CALAMITY ON CALAMITY.

PNEUMONIA ATTACKS THE JOHNSTOWN REFUGEES.

Scenes and Incidents in the Devastated Valley of the Conemaugh—A Bridge Over the Susquehannah Swept Away With Four Score Sightseers.

JOHNSTOWN, June 4.—Every little house on Prospect Hill, and there are a hundred or two of them, threw its doors open to receive the bruised and half-clad fugitives on the day of the deluge and every one is now a hospital. Half the women who scaled the height were so overcome with fright that they have been bedridden ever since. There had been a few cases of pneumonia on the hill. To-day, however, several fresh cases developed among the flood furitives and a physician said the prospects for a scourge are all too promising. The enfeebled condition of the patients, the unhealthy atmosphere pervading the valley and the close quarters in which the people are crowded, render the spread of the disease almost certain. A carload of bedding for the Prospect Hill sufferers arrived to-day from Ohio. The Cambria hospital, which stands on this hill, is full of bruised and suffering ones. A wealthy young Philadelphian named Ogle arrived to-day to find the corpse of his fiance, in the morgue. David John Lewis, who was worth $60,000, but ruined by the flood, rides about on a grey horse continually asking if anybody has seen his missing sisters. J. H. Klein claims the distinction of being the only New Yorker in Johnstown who escaped the flood and the honor of having rescued or assisted in rescuing 60 persons. He was at the Merchants' Hotel and his plan was to life persons from the windows of houses swimming by. Amongst those he saved were Rev. Mr. Phillips, wife and two children.

Williamsport's Story of Death.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., June 4.—The business houses throughout the city all lose heavily by the recent flood. The loss falls heaviest on the lumbermen. All the logs are lost and a fair share of the cut lumber. Two children of Charles Edwards were drowned and three children out of a family named Shultz and a child of William Diettich. A man named Mitchler and an unknown also perished, all in this city. At Nippenose, 12 miles up the river, twelve persons were drowned, members of the family of George and Wm. Youngman and two lady visitors. Yesterday Abram Frederichey and his son aged 14 were carried over the falls and drowned. Five men and a baby were drowned at Baker's Camp, near English Centre, Lycoming County. There is great distress, as many families lost all their provisions.

The city has been in darkness since Saturday evening, the gas works and electric light plants being flooded. All the principal hotels, the banks, newspaper offices, the court house, churches and stores were flooded. Several children were born during the flood. Some of them are among the refugees and are staying out doors on the high ground. What was floating down the river was a woman who had just been delivered of twins. Mrs. Piatt at Field Station was drowned.

Eighty Lost in This Disaster.

NEW YORK, June 4.—A special to The Tribune from Lewisburg, Pa., says the flood on the west branch of the Susquehanna River has never been equalled before. The water is four feet above the high water mark of the great flood of 1886. Every bridge on the Susquehanna River from Sudbury in Northumberland County, to Clearfield in Clearfield County, has been swept away. Williamsport was the scene yesterday of a frightful disaster. From fifty to eighty persons were standing on the bridge at Market-street which spans the Susquehanna River, when with a sudden and mighty surge the angry waters, choked with logs, the ruins of houses and all sorts of driftwood swept the bridge away on its bosom. The sightseers were thrown into the rushing river. Their attempts to save themselves were desperate and pitiful, and few, if any, were successful.

At Milton the water was five feet high in the streets. At this place five spans of the railroad bridge were swept away. The gas works, waterworks and the mills were flooded out. The loss will reach $75,000. Every town along the west branch of the Susquehanna is isolated from every other town and communication is difficult and in places impossible. The railroad stations and postoffices are open.

The Lynching Stories Denied.

JOHNSTOWN, June 4.—The stories of lynching sent from this place yesterday were untrue. Sheriff Slemmings of Cambria County, who has been on duty since Friday last, states that the rumored hanging of negroes and Hungarians Sunday night was wholly without foundation.

Pneumonia Among the Refugees.

JOHNSTOWN, June 4.—Three hundred more bodies have just been found opposite Nineveh. This makes 700 bodies found at that point.

The burned wreck against the bridge is being blown up with dynamite to allow the water to pass into the main channel. Many skeletons and fragments of bodies have been found. The opening of this channel will take the overflow from the lower part of Johnstown.

Pneumonia has broken out among the refugees on Prospect Hill.

Newport's Loss.

NEWPORT, Pa., June 4.—Telegraphic communication was opened with the outside world this afternoon. Two-thirds of the town is overflowed. Seven families are destitute, their homes having been swept away. The water is seven feet deep in the streets in the central part of the town. The loss is $500,000.

Lost Nine Relatives.

BALTIMORE, June 4.—General Passenger Agent C. O. Scull of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad lost nine relatives in the Johnstown flood.

Williamsport in Need.

HARRISBURG, June 4.—The Mayor of Williamsport telegraphs to Governor Beaver asking for aid to thousands of homeless people in that city. He states that the loss there on lumber alone is over $5,000,000. The Governor has promised to send money, provisions, etc.

Massachusetts' Sympathy.

BOSTON, June 4.—The Legislature to-day amended the Johnstown relief bill and made the amount for the sufferers $30,000.

Philadelphia Gives $500,000.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—The subscriptions up to this evening to the various funds in the city for the relief of the sufferers by the floods aggregate over $500,000.

Saratogians Raise $2000.

SARATOGA, June 4.—Saratogians raised $2000 here in 10 minutes to-night for the Johnstown sufferers.

Poughkeepsie's Contribution.

POUGHKEEPSIE, June 4.—One thousand six hundred and thirty-eight dollars has been sent to the Johnstown sufferers and as much more has been subscribed.

The Belmont Disaster.

BELMONT, N.Y., June 4.—The bodies of Wm. S. Allen and C. S. Stearns, two of the men who were drowned in the bridge disaster at this place Saturday last, have been recovered. The body of Frank Thrope of Belvidere, another of the victims, is still missing. The first train since last Friday at 11 p.m. passed this section this morning about 11 o'clock.

Hong Kong Parallels Johnstown.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—A private cablegram received here this afternoon by a Chinese firm reports that a hurricane at Hong-Kong has caused a loss of 10,000 lives and great damage to property.

WAS IT JACK?

Or Merely the Attempt of an Abortionist to Conceal His Crime.

LONDON, June 4.—The mutilated trunk of a woman was found in the Thames at Horsleydown this morning. The Whitechapel excitement is revived. It is believed Jack the Ripper has resumed his atrocities. Only the upper half of the body was found, and it was cut into two pieces. The lower part of the body was missing. The ghastly objects were tied in a parcel with a stout cord. Shortly afterward a parcel of female clothing was found at Battersea. The fragments of the body and the clothing were wrapped in pieces of clothing, which together had comprised a pair of woman's drawers. On the waistband of the drawers was the name Fisher, in indelible ink. It is evident that the clothing belonged to the murdered woman. The portions of the trunk showed the woman to have been large and well developed.

Another Account.

LONDON, June 4.—A parcel containing the lower portion of the trunk of a woman's body, cut in halves, was found in the Thames at Horsleydown this morning. Another parcel in which were a woman's thighs was picked up at Battersea. Both were wrapped in pieces of a woman's drawers, on which the name Fisher was marked. The trunk and thighs evidently belong to the same body, which was that of a well-developed person. The remains had probably been in the water for ten days. It is feared that Jack the Ripper has again been at work.

The Door Kept Open.

LONDON, June 4.—In the House of Commons to-day, in the vote of £28,000 for secret service, Mr. Bradlaugh moved to reduce the amount by £20,000. The vote, he said, was an open door to the misuse of funds. He referred to the spy Le Caron as receiving money over a period of years from the secret service fund through a person not personally responsible to the ministers. The motion was rejected, 141 to 43.

Death of Mr. F. Broughton.

EASTWOOD, June 4.—Mr. F. Broughton, late general manager of the Great Western Railway, died here early this morning.

[Mr. Broughton had been failing in health for some months past. He was a "Lancashire lad," who started railway life at the foot of the ladder and by force of talent and industry rose to general managership. The position he filled both in Ireland and South Wales before being selected to succeed Mr. W. K. Muir in the management of the Great Western Railway of Canada. Coming to Canada imbued with all the strict ideas of responsibility, discipline and correctness that mark railway management in the Old Country, he was shocked at the lax morality prevalent on Canadian roads. Right, left and centre he initiated reforms which brought him the illwill of those affected. But the new manager carried the day and showed himself able to cope with the best on this side. Under his management the efficiency of the road made rapid strides and just as his policy was bearing fruit, and in spite of his remonstrances, the shareholders assented to a fusion with the Grand Trunk. The services of Mr. Broughton were dispensed with and he moved to Chicago, where he had charge of the Chicago and Atlantic road. Later he became the representative of English bondholders in a road at Cincinnati; but most of his time of late has been spent on his farm at Eastwood, immediately opposite the residence of Mr. T. C. Patterson. Rather rough in colloquy, Mr. Broughton had a kind and tender heart, and his old associates in the management of the Great Western Railway will feel a pang to think that he has been taken away. Of his daughters all but one are married, and he leaves two sons, both in railway employ. His widow has the sympathy of all who remember her large-hearted kindness in the days of plenty and prosperity.]

Sentenced for Life.

