ELEVENTH YEAR. MONDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 29. 1890. ONE CENT.

ON THE EVE OF THE VERDICT.

ALL THE EVIDENCE IN THE GREAT MURDER TRIAL IN.

The Counsel and the Judge Will Address the Jury To-Day—Where Doctors Disagree—What the Defence Offered at the Close of Their Case—"Oh! What Will the Answer Be?"

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 27.—Practically all the evidence in the big murder trial was laid before the jury by noon to-day, and after the addresses by counsel and Mr. Justice MacMahon the case will go to the jury. "The case," said His Lordship in answer to the lawyers just before the court rose to-day, "must go to the jury some time on Monday." This program, there is every reason to believe, will be carried out. It seems a hackneyed story now to tell your readers that the same old throng surrounded the Town Hall to-day, hundreds clamoring for admission and hundreds more standing around the door to catch a view of Birchall as he is brought briskly (almost on a run) down the steps by stalwart Tom Young and a couple of officers, bundled into Cabman Stewart's covered hack and whirled away to the jail at almost breakneck speed.

To-day, if possible, the crowd was much larger in the Market-square, for it was market day, and almost every farmer, his wife and son and daughter for miles around suddenly remembered that they had something to sell and came to town. Very few of them, however, succeeded in getting inside the courtroom, and they were content, with hundreds of top people, to fill the space in front of the hall and take desperate chances of having their favorite corns trod upon in the crush.

The proceedings lasted a little over two hours, the principal witnesses for the defence being Dr. J. Mearns of Woodstock and Dr. J. H. Richardson, professor of anatomy in the Toronto School of Medicine. Dr. Mearns is a fine-looking, portly gentleman who has lived in Woodstock only about 1½ years, coming here from Petrolia, of which oily town he was mayor for two years, and as he put it to Mr. Blackstock "he had lived there for 17 years, was twice elected mayor and resigned the position to move to Woodstock." Dr. Mearns is almost an exact counterpart in appearance of Mr. G. W. Monk, the well-known Conservative member for Carleton in the Ontario Assembly.

A Professor of Anatomy.

The other medical witness, Dr. Richardson, the citizens of Toronto know well. The doctor has been in practice for over 40 years. He is an ex-president of the Ontario Medical Association, surgeon of the Toronto jail, professor of anatomy in the Toronto School of Medicine, and will be remembered well by his scathing criticism of the "friendly greetings" which the Women's Rights Congress, in session at Toronto simultaneously with the Ontario Medical Association last June, sent over to the doctors.

These two gentlemen were called to testify as to the age of the wounds or bruises found on Benwell's body; also, as to whether, from their color and appearance, they were post or ante mortem. Neither of them was present at the post-mortem examination, but they had carefully read the report of the gentlemen who made it, and they were of opinion that the bruises on the groin and the abdomen were of ante-mortem origin. Just what the defence wishes to prove by this evidence is not quite clear, neither of the bruises being of a serious nature, death having resulted from the bullet wounds in the back of the head. The contention of the crown is that the bruises were caused by the body falling, after being shot, on an uneven surface, viz., a stump or a fallen tree, in the swamp or on the road. Dr. Mearns and Dr. Richardson were both "positive" that the bruises could not have been caused by the momentum of a 145-lb. (Benwell's weight) body falling, even against a stump, after being shot, and therefore must have been inflicted several hours before death.

Well-known writers on medical jurisprudence were cited, notably Taylor, Casper, Tidy and Husband of Edinburgh, and in his cross-examination Mr. Osler showed an intimate knowledge with these authors. The coloring of bruises seems to be the standard with doctors for judging of its age. Mr. Osler asked Dr. Mearns if he agreed with Tidy that this was so, and if the marginal colors, or the outer zones, were not the true test.

Dr. Mearns: "I certainly agree with Tidy, that the colors are the denoting marks."

Mr. Osler: "Marginal colors?"

Dr. Mearns: "The colors of the bruise."

Dr. Mearns insisted that while he agreed with Tidy he would qualify by using, not the words "marginal colors," but simply colors.

This Young Man Saw Birchall in Woodstock

Considerable excitement was manifest when it became known that a young man named Norman McQueen, son of the late Judge McQueen, would swear that he saw Birchall in Woodstock on Feb. 17, the alleged day of the murder. Mr. McQueen, who is a young man well-known in Woodstock, was conspicuous by the height of his collar. He swore positively that on Feb. 17, about 4 in the evening, he met Birchall near Woodruff's corners in the town of Woodstock and he nodded to him. Mr. McQueen fixed the date by a ball, not Jerry Dake's famous ball, but by a more swell affair that took place in Woodstock that night. He nodded to Birchall as he passed and he thought the prisoner nodded back. McQueen said he knew Birchall during his former residence in Woodstock, but that he did not like him because of a remark that he (Birchall) had made of McQueen in his presence.

It is not known that the defence will claim that Birchall will say that he was really in Woodstock on that date, but Mr. McQueen is brought forward, like Grocer Millman on Friday, to show how a man can be mistaken as to identity and thus shake the testimony of the crown witnesses on this point. There is a young Englishman living near Woodstock who dresses very much like Birchall sometimes did when he lived here, particularly as to his knickerbockers, and this is the man whom Millman and McQueen mistook for Birchall.

The nature of the additional evidence to be submitted Monday by the defence, which, Mr. Blackstock assured the court, would take but 20 minutes, consists of filing the register of a hotel in Brantford and a certain telegram. It will be remembered that the name "F. C. Benwell" was written in the register of the Commercial Hotel, Brantford, under the date of Jan. 13, 1890. Mr. Blackstock said this name had been cut out of the book by the government detectives and carried away.

Mr. Osler: "We will produce the document and also the young man who wrote it in the book."

As Benwell was in England on Jan. 13 he could not have written the name on that date in the Brantford Hotel. It is alleged by the crown that the name was written as a joke in the book after the name F. C. Benwell had been telegraphed all over the country as having been found on the cigar case picked up beside the dead body in the swamp.

The accused man to-day listened to the evidence of the doctors and the other witnesses with evident interest, but he did not seem to take much comfort out of their testimony. His face wore an anxious look all through the sitting of the court, but he continued to make copious notes of what was said.

At 11½ he was removed to his quarters in the jail.

THE MEDICAL TESTIMONY.

Where Doctors Disagree—Rigor Mortis and the Nature of Bruises.

Among the evidence offered by Dr. Mearns was this:

I have been practising for 22 years and am a graduate of Bellevue and Victoria University. I heard the medical testimony for the crown. I do not agree with Dr. Welford, that rigor mortis comes on in 2 hours to 2½ hours. It generally comes on in 5 to 6 hours. This is subject to variations. When sudden death comes, or where the body is not enfeebled by ill-health, rigor mortis takes longer. In the case of sudden death from a pistol shot, where the body is that of a healthy young man, rigor mortis would come on in 8, 10 or 12 hours. These conditions given are favorable to a deferred rigor mortis. Bruises such as are described to have been on the dead man's body I can scarcely conceive of, having been received on the body falling forward. The bruises being of a bluish-green color must have been received from one to two days before death. It is impossible that these bruises could have been received contemporaneously with death or an hour or two after death. Suppose a wound to be ante-mortem there is no change in the color or appearance after death, because the operations that cause the change of color do not go on after death.

To Mr. Osler: We may receive a bruise during life that does not become apparent until after death. That is what certain authors say, though the point is disputed. I was speaking at first of color changes. If it is a bruise it makes no difference if it does not involve the true skin. If it is no indication that the bruise did not take place in life, that there was no thickening of the tissues. There are marks of external violence that it is difficult to determine whether they were inflicted a short time before or a short time after death, but on that point there is difference of opinion among the authorities. A person may get a blue or livid mark, and if there is no marginal mark it was probably caused before death. Violence inflicted on a living body may not show itself until after death. A bluish bronze color would indicate that the bruise had been received either immediately or up till eighteen hours before receiving it. When putrefaction sets in there would have been a greenish tinge. A wound received before death might be mistaken for a wound really received after death, if received two or three hours before death; that is, it might be difficult to tell from appearances whether a bruise was received two or three hours before death or immediately after death. In a wound received 18 hours before death there might not be signs of inflammatory action. Inflammation usually sets in from 12 to 24 hours after the injury. If there is no swelling and no inflammatory action it is an indication that there was not time between death and its infliction for inflammation to set in. I think it would take a good deal more violence than the body would be apt to receive in the act of falling to produce the bruises described. The falling might produce some slight marks, but not to the extent described.

To Mr. Blackstock: The color in this case agrees with Tidy's description of a bruise produced during life and from one to two days before death.

His Lordship: Do you think that the wounds described were inflicted from 24 to 48 hours before death?

Dr. Mearns: That is my opinion based on the colors as given in the medical testimony.

His Lordship: I think you said that inflammatory action would set in from 6 to 10 hours after the blow was inflicted of the character described?

Dr. Mearns: It might; not always.

His Lordship: Supposing deceased had lived 24 hours after the blow was inflicted, would it be apparent to the medical examiners at the post-mortem that inflammatory action had set in?

Dr. Mearns: It is possible that no inflammatory action took place in the case described.

The Toronto Authority.

Dr. Richardson testified among other things: In my opinion in a healthy young man rigor mortis might be complete in 8 or 10 hours, though as a general rule four hours would be a short time.

Q. It is said in the body in this case there was no decomposition and 24 hours after it was thawed out there was none. There were two bruises on the body. In the first place, what do you think as to their being caused by a body falling suddenly?—A. I would not like to say it was impossible, but it would be extremely improbable, because the body was protected by clothing. From the description I have had of these bruises I should think they had been received before death.

Q. How long before death?—A. Twenty-four hours at least, if they were bluish green. A bruise will change its appearance very slightly, if any, after death, because the change which takes place in the blood would not take place after death.

To Mr. Osler: There are appearances of bruises which it would be difficult to determine were caused before or after death. It is on record that bruises have been produced on a dead body shortly after death. It is said that there may be bruises received during life and the appearance come on after death. And they may have a dark appearance. Swelling following a bruise is not necessarily inflammatory action. In a large number of cases there may be no inflammation, even in violent bruises. Witness had seen hundreds of violent bruises with no subsequent inflammation. There may be effusion of blood without either congestion or inflammation. If a bruise takes place at the time of death there may be a tendency to more active decomposition at the seat of the injury.

