoming attired in a riding habit, sitting by the side of a lonely forest road, nursing an injured ankle. The horse which threw her has run away, evening is drawing near, angry storm clouds are gathering and the nearest settlements is eight miles away. This is the predicament in which Judith Ralston found herself one afternoon and the outlook was dreary enough until Boone Pendleton, motoring along the road just ahead of the inevitable storm, ran out of gasoline very close to the spot where Judith was sitting, discovered the girl and proposed the only solution—he would carry her to his hunting lodge near by and there they would await the passing of the storm, which might last an hour and might last three days, as it did. Here indeed is a situation. And this situation is the foundation of Varick Vanardy's delightfully romantic story "The Girl by the Roadside," which Bluebird photoplays will present on the screen of the Orpheum on Monday, April 29. Violet Mersereau is starred in the role of Judith Ralston.

THE OFFICERS WHO CANNOT "REVERT"

For the officer who will not revert to a lower rank and prefers to return to Canada rather than go to the front there is a hearty contempt in this Dominion. But in its disapprobation of the "carpet soldier" the public should not go to the other extreme and denounce every officer who comes back to Canada without having been to the front.

General Mewburn in the House of Commons the other day threw much-needed light on this matter. "The whole trouble experienced in connection with returned surplus officers," he declared, "is simply the by-product of voluntary recruiting."

It appears that under the system of recruiting by district and county areas so long in vogue in the Dominion 250 battalions were authorized and raised in Canada, each having from 36 to 40 officers. Many of these officers had given up lucrative businesses and spent their money to raise battalions, only to find when they got to England their unit was broken up in order that it might be sent in detail to reinforce the four divisions maintained in France.

These officers had no course open to them but to revert to lower rank. Hundreds of them agreed to do so. But anyone over 35 years of age was not allowed to revert and so he was given the alternative of returning home or taking a position in the pay or records or other department of the army in England.

When, however, the wounded officers unfit for further field service became employable they naturally replaced in non-combatant appointments the men who through no fault of their own had seen no war service. The latter had, therefore, no course open to them but to return to Canada. It would be well to keep these facts in mind when the easy business of censuring the man who may have tried to fight and was not allowed, is proceeding.

"It is my view," says General Mewburn, "that the Dominion owes a debt of gratitude to officers who came forward in an emergency and sacrificed themselves to raise battalions; who did so in good faith, in expectation of going to the front and who were not 'fakers,' 'funkers,' or 'slackers.' When they come back to Canada they ought to receive the consideration the country owes them."—Vancouver World.

OH, SUCH A HEADACHE!

Every now and again don't you get one of those fearful headaches that drive you to do anything to get relief? Remember, though, its a mistake to just "smother" the pain without removing the cause. Nearly all headaches have their beginning in the stomach, liver or bowels, and the best remedy is Chamberlain's Tablets, which tone the liver, sweetens the stomach and cleanse the bowels. This not only cures the headache but prevents its return.

Basic Facts About Belting

AND PARTICULARLY

Dunlop "Gibraltar RedSpecial" Frictioned-Surface Transmission Belting

A Worthy Product

Years of careful study of the high-power belt problem have enabled Dunlop Laboratory experts to create "Gibraltar RedSpecial" Belting, the original Red Face Rubber Belting of Canada—a product worthy of the Dunlop Factories and of the quarter-century record of success back of them.

"Gibraltar RedSpecial" Virtues Are Real

Dunlop "Gibraltar RedSpecial" Belting is to-day widely used in a multitude of ways in the many varied industries in this country. It owes its success, not to any illogical deductions or fantastic analyses, but to the simplest causes—causes so simple that they are now, always have been, and always will be, in our opinion, the bedrock of success in belt-making—Power, Speed, Service—in actual use as well as in the test-room.

Permanent Elasticity Means "Life" in Belting

In producing this new, this original, this master, red belt, our object has been to have the friction coat of rubber between the plies such as will retain its life indefinitely, and to have a quality of rubber with long "fingers," and not a quality of rubber the elasticity of which has been sacrificed to obtain the so-called high-pulling test.

That "Friction Pull"

When you are informed that such-and-such a belt has a "friction-pull" of abnormal poundage, do not imagine that you are getting a quality friction. What you have to secure in a belt is a friction full of elasticity. There must be between the plies of duck only a certain class of rubber to give uniform strength and pliability.

Resilient Quality Must Not Be Sacrificed To Excess of Friction Strength

To obtain high figures, such as referred to above, in belt frictions you have to take away from the elasticity of the friction; hence, there is a happy medium, and this medium we have obtained through our laboratory experts. It ensures for you a belt, the friction of which will hold the plies together and will be sufficiently elastic in its properties to allow for the give and take necessary in rounding the pulleys.

Duck Finest Obtainable, Made to Highest Specifications

A highly important feature of "Gibraltar RedSpecial" is the duck which enters into its construction. Only the finest quality of specially-selected duck, having the proper tensile strength in the right direction, is used. And this, in combination with a superior rubber friction between the plies, ensures absolute uniformity of service.

Fills The Bill

"Gibraltar RedSpecial" Belting is to be found in practically every industry in Canada, and if it is Power, Speed and Service that you want, then it is "Gibraltar RedSpecial" Frictioned-Surface Belting that you require for your work.

Universal Recognition of "Gibraltar RedSpecial"

To cite the names of users of this famous, red frictioned-surface belt would necessitate the use of much space. We have on file recommendations from almost every type of industry requiring "Gibraltar RedSpecial" Belting in widths varying from 1½" to 48." These testimonials are available for your perusal at any time.

The Original "Red"

"Gibraltar RedSpecial," as noted previously, is the Original Red Rubber Belt—and like most things that are original, its success is of the kind that endures.

TO DEAL WITH DISLOYAL UTTERANCES

Wide powers are taken by the government in the Order-in-Council just published, to punish expressions of opinion, whether in print or orally, that may reflect upon the motives of the Allies in the war or unsettle or inflame public opinion.

One provision of this Order-inCouncil makes it an offence to "print, publish or publicly express any statement, report or opinion which may tend to weaken, or in any way detract from the united efforts of the people in the prosecution of the war."

It will be seen that Canada is no longer a land of free speech, that no longer can a man speak the thing he will. But—and here is the all-important thing—in war-time the general safety is paramount. The government is responsible for the security of this land of ours, and it can take no chances with traitors or spies.

Everything will depend on the manner in which these powers are exercised. If they are used to hide inefficiency in government administration or to muzzle the press when it endeavors to express what it believes the people ought to know, they will prove an evil. But if they are used—as we have no doubt they will be used—to cope with the hidden hand of pro-Germanism throughout Canada, there will be no objection.

The United States is preparing to go even further in the suppression of covert disloyalty within its borders.

One of the first applications of the new regulations ought to be to the Bourassa and Lavergne class in Quebec. They have been "inflaming public opinion" for months past; they have been attacking not only the Allies, but the Motherland herself and have done all in their power to create unrest and distrust.

The Hun's knife is not far from our throats at this moment. At such a time self-preservation is our predominant consideration. Better a narrowing of our liberties for a little while than to lose them altogether by over-indulgence to those who are playing into the Hun's hands.—Vancouver World.

ADVOCATES USE OF HORSE FLESH

George Hoadley, M.L.A. for Okotoks, Alberta, and leader of the Opposition in the Alberta legislature, recently took up with the Dominion Food Board the question of slaughtering the scrub horses of the western provinces and utilizing the meat as a food supply. He assured the Food Board that at least 100,000 horses could be purchased for victory bonds without the investment of a dollar in cash by the government except as interest on the bonds. By this means 60,000,000 pounds of nutritious and palatable meat would be provided to meet the overseas food demands. Horse met, Mr. Hoadley declared, was equal to moose meat as food. He would not ask the people of Britain to eat the meat, or the British army to accept it as food; it could be supplied the armies of France and Belgium, countries in which the people had been accustomed to the use of horse flesh as food for fifty years. At present these armies had to be supplied with pork and beef, largely by Canada and the United States. Utilizing horse meat in this way would save the female cow stock, which was being decimated at present to maintain the meat supply.

"Personally," said Mr. Hoadley, "I believe that half a million scrub horses could be obtained in the western provinces of this purpose. It would mean a great addition to the supply of leather and neat's foot oil, and other by-products of the horse, and it would raise the standard of horses throughout the West to a level which could not be attained in any other way in years.

A BRITISH "ZEPPELIN"

London yesterday had its first view of a British "Zeppelin," a recent edition of the Times says. It came from the east out of the mist, self-announced by the sound of its engines, sailed low across the city in the track of the river, swung round in a wide and graceful sweeping curve over Buckingham Palace, and was lost to sight again in the mist.

Thousands of people watched the passage of the great ship with mingled admiration and pride. There was something of majesty and beauty in its steady movement. The huge "Zeppelin"—no one dreamt of calling it by any other name, for in all except friendliness it answered the general conception of the vaunted monsters of Germany—seemed to glide through the air with the smooth motion of a vast liner in an untroubled sea. Its length and the steadiness of its progress belied its speed. The wind, so far as those below could tell, did not disturb its even course, and when wheeled to follow the winding course of the Thames and crossed Whitehall to circle the palace, it was abundantly clear that, for all its vastness, the ship was perfectly responsive to the touch of the helm.

Arrested by the heavy drone of the airship's motors, a drone curiously different from that of any aeroplane, hundreds of people left their luncheon and went out into the streets to watch the spectacle. So low was the ship flying that one could see plainly some of the details, as well as the broad outline of its formation. On its bows, where the long-ribbed body came to a point, was the red, white and blue "target," which is the distinctive mark of British aircraft. Half way along the body, on the undesides, were similar marks. The four-bladed tail of the ship was painted in the same three colors. Beneath the body of the ship were the gondolas.

As the ship moved away and melted gradually into the haze, the sunlight caught its side and caused it to glow long after the outline of the vessel had become indistinct. Twinkling lights in the gondolas gave the last picturesque touch to a spectacle which was at once beautiful and impressive.

AN ARISTOCRATIC ANIMAL

A farmer from Nichol township was in Guelph this week with a load of pigs. The market is down a little to what it has been, and it can keep on coming down for a while yet, and still be high enough. He had one sow five years old, a Yorkshire. When the sale was through and the cash arranged for the deal, it was found that the farmer had within a few cents of $117 for this one pig. It weighed 740 lbs., and as the fashion sheet says, had a waist measurement of 77 inches. When pigs are romping in the three figure class, it's time we found another name for them, and taught them to quit rooting in the mud and grunting all the time.—Guelph Mercury.

Instead of Meat, use Milk, Eggs and Cereals.

LIFT YOUR CORNS OFF WITH FINGERS

Tells how to loosen a tender corn or callus so it lifts out without pain.

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn or callus the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, lifts off with the fingers.

Freezone dries the moment it is applied, and simply shrivels the corn or callus without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but will positively rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or hardened callus. If your druggist hasn't any freezone he can get it at any wholesale drug house for you.

Lord Rhondda Cables:

"We Cannot Achieve Victory Without Food."

"Canada Food Board,
"Ottawa

"In these stern days it is inspiring to learn that Canada is tackling the food problem with redoubled energy. The terrific pressure on our military front makes it all the more imperative that those behind the line should strain every nerve to defeat the enemy's avowed object of destroying the British Empire.

"Germany hoped first to starve the Old Country by the submarine campaign and then to smash her land forces. She has failed to starve us and she will fail to smash us but we cannot achieve victory without food. There never was a time when it was more needed.

"The Canadian farmer and the Canadian farmhand now have the opportunity to make an effective reply to the enemy's present onslaughts by bending their undivided energies to the increased production of those food supplies for which we depend to such vital extent upon your great Dominion."

(Signed) "RHONDDA"

London, April 10th

The Prime Minister of Canada, in a call to Greater Food Production, says: "The crisis is grave and urgent beyond possibility of exaggeration."

Our Allies are depending upon Canada to produce this year more cereals—especially Spring Wheat—and more meat—especially Pork.

The world shortage will inevitably continue for years after the war—with this continent the nearest source of supply for the 200,000,000 persons in Europe who will be clamoring for food.

Measures have been taken and plans have been formulated which, on the authority of the Director of Agricultural Labor, will provide help needed for harvest.

City and town people who cannot go on the farms are helping to feed themselves by growing their own vegetables, so that the farmers may grow more food for export.

The food crisis calls for the utmost effort by all the people of Canada, because, as Lord Rhondda says, Food is essential to Victory.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

In our news columns at the time Fred Clarkston returned from overseas, we stated that he had been wounded three times. This was not correct. He was wounded once and gassed once. We also omitted to say that he had won the D.C.M.

Quite a number of the boys have been called during the past week under the Military Service Act. Dominion Constable Arden got very busy early in the week and arrested John McGladrey for not reporting, but he was released after a few hours. Jack, like the rest of those who were given short exemptions, was waiting his call from the coast, but Constable Arden thought he should have gone to the coast without waiting for orders. This sort of presumptuous action on the part of the police does a great deal to bring the government into disrepute. If the man had been trying to evade service there might have been some excuse for the arrest, but such was not the case.

R. M. Young visited Michel yesterday.

S. F. Wallace was in Lethbridge on Wednesday.

Sheriff Doyle, of Nelson, is expected to arrive in the city this evening.

Knox Church Dramatic Club journeyed to Waldo on Friday evening and put on the farce comedy "What Happened to Jones," before a large and enthusiastic audience. The performance was in aid of the Waldo Red Cross Society. Three or four cars were kindly loaned by Fernie people in order that the Club might make the trip.

Constable Norgrove, who has been a member of the provincial police force in this district for some years, being stationed formerly at Hosmer but lately at Michel, has severed his connection with the provincial force to accept the appointment of the Chief of Police for Grand Forks. He will assume his new duties in the near future.

On Wednesday evening, May 1st, a dance is being held in aid of the Returned Soldiers Club under the auspices of Esther Rebekah Lodge, No. 20. Everyone who has attended former dances held by the Rebekahs know what admirable hostesses they are and particularly on this occasion when they are endeavoring to make the Returned Soldiers Club a cheerful spot for the boys who have "done their bit" everyone should attend to insure its success.

On Wednesday afternoon after a fire had been started to burn up the old slashings on M. Baskin's limits immediately north east of Hosmer, a brisk north wind sprang up and the fire gained considerable headway. In the neighborhood in addition to the operations of Baskin, the Elk Lumber Co. and Jas. McCool also operate and there is a very large quantity of fence posts and poles in that vicinity. The fire in question proceeded very rapidly and although still burning none of the operators have suffered loss except Baskin, who is reported to have lost quite a quantity of posts.

Parade is ordered for 7 p.m. prompt, to Christ church. All Odd fellows invited to attend. The Rebekah Lodge will also attend this service and all Rebekahs are requested to meet at the same time and place.

Albert Mutz, who is being detained at Kingsgate by the U.S. authorities on suspicion that he is mixed up with the Los Angeles German spy bunch, is moving heaven and earth to secure his release. He is also a very impatient prisoner. The other day Fred Sick, at one time a partner of Mutz in the Fernie-Fort Steele Brewing Co., also a German-Canadian citizen, came through Kingsgate on his way to Lethbridge. Mutz, with tears in his eyes, would have fallen on his neck with great joy, but Mr. Sick failed to recognize him and passed by on the other side, leaving the infuriated Mutz tearing his hair and crying "Is everybody crazy,"—Later — A. Mutz arrived in Fernie today having been released by the U.S. authorities, who found out that he was innocent.

Capt. Gordon Johnson, writing to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Johnson, after the big German drive of three weeks ago, says: "I have lost everything I possess except what I stand in. Your last parcel was lost too. The socks I would give anything for I had just replenished all my old kit, which was very war worn, and that is gone too. Cheerful, isn't it? But no one worries. In fact, it's much like August 1, 1908, in Fernie. It is much easier to laugh and you feel better for it. Everything is O.K. and I never saw greater confidence. It is trying perhaps for the moment, even more for you at home, but don't worry over it. We are not." The above extract from Capt. Johnson's letter shows that now or never is the time to rush your parcels to the boys in the trenches. They need them.

ELKO NOTES

(By Fred Roo)

An eminent physician declares that two hours of sleep before midnight are worth more than six hours after that hour. Nonsense. Two hours, yes, even fifteen minutes, after you are called are worth more than all the rest, declares Jim Thistlebeak.

Seven well filled automobiles from Fernie passed through Elko on their way to Baynes by the Lake to see What Happened to Jones last Friday night.

Dr. Garner of the Fernie hospital and a party of friends motored to Elko on Saturday and visited the Falls. The Doctor makes fast friends while some people would be getting acquainted. He's like Pat Murphy; sure got a nice way wid him.

You're in the army now,
You're not behind the plow,
You'll never get rich by digging a ditch,
You're in the army now.

G. Fred Roo, of Roosville, passed through Elko on his way to Willows Camp, Victoria, on Saturday, and was entertained to a farewell dance and supper at the Roosville school house on Thursday night and was the recipient of a handsome meerschaum cased pipe from the young men of the valley. He was Paul Revereing behind the plow when he received word to report. Had he been driving a team for some hay wire lumber company or loafing around some pool room he would never have been called.

Mrs. J. Derosiers, of Meadow Ranch, and family, were visiting her mother at Roosville last week.

If the B.C. Legislature would get down to business and make it impossible for these hay wire lumber outfits to pay off their employees with worthless cheques, they would be earning a little of the taxpayers' cash they are getting in the way of salary.

A grocer in Claresholm, Alberta, sent his Swedish clerk out to do some collecting. When the clerk returned from a futile trip he reported: "Yon Yonson say he will pay ven he sells him hogs. Yim Olesen he will pay ven he sells him wheat, and Pete Yensen says he will pay in February." Well, said the boss, that's the first time Pete ever set a date to pay. Did he really say he would pay in February? "Vell, aye tank so," said the clerk. "He say it ban a dam cold day you get that money. I tank that ban in February."

Mrs. A. F. Krapfel and son, Medicine Hat, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Hirtz last week.

The Calgary Eye Opener says that T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor, should be fired; that he is no good. Jim Thistlebeak says that he is not the only one.

A. L. Carr, Military Service Department, National Council Y.M.C.A., was in Elko this week organizing a committee for the big roundup, May 7, 8 and 9, and appointed Jim Thistlebeak corral boss, who will visit every log shack and trail blazer's cabin in the district for the benefit of the boys over yonder, and he don't want any Bibles, albums, nickel-plated photo frames, nor pickle dishes, but cash and lots of it. Be good to the boys who are figthing our battles and your feet will never be blistered on the pavements of that southern city made in Germany, commonly called hell.

A little girl in Elko thought it strange that her pet cat should get its back up at a young lady from Fernie who called to see her mother. But it was not so strange after all when it was discovered that the lady wore a mouse-colored suit and had a rat in her hair.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ross were Fernie visitors this week.

Lillian Russell, the great actress, who might visit Elko this summer, says the moderate eating of sweets causes watery and puffy eyes. Young men who have been in the custom of sending the telephone girls boxes of bon-bons should make a note of this.

Mrs. Harry Edmunds and children spent several days in Fernie this week visiting friends.

Miss E. May Roo, chief stenographer for Jim Thistlebeak, returned from Roosville, where she has been visiting her mother.

MILITARY Y.M.C.A.

The Italian army has been the last of the great fighting forces to open their camps to the Young Men's Christian Association. During the last few weeks $2,000,000 has been appropriated by the international Y.M.C.A. for work among the Italian soldiers and 200 secretaries have been sent to Italy to direct that work. Hence the Y.M.C.A. hut is found on the whole western front in France, in the Alps, and among the training camps through all of Italy. The Italian citizens in Fernie and elsewhere should have no hesitancy in subscribing liberally to the $2,500,000 budget to be raised in Canada for overseas work on May 7, 8 and 9, thus helping in a most effective way their fellow countrymen to uphold in their desperate struggle the ancient and worthy traditions of a united Italy.

By virtue of the value of the service performed among the Expeditionary forces of Britain, Canada and in fact all Allied countries, to say nothing of the work of humanity carried on in enemy countries, the Young Men's Christian Association has earned for itself the gratification of countless thousands of fighting men who have been brought into touch with the personal influence and helpful oversight of the "Y" secretaries in the war theatres of Europe. At the commencement of the war when it was realized that the struggle would probably last for at least three years, the good offices of the Association were requisitioned by the British government to minister to the spritual and recreational needs of the volunteers.

After an experience of many years it has become an admitted fact that a soldier fights better when his life and thoughts are clean, and when the hope of heaven is in his heart, should he fall in battle. Again, he fights with a much better grace if he knows that after a hard day's gruelling struggle for the upper hand, or a hard march, there awaits him something clean and refreshing food, beverages and many other comforts and social pleasures.

The work of the "Red Triangle" in France and England, in far-off Palestine or in South Africa, has been carried on with such a thoroughness that the service rendered is now an organized business. It is directed by a head-office staff of experts who are specially trained leaders of men. The hundreds of workers devote themselves assidiously to providing soldiers with every possible comfort to soul and body. Games are supplied in great measure, these embracing football, basketball, cricket, golf. tennis and all of the indoor games. Under their direction, too, music is furnished both artificially and otherwise. Concerts are organized and given whenever possible, the assistance of many world-famous enteretainers and vocalists being enlisted in this service, which in many cases is conducted right under the noses of the big guns.

The effective and unending work performed by the Y.M.C.A. officials in England, France and other countries is only superficially known. It is almost impossible for a full account of this work of humanity, so much appreciated among the men, to be detailed in a short article. It is known that one new Y.M.C.A. hut has been completed overseas every second week day during the war, many of which have been destroyed by enemy shells. In one of the army areas in France the "Y" has opened no fewer than 65 centres since March last year. There are now 21 centres in the Salonika area, while a centre has also been established at Jaffa, the Joffa of the Bible. In Italy there is a recreation hut among the Dolomites, 8000 feet above sea level. The chief of the American censoring office in France stated recently that over half of the letters passing through his hands told of the great service of the Y.M.C.A.

Some slight indication of the work carried on may be gleaned from a study of a few specific illustrations as follows:

1,000,000 sheets of letter paper are distributed free each month in England and France—12,000,000 per year.

30,000 letters, it is estimated, are written daily by Canadian soldiers in the "Y" huts.

One hundred pianos, 300 phonographs and 27 moving picture machines are possessed by the Canadian Y.M.C.A. in England and France.

A single order for baseball equipment for Canadian soldiers amounted to $25,000. All athletic equipment is furnished to the men free, and this year the outlay will total $100,000.

$1,000 monthly is expended on concerts alone in England, these entertainments usually taxing the capacity of the buildings in which they are held.

All of this work has been made possible through the co-operation of the Canadian Y.M.C.A. While the governments have placed every facility within their power at the disposal of the Association officials, no financial assistance is given, the program being worked out through the help of subscriptions which are sought in all Allied countries. Speaking of the value of the "Red Triangle" service at the front, Premier Sir Robert Borden said recently: "On more than one occasion it has been my privilege to see something at the front of the splendid work accomplished by the Y.M.C. in providing comfort and entertainment for our gallant troops and to learn from these men themselves how highly they value what is thus done for them. Canadians at home must be grateful for the existence of such an efficient and sympathetic organization."

Colonel J. A. Clark, the officer commanding the 72nd Seaforth Battalion of Vancouver, adds this personal tribute: "I wish to express my appreciation for the work which has been done by the Y.M.C.A. both in the support areas and while in the rest billets in the rear. I think the Y.M.C.A. have realized the needs of the men in providing accommodation for them both with canteens and in entertaining them by concert parties; not forgetting to suply sporting materials, which are always appreciated."

Big benefit concert and show for J. Fratianna at the Orpheum, Tuesday, April 30. Shows at 7.30 and 9.15. Adults 50c; children 25c.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a small bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

AT THE ORPHEUM—FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

THE FERNIE FREE PRESS.

VOLUME LX, No. 18 FERNIE, B.C., FRIDAY, MAY 3, 1918 WHOLE NUMBER 1058

Librarian Leg. Assembly

MR. FISHER INTERVIEWED

A. I. Fisher in an interview with a Free Press reporter this week, discussing the various Acts passed at the last session of the legislature, said:

The sudden and tragic death of Mr. Brewster was undoubtedly a great loss to the people of this province as well as to the legislature. The sympathies of the late Premier were essentially democratic and his sincerity of purpose well established in which respects we have a worthy successor in Premier Oliver, whose reputation for rugged honesty is as well known as is his antipathy to anything that seems to infringe upon the rights of the people.

The legislation of the recent session gives further proof that the present Provincial Legislature is the most radical as well as the most liberal legislature this province has ever had.

