

as affording a
hemiplegia.

inished several
lateral disposi-
as a practical
conclusion to
carotid deliga-
ry from which
ferred to, there
the introduc-
ined for this
e same bene-
e subclavian.
st named ves-
l again, were
symmetrical
blood would
ring may be on of opera-
time.

peration; to orrectness of
he weight of
gature of the
innominatal
ature of the life may be
o which re-
tions, popu-
Miller, that (Principles
m the facts
nnominatal
the obser-
ositions, as

aneurism.

with immi-
, &c.

3. Cases most favorable:—when the aneurism proceeds from the left segment or anterior circumference of the artery.

4. Cases less advantageous:—those in which the external tumor is nearest the middle of the clavicle.

5. Cases contra-indicating:—complications with aortic aneurism, aortic disease, &c., unless excepted by extreme urgency.