To Mr. Blackstock: The smaller the degree of effusion the less likelihood of inflammation. In bruises where there is a bluish green appearance, there is no doubt among medical authorities as to whether they were inflicted before or after death.

His Lordship: Supposing the deceased to have fallen forward and the bruises to have been inflicted by his fall what would be the appearance of the body where the bruises were made, say 48 hours after death?

Dr. Richardson: They would have retained their original appearance, the effusion of blood would be apparent and the color would be dark purplish.

Mr. Blackstock: One of the surgeons said it was of a bronze color?

Dr. Richardson: That would indicate that a longer time had elapsed than if it was a bluish green.

The Young Man Who Saw Birchall in Woodstock.

When Norman McQueen took the stand Mr. Blackstock asked him: Did you see the prisoner in Woodstock in February last?—A. Yes.

Q. Have you any means of fixing the date on which you saw him?—A. Yes.

Q. Tell me how you fix the date.—A. I had been home sick for three weeks and there was a ball in Woodstock on Tuesday, Feb. 18, which I wanted to attend. On the day previous to the ball I was at the doctor's and met Sidney Cuthbertson, who was just leaving for England. I said good-bye to him that day and saw Birchall the same day.

Q. Where did you see Birchall?—A. At Woodroofe's corner; he was coming east.

Q. Did you speak to him?—A. I just nodded to him.

Q. You have no doubt about that?—A. No.

Then this conversation ensued between Mr. Osler and Mr. McQueen:

Q. You know Birchall?—A. Yes.

Q. Ever been out riding with him?—A. No.

Q. Never been out riding with him? Intimate with him?—A. Not particularly.

Q. At all?—A. I knew him very well.

Q. You knew he had gone to England?—A. Well, I didn't know about that.

Q. You knew he had been away from town?—A. Yes.

Q. And you knew that was his first appearance in town since, and yet you didn't speak?—A. Just nodded.

Q. And he nodded?—A. Just nodded.

Q. You remember his dress?—A. I don't remember his dress.

Q. Nothing about his dress that was peculiar?—A. I remember that he had on knickerbockers with bows at the side.

Q. And that was the way you really knew him?—A. I knew his face besides.

Q. But you knew him by his knickerbockers better?—A. I don't know about that.

Q. You don't know now that there was another Englishman in the town that day dressed that way and that you mistook the other for him?—A. I know that I saw Birchall.

Q. When did you have occasion to speak of it afterwards?—A. I made the remark that evening when I got home that I saw Somerset.

Mr. Blackstock: On what kind of terms were you with Birchall?—A. I didn't pars ticularly like him.

Q. Why?—A. He said something I didn't like.

Q. Called you a name?—A. Yes.

Q. And have you spoken to him since?—A. Just shook hands with him yesterday, that was all.

The Cape Coat Incident.

The last witnesses were Mr. S. G. McKay, assisting in the defence, J. A. Mackenzie and Howard J. Duncan, a Woodstock barrister. Mr. McKay was called evidently to break down Miller Hayward's evidence as to the cape coat incident. It will be remembered that this witness swore that the reason he took particular notice to the two young men who passed his mill on Feb. 17 was that one of them wore a cape coat. This, he explained, was why he thought he was English, and he went into his house and told his "woman" that he had just seen two young Englishmen going down the road to Mr. Patteson's. About a month ago four gentlemen drove out to Hayward's in a carriage. Three of them wore cape coats, and when Mr. Blackstock was cross-examining Hayward he asked him if he remembered the visit. Witness said he did. Mr. Blackstock then asked witness if any of them wore cape coats, and Hayward said he did not remember.

This caused Mr. Blackstock to remark: "Then you remember that the young man who passed your mill on Feb. 17 wore a cape coat but you could not remember that three of the men who visited you a month ago also wore cape coats." The miller could give no explanation of the matter.

Here is how Mr. McKay described the visit to Hayward's: "I am one of the solicitors acting for the prisoner in the case.

I know Alfred Hayward, whom I saw at his place about the middle of August. James Sutherland, M.P., H. J. Finkle, Mr. Helimuth and myself were there together, and three out of the four of us wore capes on our coats. We were there half an hour. I know George McDonald. I saw him at his blacksmith shop in company with Mr. Bluett. McDonald on that occasion told me that there was three or four minutes between the shots he heard fired in the swamp. He also pointed to a telegraph post about 40 feet away and said he was that far away from where the shots were fired."

John A. McKenzie swore that he sold to Sidney Cuthbertson a ticket for the old country on Feb. 15 and he was to sail on the 19th. He would have to leave Woodstock on the 17th at the latest.

Howard J. Duncan testified that on Friday the 21st there was a snow storm at London and at Woodstock.

Imprisoned Over Sunday.

His Lordship then spoke to the jury as follows: Gentlemen,—I regret exceedingly on your account that there will be an interval of more than a day before this case can be resumed. I regret you will be kept away from your homes and confined over Sunday, but there is no help for it. The case is one of such importance that, although my time is fully occupied day by day and there are other engagements, still I deemed it advisable to postpone till another assize so as to give the counsel for the prisoner that opportunity to which he is entitled to prepare properly for presenting the case for the prisoner before you in such a way as may be advisable. All the evidence is in. I would repeat what I said the other day, not to reach a definite conclusion as to any part of the case at all, nor form an opinion even in your own minds definitely regarding it. No one can sit and listen to a case without forming some opinion in regard to it as the case goes on, but I will ask you not to reach a definite conclusion until after you have heard the address of counsel and my charge to you, so that you will be able before reaching a definite conclusion to take the case in all its bearings presented to you. It sometimes happens with jurors, as well as other people, that an opinion is formed and the opinion is expressed before definitely and thoroughly understanding the merits of a case, and when the opinion is once expressed there is that pride in the opinion that one has that he wishes to assert and maintain, and he sometimes does that, notwithstanding his better judgment tells him that he ought to forego the previously arrived at conclusion. I am going to ask you, until all the addresses are made and the charge given you, not to reach any definite conclusion with respect to this case. When it is finished it will be time enough for you to revolve the whole facts of the case in your minds, which I have no doubt you have stored up pretty well for future consideration. These facts will be brought into recollection by counsel and, as far as I am capable, by the court. You will thus have all these facts fresh in your memory without any very great deal of trouble.

SOME CURRENT GOSSIP.

Witnesses Called on Both Sides—They Get $1.25 per Day to Live On.

The crown called 57 witnesses and the defence 23. The crown occupied full four days in presenting their case and the defence about one. The court sat, except to-day, an average of about 6½ hours per day.

The crown subpoenaed Deputy Chief of Police Stuart and Detective John Cuddy of Toronto. They were kept here five days, but were not called and they left for home this evening. The Toronto officers had to pay $2 per day for their board and were only allowed $1.25 by the county for attending the trial. They were also allowed actual railway fare between Woodstock and Toronto. Several witnesses who were brought from a distance complain about being out 75 cents per day on actual living expenses.

Sentinel-Review: The cost of the trial will be large, but not so large as many people would probably expect. We have it on good authority that it will be less than $10,000, probably only $7000 or $8000. The witnesses and crown attorney's fees are paid by the county; the counsel and detectives are paid by the Ontario Government.

Editor Pirie of The Dundas Banner was at the trial to-day.

Some of the Woodstock ladies want it understood that they do not attend the trial through sentimental motives, but because they think they have as much right to have their curiosity satisfied as their male relatives, the taxpayer included.

Mr. Dugald J. MacMurchy had to come to court to-day in his slippers. He had his boots stolen at the hotel. If Dugald can get along without a gown in court, he certainly ought to be able to dispense with boots in a pinch.

Dr. Richardson left for Toronto this evening after giving his testimony.

"WHAT WILL THE ANSWER BE?"

An Appropriate Hymn Sung in the Jail—The Judge Visits the Swamp.

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 28, Sunday evening.—Now that the trial has practically been concluded and the result of the deliberations of the jury will be made known within the next 48 hours, the strain which has been noticeable in Birchall the past few days has developed into an anxiety painful to witness. I called at the jail this afternoon. Mr. Bain, a student at the Baptist College, was conducting a service for the prisoner at the time in the north ward on the ground floor. Birchall was not present, but into his cell above through the ventilator register floated up the lines of that well-known hymn: "Oh! what shall the answer be?"

Oh, souls that are sad and weary,
That sweet voice speaks to thee,
Then what will you do with Jesus?
Oh! What shall the answer be?

The concluding line of this most appropriate hymn, which had been selected for to-day's service, must have found an echo in the thoughts of the man awaiting the decision of an earthly tribunal, for the answer to him means life or death.

Ever since court adjourned yesterday he has, the jail officials say, been discussing the chances of a disagreement. He has abandoned all expectation of a verdict of "not guilty" being rendered, but still hopes that should the charge of the judge not be against him the jury may disagree. He has been in a very thoughful mood all day, and his spirits are duller than at any other period since his incarceration. Hitherto he has discussed the trial with the same careless and apparently indifferent tone as he spoke of his meals. His answers to questions to-day, however, are forced and unnatural, and reveal the frightful nature of the strain under which the man is suffering.

Whether in the event of a verdict of guilty being found against him he will exhibit the same calmness as he has the past week is questionable. I have it from authority that Birchall has prepared a lengthy statement which in the event of the finding being guilty he will make to the judge when asked if he has anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced. The statement has not been reduced to writing, nor have I ascertained its nature.

The jury spent to-day at the Royal Hotel in charge of seven constables. In the morning they were taken for a long walk.

Mr. Justice MacMahon and Mrs. MacMahon, who arrived from Toronto last evening, were driven to the swamp of death this afternoon by Judge Finkle. His Lordship having expressed a desire to view the locality, in order that he may be better able to deal with all the points in his charge.

Eastwood station, the route alleged by the crown to have been taken by Birchall and Benwell, the spot where the body was found and the return route of Birchall were all pointed out to the judge. His charge promises to be the effort of a lifetime, and he appears to have taken an intense interest in the case all through.