In the amendments to the Coal Mines Regulation Act, Metalliferous Mines Inspection Act and the Labor Regulation Act we have the eight hour rule made statutory in certain occupations. Although the Acts making these amendments do not come into operation until March 31, 1919, their present enactment, I am sure, will be greatly appreciated by the large number of employees affected in this and other mining districts throughout the province.

Under the amendments to the Land Settlement Act the Land Settlement Board is given power to select settlement areas, to set a price on them in the event of the owners not proceeding with development and to purchase compulsorily the land it decides to incorporate in a "settlement area," the owners of course having the right of appeal against the Board's decision. It is predicted that other parts of the Dominion will follow this lead of B.C. with a view to increase land settlement and agricultural production. Amendments to the Land Act permitting settlement only in surveyed areas will also conduce to closer settlement. The Soldiers Land Act is an earnest endeavor to deal with a pressing for solution and to provide for the fullest measure of co-operation with the Dominion government in assisting returned soldiers who may choose to settle upon the lands of the province. I might add that I am trying to arrange to have a copy of the Soldiers Land Act sent to each of the returned soldiers in the Fernie Riding. The Land Acts passed should have beneficial results to the people of the province who have been importing approximately $20,000,000 worth of food stuffs annually. We are engaged at present in waging a war for democracy and it has been well said that "in a democracy rooted in the soil lies the sanity and the stability of human institutions."

The Pacific Great Eastern Settlement Act" is the settlement of a matter which has been a source of political contention for some time. The Act vests in the province ownership and full control of the entire undertaking and line of railway of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway Company and all the assets of that company and of the Pacific Great Eastern Equipment Company and the Development Company. In addition the province receives in cash the sum of $500,000 forthwith, the sum of $250,000 within four months and the further sum, subject to the options set out in agreement, of $350,000. Although the completion of the railway is still a serious problem the settlement places the government in a position to consider the completion of the railway as a public enterprise or otherwise negotiate its completion and operation and the settlement is generally considered as good business, disposing of a big lawsuit and placing the ownership of the railway in the people who have really paid for its construction.

In the category of good business should also be placed the measure providing for a bounty on iron and steel ores produced in the province and the measure respecting the cutting of spruce timber for aeroplane construction providing means for placing the vast timber resources of the province at the disposal of the allies. In introducing the Iron Bounty Act the Honorable Minister of Mines delivered an impressive speech full of facts and figures, in which he referred among other things to the fact that there are deposits of iron ore in both East and West Kootenay. Reference was also made to the fact that so far as we know at present the coal of the Crow's Nest field makes a better coke for smelting purposes than that of the Vancouver Island fields. The Iron Bounty Act should facilitate the establishment of important industries and everything possible should be done to impress upon both private and public capital the facts to which attention has been called by the Honorable Minister of Mines.

In connection with aeroplane construction, it is interesting to note that according to a report made by R. H. Campbell, Dominion Director of Fosestry, the Province of British Columbia has within its boundaries 400,000,000,000 feet of commercial timber, being half the entire timber resources of Canda, which are the third largest in the world, being exceeded only by those of the United States and Russia. According to statistics the lumber industry in the province made a production of $48,913,115 in value in 1917, being an increase of $13,385,115 in the lumber production over 1916. The greatest part of this increase is due to increase of value of product but there is also a net increase in quantity.

The amendments to the Taxation Act more equitably adjusts the burden created by the present public debt and public service. Important features of the amendments are those exempting improvements upon farm land to the extent of $1500 and making the income tax more nearly approach a tax upon net rather than gross income.

The Banff-Windermere Road Act Amendment Act passed with a view to assist in expediting completion of the road by the Dominion government, was referred to in the legislature as likely to confer great benefits upon the people of East Kootenay as well as other parts of the province. I feel sure the efforts along this line looking towards the early completion of the road will be greatly appreciated by the people of this district. It is to be hoped that we may have a change in the rule of the road at least in respect to this part of the province, before the Banff-Windermere road is completed.

FERNIE POULTRY AND PET STOCK ASSOCIATION

The above society held their second monthly show on Saturday, April 27, in Ingram's Hall. The exhibition consisted of Heavy Females and eggs. The quality was top notch in both sections. Fancier A. Hancock was the judge and his awards were as follows:

Birds—

First, R. Jones, Black Orpington.

Second, James White, White Wyandotte.

Third, J. Cunliffe, Light Brahma.

Fourth, R. Jones, White Orpington.

Special for best shaped bird was awarded to R. Jones, Black Orpington.

Special for best color was awarded to J. Cunliffe, Light Brahma.

Eggs—

Brown—First, H. Blinstone; second, Chas. Gillett.

White—First, W. Turner; second, Jacob Wark.

The Association certainly felt proud with themselves on Saturday last. The hall was busy from the time the show opened until the close and the members did their best to make all welcome. The eggs took up quite a lot of attention and it was plain that more than one thought of Sunday breakfast and new laid eggs.

Fanciers Hancock and Jones then gave a demonstration with two of the birds shown, which was interesting to all present. The idea is to help poultry along, and if the interest is created the hen will get the benefit and the result will be better birds, more eggs and at less cost in the long run. The Association invites questions at these monthly shows whether they are from a member or otherwise. And again you are invited to bring along your bird to these shows. They are open to everybody.

It is proposed to hold the next show on Saturday, May 25, for Light Breeds. The prize money is waiting to be won and all Light breeders are requested to be present at the next meeting on Tuesday, May 7, at Ingram's hall. There are quite a number of good fanciers who are not members of the Association yet. There are some who are members who do not attend the meetings. We want you all to come along. There is lots of work to do and lots of pay for services rendered, and it will be helping yourself and helping others. The membership fee is $1 a year.

The following fanciers became members at our last show: R. McFegan, Fernie; C. McNay, Coal Creek; W. Savage, Fernie; J. Brown, Hosmer; C. Stowe, Fernie.

The judges for the next show will be W. Green for the poultry, and J. Wark for the eggs.

BUSH CAMPS IN DANGER

Yesterday afternoon the Elk Lumber Co. again suffered a considerable loss to their camp in the vicinity of Spruce Creek, when in some manner, as yet undetermined, the stable caught fire and three horses and a quantity of feed were destroyed. The fire then spread to the bench timber and although a force of fifty men have been fighting the fire continuously it continues to spread. Late last night a report from the scene indicated that the other camp buildings were still in danger but no further word has been heard although from the dense smoke clouds at present visible from here the fire appears to be gaining in volume and appears to have reached the heavily timbered mountain side.

Last week the Elk Lumber Co. successfully burned all the old slashing in the vicinity of the camp in question and this work indicated that during the forthcoming fire season there was but slight possibility of danger from that source. Some who have visited the scene of the fire yesterday immediately before it originated in the neighborhood of the stables, positively declare that the fire could not have been ignited from the previous fire, and the fact that it occurred within or immediately near the stables has given rise to it being rather suspicious. Accurate reports concerning the approximate damage already done cannot be had but it is estimated that up to yesterday evening it was between $2000 and $2500.

A TALE OF TWO CITIES

At the Orpheum Next Wednesday and Thursday

Sidney Carton and Charles Darnay in the novel "A Tale of Two Cities," were two entirely different persons. In the magnificent Super De Luxe version of the piece which William Fox has just finished William Farnum, foremost star in fildom, is playing both parts.

"It's the hardest characterization I have undertaken yet," said Mr. Farnum. "I am used to playing a character by throwing myself into his mood; but in playing two parts, thus I have to be constantly changing mood always ready to throw myself into either of the roles. And, believe me, it is no easy task."

Mr. Farnum set to work by accurately characterizing each man, and figuring what gestures and mannerisms each of them would have. These are called "tricks" by actors. That is what Mr. Farnum taught himself—the "tricks" of each character, the little bits of action which would serve as distinctive characterizers.

After he had these fixed well in his mind, it was an easier task for the big actor to go ahead with the portrayals of the parts. He had his guideposts, as it were, to help him along the way. But even then, the constant change from man to man was harassing.

"The two men are so entirely dissimilar, too," Mr. Farnum said. "Carton is a happy-go-lucky, drunken, penniless boy, though he refused to be an aristocrat. They were as different as sun and moon; they had one feature in common—their face. Even their figures were different, and no comparison could be made in the way they dressed.

"That was only one of the hard features in playing these roles."

CORBIN POULTRY ASSOCIATION

The Corbin Poultry Association held its second regular monthly meeting in the Corbin Club Hall on Friday evening, April 26. There was a large attendance of members and others. The features of the evening were an egg show for white and brown eggs and a lecture upon the egg. The prizes for the egg show were awarded as follows: White eggs, 1st, Mr. Jackson; 2nd, Mr. Frey. Brown eggs, 1st, Mr. Ainsworth; 2nd, Mr. Knight. Robert Clarkson acted as judge and gave entire satisfaction, and stated that the quality was high and competition keen. While the judging of the eggs was being carried on Mr. Hetherington gave an interesting lecture upon the structure and formation of the egg. This club has come to stay and the enthusiasm is increasing at every meeting. There is now a paid-up membership of 34 and it will be 40 in a short time as others are desirous of joining. Lectures on the different phases of scientific poultry breeding will feature every meeting of the Association. It is the purpose of the Association to hold an annual exhibition in Corbn. The officers are R. S. Ord, honorary president; E. L. Warburton, president; Robt. Clarkson, vice-president; W. Bell Hetherington, secretary-treasurer; Messrs. Sidney Knight, Dr. T. F. Bayfield, Edward Kinsworth, Frank Frey and Jos. Cutts, executive committee. The Association has applied for affiliation with the B.C. Poultry Association.

WILL BUILD NEW SCHOOL

The school board held special meetings this week when the details in connection with the proposed high school were considered. The Department of Education has advised the board that the suggested appropriation of $25,000 is not available at the present time for this institution here but they will contribute $16,500 towards its construction. It has therefore been decided to have plans and specifications prepared by the architect and tenders submitted for the construction of such buildings as will meet with the immediate requirements but so constructed that when necessary additions can be made to the structure. As soon as the estimates have been prepared the formal by-law will be submitted for the ratification of the ratepayers.

BAYNES AND WALDO I.O.D.E.

During the month of March the Waldo ladies realized the sum of $137.20 from whist drives. This closes the series of whist drives which were held during the winter months. These ladies are to be congratulated for their success in raising such large amounts. Of the March receipts $14.50 was given to the Junior Chapter and the remainder to the senior Chapter.

A special whist drive was given to raise money to buy wool. The proceeds from this were $23.50.

The further sum of $13.00 was realized from a whist drive held at Mrs. S. J. Morrow's residence at Baynes.

Subscriptions for Mrs. Joule's life membership totalled $29.15 and at the last meeting she was presented with the certificate of life membership and her pin.

WILL ORGANIZE NAVY LEAGUE

Following the programme adopted in connection with the newly reorganized "Navy League of Canada," affiliated with the Navy League of the British Empire, an attempt is to be made to establish a branch of this organization in this city, and a meeting will be held in the council chamber on Monday, May 6, at 8 p.m., when the organzing secretary, Mrs. C. D. Neroutsos, will be in attendance and set forth the aims and objects of the association.

The new organization is to be a a purely Canadian institution to carry on the work that had been previously performed by the old Navy League but at the same time to greatly enlarge the scope of its operations and make it fill the peculiar requirements of Canada. The Dominion Council for 1918 have made the following grants:

To Halifax, for the building and equipment of a Navy League Sailors' Home there, $100,000.

For carrying on the work in British Columbia, $30,000.

To be sent to the Navy League in England for purposes of work among disabled seamen, $10,000 per month.

In addition to these handsome appropriations several large sums have been voted for such work as the equipment of Naval Brigades, etc., throughout the Dominion.

The institution proposes to carry on this work on a large scale but space will not permit setting the details forth in full. However, all those interested in this work should not miss the opportunity of attending the meeting on Monday evening, when they will have the opportunity of hearing first hand the advantages gained by the establishment of a branch of the institution in Fernie.

ANOTHER KICK HAS COME

A number of drivers and haulage hands last evening returned from the train, declining to work on the night shift and demanding that all mines be put on the day shift basis. As soon as this difficulty became known to the Union officials a meeting was held, at which those dissatisfied with the night shift working arrangement attended. It is understood that at the termination of the meeting that the majority of those affected decided to continue working under the present method until the matter can be taken up with the Department of Mines and others in charge of the direction of work, with a view to establishing permanently the day shift in the mines here. While a fairly large number refused to work last evening, sufficient men went to work to enable the mines to operate last night, although on a limited scale. If the decision reached at last night's meeting is followed it will result in the full shift going on this evening.

MUST HAVE COAL

(Manitoba Free Press)

The cool assurance of the coal operators of Alberta in demanding a monopoly of the right to supply coal to all Canada west of the great lakes has had a measure of success. While Winnipeg and the district east of this city have been saved from their benevolence, the rest of Manitoba and the eastern part of Saskatchewan are to be turned over to them, unless there is a change of policy at Ottawa.

There is nothing in the past performances of either the operators or miners of Alberta to encourage the belief that the coal problem of the people abandoned to their mercies has been solved.

It is true that the coal operators are lavish in their promises of what they are going to do, while men claiming to represent the miners, are ready to give pledges that there will be no further strikes for a year — but these evidences of good intention in April, 1918, will not keep people from freezing to death if they do not produce coal next January.

Skepticism as to the ability of the operators and miners to make their promises good is justified by the record. In the comparatively small area which has been served in the past from Alberta, there have been recurrent coal famines in recent winters due to irregularity of output at the mines. The chief cause of shortage has been labor trouble, the responsibility for which has been hard to fix. The operators have damned the miners, while the miners have charged the operators with greed and selfishness. But there has never been lacking excuses for a strike; and while the men and their employers fight out their differences the western public have gone without coal.

The pledge given by the miners' representatives that they will not strike for a year is not worth much. They have broken agreements in the past; and they have gone on strike in defiance of the orders of their own officials. There is no assurance that they will not regard the pledge made on their behalf at Ottawa as another scrap of paper. It is a matter of record that in Alberta coal district there have been 215 labor disputes, big and little, since last July. Such occurrences in time of war in the production of a necessity of life give no prospect of stable conditions for the future.

If the government takes the responsibility of accepting the proposition of the Alberta operators, it must assume the responsibility as well of seeing that the coal is forthcoming. This will involve the necessity of immediate intervention if any attempt is made to stop coal production. The fact that 60 per cent of the miners are alien enemies opens the road for drastic action by the authorities the moment an attempt is made to take advantage of the situation that has been artificially created by the limitation of United States coal imports into western Canada.

107 AUTO LICENSES

One hundred and seven automobile licenses have already been issued this year to car owners and dealers in this district. Of this number 44 were issued to citizens of Fernie. Following is a list of local citizens who have secured licenses for 1918: P. Burns & Co., W. B. Harwood, Percy Bean, McGladrey Bros., Dr. Asselstine, Provincial Government, Wm. Johnston, A. E. Ferguson, R. G. McEwan, Dobson & Willingham, Leslie Mills, H. E. Martin, A. Klauer, Elk Lumber Co., Walter Winnet, J. Wilson, W. R. Wilson, C.N.P. Coal Co., Roux Bros., J. Cameron, J. McDougall, J. Bean, William Mills, S. Graham, S. Herchmer, P. Whittock, J. T. Mangan, I. F. Pickett, D. Citra, Kootenay Telephone Lines, J. Hart, A. Macneil, A. Watson, Pollock Wine Co., A. Rizzuto, J. E. Finn, G. F. Johnson, Mrs. E. K. Stewart, Wm. Barton, John Biggs, L. B. Graham, Frank Lander, F. C. Lawe, W. J. Claridge. In addition to these there are a number of others who have not yet taken out their licenses for this season, viz., G. G. Henderson, A. B. Trites, R. W. Wood, A. Cummings and J. F. Spalding, which will bring the number of car owners in the city well up to the fifty mark.

COMING TO THE GRAND. TUESDAY, MAY 21ST

"The Wolf" is not a movie.

"The Wolf"—A graphic story of the Canadian Hudson's Bay country, full of color and action, inspiring in its theme, thrilling in situations and declared to be one of the most perfectly constructed plays on the stage. It depicts life in the locale of the story as it could be depicted by only one intimately acquainted with the passions, impulses and motives which inspire men deep in the heart of nature. It tells the story of a lone girl, of a scheming wolf in the guise of a man, of a hero the type of vigor and strength, and throughout the play there is a tenderness and natural wisdom which speaks volumes.

THE LATEST WAR NEWS

Paris, May 3. — Last night the French in a brilliant attack on the German lines between Hailles and Castel, near Amiens, captured Hill 82 and the Wood on the Avre River.

London, May 3.—The much talked of "Kaiser's Battle" has disappeared from all the German newspapers since the German defeat in their attempt to capture Ypres. The newspapers have now been instructed to inform the German people that Ypres is an exceedingly strong point in the British lines and that after all Ypres is of very little importance to the Germans, so it may be decided by the German High Commander not to "Take Ypres."

Take plenty of potatoes. They are a splendid food.

THE NON-COMBATANT

(By Capt. John McNab, 2nd Divisional Artillery)

The dugout measured seven feet by ten, the man measured less, but the spirit of the man was immeasurable. The dugout was just an ordinary dugout. Steel sheeting overhead, then sandbags, brick and still more sandbags. It differed from others of its kind only in that it had a canvas sign. Other dugouts too had their sobriquets inscribed but this was not "Maggie Murphy's Home," "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Syddite Shelter," nor "The Mudlark's Nest," but the "Y.M.C.A."

Its position was decidedly precarious. On one side of it was a battery of Canadian howitzers, on the other side a battery of eighteen pounders. The ground all round was torn up by high explosives. Even the sandbags were ripped and torn by shrapnel, and the canvas sign was slashed by shell splinters. Up the road was Ypres — Ypres, the storm centre of the war's wildest passions—Ypres, where three of the biggest and bloodiest battles of the war have been fought—Ypres, where the first poisonous gas clouds floated over the Allied trenches — Ypres, with scarce one stone standing on another—Ypres, once a city of princes, now a smouldering Gehenna. This dugout was close to Ypres.

The Non-Combatant in charge of the dugout had been a minister in peace time, a native of the breezy western plains of Canada. He had joined the ranks as a stretcher bearer and was later transferred from the banner of the Red Cross to that of the "Red Triangle." He was serving as indefatigably in this branch to help men as he had in the other, and the sergeant's stripes indicated that his work was being appreciated. Once again the Ypres salient was resounding with intense artillery fire. The British regulars had blown up six giant craters in the enemy's lines at St. Eloi, and the Canadians were holding the captured territory. But the ground was held at great cost. Our men were returning wounded, broken and weary. In those days both the man and the dugout were needed. Early and late he toiled over a troublesome gasoline stove to prepare hot cocoa for the wayfarers. A constant stream of heroes came down the road.

Men who had not been too severely wounded, in head or arm, called "walking patients," were sent from the trench dressing station to the field dressing station lower down. Some of them had been buried by "rum jars"; others were victims of shell concussion, but most of them had been struck by shrapnel and were faint from loss of blood. Wounds had taken all the "sand out of them and the hot cocoa was a welcome tonic for the weary and wounded marchers. At night, working parties crept by. Men who went up to rebuild the parapets and stretch new wire, dragged themselves back fatigued and unnerved by their operations in "No Man's Land" under the flare of the star shells.

It was often the grey dawn before they returned, but the Non-Combatant had a hot drink ready when they passed by. There he toiled all alone, serving hundreds of cups of cocoa daily, stoking the stove, washing the mugs, and by his cheery presence and kindly word comforting the passing men. He stayed there through a furnace of shells whizzing around him in that whole month's battle of St. Eloi, and he was still at his post when the battle of Hooge began, with its still more devastating shell fire. But he was forced to find a new dugout. Two or three pieces of his little shelter were torn by fragments; this time the most destructive of all German shells, a 5.9, got a direct hit. He was buried in the debris but escaped. In two days another dugout and another stock were procured, and a new sign graced the side turned away from the Germans. There he began again to minister to the many.

One night the Germans blew up the mine north of Wytschaete. It was so dark that one could not see a yard ahead. There was an unearthly stillness on the front, that spelled mischief. About midnight the explosion of a mine sent the gun pits quivering. In an instant every gun the foe had was going from "Whizz-bangs" to "Jack Johnsons." The reply was staggering, and the Canadians gained superiority of fire. The Non-Combatant got busy in the dugout. Soon the procession began. Men, wet with blood, dodged the shrapnel to gulp down a hot drink. The high explosives were searching, like wild beasts in anger, for the batteries and the ground was pock-marked until each shell hole dipped into the other. One shell, dropping not ten feet from the dugout, churned the earth, the next went crashing through the steel sheeting. A party left the battery to serach for the Non-Combatant. Clambering through the shell hole they saw the fruit cans gashed as if by a hundred chisels; the stock scattered and destroyed; the mugs broken; the cocoa urn overturned; and when they had thrown the debris aside they found the Non-Combatant with a dark red stream oozing from his head, still smiling, but sleeping his last sleep.

The Padre was sent for and, while they waited, a shell hole was prepared for the remains. He came as the first streaks of dawn were tinting the sky. Wrapped in a blanket the Non-Combatant was placed in his last dugout. As the Padre prayed, the party stood staring into the unknown. Death faces them so frequently that they have no fear of it. They accept it not as life's greatest tragedy, but as one of its most dramatic episodes. Then came the simple sermon, reiterating their thoughts: "Death has severed us from our comrade, but out here face to face with the great realities, have learned that death is but the portal to a larger life. Ay, it would take more than death to stop Harry; he will 'carry on.'"

How Canada's Greatest Shoe House Supplies the Nation's Footwear

CONSIDER the amount of time and the infinite care you take when buying footwear to suit your own taste in regard to style, size, etc. Multiply your own individual needs by millions and you will get an idea of the immense task which confronts the makers of Canada's footwear, and the size of the organization it is necessary to maintain for that purpose.

The buying of a single pair of shoes is an event that occupies a person but a few moments two or three times a year—but to meet the accumulated demand of a nation's individuals, it requires the whole resources of a gigantic industry. Ames Holden McCready are truly "Shoemakers to the Nation." It is a title justified by their size and the importance of their business.

It may be a revelation to many Canadians to know that to supply them with proper footwear, this firm maintains huge factories each with many acres of floor space, and hundreds of intricate, almost human, machines—facilities and equipment sufficient to turn out 8,000 pairs of shoes every working day.

It requires a small army of workpeople, clerks and warehousemen, in addition to executives, buyers and travellers.

It requires much study and thought to plan styles and models of Men's, Women's and Children's shoes in their various grades and styles.

In order to secure the best results in the production of various kinds and grades, it is also necessary to specialize.

For example: Ames Holden McCready factories are separated into three distinct factory units, each a complete factory in itself.

One unit of our factories is devoted entirely to the manufacture of high grade footwear for Women and Children. Consider the great variety of styles in women's footwear, including high-top boots, oxfords and pumps.

Consider the many different patterns and lasts, the varieties and shades of leather and finish—then you will see what a great number of models are required to meet the widely different needs of Canadian women in the cities and towns and also in the country districts.

Another factory unit is devoted to making only the better grades and styles of Men's Shoes—shoes for professional men, lawyers, doctors, and all business men, whose occupations permit the use of fine leathers such as calf and kid.

The third unit specializes in sturdier types of shoes for heavy wear and rough usage. Shoes for farmers, lumbermen, miners, trainmen, and workpeople who require a heavier and more solidly-constructed boot.

In addition to the work of manufacture—the requirements of distribution are also tremendous. A manufacturer must not only make his goods economically and well—but he must deliver them—DISTRIBUTE them. Therefore, in addition to a force of 60 travellers constantly visiting the retail trade from coast to coast, Ames Holden McCready maintain, in the centres of population throughout Canada, immense stocks of boots and shoes ready for immediate shipment to the retailers in each section.

These warehouses are located in the following cities:

St. John Toronto Montreal
Winnipeg Edmonton Vancouver

Years of experience has taught us the kind and styles of boots which are required in each locality. No matter in what part of Canada you reside, no matter what particular kind of shoe you require, your retail dealer can procure it for you without loss of time.

And that is the reason why you will find, even in the outlying districts, that dealers selling Ames Holden McCready goods are up-to-date with stocks that are fresh and new, and which reflect the latest shapes and styles.

When you see the A. H. M. trade mark on a shoe, you know that not only is that mark an endorsement by the largest shoe concern in Canada, but that being the product of a highly organized industry, the shoe you are buying represents the utmost in value, style and wearing qualities which can be obtained at the price.