MONTREAL, June 4.—Francois Laurent, the jealous brute who fired three revolver shots at his wife five weeks ago in Maple-street, one of the bullets taking effect in her thigh, was sentenced to a life term in St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary by Judge Dugas to-day. In 1887 Laurent assaulted his wife with a base-ball club and left her for dead, and was tried for attempted murder, but as his wife, who recovered, went on her knees before the judge asking for mercy for her husband he was let off with one month in jail.

To Hide Another Crime.

LONDON, June 4.—The condition of the remains found at Horsleydown shows that the woman had recently given birth to a child. It is believed that she was the victim of an abortion and that the persons connected with the operation cut the body up to escape discovery. The doctors declare the remains could not have been in the water over 24 hours. They think the woman was about 25 years old.

Lennox Reform Convention.

NAPANEE, June 4.—The annual meeting of the Lennox Reform Association was held here to-day in the town hall and was largely attended. Speeches were made by W. T. R. Preston, D. W. Allison, ex-M.P., and several others. Bowen E. Aylesworth, reeve of Ernestown, was unanimously chosen as the standard bearer for the Reform party in the coming local election.

A Strained Construction.

Mr. Gooderham Says it Lacks Truth.

This despatch was received by The World last night:

WINDSOR, June 4.—Gooderham & Worts, distillers of Toronto, are said to be looking for a site in Windsor to which to transfer the greater part of their immense Toronto distillery works.

The World spoke to Mr. George Gooderham over the telephone and read the despatch to him. Mr. Gooderham said that there was not a word of truth in the report.

DERBY DAY IN ENGLAND.

THE BLUE RIBAND OF THE ENGLISH TURF TO BE RUN TO-DAY.

Probable Starters for the Big Race—Racing at Jerome Park, St. Louis and Chicago—Toronto Defeats Buffalo—Other Games Yesterday—Trinity Wins at Cricket—Other Sports.

LONDON, June 4.—The Epsom Summer races, with the Derby to-day, the Grand Prize to-morrow and the Oaks on Friday, are the turf attractions of the current week. With the Duke of Portland's Donovan so great a favorite the betting as to the result of the Derby is practically at a standstill. The betting for a place is very heavy and it will not be surprising if there is a big upset in public estimation by the running of some of those not supposed to be in the race. Should the weather be really good there will be a large attendance at Epsom to-morrow, including many Americans who are "laying over" to see the big race. The Prince of Wales will give his usual Derby dinner to-day and with a few guests see the race run to-morrow. As to Donovan's running the result is looked upon as a certainty, especially since the Newmarket Stakes, which he won very easily. Including that event, his earnings amount to £17,200, and as he won a total of £15,487.15 last year it will easily be seen that he is a paying piece of property. In fact the Duke of Portland's turf earnings this year will certainly exceed those of any other owner in the history of racing, owning as he does Ayrshire (a win some of the big all-aged events and Semolina (Donovan's half-sister), already a winner of several rich two-year-old stakes. The probable starters for the Derby are as follows, colts to carry 126 pounds:

Mr Abington's br c Pioneer, by Galopin.
Mr Douglas Baird's ch c Enthusiast, by Sterling.
Mr Douglas Baird's br c El Dorado, by Sterling.
Mr Cochrane's ch c Berkham, by Doncaster.
Mr J. Gretton's br c Miguel, by Fernandez.
M J. Hammond's ch c Laureate, by Petrarch.
Sir R Jardine's b c Flintfayer, by Fitz-James.
Mr C Perkins's b c Polonia, by Beaconsfield.
Mr C Perkins's ch c Chitabob, by Robert the Devil.
Duke of Portland's b c Donovan, by Galopin.
Duke of Portland's b c The Turcophone, by Galopin.
Mr Rose's b c Gulliver, by Galliard.
Mr Leopold de Rothschild's blk c Morgiay, by Sir Bevys.
Mr W Low's b c Day Hampton, by Hampton.

In the little betting done the odds are 6 to 4 on Donovan, with 10 to 1 against Pioneer, 14 to 1 each Miguel and Laureate, 16 to 1 El Dorado, 20 to 1 each Chitabob and Morgiay, and 50 to 1 each Gulliver and Day Hampton. This is the last time that the Derby will be run under old conditions. Next year it will be a "guarantee" stake of £5000 to the winner.

The attraction on Thursday is the Epsom Grand Prize for three-year-olds, at a mile and a quarter (City and Suburban course). No fairly accurate list of probable starters has been made up, as much will depend on the running for the Derby.

On Friday the Oaks, for three-year-old fillies, will bring out a fairly good field. The course is the same as for the Derby—about a mile and a half, and the young ladies will carry 122 pounds. Like the Derby, the Oaks is also a "guaranteed" stake of £4000 to the winner. The probable starters for the current year are given in The Sportsman as follows:

Mr R C Vyner's b f Minthe, by Camballo.
Mr D Baird's b f Hampionia, by Hampton.
Capt Machell's b f Winkle, by Muncaster.
Capt Machell's b f Italica, by Arbitrator.
Lord Calcoran's b f Folka, by Galopin.
Lord Ellesmere's b f Pamela, by Hampton.
Mr J H Houldsworth's b f Hellocene, by Hampton.
Mr R Sutton's b f Peter Bray, by Doncaster.
Mr J V Laurence's b f Wishing Gate, by Baltic, dc.
Mr H Mitmer's ch f Anutiea, by Isonomy.
Mr H Milner's bl or br f Way to Athens, by Isonomy.
Prince Soltykoff's b f Cherry Bounce, by Mark.
Mr T E Walker's f Virginia Queen, by Newminster.
Lord R Churchill's bl f L'Abbesse de Jouarre, by Typhoeus.
Baron de Rothschild's b f Criniere, by Robert the Devil.
Mr J W Gosden's b f Ravenna, by Petrarch.

In the betting reported for the Oaks, Minthe, the winner of the 1000 Guineas, is the favorite at 9 to 4 against Wishing Gate, who was fourth for the Kempton Park Royal stakes of £1000 (won by Ayrshire), second favorite.

The Suburban Handicap.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Two weeks from to-day the Suburban Handicap is the great event that will attract the attention of the many thousands interested to Sheepshead Bay. Already can be heard on the trains going to and returning from Jerome Park the question, "What is likely to start for the Suburban?" It is a little early to begin guessing at the possible starters. The number is scarcely likely to be as large as in the last year, when seventeen ran. The following "possibilities," however, show the same number. Those that can be marked down are Aurelia and Terra Cotta, while it is probable that several others handicapped at 105 lb. and under will take their chances:

Boston's $10,000 Trotting Stake.

BOSTON, Mass., June 4.—At eleven o'clock last evening the entry list closed for the Balch ten thousand dollar National Stallion Stake, to be trotted for at Beacon Park in the fall. Ten nominations were received up to the hour of closing. Included in the list of nominations is an entry from Colonel H.S. Russell of Milton, who will probably name his great four-year-old stallion Edgemark. The Concord Farm of Concord has sent in a nomination to be named August 1 next. Mr. W. H. Hill of Worcester has nominated his stallion Ready Boy. Mr. C. H. Nelson of Waterville, Me., has nominated, but not yet named, while Mr. J. H. May of this city has named and nominated Pilot Knox, and Mr. C. Decoster of Bayonne, N.J., has named Bayonne Prince.

Mr. George H. Hicks of Beacon Park has nominated, but not named, an horse also Jack Splan of Cleveland and the Elm City Stock Farm. The additional entries expected are from Western horsemen and will probably not arrive for three or four days.

Firenzi Beaten by Oriflamme.

FORDHAM, N.Y., June 4.—The weather was fine at Jerome Park to-day and the track in good condition. The talent were hit hard to-day, as only two favorites, Madstone and Long Knight, were successful. Firenzi's defeat caused great surprise, her lack of condition being no doubt accountable. Jockeys Bergen, Riley and McDermott were ruled-off for the meeting and Thayer for the year, for disobedience to Starter Caldwell while at the post. Results:

First race—Purse $700, for 3-year-olds and upward; 1 mile. Cortez won, Bohemian 2, Sluggard 3. Time 1.45¼.

Second race—The Fordham Handicap, a sweepstake of $100 each with $1500 added; 1½ miles.

Proctor Knott Out of Form.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 4.—Proctor Knott is in very bad shape, and if he does not improve very soon he will be missed at the post when the bell rings up the starters for the American Derby.

All reports agree that Sam Bryant says himself that Proctor Knott is a sick horse and unfit to train. He has lost none of his speed, but quits after going from a half to three-quarters of a mile. From there he weakens and staggers like a drunken man when pulled up.

It is said that Bryant has reduced the horse in health and flesh through administering too much medicine.

Racing at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—The results of the racing to-day follow:

First race, 4 furlongs—Indian Princess 1, Millie Williams 2, Romain 3. Time 50.

Second race, ¾ mile—Potosa 1, Kermesse 2, Fanchette 3. Time 1.30.

Third race, 1¼ miles—Queen of Trumps 1, Belle Brocck 2, Lady Hemphill 3. Time 2.40.

Opening Day at Epsom.

LONDON, June 4.—The Epsom summer meeting opened to-day. The race for the Woodcote stakes of 1000 sovs. for 2-year-olds, at six furlongs, was won by Wisdom, with Heresy second and Bel Demonia third. There were 12 starters.

Trinity Defeats Upper Canada College.

A match was played on the Trinity lawn yesterday afternoon between Trinity and Upper Canada College which resulted in a victory for the University men by 35 runs. The College boys had very hard luck at the beginning, two of their steadiest bats being run out, but after that they played a very determined innings although Grout was in his best form, his bowling towards the end being almost unplayable. For the College Wood took three wickets for 19 runs and Moren three for 17, while for Trinity Grout took five for 14 and Cameron three for 12. The College boys' fielding has improved greatly since their match with the Varsity. Williams especially distinguishing himself in that department.