The absence of Mrs. Birchall from the trial is of more significance than would appear on the surface and tends to strengthen the belief that until then she thought there might be some explanation of the circumstances which led to his arrest. The terrible arraignment of Mr. Osler in his opening address, however, seems to have convinced her what little confidence in his innocence she had previously entertained and the broken-hearted woman was unable in her weak physical condition to endure the mental strain attendant on witness after witness relate facts and describe their circumstances which pointed to her husband's guilt.

Birchall has a hobby, and that hobby is writing letters. Since his incarceration he has written over 100 letters to different parties. If he is convicted it will be this penchant for the pen that assisted in convicting him, for the letter written by him to Col. Benwell, three days after the murder of the latter's son, and which furnished the key to the motive for young Benwell's murder, was the blackest of all the black evidence pointing to Birchall as the murderer which the crown brought forward.

A posse of newspaper reporters visited the swamp to-day and found the trail which leads to Spruce Lake, as to the existence of which there has been considerable dispute. The lake is distant about a quarter of a mile north of the spot where the body was found and the lake is three-eighths of a mile distant. The trail is blocked with fallen brush and is traversed with considerable difficulty, but the path is very distinct and can be seen 200 or 300 yards ahead at certain points.

Douglas Pelly will leave for New York tomorrow night, sailing for home by the Majestic on Wednesday. It is said Mrs. Birchall and her sister, Mrs. West-Jones, have taken passage on the White Star steamer which sails from New York on Oct. 8.

PLAYS AND PLAYHOUSES.

The Bills of Fare at the Three Theatres This Week.

The Courted Comic Opera Company concluded their short engagement in the city on Saturday. The "Gypsy Baron" drew a good house in the afternoon, but the "King's Fool" was played to fair business only at night. The company have gone to Hamilton as a one night stand.

Pat Rooney and his company open at the Academy to-night "Pat's New Wardrobe." The engagement lasts all week. One of the features of the show is little Mattie Rooney, who is said to be a very clever dancer. There will no doubt be some crowded houses.

To-night the London Gaiety Girls open a three nights' engagement at the Grand Opera House in the two burlesques, "Mercedes" and "The Artist and Model."

Agnes Wallace Villa and her company will appear to-night and during the week, with matinees Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, at Jacobs & Sparrow's Opera House. Of the play The Boston Globe says: "'Staunch room only' was the sign that hung on the outer wall of the Grand Opera House last evening. Every seat was occupied and many were content to stand. 'The World Against Her' was well received and the leading members of the cast were enthusiastically applauded. The piece is thoroughly melodramatic, and lovers of this class of stage productions can surely find in it plenty of features worthy of recognition."

Seal Garments.

An advance in the price of seal furs is no small matter. It does not creep up gradually, but leaps ahead at the rate of 15 to 25 per cent. at a jump. That's a material increase, but the prospects, according to the commercial reports, are that Furs will advance even higher than that this season, owing to the small number of sealskins that are offered in the world's great Fur mart in London. At Dineen's the prices still remain as they have been during the past two weeks, but are likely to be advanced on quick notice any time. About 150 or more Seal Garments in Dineen's Fur Showrooms, designed and made up this season, are from a lot of Sealskins bought by them a year ago. Purchasers will have the advantage of making a selection at these old prices until further notice, and since this advantage cannot last but a little while longer ladies would do well to visit our Fur Showrooms now.

Next week the Great Fur Opening at Dineen's. It will be the event of the season. W. & D. Dineen, corner King and Yonge-streets.

A Peculiar Case.

Drs. Moorhouse, Peaker and Wright are at present attempting to diagnose a case fraught with some curious symptoms. On Tuesday last a little boy named Wade, residing in Adelaide-street west, fell asleep and has not awakened since. He breathes with regularity and does not seem to be losing flesh.

His Certificate Suspended.

HALIFAX, Sept. 27.—The decision of the Court of Enquiry into the loss of the steamer Ulunda at Briar Island, Bay of Fundy, Aug. 26, was rendered to-day. Capt. Clark's certificate being suspended for three months from date of wreck. None of the other officers were dealt with.

Policeman Redford's Quick Action.

Considerable excitement was caused in King-street near Yonge-street on Saturday by a runaway horse, belonging to Barber & Ellis. The thoroughfare was crowded at the time and had it not been for the prompt action of Policeman William Redford, who stopped the runaway, a serious accident would have resulted.

Pierre Brunet's Restaurant, de Paris, Academy of Music, is the place for delicacies. His chef de cuisine has no equal in this country. ed

'Frisco's Population.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The population of San Francisco is 297,990, an increase of 64,031, or 27.37 per cent., since 1880.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—To-morrow morning 947 policemen will begin to take a new census of the city. It is expected the work will be completed in six or seven days.

The success of the Order Tailoring Department at The Model Clothing Store, corner Yonge and Shuter-streets, has been phenomenal. Tis the prices do it.

Deserted by His Rose.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 28.—Charles E. Edely, husband of Rose Coghlan, the actress, has secured a divorce on the grounds of desertion. He lives at Sioux Falls, S.D.

FIGHTING IT OUT IN OTTAWA

SIR JOHN MACDONALD CUTS SHORT THE DISCUSSION.

President Van Horne's Latest Statement—Judge Clark Closes the Debate—Disappointed Because a Reply was Denied—Toronto Representatives Indignant—Other Interesting Matters.

OTTAWA, Sept. 27.—The civic deputation from Toronto arrived at the Capital to-day and obtained a lengthy interview with the Railway Committee of the Privy Council touching the application of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for the expropriation of additional land on the city waterfront. The committee was fully represented by:

Sir John Macdonald, Sir John Thompson, Sir Adolphe Caron, Hon. J. A. Chapleau, Hon. John Carling.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Campany had for its representatives Judge Clark, Hon. R. M. Wells, President Van Horne, Vice-President Shaughnessy. The Grand Trunk was represented by Edmund Wragge, and there appeared for the city of Toronto Mr. Nicol Kingsmill, Q.C., and City Solicitor C. R. W. Biggar, City Engineer Jennings, Mayor Clarke, Ald. Shaw, Gibbs, McDougall and Leslie.

The interview was opened by Mr. Kingsmill, on behalf of the city, stating what has been done since the last meeting in the direction of negotiation with the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific officials. He read a letter from Mr. Wragge of the former company stating that the Grand Trunk was prepared to negotiate with the city on the whole Esplanade question, and as part of a comprehensive scheme to give up the lots on the east and west side of Simcoe-street necessary for the alternative site, but that such a scheme should include arrangements for a union passenger station and stated that Sir Joseph Hickson would be willing to meet the representatives of the city as early as possible with that end in view. He also read the following letter from President Van Horne of the Canadian Pacific to Mr. Biggar:

The C. P. R.'s Position.

Sept. 20, 1890.

DEAR MR. BIGGAR,—I have your favor of the 17th instant regarding the C. P. R. and Esplanade. Your understanding of the proposed arrangement in regard to Mr. Jennings' alternative plan does not agree with mine in some important particulars. Our company has virtually acquired the right to the freehold forever in the lands lying between the Esplanade on the north and the new windmill line on the south, and between the extensions southward of the west sides of York-street and of Yonge-street, subject only to the payment of the value of the city's remaining interest in lots 39, 40, the west half of 41, and 42 to 51 inclusive, and the Lorne-street slip, all north of the old windmill line, as well as that of the Baldwin estate in the east half of the said lot 41, and had also acquired the leasehold of certain lots in the block between the extensions southward of York and Simcoe-streets, and the consequent right under the Windmill Line agreement to occupy the land in front of these last-mentioned lots down to the New Windmill line with the exception of the leases, and subject also to the use by the public of Lake-street, which grounds, as described, were entirely suitable for its purposes and in the most convenient locality for its business; but the city desired that another site should be taken by the company. I expressed a willingness to meet the wishes of the city by making use of the alternative site proposed by Mr. Jennings, as shown on his plan, if it could be done without additional cost to the company, and if the city could within six months free the property covered by his plan from adverse titles or leaseholds, and place itself in a position to convey this property to the company in even exchange for the property acquired by the company between York and Yonge-streets, excepting, of course, so much of the latter as was included in the alternative site, the city to carry out the agreements already entered into by the company with certain leaseholders between York and Simcoe-streets, and to pay the company for an amount of cribbing and filling on the new grounds equivalent to that done on the company's property between York and Yonge-streets, and it was proposed on the part of the company that the value of the latter be mutually agreed upon by the parties as before stated the company should be bound to accept the exchange; and with the further condition that if the exchange should not be made and the company should be obliged to revert to its original plan, it should surrender to the city all of the water front outside of Lake-street between York and Yonge-streets, except 300 feet east of York-street and 300 feet west of Yonge-street, which should be retained by the company for its purposes, the value of the remainder of the water front in question, about 900 feet, to be paid by the city to the company and to be ascertained by by arbitration. The object of this stipulation in regard to the order-in-council was that the company should, at the expiration of 6 months, if the exchange of properties should be found impracticable, be in a position to proceed without further delay with its work on the property already acquired, it being admitted by everybody taking part at the meeting on Tuesday last in Toronto that the plan proposed by Mr. Jennings was the only alternative and that if it could not be secured the company must use the grounds between York and Yonge-streets.

In stipulating that the city should put itself in a position to convey to the company the property covered by the alternative plan, free from all incumbrance, it was not expected that the company should receive compensation for its interest in the Credit Valley water lot or in any other leaseholds already held by it within the alternative area.

I write this without any prejudice and with the understanding that matters of detail may be corrected if necessary so as to conform to the spirit of the arrangement contemplated. In order that the alternative plan may be workable that portion of York-street between the south side of the Esplanade and the north line of Lake-street should be given to the company, subject to its occupation by the proposed ramp. I think it was so indicated on Mr. Jennings' plan, but I am not sure of it. This and possibly some other minor matters of a similar nature may require correction. W. C. VAN HORNE.

Mr. Kingsmill's View.

The above document was sent by Mr. Van Horne in reply to a letter from Mr. Biggar stating his understanding of the arrangement proposed at the conference held on Sept. 16.