GUNNERY EXPERT EXPLAINS "MIRACLE"

That the "mystery" of the "miracle" gun which the Germans have been firing from 70 miles distance into Paris is not explainable by the popularly-exploited theory of a series of explosions during the flight of the projectile has been the well guarded opinion of not a few of the returned gunnery experts. More acceptable was the view that at last sufficient length of gun and resistive strength had been secured to give room for the big charge of powder to expand and exert the full force of its explosion in ejecting the projectile into space.

Now comes from Stockholm the carefully detailed explanation of Jas. O'Donnell Bennett, who reinforces a view which has become more and more acceptable during the last few days.

"The opinion is increasing among Swedish artillerists, who stand high in European military circles, that the Germans' new long range cannon presents no problems that cannot be solved by known ballistic principles," says this writer.

"The consensus is that it is a real cannon employing a projectile, and not a self-driving air torpedo. If the projectile is fired at an angle of from 50 to 55 degrees it soon attains a height where the air is so thin that the air friction can be practically diregarded and caluculations made almost as if dealing with a vacuum."

"At a height of twelve and one-half miles atmospheric pressure is as low as 2 millimetres, and even though the temperature here is low (38 degrees C.) the air resistance has sunk to about 6 per cent of the original resistance," continues the writer.

"When under these conditions the projectile is conceived as being fired to a height of about 25 miles, then through the longest period of its journey the air resistance will be at a minimum.

"It is now known that a 24 centimeter shell — about eight and a half inches—is used, hence it appears that the Germans have chosen as a point of departure for this shell a fifteen and one-half inch cannon, the length of which is fifty times that of the caliber—in other words, nearly 66 feet

"In the gun they have placed an inner tube with a caliber of eight and one-half inches, thus the gun would have the strength to withstand enormous pressure during firing and have the same amount of space for the charge as a fifteen and one-half inch cannon has.

This leaves room for a charge of 836 pounds of specially suitable powder and the cannon can be made about eighty times as long as the caliber.

"Thus the projectile receives a propulsive power of about 40,000 metric tons, and its eight and one-half inch projectile, weighing 440 pounds, obtains an initial velocity of about 6500 feet per second. In order to obtain a range of 75 miles in a vacuum the projectile requires an initial speed of 3510 feet per second with a departure angle of 45 degrees.

"It may therefore be imagined that the projectile will be released at a somewhat larger elevation so that the dense strata of air it has to pass through will be as short as possible.

"If we then conceive that the projectile's course, on reacting at a height of twelve and a half miles, has an inclination toward the horizontal plane of 45 degrees, it requires a remaining velocity of 3088 feet a second to give it the total range of 75 miles from the point of departure to the target.

"Although guided by the preceding ballistic tables, we can calculate the loss of velocity up to a height of twelve and a half miles, we know this loss chiefly depends on air resistance.

"Gravity deprives the projectile of a velocity of about 1300 feet a second. The gun on which we have based our calculations gives its projectile an initial velocty of 6500 feet.

"When the projectile shall have reached an altitude of twelve and a half miles, it must still travel at a velocity of 3088 feet a second. This leaves the liberal allowance of3412½ feet for the demands of gravity and air resistance.

Gravity will absorb 1300 feet of this allowance and if air resistance does not absorb more than 1950 feet, the projectile can reach its destination.

"If it requires a greater allowance, then the 8½ inch tube must be placed in a larger cannon than the 15½ inch gun, upon the basis of which we have been calculating, such as one of the 16.38 inch guns or perhaps one still larger.

"In the present state of secrecy naturally enveloping the new German gun these deductions cannot be proved but that the problem as a problem can be solved without any recourse to monstrous dimensions is certain. Undoubtedly it was in such a manner that Krupp went to work.

"Concerning the destructive power of this gun's one meter long projectile experts believe the projectile probably would pass from the roof of a high building to its celler, blowing out its walls and destroying gas, sewer and water pipes and electric wires in the streets.

SEALED TENDERS will be received by the Minister of Lands not later than noon on the 13th day of May, 1918, for the purchase of Licence G1333, to cut 1000 cords Cedar Fence Posts and 50,000 Ft. B. M. Spruce on an area adjoining S.T.L. 2755 p., Sand Creek, Kootenay District.

Two (2) years will be allowed for removal of timber.

CLIP THIS AND PIN ON WIFE'S DRESSER

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns or calluses so they lift off with fingers.

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone, tell him to order a small bottle for you.

TO DISCIPLINE MALINGERERS

The decision recently given by His Honor Judge Thompson in connection with the exemptions of miners calls forth the following commendation from the Toronto Globe:

While Labor as a whole has nobly responded to the call to service in the sphere of industry as well as in the fighting line, complaints are heard regarding malingering on the part of groups of men who, because of the need in essential industries, have been exempted from serving in the ranks of the combatants.

One of the most common forms of this malingering is, after working on Sundays, for which double pay is secured, subsequently to refrain from labor for days at a time. Two or three days appear to be quite common on the part of the most pronounced malingerers.

In view of the general scarcity of labor obtaining, this is a practice which naturally tends materially to curtail production. That this is particularly to be deprecated when such essential industries as shipbuilding, mining, and iron and steel are suffering from the practice there cannot be the slightest doubt.

In certain instances the managers of the essential industries have drawn the attention of the Military Registration Boards to this malingering on the part of exempted men, but they have been informed that they were not empowered to do anything in the premises. But while the Registration Boards appealed to have not been able to discover a remedy, Judge Thompson of the Appeal Tribunal of British Columbia has been more fortunate.

Judge Thompson, who is an old Toronto boy, being the youngest son of the late Thomas Thompson, recently held, in a decision which he gave at Fernie concerning 36 coal miners, "that men to whom exemption is granted are in the position of soldiers and must work as steadily and continuously as though they had donned khaki. . . There must be no malingering, no holidays other than specified, no letting up on the production of coal, but rather a speeding up. If it can be shown by the military authorities at any time that any man is not following the rules I am establishing, that man must understand that his exemption ceases, and he will at once become liable for military duty."

That this decision is founded on equity and justice there can be no doubt. If men drafted into the army are summarily dealt with in case of malingering it follows that those who are exempted from military service, because they are needed in essential industries, should not be free to neglect their duties at will.

Canada, as well as the Empire, is at the greatest crisis in its history, and it is demanded of every man that he "do his bit," in non-combatant as well as in combatant service, to the utmost limit of his ability. To malinger is to be unpatriotic.

PRESS COMMENT

Mr. Samuel Gompers, as no other man on this continent, speaks with the voice of organized labor. Parliament at Ottawa had an opportunity of hearing him and the members of both the House of Commons and the Senate listened to an inspiring address, replete with "straight from the shoulder" utterances which showed how deeply imbued Mr. Gompers is with the righteousness of the Allied cause. In these times when organized labor has not enhanced its reputation because of its attitude, under certain conditions, regarding our war efforts, it is refreshing in the extreme to find the one man on this continent who can speak in its name with authority able to tell in such clear and decisive language what are the issues at stake.

Mr. Gompers, if he has his way and his power is great, will permit no unrest in the ranks of labor until Prussianism is vanquished. We believe he speaks what is in the hearts of the vast majority of our workingmen. The unrest which occasionally breaks out is nurtured by paid agitators. The men themselves know how much is expected from them in this time or crisis, and Mr. Gompers rarely, if ever, fails in his appeals to the patriotism of his own followers. He is a man who is intensely admired in Canada. He is an international figure who has greatly increased his reputation by his staunch attitude on the war. His bigness is shown by the way he can go to the heart of problems. That is why he exercises such sway over organized labor on this continent. He represents the better sense of Labor, in that to workingmen who are worthy of the name the fate of their country is of more moment than the petty personal hardships which war has imposed. This is the gospel preached by Mr. Gompers, who has made himself a great power for good among the wage earners of the American continent. —Vancouver World.

For some considerable time now there has been a falling off in contributions to the Herald Tobacco Fund for soldiers overseas. This is unfortunate. One of the most comforting influences that can come to the fighting man in the midst of his trials and tribulations at the front is his smokes. When they fail him his lot is indeed hard. It costs the donor only twenty-five cents to send a package of smokes to a comrade at the front. Why not do it now? —Calgary Herald.

It is now the duty of each municipality in Canada to enforce the food regulations within municipal limits. Where conviction is obtained a fine not exceeding $1000 and not less than $100 or a period of imprisonment not exceeding three months, or both fine and imprisonment, will be imposed. The fine will be paid to the treasurer of the municipality if proceedings are instituted by municipal authorities.

A copy of an Old Country paper contans the following: "The rector of Austley, Herts, the Rev. Frank Williams, was fined £5 and costs at Buntingtonfield Sessions for food hoarding. He bought a live pig from a local farmer and converted it into bacon and salted pork for his own use. The ifarmer James Pegg was fined £5 also and costs for selling the pig to a prvi ate individual for his own use.

The town of Sandon presents a beautiful illustration of the practical economy of one man administration. The municipality went broke a few years ago, and a receiver was appointed, who was succeeded some months later by D. A. McClelland, who assumed charge in 1914 with a good many thousand dollars of indebtedness hanging over the town and public improvements gone to rack and ruin. In less than four years, Mr. McClelland paid off all indebtedness, expended in improvements the amount of indebtedness, and will turn over the affairs of the city with every dollar paid off, improvements in excellent shape and money in the bank.—Greenwood Ledge.

AUSTRIA'S "PEACE" FAKE

(New York Tribune)

Whatever Austria's purpose was in negotiating with the Allies and sending them communications such as the letter to Prince Sixtus, whether she really thought at any time of a separate peace or not, she accomplished the great end of keeping the Allies divided for many months, and so misleading this country that American war preparations have been delayed. The Italian disaster probably would never have taken place if this country at least had not believed in the possibility of detaching Austria from Germany. Unity of Allied action would have come sooner except for that same belief.

President Wilson would have thought less about peace offensives and more about our prompt and effective entrance into the war if he had not always been looking for some signal from Czernin. Altogether if it were not for the letter to Prince Sixtus and the present resignation, it would be plausible to explain Austria's diplomacy for the last year on the theory that the Austrian Premier was the tool of Berlin and had held out the hope of separate peace with Austria as a means of weakening this country and preventing unity of action with Italy.

The purpose of the recent disclosures, which have led to Czerin's resignation, is easier to understand. Just as the central powers preceded their drive into Italy and weakened Italian morale with the suggestion that peace was near, so they have sought to suggest to all the Allied armies that their governments have been negotiating peace just at the moment when they themselves were ready to launch their biggest drive.

First came Czernin's statement that he had sent his speech to President Wilson for the president's approval. That suggested this country was deeply involved in peace negotiations. Then came Austria's intimation of unofficial exchanges of views with representatives of Mr. Wilson. These stories met with no denials. Austria turned from Washington to Paris and made the same suggestions with regard to France Premier Clemenceau issued a sharp denial. Austria retorted with details. An interview between Major Armand and Count Revertata had taken place at Berne. Later came a further detail, that this conversation had been resumed.

Up to the present Austria had had all the best of the disclosures. She had told the armies of the Allies that their governments were negotiating for peace. She had sown the seeds of distrust of this country and France and England on Italy. She had shown the Slavs in her own territory who pin their faith upon the Allies and this country that the Allies were dickering with their hated ruler.

Then Clemenceau turned the disclosures against Austria by giving out the letter to Prince Sixtus. The publication of this letter was a desperate move. It inevitably destroyed the separate peace element in Austria, whatever that element amounted to and threw Austria over definitely to the Berlin militarists. And it restored the morale of the Allied nations, by showing that the peace moves were initiated by Austria herself.

UNION SERVICES

Interest in the Union meetings continues unabated in this the closing week. Through all of Mr. Robinson's addresses there runs a thread of humor which produces many a laugh. But there is also a brighter thread of love for his fellow men and devotion to God, which draws all hearts to the truth and love of the Father.

Those who have not as yet attended the meetings should not fail to do so.

On Sunday the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist churches will have union services at Hawthorne's hall both morning and evening.

It is with regret that we see these meetings drawing to a close, but we trust their helpful influence may long be with us to help and uplift.

All friends join in wishing Mr. Robinson, Miss Niven, Mr. Nichols and Mr. Crag, God speed as they continue their labors elsewhere.

"THE MAN IN THE GALLERY"

"The man that's in the gallery"
Has been making ripe comment
Of the show that passes before him,
Of course such things are never meant
For him to laugh and jibe at
Without measure, or of rule.
You don't mind him 'criticizing'
But, Oh you ridicule.

Now the man that's in the gallery
Sure has to pay the price
To see the 'show,' to hear the woe,
Which surely should suffice.
To see, to tell of what he sees,
It sometimes is amusing,
But then, you know, the Holy show
Was never of his choosing.

So when he barks his gay remarks,
They're always without rancour.
He spews the chaff to make you laugh
That's something to be thank't for.
And, Mr. Editor, like you he thinks the players good and true,
They try the turn wrote for 'em,
At time of choice he raised his voice,
And 'damit' voted for them.

But in Act Two the scene is changed,
And the hero he begins to fret,
Now the man in the gallery
Has mentioned all of this before,
And tho' gallery rhymes with salary,
Why, quoth the raven, nevermore.

Let the curtain come down on Act 2,
He'll away to summer scenes,
And down the long, long trail he'll hike
To the land of pleasant dreams.
He saw—or was it a dream—A fat cop trying out his wings,
His antics they would ope your eyes,
But then, ye ken, a big fat hen, looked such a goodly prize.

In the spring a young man's fancy
Lightly turns to thoughts of love,
And the cat goes caterwauling
To his little turtle dove.
You might be somewhat credulous
At a new born idea found,
For if they 'pound' the chicken, the gophers and the rats,
When will they get a move on and pound the 'ruddy cats.'

Now then, Mr. Editor,
This may be the merest drool,
And there's neither fear nor favor
In this bunch of ridicule,
But the other morn at half-past four,
That is by "Potter's time,"
I hiked way out to watch the stars
For they help you with your rhyme.

I wandered down the Avenue,
That is the one called Dalton,
And heard a shrieking, squealing noise
Behind the house of friend Dan Alton.
Now, this may sound ridiculous,
You may think it friendly chaff,
But our good friend Dan, with many a damn,
Was giving the pig his morning bath.

And now I'll leave our good old friend,
His name I should not mention,
I'll ramble on and tell you of
That 'dollar a minute' convention.
There was Baggs and Waggs and
Davie Rags,
Likewise big Pat McGurk,
A prairie bunch with quite a punch,
That said they wouldn't work.

I do not blame our brainy friends,
Who neither work nor think,
They may be heavy on the talk,
But heavier on the drink.
Who was it took the lid off?
I think you'll all surmise,
Our law struck 'Board, played a ay
chord,
And gave 'em a wet surprise.

And when I say, the lid was off,
You'll say, That is exaggeration,
But then we differ in our views
On nearly every situation.
The rows of kegs, the shaky legs,
That aromatic Fort Steele scent,
Oh, yes, its true! Twas simply due
To that frisky dope, Old two per cent.

The wise men down at Ottawa
Have sent out an ultimatum,
That able bodied citizens
Should get an occupation.
In Fernie town there's lots of ginks
Who think they're showing off,
And so they've wired Borden
That they're going to work at goff.

Don't accuse me now of buttin' in,
So here's a word to them that's wise,
I'll shut up shop on ridicule
And will simply criticize.
I have a Scottish friend with me
Who'll bean me if I start to scoff,
Tho' we walk from Dan to Beersheby
We'll tell you of the game of goff.

I cannot stand for any mutt
Who maybe through some little bias
Will forget his inborn love of truth
And compete with our friend Ananias.
There's scores of little wops with glee
Will step the course and watch the flunker,
Who'll make a par'ss and blame the grawss
For his little mixed-up bunker.

Old Shaky wrote of slings and arrows,
And Bobby Burns wrote odes to sparrows,
But here's a 'pote' who'll mount Pegasus
And take a ride to Mount Parnassus.
The game of goff makes lots of talk,
And "Holy Willie's" ever squak,
The cops may fly, the pigs may squeal
And two per cent might sometimes steal
Your sense of motion. Now pay heed
For I'm going to tak
About a common or garden thing
That's known as Fernie's sidewalks.

And so next week just watch these pages,
Don't move your collar; just keep cool,
I'm sure to hit a hundred places
And it surely will be ridicule.
And good friend, Mr. Editor,
I think that you'll agree
That 'ridicule' does lots of good,
As seen up in the gallery.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving Memory of My Dear Husband, Pte. Thomas Patrick Shields, who died of wounds, May 3rd, 1917, at Vimy Ridge.

He bore the pain, he bore it well,
And what he suffered none can tell;
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
Life's weary pain and suffering are past.
Death divides, but memory lasts,
Not my will but Thine, O Lord.

Day by day we miss you, Daddy,
Words would fail our loss to tell,
But in heaven we hope to meet you,
Evermore with you to dwell.

VINOL MAKES GOOD BLOOD

Positive—Convincing Proof

Many so-called remedies for anaemia are only so in name. Their makers are afraid to prove their claims by telling what their medicines contain.

The only way to be honest with the people is to let them know what they are paying for. Here is the Vinol formula. When the doctor knows what a medicine contains, it ceases to be a "patent" medicine.

℞ Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascarin.

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol, as named above, will enrich the blood and banish anaemia and create strength. When the blood is pure and rich and red, the body is strong and robust.

You can prove this at our expense because your money will be returned if Vinol does not improve your health.

"A DAUGHTER OF THE GODS"

A Marvelous Film Spectacle Which Exalts the Eternal Feminine Framed by the Glories of the Tropic Sea—At the Isis Theatre, Monday and Tuesday, May 5th and 6th.

(Reviewed by W. Stephen Bush)

The great and growing gallery of American screen classics has been enriched by a new production, which ranks the very best. Enthusiastic as this may sound, it is still far from anything like a full appreciation of William Fox's "A Daughter of the Gods." The play with this singularly happy and strikingly appropriate title was presented to an invited audience at the Lyric Theatre on the night of Oct. 17.

Of all the great film spectacles now appealing to popular favor few will enjoy greater and, I think, longer popularity than "A Daughter of the Gods." To begin with, the subject is the most cheerful and the most charming of any of the big features. Every man, woman and child that goes to the theatre wants to be delighted and entertained first of all. Now, here is a spectacle which fills us with genuine wonder. No nursery was ever hushed into more attentive silence than the audience which followed the marvelous succession of scenes of supreme beauty unfolding themselves on the screen. I would as soon think of testing Grimm's fairy tales for syllogisms or dramatic sequence as applying ordinard standards to this clever and most delightful flattery of the human eye. No need for the title builder to urge a return to the days of our childhood. The spirit of this happiest time in our lives grips us before the film is fairly under way. We are beguiled, we are bewitched, we lose the perception of time and we get back to the naked realities of life like one who is waking from a lovely dream.

Beauty is the keynote of the film. Beauty and symmetry of the female form, grace, suppleness, strength glowing health, modesty are but single items in this catalogue of human beauty. Added to this are natural beauties which overpower the most blase of critics and knock his best epithets and adjectives into smithereens. Even the colorful word painting of such a master as Lafcadio Hearn could not translate into language the ineffable majesty of this sea and must fail to portray its moods which are in turn calm and alluring, tempestuous and terrifying, now wooing with gentle waves the favor of the sweet and elusive mermaids, now tossing its angriest billows against "the daughter of the Gods." And the glowing beauties of the shore. The one scene where Miss Kellermann, in obedience to the Good Fairy's command, begins to arm her troops of gnomes and elves, is one of ravishing beauty. Not that this scene is in any way more glorious than any other; there are no blanks anywhere in this production as far as art and beauty go. The dive from the high tower, the race with expert swimmers, the battle with the treacherous surf and the jagged rocks, the dance of the mermaids on the shore, the play of the mermaids, their sweet sleep in the water, the marvelous performance of Miss Kellermann in the rapids and in the falls of unexcelled beauty, the crystal clearness of the ocean, whose waters for a depth of many feet allow free access to the camera, the splenors of the Oriental City, the glories of the Sultan's palace, the great and agitated masses, the exquisite charm of the children, the ingenious uses of the animal creation, the miracles of sunrise and sunset on the waters on whose brow "time writes no wrinkles," the dashing movement of mounted troops in full gallop, the burning of a city, the tragedy of the slave market, the clash of arms, the hosts of gnomes and elves and their strange homes and habits—all these are but a few leaves from this animated album of beauty. In all my experience as a film critic I have never seen such a fascinating and gripping prologue. It must have taxed the patience and the ingenuity of the director to carry out his very subtle and very appealing conception. To make the illusion of these early scenes perfect and win the spectator's heart without a moment's delay, he not only had to have a real "picture mind," but he must have given infinite pains to all the details. His success here was complete. The spell works from the very rising of the curtain and it is most cunningly sustained to the last. I, for one, kept no track of the reels nor cared to keep track. All I know is that I was sorry when it was over.

Don't mistake the date and place—Isis Theatre, Monday and Tuesday, May 6th and 7th.

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN

Make this beauty lotion cheaply for your face, neck, arms and hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It is marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands,

CORRESPONDENCE TO ENEMY COUNTRIES

With regard to the arrangement instituted whereby correspondence of a private and family nature can be forwarded from individuals in Canada to persons in enemy and enemy occupied territory through the medium of Thos. Cook & Son, 530 St. Catherine St., W., Montreal, difficulty is being caused owing to persons remitting the charge for forwarding these letters (35c) by postage stamps instead of by means of a postal note for 30c with five cents in postage affixed thereto.

The attention of persons sending such correspondence is particularly directed to this as in future where the charges are remitted by means of postage stamps the letters will be returned to the senders.

TO THE GLORY OF GOTT!

How glorious are the victories standing to the credit of the Kaiser's famous long-range gun! That Good Friday triumph, with its slaughter of pious innocents praying in the church of St. Gervais, was followed on Wednesday by a fine center shot into the heart of a refuge for orphaned children, four of the little ones being murdered, and on Thursday by the dropping of a shell into a maternity hospital, its toll of death being one patient, one maternity nurse and one newly-born babe, while six patients, three infants and two probationary nurses were wounded—all to the glory of the kaiser's "Gott."

And yet there remains at large in this country a few asinine writing persons, like one attached to the Metropolitan Magazine, who keep harping upon the advisability of more talk on the subject of why this nation, believing in justice and civilization, is at war!

This nation is engaged in a mighty war of defense against the thing which chortles with glee over the murder of those new-born babes, of those mothers in the pangs of childbirth, of those orphaned children, of those pious worshippers of a merciful God—against the beast called Frightfulness, spawn of Prussianism and savagery, whose lair is Berlin and whose bidding is slavishly, willingly and joyfully done by the whole of the German people.

This nation is at war because it knows that if Germany is victorious in its onslaught upon civilization the American people and all the liberty-loving peoples of the earth will become slaves to that beast, that monster, that horrible thing.—New York Herald.

Capt. H. A. Pearson, of the Military Y. M. C. A., will address a meeting in the Grand Theatre on Thursday, May 9th.

Vast Issues Depend Upon the Welfare of Our Men!

Cheer Up and Thank God for the Y.M.C.A.

TRY to picture yourself in the muddy cold trenches after exciting days and long nights of mortal danger and intense nervous strain. Rushing "whiz-bangs" and screaming "coal boxes" are no respecters of persons. You are hit! But despite shock and pain you still can face the long weary trudge back to dressing station. Weary, overwrought and depressed, you are prey to wild imaginings of that other coming ordeal with the surgeon. There are other "walking wounded," too! You must wait, wait, wait. And then—

Up comes a cheery Y.M.C.A. man, the ever-present "big brother" to the soldier, with words of manly encouragement. Close beside the dressing station the good generous folks at home have enabled him to set up a canteen. He hands you biscuits, and chocolate or coffee.

"In thousands of cases," writes an officer, "it was that first hot cup of coffee that dragged the man back to life and sanity."

The tremendous helpfulness of the Y.M.C.A. as an aid to the "morale," or fighting spirit, of the soldiers is everywhere praised. No wonder the Germans make every effort to smash the Y.M.C.A. huts out of existence.

The Y.M.C.A. is everywhere. You first met the helpful, manly Y.M.C.A. worker in camp, then on train and boat, at camp in England and in France, close to the firing line. Often he risks his life to reach you in the trenches. He has won the warmest praise from military authorities, statesmen—the King!

Have you a precious boy at the front? You cannot be "over there" to guide him away from fierce temptations of camp and city. You cannot comfort him in his supreme hour of trial. Your parcels to him are necessarily few. But the Y.M.C.A., thank God, is "over there," going where you cannot go—doing the very things you long to do—doing it for you and for him.

Will you help? This vast organization of helpfulness needs at least $2,250,000 from Canada for 1918. For your boy's sake be GENEROUS!!

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

An entire Caribbean island and all of its population utilized by William Fox to assist his actor principals in the making of the picture.