SERAD PITCHED A GREAT GAME.

The Bisons Could Do Nothing with Him, while Fanning was Hit Hard.

When Jupiter Pluvius saw the way the Torontos treated him, June 3, he must have thought that Serad, who pitched in the fourth he again called upon the clouds which showered with another heavy shower. The home team finally persuaded him that they had on their hands other work than to play ball and the game was again resumed. The Torontos kept to their word for during the last part of the game they secured no less than nine hits off Fanning and scored an equal number of runs, while the Bisons could do nothing with Serad, who pitched in fine form, only four scattered hits being made off him. His stick work was also good, securing two hits and making four runs. Hoover again distinguished himself at the bat, knocking out a home runger and two singles, while McMillan's fielding was a feature of the game.

The crowd, though not large, only numbering some 500 or 600, was enthusiastic and when Burke made his timely hit in the seventh inning which brought in two runs the spectators found a good opportunity to warm themselves. The game, though it exhibited but few brilliant plays, was a good one, especially as the Torontos won. Many of the errors were excusable as the ball was very hard to field on the wet grass. The score:

THE SUDBURY MINES.

Operations of the Canadian Copper Company—Proposed Railway Extension.

SUDBURY, June 4.—The smelting works of the Canadian Copper Company, which have been working without interruption since last December, are treating about 125 tons of ore daily. A second blast furnace of the Herreshoff patent is now being set up and will be in running order about Aug. 1. The company has just effected an arrangement with the Dominion Government whereby such mining and smelting machinery as is not manufactured in Canada may be admitted free of duty and three carloads of machinery have arrived here to-day under this arrangement. Other orders which will be filled in a short time will enable the company to erect eight furnaces with a smelting capacity of 1000 tons of ore daily. The duty on coke has hitherto checked smelting enterprise here, but it is understood that the Government has agreed to place all coke required for smelting purposes on the free list by order-in-council.

It is also understood that proposals have been made to the Dominion and Ontario Governments for the extension of the Central Ontario Railway from Coe Hill to Sudbury on the condition of a grant of $3200 per mile from each Government, and that if a satisfactory understanding is arrived at the work of construction will begin at once. The principal stockholders of the Central Ontario Co. are also stockholders in the Canadian Copper Company and they represent that at the present time they can command any reasonable amount of capital for their enterprises.

Messrs. Ritchie and Cornell are here to-day and they authorize the statement that in connection with the extension of the railway northward they will erect a furnace in Hastings County for the manufacture of coke iron with a capacity of 250 tons daily. They propose to utilize the new Edison patent for de-sulphurizing magnetic ores, which is claimed to be at once a cheap and a perfect process.

DRUGGISTS IN SESSION.

City and Outside Practitioners Making Arrangements for the Coming Elections.

A special meeting of the Toronto Retail Druggists' Association was held in the Ontario Pharmacy College yesterday for the purpose of furthering their plans for having proper representation in the council of the college, the election of which takes place early next month. Their candidates, Messrs. Jeffreys and McKenzie, will be strongly supported.

A few outside druggists also met with a view to taking action regarding the election of this year's council.

It is said that the new council will consider the question of returning to the method by which Professors Shuttleworth, Harrison and Avison are paid, a large number believing that the first named is getting too much. Prof. Shuttleworth is allowed $3000 a year out of the receipts from fees, and all over that is divided between himself and the other professors; he is said to make $5000 a year out of it. Anyway the forthcoming elections will be interesting and the action of the new council even more so.

HARRY WEBB WILL MOVE.

He Gets Possession of the Block at Yonge and Melinda-Streets.

At last Harry Webb, the restaurant man, has succeeded in getting hold of the old Simpson building at the corner of Yonge and Melinda-streets, which has been occupied for some months by Suckling, Cassidy & Co., the auctioneers. As is well known a fight has been going on for about a month, Mr. Webb endeavoring to get a sublease of the building from Robert Simpson, who held it from the owner, Alexander Manning; while Mr. C. S. McConkey, who has opened a gorgeous restaurant in the old Allan building near by, in King-street, owned also by Mr. Manning, objected because of a certain clause.

However, the matter was settled after a 3-hours' conference yesterday afternoon. This morning Suckling, Cassidy & Co. will commence moving back to their old premises in Front-street west and Mr. Webb will take immediate possession.

The Barley Trade.

The barley trade for this season may be considered as ended, and any further sales or shipments will be very inconsiderable. The customs returns for the whole Dominion for the nine months ending March 31 show exports of barley 8,903,826 bushels, as compared with 9,370,158 bushels for the twelve months ending June 30, 1888. For the three months ending June 30, 1889, the exports may amount to one and a quarter million bushels, and may probably make the exports for season 1888-89 exceed those of 1887-88 about 750,000 bushels. The exports include shipments from Manitoba and Quebec. It is generally conceded that there is left in the hands of farmers and dealers a larger stock of barley to be carried over into next crop year than usual. This reserve is variously estimated as being from one to two million bushels. The Bureau of Industries for Ontario estimated the barley crop of this province alone in 1888, 23,366,569 bushels. This estimate must have been from 30 to 40 per cent. too high. It claimed an increase over preceding year of about 6¼ million bushels; the general trade estimate was an increase of between one and two million bushels.

The exports of barley from this district from September 1, 1888, to May 31, 1889, were 2,238,735 bush., in the previous year, 2,063,910; the quantity shipped to Buffalo and points east of Buffalo in 1888-89 was 1,726,024 bushels; to Erie and points west of Erie in 1888-89, 455,942; in small parcels to points not classified, 56,769. The quantity shipped to points west of Buffalo has proved very disappointing to dealers, who generally expected an unusually large demand from western maltsters and brewers on account of the very inferior quality of the bulk of the barley crop of 1888 in Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska and Dakota. The demand from eastern maltsters was also unexpectedly light, owing to the extra large crop of good quality in New York State and a very considerable supply of fine brewing barley from California.

Good Out of Evil.

There is much being said these days about both British and American ships of war having been ordered to that very debateable fishing ground—Behring's Sea—and fears are expressed that serious trouble there is near at hand. Still, we think we can see how good may come out of evil, after all. The more that public attention is drawn to the fact that our grasping neighbors are standing up for complete marine control extending 150 miles away out from land, the more difficult will it be for them to keep up even the semblance of a case against Canada's claim to have control over all within 3 miles. The more the American State Department magnifies its preposterous claims on the Pacific coast, the weaker must be its denial of British jurisdiction in the waters near to Nova Scotia and Newfoundland. Mr. James G. Blaine is reputed a natural-born Yankee for smartness. But we do not see how even so "smart" a man as he can expect to succeed in establishing the contradictory contention that a 150 mile limit is good international law on one side of this continent, while the three mile limit is too much on the other side. After some time spent in contemplating the magnificent distances which Alaska offers to the view, he and other wise men in Washington will surely lose themselves in thick fog when they come to define their position with regard to the banks of Newfoundland.

Canada's claim to ownership and control near to her own coasts is on the face of it reasonable and righteous. And we are fully persuaded that nineteen Yankee fishing skippers out of twenty would gladly pay the moderate fees demanded for the necessary papers which would insure them against being molested while at their work. But doubtless there are busybodies and intermeddlers among them, as in other places, who are ready to make the most of every opportunity of mischief that turns up. Only one case of trouble has been reported in eastern waters for this season so far, and we fancy that American sea-lawyers are not likely to find it much of a "case" for them. Meantime the demand for fishing licenses is reported brisk, while the American fishermen themselves promptly plank down the moderate fees asked.

In presenting his credentials to the President of the French Republic, Mr. Whitelaw Reid, the new United States Minister at Paris, made the accompanying discourse in English, President Carnot's reply being translated to him. An ambassador who does not understand the language of the country where he is sent to officiate must be in a rather awkward plight. It is to be noted, also, that the American representatives at the Samoan Conference in Berlin do not understand German. But these are inconveniences that cannot well be dissociated from a system under which places of influence are the reward of service to party rather than of service to country.

The end of the alleged mismanagement of the Works Department of the City Council is not yet. It is apparently shelved for a while, but the East End citizens yesterday avowed they would not let the matter drop. Nearly everybody thinks there has been something wrong. "The Don Bungle" has become a byword. In connection with this and other public works at the East End Ald. E. A. Macdonald has made strong charges, which he has duly formulated. When an Alderman representing a large body of ratepayers adopts such a course the matter certainly should be inquired into. The County Judge would be a proper person for the appeal and decision, notwithstanding the objection raised that the city's experience in such cases has not been of an encouraging character.

The Bank of Montreal.

The 71st annual meeting of the Bank of Montreal was held at the head office in Montreal on Monday last. There was a large attendance of shareholders. The report presented by the directorate showed that the net profits of the year were $1,277,176.01. Two half-yearly dividends of five per cent. each were paid and $50,000 reserved for new building purposes. Important speeches were made by the President and the General Manager, speeches that were not only to the shareholders of the bank but to the entire commercial world. Both President Sir Donald A. Smith and General Manager Buchanan spoke at length on the permanent decline in the value of money that has of late taken place in Canada. A larger amount of money appears to be seeking investment than can be readily and safely taken up, and as Mr. Buchanan states when the supply exceeds the demand the price must naturally decline. Touching the outlook of trade from a general point of view, caution was advised, Sir Donald Smith remarking that while the crop aspect was excellent, adverse circumstances, especially in the Northwest, might interfere and so mar present prospects. General Manager Buchanan's speech was especially interesting. It was a thorough practical address. He reviewed the money market in Canada, London and New York, stating that it had not been in either country favorable for large profits. A really practical lesson may be learned by many a merchant and broker by a careful perusal of the remarks, reported in this morning's World, that fell from the lips of Sir Donald Smith and Mr. Buchanan on Monday last.