Mr. Kingsmill said that the position taken by the Canadian Pacific was such as practically to render negotiations impossible. They refused, he said, to deal with the city except upon the assumption that they had obtained the order for which they are now applying and that the order-in-council of July last provided that the waterfront south of Lake-street should be reserved for the use of the citizens, or stringated. This was not the fact and could not be taken for granted. The claim of the railway company was that no other suitable land could be obtained, whereas Mr. Van Horne had admitted at Toronto that the alternative site would answer the purpose of the company, and the letter from Mr. Wragge showed that this site could be obtained. He hoped the committee would express its opinion that the negotiations should take place on the basis of matters as they actually are and not as the Canadian Pacific hoped they might be if they got all they wanted.

For the Canadian Pacific.

Judge Clark replied with some warmth. He said Mr. Van Horne's admission as to the suitability of the site was coupled with the conditions contained in his letter, and without these conditions the alternative site could not be considered. The company would not recede one inch from the position they had taken. They claimed that the order-in council was based upon an evident mistake contrary to the terms of the old wind-mill line agreement. The city could not repudiate this agreement, nor its own resolutions based thereon, by which it had agreed to give up the land to the Canadian Pacific and on the faith of which the company had expended more than three quarters of a million of money. He did not blame the city representatives for trying to do what they thought best in its interest. But those who had repudiated it had before been just as anxious to do what was then thought best, and the matter had now gone too far for any committee or council to reopen it.

The city's representatives attempted to reply, but Sir John terminated further discussion by saying that the city had already argued its case fully, and if negotiation were impossible it must take the matter into its own scheme. Judge Clark said negotiations were not impossible and that he was willing to amend the claim of the Canadian Pacific by abandoning the slips south of Lake-street and also 900 feet of the water front between York and Yonge-streets at a fair compensation. The Government might also reserve the power to control the rates charged by the Canadian Pacific upon wharves reserved by them.

Sir Adolphe: "Have you submitted this amended proposition to the city?"

Judge Clark: "No, it is made now for the first time."

Sir John: "Put it in writing and let the city consider. There must be an adjournment for that purpose."

Judge Clark: "In the meantime matters must remain in statu quo and no bylaw be passed by the city to affect our rights."

Sir John: "That is fair; matters must remain in statu quo until you see what can be obtained by negotiation. In the meantime the matter must stand adjourned sine die, as the Minister of Justice and myself are leaving town this week for the lower provinces."

Toronto's Representatives Indignant.

The representatives from Toronto are somewhat indignant that they were not allowed to reply to Judge Clark. They repudiate his construction of the windmill line agreement and say that it was expressly provided therein that the streets leading from the Esplanade to Lake-street should be kept open, and as to the abrogation of the order-in-council it was agreed at the last meeting that they should be heard before any final action was taken. They were prepared to go into this matter and think they should have been allowed a hearing.

Sir Adolphe Interviewed.

After the meeting of the Privy Council today the civic deputation had an interview with Sir Adolphe Caron, Minister of Militia, as to the drill shed and proposed site for the crematory. Sir Adolphe said that he had not yet received from the Department of Justice a certificate that the title was complete. The draft deed from the city to the Government was still in the hands of that department and he had not yet been advised as to the department's decision on the proposed clause that in case the land was ever used by the Government for other than military purposes it should revert to the city. This was a matter which the Department of Justice must determine. The deputation then proceeded to the Department of Justice, but found that the draft deed was not there and had not been received by the Justice Department. In the afternoon Sir Adolphe was again seen. He promised to look into the matter and find out what had become of the draft deed. Mayor Clarke also laid before Sir Adolphe the application of the city for a site for the new crematory on the ordnance lands lying west of the city. Sir Adolphe replied that he would have to consult the officers of the Toronto regiments before any portion of this site could be given up, and promised to visit Toronto at an early date for the purpose of looking at the property and consulting the officers of the regiments.

Mr. Carling was then waited upon as to the proposed extension to the Toronto cattle market by acquiring from the Dominion Government the ten acres now occupied by the emigrant sheds. The delegates pointed out the necessity for increasing the space and urged strongly upon the Government that the city should be allowed to acquire this property. It is proposed to connect it with the existing cattle market by means of a subway under the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific tracks. Hon. John Carling will visit Toronto to inspect the locality.

Pushing the Nicaragua Canal.

SAN JUAN DEL NORTE, Nicaragua, Sept. 27.—The City of Paris, the second of the large Slavin dredges purchased by the Nicaragua Canal Construction Company, arrived at San Juan del Norte (Greytown) yesterday and entered the harbor by the new channel. There is now nine feet of water over the bar and the channel is steadily deepening by the natural action of the currents only. The steamer River Mersey, which towed the City of Paris from Colon, also brought as cargo 600 tons more of tools, machinery and supplies. The other one of the three largest dredges, the City of New York, will leave Colon for San Juan del Norte within a day or two. Her towing steamer is at that place awaiting her readiness. The Construction Company has now in its employ, and at work, a force of about 1500 men.

The general health of the employes continues excellent.

A Farmer's Sudden Death.

John Campbell, a country visitor from Newcastle, dropped dead on Saturday afternoon, in a small house in rear of 47 Richmond west, where he was boarding. Dr. Powell, the coroner, was called in and after learning the circumstances surrounding the man's death declared an inquest unnecessary. Meanwhile the body has been transferred to the City Morgue.

Our Night Editor Caned.

The members of The World staff assembled last night to present Mr. Robert F. Pettibone who has for some years filled the position of night editor, with an elegant gold-headed cane bearing a suitable inscription. The presentation was made by Mr. W. F. Maclean. Mr. Pettibone leaves to-day for Chicago where he will remain for some months.

REV. LEROY HOOKER'S SUCCESSOR.

The Difficulty Experienced by the Committee in Agreeing on a Name.

It is said that all is not harmony among the members of the Metropolitan Quarterly Board. The cause is the appointment of a successor to Rev. Leroy Hooker, the incumbent pastor, whose term expires in July of next year. It is alleged that under his pastorate the finances of the church have fallen off considerably and consequently more than usual care is being exercised in the selection of his successor. In furtherance of this object, some months ago a committee of seven was appointed by the quarterly board to cast their eyes around for the desideratum. The idea at the time was to get a man at once, in the event of which, as a member of of the board remarked to The World, Mr. Hooker would have had to go at the expiration of two years instead of the usual three. This the committee failed to do, but they have continued on duty ever since, and although the names of several lights in the Methodist Church have been suggested, it is said that so far the seven examiners have failed to unite on any one who would be acceptable to a majority of the quarterly board. Rev. Hugh Johnston has a number of friends on the board who would like to see him appointed, but those who would vote "nay" to this are supposed to be largely in the majority. The opposition to the doctor does not appear to be generally actuated by personal motives, but those adverse to him say in substance, "Mr. Johnston was with us six years ago, and with 1800 ministers to pick from we don't see why we should invite him back again." There will be a meeting of the quarterly board on the 7th prox., when the first question probably asked will be, "Who have the committee to recommend?" Then may be expected the tug-of-war.

A GREAT DAY AT WOODBINE

FIVE OF THE SIX RACES WON BY EASTERN HORSES.

An Enormous Crowd Enjoys the Sport—The Notable Persons Present—The Track was Good and the Weather Chilly—Mackenzie the Only Local Horse to Win—The Speculators.

Zea 5 to 5, Gorman up.
Belle of Orange 8 to 5, Gorman up.
Redfellow 5 to 5, Gorman up.
Mackenzie 1 to 5, Loudon up.
Zea 2½ to 1, Gorman up.
Pericles 12 to 5, Steeds up.

EVERYBODY WAS pleased with the Woodbine Jockey Club's fall meeting. It was a complete success, both in point of attendance and in the character of the races.

A crowd of nearly 3000 persons visited Woodbine Park Saturday and thoroughly enjoyed the six contests. The weather was beautiful—a bracing autumn afternoon. The people anticipated a little cold and went well protected with wraps and coats.

The ladies were there in graceful abundance and not a few of them went away smiling at their own good fortune. Many were the messengers despatched from the boxes to the betting ring with crisp bank notes to lay on their favorite steeds. And there were those, of course, not so lucky who declared they would never attend the "horrid races" again.

Sir George Baden-Powell, M.P., was present and averred that he was our prised as well as immensely pleased at the capital class of sport and hight grade of horses on the track. Among the ladies noticed were Mrs. J. K. Kerr, Miss J. Fitzgibbon, the Misses Hendrie of Hamilton, Mrs. J. Foy, Mrs. (Capt.) Macdougall, Mrs. (Col.) Sweny, and Mrs. Bristol. Prominent among the gentlemen present were: Q.C.'s Charlie Ritchie (who never misses the races), J. K. Kerr (also a good attendant), J. J. Foy and E. B. Osler, Captains Howard-Wilson and Macdougall; Colonels Sweny, Otter and Leys; Honorables Charles Pope and Frank Smith, William Mulock, M.P., and last, but not least, Tom Stinson, M.L.A., of Hamilton.

The officers of the day were: T. C. Patteson and Dr. Smith, judges; J. Stanton and Alf Smith, starters; Tommy Jones and Charlie Mead, clerks of the scales, W. Christie and C. Brown, timers, and J. Duggan, clerk of the course.

It was a great day for Montreal. Four out of the six races went to Mr. J. P. Dawes' stables, Gorman riding the quartet to victory, a remarkable performance indeed. The jock was the happiest person on the track. He handled his mounts with dexterity, and after he cantered home on Zea in the fifth race smiled with an expanse that would have done credit to Ike Murphy, although he isn't colored. The selling race also went to a Montreal stable.

The track was in tip-top shape, although a little hard. The fields were sent well and easily away until the last race was reached. Never perhaps was such a bungle seen before on any race track, certainly not in this city. Mr. T. C. Patteson had left the judges' stand and everything was in disorder. It was a mile race and the start at the stand. Messrs. Mead and Torrance usurped the starters' positions and went on the track. After Hon. Frank Smith advised his co-members of the executive to get off, Mr. Stanton soon sent the field well away together. In the Juvenile race Mr. Seagram declared to win with Strategy colt and Mr. Hendrie with Sunbonnet. Zea was scarcely expected to start after winning the first race, but her second attempt with the top weight showed her sterling quality.

FIRST RACE.

Trial Stakes, $250, of which $50 to second and $25 to third horse, for three-year-olds and upwards, 1 mile.

Betting: Pericles 10 to 5, Bledsoe 7 to 5, Speculator 6 to 1, Sallie O. 8 to 1, Victor 8 to 1, Zea 5 to 5, Little Axe 25 to 1.