Time required to build the tropical city and equip it, three months; then eight months more of work making the picture.

A special municipality created and governed by William Fox for his thousands of employees. Special refrigerating and laboratory plants built and maintained for the development of the film.

There was no loss of human life in the making of even the most hazardous scenes.

Twelve hundred women were employed in Jamaica to make the magnificent costumes in "A Daughter of the Gods."

Annette Kellermann, star of "A Daughter of the Gods" and the greatest water sprite of the century, is a native of Australia.

Twenty thousand persons appear in many of the stupendous scenes of William Fox's million dollar picture.

A hundred photoplayers and a large staff of technical experts spent eleven months in Jamaica making "A Daughter of the Gods." The weekly payroll was $22,000.

Shipbuilders were brought from Egypt to construct the curiously fantastic Byzantine vessels which are in "A Daughter of the Gods."

In 1900, William Fox, who spent an unparalled amount of money for a silent drama production, had just $675 in the bank.

Annette Kellermann's dive from the tower in "A Daughter of the Gods" means a drop of 103 feet.

Most of the terribly busy gnomes in "A Daughter of the Gods" are, in reality, little "black boys" from the West Indies.

More than a thousand tons of properties and costumes were sent from the United States to Fort Augusta, where William Fox's million dollar Kellermann spectacle was screened.

Mrs. Irene Lee, mother of Jane and Katherine, the most famous children in motion pictures, was in charge of the costume department for William Fox's "A Daughter of the Gods."

ELKO NOTES

(By Fred Roo)

When the birds begin to sing,
The Poets think it's spring,
But it never seemed to like that at all,
The gentle season cometh,
When Tom Gill's bees hummeth,
And Doc Rutledge hollers out, Play Ball.

Allen Walker, Vancouver, no relation of Johnny, was in Elko this week the guest of Mrs. T. Purcel Hardman, his sister in law, wearing a great west smile on his face.

Our old college chum, Joe McMullern, author of "Where there's soap, there's always hope," with Royal Crown soap, perfumed and unscented. Joe and the writer were at the meeting in the old Princess theatre, Winnipeg, when Hugh Sutherland, that prince of platform orators, exhibited the first railroad tie cut for the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway in the early 80s. Joe is one of the best salesmen on the road and we have known him sell snowshoes at a summer picnic. He is condensed sunshine, and after he has gone the streets seem dark and sad. You know how gloomy the heavens look just after a shooting star has passed.

Jim Thistlebeak says that it doesn't follow because a woman's face is made up that her mind is.

Our business is to make friends. This wave of popular patronage is the result of supplying the best in the best way at the lowest possible per cent of profit. It pays to advertise if you have the goods. For the man who hollers down a well about the goods he has to sell will never reap the golden dollars like he who climbs a tree and hollers.

They were discussing husbands. Said the first: I have been married three times. All of my husbands are dead, though; they were all cremated. Her friend was a dear old maiden lady and when she had concluded the sad story of her life, said: How wonderful are the ways of Providence. Here I have lived all these years and have never been able to get one husband, and you've had husbands to burn.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Lawe, Miss McGraw, Engineer J. Falconer and the American Consul, of Fernie, motored down to Roosville and Gateway on Sunday, going via the Roosville Valley route.

Mr. and Mrs. Rube Tiffen, with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ingham and daughter Jean, of Cranbrook, motored to Elko on Sunday and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hirtz, Dreghorn Castle, Riverside Park.

The Winnipeg and Western Grocer is one of the most popular trade journals of the west. Bob Wilson, the editor, is a live wire and is always boosting the travellers and the travellers are always boosting the paper.

Quite a number from Elko attended the farewell dance given by the boys of the 107th at Morrissey who were leaving for overseas service. Several had the misfortune to miss the train back but were royally entertained until next day.

Jim Thistlebeak, who was a Cranbrook visitor last week, says the town is so dry that the young bullfrogs don't get a chance to swim.

Patriotism, says Jim Thistlebeak, is absolutely no occupation for a man with a weak voice.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Letcher of the Square Deal Ranch, Roosville Valley, motored to Elko this week and were the guests of Miss E. May Roo.

If you want to meet people, come to Elko, the Queen City of the Pass. Over 100 well filled automobiles from outside points visited Elko last Sunday. McGladrey Bros., Fernie, brought down a party of 17 of Fernie's young cut-ups, with a photographer from Chile, and now we know why the flowers grow wild.

IMPORTANT POINTS IN HATCHING CHICKENS

During the hatching season the poultry house and particularly the nest should be kept clean. Clean water and a supply of whole grain should be accessible to the sitters and a dust bath should be provided also. If more than one hatch is being taken off, clean out and disinfect the nest after each hatch and put in new sod and fresh litter. Dust the hen with insect powder before putting her in the nest and again a day or two before leaving the nests with the chicken. It is a good plan to put into the dust bath a little dry sulphur or ground tobacco.

Be sure also that the house is free from mites. These little pests get into the cracks and corners of the building and at night, as the hens are resting, they come out of their hiding place, get on the hen's body and it does not take very many of them to make a hen so uneasy that she cannot sit. In some cases the mites become so troublesome that they actually worry the hens to death.

How to Get Rid of Mites—Clean out the house and thoroughly sweep, not forgetting the windows, walls and the ceiling. When this is all swept out clean, use a garden hose or a stiff brush and hot water. See that everything in the cracks and crevices is washed out. After this is done allow the house to dry for a while and if everything then appears to be clean, use a good disinfectant and be sure that the solution is forced by the spray or brush right into the cracks and crevices. If the mites are bad, use boiling water followed by coal oil and a liquid lice killer or lice paint. Be sure that this goes into the cracks and crevices and when you have gone over your house thoroughly according to the above treatment, in all probability the mites will be exterminated, but it is advisable in the course of three or four days again to inspect for the mites and perhaps to repeat the dose once more.

IN THE AIR

Evidences of Allied superiority in the air abound. A French estimate is that in the six weeks preceding the opening of the offensive the British and French aviators destroyed a thousand German airplanes, thus obtaining a good margin of advantage that stood them in good stead during the trying days of the great offensive.

It would not do, however, to assume that the issue in the air has been definitely and finally settled in favor of the Allies. There have been in this war alterations of air supremacy—new machines or new methods of fighting turning the scale now one way, now the other. Reports are coming out of Germany of surprises in the air about to be launched, in the form of more efficient machines.

There is, however, grounds for hoping that the Allied margin will be maintained and widened. It is reasonable to assume that Germany planned a maximum of air power to keep march with her great offensive on land, and her unquestionable inferiority, at a time when the need for efficient air service was greatest, would appear to suggest that in this respect Germany has been overmatched.

The German losses in machines are probably not as serious as their losses in men. A crashing machine means, nine times out of ten, a lost pilot; and an experienced aviator cannot be readily replaced. With every Allied victory in the air the advantage which there is in having more well trained aviators thus increases.

It is not probable that Germany out of her own resources, can match the Allied effort, either in the production of machines or in the training of aviators. Something is known of the almost incredible efforts in these directions that are being made and every month will now see a substantial acceleration of Allied effort in the air.

There is therefore some reason to believe that the Allied superiority in the air, which has been so useful during the past six weeks, will increase steadily until the margin of advantage will be decisive.—Winnipeg Free Press.

FLOUR HOARDING IS NOW A CRIME

Ottawa, April 27.—In order to prevent hoarding or further to reduce wheat consumption in this country, so that Canada may send more to the Allies, where the cereal shortage is increasingly grave, the Canada Food Board today announced additional restrictions on holdings and use of wheat and flour. The order provides that no person with the exception of manufacturers of flour, bakers, confectioners, wholesale or retail dealers, or persons living at a greater distance than two miles from a licensed dealer, shall have in his possession more flour than is sufficient for his ordinary requirements for 15 days.

Any wholesale or retail dealer licensed by the Canada Food Board may not hold flour made wholly or in part from wheat, in excess of a quantity sufficient for his ordinary trade requirements for over 60 days.

On and after May 1, it will be illegal to feed or permit feeding of milling wheat, or any product thereof except bran and shorts, to live stock or poultry.

Offenders are liable to a fine of from $100 to $1000 or imprisonment for a period of about three months, or both fine and imprisonment.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get relief in five minutes by neutralizing acidity. Put an end to such stomach distress now by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by food fermentation due to excessive acid in stomach.

An actual photograph of Thomas Chalmers of the Metropolitan Opera Company singing in direct comparison with the New Edison. This is the famous tone test which proves that the voices of artist and instrument are indistinguishable.

Over 30 great artists have conducted these tests. More than 2,000,000 people have attended them. And in not one instance has a listener been able to note a shade of difference between the two renditions. Not one has succeeded in detecting when the living voice ceased and the instrument continued alone.

TEACHERS GET WAR BONUS

The city fathers met in regular session last night with all the official chairs occupied.

With the disposition of the minutes for the previous meeting, His Worship announced that in the absence of Dr. Corsan, Dr. E. L. Garner had assumed the duties of Medical Health Officer.

Correspondence was then taken up. The first two communications were appeals for contributions for patriotic work but these were left over until the next meeting in order that further information will be available.

A letter from the school board was then considered and S. Herchmer, the chairman of the board, being present, His Worship requested that possibly Mr. Herchmer could present additional details for the enlightenment of the council in connection with their request. Mr. Herchmer went into the matter, which was in effect that the council endorse the decision of the school board to increase the salaries of the high and public school staffs on the basis of a $10 war bonus. The amount required to meet this proposed outlay will be $2300 and in support of the application Mr. Herchmer very clearly and concisely pointed out that the teachers were equally as entitled to this consideration as other civic employees who had received periodical increases commensurate with the increased cost of living. The efficient staff here was also a factor in prompting the board to recommend the salary increase, as they were desirous of maintaining the present staff. When Mr. Herchmer concluded his first address a more or less animated discussion followed. Ald. Jackson in expressing his views intimated that he did not feel council should take such a step without learning from outside sources what procedure had been adopted, and in any event he was of the opinion that the highly paid teachers should not be granted any bonus. Mr. Herchmer at once pointed out that the large majority of teachers were receiving from $75 to $90, while only four received over the larger of those amounts, and in any event such a method savored of discrimination. Ald. Brooks was opposed to granting this bonus, while those of the council who favored the action were His Worship and Aldermen Beck, Dudley and Dicken. The matter was concluded by a motion by Beck-Dudley: That the sum of $2300 be added to the civic estimates to cover war bonus asked for by the school board. This motion was declared carried, Aldermen Jackson and Brooks dissenting.

An application for the purchase of Lot 10, Block 62, was received but the city will obtain title to the property before making any transfer.

Application for the installation of window lights in the stores in the Miners Hall building will be granted as soon as the proper motion can be prepared.

The city engineer presented his monthly report and satisfactory progress in connection with the river bank protection work was reported.

The city clerk announced that he had completed the assessment roll and the notices had been mailed. The court of revision to deal with claims from assessment will sit on Monday, June 24. The court will consist of His Worship, and Aldermen Beck, Dicken, Rutledge and Dudley.

When the formal motions were presented authorizing the payment by the city of commissions awarded by statute in connection with dog tax and pound fees, Ald. Jackson started a lively little chat and emphatically declared that the by-law must be enforced to the letter of the law.

In connection with the traffic by-law to which is attached two amendments, after discussing the lack of adherence to any rigid traffic regulations by drivers of power vehicles, it was decided to further amend the speed limit increasing it from 8 miles per hour to 15 miles per hour, and then in the near future to consolidate all traffic by-laws in a new by-law. The city engineer was instructed to erect sign boards warning drivers approaching the city limits that a speed of fifteen miles per hour was not to be exceeded within the city limits. Two special boards for the exclusive use of the city are to be erected in suitable places.

Council adjourned at 10 p.m.

COMMUNICATIONS

Gladstone Local Union 2314, U.M.W. of America. P.O. Drawer 829. Phone 133.

Editor Fernie Free Press:

Dear Sir—The above Local Union would esteem it a favor if you would insert in your well known paper the following:

Owing to the asperations cast on some of the collecting committees by some of the trades people of this town, we do go on record that we have full faith and confidence in the collecting committees now and in the past. It is owing to their untiring efforts that the various funds remain the success they are.

On behalf of the above Local Union.

In anticipation Ithank you,

Yours truly,
H. Martin, Secretary.

Editor Fernie Free Press:

Dear Sir—I would esteem it a favor if you will allow me to correct an item which appeared in your paper of the last issue. It states that the miners of Fernie took a holiday May 1st, the Socialist holiday. May 1st is not a Socialist holiday but an agreement holiday. The same holiday is recognized throughout England.

In connection with the haulage hands having a kick, I may state that none of the exempted men had anything to do with the kick, although they have got one. Also, as soon as it was pointed out to the other boys that they had made a mistake, they returned to work without further trouble. We would request that you be a little more lenient with the miners. You must remember that the wealth of Fernie, if there is any, comes from the end of the pick, and that is the point.

Yours truly,
H. Martin.

(Ed.—Harry is right in this matter. We have looked up an authority on the matter and find the following on May-day in the Twentieth Century Encyclopaedia:

(From 20th Century Encyclopaedia)

May-day—The 1st of May. From an early period it was the custom for all ranks of people in England, France and other European countries, to go out "a Maying," as it was called, early on the 1st of May. In all parts of England at the dawn of May-day, the lads and lasses left their towns and villages and repaired to the woodlands with music and singing. They gathered the May, or blossoming branches of trees and bound them with wreaths of flowers. Returning home by sunrise, they decorated the lattices and doors of their dwellings with the sacred scented spoils, and spent the rest of the day in sport and pastimes. According to Bourne, the after-part of May-day was chiefly spent in "dancing round a tall pole, which is called a Maypole, which, being placed in a convenient part of the village, stands there, as it were, consecrated to the goddess of flowers, without the least violation offered to it in the while circle of the year." At one time, as we can see from the writings of Craucer, Shakespeare, Browne and others, the customs of May-day were not only observed by the vulgar, but also by royal and noble personages. The Maypole became very popular and was raised in every town and village; and Robin Hood, Friar Tuck, Maid Marian and the Morris-dancers, together with other fantastic masquers and revellers, performed their antics round the May-day pole in every town and city. These customs gradually fell into disuse, till the celebration of the day was left entirely to the chimney-sweeps, with their "Jack in Green," who still goes about on May-day in their tawdry finery, merely to beg money from the street spectators. In some country villages, however, a feeble attempt at "going a Maying" is made at the present day.

FAIR WAGE OFFICER HERE

F. E. Harrison, Assistant to the Director of Coal Mining Operations for District 18, of Calgary, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in the city, when certain disputes between the local company and the employees were considered. In speaking of the recent joint conference held at Ottawa, when representatives of the employees, the operating mining companies and the railway officials met the officials of the Dominion government, Mr. Harrison expressed satisfaction at the result because arrangements are now under way whereby with the diligent co-operation of all parties interested it is expected that the output of coal, exclusive of coke, in District 18, will be increased a million and a half tons.

A party of Kalispell capitalists who are interested in the timber limits on the Kootenay river, were in town on Wednesday.

Hartley Wilson, who has been spending a month in Toronto, returned home on Saturday. Mrs. Wilson and the children will remain in Toronto for a few weeks.

NAVY LEAGUE IS FORMED

A meeting of citizens interested in the formation of a local branch of the Navy League of Canada was held in the city hall on Monday, May 6, Mayor Thomson in the chair.

Mrs. Neroutsos, the organizer for the B.C. Division, addressed the meeting, setting forth the aims and objects and explaining in detail how the Navy League of Canada came to be formed. Mrs. Neroutsos gave a very interesting and enlightening address on the work of the British Navy and the Mercantile Marine, after which a local branch of the League was formed to be known as the Fernie District Branch Navy League of Canada.

Mayor Thomson was elected chairman, and W. J. Claridge, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Moffatt, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. W. R. Wilson, W. Madden, Waldo, W. R. Wilson, Dr. Garner and Rev. Yolland were elected to the executive.

Objects of the Navy League of Canada:

The Navy League of Canada is the Canadian Branch of the Navy League of the British Empire, and is an association of voluntary members formed for the purpose of carrying out the following objects:

1—A thoroughly organized educational campaign in matters pertaining to the Navy and Mercantile Marine.

(a) By lectures.

(b) By the circulation of literature.

(c) By placing readers in public schools.

2—To raise funds for the relief of British and Canadian sailors and their dependents, for Sailors' Homes, Institutes and Hospitals in Canada and throughout the Empire.

3—To encourage volunteer Naval Brigades for boys and young men in which they can receive practical and theoretical instruction in seamanship to prepare them for service in our Mercantile Marine.

It shall be a fundamental principle of the League that its objects, membership, management and conduct shall be absolutely unconnected with and free from all party politics and from every organization connected with party politics.

Membership Fees—

Founders, Life Members (eligible only to those who enter the first year of organization) $100.00.

Members, $2.00 annually.

Associate Members (without vote) $1.00 annually.

Junior Members (without vote) (18 years and under) 25c annually.

WARNING TO THE PUBLIC

The following telegram has been received by the Fernie Food Conservation Committee:

Victoria, May 8th, 1918.

Food Conservation Committee,
Fernie, B.C.

Give utmost publicity to the need of consumers returning to dealers surplus flour and sugar before May 15th, according to Food Board's orders recently announced in newspapers. Otherwise liable to heavy fines and confiscation to Crown. All police officers to enforce the law. Ignorance of the law will be no excuse.

B.C. Committee Canada Food Board.

The following is the law in regard to the above:

1. No person shall hold or have in his possession, or under his control at any one time, cane sugar more than is sufficient for his ordinary requirements for a period not exceeding fifteen days, except as hereinafter provided:

(a) A person at a greater distance than two miles, and less than five miles from a dealer licensed by the Canada Food Board, may have in his possession, or under his control, cane sugar not more than is sufficient for his ordinary requirements from a period not exceeding thirty days; a person living at a greater distance than five miles, and less than ten miles from a dealer licensed by the Canada Food Board, may have in his possession, or under his control, cane sugar not more than is sufficient for his ordinary requirements for a period not exceeding sixty days; and a person living at a distance of ten miles or more from such dealer, may have in his possession, or under his control, cane sugar not more than is sufficient for his ordinary requirements for a period not exceeding one hundred and twenty days.

(b) A manufacturer licensed by the Canada Food Board using cane sugar in the manufacture of his products, and a wholesale dealer and a retail dealer licensed by the Canada Food Board, may have in his possession, or under his control, cane sugar not more than is sufficient for his ordinary trade requirements for a period not exceeding 45 days.

2. This order shall not apply to manufacturers of cane sugar.

3. Any person holding, or having in his possession, or under his control, cane sugar in quantities greater than is prescribed in this order, shall forthwith return such sugar to the dealer from whom it was purchased, and such dealer shall accept same if it be in good condition, and pay for same at the purchase price, or at the current market price, whichever be the lower; and if the same be not purchased, the facts and circumstances shall forthwith be reported to the Canada Food Board by the said dealer.

4. In addition to the penalties for violation of this Order, as provided, any cane sugar hereafter held or purchased in excess of the amounts herein prescribed may be seized after the 15th day of May, 1918, by the Canada Food Board, and such sugar so seized shall thereby be forfeited to His Majesty, and shall be disposed of as this Board may direct from time to time.

5. Any person violating any of the provisions of this Order shall be liable to the penalties enacted in the Order of His Excellency, the Governor General in Council, dated the 12th day of March, 1918, in which penalties are provided by the following clauses:

(a) Any person violating any of the provisions of these regulations, or any Order made thereunder, or obstructing or impeding any officer or person enforcing or carrying out any order made thereunder, is guilty of an offence, and shall be liable on summary conviction before a Police Magistrate or two Justices of the Peace to a penalty not exceeding one thousand dollars, and not less than one hundred dollars; or to imprisonment for a period not exceeding three months, or to both fine and imprisonment.

(b) Where the proceedings in any case in which a fine is imposed under the authority of these regulations are instituted at the instance of any municipality, or by any officer of a municipality, the fine shall be paid to the Treasurer of such municipality to be disposed of as the municipality may direct from time to time.

The provisions regarding flour are identically the same as the above, with the exception that in clause (b) the time is sixty days.

NEXT MEETING IN FERNIE

Fernie's delegate to the Provincial Convention of the G.W.V.A., held at New Westminster on May 1, 2 and 3, returned last Saturday evening and reported a very successful convention. Morning, afternoon and evening sessions were held on the 1st and 2nd and the convention finished business at 3 p.m. Friday.

Numerous important resolutions dealing with Enemy Aliens, Friendly Aliens, Returned Soldiers employment problems, etc., were brought down and adopted.

The Provincial Secretary reported that through the representations of the G.W.V.A. the Provincial government had recently enacted a bill to amend the Wills Act, in regard to soldiers serving. Also, the government had definitely promised to reclaim certain lands in the province and place same for soldier settlement.

The next Convention is to be held in Fernie, B.C., and the local members feel honored in this regard.

The Provincial officers for this term are:

President—D. Loughlan, Vancouver.

Vice-President — W. Giloma, Victoria.

Rec. Sec.—H. Bartlett, North Vancouver.

Treas.—F. McSweyne, Vancouver.

MURMURINGS FROM THE MAN IN THE GALLERY

Editor Fernie Free Press:

There's a pretty funny crowd that always travels on the first car going up to Coal Creek. There's scarce a topic but what is due for lots of skits. Some are the result of cynic observations, some sarcastic; others have a tinge of merriment which shows that plenty of humor still abounds although the crowd daily work at the hardest manual labor which has very little comedy mixed up with its atmosphere of grime and tragedy.

Last week I went up to the Creek on a little business connected with the newly established wireless station where I am supposed to record the seismic disturbances which from time to time shake the tops off the hills and my business is to start the static electric juice into the empyrean—a sort of S.O.S. tender. This business necessarily makes me a subject highly sensitized and fit to intercept the slenderest pulsations of thought transmission. So when I heard a lot of merry Ha, Has, and prolonged guffas, I made sure that something unusual was affecting their risibilities. Hello, Tom, did you ever hear anything like this before? rang out the apparent leader of the gang, and he forthwith proceeded to outline something which I think for sheer ridicule beats even my sorry attempts at anything in that line.

The discussion seemingly had been on "The Man in the Gallery," promising a circus in the shape of a review of Fernie sidewalks. Now there didn't seem to be the slightest suspicion that yours truly was in any way connected up with the "Man in the Gallery," so I entered heartily into the fun. Tom Bones I will name him, because that really isn't his name anyhow, says: I can sure beat that gallery guy with poetry any day. How's this, Tom, to me. And he forthwith proceeded to recite:

I've got a little shack on Tin Can Avenue,
Right at the other end of town,
Tin Can Avenue's a street
Where the sidewalks hurt your feet
As they straggle up hill and then down.

Aw, coom off, broke in li'l Arthor. Here's something that 'as pep to 'it:

I've worked in No. 1 for years,
And been through lots of bumps,
The narrow squeaks get on your fears
And put you in the dumps,
But the closest call I ever had
Which nearly made my wife a mourner,
Was when trying to walk on Fernie's streets
Down by Old Dad's corner.
While trying hard to dodge a hole
That looked like hell without a bottom,
And trying hard to get across
I strikes a plank that's ruddy rotten.
As I went down the board goes up,
And what do you suppose,
She just goes zip, with a heluva clip
And bashes me on the nose.

That'll do for you, Artha. Poets is supposed to 'ave souls and there's nothing soulful about that, cuts in Buff Orpington Bill. Why, I went into the 'ole and pretty near lost me soul, and if that's not poetry were i'nt 'ospital for a month, says Arthur. Why didn't you sue the city? says Chicken Jenkins. Sue 'ell, said Arthur. The city says the sidewalks didn't belong to them and besides, says Arthur, they aint sidewalks anyhow; they're only kindling wood.

Ha! Ha! gurgles a merry soul sitting next to Jenkins. That reminds me. Do you remmber when Jim Taylor built his shoe shine palace. The city made him build it of sheet iron and all that kindling wood outside ready to burn his palace up. You guys make me tired, rings in a north-ender. But if you had to navigate between the school and Old Dad's you sure would be sick. I simply take the road for it. I can see where the mayor can get some fine advertising dope. 'E just wants to spend that five hundred bucks the city saved, on that strip between the Western Canada and Lockie McDonald's, and he'll get all the north-enders' votes next year.

Nothing doing, said Buff Orpington Bill. We chicken men want a little dig at that easy money. And besides, I hear he's going to buy a new flag for the school.

Just then the Coal Creek express arrived. Hiking up to my office on the hill and getting my ear warmers adjusted, now what do you think the 'etheric' started in to clatter. Tu. tu. Victoria sending. The Minister of wireless telegraphs is forwarding you by first mail an annual pass on the P. G. E.