The Freehold Loan.

The Freehold Loan and Savings Company held their 30th annual meeting yesterday. The company appear to have had an excellent year's business, the net profits for the twelve months being $146,291.20, out of which two half-yearly dividends of five per cent. each were paid, and $22,050.37 carried to contingent account. During the year the company found their business increasing so largely that they issued ten thousand new shares of capital stock at a premium of fifty per cent., on which twenty per cent. was called in. The directors have decided to erect a large and handsome building on the northwest corner of Adelaide and Victoria-streets.

TO WHOM TO APPEAL.

School Boards and Their Power to Expropriate Property.

Practical illustration is being afforded of the large powers which the Toronto School Board possesses in regard to the expropriation of property for school purposes. Not that The World objects to these powers, which are very good when exercised with due discretion. But a large number of property-holders in the northwestern part of the city maintain that these powers are being strained and that a public school is being placed in an unsuitable location to the depreciation of the surrounding property.

To inquire into the bona fides of this charge was the mission of The World's Inquisitive Young Man yesterday. Subjoined are the results of his inquiry and what looks like a practical suggestion for the removal of all friction between aggrieved property-holders and an omnipotent School Board.

Huron-street, it may be premised, is at present excited over this controversy. The Public School Board show no signs of relenting in their project of a school building in that locality, and the minds of the adjacent property-holders are consequently in a ferment.

When Mr. S. H. Janes bought from the heirs of the Baldwin estate the property generally known as the Toronto Annex, being situate in the district north of Bloor-street and in the neighborhood of St. George-street produced northerly, it was provided in the deeds under which he took it that for the period of ten years the property should be subject to certain building restrictions, the general import of which was that the property should be used only for the purpose of private residences with an exception, however, in favor of churches.

About the beginning of this year the School Board entertained the idea of erecting a public school in Huron-street in the neighborhood of the property covered by these restrictions. As there was a doubt as to their legal right to infringe these restrictions they endeavored to get a special private act to allow them to build this school, but their efforts in this direction were checked.

They still threatened to erect a school and they have obtained an opinion from Mr. Christopher Robinson, Q.C., that they are within their strict legal rights in expropriating land to erect a schoolhouse notwithstanding the existence of these restrictions.

When they first made a move to erect this school the property owners approached several members of the board, and as a result of their exertions a resolution was passed to sell the two lots which they had bought for the purpose and also appropriating money to erect a school in Elgin-avenue.

After this, a number of people, feeling that the character of the neighborhood was again assured and would not be depreciated by the existence of a school, bought land, and then the School Board passed a resolution to erect a school in Huron-street, notwithstanding what they had already done.

Now this brings up a question of interest to the public. The district itself is not a largely populated one at the present time. The people who live in it are not as a rule those who are most likely to make use of a public school, the majority being entirely against it, and the land they have bought was protected by these building restrictions. Under all these circumstances should the School Board have a right to force a school upon these people when they can, not a quarter of a mile away, obtain in Elgin-avenue a site perfectly sufficient for all their purposes and not open to the objections which may be very properly raised against their present proposition?

The question before the public is a serious one, because if the School Board can proceed as they are doing in this case they may without control erect schools where they think fit and by selecting sites near private residences of great value might do irreparable damage to parties who under the statute as at present drawn would have no compensation on their lands not being actually taken or in the eye of the law affected by the expropriation.

The World suggests that there should be an appeal to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council or to the Minister of Education, where property owners object to a site chosen by the board in any district. By such a recourse much angry feeling would be allayed and no injustice could possibly be done. The whole subject may come up at to-morrow's Public School Board meeting.

MR. TORRINGTON'S ORCHESTRA.

The Last Concert of the Season—A Capital Program Presented.

Torrington's Orchestra gave the closing concert of this season in the Pavilion last night. The interest taken in the organization by the public increases with each performance, and last night a large and select audience graced the Pavilion. As the program advanced the enthusiasm increased and numerous encores were demanded. Mr. Torrington was however obliged to decline the adding to the length of the program, though in one or two instances he gave way to the wishes of the audience.

It would be unfair to make any comparison between this orchestra and that of the Jüch-Perotti Company which has just appeared here, but following so soon after the latter our local orchestra is likely to be judged somewhat more severely than it otherwise would. However, when it is considered that one is composed of picked musicians from several cities, while the other consists of local players, many of whom have had but little experience, the comparison will perhaps after all favor our own orchestra.

The program was one well calculated to please, and while there were shortcomings here and there in attack, in unity of action and in expression in the numbers executed by the orchestra, it cannot but be said that the general result was most gratifying. The bridal chorus from Lohengrin and Meyerbeer's march "Le Prophète" were examples of some really fine work, and the audience accorded their unanimous approval.

Mr. Corell's "cavatina" for the 'cello was treated with refined taste, and his execution was careful throughout. Mr. Clarke in his cornet solo produced a very rich and steady tone, and his performance was most satisfactory. Mr. De Lima's piccolo solo was received with great applause and led to an encore.

The orchestra was vocally assisted by Miss Maud Burdette and Mr. A. E. Dent, both of whom are familiar to our audiences. Miss Burdette has a voice of excellent quality, rich and sympathetic, and is capable and worthy of still higher cultivation. Altogether the concert was a great success, and Mr. Torrington, who conducted, and his orchestra are to be congratulated on the pleasure they have afforded in the past, and it is hoped that the public will make still greater efforts to encourage this worthy organization in the future.

General Amusement Notes.

Miss Jessie Couthoui gave a pleasant evening of readings in Bond-street Congregational Church last night under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society. Several others assisted with musical numbers.

Go-Won-Go Mohawk, the Indian actress, is the attraction at the Toronto Opera House this week in "The Indian Mail Carrier." Matinees to-day and Saturday.

The sale of seats for the Gilmore concerts has progressed merrily and their success is established. The advantage of having these concerts at the Mutual-street rink is shown by the fact that all the remaining seats are good ones, there being no pillars. The matinees for ladies and children will be especially enjoyable, commencing at 2.30 and at popular prices. The plans are now open at Nordheimer's.

L.O.L. 136 had three initiations and several propositions last night. T. Findlay presided.

Mystic Lodge, K. of P. had one initiation and two propositions last night. W. C. Morrison presided.

Saint John the Baptists Society met last night for the purpose of preparing for the celebration of the French national holiday on June 24.

THE BANK OF MONTREAL.

ANNUAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS MONDAY AFTERNOON.

The Report for the Year—Speeches of the President and General Manager—The State of Trade and the Money Market Reviewed—The Outlook.

The seventy-first annual meeting of shareholders of the Bank of Montreal was held at the head office in Montreal on Monday afternoon. Among those present were Sir Donald Smith, president; Hon. George A. Drummond, vice-president; Messrs. Gilbert Scott, Hugh McLennan, Hon. J. J. C. Abbott, W. C. McDonald, Robt. Anderson, Hector Mackenzie, Jas. O'Brien, John Crawford, Wm. Mackenzie, John Morrison, J. Philip Scott, F. S. Lyman, W. H. Meredith, Jno. H. R. Molson, Geo. Macrae, Q.C., D. Kinnella, W. B. Cumming, A. C. Clark, W. J. Learmont, Andrew McCulloch, W. G. Murray, Hon. D. A. McDonald, Robert Benny, D. Macmaster, Q.C., G. Strathy, A. D. Nicholls, Campbell Lane, J. A. Strathy, A. S. Compain, R. B. Angus, Hy. Hogan, John Dunlop, John Morrison, A. F. Clarke, Robert Archer and others.

On motion of Mr. Robert Anderson, Sir Donald Smith, K.C.M.G., was requested to take the chair.

Mr. George Macrae, Q.C., moved, seconded by Mr. J. H. R. Molson,

That the following gentlemen be appointed to act as scrutineers: Messrs. F. S. Lyman and W. H. Meredith, and that Mr. A. B. Buchanan be the secretary of this meeting.

Carried.

The Directors' Annual Report.

The President then called upon the General Manager to read the annual report of the Directors, which was as follows:

The Directors beg to present the Seventy-first Annual Report, showing the results of the Bank's business of the year ended April 30, 1889:

Balance of Profit and Loss Account, April 30, 1888 . . . . . $ 690,241 52
Profits for the year ended April 30, 1889, after deducting charges of management and making full provision for all bad and doubtful debts $1,377,176 01
$2,067,417 53
Dividend 5 per cent. paid December, 1888 . . . . . $600,000
Dividend 5 per cent. payable June 1, 1889 600,000
Amount reserved for Bank Buildings in course of construction 50,000
$1,250,000 00
Balance of Profit and Loss carried forward . . . . . $ 817,417 53

The figures in the annexed statement do not call for any special notice; only change of importance being the increase in deposits at interest, accounted for by special deposits of the Dominion Government.

The board recommend to their successors in office, as an improvement upon the system which has hitherto prevailed in framing the annual statement, that a sum be set aside out of the profit and loss account to cover the rebate on bills under discount, a measure which will doubtless meet with the approval of the shareholders.