Pericles was away first with Bledsoe second, Zea right after and Speculator and Little Axe fighting for fourth place. Before reaching the half-mile pole Victor went ahead, but soon was replaced by Pericles, Zea remaining third. Bledsoe came with a rush at the stretch and looked like a winner, but Gorman began to whip his mare and also passed Victor. Pericles was cleared for the lead and Zea managed to win by a bare half length, Victor third a couple of lengths behind, with Pericles right behind him and Speculator only a length away.

SECOND RACE.

The Juvenile Stakes, $300, of which $50 to second and $25 to third horse, for 2-year-olds, ⅝ mile.

Time 1.05½.

Betting: Strategy colt 3 to 5, Belle of Orange 8 to 5 and 3 to 5 for place, Wenonah 3 to 1 and 3 to 5 for place, Medje filly 7 to 1 and 3 to 1 for place, Dream 6 to 1 and 3 to 1 for place. Sunbeam 6 to 1 and 3 to 5 for place, Myanna 7 to 1 and 3 to 1 for place.

After two bad breaks the big field got away, Wenonah in front, with the Strategy colt second. They soon exchanged places. At the stretch Belle of Orange went up without a whip. The race was for second place between Wenonah and Strategy colt, which the former took by a bare head. Mr. Dawes' filly won by two open lengths in a gallop. Medje filly and Sunbonnet were together at the wire. Dream was half a furlong back.

THIRD RACE.

Open Cash Handicap, $400, of which $75 to second and $25 to third horse; 1⅛ miles.

J. P. Dawes' b h Redfellow, 4, by Longfellow—Red Woman, 126 ....(Gorman) 1
M. Gorman's br h Lordlike, 3, by Vassal—Ladylike, 109½ ....(Pridgeon) 2

Wellington Stable's b h Bledsoe, 4, by Planeroid—Ida Lewis, 120 ....(Tomlin) 0

Time—2.12.

Betting: Redfellow 3 to 1, Bledsoe 5 to 1 and 8 to 5 for place, Banjo 5 to 1 and 3 to 1 for place, Everett 6 to 5 and 2 to 5 for place, Lordlike 7 to 5 and 2 to 5 for place, Victor 1 to 1 and 4 to 1 for place.

The betting was lively for the event of the day. Banjo was unruly at the post. Everett got away in front with Lordlike and Victor right after him. At the top Lordlike showed and turning Victor and Everett were fighting for the lead with Bledsoe and Redfellow struggling for the rear. Here Gorman began to ride Redfellow and to the front he went in a flash, entering the stretch ahead, Victor second, Everett third and Lordlike fourth. The Gorman horse ran up to second at the betting ring, but Redfellow had the race well in hand although he only won by a neck. Everett was three lengths behind Lordlike and the field was away back. Bledsoe quit before entering the straight course.

FOURTH RACE.

Steeplechase Handicap, $300, of which $50 to second and $25 to third horse, open; 2½ miles.

Bay View Stable's b g Mackenzie, 4, by Leguree—May, 168 ....(Mr. Loudon) 1
Col. Milligan's br h Aide-de-Camp, 5, by Mission—Morena, 140 ....(Smith) 2
T. P. Phelan's ch g Driftwood, 4, by Stockwood—Vanetta, 152 ....(Mr. Phelan) 3

Time 6.44½.

Betting: Mackenzie 1 to 5, Driftwood 8 to 5, Aide-de-Camp 4 to 1.

There were only three starters in the steeplechase. Mackenzie was away first and never was headed, although Aide-de-Camp was right on him the entire course. The three took their jumps well and were applauded for a clever clear of the water jump. On starting the second round Driftwood passed Aide-de-Camp, but it was only for a moment. The horses were going at a rattling pace. At the bottom Driftwood lost a stirrup and stopped. Before going on the stretch Mackenzie hit a jump and Aide-de-Camp knocked a hurdle down. The Bayview Stable's entry came under the wire an easy winner by three lengths. Mr. Phelan mended his saddle and finished alone.

FIFTH RACE.

Purse $250, of which $50 to second and $25 to third horse, for Dominion breeds only; 1⅛ miles.

J. P. Dawes' b m Zea, 4, by Terror—Begonia, 124 ....(Gorman) 1
J. E. Seagram's b m Helen Leigh, 4, by Strychino—Maumee, 119 ....(Foster) 2
C. Phair's br f Periwinkle, 3, by Peregrine—Miss Jeffrey, 114 ....(Snider) 3
A. E. Gates' b h Harry Cooper, 6, by Longfellow—Maumee, 115 ....(Gates) 0

Time 2.00½.

Betting: Zea 2½ to 1 and 4 to 5 for place, Harry Cooper 5 to 1 and 4 to 1 for place, Periwinkle 3 to 1, Melita 6 to 1, Helen Leigh 12 to 5 and 3 to 5 for place.

Zea was content to run last for half the distance, when Harry Cooper and Helen Leigh led alternately. The Montreal mare ran past the field at the lower turn, came up the stretch ahead and won by a length. Helen Leigh was a couple of lengths in front of Periwinkle and Harry Cooper about ten lengths behind.

SIXTH RACE.

Selling, purse $250, of which $50 to second and $25 to third horse, winner to be sold for $750; 1 mile.

Pytchley Stable's b g Pericles, a, 122, $750 ....(Steeds) 1
Wellington Stable's ch c Mirabeau, 3, 125, $750 ....(Pope) 2
J. Higgins' b g Everett, 5, 122, $750 ....(Butler) 3
F. Ward's b g Burr Oak, 4, 102, $400 ....(Pridgeon) 0
M. Gorman's br m Periwinkle, 4, 112, $750 ....(Sarkley) 0
....(Snider) 0
J. Harkley's b m Minnie Maritana, 4, 122, $750 ....(Tomlin) 0

Time 1.49½.

Betting: Pericles 12 to 5 and 2 to 5 for place, Maritana 5 to 1, Everett 3 to 5, Periwinkle 3 to 1, Tom Berlin 5 to 1 for place, Burr Oak 8 to 1 for place.

Periwinkle was too eager to get away and Pericles didn't want to move. After fully three-quarters of an hour they were sent off with Pericles in the lead. Everett fought hard to replace him but couldn't do it. These two, with Mirabeau, were almost together at the last turn. Up they came with the Pytchley gelding still in front. At the betting ring it looked well for Mirabeau but Steeds gave the word and Pericles went away and won by 1½ lengths. Mirabeau was 3 lengths ahead of Everett, Tom Berlin was away behind Burr Oak, Periwinkle and Minnie Maritana. The winner was bid in by her owner.

In all $825 in cash and the Cox-Worts cup will be contested for. Mr. McDonald's Lochiel has won this cup on two previous occasions and a victory at this meet means his permanent possession of the cup. Mackenzie may start. A good list of entries is expected for the six events. The program will be as follows:

Gossip of the Turf.

J. Higgins placed $800 on Everett in the selling race.

There is some talk of the O. J. C. giving an extra day later, but this has not been decided on by the committee yet.

Messrs. J. S. Bullick, J. P. Dawes, and J. Elliot were the prominent Montrealers present. Of course they were immensely pleased with the meeting.

The Homewood Driving Park Association have arranged a matched race for $2500 a side between the Buffalo pacer Hal Pointer (2.13) and Mr. McCormick's pacer Dallas (2.11¼) to take place at the Pittsburg trotting meeting this week. The race will evidently be nothing more than an exhibition, as Hal Pointer can beat Dallas every time they meet. At Philadelphia a short time ago Hal Pointer beat the Pittsburg horse easily in time from 2.14¼ to 2.17¼.

At Cincinnati Saturday New York Central walked over for the 4-year-old trotting stake and the 2.40 trot, which was commenced Wednesday, was finished, three heats being trotted. The track was very bad. Avena was the winner, being credited with the first, seventh and eighth heats, Della Magee took second money, having made a dead heat with Lama in the fourth heat and winning the fifth and sixth heats. Maj. Flowers and Maumjean, non-heat winners, took third and fourth moneys respectively. TENNIS AND BOWLS.

The Commerce Tournament Finals—The Lucky Competitors.

The final events in the Canadian Bank of Commerce Athletic Association tournament were held on Saturday on the grounds of the Granite Rink. In response to the invitations sent out nearly 200 people were present, the fair sex being largely and handsomely represented.

The first event was the doubles, in which Messrs. Buchan and Cook and Osborne and Cowan were the competitors. Precisely at 3 o'clock time was called and the balls were soon flying over the net. The result at the finish was as follows: Buchan and Cook beat Osborne and Cowan 8-6, 3-6, 6-3.

Then came the singles, in which the famous amateurs, W. C. Brown and J. Strachan, faced each other. In the first set Brown looked a sure winner, but the second proved that he would have to be at his best to beat his worthy opponent. The result was Brown beat Strachan 6-2, 3-6, 6-2.

The next event was the bowling match between S. J. Bull and champion R. C. McHarrie. This match at first was a one-sided affair in favor of McHarrie, but Bull pulled up, and though he could not win made a good showing against his able opponent.

During the afternoon a sumptuous refreshment table was laid in a building adjacent to the grounds and was well patronized.

The officers of the bank presented Mrs. B. E. Walker with a bouquet of flowers and the same courtesy was extended later on to Mrs. A. H. Ireland. The former lady, who, with Mr. Walker, was present all the afternoon and took a lively interest in the games, presented the prizes to the winners. The prizes were very appropriate and the general manager's prize of a beautiful pair of bowls was much admired. The other donors were Messrs. J. H. Plummer, John I. Davidson, A. H. Ireland, G. de C. O'Grady and H. E. Sewell.

The kindness of the officers of the Granite Club is much appreciated by the bank men, who consider it a great favor to have such splendid grounds and conveniences placed at their disposal.

SIX GAMES TO NIL.

Ottawa's Terrible Defeat at Cornwall on Saturday.

CORNWALL, Sept. 27.—The Cornwalls have completed their almost uninterrupted series of victories by to-day defeating the Ottawas in six straight games. Ottawa was delayed several hours by a run-off at Coteau, only arriving at Cornwall at 3 o'clock. It rained heavily during the early part of the day, but in the afternoon it cleared up.