Sincerely yours,
The Man in the Gallery.

THE WAR BONUS OF 1917

The following questions of some local interest, came up on the floor of the House of Commons on April 25:

Mr. Dechene:

1. What amount, if any was paid April, 1917, to the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company?

2. Who recommended said amount to be paid to the company?

3. Under what authority was said amount paid?

4. For what purpose was it paid?

5. Is said amount to be refunded to the Government?

Hon. Mr. Crothers:

1. $18,559.88.

2. The Minister of Labor.

3. That of the Governor General in Council.

4. To enable the prompt payment to the miners for the period November 16, 1916, to Feb. 5, 1917, of the wage bonus recommended by a commission appointed to report on the cost of living. This action was taken with a view to lessening the danger of a cessation of work in the collieries concerned, such cessation involving a public calamity.

5. The amounts were advanced to the different mining companies concerned on the understanding that the money would be so far as possible collected from the consumers, the mining companies not being themselves in a position to increase the prices for coal which had been delivered. A considerable amount has been collected from the consumers, but it has not been possible in dealing with the sums received always to determine if the dealings of a particular consumer have related exclusively to a particular colliery.

THE LATEST WAR NEWS

London, May 10. — British troops have re-captured a small portion of the front line trench which the Germans captured yesterday in an attack north west of Albert.

Paris, May 10.—The war office announced today that Sub-Lieut. Fonck brought down six German airplanes single handed in aerial combats today.

London, May 10.—Again the British Light Forces have succeeded in blocking the German submarine bases. Last night the obsolete cruiser Vindictive, filled with concrete and fitted as a block ship was sunk across the entrance to the Ostend harbor.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Some time ago when the discussion re the segregated district was on w warned the local preachers that serious results would be forthcoming if i were abolished. Already our sister city Lethbridge is in trouble over the matter, as the following editorial from the Herald will show:

"There are those who will say that Rev. Mr. Snow is reprehensible for publishing the fact that during the past six months there have been more than 30 births out of wedlock in the city of Lethbridge. And the Herald will be blamed for reporting the statement. The old argument will be used that the publicity will be bad advertising for the city.

"But in the opinion of the Herald the fact that 15 per cent of Lethbridge's birthrate during the past six months is due to illegitimacy is an appalling one, and the only remedy to prevent a continuance of the situation is the white light of publicity.

"And while Rev. Mr. Snow made it clear in his sermon that he was not having a slam at the city, nevertheless the facts brought out are such as to give the commissioner of police and safety pause as to whether or not the argument, that the recognition of a segregated district is the best preventon for this sort of thing, is not fallacious. It is a big question which is a live topic in Lethbridge just at present, and the subject should not be allowed to drop from any sense of false modesty. Rev. Mr. Snow is a man who is not actuated by any ulterior motive in exposing conditions. He cannot be charged with seeking cheap publicity. He has brought forcibly to the attention of the public a question that should demand the immediate attention of every parent in Lethbridge."

WHAT HINDENBURG SAID THIRTEEN MONTHS AGO

Amsterdam, April 10.—In an interview given by Marshal von Hindenburg to a representative of the Barcelona journal, Vanguardia, the marshal said:

"If the British fleet, with the help of the French, Italian, Russian and Japanses navies, has hitherto been unable to overcome the U-boat danger, the American fleet will not succeed either. The Entente has no weapon against the U-boats. The more ships there are on the ocean the greater will be the U-boats' booty.

"Even with the most intense work, and with the greatest support from the Entente countries in the sending to America of officers to give instruction, etc., no American expeditionary corps of any considerable strength can be expected to be ready for dispatch to Europe for at least a year. On the other hand, this year is, according to the statements of the Entente leaders, to bring the final decision. Moreover, we too have taken our measures.

"Nothing which happens on any front, in the sea, or in the air, should be regarded as an isolated phenomenon. Everything is part of one great plan. In this sense our army and navy have become one.

"Today, after only two months' U-boat warfare, I can already tell you that our calculation was correct. The course which we adopted with full appreciation of all the dangers which it entailed, is leading us to the goal. We have considered all possibilities, and acting on the best of human knowledge and conscience we have chosen those which will lead us to victory and a strong German peace."—Reuter.

It is instructive to read over at the present time the foregoing utterances of von Hindenburg 13 months ago — which even von Hindenburg himself would find instructive now, though anything but pleasant. The "strong German peace" which he so confidently announced as about to be achieved by the German might, under his direction, is as far as ever from being achieved.

WONDERFUL RED CROSS DIAMOND

On first thought it seems inappropriate to talk about a wonderful new diamond in war times. But the fact that this diamond has been donated to the British Red Cross makes it not only proper but necessary to speak of it at some length. For four years there has been a Red Cross sale at Christy's in London and each year some entirely unexpected treasure has formed the centre of interest. Until recently no attraction was presented for this year. But quite unexpectedly appeared this wonderful diamond, of the palest exquisite primrose yellow and of enormous weight for a diamond—surpassing all the famous diamonds known, except the "Stars of South Africa" (in the Imperial crown and the drop of the Royal Sceptre) and the Mattan diamond belonging to the Rajah of Borneo.

The famous Koh-i-noor in Queen Mary's crown weighs not quite 108 carats; the Regent or Pitt diamond, famous up to this time as being the only diamond showing a Maltese cross in the top facet, weighs 136¾ carats. The new diamond which weighs 205 carats is in the shape of a perfect square and shows a perfect Maltese cross in its top facet. It has the power of absorbing the rays of any brilliant illumination to which it is exposed and afterwards emitting them in phosphorescent light in the dark. The diamond was found in the De Beers Mines in Grinqualand West in 1901. So far it has not been named but will probably be known as the Red Cross Diamond.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Conquered Dyspepsia and Restored His Health.

MR. ROBERT NEWTON.

Little Bras d'Or, C. B.

"I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation for years. I had pain after eating, belching gas, constant headaches, and did not sleep well at night. I lost so much weight — going from 185 pounds to 146 pounds—that I became alarmed and saw several doctors who, however, did me no good. Finally, a friend told me to try 'Fruit-a-tives'.

In a week, there was improvement. The constipation was corrected; and soon I was free of pain, headaches and that miserable feeling that accompanies Dyspepsia. I continued to take this splendid fruit medicine and now I am well, strong and vigorous". ROBERT NEWTON.

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels— Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

HARRY LAUDER AND Y.M.C.A.

"Y.M.C.A. huts at the front are the Soldiers' 'home' from home—there is where he sits and talks of home," says Harry Lauder. "There he sits and dreams in the quiet rest he gets when he returns from his "hell" in the trenches. The Y.M.C.A. is where he meets a safe comrade. We must remember we sent our boys over there; we took the responsibility to send these men to defend us and we must not fail them; as they have covered themselves with glory let us show our pride by paying what we owe them. They have even given the last drop of blood. Let us do our best and give them our last cent."

"DODGING A MILLION" IS NEST OF SURPRISES

If ever there was a play shown on the screen that contained more thrilling mystery than Mabel Normand's first Goldwyn starring vehicle "Dodging A Million," the authors, Edgar Selwyn and A. M. Kennedy, would like to know it.

"Dodging a Million," which is to be shown at the Orpheum theatre on Friday and Saturday, has neither murders nor detectives to create suspense; but by a clever unfolding of a novel plot the interest is kept at high tension to the very end.

Everything is handled from the viewpoint of the heroine, Arabella Flynn, who is a humble dresser in a fashionable modiste shop. The spectator shares her wonder at the mysterious things that happen to her, beginning with the appearance of a strange young man who asks her the names of her mother, father, grandmother and grandfather and then hurries off and learns the complete facts only as fast as they are explained to her.

Events come thick and fast. An expressman delivers three trunks to her, numbered consecutively, and a letter containing a check for $800 and instructions to open the trunks one at a time on consecutive days. The first trunk contains beautiful clothes of the Civil War period; the second is filled with jewels, and the third holds bottles of a curious poison that brings death painlessly and instantaneously in three hours after taking.

To complicate matters a mysterious, but always polite, Spaniard with unlimited funds, suddenly appears near her and guides her in the purchase of more clothes and jewels, and otherwise helps her to live the life of a veritable princess.

Probably in all the screen career of Mabel Normand she has not had a part that has been as cleverly adapted to her charming personality, or that exhibits in succession the many phases of her histrionic ability. "Dodging a Million" is not the adaptation of a stage play but was especially written by Edgar Selwyn, the celebrated dramatist and author of "Nearly Married," in colloboration with A. M. Kennedy, to meet the requirements of the little star.

THE MAN WHO SAVED THE ARMIES

One of the greatest stories of the war when its history is compiled will be that of how Carey saved the British army at the Somme. It is only a month since the deed was done and as yet the particulars are somewhat meagre. The first time that Carey's name was ever heard in any public way was when Mr. Lloyd George made his speech telling of the tremendous German drive, and mentioning the fact that General Gough, of the Fifth army, had been recalled from France. While the Prime Minister said that the conduct of the army had been magnificent, he admitted that the withdrawal of General Gough's army had made a situation which for a time threatened disaster, and might have led to the Germans breaking through to Calais. This threatened disaster was averted by the wonderful initiative, courage and resourcefulness of one man — Brigadier-General Sandeman-Carey, and only the names of Carey and Haig were singled out for particular praise in the course of the Prime Minister's speech.

General Carey is a member of an old Guernsey family, and his brother, Rev. Canon Darell Tupper-Carey, canon residentary of York, and better known as a preacher than his brother as a soldier a month ago. General Carey is 51 years old and fought through the Boer War, where he commanded a battery of field artillery. There is evidence that he showed fine soldierly qualities in the present war, for his name was included among those who were made commanders of the Order of the Bath some time ago. Nevertheless, until the great crisis in his life arose, and it was also a crisis in the greatest battle the world has ever seen, and one might not exaggerate in describing it as a crisis in the development of civilization, there were many hundreds of British officers better known than Colonel Carey, who even now is only a brevet brigadier-general.

Whether an error of judgment on the part of General Gough or circumstances over which he had no control were responsible for the fact, a gap was opened between the Fifth army which he commanded and the Third army on his left flank. At the time a general retirement was taking place; the situation was critical at best, but was made desperate by a withdrawal of the Fifth army, which apparently was more precipitate than that of the other armies. The gap extended from a small town near Albert, called Sailly-Laurette, to the River Luce. Over this stretch there were no first-line or second-line troops, only a weak third line, behind which was Carey with his artillery. He appeared to be the only high officer in the neighborhood, and to him came terrible reports of confusion, of a break in the line, and of battalions and divisions wandering about in the darkness in an effort to rejoin their proper commands.

Carey grasped the situation immediately, and sending out dispatch-riders to report the situation, he set about gathering a force to stop the gap and hold up the Germans.

The force he managed to get together was gradually swelled by stray companies and stragglers, and though it retreated before the tremendous German pressure, it formed a bridge between the Fifth and Third armies, over which the cause of the Allies marched to safety. For five days Carey, riding in the thickest of the fighting, and escaping injury by another miracle, held up the Germans till reinforcements arrived and the danger was past.

THE U-BOAT LOSSES

(New York Evening Post)

We are prepared, after a week's or fortnight's unusually low submarine record, for a sudden rise. This week's tale of 11 big British ships sunk is not so large as might have been anticipated after two weeks with six and four big ships. Taking the last three weeks, with a total of 21 big British ships, we find the figures to be the lowest since the beginning of unrestricted submarine warfare, with the exception of two similar periods —three weeks last November with a total of 19 ships and three weeks last January with a total of 18 ships.

We are now rounding out the first quarter of the second year of the ruthless U-boat war. If we go back for 13 weeks from today to the middle of January we get a total loss of 138 big British ships and 66 ships under 1600 tons. Applying the formula of 4500 tons to the big ships and 1000 tons to the small ship—an average justified by the detailed tonnage statement from Sir Eric Geddes last month—we find that the tonnage loss for Great Britain, excluding marine accident, has been about 690,000 tons for the last three months. For marine accident we may add another 60,000 tons, as indicated in the Geddes report, which would give us a total of 750,000 tons for the quarter. The British losses last year by the quarter year were, 911,840, 1,316,870, 952,938' 782-889. The quarter just elapsed scores, therefore, a more favorable showing than the best three months of last year.

Use more honey, maple sugar, molasses, syrups to conserve cane sugar.

SAYS LEMON JUICE WILL REMOVE FRECKLES

Girls! Make this cheap beauty lotion to clear and whiten your skin.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.

SEALED TENDERS will be received by the Minister of Lands not later than noon on the 13th day of May, 1918, for the purchase of Licence G1333, to cut 1000 cords Cedar Fence Posts and 50,000 Ft. B. M. Spruce on an area adjoining S.T.L. 2755|p., Sand Creek, Kootenay District.

Two (2) years will be allowed for removal of timber.

WONDERFUL STUFF! LIFT OUT YOUR CORNS

Apply a few drops then lift corns or calluses off with fingers— no pain.

No humbug! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness.

This drug is called freezone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This drug freezone doesn't eat out the corns or calluses but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist don't have freezone have him order it for you.

Get Behind the Wheel of a Ford and Drive

TRY it just once! Ask your friend to let you "pilot" his car on an open stretch. You'll like it, and will be surprised how easily the Ford is handled and driven.

If you have never felt the thrill of driving your own car, there is something good in store for you. It is vastly different from just riding—being a passenger. And especially so if you drive a Ford.

Young boys, girls, women and even grandfathers—thousands of them—are driving Ford cars and enjoying it. A Ford stops and starts in traffic with exceptional ease and smoothness, while on country roads and hills its strength and power show to advantage.

Buy a Ford and you will want to be behind "the wheel" constantly.

VINOL MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG

Positive—Convincing Proof

We publish the formula of Vinol to prove convincingly that it has the power to create strength.

℞ Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascaria.

Any woman who buys a bottle of Vinol for a weak, run-down, nervous condition and finds after giving it a fair trial it did not help her, will have her money returned.

You see, there is no guess work about Vinol. Its formula proves there is nothing like it for all weak, run-down, overworked, nervous men and women and for feeble old people and delicate children. Try it once and be convinced.

WHEN GERMANY LOST THE WAR

That Germany "lost the war" when her U-boats sank the Lusitania and that peace will come next year when the full military might of America, combined with that of the Allies, is hurled against her, though the fighting may still be in France and Flanders, is the belief of military leaders as expressed by W. Beach Thomas, who is in America fresh from the British headquarters in France.

In "Current Opinion" for May this spokesman of the Allied high command goes further and says that the present great drive is Germany's acknowledgement that she must win now or never, and that German defeat will come in 1919 with the "armies not far from the cliff trenches that join the floods of Nieuport to the neighborhood of the Swiss mountains where the French are clinging to one small reach of German territory." He writes:

"Oscillations there will be, victories and defeats there will be at this spot and that spot on the line; and one day there will be a symptomatic defeat and victory from which any observer, whether he is seer or no, will be able to deduce with some certainty the progressive decline of one side or the other.

"It is inconceivable to the mind of any leaders among the Allies that this progressive decline—this spot on the fair fruit of the alliance—can appear among them while America, with her 100,000,000 people, and resources that defy arithmetic, is heart and soul in the cause. We may have defeats, but not progressive defeats. Those are reserved for the Central powers. When the first of this sort comes, peace will be in sight.

"Germany will not wait, neither her population nor her army authorities will permit it—till she tumbles back in successive failures upon her own frontiers, and the targets for the growing hordes of airmen come nearer and nearer and the boom of the liberty engine at last plays foreign music over German cities.

"American influence on the war will be irresistible; her ships, her men, her wealth, her will. When Tirpitz rose victor from the interview with Bethmann-Hollweg and the U-boats sank the Lusitania with a pair of torpedoes, Germany lost the war, whatever may be the date of the proclamation of peace.

"The cardinal reason of the new German offensive, up to and over the old battle ground of the Somme, is the conviction in Germany that 1919 is America's year, and that if Germany is to force any sort of victory she must force it in 1918, before America is ready—and not late in 1918.

"The German public has just come to understand that the U-boats, which drove America into the war, are failing, have failed, to compel a decision. In the everlasting see-saw between the arts of offense and defense, the defence, which was inferior, has begun to rise to a level.

"The people of the Central powers lost one ground of confidence after another, but this was the most solid. Early in the war some English residents were seriously warned by close friends in Germany to leave England instantly, as it would be made untenable by Zeppelins. Nearly all the general population of Germany believed this, as they will believe anything they are told, 'from above.'

"But one fetish after another has proved a false god; and now both public and the high command have been driven back to the old faith that the army and only the army is their shield and their buckler.

"To act as a shield alone was not enough, so they prepared, with little concealment—indeed with much advertisement of kaisers and Hindenburgs—to amass the biggest onslaught ever conceived by the mind of man or hatched in his factories. It was no secret to us.

"One of the many inestimable gifts that America will bring the Allies is a constant supply of this 'first courage,' and it will perhaps include new courage in the domain of general strategy as well as on the stricken field.

"If the period of the coming summer is bridged, as it will be, thenceforward the scale should swing quite quickly in the Allies' favor. American ships, guns, airplanes, and above all, men, will prove first an immovable buttress and later on an irresistible ram. If this inference is true, we come very near to finding a date for the end of the war.

"As soon as the weight is preponderingly against them, the Central powers will strain every nerve to make peace, at any rate before the winter of 1919, which will be America's year."

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhœa, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

Y.M.C.A. APPRECIATED AT THE FRONT

For many years the Y.M.C.A. has carried on work among the growing manhood of every country in the world and the effectiveness of this service is too well known to require elaboration. But it is during the past four years that this world wide organization has jumped into a wide breach to be of vital service to thousands of Britain's soldiers who are fighting on the various war fronts. Every little while we hear reports of "Y" secretaries who have been serving in this way in France but the following taken from a letter written by a Roman Catholic officer of the Field Ambulance Corps, will serve to strengthen these statements, coming as it does by one who has benefited:

"You speak of the Y.M.C.A. and that reminds me of what I owe them," he says. "I recall several bitter nights last March and April when it was my duty to help transfer the wounded. Take the Monday night of Easter, after the Vimy Ridge battle, for ordinary case. Right up close was a Y.M.C.A. outfit in the side of the bank near the trench where the wounded men were carried out and the well sent in to replace them. They like myself, wet and suffering with the cold, the poor mutilated devils with the pangs of thirst, andded to those of cold and agony, to suddenly come upon a hot cup of cocoa, tea or coffee with fine cakes and bread and butter, all for the asking without stint. God, if ever charity was practical here is proof positive.

"What occurred at ——— point was reproduced at hundreds of other points, for this war is without limits. Here a battle may rage and the air like hell with explosives — thirty sixty miles away the same is being repeated. My memory is that I would have paid ten dollars for that cup of coffee that was handed me with a smile by a bit of a boy. The hour I got my first cup was 11 p.m., and my second at 3.30 a.m., and the second was just as good as the first. What I got that night was only what many thousands shared. I write facts, not hearsay."

Then here is the statement by a German prisoner, captured not long ago on the Canadian front: "The reason you fellows show such good fight is easily understood, now that I am behind your lines and can see for myself. Your officers, canteens, Y.M.C.A.s and padres are backing you up. You have every reason to fight with such support close behind you. We are not so fortunate on our side of the line."

Can we expect the French, British and Italian soldiers to fight with destitution in their homes ?

FOOR REGULATIONS AND SOCIAL FUNCTIONS

Speaking at Regina on Saturday last with regard to Food Conservation matters, Mr. J. D. McGregor, Western Representative of the Canada Food Board, stated that an appeal would be made to all organizations conducting social functions at which food is served, whether for patriotic purposes or otherwise, to conform strictly with the regulations governing hotels and restaurants. If such an appeal is made we feel confident that it will meet with the entire approval and support of everyone who has at heart the welfare of our armies overseas.

Summer brings with it numberless picnics and other out of door entertainments at which refreshments are served. The mainstay of most of these is the ever popular sandwich in one form or another, although of course their use is not by any menas restricted to outdoor functions. When we consider that one of the main objects of the regulations referred to is the conserving of wheat flour bread, it must be admitted that the sandwich is really a most extravagant article of food. There are, however, plenty of substitutes which can and should be used instead. All that is required is the exercise of a little thought and ingenuity on the part of the refreshment committees.

The people of British Columbia should not wait to be appealed to on this score. Our various societies and organizations, patriotic and otherwise, should take the lead in the matter and announce that all refreshments served at future entertainments of any kind will be "war" lunches, dinners or suppers. This province was not behindhand in supplying men for the fighting forces and we are not to lag behind now when it is necessary to make sacrifices (which after all are small enough) to supply the fighting forces for our men and those of the Allies.

Surely no one who views this matter from the standpoint of patriotism and loyalty to the men who are fighting our battles will consider the Food Board's regulations as constituting a hardship. As a matter of fact we should be ready and eager to go them one better wherever possible and of our own accord do anything and everything within our power to bring about the desired result.

Instead of Meat, use Milk, Eggs and Cereals.

SERVICE TO THE NATION DEMANDS GOOD HEALTH

War is bringing home to every man, woman and child the fact that service to the nation is not a matter alone for the soldier and sailor and munition worker.

There is work, necessary work, for everyone to do, in the way of thrift and production and to do this work, health is the first essential. Even the most willing will find progress is slow if the health is bad.

Probably the most common complaint among those doing unaccustomed tasks is backache. Work may cause a tired feeling that will easily pass off but this backache that almost doubles one up is an indication of a condition of the system that needs treatment. The Kidneys are giving evidence of their weakness and the sufferer should be thankful for the timely warning given by this pain.

The quickest and surest relief from backache is a treatment with Gin Pills. Gin Pills are the tested specific for the healing of the Kidneys. Anyone who wishes to perform his or her full duty to the Nation in these strenuous times will find relief from backache in Gin Pills.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

Edwards, public representative, heard ten appeals for extension of exemption covering Class 1, category B, on the 3rd inst. The disposition of these cases was: One exempted until Aug. 1st. Three miners exempted for so long as they continue employment at the mines. Six claims were disallowed. The tribunal will sit on the 11th inst., when three claims are to be heard.

The extent of the damage from the fire in the Elk Lumber Co.'s Spruce Creek camp last week did not extend to any of the standing timber or stock in the bush but was almost totally confined to the old slashings. It was feared at first that serious loss might be suffered from this fire but fortunately those fighting the fire were able to prevent it spreading and weather conditions helped to extinguish it. The result is that practically no further danger is expected from fires in that locality during the dry season as the old debris has now been consumed.

A local sport who had a four hundred dollar cache of liquor concealed in a residence in West Fernie was surprised to find upon visiting the premises that it had vanished complete. We can fully appreciate his feelings. When prohibition came in, although not addicted to the cup that cheers, we purchased a quart bottle of the very best, and incidentally left it lying around for a few days and when a friend who was suffering from drought appealed for help we passed the bottle over, only to find that it contained a fine sample of cold tea. Our only satisfaction was that he was more disappointed than we were.

Keep Smiling

When skies are dreary, drab and grey,
Keep smiling.
Believe me, boy, it's the only way,
Keep smiling.
Yield not to gloom, whate'er befall,
Keep going, boy, though you can but crawl,
Don't quit the fight and begin to bawl,
Keep smiling.

If news from "over there" is bad,
Keep smiling.
Don't hoist the white flag yet, my lad,
Keep smiling.
The job may take some time to do,
But don't you get too all fired blue,
We'll yet have cause to shout, Hurroo!
Keep smiling.

This life is more or less a war,
Keep smiling.
It does no good, boy, to get sore,
Keep smiling.
When fate essays to knock you out,
Just counter with a wallop stout,
You'll win, I haven't any doubt,
Keep smiling.

Behind each cloud there lurks some joy,
Keep smiling.
I've proved its wisdom often, boy,
Keep smiling.
It's wisdom, boy, as I have said,
Good tactics, too, so grin ahead,
And, boy, in short until you're dead,
Keep smiling.

A great many visitors came from Gateway, Dorr, Waldo and the Roosville valley, the Sunkist Orchard Band supplying the music. A novel feature in many of the baskets, and which was greatly enjoyed by the young men, was a fine champagne flavored Tobacco Plains Cigar, and a most enjoyable time was spent by all participants.

VOLUME LX, No. 20 FERNIE, B.C., FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1918 WHOLE NUMBER 1060

SENTENCED TO DEATH

Late Wednesday night the Spring Assizes were concluded here when John Francis Walsh was found guilty of the murder of William Hall at what is known as Peterson's Camp 19, 30 miles up the valley of the Bull River from the townsite of that name, in November last, which, judging from the evidence adduced, the crime was of the most brutal and wilfully cold-blooded nature imaginable. Mr. Justice Morrison presided, while A. M. Johnson, deputy attorney general for this province, represented the Crown, and Sherwood Herchmer of this city appeared for the accused.