An office has been opened in the town of Wallaceburg, Ontario, with satisfactory results.

The business of the branch in the town of Port Hope having become unprofitable, it was closed in October last.

It has been decided to open an office in St. Catherine-street west, in this city, to be called the West End Branch, and temporary premises in that locality have been rented in the meantime, until a suitable building can be erected on a lot recently purchased for the purpose, at the corner of Mansfield and St. Catherine-street.

The Head Office and all the Branches have passed through the usual inspection during the year.

The Directors report with extreme regret the death, on the 29th December last, of their esteemed colleague Mr. Alexander Murray, who had served on the Board since the year 1879. To fill the vacancy thus caused, Mr. Charles S. Watson was elected.

DONALD A. SMITH,

W. J. BUCHANAN,
General Manager.

Bank of Montreal,
MONTREAL, 30th April, 1889.

The President's Address.

The President, Sir Donald Smith, in moving the adoption of the annual report, said: Gentlemen, in proposing the adoption of this report, which will be seconded by the Vice-President, Hon. G. A. Drummond, I do not intend to be otherwise than brief in my observations, especially as the General Manager will give such particulars as may be necessary to supplement the statement you now have in your hands. It may be, and doubtless is, a disappointment to some that there is no bonus on this occasion. The earnings, as you are aware, were such as to permit the giving of one per cent. in addition to the ordinary ten per cent., but your Directors gave their most careful consideration to this in all its bearings, and they considered it best in your interest and for your protection that instead of giving a bonus now there should be an addition made to the reserve of profit and loss. At this time the prospects of an abundant harvest are excellent, and were we assured of that it might have been well that we could all have put into our pockets now a little more money. You will all recollect that at this time last year everything also looked very bright, but, unfortunately, the harvest both in the old provinces and in the Northwest was a disappointment to all of us, and consequently the earning power of the Bank was curtailed because the capabilities of borrowing were not the same for the community as they would have been had the harvest turned out as was hoped for. You will then be stronger by keeping this in reserve for the present and will be able to meet and to deal with circumstances as they may present themselves, and should the crops be such as we all look forward to at present and there are no unforeseen adverse influences, the giving of that bonus, which you and all of us will be very glad to get, will only be postponed for a little while, for it is not that we look forward with any misgivings to the business of the Bank. Far from it. It is in

As a Very Excellent Position to do all that may be necessary to give the best return to its shareholders. And while we have proposed this dividend, of course it rests with you to say, after all, that you are not to have the bonus, but I am sure that all of you who are business men, and who are capable of looking ahead as well as any of us, will consider that it is really best that we should content ourselves with the ordinary 10 per cent. at this moment. During the present year the Bank, to strengthen itself in England, has made purchases to a very considerable extent of Imperial securities, that is, securities such as the Bank of England will unhesitatingly accept at any time, and which are convertible at any moment, so that with these in our possession we are always in a position to borrow money as it may be required. You will see in the report that some $50,000 has been set aside for bank premises in Calgary and Vancouver. This your Directors consider essential; that is, that the Bank should be in possession of such premises and accommodation as would enable it to do its business in the best way in what may be called great centres of the Northwest and Pacific coast; small comparatively at the present moment, but growing so fast that we may expect in a very short time that they will be very considerable factors towards enabling the Bank to increase its profits. Calgary is the centre of the ranching country. Vancouver, only three years old and now a city of some 10,000 inhabitants, and being the terminus of the Canadian system of railways on the Pacific coast, cannot fail to become a place of very considerable importance in the immediate future, and we wish to be ready for whatever may offer itself to the Bank in both these places. As an evidence of

The Progress of the Bank

and of Montreal you will see also that the directors have thought proper to establish a branch in the west end of the city; that is St. Catherine-street. This is for the accommodation of customers in that part of the town; for we all recognize that the great portion of the retail business is led in that direction, and it will be a great convenience for depositors and others having business transactions with the bank there.

The question of rebate on bills discounted is one which has been under consideration by your directors from time to time for many years back. The system which now prevails in this country was adopted by the bank at its inception and it has gone on ever since. The bank year, as you are aware, closes on the 30th April, and it has not been the practice hitherto to deduct the unearned interest from that date until maturity of the bills discounted. It is thought by the directors that it is better an allowance should be made for this. That will require $200,000. You may say that the directors might well have done this of themselves this year or the year before. They thought that it was only right and proper before they changed the system of accounts that had prevailed for over seventy years to come before you and inform you of their opinion on the subject and ask your advice with regard to it. [Hear, hear.] At the annual meeting last year I think reference was made to the opening up of certain roads into Montreal which must necessarily bring an accession of business to Canada, and to Montreal especially. Then the direct railways via Sault Ste. Marie, were under construction. Now, I am happy to say they are an accomplished fact; and I could wish very much that all of you had been with me on a very pleasant trip over some of those roads within the last ten or twelve days. You would have seen for yourselves the great capabilities of that intervening country and of the Northwest, marking out what we may well expect to come to Montreal from that source. And to-day we have for the first time, speeding over that road called the Short Line to St. John, N.B., a new service, by a route which takes off 270 miles of distance to that part of the Maritime Provinces and reduces the time to, I think, at present eighteen hours, which I understand will very shortly be further curtailed by two hours. This cannot possibly fail to benefit us here in Montreal; and it appears to me that if we are true to ourselves, it we bend ourselves sturdily to the work before us, what with all these facilities, and with Montreal to which to be a free port, with such accommodation for traffic both by sea and land as you, gentlemen, who are connected with the trade and commerce of the country will insist on having, surely we may look forward to even greater and much brighter condition of things throughout the country and Montreal than we have had in the past. [Hear, hear.] This in its train will bring with it additional accumulated wealth, and that, in turn, will give to the Bank of Montreal, and to other banks, increased deposits of which, I hope that, as in the past, the Bank of Montreal will have its good share at a low average rate of interest, so that notwithstanding the steadily decreasing rate of interest obtainable for money in the last eight or ten years, the bank by a largely increased business by reason of these deposits, will, like the great banks in London, be in a position to continue the distribution of satisfactory profits. You will, notwithstanding that the rate of interest from your customers is much lower, be still able, with that good management which has characterized your bank, to look forward I firmly believe to having the 10 per cent. dividend. As to bonus that must be just as the condition of affairs may permit. At any rate your directors, in the future as in the past, will, no doubt, do their utmost to keep up the standard of the Bank, and give you all the profit and all the advantage it may be possible for them to afford. I now move, seconded by Mr. Drummond, the vice-president,

That the Report of the Directors now read, be adopted and printed for distribution among the Shareholders.

Hon. Senator Drummond—I have much pleasure in seconding the motion.

The President—I will now ask the General Manager to make a few remarks.

The General Manager's Address.

Mr. Buchanan, the General Manager, then said: As having a very important bearing on the results of the Bank's operations during the past year, I wish to take the liberty, as I did at our last meeting, of drawing your attention to the course of the money market in Great Britain and the United States. In London the rates for money ruled low until September, when, in order to stop the drain of gold, chiefly to the Argentine Republic, on whose account large loans had been put out, the Bank of England raised the rate to 4 and three weeks later to 5 per cent. Notwithstanding this, and the fact that the bank borrowed largely from the other great banks, with a view of reducing the supply of loanable funds, the open market rate for money responded to the advance in the bank rate for only a very limited period, and the following anomalous condition of affairs existed—the Bank of England rate was 5 per cent.—the other banks, according to London custom, were allowing 1½ per cent. below, that is, 3½ per cent. to depositors, while they were only able to lend on the market at 2 to 2½ per cent. —a very unprofitable business for them. Before long arrangements were made with the great issuing houses to stop the export of gold to the Argentine Republic; gold was brought in from Russia and elsewhere, and the year 1888 closed on a comparatively quiet money market. By the end of January the bank rate had been brought down to 3 per cent., and on 18th April it was further reduced to 2½, where it now stands, with discounts in the open market at 1⅞ per cent. It must be apparent, therefore, that London has been a poor field, throughout our year, for the profitable employment of any of our surplus monies. It may be interesting to note that during the stringency the stock of bullion in the Bank of England sank to £18,300,000, the lowest point it has reached since 1866, the year of the Overend-Gurney failure.

In New York, with the exception of a slight squeeze towards the end of December, and has not averaged for the year over 2 per cent. for call loans. Time money has been correspondingly low, and in Chicago we have been obliged to content ourselves with a reduced rate. This condition of things was largely produced by the extensive bond purchases made by the United States Government. From the 23rd of April, 1888, when the first purchase was made, until now, the enormous sum of $195,000,000 has been put out in that way. The surplus, however, now held by the Treasurer has been reduced to $56,000,000, and unless he advances the price he has so far been willing to pay for the bonds, there is not much likelihood of its being disbursed to any great extent, in which case, if the harvest equals general expectations, we look pretty confidently for much better values for money in the United States this Autumn.

Money Has Been Super-abundant,

The rates in Canada have been about normal, with a tendency to a lower level, owing to keen competition; profits on collections from the same cause have been greatly reduced, while Foreign Exchange is dealt in at a price altogether out of proportion to the risks incident to the business. But this has been, I fear, about the case with most kinds of business for the past few years—greatly diminished profits on all sides. It is evident to every one that capital is yielding less year by year—for instance, between now and December, 1900, there are maturing in the United States something like $650,000,000 of railway bonds, now bearing not less than 6 per cent. and some as high as 10 per cent.; to-day these could be refunded at from 4 to 4½ per cent. Bringing this home to the case of this Bank it seems to me that only by a great expansion in our lending capacity in this country which, I think, however, we may very fairly calculate on, as riches and population increase, can we look to a maintenance of our profits at about the present figure for many years longer, and that, therefore, a distribution of all a bank's earnings would be a measure of questionable prudence.

