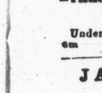
WM. H. BONTER, DENTIST.



TAKES this method of informing the inhabitants of Goderich and its vicinity, that he has permanently located himself for the practice of the Dental profession
Dr. B. has regularly and thoroughly studied the Dental Profession, in the City of New York, with an eminent Dentist, and feels himself competent to perform all operations pertaining to Surgical and Mechanical Dentistry.
Dr. Bonter takes great pleasure in introducing to the notice of his friends and patrons, a recent improvement in the manner of mounting Artificial teeth, one which is deemed of great importance not only by himself, but all the leading Dentists of the United States. He alludes to the 'Vulcanized Base."
This mode of work has now been fully tested and will undoubtedly be adopted for general use, as that which is capable of rendering the greatest service in strength, neatness and durability.
The above offers great inducements to persons suffering from decayed teeth, which frequently cause neuralgia, and various other pains.

They are sold by all Druggists. 32

☞ MOFFAT'S LIFE PILLS.
The high and envied celebrity which this pre-eminent medicine has acquired for its invariable efficacy in all the diseases which it professes to cure, has rendered the usual practice of ostentatious puffing not only unnecessary but unworthy of them. They are known by their fruits; their good works testify to them, and they thrive not by the faith fed credulous. In all cases of costiveness the pepsia bilious and liver affections, rheumatism, fevers and ague, obstinate head, aches, and all general derangements of health, these Pills have invariably proved a certain and speedy remedy. A single trial will place the Life Pills beyond the reach of competition in the estimation of every patient.
Dr Moffat's Phœnix Bitters will be found equally efficacious in all cases of nervous debility, dyspepsia, headache, the sickness, incident to females in delicate health, and every kind of weakness of the digestive organs. For sale by Dr W. B. MOFFAT, 335 Broadway, New York and by all Druggists

TO MOTHERS
WHAT IS IT —
Has given your children a favorable appetite, quietness of the best sleeping, [illegible] and gives health.

IT IS WORMS!
USE NELIGAN'S WORM CANDY for it instantly expels worms from the stomach and intestines, is as agreeable as the most delicious sweetmeats; it strengthens digestion and restores children to perfect health and it cannot hurt the most delicate infant.
CERTIFICATES.
To Mr Robert Stark—Neligan's Mentions for Worms is the best I ever used. The children liked it as well as candy, and the quantity of worms they passed after taking it was perfectly surprising—They never were in better health than they are now. In fact your medicine is invaluable to mothers. (Signed) M G KIMBERS. Woodstock

HURON SIGNAL

GODERICH C. W.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 3, 1860.

AFTER-THOUGHTS.

THE jubilant rejoicings are past—the oblivious enthusiasm has died away, and men and probably women too, as if awoke from a fatiguing, but not unpleasant dream, begin to collect their faculties and to analyse the dim and confused recollections. Was it the pageant of a returned conqueror, who had triumphantly vanquished the enemy of his country and liberated her from the chain of foreign despotism, and to whose valor the people owed their homes, their liberties, and their lives? Was it the Deliverer harrying through the dominions of slavery on his mission of Mercy, and ever and anon, halting to break the fetters and to set the captives free, amid the grateful salutations of joy and rejoicings from the redeemed and their kindred? Or was it simply the marriage festival of the popular heir to the still more popular heiress—the man who, as the friend and favorite of the people, and on his own estate, is hailed with the hearty enthusiasm of his own country? No, it was the heir to a throne—the throne of the mightiest empire of the earth—a young lad of nineteen, well bred, well educated, accomplished, intelligent, agreeable and pleasing in his address, and in short, a fair specimen of his class—who came to see the country—a great country—perhaps the greatest within the vast range of all his future dominions. Young kings and experienced statesmen might come the same distance merely to see it, though though they should have no other interest in it. But the Prince of Wales has a decided and a very great interest in seeing Canada, over and above the curiosity; and in coming to see it he was accompanied by experienced statesmen—men much better qualified than himself to observe, and to judge of a country and a people. He has come and gone—he has seen some great sights, such, for instance, as Niagara Falls and the Ottawa river at Bytown; he performed the ceremony of completing the Victoria Bridge, the most stupendous monument of Art that ever his eyes beheld, and the similar ceremony of laying the foundation stone of the Ottawa Parliament Buildings, on the most stupendous site that ever carried a building. These and a few other formal inaugurations have associated his visit with the material greatness of the Province.