The story of the crime as related by the witnesses for the Crown was that late in October last four men, namely, William Hall, deceased, Oliver Anderson, Charles Lahey and accused, then known as John Young, transferred from Camp 20 to Camp 19 to open same and cut ties. For three weeks these men worked there, the first three working as partners, while the accused worked independently. For this period matters appear to have run along fairly smoothly, but five days before the tragedy, Lahey left; it being inferred that he was not satisfied to continue working there in company with the accused.

On November 18th, Timekeeper Marklund, in consequence of information received, arrived from Peterson's headquarters camp and informed accused that on account of the reports by Lahey, who had quit, that Peterson had decided to discharge him. Accused protested and refused to even check-up his material for settlement, and on the evidence of Marklund, is credited with having made the statement that "he was a returned soldier and they couldn't fire him," and that "it was the work of German sympathizers." Although technically discharged accused remained at the camp at which Anderson and Hall were working after Clerk Marklund departed on Sunday afternoon.

The three men slept as usual in the office of the bunk house Sunday night and about 5 a.m. Monday morning Anderson, who acted in the capacity of cook, got up and lighted the fire in the bunk house and then proceeded to the cook house. Before leaving, however, he noticed that accused was awake and sitting on the edge of his bunk fully dressed with the exception of his boots and his top coat, smoking his pipe. Hall was at that time sleeping soundly in his bunk. About fifteen minutes later accused entered the cook house and requested Anderson to bring the lantern, stating that he had killed Hall and at the same time made some further remarks which were incoherent to Anderson. Anderson shortly afterwards followed Walsh and upon entering the bunk house saw Hall's body lying on the floor, horribly mutilated about the head and the bed clothing saturated with blood. Shocked at this frightful sight and fearing for his own safety, Anderson immediately retreated and hastened to an adjoining camp some distance away and reported what had occurred. Later in company with a number of men he returned and then it was found that Hall's body had been replaced in his bunk, but Walsh had disappeared, he having proceeded to the headquarters camp eight miles away requesting the clerk in charge there to communicate with the police and the coroner, at the same time stating that "the Englishman (Hall) at Camp 19 had attempted to kill me and I killed him." This information was communicated to the authorities and Walsh waited until they arrived and he was then taken into custody.

Medical testimony adduced that deceased, Hall, had been struck by some heavy blunt instrument with terrfic force, resulting in fracturing almost every bone on the right side of the head, inaddition to which there was a deep cut several inches in length extending from the mouth backward on the left side of the face. From the position in which Hall had last been seen alive by Anderson and the condition of the body, as well as the bed clothing and inside wall of the bunk, from the evidence of the Crown it would appear that deceased had been attacked while he was sleeping and murdered in a most cowardly manner. Hall was described as a man about 50 years of age, about five feet seven inches in height and weighing between 135 and 140 lbs. Accused is a man 44 years of age, stands six feet one inch in his socks and weighs about 200 lbs.

The plea of the accused was self-defence and in support of this Walsh himself entered the witness box and gave evidence under oath. Despite the severe mental strain under which he must have been laboring, accused gave no outward signs and told his story in a very unemotional but earnest manner, even while being vigorously cross-examined by counsel for the Crown. Walsh stated he was born in the Province of New Brunswick 43 years ago last June and had followed various occupations throughout the length and breadth of Canada. He claimed that he had early in 1915 enlisted and went overseas but was returned from Salisbury Plains on account of certain physical unfitness. Under the assumed name of John Young he again volunteered at Ottawa but was later again discharged on account of the same physical defect.

In dealing with the tragedy accused said he was hired by an employment agency in Edmonton to come to Bull River and had worked in that locality approximately five weeks. On the morning of the murder he said he was awakened presumably when Anderson got up to light the fire, at which time he sat up in his bunk and had a smoke. As soon as Anderson went out he, accused, again laid down to rest but was immediately startled by a rustling noise, and then he perceived in the almost totally darkness of the shack what he thought was the shadow of a man coming towards him in a threatening manner. He sprang out of bed and while it was so dark he could not at all distinguish his assailant's features, as he grappled with him his hands instinctively grasped the handle of an axe which was in the hands of the other man attacking him. A death struggle ensude, and having an advantage over his assailant in strength Walsh stated that he in attempting to get complete control of the weapon, pushed it towards the other man and the flat side of the double-bitted axe was thus dashed against the other man's head, whereupon he fell unconscious on the floor. Accused claims he then immediately rushed out and notified Anderson, asking him to bring the light so they could see what had happened.

As soon as Anderson departed, Walsh said he lighted the bunk house lamp and made preparations to shave himself but noticing blood bubbling from about the nose and mouth of deceased he thought he was breathing and thereupon lifted him back into the bunk. He then completed the shaving operation, after which he again looked at deceased and re-arranged his position by attempting to remove him from the pool of blood in which he was lying. He then went to headquarters camp and gave himself up.

Cross examination brought out that accused had replaced the axe after the alleged struggle in practically the identical spot where it had been the night before. He also had pulled on his boots before going out to notify Anderson. There was absolutely no visible indications of any struggle having taken place within the shack, although there were loose articles near by and the shack was comparatively small. It was shown that the military number given by accused as his own was that of another party. Accused's own number was given by counsel for the Crown, and he told the prisoner that the cause for his discharge from the army was not that of physical unfitness as stated by him.

When asked by his own counsel if he had ever been in serious trouble before, the prisoner said that he had been convicted of manslaughter in St. John, N.B., when he had been sentenced to seven years. After serving three years he was released on parole but on account of neglecting to report regularly he was again taken into custody and required to serve the remaining four years of the original sentence. With this exception and having once been convicted for being drunk, accused claimed his record was clear.

Mr. Herchmer in his address to the jury went into the case at considerable length and presented every conceivable point in favor of the accused. Mr. Johnson for the Crown followed and then His Lordship charged the jury impassionately, but at the same time very impressively went into the evidence bit by bit and charged them with the duty required of them. After having retired for over four hours the twelve sober-faced jurymen filed into the court room and amid a tense silence the word "Guilty" fell huskily from the foreman's lips. The prisoner withstood the shock with but very slight visible indications of despair. He stood erect facing the court as the judge said: "Have you anything to say why the sentence of the Court should not be passed upon you?" After a brief stifling pause the prisoner replied in the same calm and deliberate tone which has been characteristic of him during the trial, every word of

THE POLICE COMMISSION

The Police Commission, consisting of Mayor Thomson and Commissioners Dudley and Carr, met on Monday evening in the council chamber, when all the business for consideration was the minutes of the previous regular meeting and a special meeting and a few accounts.

Chief Welsby said he had nothing to report. Com. Dudley inquired from the Chief as to how the bylaws were being enforced and was advised that at that date there had been seven prosecutions under the Pound Bylaw and two under the Street Bylaw, with convictions in all cases.

In the absence of anything else to discuss Com. Dudley brought up the "dog tax" question, having particular reference to dogs being allowed to roam the city streets without their tags. With a view to devising some means of making it imperative that owners should be liable in the event of dogs not wearing tags, a lengthy discussion followed. The point at issue was with reference to cases where tags were lost or stolen but a solution in this connection which would preclude any possibility of fraud was not reached.

Com. Carr attempted to bring up the matter of the city equipping public playgrounds in different parts of the city for the children and while all were agreed that it would be very nice to have same, His Worship and Com. Dudley were of the opinion that a recommendation to the council to equip these would not meet with approval. Com. Dudley went so far as to say he didn't think the council would take any notice of the police commission and therefore intimated that the commissioners should treat likewise any suggestion made by the council to them. The meeting then adjourned, having been in session less than half an hour.

DAD EVANS WRITES

Dubuque, Iowa, May 6, 1918.
Fernie Free Press:

Welcome Friend—Received a statement from you of dues overdue and was welcome just the same. Was deep in the woods since last fall and neglected everything but logs, but am out in the clear again and enclose you the amount, $6.00, as requested.

I hope all my friends (which includes all as I hope I have no enemies there) are well and energetic in giving their all to quash the Hun.

This country has finally woke up and that means there is going to be something doing. Everything is on the jump now that we have got the politicians that were no good outside of politics on the shelf, and the pro-Germans that are outside the high fence are dead quiet and buying Liberty bonds.

Have more sympathy for you Canadians now for your tardy actions the first year of the war when I was there from watching this government the last year go through the same motions. It takes a nation that has been at peace for years many months to get fitted to the harness for so gigantic a task as this is. It is a big job to get the peace and calamity howlers out of the way.

Hope to continue to have a visit with you once a week through the Press. Good will to all. Yours truly,

E. J. Evans.

INFORMATION WANTED

Mayor Thomson this week received the following communication this week:

St. Petersburg, Florida, May 10.

Dear Sir—If you could give me any information regarding the ten men who were trapped in a fire near Fernie, I would be greatly obliged. My brother, George Taylor, was working at the lumber camp near there about two years ago when it happened and I fear he was one of them.

Yours truly,
Mrs. C. L. Salter.

It is hoped that should this come to the notice of the said George Taylor or anyone who may know of him, that no time will be lost in getting in touch with Mrs. Salter, who is making the inquiry. The fire referred to is presumably that at the Elk Lumber Co. camp last summer, but no one of the name of Taylor was lost in that fire when seven lives were lost.

SUCCESSFUL Y.M.C.A. CANVAS AT CORBIN B. C.

The above camp has had a very successful Y.M.C.A. drive. The camp organised and conducted their own canvas. Mr. E. L. Warburton, the superintendent of the Corbin Coal and Coke Co. Limited, assisted by the following committee, Messrs. Britt, Hetherington, Lancaster, Reid, Spencer and Barnes decided to put out subscription lists and also hold a dance on the evening of the 9th. The Flathead hotel kindly placed their fine building at the disposal of the committee to hold the dance. The well known orchestra camposed of Messrs. Bullen, Frick and Clarkson releived at intervals by Mr. Shipman supplied the music and gave their services free. A sumptuous and tasty repast was kindly donated by the ladies of Corbin and served around at midnight. Mr. Warburton as director of the canvas then thanked the committee who sa ably assisted him, also paying a tribute to the splendiid response made by the employees of the Cobin Coal and Coke Co. Ltd., Eastern British Columbia Ry. Co. Spruce Mills business houses and Mrs. P. Baratelli in donating knitted house cap which was raffled off for $25.25. In thanking the ladies of Corbin for providing refreshments, the management of the hotel for the use of same and the orchestra for their services Mr. Warburton announced the drive in Corbin had netted the handsome total of $500.00. Mr. R. S. Ord, the general manager of the Corbin Coal and Coke Co. then addressed the gathering and explained the great work being carried on over the Allied fronts and nations by the Y.M.C.A. Organization and the pleasure it gave him to see such a comparitively small camp responding so nobly to the various patriotic calls.

FERNIE GOLF CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

A meeting of those interested in the formation of a golf club was held in Herchmer & Martin's office on Monday evening with about fifteen present, when it was decided to organize under the name of the Fernie Golf Club.

The following officers were then elected:

President: Alan Graham.
Vice President: R. M. Young.
Sec.-Treas.: A. Watson.
Executive Committee: S. Herchmer, Jas. McLean, E. Daniels, E. K. Stewart and Thos. Prentice.

The annual membership fee was fixed at $10 and the President and Vice-President were appointed a committee to canvass for members.

The committee who have had charge of the golf course reported that work was not proceeding as rapidly as they would like and requested that all members make every effort to get out and help clean up the grounds. They thought that it would take at least $500 to finish the work if it had to be paid for and it would be very hard to secure this amount out of membership fees.

THE NEW PROV. CHIEF

A. McNeill, assistant in the chief provincial constable's office here, received notice this week of his promotion to the appointment of Acting Chief Constable for Southeast Kootenay Police District in succession to George Welsby, who recently resigned that post to accept the position of chief of police for this city. Mr. McNeill has been a member of the provincial force for the past four years, being first stationed at Fort George and then at Kamloops. Two years ago he was transferred from Kamloops to Fernie and has been here ever since. During that period in the pursuance of his duties he has amply demonstrated his ability as an efficient officer with the result that his superiors have recognized his efficiency and at the first opportunity have given him the promotion he deserved. We feel certain that the citizens here will be heartily in accord with the choice made by the government and have not the slightest doubt but that Mr. McNeill will assume his new responsibilities and administer his duties of office properly and effectively and that this advancement is only the beginning of a successful career.

Pat Daly, a prospector from the new mine in Northern B.C., in which several of our citizens, including R. W. Wood, W. R. Wilson and A. B. Trites are interested, who has been in the city for several days, states that the ore from the mine assays from $250 to $750 a ton and that the company have had an offer of $3,000,000 for the property.

Alderman Dicken and Chief McDougall were both victims of the chicken bylaw this week. They were fined $2 each.

LUMBERJACK MEETS DEATH

While working at the rollway at the Elk Lumber Company's camp near Olson last Tuesday morning, John Klimuk, engaged in the operation of rolling logs into the river, was crushed to death when the log pile gave way and 15 or 20 logs crashed down. At the time the accident occurred the deceased and six or seven other men were engaged in this work, and the deceased was at the moment removing small broken pieces of logs so as to make the way clear for the larger logs to roll down. In some unknown manner one of the logs high up on the pile on the bank rolled over and came down almost at Klimuk's feet. Seeing that the other logs were likely to follow and hearing shouts of warning from his companions, Klimuk made a desperate attempt to get out of this danger, but he tripped over the fallen log and before he could regain his feet and reach a point of safety the other logs fell, covering him completely. His companions immediately released him but life was extinct.

Coroner Thomson was called and viewed the scene, after which he ordered an inquest. The inquest was held on Tuesday evening but after hearing the evidence of all the eye-witnesses a verdict of accidental death, exonerating everyone from blame, was rendered.

Y. M. C. A. CONTRIBUTIONS

Mr. Editor—I desire personally, as well as on behalf of the Y.M.C.A. Red Triangle, to express a high sense of appreciation to the Patriotic Committee of Fernie for their very tangible and practical support to the Red Triangle Fund, and to the various local committees of the South East Kootenay District in charge of the Red Triangle drive, in their respective localities for their hearty co operation and efficient manner in which they conducted their campaign; also to the citizens in the whole district for their generous and whole-hearted response to the appeal made by the national Y.M.C.A. for overseas work among our boys.

I wish also to thank you, Mr. Editor, for the publicity you have given through your columns to this deserving work.

The fact that our apportionment of $10,000 has been exceeded by more than $3000 is a worthy tribute to the spirit of the people in this part of British Columbia. Yours very truly,

A. L. Carr, District Director.

The sum of $10,000 was apportioned to the South East Kootenay District as its share to the Red Triangle Fund. This sum has been exceeded to date by $3,281.30. Each local committee handled its own collections and remitted direct to the Provincial Treasurer, W. H. Malkin, Vancouver, with the exception of Elko, Bull River, Fort Steele, Wycliffe Marysville and Moyie, which remitted through B. E. Howard, manager of the Imperial Bank, Cranbrook.

The Nelson News of the 9th inst. contains the following item:- "James Norgrove, the new chief of police for Grand Forks arrived in the city last week from Fernie to take up his new duties. Mr. Norgrove is a returned soldier, having seen two years of active service in France with the Canadian Mounted Rifles." The local Veterans of the great war wish to contradict the above statement. They claim that constable Norgrove was returned rom Sarcee camp, and never saw overseas' service in this war.

ALD. BILL SEEKS PUBLICITY

Editor Fernie Free Press:

Dear Sir—In your issue of the 10th I notice that your report of the council proceedings was, if anything could be said of it at all, exceedingly abbreviated.

Now I take it that anything that transpires at a council meeting being of interest to the public or at least to the ratepayers, especially in matters where the monies of above ratepayers is concerned, is at least worthy of a full report.

At every annual meeting we are treated to a farcical display of would-be conservators of public monies, sometimes plentifully sprinkled with the old "has beens," and I've always noticed that the everlasting refrain has been how he could save public money. And yet, Mr. Editor, as the scroll of city history is being made and you being the trusted historian thereof, I confess it rather gives me a painful moment to see how exceedingly reticient you can be at times. Of course, Mr. Editor, you don't display that coy or somewhat shy trait of your disposition at all times, for I have a distinct remembrance where a two minute debate in the council brought about a whole page of rampant publicity. Of course Ald. Jackson was the star actor and I think you run through a large amount of juice when working your little "spot light." What was it then? Mr. Editor. Ah! Ha! Do I hear the welkin ring! A petty little scrap of two by four and eight columns of the bright light.

However, Mr. Editor, here's where "Bill" comes back, and to remind you all, that when money is to be spent, the least that is due to the citizens of this giddy burg is the how, the why, etc., and furthermore, why you didn't entertain your readers with a full report of same.

When the school estimates were brought down and finally passed. I considered the matter as being closed.

However, if the estimates are to be revised and re-revised at the behest of any Tom, Dick or Harry to the tune of $2,300, where are we finally going to get off at?

Our worthy city clerk intimated that the "mill" rate is fully covered by the extra "fining" capacity of our community. But surely this thing could not go on indefinitely. "Crime" at best can only be termed "spasmodic," although I can remember a time in Fernie's history when a certain privileged few of the city's employees refused or objected to being reimbursed for their distinguished services by a certain class of fine which used to be levied monthly. Now, Mr. Editor, we are evidently like the Germans and don't care where the money comes from. You will no doubt pardon this slight digression but you see there is just the teeniest bit of sarcasm in Old Bill.

But really the public should demand where this thing will stop at. Now distinctly understand me, Mr. Editor. My position is not to be construed as being wilfully opposed to that of anyone receiving just remuneration for their labor.

I am convinced of the justice of labor's contention that an increase of wages is necessary to meet the high cost of living. But employers, as a rule, have fought every proposition of that sort. Our friend, Mr. Herchmer, led the council to believe that miners were being paid at the rate of $15 per day or $125 every two weeks. Now I should say he can tell that to the horse marines or Harry Martin, or better still the Discrimination

And Invigorates Old People

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol as printed below contain the elements needed to improve the health of delicate children and restore strength to old people.

℞ Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascarin.

Those who have puny, ailing or run-down children or aged parents may prove this at our expense.

Besides the good it does children and the aged there is nothing like Vinol to restore strength and vitality to weak, nervous women and overworked, run-down men.

Try it. If you are not entirely satisfied, we will return your money without question; that proves our fairness and your protection. Millions of people have been convinced this way.

REGISTRATION OF MAN POWER

Under the manpower registration regulations, H. G. Lockwood of Golden has been appointed registrar of manpower and womanpower for East Kootenay, and was in Cranbrook on Saturday conferring with C. E. Mahon of Vancouver who is superintendent of registration for B. C.

It is the declared policy of the Government to provide for the mobiliation of the resources of Canada so as to enable her to make her contribution towards the successful prosecution of the war, in men, food stuffs, munitions and ships. As a prerequisite to this undertaking and as providing the only basis upon which it can intelligently be proceeded with, the government has ordered the registration of the manpower and womanpower of Canada and has created the Canada Registration Board vesting it with all the powers necessary to perform the task.

The whole story why registration has been ordered is the fact that the mobilization of male and female labor to the essential branches of production is second in importance only to the mobolization of our manpower for military and naval service.

Moreover the time is fast approaching when Canada, if she is to do her full duty by her allies, must submit herself to a strict system of food rations, a thing which she can do intelligently and equitably provided that she has actal information as to the number and distribution of her population.

Registration will be compulsory upon every resident of Canada, male or female, of the age of 16 years or over. Each registrant will be required to answer certain questions set forth upon a printed card. There will be different cards for men and women. Registration will be completed in one day which is reported to have been fixed as June 22nd. Every registrant will be provided with a certificate bearing a number, which certificate he shall thereafter carry, at all times, on his person under pain of severe penalty. Provision is made for penalizing employers for employing unregistered persons, hotels, restaurants and transportation companies for accomodating unregistered persons.

The government is desirous of effecting registration as econimically as possible, without sacrificing efficiency, and where competent persons are willing to volunteer to act as Deputy Registrars at various points their services will be welcomed especially the services of such skilled clerks and clear and intelligent writers as school teachers civil servants, clergymen and such professions. In this district an effort will be made to establish registration booths in every mill, mine, camp and residential and business centre, so that registrants and employers of labour will be inconvenienced and discommoded as little as possible.

It is estimated that one Deputy Registrar or Assistant Deputy Registrar will be required for each 120 of the population likely to register at any station. It will take probably from 12 to 15 minutes to complete the registration of each person though copies of the registration cards will be published in the press or in posters, so that registrants may prepare themselves before hand by knowing what questions they will be required to answer and thus save time at the registration place.

Fraternal and labor societies, women's organizations and other patriotic societies are requested to co-operate with and assist the registration officers, and we have no doubt they will for the most part be glad to do so; in fact in this district the Registrar expresses himself as highly gratified by the enthusiastic promises already received from such persons and associations as he and Mr. Mahon have been able to interview. Persons or associations wishing to volunteer or offer their assistance are requested to communicate with H. G. Lockwood, Golden, B. C.

In case voluntary assistance is not obtainable, the Registrar is permitted to promise remuneration of $4.00 to Deputy Registrars, and $2.50 to Assistant Deputy Registrars, besides actual and necessary expenses, for travelling stationery, telegrams, telephones, office and clerical assistance and generally any necessary and reasonable disbursements.

Competent persons who do not feel that they can afford to devote all day to this work without remuneration, are requested to mention the fact to Mr. Lockwood, in writing or personally offering their services.

HOME-MADE CANDY IS NOW PROHIBITED

It is now illegal to make home-made candy from cane sugar for private consumption. People may not have more than 15 days' supply of sugar in their homes, if they live within two miles of a licensed dealer. If living more than two miles but less than five miles away, they may have 30 days' supply. If living more than five miles and less than ten miles, they may have up to 60 days' supply. Farmers and all others living at a distance of ten miles or more from a licensed dealer may store sugar for 120 days' supply only. Whole sale and retail dealers, and licensed manufacturers, using sugar in their products, may not have more than sufficient sugar for the trade of 45 days. Excess sugar must be returned at once to the dealer from whom it was purchased, who will pay for it, if in good condition, at the market price or the price at which it was sold, which ever be the lower.

Why you should look for this Trade-mark on your Shoes

A TRADE-MARK is a manufacturers' signature. If a firm makes an article they are prepared to stand behind—they stamp it with their trade-mark. It is put on their goods so you may identify them. It stands to reason, therefore, that it is safer for the public to always buy "known" and "trade-marked" shoes rather than "anonymous" shoes.

Each working day of the year, the A. H. M. trade-mark is stamped on the soles of thousands of pairs of shoes for men, women and children, because we want you to know our shoes when you see them—because we are making a sincere effort to produce good values in footwear—because we believe you will find our shoes satisfactory—and buy them again and again.

Ames Holden McCready are Canada's largest makers of shoes. A.H.M. footwear is sold by thousands of dealers in every part of Canada—and by the leading merchants in almost every town.

We make such a large proportion of the boots and shoes that the Canadian people wear that you are probably wearing A. H. M. shoes now. However, the next time you buy shoes, to make sure, look for this trade-mark on the sole.

We make many grades and styles of footwear, but no matter what price you pay for them you will find them excellent value for the money. You will find it profitable and satisfactory in future to always make this trade-mark your guide in buying footwear for yourself and your family.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a small bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

LLOYD GEORGE'S TRIUMPH

Lloyd George in his speech to the British Parliament made short work of General Maurice and his charge against the government. The emphatic majority, commanded by the Government in the division which followed the debate, marked the close of the crisis occasioned by the Maurice letter; and presumably leaves Lloyd George in a stronger position than that which he held before the attack.

It is well that this is so. That would not be a good day for parliamentary institutions upon which an apparently strongly entrenched government should fall before a letter to a daily newspaper written by a brass-hatted general in a temper.

At this distance it is, of course, difficult to get a complete view of the situation in Great Britain; but the facts, as they have been made known, during the past four or five months, seem to support the theory that the British War Government has been engaged in a struggle with an entrenched military caste; and has had to face the certainty of what Lloyd George calls 'sniping' every time it has found it necessary to take action displeasing to the brass-hats.

As for General Maurice, he shows up in a very bad light. He was relieved from office some three weeks ago, presumably for his indiscreet "Blucher" interview, which was interpreted by the British, French and American press as a reflection upon General Foch, who had just been appointed commander of the Allied armies in France.

The inference might be drawn from General Maurice's interview that the army staff in Great Britain resented the promotion of General Foch to the command of British troops; just as in November it fought against the formation of the Versailles council.

