

SUMMARY

The temperature-composition diagram for the system methane-nitrogen at atmospheric pressure has been worked out and the constants in the formula—

$$\log r' = a + b \log r$$ determined.

It may be added in conclusion that though exceptional accuracy is not claimed for these results yet it is believed that they are fairly correct.

Admiralty Physical Laboratory,
South Kensington,

12th April, 1919.