The Year's Business.

Business generally during the past year in Canada has been rather disappointing, and, unless in exceptional cases, I am under the impression that a majority of merchants, who have had the courage to value their assets in a proper manner, have had to contemplate a shrinkage of their capital account. The crops were only fairly good in Ontario, and were disappointing in Manitoba. Payments were consequently light, and the banks have had to carry a heavier load than usual. This, with the holding over of a good deal of lumber and logs, will pretty well account for the increase of $19,000,000 during the year in loans, and does not altogether indicate a healthy expansion of business. The deposits have increased $15,000,000, and though a portion of this very probably represents the savings of the community, a large part is composed of proceeds of loans in other countries, and, consequently, increased indebtedness of the Dominion. Our banking at these deposit-taking banks is not very satisfactory. Leaving out the Bank of Montreal from the Government statement, it will be seen that while circulation and deposits representing the liabilities to the public have increased, the Reserves, which should have augmented proportionately, have diminished. The figures are:

Circulation and deposits of all kinds, 30th April, 1888	$121,333,000
Circulation and deposits of all kinds, 30th April, 1889	132,544,000
Reserves.
Gold, 30th April, 1888	4,458,000
" 30th April, 1889	4,620,000
Increase	$162,000
Dominion notes, 30th April, '88	$8,565,000
" " 30th April, '89	7,370,000
Decrease	$1,195,000
Due by banks due to Banks, 30th April, 1888	$2,454,000
30th April, 1889	2,196,000
Decrease	$258,000
Due by foreign agents (less due to) 30th April, 1888	$4,468,000
30th April, 1889	1,014,000
Decrease	$3,454,000

Showing a reduction in reserves of all kinds of about four and three-quarter millions, and an increase of liabilities of close on $11,250,000. We leave protection financial men to draw their own conclusions.

The Outlook For the Future is at present bright. Lumber prospects were never better. Crops all over the Dominion give a great promise. The cotton mills appear to be working in harmony, and consequently on more profitable lines, and many securities, which were a short time ago unrealizable, are now getting a market value. If our hopes are realized we should have an active business in the early autumn, but if, on the contrary, the crops should turn out badly and the autumn business, which is a very important factor, not meet expectations, the results cannot fail to be correspondingly disappointing. We look on this as rather a crucial year, and until the outcome of it is seen, our distribution of profits will, I think, wisely continue to be as has been considered for some few years back the minimum, viz., 10 per cent. Let us hope that merchants also will not discount the future, which is always full of uncertainties, by increasing their importations, at least until we are treading on firmer ground than is possible so long before harvest time. I have already taken up too much of your time, and shall now only add that I shall be pleased to answer any questions which any of the shareholders desire to put to me.

The President—If there is any other gentleman who would like to make some observations on the report, we will be happy to hear him.

Mr. John Morrison reviewed the business of the Bank for the past year, and added that the Directors had acted with commendable prudence in adding to the reserve fund. Had a bonus been declared a gross error would have been committed. It would have been an improvement if the current expenses and losses every year were given in the annual statements. The statement, however, he must say as far as it went for the present year was unexceptional.

Mr. John Crawford—Mr. Chairman, there does not seem to be much disposition either to ask or answer any questions. I am very happy to remark that my friend Mr. Morrison has done that respect to the resolution for the adoption of the reports which, it seems to me, it deserves. He has led the way, and I will follow with a few supplementary remarks. I think, sir, in the first place, that your remarks about the non-payment of a bonus were sound, logical and conservative; and I can scarcely believe that any person interested in bank affairs could take exception to Such a Judicious Policy.

I conclude that the whole is an argument generally in favor of the conservatism of the Board. Notwithstanding the fire and brimstone which was showered on the heads of certain gentlemen at the time of the declaration of the no-bonus dividend, I predict from the serene faces before me that harmony will be the prevailing characteristic of this meeting. I can understand there was some excitement on the part of the street; some gentlemen were severely clipped in their wings by the stock failing, but the general result is only another illustration of the Bank's sound position and the judicious course which the Bank has adopted. A question which naturally arises, and one which I presume we are qualified to pronounce upon, is the expediency of the policy of the Board. I have no hesitation in declaring, Mr. President, in favor of that policy. I have listened to the remarks of the General Manager with a great deal of interest and attention, and I think he deserves credit for the interesting statistics which he has compiled, and I have no doubt they will prove beneficial to many here. It is only two years ago since we were told that if the Directors had been able to look further ahead they would in that year (1887) have only paid a 1 per cent. instead of a 2 per cent. bonus. Now, sir, neither can we ignore our present situation. Competition between banks is vastly on the increase, money is phenomenally cheap, and the expenditure is still maintained at its maximum rate. It seems to me, though, that the country, narrow as it is, is capable of absorbing all its unemployed capital, and I think that these reasons will lead us to the conclusion that the policy of the Bank is deserving of credit. I might take this opportunity of saying that the picture presented by the President contrasts severely with that roseate picture usually given at bank meetings. Now, sir, last year I took the opportunity of saying a few words and I suggested that the Bank, in view of the uncertainty of business, should take up the question of the propriety of paying quarterly dividends of 2½ per cent., in the aggregate 10 per cent., a rate which you, Mr. President, said might be relied upon. I am satisfied that that step would become very popular among a large proportion of the shareholders, and I would say that if the policy be adopted the increase in the expenditure of the institution would be scarcely appreciable. Now, Mr. President, as the last annual meeting you were kind enough to say that this subject, as well as that of the gross earnings, would be taken into earnest consideration by the new Board. I hope that has been done. I sincerely hope, sir, and I am quite satisfied that everyone in this room hopes with me, that you will always continue a member of that Board until you are, of course, removed to a higher and better sphere. In reading the annual report of the Banque Nationale a week or so ago, I perceived an item of $50,000 appropriated to defray bad and doubtful debts, a proof that that institution is in touch with the situation of the times. Take just one progressive step further and give us an item of the expense of the management and that horrible problem, gross expenditure, the bug-bear of bankers, will be entirely solved.

With Reference to Dividends,

The President:—I may say, in reply to Mr. Crawford, that although the Board have not seen their way to introduce quarterly dividends, this is not lost sight of and that we will always keep it in view, and have done so, and I have no doubt that those whom you may elect as your Board to-day will keep before them the question of the renewal of the charter, and that so far as may rest with them the Bank will not suffer from any change.

The report was unanimously adopted.

Thanks to the President and Directors.

Mr. John Crawford then moved:

That the thanks of the meeting be presented to the president, the vice-president and directors for their attention to the interests of the bank.

He said: I may say that it gives me great pleasure to discharge the agreeable duty implied in moving this resolution, and I think it should be understood, or I desire it to be understood, that it is not done in that conventional sense usual for motions of this kind, but with an honest desire to convey the sincere thanks of shareholders to yourself and colleagues for the year's results. That directors incur great responsibilities goes without saying. When the industrial and commercial affairs of the country are booming these responsibilities are in a great measure both nominal and agreeable; but when a period of adversity arrives, when industries are languishing and failures the order of the day, their position and their relations to the shareholders, as well as the public, assume a widely different aspect. There is fleeting before their eyes, perhaps, visions of ruined widows and orphans, and dogging their steps, and if conscience were present, perhaps, filling them with remorse. On the other hand, when they discharge honestly and faithfully the duties devolving upon them, as ours have during the past year, they are certainly entitled to our thanks. Their substantial interest, I might say, Mr. President, in this Bank is a guarantee that not only their own but our interest will be by default, if zeal, energy and integrity be of any avail, and these, sir, are the sterling qualities which constrained me at an earlier stage of the meeting to endorse the policy of the Bank. If ever the golden rule implied it is in this case, unless "the right man in the right place," and while they are but mortal they cannot expect to convert blood from a stone, or other assets, golden though they be, into profits in the absence of demand. The General Manager stated that the profits fell below the average during the past year, and I may say that it is stated, I presume on good authority, that our Board is a canny, formidable Scotch clan, who get the credit of a bump of caution, and they will not have any transaction of a speculative character. I desire, sir, in conclusion, to emphasize this, that what shareholders have most to apprehend is not the withholding of bonuses, but the natural tendency of directors to be too generous. I do not allude to any particular bonus, and least of all to the Bank of Montreal—to declare dividends out of unearned or unwarranted profits. It is not politic in Shareholders to bring great pressure to bear upon Directors to pay bonuses or higher dividends than would be done in the shape of caution: if our Directors should unfortunately be caught napping and a very serious deficit should ensue, woe betide them; therefore, gentlemen, look out for your noddles.

Mr. Hector Mackenzie seconded the motion, which was then unanimously carried.

The President in replying said: For my colleagues and myself I thank you most warmly for the manner in which you have referred to us in our administration of your affairs for the past year. It is gratifying to us to know that our efforts, if occasionally erroneous, in the conservative policy we thought it our duty to pursue in withholding the bonus which it would have been possible at this time to give, and I will only add that, at any rate, we are conscious of having done with regard to your affairs just as each of us would have done if we were looking after our own individual matters. While speaking of this I will just say this one word. We all of us deeply regret the loss of our colleague, the late Mr. Alex. Murray, a gentleman whose mature judgment we always relied and whose sound advice we found to be most valuable in all cases of emergency. He was always ready to do his part in the best possible way for the interests of the shareholders, whose trustee he was.