Following his retirement from his position, General Manrice, in contravention of elementary military discipline, attacked the Government through the public press, charging it with having deliberately misled Parliament by making false statements about military operations. Mr. George had no difficulty in establishing the bonafides of the Government with respect to the statements complained of;and in convicting General Maurice himself of direct responsibility for misstatements, if any were made.

General Maurice's remark in his letter, that, while he knew he was breaking the regulations in writing to the press, he felt that his obligation as a citizen outweighed his duty as a soldier, is strongly reminiscent of the passage in Colonel Repington's celebrated article in the Morning Post, in which he defied the censor in order that he might assail the British Government for agreeing to the incorporation of British troops in an army of manoeuvre.

The Morning Post, Colonel Repington, and General Maurice, are apparently all parts of a movement by which the old guard in the army are trying to impose their will upon the country. Groups in Parliament which can have no sympathy with the aims of this military faction are not above trying to turn their assaults upon the Government to political account-thus far with results mostly disastrous to themselves.

The revelation which Maurice has made of himself is very astonishing; but the most disturbing feature of the incident is the fact that a man capable of acting as he has done should have been, until three weeks ago, one of the directing minds of the British general staff.—Manitoba Free Press

MUST SAVE WHEAT

The enormous demand that the allies are making on the wheat production of this country was discussed at length at a conference held at the federal food board headquarters yesterday of the fifty-three deputy food administrators of this state. They were summoned by Federal Food Administrator, Arthur Williams, to consider the most available methods of enforcing wheat conservation measures Mr. Hoover was represented by F. C. Walcott, Dr. Olonzo Taylor and Richard Whitney, of the United States food administration.

Mr. Walcott and Dr. Taylor dwelt especially on the urgent need of reducing the country's wheat consumption to about one-third of normal. Mr. Walcott made his address at the morning session at the federal food board headquarters, while Dr. Taylor spoke at the afternoon session, which was held at the Union League Club, where Federal Food Administrator, Williams gave the assembled deputies a "Hooverized" luncheon.

Describing conditions of famine in Europe, caused by the war, Mr. Walcott pointed out that about 4,750,000 persons have died of starvation there since the war began, while about 4,250,000 were killed by fighting.

"At the end of February," he said, "Lord Rhondda cabled for 25,000,000 bushels of wheat a month for the next three months. In addition we had to send 10,000,000 bushels to Cuba and 15,000,000 bushels to Belgium in the same period. In all 105,000,000 bushels had to to go out in March, April and May. Lord Rhondda stated at that time, 'You will padon my bluntness, but unless you can send this wheat, we will not be responsible for the allies continuing in this war., As fast as Mr. Hoover could write the answer he replied, 'We ship your wheat on time.' And we are almost up to this schedule today."

Mr. Walcott said that our normal consumption for the six months commencing in March and ending in September, over a period of three years, amounted to 42,000,000 bushels of wheat per month. In order to live up to the demands of the allies, he added, t would be necessary to ship two-thirds of that amount, leaving less than 15,000,000 bushels a month for home consumption. To achieve the necessary saving the well-to do, according to Mr. Walcott, would have to make a material reduction in their wheat consumption, supplanting their wheat and cereal dishes with other dishes. The poor, he said, cannot be expected to save wheat, because wheat is the cheapest of the nutritional food, but the well-to do can and should take to other foods.

"We want a wheatless week, not a wheatless day, for those who can afford to volunteer. My own family has been doing it for weeks, likewise Mr. Hoover's family. Wheat is a luxurious cereal. We do not need it as an article of diet, and those of us who can afford the more expensive foods, should get along without it."

YES! LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN!

Cincinnati authority tells how to dry up a corn or callus so it lifts off with fingers.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of freezone cost very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.

which penetrated every corner of the court room: "All I have to say, Your Honor, is, give me liberty or give me death." Said the judge: "I don't presume to judge; I have nothing to do but administer the law and in passing sentence on you I only do that duty which the law demands. ALD. BILL SEEKS PUBLICITY

Board or I should say the Compensation Board and he will find fifteen bucks dwindle to $4.92. This refers to contract men and has nothing whatever to do with day work, which is far below that. And this position could only be obtained with organization.

Now I will refer our legal friend to the position of unorganized labor. Are any of the people employed at places of business, as store clerks, stenographers, domestic servants, etc., who are equally liable to the vagaries of the high cost of living and just as much entitled to an advance of wages as our intellectuals.

The statement was made that they are receiving from $85 to $175 per month. Our friend neglected to state they are paid by the year and made no allowance for three months holiday to their credit.

I want the public to understand what they are really paid for actual service rendered. I mean for such as we "muscle" artists have to render. You will find that the seemingly $85 works out at $124 approximately and the $175 at $233.

In face of this Mr. Editor, I think there is certainly something for my brother aldermen and our worshipful mayor to explain at our next annual fracas, when each and every one are desirous to show their anxiety to save the ratepayers' money from $500 lots up.

And now, Mr. Editor, to conclude I hope there is nothing wrong with the juice which animates the spotlight and that your humble friend the writer will have no difficulty in thanking you in anticipation.

Alderman Jackson.

THE UNITED STATES ON THE JOB

The view has been put forward in the United States that in the preparations for war carried on by the Government of that counry last year the consideration that the war might be over before American troops could take part was always a part of the calculation; and that this explains some of the things about which the American people, in their retrospect of the past twelve months, are not happy.

This delusion, if it existed, has been discarded. Uncle Sam now knows that this is a man's job, and is acting accordingly.

In Congress a bill has been reported from the House Committee on Military Affairs providing for an increase of the United States army to 5,000,000 men; there are now 1,800,000 men in France or undergoing training. This increase would absorb the 2,500,000 men available under class 3 (including the 700,000 young men who have attained their majority since last June) and involves the drafting of 700,000 men from the second class.

The administration plans, it is understood, call for an army of 2,298,000 in the field or in the camps by July 1, 1918, with an addition of a million men during the next year. With the improvement in transportation facilities it is hoped to bring the United States strength in France up to 1,500,000 men before the close of the present season. The President is, however, asking for unlimited powers in the matter of raising men, so that the United States effort will be limited only by the training facilities of the camps and the capacity of the transports. It is predicted that next year it will be possible to carry 200,000 troops a month across the sea to France.

These are highly encouraging figures. They reinforce and illustrate President Wilson's remark at Balti more to the effect that since nothing but force appealed to the Germans, force without limit would be forthcoming. Meanwhile, of course, the western line must be held; but it is apparent from the despatches that the contribution which the United States is making to the forces that are holding the line is increasing week by week, and now reaches to figures that are worth while.

NNotwithstanding the fact that the 15th was the last day for those having large stocks of flour on hand to return same, very few returns were made. When the police ask the stores to produce their books showing the amount of flour purchased by individual customers during the past year, some of our citizens are liable to get into trouble.

CANADA FOOD BOARD
EDUCATIONAL DIVISION

Some surprise has been expressed by the general public at the new sugar regulations put in force the 1st day of May by the Canada Food Board. People wondered why the sudden scarcity of sugar, having understood since the first of the year that the new Cuban crop was sufficient to supply the wants of this country and the United States, whatever might have been the situation in Europe, where Java sugar was cut off owing to war conditions.

The situation in this country, however, has been materially changed since the first of the year. At that time the International Sugar Commission of New York, which handles the raw sugar of this continent, allocating and distributing the amonts in Canada and the United States, as well as other contries, considered that there was sufficient sugar in Cuba to allow Canada 320,000 tons as against 400,000 imported last year. As Canada last year exported 55,000 tons of refined sugar her consumption was then 345,000 tons and this year at 320,000 tons her supply would be reduced merely by 25,000 tons or 6 per cent, which wolud not have been a severe hardship upon anybody or made much disturbance in the trade. In addition to this outlook the Commission expected to have a surplus of 700,000 tons to work on later, of which Canada's share would be 70,000 tons or 10 per cent, so that before the year was out this country would have been supplied, under former arrangements, with 45,000 tons more sugar this year than last. Consequently there was no necessity for the Food Board placing any restrictions upon the consumption of sugar in this country, in view of the fact that Trans-Atlantic shipping was so taken up with other more vital cargoes that space could not be spared for sugar. Wheat, meat, munitions and men for the army are more imperitively needed in Europe than even sugar, and there are not enough to carry everything.

It was expected, however, that there would be shipping enough in the coastwise trade of the United States to bring raw sugar from Cuba and the West Indies to New York and other American points. Owing, however, to the congestion at the wharves of the Atlantic Coast, the breakdown in railway transportation and the general and totally unexpected demand upon the American transportation system generally, it has become a difficult matter to move the freight necessary for this country and the difficulty has not been overcome as yet. It was hoped that some arrangement, for bringing sugar direct from Cuba to Canadian ports, could have been effected ut this attempt has had to be dropped. Shipping is not available, consequently the new sugar regulations.

"THE WOLF"

Canadian playgoers will have an opportunity of witnessing a graphic and thrilling story of their own northwest country, when "The Wolf" is presented by the United Producing Co. Ltd. at the Grand Theatre on Tuesday, May 21st.

The play is redolent of the great northwest. Who is there who is not affected by stories of lives of those strong brave men—aye, and courageous women—who have gone out to those silent parts and blazed the trail for humanity? In "The Wolf", a realistic story is depicted by one intimately acquainted with the passions, impulse and motives which inspire men deep in the heart of nature. It tells the story of a lone girl brought up in the wild country, of a scheming wolf in the guise of a man, and of a hero of great courage and strength of character. Throughout the play there is a tenderness and wisdom which makes a deep impression upon the audience.

When the author wrote "The Wolf" it was immediately realized here was a true, gripping, genuinely realistic western drama. It was a hit from the moment of writing.

The United Producing Company has been successful in securing the rights of this great drama, which will be presented by an excellent company of New York actors specially engaged for this tour. In the part of Jules Beaubein, the white hearted, handsome young French-Canadian, who, although wealthy, and with the whole world open for him to roam in, prefers to remain at his honest work as a woodsman in the wilds, Mr. de Tisno will be seen. It is a part that calls for strength of portrayal; it is full of tenderness, and yet it is coupled with an almost ferocious courage, quick to assert itself in defense of innocence itself in the wooded fastnesses of a far country. Mr. de Tisne plays this part with excellent sympathy and judgment

For the part of Hilda, the girl, who nearly falls a victim to the wiles of the human wolf, Belva Morrell has been engaged. This young actress gives a beautiful portrayal of the lone, motherless girl of the wilds.

As the "Wolf", Arthur Edwards has a part in which he hides his own personality to perfection. His sinuous overtures to Hilda, his lovemaking to her, while he has a wife in the United States, is all done with a villanous calm that lends easy plausibility to his tale.

A very delightful true-to-life character is that of Frank Armstrong, in the part of Andrew McTavish, a Scotch settler in the northwest country, and father of Hilda, a man sour in disposition but with a heart of gold. The repartee between the old gentleman and a boisterous engineer, excellently portrayed by Tom Wallace, who makes it a business of continually teasing the Scotchman keeps the audience in a ripple of laughter. There is also Ba'tiste a northwestern nomad, whose French-Canadian accent and simple characteristics are delightfully and truthfully rendered by Louis La Boy.

In all, this thrilling drama, with its fine stage settings of northwest scenery, and its highly capable company of artists, is a rare treat in the way of theatrical fare.

Not a moving picture.

GIRLS! WHITEN YOUR SKIN WITH LEMON JUICE

Make a beauty lotion for a few cents to remove tan, freckles, sallowness.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply you with three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Squeeze the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle, then put in the orchard white and shake well. This makes a quarter pint of the very best lemon skin whitener and complexion beautifier known. Massage this fragrant, creamy lotion daily into the face, neck, arms and hands and just see how freckles, tan, sallowness, redness and roughness disappear and how smooth, soft and clear the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless, and the beautiful results will surprise you.

A CHICKEN SONG

"Light up your pipe "old socks,"
I've a story that will make you think.
I'm not strong on the pipe myself
And never touch the drink.
But then this silly, silly story
Has such a rich and saucy flavor
McCool is struck a hundred ways
On stunts of such a flavor.

You know I go to church, old socks,
And lead a goodly life,
I always wish for good to all
And try to banish strife.
Of course our town's a crooked town
And there's many many ways
Whereby Mephisto winks at things
As he sings a hundred lays.

He sings and sighs and spreads his lures
As up and down he prances.
Ah me! It grieves me sore to see
Him figuring so much at the dances.
And just go down the 'Avenoo'
And see the scores of dives
Where witless youth and freckless men
Spend most their silly lives.

You know, old socks, I've schemed and thought
And prayed for endless days
For ways and means to make them try
And end their foolish ways.
Why, just a week or two ago
The churches played their sacred roles
And sang and prayed for four weeks straight
To save their silly souls.

Just somewhat o'er a year ago
I thought to run for mayor.
Oh, my, the guys would be surprised
At meetings led by prayer.
I though, poor silly man I was,
That they the light would see,
But best laid plans of mice and men
Aft gang aglee.

Those Godless chumps would get the jumps
With laws that I'd have made.
The legal lore I'd sicked on them
Would put old Blackstone in the shade.
Alas, alas, for golden dreams
And brightest hopes for ever blast,
Our sinful friend from hell ascends
And straps me to the mast.

I know, old socks, those sinful souls
Just simply laughed and mocked my pride
And passed me with those wicked cars
On Sunday morning's joyful ride,
They little reck of plans I've made
To offset their defiance.
They'll surely get it in the neck
By the Lord's Day Alliance.

And now, old friend, about the joke,
Old Nick may think there'll be some pickings.
He slammed me one right in the eye
And just for keeping chickens.
I know there's some will laugh and jeer
And grin like foolish elves,
At council men who weave the ropes
And get strung up themselves.

A PICTURE OF FOCH IN ACTION

A pen-pictre of Foch in action appeared a year ago in L'Illustration of Paris. There his headquarters were described as situated miles in the rear of the line and only in distant sound of the cannonading. The room in which he worked was devoid of chairs, and there he might have been observed but only by members of his staff, standing alertly and gravely, with a telephone attached to a wall bracket and the telegraph room adjoining.

In Foch's room itself was no confusion and the strictest military discipline. The telephone was only for the rarest emergencies and was seldom used. An air space had been built between him and the telegraph, so that it cold be heard only indistinctly. On the wall was pinned a military map of the locality in which the fighting was occurring. Across from it stood a group of officers in uniform, the members of the staff. All were at strict military attention, as if on parade, while Foch himself was standing near the map, as if in a classroom.

He has grey eyes, set wide apart; a large nose, an iron-grey moustache, and a massive chin. He wears three stars on his cuffs, the insignia of a Commanding General, and the ribbon indicating that he has the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor.

From time to time an officer would enter, salute, and deliver a report, or tell something he had seen. Foch would listen, turn studiously to the map, perhaps make a mark, perhaps ask a question, but never make a comment. As soon as the officer had delivered his message he would take his place in the quiet semi-circle, where he would wait until ordered out again.

Occasionally Foch would engage in ne of his favorite gestures. Either he would tug at his moustache with a fierce hold as if desirous of pulling it out, or he would sweep the front of his tunic under the left arm with his pencil, a sort of flick as though to brush off a fly.

The outstanding feature of the scene was quiet. Next was the punctilious exactness for military forms in entering and leaving the room and in saluting. Foch himself seemed peculiarly untroubled, and his whole mental operation was one of poised alertness, of intellectual light and precision. He could hardly have seemed less concerned if he were instructing a class in mathematics.

The uncanny element in his career is this detached clairvoyance, as it were, this "vision," which makes him quite different from the traditional "man on horseback." He predicted the present war for twenty years and foretold of the German method of attack and plan of campaign. At all times he declared that France wold be ready for it and would not be defeated.

In a chapter on "Concerning the Waging of War" he said that while Germany might find it comparatively easy to invade France, such an invasion and the early defeat of the French armies wold by no means imply the conquest of France. Under modern conditions he pointed out, the overrunning of so large a territory would be a slow and difficult task. The natural objective would be the capital, where the enemy might hope to dictate terms. But before attacking Paris, he told the Germans, and they evidently needed his counsel, it would be a very grave mistake not to destroy or at least reduce to impotence all the important armies in the field.

The Teutonic hordes came down, as he predicted they would. They struck for the capitol, as he predicted. But they decided not to take it with an unconquered army on their flank, as he suggested they should not. And now the great strategist who foretold, who oresaw everything, is in supreme command.

Foch has written: "Victory is a thing of will. An army conquers not with material, but by sheer force of will." In this may he also be the prophet as well as the conqueror.

SHARE BRITISH WHEAT

We have shipped much of our precious wheat to the French and Italians and we must face the fact that this has changed conditions so that they conceivably may become acute in the United Kingdom. Unless the people of Canada and the United States speed up their production of food supplies, the allied peoples may find it very difficult to carry this war to that conclusion which will mean a permanent peace.

EAT MORE FISH

Efforts have been made throughout Canada to produce and market more fish. This country has fish resources, which have been exploited commercially for the export trade but only in the big cities have fresh fish been available regularly to private con sumers. On the Pacific coast and the Atlantic coast on the lakes of the west on the lakes of northern Ontario and the Great Lakes, fishermen will procure fish if the demand for it becomes regular and constant. Eat more fish and save meat for the men at the front.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get relief in five minutes by neutralizing acidity. Put an end to such stomach distress now by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by food fermentation due to excessive acid in stomach.

Most Heat from Fuel

One reason why the Kootenay Range gives the most use of the heat generated from the fuel, is that the grates have ample vents to make perfect combustion in the firebox, which is properly and scientifically proportioned according to the needs of the range.

DUNLOP TIRES

Two Questions

With so many low-priced so-called anti-skids obtainable, would that great host of motorists pay more for Dunlop "Traction" Tread if they could get its merits elsewhere?

Also, would that other large list of car owners buy "SPECIAL" if tires which somewhat resemble it in appearance resembled it in efficiency?

For quicker dishwashing!

USE Gold Dust and get the dishes out of the way quick! How?

By dissolving the grease. And greasy dishes are what make dishwashing such a chore.

A spoonful of Gold Dust dissolves all the grease in a dishpanful of dishes, quicker than if you used soap.

Use Gold Dust also for other house-cleaning dirt. Watch it take finger marks off the woodwork — stains and grease spots off the kitchen floor or the bathtub.

A good house-cleaning rule is this: For all dirt that you can't sweep up or dust off, use Gold Dust.

SUGGESTIONS TO SHIPPERS

The Dominion Express Company have issued the following suggestions to express shippers.

1. Pack Glass and fragile articles in wooden boxes or strong corrugated paper cartons, using plenty of excelsior or similar packing, and marking "Glass."

2. Obliterate old marks on boxes or wrappings—they often send packages astray.

3. Large or heavy packages of merchandise shold not be wrapped in paper or tied with string, because the most careful handling will not then prevent delivery in torn and damaged condition.

4. Put your name and address on outside of package under the word "From." Put your name and address and name and address of consignee inside of the package as well. If outside mark is lost or destroyed this may facilitate delivery.

5. Do not advertise nature of contents on outside of packages containing valuable merchandise such as ladies' waists, silk shirts, silk stockings, etc.

6. Do not use a tag if condition of package will permit markings with ink Tags become lost.

7. Castings and similar shipments, when not boxed or crated or when impossible to mark with paint, should be addressed with good linen or strong manilla tags, wired on, and an additional tag (bearing same address) should be bound to the article with burlap covering.

8. Raw furs or skins, if in hand-made bales, should be securely stitched in burlap or bag, and marked on smooth wooden strip sewed flat to the bale. The oil in the skins destroys ordinary marking.

9. Bedding, Carpets and Rugs, when not boxed or crated, should be sewed up in burlap or some other substantial cloth covering, and marked with stencil or brush; tags should not be used.

10. Send money and jewellery in sealed packages through Money Department. Never in unsealed packages.

11. If shipment is C.O.D. (Bill with Goods) mark plainly "C.O.D. $....." Unless specific instructions to the contrary are given by the shipper, the charge for collecting and remitting the money will be collected from consignee. Prepare a C.O.D. envelope to accompany the shipment. Shipper's name and address must be plainly shown on shipment and on C.O.D. envelope. Write same information in receipt.

12. Write value of shipment in proper space in the receipt. If the shipper does not declare and enter the value in the receipt the liability of the company is limited to $50. The charge is the same when value is declared at $50 or less; an extra charge is made when the value declared exceeds $50.

13. In addressing always show correct street and number.

14. Because of similar town names, the County should be shown. Abbreviations are misleading—spell out the names of Provinces and States.

15. If sharges are prepaid, mark the shipment plainly "Prepaid." If package is addressed on more than one side write the word "Prepaid" wherever the address appears.

16. United States Business—If shipment is destined to the United States, Owner's or Agent's Export Entry in duplicate, in form as ordered by the Department of Customs, Canada, must be filled in and forwarded with the shipment. Duplicate certified invoice must also be furnished by the shipper. If the value exceeds $100, shipper must also furnish United States Consular invoices. Shipments of meat of all kinds must olso be accompanied by Meat Inspection Certificates in triplicate (Dept. of Agriculture, Canada, H. of A. form 36). Mark the value plainly on outside of all shipments.

Express companies generally furnish necessary blank forms on request.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY TO HAVE B. C. BRANCH

The establishment in British Columbia by the Federal Government of a branch of the Geological Survey, provision for which has been made by the Dominion Department of Mines, will prove of immense importance and benifit to the mining men and prospectors of this province. This step, which is in line with the representations which have been made from time to time by British Columbia mining organizations as well as by the University of B. C., will conduce to closer co-operation between the Provincial and Federal mining departments. The resident geologist will be in a position to deal quickly with the problems relating to the development of mineral deposits, difficulties of structure, and other important questions, without the long delay which has hitherto been involved in communicating with the central office at Ottawa. Already the Dominion Geological Survey has accomplished a great work in this Province, but with the establishment here of a branch office under the charge of a competent geologist the mining industry of the Province will undoubtedly greatly benefit and its development be materially assisted.

It will be good news to the mining interests of the Province that Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Mines, has decided to appoint Mr. Charles Camsell, one of the ablest and best trained geologists in the Dominion department as head of the British Columbia branch. Mr. Camsell had already done much valuable work in this Province, and is well known here. He is the son of Captain Camsell, late chief factor of the Hudson's Bay company. He graduated in science from Manitoba University in 1894 and took post graduate courses at Queen's University, at Harvard and in the Institute of Technology Boston. He is a fellow of the Geological Society of America and was vice-president for Canada of the Twelfth International Geological Congress. He has specialized in economic geology and has written a number of valuable reports on the various phases of the mineral industry.

When the new office in British Columbia is established it will be provided with a complete set of geological and mining maps and reports. Mining men consulting the records will have the services of qualified men to interpret the data contained in them.

ELKO NOTES

(By Fred Roo)

Why are you reading these notes, just because you are afraid you might miss something? The other day our mutual friend Jim Thistlebeak was anxious to get the name of a certain Bank manager residing in one of the Pass towns, and picked up the local paper of the town, but there was no bank advertised in the paper. So this paragraph is in honor of the unknown dead, and the unknown dead you know are the Bankers and merchants who don't advertise. They believe that ads are camouflaged and nothing but war news is read these days, they think every one knows where their places of business are, and they peacefully sleep said Jim Thistlebeak, nothing in this world can make money without advertising only the mint.

E. S. Dickey, of the Conrad Bank, and contractor McCabe of Kalispell were in Elko this week looking over the Conrad estate east of the town.

Jim Thistlebeak says, "Pay as you go." If you can't pay don't go. The world may owe you a living, but it expects you to work and finance your own meal ticket.

Chief Justice Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Herchmer and Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Lawe motored from Fernie Sunday and visited the Elk Canyon and the Roosville valley.

It is said that keeping the mouth shut will prevent snoring. Jim Thistlebeak adds that it will also prevent a great many other things.

Contractor Billy Morrison is making great improvements to his ranch in the Roosville valley where he owns 500 acres of splendid land, and was down there several days last week overlooking operations.

J. L. Parker, mining engineer and manager of the Diamond City Mines near Lethbridge was in Elko several weeks ago and stated that they had struck gold bearing coal, and Jim Thistlebeak told him that was the kind he had been paying for all winter.

Bill Tuttle of Spokane, Wash., the man that learned Teddy Roosevelt to throw the diamond hitch on a pack sitting on the hurricane deck of a wild cayuse was in Elko Sunday with R. W. Woods, President of the Western Canada Wholesale Co. on their way to Fernie.

Why don't the people who believe in praying, tackle the food question? The high cost of living is more serious for the world today than getting to heaven or keeping out of hell. If God can answer prayer, why are there so many tears on earth. This war is proving that the church's religion is merely a mess of cold pottage. The world is getting tired of being told what God can do. It demands to see him do something, and there is lots of raw material in Europe for him to get busy with.