None of the officials previously agreed upon arrived, and Mr. Pollock of Cornwall consulted to discharge the duties of referee and Robert Clark of Cornwall and Thomas Hannah of Ottawa were chosen umpires. The match was conspicuously free from rough play, no unpleasantness of any kind occurring during the entire match and the best of good feeling prevailed. The Ottawas played the same team that defeated the Shamrocks last Saturday.

The Cornwalls played an amazingly fast game from start to finish. They appeared to be in the pink of condition, and rushed the play from the start. Their team play at times was beautiful, their passing quick, and the assaults on their opponents' goals frequent and persistent. The Cornwall's flags were never in danger during the entire match. The ball went down occasionally, but was always promptly returned. McConachy, the Ottawa goalkeeper, was a marvel; he made some of the finest stops, particularly in the first game, ever witnessed. Carson also played a grand game, and Kent, considering the opportunities, did good work, but he was also closely checked. Coulson and Druhan labored well in the defence, but Crown and Bissonnette in the field did not seem to be in their usual form.

The first game was scored in 15 minutes, second in 5, third in 3, fourth in 2, fifth in 5 and sixth in 1 minute, Black scoring four, McCutcheon and Danaher each scoring one game.

There still was 29 minutes of time, but the Ottawas decided not to continue, as they were anxious to catch the train, which passed east at 6 o'clock.

Lacrosse Points.

At Montreal on Saturday the Shamrocks defeated the Capitals of Ottawa by three games to two.

The Toronto Lacrosse Club begin their practice for the Shamrock match in Montreal on the 4th at 8 o'clock Monday night, the Granite Club having generously placed the rink at their disposal. The T.L.C. committee urgently request the attendance of every member of both first and second teams.

Lacrosse has passed its embryotic state in Hamilton. Only a year old, the Y.M.C.A. twelve of that city played ten matches, defeating these seven clubs: Beavers of Toronto, Stars of Minico, Maitlands of Toronto, Young Canadians of Toronto, Caledonias, Tecumsehs of Toronto, Hamiltons.

BEFORE A STIFF BREEZE.

The Sole Hamilton 30-Footer Sails Away From a Toronto Fleet.

A stiff breeze from the north greeted the yachts as they sailed over the usual course in the Royal Canadian Yacht Club's race for the standing keel class. There was only one craft from Hamilton and she sailed away from the Toronto crews in fine style and took the first prize of $25. Wona was second and Keipie third.

Mr. Shaw's Victorious Bervie.

The final contest of the series of Toronto Canoe Club sailing races for second-class dances took place on Saturday over the course in the bay. It was between A. Shaw's Bervie and P. Rodgers' Fritz. Bervie won handily. This tied the pair in the series and a second race had a similar result to the first one. And the Bervie thus captures the first prize.

CRICKET IN THE COLD.

The Toronto and Rosedale Elevens Play a Tie Game in Bloor-street.

The Toronto and Rosedale cricket clubs played their fourth match of the season on the Bloor-street grounds Saturday afternoon, which resulted in a draw, as there was not sufficient time for Rosedale to complete her inning. Winslow, Heward and Senkler did the scoring for Torontos, while Bowbanks, Lyon and the extras got all but 8 of Rosedale's runs. The score:

What They Think of the Fight.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The evening papers make only brief comments upon the Slavin McAuliffe fight. The St. James Gazette says: "Nobody is anyway the worse for the fight, unless it is those who paid large sums to share in a mild entertainment." The Pall Mall Gazette says: "The spectators could not congratulate themselves on having their money's worth of punching. The result is a strange commentary upon the weeks of preparation the vanquished boxer had undergone. Slavin will retire from the ring."

TORONTO CYCLISTS VICTORIOUS

In the Big Road Race With the Wanderers on Saturday.

The great bicycle road race between the Torontos and Wanderers came off on Saturday afternoon over the Kingston-road from Norway Hill to Highland Creek and return and over the same course again, about 45 miles. The wind and road made the contest more a matter of endurance than a trial of speed. The Toronto representatives proved the sturdier lot and won by thirteen points.

James S. Garvin of the Toronto Lacrosse Club was the referee. Jimmy is a fellow with a big heart and to The World in the evening declared it was a genuine pity to see the sorry condition of the riders as they wheeled in. The clip of a lacrosse stick is a minor occurrence compared with the temporary collapse of a strong constitution.

The start was made sharp at 2.10 and the men cut out a terrible pace. The Wanderers led on the completion of the first round by 26 points. Then Nasmith was 3 minutes ahead of Gerrie and Hurndall, who were 5 minutes in front of Foster, Briner, Darby, Robins and McClelland. These were a short distance ahead of Wilson, Hunter, Doll and Bert Brown, with the others trailing in rear. On second trip east against the wind lack of condition had to give way to the greater endurance and better training of the Torontos, who forged ahead.

Capt. Gerrie and Fred Foster of the Wanderers fell off their wheels and fainted on the home stretch. Nasmith finished fresh, as did McLennan. Wilson, who was the first Wanderer to arrive, is a young rider and surprised everybody. He rode a plucky race all through. M. F. Johnson of the Torontos was badly used up. Doll of the Wanderers was done out. Chandler and West did not finish.

The Torontos took their victory very modestly. There was little betting, but plenty of Wanderers' money went a-begging. There was a tremendous crowd at Norway. Every wheel in the city was out. Many drove and not a few walked. Nasmith's time was 2.40½, the best previous time over the course being 3.17. The complete results are:

THE NEW ST. STEPHEN'S.

Professor Clark of Trinity Lays the Corner tone.

The corner stone of the new St. Stephen's Church was laid on Saturday afternoon with all due ceremony by Rev. Prof. Clark of Trinity College. The edifice, which is constructed of brick with stone facing, will have for its pastor Rev. A. J. Broughall, who has occupied that position since 1861. Mr. Broughall delivered an address. Only church papers and documents were placed in the cavity of the stone. A stone bearing an inscription relating to the destruction of the original edifice by fire and to its restitution in 1866 will be placed at the east end of the chancel. It is expected that the new church will be opened in November.

A Teacher Honored.

Friday evening last 500 residents of Markham village and vicinity assembled at the Town Hall on the occasion of a presentation to Mr. Allan McLean, formerly mathematical master of Markham High School, of a marble clock and a silver tea service. Mr. McLean for twelve years past has occupied the position which he now leaves to become science master at Belleville High School. If the demonstration of Friday evening can be taken as a criterion of Mr. McLean's success as a teacher, his record has been a brilliant one. The hall was decorated by the ladies of the village, who also supplied an enjoyable supper. Mr. Robert Bruce, ex-Reeve of Markham township, occupied the chair. Letters of regret were read from George Dickson, principal of Upper Canada College, and an old friend of Mr. McLean's; G. B. Smith, M. L.A., East York; C. R. Greene, headmaster Dutton High School, and J. O. Quantz. The presentation was made by Rev. A. Osborne. In his reply Mr. McLean thanked his friends warmly for their expressions of kindly interest in himself and family, and for their appreciation of his services as a teacher. Then there was a program of music and recitations. The committee are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts and the universal opinion throughout the neighborhood is that Mr. McLean has gone to his new field of labor with the pleasing confidence that he has left hundreds of warm and staunch friends behind him.

Must Amend the Particulars.

There was a five minutes' session of the arbitrators in the matter of the Toronto Street Railway on Saturday morning. There was the usual array of counsel for both the company and the city, with the exception of Solicitor Biggar, who was in Ottawa on other civic business. Mr. S. H. Blake, for the city, objected to the bill of particulars filed by the company because it did not contain the values of the various properties. After some argument it was decided to adjourn until Oct. 20, when the company will be expected to put in the amended particulars required, and the work of the arbitration will commence in earnest.

A Big Haul by Thieves.

The residence of Mrs. Millichamp, 363 Markham-street, was ransacked by thieves on Friday from cellar to garret in the absence of the family. Every portable article of any particular value had been carried off, among them a gold watch and chain and $150 in cash. An unsecured cellar window paved the way for the thieves.

Nearly all infants are more or less subject to diarrhœa and such complaints while teething, and as this period of their lives is the most critical, mothers should not be without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. This medicine is a specific for such complaints and is highly spoken of by those who have used it. The proprietors claim it will cure any case of cholera or summer complaint.

The Mineral Resources of Canada.

All who are desirous of furthering the prosperity of the provinces through the development of their mineral wealth are invited to attend a meeting to be held to-day at 4 p.m. in the office of C. S. Gzowski, jr., 54 King-street east, to take into consideration the advisability of establishing an association for the promotion of Canadian mining interests.

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, diarrhœa, etc., in the market.

THE WIFE NOT A FIT PERSON.

A Case Which Fell Through Under the License Act—Legal Notes.

Judgment was on Saturday handed out by Mr. Justice Street in Blackburn v. Garland and Blackburn v. Burrill, actions tried before him at the recent Brockville assizes. The actions were brought under the Liquor License Act, by Mrs. Andrew Blackburn of Kemptville, against two hotelkeepers of that place, claiming $500 damages in each case for supplying liquor to her husband after being notified not to do so. At the trial counsel for the defendants moved for a non-suit on the ground that the notice should have been given through the license inspector. The question of non-suit was reserved, and the case given to the jury, who awarded the plaintiff $30 in each action. His Lordship now dismisses the actions on the ground that the wife was not a person, within the meaning of the act, entitled to give the required notice, and that therefore the actions were not properly brought, no notice having been first given. Garland, by way of cross-action, sued Mrs. Blackburn for malicious arrest, but this action was dismissed, His Lordship holding that want of reasonable and probable cause had not been shown. The action against Garland and the cross-action were dismissed without costs, and the action against Burrill dismissed with costs.

Chief Justice Galt handed out judgment in the case of the Brantford, Waterloo and Lake Erie Railway Co. v. Marquis, dismissing the defendant's motion to refer back the award to the arbitrators on the ground that no interest had been awarded him. The costs are payable to the plaintiffs forthwith.

In the matter of the election petition of South Norfolk Mr. Maclennan made the usual order that the petitioners furnish the respondents with full particulars of the allegations charged in the petition.

ACCOMPLISHED HER RUIN.

The Serious Charge Against a Toronto Dentist.