Thanks to the General Manager and Other Officers.

Hon. J. J. C. Abbott said—While I feel gratified at the approbation which the Shareholders have been pleased to accord to our labors for the past year, I feel that we must not forget that the executive officers of the Board have contributed in their respective departments to the success of the operations of the Bank, and I think they should have their due amount of approval also. I therefore beg to move:

That the thanks of the meeting be given to the General Manager, the Assistant General Manager, the Inspector, the Managers and other officers of the Bank for their services during the past year.

Mr. R. B. Angus—I have much pleasure in seconding the motion.

The General Manager, in replying, said: I beg to thank the mover and seconder of the resolution for the manner in which they have spoken of myself and the other officers of the Bank, and for your cordial reception of the motion. I can say with confidence that from the highest to the lowest in rank there is the utmost loyalty and zeal, and that the Managers in Canada, from Halifax to Vancouver, as well as those in London, New York and Chicago, to whom especially great responsibilities are entrusted, have a full appreciation of the magnitude and importance of the interests committed to their charge.

Mr. Crawford—Mr. President, might I ask when the renewal of the bank charters comes before the Legislature?

Sir Donald Smith said the charters terminated in 1891, and would doubtless then be dealt with by Parliament.

Mr. Jas. O'Brien moved, seconded by Mr. John Dunlop:

That the ballot now open for the election of Directors, be kept open until 3 p.m. on Tuesday, unless fifteen minutes elapse without a vote being cast, when it shall be closed, and until that time, and for that purpose only, this meeting be continued

The flour trade, which has been stagnant so far as shipments are concerned for the past three or four weeks, shows signs of some activity. Orders are again coming in from the east and at the present prices of wheat it can be successfully shipped. Wholesale quotations for the product of country mills are as follows: patent winter, $5 to $5.25 per bbl; patent spring, $5 to $5.25; straight roller, $4.25 to $4.45; strong bakers, $4.50 to $4.75. City mills quote as follows: spring patent, $5.50; fall patent, $5.65; strong bakers, $5.25; family flour, $4.65 to $4.90; best family, $3.15. Bran is quoted at $8 a ton.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Trade in fruits is fairly brisk. Wholesale quotations are:

Oranges, per box, $4.50, per case, $8; lemons, per box, $4.25; bananas, per bunch, $1.25 to $1.75; pineapples, 10 to 17c each; strawberries, 15 to 18c a box; cocoanuts, 5¼c each; tomatoes, $3.50 to $4 a crate; cucumbers, $3 a crate; Bermuda onions, $1 a crate; new cabbage, $2.50 a crate; apples, $1.75 to $2 a barrel.

Horses.

At Grand's to-day 90 horses were offered for sale and 65 were sold. The offering consisted of work horses, heavy draughts, saddle and driving horses. Work horses brought from $85 to $135, saddle and driving horses from $150 to $225, and heavy draughts from $125 to $175. There were only local buyers in the market, but the bidding was brisk.

"My daughter was greatly troubled with Scrofula, and, at one time, it was feared she would lose her sight. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has completely restored her health, and her eyes are as well as ever, with not a trace of scrofula in her system."—G. King, Killingly, Conn.

Jottings From the Junction.

The committee appointed to arrange with the Canadian Pacific Railway with regard to the removal of their shops here recommend the council to grant exemption from taxes and from water not to exceed 100,000 gallons per day for ten years, providing they remove the shops here within a year, and supply at least 150 men. The report also recommends the acceptance of the company's offer as to opening a street on the south side of the depot and the removal of all tracks to the north side. Engineer Rigge has been instructed to prepare an outline sketch of streets. The Pulley Company's bylaw has been read a second time. The bylaw provides that the factory must be kept running ten months in the year and employ at least 40 men. The $25,000 for the completion of the waterworks has been passed.

Though the meeting held Saturday night to discuss separation from the county was not a large one the general feeling was favorable to the scheme. Another meeting for the same purpose has been called for Friday night. The bylaw will be voted on on Saturday.

Take the advice of our Commercial Editor and buy your clothing at the Army & Navy Stores. He says I always see a crowd in the Army and Navy Stores. The salesmen are polite; the customers are easily served and everything seems to hum around the Army & Navy; and nobody gets credit at the Army & Navy Stores. So you see no bad debts have to be made up for. Don't spend a cent for clothing till you've been to the Army & Navy Stores.

Madre E' Higo Cigars are unquestionably the finest 10c and 15c cigars in the market. Try them. 136

Annual Examinations for Teachers.

The annual examination of the candidates for Public school teachers' certificates will begin on July 9next in the Collegiate Institute in Jarvis-street, in the Parkdale Collegiate Institute and in St. Joseph's Convent. At the first-named institution 61 candidates for third-class certificates and 46 for second-class will be examined; at the Parkdale school 22 and 19 for third and second respectively, and at St. Joseph's Convent 9 and 7. All candidates for first-class certificates will be examined at the Normal School.

A terrible war in men's suits and the Army & Navy is on top. Over four thousand men's suits to be nearly given away at the Army & Navy Stores. The very best goods made are being sold for less than you usually pay for shoddy goods; and no matter how low the price, even $3.95, no shoddy clothing is sold at the Army & Navy Stores. But you must pay cash; no credit at the Army & Navy.

Do not delay in getting relief for the little folks. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is a pleasant and sure cure. If you love your child why do you let it suffer when a remedy is so near at hand?

Fresh Method in Open Air Preaching.

The Cottage Meeting Gospel Wagon commenced its work last night at the corner of York and Richmond-streets. A large choir was in the wagon along with an organ, and a very large crowd assembled to hear the singing. Mr. A. C. Dixon conducted the meeting, and several well known speakers took part between the hymns. This novel way of reaching the mass is evidently going to take, as it forms a platform and also an organ loft. The attention was good and the order all that could be desired.

Our profession is war against high prices for shoddy clothing. The Army & Navy stands with its cannons pointed at the wholesale supply shops who systematically overcharge a long-suffering public exorbitant prices for shoddy clothing. No shoddy at the Army & Navy Stores. No vast fortunes are made at the Army & Navy Stores. Interest on capital and expenses of doing business is all the Army & Navy asks, and everybody must pay cash at the Army & Navy.

By a fire in Level Idaho Mine, Col., yesterday, Frank Carter, jr., lost his life. Eight or ten more men are reported in the mine below the fire.

There are cases of consumption so far advanced that Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup will not cure, but none so bad that it will not give relief. For coughs, colds and all affections of the throat, lungs and chest it is a specific which has never been known to fail. It promotes a free and easy expectoration, thereby removing the phlegm, and gives the diseased parts a chance to heal.

Boys' suits at the Army & Navy Stores; suits that will wear out in time, but not in a week or a month—suits that will last a year if your boy doesn't grow too fast—and no shoddy clothing is sold at the Army & Navy Stores. Over ten thousand boys' suits in stock.

In the circular postponing the convention of the Irish National League President Fitzgerald says the statement that the postponement of the convention is in any way connected with the murder of Dr. Cronin is absolutely false.

HOW TO CURE HEADACHE.—Some people suffer untold misery day after day with headache. There is rest neither day nor night until the nerves are all unstrung. The cause is generally a disordered stomach, and a cure can be effected by using Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, containing mandrake and dandelion. Mr. Finlay Wark, Lysander, P.Q., writes: "I find Parmelee's Pills a first-class article for bilious headache."

Bodies came into the Johnstown Morgue Monday at the rate of twenty an hour.

I Thought My Case was Hopeless.

I got so bad I could neither eat, sleep nor rest at night. My mouth, nose and throat were ulcerated, and so sore and tender that my life was a misery, giving me the most horrible sensations anyone ever experienced. I lost my appetite, had the most excruciating pain in my stomach after meals, would bloat and hiccough after taking the plainest food in ever so small a quantity. The Catarrh had extended to my right lung, producing terrible pain there also, and I thought there was no help for me until a friend advised me to visit the physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspeptic Institute, 198 King-street west, which I did and to-day I am a healthy and happy man. This is the story told by Mr. F. Addison of 1068 Queen-street west. He called on us over a year ago suffering from ulcerative catarrh and dyspepsia of a bad type, and although he had not much confidence that anyone could cure him he is to-day perfectly well and is willing and will be glad to answer any questions asked him by parties suffering similar troubles, and can be found either at his home, 1068 Queen-street west, or at the large and well-known wine and liquor establishment of Messrs. W. Shields & Co., 922 Queen-street west, where he holds a responsible position. Our address is 198 King-street west, formerly 170. Office hours, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Sunday, 2 to 4 p.m.

CENSURING THE ENGINEER

ALD. BAXTER AND FLEMING SPEAK OUT IN COMMITTEE.

Ald. E. A. Macdonald Dubs the Board of Works "The Indefinite Committee"—Something About the Gerrard-street Bridge—Contracts Awarded.

Ald. E. A. Macdonald gave the Board of Works a new name at its meeting yesterday. He dubbed it "The Indefinite Committee," because the chairman failed to answer an inquiry by a St. Matthew's Warder as definitely as might be desired. One of the peculiar points in the meeting was the absence of the City Engineer when he was wanted. A deputation of fully 50 prominent East End property owners were on hand to protest against the culpable delay of the department in improving that section of Toronto east of the Don. The particular grievance, however, was the strange delay experienced in making the approaches to the Gerrard street bridge. The chairman could tell them nothing about it and sent for the City Engineer to enlighten their ignorance, but the answer came back that he was not in and the crowd of citizens had to wait for fully an hour for him to put in an appearance. Ald. E. A. Macdonald spoke a few words of protest at the inconvenience which his constituents were compelled to experience.