Capt. Abbott and a detachment of the 107th regiment from Morrissey visited Elko Saturday.

Several mining men were in Elko last week looking over the several mines. The Burton is showing up good again, and manager Thompson is working two shifts and expects to put on three by the first of June.

125 well filled automobiles passed through Elko Sunday, and for the benefit of those people that holloa about orientals, we notice that they are the first to patronize them. The Elk hotel is run by white people and they advertise.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Gorman were Calgary visitors last week, and Mrs. Gorman returned Sunday with a fine new McLaughlin car.

MAKE EVERY CHICKEN COUNT

The aim this year should be to make everything count. Make every hen lay her best, make every chick mature early enough and thereby make every pound of feed give the maximum returns.

Hatch Early. Make every effort to get your chicks out this spring before the first of June. As a rule the heavier breeds hatched later than that date are not satisfactory. At least 90 per cent of the pullets in Canada were not laying during November and December of the past winter, because they were hatched too late.

When the chicks are removed to their brooding quarters there should be some coarse sand or fine chick grit scattered where they can have free access to it. They should be left until they show positive signs of hunger, which would be between the second and third days after hatching. They may then be given some bread crumbs that have been slightly moistened with milk this may be scattered on clean sand or chick grit. If being brooded by a hen she will see that no food is allowed to lie around, but if in a brooder, that part of the food that the chicks do not pick up in a few minutes should be removed, as nothing in feeding causes so much trouble as leaving food of that nature around until it is sour.

The following daily ration of five feeds given about two hours and a half apart and continued from the time the chicks are two to three days out of the shell until ten or twelve days of age may be altered or adopted to suit conditions:-

First feed.-Dry bread crumbs slightly moistened with milk.

Second feed.-Finely cracked mixed grains or commercial chick feed.

Third feed.-Rolled oats.

Fourth feed.- Dry bread crumbs moistened with milk.

Fifth feed.- Finely cracked grains.

In addition to the above, give the chicks a little green food, such as grass lettuce, sprouted oats, etc. Do not have the moistened bread sloppy but in a crumbly state, and during this period let the chicks on to fresh soil or grass every day if possible.

VOLUME LX, No. 21 FERNIE, B.C., FRIDAY, MAY 24, 1918 WHOLE NUMBER 1061

EXEMPTION CASE IS DECIDED

Judge Thompson on Tuesday and Wednesday held a session of Military Appeal Tribunal No. 12, when Dr. William Morris, practicing physician at Michel, made application for extension of the exemption which was previously allowed to June 1st. Dr. Morris claimed to be acting as a substitute for Dr. Weldon, who has been at the front for the past two years and his ground for exemption was that by his being taken Dr. Weldon's practice must necessarily suffer inasmuch as any substitute coming in might not be acceptable to the miners and the result would be that they would refuse to continue the contract. As an indication of this sentiment he himself had recently entered into a contract with the Michel miners in his own name at the time the contract of Dr. Weldon expired last March, as it was contended at that time that the residents of Michel preferred to make their contract with the man on the ground rather than have the contract with an absent physician with whom remained the choice of who was to perform the duties there. From the evidence there appeared to be a division of opinion in Michel with regard to the favor in which Dr. Morris was held and a short time ago tenders had been called at which time 19 applicants responded, among whom were four returned veterans. However, the matter dragged along for some time and finally Dr. Morris' supporters carried the day and he was elected to be the contract doctor.

At the time Dr. Morris was granted exemption to June 1, the claim then was on the ground of the inability to fill the position and consequently his indispensibility. But even then, His Honor, when he granted the exemption, instructed the applicant to immediately get in touch with Dr. Weldon and have him either arrange to return and resume his practice himself or procure another substitute. However, up to the present apparently these instructions were, if not totally disregarded, at least not carried out with the urgent expediency demanded and practically the same conditions exist as with regard to Dr. Weldon and Dr. Morris.

In order to sift the matter and ascertain the exact facts concerning the case His Honor called Mr. Stacey, who is a brother-in-law of Dr. Weldon and his attorney during his absence, from whom the exact relations between the doctors were given. The miners medical committee comprised of Messrs. Shorrocks, Beard, Newman, Estabrook and Thomason were also called and presented the side of the case as from the beginning of the controversy between the miners and Dr. Morris and the final conclusion reached between the interested parties.

When the evidence had been concluded His Honor gave his decision as follows: "In making the finding I am going to allow Dr. Morris until the 1st of July in order to procure a substitute. I am giving him that time with the hope that some means may be found whereby Dr. Weldon will not be prejudiced. I can't give Dr. Morris total exemption because I am quite sure that my ruling would be reversed by the Central Appeal Court Judge, nor would I desire to give him total exemption because I think he must go. My finding, therefore, is that he be allowed until the 1st day of July, during which time it is peremptory that some person be found for his place as I have already pointed out, and if the miners do not choose Dr. Weldon and his substitute, it is open to them to choose somebody else. I trust you will take what I have said in the spirit I have said it, because I feel so strongly, when a man had made the sacrifice, it is up to us who have to stay at home; it is up to us to make our sacrifice and try and help him.

COMMUNICATION

(We do not hold ourselves responsible for opinions expressed by our correspondents.—Ed.)

To the Editor:

Dear Sir—A cook from Corbin came to Fernie and got two returned men to work, one as cookee and the other as bull cook. As soon as they arrived the wops called a strike and next morning nobody went to work. The superintendent came and heard their story and two men were given their time. The next day he reversed the order and told the cook and cookee that a mistake had been made. Now if wops and bohunks are going to run this country the best thing the English speaking people can do is to let them do the fighting for it. We should advise any returned men to keep away from Corbin as they do not want white men there.

COMMUNICATION

Editor Fernie Free Press:

Dear Sir—Will you kindly place the following in your well known paper:

There is a certain mine in British Columbia which is controlled by American capital. Now don't think I am going to say we own the jobs, because I am not. All we can do is to find a master who wants a slave for a certain given price. We have to find that master because sometimes we feel hungry, and that is good for that master.

Using that American controlled mine as an illustration, he must think, the way he is fetching men out of the States to work for him at a lower rate of wages than the British Columbia worker gets, that he owns the country. We have men even in Fernie who have been refused work up there. Probably those who are interested in Canadian labor wink the other eye when reviewing the situation. Some time in the fall the crop will be garnered and somebody will have to do the garnering.

There is also an Anti-Loafers Law which says if you have not got a job, get one, if you don't you will be short of 100 bucks. If he cannot get a job he cannot get the 100 bucks. What are you going to do about it? Every man has a right to be lazy if he wants to be, but he cannot starve to death if he wants. How's that?

What we would like to see is that the Minister of Labor take this matter up and see that the men in Canada have got work to do before there is men garnered from the different States.

We have hundreds of men returning from the front every week or fortnight who will be seeking work after they have spent the few dollars they could not spend whilst in the trenches. What are you going to do with them? Will they have to pack a bunch of collar buttons around and a few boot laces. All these things must be taken into consideration if you are going to live up to the promises given to these men before they joined the colors.

Tell this man, or company, or whatever it is, that men in Canada must have the preference of work, before he loads up his box cars from across the line. Keep the slant-eyed son of a gun out of here. Across the line a bunch of what you may call ems, have formed themselves into a band of Sons of Liberty, chasing around on horse back, masked and dressed in white robes (which would be better suited in France) intimidating all those who have not got work. Get work, they say, or we will get you. What puzzles me is why don't they get work. Liberty—I trust the Minister of Labor will see what Webster says about it.

Hy. Martin.

THE COST OF STRIKES

During the first year of our participation in the war nearly 10,000,000 working days were lost on account of strikes. This amount decreased production, lost power and limited efficiency, even in industries where there were no strikes. It is the patriotic duty of organized labor to abandon during the period of the war its right to strike. It is the paramount duty of the government to impose upon organized labor during the period of the war a rule which will prevent strikes. It is also the duty of the government and the employer to see that all grievances of labor, organized or unorganized, are listened to with attention and satisfied wherever possible, providing always that labor abandons the destructive weapon of the strike. This country is in the war to win and it will require our full energy in order to bring about a speedy victory and to preserve the liberties of ourselves and our allies. How then can any man, or any organization, plead justification, if by his action our work is limited, our energy diminished and our force reduced almost to ineffectiveness?—American Industry in War Time

I.O.D.E.

The Regent and members of Mount Fernie Chapter beg to thank the Trites-Wood Co. for giving a tea for the benefit of the Red Cross, proceeds from which amounted to $30.00.

The attention of the public is drawn to the strong appeal from Red Cross headquarters for personal property bags. When a soldier is taken wounded or ill to a hospital he is given one of these bags in which to keep his small personal belongings of value. His name and number is written on a label sewed on the bag. We make hundreds of these bags and donations of short ends of bright colored chintz or cretonne, or denim, any length from half a yard upwards will be gratefully appreciated.

The I.O.D.E. Red Cross work rooms have been moved to the office of the Napanee hotel, kindly loaned for the purpose, and the workers heartily thank David Gash for his assistance in moving and Mr. Hawthorne for painting sign, etc.

Donations—

Trites-Wood Co., tea for Red Cross, $30.00.

Capt. J. R. Mitchell, Morrissey, $7.

Michel Ladies Aid, $50.00.

Mrs. J. R. Mitchell, 1 pair socks.

Mrs. Dudley, 12 cups and saucers.

Mrs. Bough, 12 cups and saucers.

Mrs. Hilton, 3 cups and saucers.

Mrs. Brown, 3 cups and saucers.

E. KOOTENAY CHAPTER I.O.D.E.

A very successful theatrical play was given at Baynes Lake by the Fernie Amateur Dramatic Society which netted the sum of $86.63.

A well attended dance was given at Waldo, the net proceeds of which amounted to $82.00.

The Farmers' Institute also gave a successful dance at Baynes of which part of the proceeds were $22.02.

These functions were held in April and the amounts above stated were donated to the East Kootenay Chapter of the I.O.D.E. The Chapter appreciates very much these contributions.

Major Thomas, of Morrissey, was in town yesterday.

CORBIN GETS AUTO

Great excitement was caused in Corbin on Monday morning when the E. B. C. train arrived, bringing a little Tin Lizzie, which was the first one to be known in Corbin. It is too bad we couldn't get a decent road so we could have a spin once in a while. The ladies have admired the car very much but more so the little chauffeur. But Albert always was a lady killer. We boys are very jealous, because Mr. Albert Passie has beat us all to it, but better luck next time, Albert.

A real estate transaction of considerable importance took place on Monday last when M. A. Beale of the firm of Beale & Elwell, effected a sale of the Humphrey ranch on Wolf Creek for a large consideration. The property which ranks as one of the most valuable estates in the district is well over a thousand acres in extent and comprises a large tract of excellent arable land and in addition there is considerable timberland. The purchaser, Al. Doyle, of Fort Steele, intends to make a number of improvements to the property and to undertake cattle raising, for which purpose the estate is particularly well adapted on an extensive scale. — Cranbrook Herald.

ADDRESSED C.S.E.T. BOYS

C. M. Wright, Supt. in B.C. and Alberta for the two phases "Soldiers of the Soil" and "Earn and Give" of the C.S.E.T. was in town Monday night of this week and met a number of the teen age boys of Fernie and men leaders of the work, in the council chamber. He gave an outline of the revision of the C. S. E. T. program which had been planned and is expected to be published next September. He said that the experience of the last three years had been used in drawing up this program and that it was now in proof and would be considered by a group of specalists, who will meet at Lake Couchiching, near Orillia, next August for the purpose of giving it final approval.

He said that material was being arranged to form three periods in the training, one for boys 12, 13 and 14 years of age, called the trial rangers period; one for boys 15, 16 and 17, called the voyagers period; and the other for boys 18, 19 and 20 called the cabin builders.

Mr. Wright stated that the boys were not being encouraged to go picking fruit as the season was too hsort and the boys could not get in the three months for which the Canada food board gives recognition. Also the rates for picking fruit as offered by the growers made it almost impossible for boys to make adequate wages. He said that on the prairie older boys were getting from $40 to $75 a month and even the younger boys were starting at $30.

In regard to the "Earn and Give" campaign the boys present lined themselves up in two competing teams, the one wearing a blue badge signifying the Navy, the other a red signifying the Army. Both teams are out in search of recruits, each of whom will promise to give out of his summer's earnings $10 towards Y.M.C.A. war work. A boy enlists as a private and according to the number of recruits brought in he may rise to corporal, lieutenant and captain. The above teams meet Monday night at 8 o'clock in the city hall to report final results of their campaign. Already over 9000 boys have enlisted in Canada in the "Earn and Give" when only 6000 were asked for.

Mrs. J. L. Donaldson is visiting at the Hat.

Alex. McCool, acting mayor of Olson, was in the city on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Letcher, of Roosville, were in town on Monday. They were accompanied by Fred Roo.

Miss H. Winkleman of the hospital staff has resigned and will leave for the coast on Friday.

Charlie King is home from Saskatchewan. He says 18 hours a day is too long for him.

His Honor Judge Thompson held court this week when among various other matters the estate of the late "Dad" Griffiths on application of the official administrator, will be sold.

Died—On the 22nd inst., Mrs. Sarah Anne Haigh, of Bradenburg, Sask. The funeral service will be held from the residence of Mrs. T. A. Haigh, West Fernie, at 3 p.m., Saturday, May 25. Friends and acquaintances will kindly accept this intimation.

THE LATEST WAR NEWS

London, May 23.—Heavy artillery fighting in the Ancre valley south east of Lens and in the Flanders salient is reported officially today. Successful raids were carried out by the British in the neighborhood of Ayette and Leux St. Marie Wood, in which casualties were inflicted on the enemy and a machine gun captured.

Washington, May 23.—Fifteen hundred Russian prisoners to be exchanged under the recent Russian-German agreement have arrived at Petrograd according to state advices today.

Moscow, May 23.—Serious fighting in Kiev, capital of Ukraine, is reported

Paris, May 23.—Several bodies of enemy aircraft successively made for Paris last night. A number of bombs were thrown on Paris and in the Paris district.

Washington, May 23.—Every man of draft age must work or fight after July 1st under drastic amendments to the selective draft regulations announced today by Provost Marshall General Crowder. The new order may require all professional baseball players to engage in some useful occupation or join the army.

London, May 23.—German airplanes have again bombarded heavily British hospitals in the area behind the lines and this time have killed and wounded some hundreds among the personnel and patients of many different hospitals.

London, May 23.—The British on Tuesday destroyed 16 German airplanes and two observation balloons. Bombing of military targets behind the German lines continued actively, 1200 bombs being dropped during the day and more than 12 tons at night. Three British planes are missing.

London, May 23. — The German plans for a resumption of the offensive in France have been seriously hampered by the sudden blows of the Allies here and there along the front. The Germans have been forced back at numerous points to new lines which may be more easily defended.

Paris, May 23.—A German attack is expected soon, probably in the Somme region near Albert or the Avre river, where the German cannon have been thundering for several days but so far the German general staff has not showed its hand.

Dublin, May 23.—"What Does America Think?" is the question which all schools of Irish opinion have been asking since the arrest of Sinn Fein leaders on Saturday morning. Every faction of its press claims the support of the American opinion and each section quotes freely whatever American comment it can collect in support of its own particular viewpoint.

EVIDENCE MUST BE AVAILABLE

A statement has been given out by R. S. Lennie, registrar for the province under the Military Service Act, to the effect that:

"On and after June 1st every male person who is not on active service in any of His Majesty's naval or military forces or in the naval or military forces of any of His Majesty's allies, and who apparently may be or is reasonably expected to be within the description of Class 1 under the Military Service Act, 1917, shall have with him upon his person at all times or in or upon any building or premises where he at any time is a certificate denoting him as entitled to exemption under whatever class exemption is claimed.

"If on the score of age, an official certificate of the date of birth or a written attestation by two reputable citizens of the community in which he resides, who have indubiable knowledge of his age, must be carried. If the claimant is married the same assurance is required with additional evidence that he is not widowed. In the case of exemption on account of nationality the certificate is to be signed by a consul or vice-consul of the foreign state or country to which he claims allegiance. In cases where the claims are based on previous military or naval service since August 4, 1914, official documents or a certificate must be produced showing the claimant to have served in a theatre of actual war and to have been honorably discharged.

Should he plead ineligibility owing to being a member of the clergy or of a denomination in existence prior to August 29, 1914, he must be in possession of a certificate signed by an authorized office-holder of the denomination in question, recognized as competent to certify to that effect. Where the claim of non-liability to or exemption from military service is based on an exemption granted, claimed or pending under the Military Service Act of 1917 or any of its regulations, his exemption papers or a certificate duly signed by the registrar or deputy-registrar of his district must be carried. A certificate by two reputable citizens of his community fully cognizant of the facts is also necessary where a claim is made that the person in question is not within the class, not liable, or subject to exemption on any other ground that may be adduced.

"This notification should be sufficient," said Mr. Lennie, "to make plain the duty of every man affected by it. There has been too much laxity in this regard and there have been too many instances of evasion. The penalties provided by the law are very strict and will be imposed without exemption."

LIQUOR CONTROL IN BRITAIN IS STRINGENT

The following is a summary of the liquor control regulations in force in England. It should be borne in mind that in England there is no question of local option, and these regulations are binding throughout the whole country from London and the large cities down to the smallest and most remote village. Furthermore, these regulations bind all classes in the community equally, and the rules which forbid the sale of liquor during certain hours in the workingman's public house forbid, as stringently, the sale of liquor in his employer's club during the same hours.

1. All public houses are closed except during the following hours:

Weekdays: From 12 noon till 2.30 p.m., and from 6 p.m. till 9.30 p.m.

Sundays: From 1 p.m. till 3 p.m., and from 6 pm. till 9 p.m.

2. All "treating" is forbidden. This rule is very strictly enforced. At the beginning people sometimes forgot its existence but their forgetfulness was no excuse in the eyes of the law. Prosecutions invariably followed, and severe penalties were inflicted upon the man who had bought the drink, the bar-tender who had served the drinks, and the owner of the establishment.

3. No soldier who is undergoing any kind of treatment in a hospital may be served with alcoholic stimulant in any shape or form. This rule applies also to officers of all ranks. The soldier who is a hospital patient can be easily distinguished in his blue uniform and all officers who are patients must wear a blue band round their arms on all occasions.

4. Wine merchants are only allowed to supply liquor on week days from 12 noon till 2.30 p.m., and from 6 p.m. till 9 p.m.

5. The sale of spirits is prohibited from 2.30 p.m. on Friday until 12 noon on the following Monday. The object of this restriction is to prevent people from laying in a stock of liquor for the week-end. It effectively put an end to Sunday drinking.

6. No publican or wine merchant is permitted to serve liquor to a person who is obviously under the influence of drink.

7. No publican or wine merchant is allowed to give credit.

8. The penalty for infringing any of these regulations is six months imprisonment or £100 fine or both.

The amazing manner in which so many Canadians readily express lack of faith in this country's ability to stand more on its own feet through the development of our own rich natural resources is pathetic. The fuel situation is a case in point. Winnipeg is becoming hysterical over the possibility of a coal famine next winter, due to the proposed embargo on Pennsylvania anthracite. Manitoba's fuel administrator has even gone so far as to court further hysteria by stating that neither he nor anybody else in Canada can guarantee Winnipeg an adequate supply of hard coal for next winter. Would not the more sensible course be to do less "can't be done" shouting from the housetops and set about arranging for as many substitutes as possible? If there is a fuel famine next winter in Winnipeg or any other western city, it will be due largely to the criminal lack of initiative by the government and those in charge of such matters. Dear knows, Nature has provided sufficient wood and coal to keep everybody warm. Now is the time to start getting it out. Northern parts of the prairie provinces contain all kinds of timber. What organized effort is being made to convert this fuel in case of any coal shortage.

In Saskatchewan and Alberta there are billions of tons of coal, much of good quality, and assurance has been given by various operating companies that they can meet the prairie demands. If such is possible and the government should be able to see that delivery is made, surely it is the duty of all westerners to co-operate in every way they can to alleviate the strain on eastern demands. Certain interests in Winnipeg appear to take it for granted that frequent strikes prohibit Alberta companies being able to deliver. This danger ought to be eliminated by a firm hand with a few agitators. The miners are far from being all alien enemies, as many recklessly contend. In fact, it is stated by those who have investigated that the majority are British born and English speaking. The mine operators are responsible people and should at least be given credit for first-hand knowledge of how much dependence may be placed on the men in their employ. —Toronto Saturday Night.

THE SUBMARINES IN THE BALTIC

Seven British submarines serving with the Russian fleet have been blown up in the Baltic. They were frozen in at Helsingfors in Finland and the approach of the Germans made their capture likely.

Thus closes a dramatic chapter in British submarine history. Two of these vessels were sent to Russia's aid in 1914 and the rest in 1915 and 1916. Some went through the Skaw; some were towed to Archangel and brought thence to Kronstadt on lighters via the inland waterways of the Olonets.

They did splendid work. Not only did they torpedo a number of German battleships and other war craft but they consistently interfered with ore shipments from Sweden. Not a few freighters laden with iron-ore for the German munition factories are now at the bottom of the Baltic as a result of these submarines' exploits.

The Baltic is one of the most difficult seas in the world for submarine operations. It is shallow and stormy and in winter the icy temperature makes life aboard a submarine anything but a delight. Nevertheless the British crews who have now returned to Britain after their many adventures showed in their operations in this sea the same tenacity and courage they have shown elsewhere throughout the war.

"THE CELTIC FRINGE"

The expression Anglo-Saxon in its derivation does not embody any Celtic element, and yet not only is a very large part of the British people Celtic but we have only to look at our own time to see how great a part the Celtic race plays in the life of Britain. Many of our greatest statesmen and soldiers—almost a dominant number—are Celtic. Take some of the names most prominent during this war: Lloyd George, Kitchener, French, Haig, Balfour, Redmond, Carson, General Arthur Currie, these are all Celts. In Canada today there are Borden, Hughes, Shaughnessy, Mackenzie, Mann and many others whose descent is not so apparent; and yesterday, Strathcona, Tupper, Macdonald, Mackenzie, Blake, Bowell—in fact most of the leaders in Canada's career are or were Celts.—Journal-Press, Ottawa.

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

DECIMAL COINAGE FOR GREAT BRITAIN

Under the Decimal Coinage Bill if it is adopted by the British parliament the sovereign and the florin will remain, the latter being one-tenth of the sovereign as it now is. A new coin valued at twopence will be made which will be one-tenth of the florin, while a new farthing, less in value than the existing coin will be one-tenth of two pence. There will be 1000 farthings to the pound. Five of the new farthings will make a penny and there will be 200 pennies to the pound. There will be other new coins but the value of these has not yet been decided. The present Bill has gone to the House of Lords with the unanimous approval of the Institute of Bankers, the executive council of the Associated Chambers of Commerce and the Decimal Association.

EXTRACTION IS LENGTHENED

The exereme need of our Allies in Europe for every pound of flour and every bushel of wheat that could be spared has necessitated the lengthening of the extraction in milling. Under ordinary conditions about 270 pounds of wheat would be used to make 196 pounds of flour, and allowing 3 lbs. for waste, there would remain 71 lbs. of offal, but about 10 lbs. of the lower grade flour would be added to the shorts to make middlings so that there would be a total of about 81 pounds of feed production. Under the Order now in force the mills must make 196 pounds of flour out of 258 pounds of wheat and cannot turn any back into the shorts, so that today only 59 lbs. of feed is made in the process of grinding a barrel of flour and the richer feeds cannot be made at all. Taking an equal amount of wheat in each case this means that almost 25 per cent less feed is being made than before, which, of course, has made the feed problem still more difficult.

DANGER LURKS IN EVERY ONE OF US

We Are As Full of Deadly Poisons As A Germ Laboratory.

AUTO-INTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Absolutely Prevents This Dangerous Condition.

The chief cause of poor health is our neglect of the bowels. Waste matter, instead of passing from the lower intestine regularly every day, is allowed to remain there, generating poisons which are absorbed by the blood.

In other words, a person who is habitually constipated, is poisoning himself. We know now that Auto-intoxication, due to non-action of the bowels, is directly responsible for serious Kidney and Bladder Troubles; that it upsets the Stomach, causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Sleeplessness; that chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Pain In The Back, are relieved as soon as the bowels become regular; and that Pimples, Rashes, Eczema and other Skin Affections disappear when "Fruit-a-tives" are taken to correct Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives" will protect you against Auto-intoxication because this wonderful fruit medicine acts directly on all the eliminating organs.