Fred McNamara, who styles himself a dentist, was arrested on Saturday by Sergeant Vaughan on a charge of seduction. The alleged victim is Miss Ellen McIntosh, with whom McNamara became acquainted while employed in Peterboro. About a month ago he persuaded Miss McIntosh to come to this city, when, it is alleged, he accomplished her ruin under promise of marriage. Instead, however, of fulfilling this promise McNamara placed her, against her will, in a house of ill-fame, a fact which will lead, so the police say, to a second charge being preferred against him.

The keeper of the place in which the girl was placed, was unwilling to allow her to remain after becoming cognizant of the circumstances, remarking that "there were already enough unfortunates without coercing anyone into such a life." This woman will be used by the authorities as a witness.

McNamara came to this city several years ago from St. Louis and since then, owing to his unsteady habits, has been oscillating between a number of dental offices, with but a brief term of employment in any one. He is not a qualified dentist and has generally been employed in doing mechanical work. By birth he is an Englishman.

Muggins on the Bylaw.

Editor World: I see that a bylaw to raise a large sum to squander on our dilapidated waterworks and something else in connection with it is to be submitted to us.

Would it not be a good idea for the council to feel the pulse of the citizens on some other matter at the same time instead of going it blind? It would save exposure, an unlimited amount of abuse, not to say time.

There are two very important questions which if submitted the verdict would be of great use to our city fathers and would facilitate matters generally.

First ask the citizens of Toronto if they will vote sufficient money to purchase what rights the C.P.R. have on the waterfront between Yonge and York, for the purpose of making a park. Don't make the mistake that was made in the Don muddle. Ask for $1,000,000 at least—it will certainly take that amount to get the land only. Never mind the alternative site. Don't you worry about the C.P.R.; they will look after themselves without your help, and if you are noncareful will have the City Hall next. You might add on $100,000 for expenses to Ottawa, extra legal advice and a few wine suppers for the committee.

The second question—Ask the citizens whether they want Ashbridge's Bay reclaimed by the City Council or by a private company any time within the next 20 years (to sure you give yourselves plenty of time).

Fool away the time by getting out an injunction to "re-strain" the sewage we are pumping into the clean reservoir. J. MUGGINS.

The Chinese as Farmers.

[Thomas Magee in The October Forum.]

A year ago I sold for a friend in San Francisco a lot of land in a then unbuilt western suburb. A Chinaman had been using it as a garden. The land was sandy and had not more than 300 by 250 feet surface. The Chinaman therefore had the full use of but about 2½ acres. For this speck of ground he regularly paid $75 a month, and he lived on it with an assistant. He used the land to grow vegetables, which he sold to Chinamen to be peddled through the city. Despite the high rent he was making money. The Rev. Mr. Vrooman, now Chinese interpreter in the California courts, who was for 25 years a missionary at Canton, and was subsequently among the Chinese in Melbourne, informed me that he knew of two Chinese in the latter place who made a living for themselves and a horse from a quarter of an acre of land. In addition to thus supporting themselves and the horse they each sent $50 yearly to their relatives at home.

Chinese now rent at least 50,000 acres of fruit and bottom lands within a radius of 100 miles of San Francisco, for, which they pay from four to ten times what a white lessee could afford to pay for the same. Land in their hands is farmed in earnest, and with them its richness increases rather than decreases.

The York Township Fair.

The second day of the exhibition of the Agricultural and Arts Association of the Township of York and North Toronto was a great success. The Metropolitan Electric Railway took a large number of passengers over the three miles between Glen Grove Park and the terminus of the street railway. The officers of the association who were present were: President, David G. Holmes; vice-president, John Morgan; treasurer, William Boucock; secretary, J. Cooper.

The exhibits in the Main Building were of a choice character, and included besides the usual agricultural, live stock and horticultural products, many artistic and fancy articles. The judges concluded their labors early in the day and the afternoon was given over to amusements and sports. Among the events on the program were several foot races, pony race, team trotting race for farmers' horses, two-year-old race and three-minute trot. The exhibition was stated to have been one of the most successful ever held by the association.

How Men are Worth More Than Books.

[Frederic Harrison in The October Forum.]

To hunt up and "interview" men of note is a silly and odious habit of our day. But no study and no books can supply the place of personal intercourse with those who know and those who lead. I am sure whole libraries would not give me what I have gained in converse with Gambetta, Mazzini, John Bright, J. Stuart Mill, G. Eliot, Ruskin, Cardinal, Manning, John Dillon, John Burns, Herbert Spencer, Comte, John Morley, and Mr. Gladstone.

If you feel languid and bilious try Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and you will find it one of the best preparations for such complaints. Mr. S. B. Maginn, Ethel, used Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and cured a severe bilious sick headache which troubled him for a long time.

Saturday Before the Colonel.

William Collins, known to the police as an impostor and fraud, was given six months in the Central Prison by the Police Magistrate on Saturday. Paul Patillo and his antagonist, John Maloney, were fined $1 and costs. Charles Dolson, a suspected thief, was remanded. Albert Wilkinson and Samuel Raban, found in a place where liquor is supposed to be illegally sold and who refused to give their right names, were fined $10 and costs.

O. E. Comstock, Caledonia, Minn., writes: "I was suffering the most excruciating pain from inflammatory rheumatism. One application of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil afforded almost instant relief, and two bottles effected a permanent cure."

REWARDING THE YOUNG IDEA.

A Pleasant Evening With the Public School Children.

The annual distribution of prizes in connection with the public schools combined examination took place Friday night in the Pavilion, Horticultural Gardens, and the lights from the chandeliers in that place probably never shone down upon a larger assemblage or a prettier or more animated scene. The floor of the pavilion, which had been reserved for the scholars and teachers, was filled to the doors. Mr. Frank Somers, chairman of the School Board, presided, and on the platform were Trustees J. S. Williams, E. P. Roden, Hagerman, Hastings, James Kerr, George Vair, H. A. E. Kent, Baird, McSpadden, Marshall, Middleton and Dr. Burgess; Messrs Gilbert, Parr and Moore, High School trustees; Principal MacMurchy and Adjutant Manley of the Collegiate Institute; Inspector Hughes, Secretary Wilkinson and Mesdames D. V. Lucas and Fawcett. Prof. Perrin's singing class, composed of public school pupils, also occupied a place on the platform and acceptably rendered several choruses.

The great event of the evening, the presentation of the prizes, followed a short speech by the chairman, and Inspector Hughes, who superintended, gave each of the trustees present an opportunity to distribute to each class the various prizes. Below are the scholarships and medals:

Scholarships—Boys: George Menge, Ryerson; Charles P. Muckle, Wellesley; Fred McKay, Wellesley; Fred Gilbert, Wellesley; William Kitchen, Wellesley; Charles J. Currie, Wellesley.

Girls: Lillian Carruthers, Minnie Davidson, Edith Allen, Phœbe Peake, Wellesley; eq., Ethel McKay, Wellesley; and Anna Greer, Dufferin.

Medals—Macdonald gold medal for general proficiency, George Menge, Ryerson; Macdonald silver medal for general proficiency, Lillian Carruthers, Wellesley.

Kent medals for Canadian history and geography—Charles P. Muckle, Wellesley, and George Menge, Ryerson.

Rev. Septimus Jones' prize for reading—Boys, Fred Gilbert Wellesley; girls, Lucy Jones, Dufferin.

Art scholarship—George Menge, Ryerson, and Ethel McKay, Wellesley.

Temperance prizes, given by the W.C.T. Union—Junr. 3d, Dora Dowler (Phœbe-street); junr. 4th, Mabel Holland (Louisa); junr. 5th, Elsie Blackmore (Jesse Ketchum). Senr. 3d, Mary Hough (Victoria); senr. 4th, Chauncey Tocque (Wellesley); senr. 5th, George Menge (Ryerson).

How to Educate Women.

[Mrs. Helen E. Starrett in The October Forum.]

Once give full scope to the expression of woman's powers, in any and every form of activity that may correspond to those powers; relieve alike from fear of poverty and dependence, and from the tyranny of enforced inactivity; and womanhood will blossom into a beauty and strength and loveliness of character hitherto undreamed of. Especially in the home relations of women will this be apparent. As an earnest thinker upon the subject has said, "It is inevitable that the removal of any external pressure of necessity to marry for the sake of a home and support will have a tendency to elevate the standard of marriage, first among women and then among men." One of the greatest foes to happy marriages is the existence of the mercenary spirit on the part of parents and daughters. Nothing will so effectively remove it as the possession by young girls and women of satisfactory, honorable, remunerative occupations, and the countenance and approbation of society in the pursuit of them. Margaret Fuller said: "No woman can give her hand with dignity until she has learned to stand alone." The day is near at hand when the thoroughly educated woman will be the one admiringly described by Goethe as "able, if necessary, to be both father and mother to her children." Here will be found the true conditions for forming love-inspired marriages, and, as a consequence, the saggring to be of any other kind. And while we open to them the door of freedom to find that highest heaven of earthly happiness—the home builded upon love and a happy marriage, we at the same time furnish them with a key of escape from that Bastile, that hell—a marriage from which love and respect have departed.

A Deferential Editor.

[From The Hamilton Times.]

We are prepared to listen deferentially to a statement that it would be foolish for Canadians to join the Yankees in paying pensions to the survivors of the war of 1861-'65. We admit the inadvisability of "hitching on" to a nation that has eight or ten millions of a black population, and an unsolved race problem to make trouble in the future. The argument that the United States tariff is higher than ours, and is therefore a thing to be avoided, appeals to us with special force. On such subjects as divorce, Sabbath observance, the regulation of the liquor traffic, the power of trusts and monopolies, Indian policy, respect for life, speedy trial and sure punishment of law-breakers, many reasons can be adduced why Canadians are better off where they are than they would be as citizens of the United States. The United States form of government, without an independent executive, with Cabinet Ministers who have no seats in Congress; the rotation of offices under the spoils theory; the extraordinary powers of the Speaker of the House of Representatives—these and other things too numerous to mention may be highly objectionable from a Canadian point of view, and we have nothing but respect for the Canadian who weighs all those matters carefully and presents them forcibly when the subject of annexation is under consideration.

Funeral of the Late John Smith.