When the Engineer was on deck the East Enders, led by Mr. George S. Macdonald, President of the Property-Owners' Association, ranged themselves around in a semi circle and fired a lot of questions about East End improvements at the official; to all he answered he had nothing to say, a statement which did not meet with much favor.

Ald. Baxter and Ald. E. A. Macdonald got into a heated discussion in which some very straight personalities were exchanged. Then Ald. Shaw ran foul of the alderman from the east. After another short wrangle Ald. Macdonald in attempting to speak was choked off by the chairman, who submitted a resolution referring the Carlaw-avenue extension to himself and Ald. Macdonald to see what could be done to hasten it on.

The result of the deputation was so unsatisfactory that Ald. Macdonald and his fifty supporters left the meeting in disgust. Ald. Macdonald telling the chairman that as freedom of discussion was denied him he might as well depart, at the same time remarking that sterner methods would be adopted to get the East End justice.

The Gerrard-street bridge difficulty was brought up by Ald. Fleming, who wanted to know when the people were to be allowed to cross. Those on both sides of the Don were in open rebellion at the delay. It was ruining the business men and retarding the progress of the ward.

Ald. Baxter, who generally sticks up for the City Engineer, also spoke a few words of censure. The discussion closed by the board recommending the purchase of a strip of land on the north side of Gerrard-street for the purpose of widening the street and for the purpose of providing a roadway on the south side of Gerrard-street at a low level leading to the roadway on the west side of the Don improvement and also giving access to the Don terrace.

It was determined to recommend the adoption of the Warren-Scharff contract for the Jarvis-street asphalt pavement at $2.80 per square yard, with a 5 years' instead of a 10 years' guarantee.

The City and Underground Wires.

The following resolution by Ald. Fleming was submitted to the special sub-committee on underground wires: That the City Solicitor be instructed to insert a clause in the agreement with the different electric light companies to the effect that at the end of 21 years from the date of such agreement the city shall have the right to purchase all the interest of such companies by paying the actual cash value for the plant in use and necessary for the carrying on of the electric light business, and should the city not take advantage of this option then they shall have the same right at the end of every ten years thereafter, and shall also insert a clause to prevent the selling out or amalgamating with any other company.

The Engineer's Report.

The City Engineer reported in favor of the construction of the following sewers: On Carlaw-avenue at a cost of $33,000; on Northumberland-street; on a lane leading from Bellwoods-avenue to Claremont-street; on Macdonald-square; on Dean-street; on lane between Elm and Edward-streets, and on Elm-street. Sidewalks on Lennox-avenue and Munro-street; a Stewart granolithic 12-foot sidewalk on south side of Richmond-street, extending from Yonge-street to the easterly limit of the medical college; a cedar block roadway on Terauley-street from Queen to College-streets; a cedar block roadway on Hayden-street from Yonge to Church-street; a cedar block pavement on Euclid-avenue; the grading of Highland-avenue, Withrow-avenue, Glendale-avenue, Byron-avenue and Chatham-avenue.

The report was adopted.

The Wagon Turned Over.

A horse and wagon belonging to G. A. Weese, 149 Yonge-street, met with a peculiar accident in Melinda-street yesterday afternoon. The horse was being turned round when the wagon capsized, catching the horse by the hind legs, one of which was badly cut. The animal became frightened and attempted to run away, but a small boy who was in the wagon hold on while the horse circled four times around the road, being finally stopped.

AT THE PRESBYTERY.

Topics of Import to the Religious World Discussed Yesterday.

The last meeting of Toronto Presbytery before the meeting of the General Assembly was held yesterday. Rev. Walter Amos, Moderator, presided.

Rev. Thos. Wilson was received from the Hamilton Presbytery and attached to the roll of ministers without charge. Rev. Mr. Glassford was received from the Barrie Presbytery and his induction at Streetsville fixed for June 25.

Rev. Dr. Price of Philadelphia Central Presbytery; Rev. Wm. Mackinlay and Rev. John Wilkie were asked to sit and correspond. Rev. Mr. Wilkie, who is a missionary in India, addressed the Presbytery as to the vast importance of continuing the Presbyterian College at Indore, India. They desired to erect new buildings in resuscitating the Indore High School and College, and he asked for assistance in raising $10,000 for this purpose.

Rev. Alex. Gilray presented the Home Mission report, which set forth that the mission at Bethesda had now joined with the station at Eglinton, a new mission has been planted at Mimico, and the missions within the city have progressed during the year. In the city missions the Sabbath School children and the adult attendants at public services both stand at about 1,000, which will likely increase during the summer to fully 2000. The subscriptions for this fund from the Presbytery reached $7,064.31.

Mr. Gilray also presented the Augmentation Report, showing that East York had been put on and Dixie taken off this fund during the year. He asked for $490 for the coming year, and reported the receipts to be $5639.11.

Dr. McLaren read a report advocating the organization of a congregation in the eastern part of the city to combine with the Duchess-street mission. Berkeley-street was made the western boundary; Queen-street the northern and the Don the eastern. The new congregation is to be called the South Side Presbyterian Church.

Rev. R. P. McKay moved in amendment that the report lie in the hands of the committee for another month and that they be asked to confer with the sessions of East and Cooke's Churches. The amendment was carried on a vote of 16 to 11.

At the afternoon session Rev. J. M. Cameron applied for leave to retire from active work. His request was referred to the General Assembly. The resignation of the Rev. Mr. Wilson called forth tributes as to his long and faithful service. Letters and applications for admission were accepted from Messrs. Turnbull and Chestnut. Rev. J. A. Grant reported on the action of the committee on the Mimico mission and briefly sketched its progress. The examination of applicants for preaching licenses was then commenced, at the conclusion of which the Presbytery adjourned.

PROF. LEMON, M.D., Esoteric and Magnetic Physician. Formerly of the Medical Faculty University of Buffalo, N.Y.

Offices over Imperial Bank Branch, Corner Queen and Yonge-streets, Toronto.

Mrs. Charles A., dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach and bowels, urinal rheumatism, ulcers on the liver, could not keep food on the stomach, heavy weight in it after meals, or taking smallest quantity of mildest food or fluids, sleepless, no rest night or day, skin jaundiced, feet icy cold or burning hot and cold flashes, despondency, bowels would not move at all, urine scant, bricky sediment and then plentiful and clear, constant headache. Cured in 2 months.

I hereby certify that my daughter, Miss Lily Lucas, who has suffered from "Ulcerated Catarrh" for the last eight years, is now perfectly cured after two months' treatment by Prof. Lemon. (Signed) G. N. LUCAS.

Prof. Lemon had more callers than he could well attend to the last few days. His immense success has raised a great storm of envy, jealousy and ill-will among the "rentile practitioners;" especially is a so-called "vital magnetist" exercised, who all winter spent his cent-a-word venom Saturdays. Prof. Lemon has no use for vital magnetism—if there is such a thing—or the lunatic, either. Such practitioners were suppressed in New York three years ago for their obscenity and indecency generally—worse than opium joints—by the Society for the Prevention and Suppression of Vice. See "Comstock's Reports." Week days only. Consultation free—9 to 9—till 1st July. Walk right upstairs. Usher in attendance. Welcome. No indelicate questions or examinations, exposures or experiments.

OLIVER, COATE & CO.,

57 King-street East, Toronto,

—ON—

Saturday, June 22, 1889,

at the hour of 12 o'clock noon, the following freehold lands and premises in four parcels:

PARCEL I.—Part of lot number 3 on the north-east corner of Church and McGill-streets in the city of Toronto, according to registered plan No. 203, having a frontage of 53 feet 6 in. in Church street by a depth of 58 feet 9 inches in McGill-street. This property is one of the most desirable corners in the City of Toronto and is rapidly becoming a business centre. On it are a rough-cast cottage, 1½ stories high, in good repair, containing 6 rooms, with kitchen, known as No. 205 Church-street, and another rough-cast cottage containing 6 rooms and kitchen, situate on the northeast corner of Church and McGill-streets. This cottage has city water. Both houses are well rented.

PARCEL II.—The easterly part of said lot 3, according to said plan 203, having a frontage of 20 feet 10 inches in McGill-street by a depth of 53 feet 6 inches. On this property are situate two two-story rough-cast houses in good repair, each containing 4 rooms and kitchen, known as numbers 196 and 198 McGill-street. These houses are also well rented. This property adjoins to the east Parcel No. 1.

PARCEL III.—Part of the south half of lot 44, on the north side of McGill-street, as shown on said plan 203, having a frontage on McGill-street of 21 feet by a depth of 80 feet. This land is vacant and adjoins to the east Parcel No. 2. This is a choice building lot. On it could be built two desirable residences, which are in great demand in this neighborhood.

PARCEL IV.—Part of the said south half of said lot 44, on the north side of McGill-street, having a frontage of 23 feet 7 inches in McGill-street by a depth of 80 feet. On this property is situate a rough-cast cottage containing 5 rooms and pantry, known as number 114 McGill-street. This property adjoins to the east Parcel No. 3. These properties will be sold in parcels as above, and if not so sold then in any other parcels or manner the vendors may deem proper.