All that was mortal of the late John Smith, reputed to be the first white man born in Toronto, was laid at rest in St. James' Cemetery on Saturday afternoon. The funeral cortege left the family residence at Broadway and First-avenues at 3¼ p.m. There were about 70 vehicles in line. The York Pioneers, including Rev. Dr. Scadding, president; William Rennie, vice-president; W. Lee, James Stitt, John Laidlaw, sr., J. Watson, E. Edmunds, Robert Rennie, were largely represented in the cortege. The chief mourners were W. J. Smith, Joseph Smith and Edward Smith, sons of deceased; A. W. Holman and Benjamin Pearsall, sons-in-law, and Edward Bird, a nephew. The pall-bearers were D. B. Read, Robert Rennie, W. Rennie, Thomas Saulter, Charles McMichael, Isaac Ashbridge, Charles McCaffry, Robert Plater. Rev. Alexander Sanson of Trinity Church and Rev. Scott Howard of St. Matthew's Church officiated at the house and at the grave.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity by Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, is earache. The young are specially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are especially subject.

From Police Blotters.

A clever thief got away with five small diamond rings from Davis Bros.' case on the Exhibition grounds.

Archibald McWilliams, 369 Queen-street east, reports the theft from that address of $3.

Mr. Clarkson Jones, 18 Toronto-street, told the police on Saturday that his overcoat had been stolen that morning from his office.

Maurice Dalton, under indictment on two charges of firm-flaming, and who is out on bail, has been arrested and convicted for vagrancy on general principles. He is appealing from the decision.

Frank Shields, alias Slade, was put under arrest in Agnes-street Police Station Saturday night for refusing to give an account of himself when found in a place where an illicit trade in liquor is carried on.

The police raided Alberti's cigar store, Yonge-street, Saturday night and seized 36 bottles of ale.

Mike McConnell, 665 Yonge-street, is held in Yonge-street station charged with breaking into Severn's brewery.

Walter Glasspool, 16 Nassau-street, is being held by the police to answer the alleged theft of an album from Mrs. King, 37 Lombard-street.

Michael Mandible, 21 Mutual-street, and Michael McLaughlin, 47 Duchess-street, were arrested Saturday night for disorderly conduct.

William Tenant, 117 Armstrong-avenue, had a falling out on Saturday night with George Hamilton. Hamilton, as a result, had to have seven stitches in his head, and Tenant is under arrest for felonious wounding.

The Diamond Dyes.

The Diamond Dyes awake our praise,
And give delight in countless ways.
In colors, forty there are found,
And now are treasured and renowned,
For every use we put them to.
We must admire their vivid hue,
Our home and dress they lovely make
This is a fact and no mistake.

GENERAL GRANT'S COURTSHIP.

Mrs. Grant Tells How the Famous Soldier Proposed.

[From The Ladies' Home Journal.]

One summer day we were going to a morning wedding, and Lieut. Grant was also invited. He came for us on horseback and asked my brother's permission to drive me, in exchange for his saddle, to which he gladly consented. The day was beautiful, the roads were a little heavy from previous rain, but the sun shone in splendor. We had to cross a little bridge that spanned a ravine, and when we reached it I was surprised and a little concerned to find the gulch swollen, a most unusual thing, the water reaching to the bridge. I noticed, too, that Lieutenant Grant was very quiet, and that and the high water bothered me. I asked several times if he thought the water dangerous to breast, and told him I would go back rather than take any risk. He assured me, in his brief way, that it was perfectly safe, and in my heart I relied upon him. Just as we reached the old bridge I said: "Now, if anything happens, remember I shall cling to you, no matter what you say to the contrary." He simply said: "All right," and we were over the planks in less than a minute. Then his mood changed, he became more social, and in asking me to be his wife used my threat as a theme. After dinner that afternoon Lieutenant Grant asked me to set the day. I wanted to be engaged, and told him it would be much nicer than getting married—a sentiment he did not approve. We were very quiet at the house that evening and neither said a word of the secret. After supper he went back to the regiment and a few days later General Taylor sent him to Camp Salubrity, in Louisiana. He was too shy to ask father, so he waited till he was stationed and wrote to him. Father never answered the letter. I was his favorite daughter and he thought army life would not suit me.

"Besides," said father, "you are too young and the boy is too poor. He hasn't anything to give you."

I rose in my wrath and I said I was poor, too, and hadn't anything to give him.

The next year he came back on a leave of absence, and I can remember just how he looked as he rode up in his new uniform. Father was going to Washington on business and we were all on the front porch kissing him good-bye and stuffing his pockets with notes of things he was to buy. Lieutenant Grant asked for my hand and he, in a hurry to get off, consented.

My soldier lover was in and about Mexico for four years, including the war. Every mail brought me a letter. Everyone of them full of musings, love and war, and now and then some pressed leaves and flowers. Some were written on drumheads captured from the Mexicans and others on sheets of foolscap, folded and sealed with red wafers. I read each one every day until the next one came. I have them all.

Toronto's Bonanza.

[From The Dundalk Herald.]

The great Industrial Exhibition of 1890 is now numbered with its predecessors, and has exceeded them all in its wealth of exhibit. Stock, manufactures, machinery, art, farm products, curiosities, etc., etc., were all represented in immense profusion. Even the amusement or the swinging throngs of humanity was not omitted, and the thousands who failed to obtain entrance to the grand stand attest the drawing power of the attractions offered.

For Toronto the Industrial is a bonanza; for the directors of the mammoth concern, it is a huge financial success. During its progress, the city merchants, hotel and boarding-house keepers reap a rich harvest, in many cases exerting double rates. The harvest they gather is reaped at the expense of the province at large. Every village and school section has had its representatives there, and thousands of dollars have been spent by the visitors. Toronto is so much richer, and the rest of the province so much poorer.

While the exhibition has its advantages, it is remarkable what an adverse influence it has on the business interest of the province. We venture to say that there is scarcely a town or village that has not felt its shadow and found its influence on business to be almost paralyzing. For the two weeks of its continuance local trade rapidly thins out. Already one flexible joint has arrived and this will permit the laying of four lengths of pipe.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

The most hateful and brutal form of punishment is that which inflicts death upon the criminal. In a civilized and humane state of society none but a social outcast and depraved mercenary can be found who will undertake the duties of hangman. Even he has not the temerity to do the work openly, but like a despicable coward does it under disguise. Society or the state has no occasion to resort to murder to save itself from the hands of a convicted murderer. When it comes to hanging a human being the last functionary of the law is ashamed of the job, and so employs a substitute—the meanest type of the genus homo. If no one could be found so base as to become hangman we should have fewer murders. Society then would have a higher estimate of human life. Treating the crime of murder with murder as an antidote has not yet abolished the crime, nor has it added a particle to the security of society. The tyranny and cruelties of Siberia have not yet banished Nihilism, nor do they enhance the safety of the Czar. When society esteems human life under every circumstance and condition sacred, then will man, the unit of society, shudder at the thought of murdering his fellowman. If there is any sincerity in the belief of the doctrine of eternal punishment society has no moral right to limit the chances of the murderer to escape it by taking or destroying his life. "A life for a life" is the miserable principle of savages, foreign alike to humanity and to God. The man whose life has been a lie and a fraud, and though his career may end in a conviction for murder, we shall still earnestly plead that he be not sent to his eternal account through a premature death at the hands of the hangman. Better by far confine him for the remainder of his natural life to suffer the tortures of a guilty conscience in the direction of earthly reformation than that he should be suddenly cut off and ushered into the presence of his Creator by the agency of murder in another form. There is no warrant from God to mankind to inflict murder in order to prevent murder. The simple command is "Thou shalt do no murder." That command is equally obligatory upon society as upon the individual. It is the duty of society therefore to obey it scrupulously as a law of nature and a law of God. The electrocution of Kemmler was a disgrace to the century, but not more so than every other form of inflicting death or murder under the sanction of human law for the pretended purpose of protecting and saving human society.

GRAIN.

Barley continues very active with prices varying according to the points where it is located. The McKinley bill is to go into effect on Oct. 6, and the chief element in the regulation of prices is the promptness with which the grain can be supplied. Barley has gone forward this year with phenomenal speed. It is estimated that by Oct. 1 over 2,000,000 bushels will have crossed the lines. A private letter to Crane & Baird, written at Oswego on Sept. 26, states that receipts of Canada barley there have been 316,000 bushels up to that date as against 70,000 bushels at the corresponding date last year. Oats are steady at 37 east, 38 west. Peas are easier, buyers holding off; sales to-day at 60 Grand Trunk west. Wheat is steady at 92 for red and white north and west. New spring on the Midland east is selling at 95.

BUYERS WHO BUY WELL AIM AT GETting the best value for their money, and generally the best goods are the cheapest. In the matter of Tea, for instance, even from the standpoint of economy, it pays to use the pure Indian Teas, sold exclusively by us. One teaspoonful is equal to two of the China or Japan Teas, while the price is about the same. In addition to the saving you enjoy the fragrance and exquisite flavor of the pure tea leaf. Our Teas are absolutely pure, and being purchased direct from one of the largest tea gardens in India we are able to supply our customers at first hand. We invite you to call and get samples and examine the teas for yourselves.

This Company is now issuing $100, $200, $300, $400 and $500 Investment Bonds, payable in Five, Ten and Fifteen Years from date of issue, with participation in profits; affording all the advantages of compound interest accumulations on small sums of money.
These Bonds are the obligations of this Company, and are specially protected by a Sinking Fund, invested in first-class Real Estate Mortgages. They are plain, definite contracts, subject to no contingencies whatever, are non-forfeitable after one annual payment, with values definitely stated thereon. For a small outlay they secure a fixed and generous return.
Young Men and Women, persons of moderate means and any one seeking a perfectly safe and profitable investment, are solicited to examine carefully the plan of these Bonds and note the fact that a small amount paid Monthly, Quarterly, Half-yearly or Annually, will produce One, Two, Three, Four or Five Hundred Dollars at the end of Five, Ten or Fifteen Years, affording thereby unequalled opportunities for saving and accumulating money, and all at very moderate cost.
The Company is prepared to receive applications from reliable agents at all points where it is not already represented.
WM. KERR, Manager.
The Safe Deposit Vaults of the Company cannot be surpassed for absolute security. Call and examine or Write for Circular.