He also saw a few handsome towns decorated with all the costly and dazzling display which the art of decoration could devise and execute. In addition to all these he witnessed a demonstration of loyalty and homage, extending continuously, a distance of perhaps two thousand miles, and which, for ostentatious display—for costly grandeur—for extravagant folly, and for loud, loud loyalty, has few paralells in the whole history of modern Demonstrations! Every town—every village on the long line of procession, seemed determined to vie with and excel its rivals in glitter—in reckless extravagance, and in noisy loyalty, in so much that a stranger might have concluded that our country is one great workshop of toys, and spangles, and ornamental painting and gilding!—And then there was the banquet hall, hung round with garlands and fragrant with an atmosphere of roses; shining and blushing with everything that can shine and blush, even up to the lush of beauty on lovely woman's cheek. There was music with its most "voluptuous swell," and the rustling of satin, silk, and velvet, and the brilliant sparkling of gold, pearls, and diamonds. In short, there was in that banquet hall, everything that could dazzle, and bewilder, and intoxicate a young man of nineteen, and render him oblivious of the realities of a world of dirt and drudgery.—And that banquet-hall extended, as it were, from Newfoundland to the Detroit river, almost continuous and parallel with the long line of the procession, and in it, and paramount to all other excellencies and enjoyments, was the DANCE—the wheeling, whirling, giddy, life-giving, soul-absorbing DANCE! His Royal Highness—the future Monarch—the greatest sovereign of the world to be, the man of mankind, danced here, danced there, danced everywhere. At every halting-place, from Newfoundland to the Detroit river, there was the spacious Banquet-hall, hung round with garlands and fragrant with an atmosphere of roses, the "voluptuous swell," the rustling of satin, silk, and velvet—the brilliant sparkling of gold pearls and diamonds, and the wheeling, whirling, giddy, life-giving, soul-absorbing DANCE!—And the young Monarch danced with old ladies and young ladies,—danced through the exciting quadrille, the funny polka, and the ecstatic waltze, till monarchy and modesty were sweating at every pore, and till he had danced the entire length of Her Majesty's North American Colonies!

Now, we are not of those who object to dancing as sinful or immoral. If men and women choose to hop, and skip, and shuffle, and jump in company, for their own mutual amusement, we can see no harm in it, more than if they clapped their hands, or sucked their thumbs in each other's faces; and we see no reason why the dancing worship of the honest Shaker should not be as acceptable as any other external act of worship. We do not, therefore, object to dancing on the score of religion or morals—we will not say that it is even exceedingly silly for grown up persons, or persons of intelligence and ordinary discretion. It is a fashionable amusement, and this alone would be an apology even were it ten-fold more boyish than it really is. But though not sinful or immoral—though fashionable on ordinary occasions, does it not look rather small to be the highest amusement that a great, enlightened people could offer to a great enlightened prince?—We are very prone to be severe on many extravagant and, in our view, ridiculous customs and ceremonies of nations less enlightened than ourselves. But supposing an intelligent people in the Moon, for we presume they are not to be found on earth, an intelligent people totally ignorant of dancing—suppose them fully acquainted with the intellectual and educational status of the people of Canada, and with their experience and knowledge of the Arts and Sciences, with their railroads, locomotives, and telegraphs. Suppose them also to understand the still greater forces which distinguish us in the name of moral and religious power. In the next place, let them understand the Prince's visit, thoroughly—its nature and object, to see the country and the people. The future King, a young man, coming a distance of three thousand miles, over ocean and land for the purpose of seeing vast possessions which were yet to be his own—vast possessions and a great people which he had never seen before and in all probability, would never see again. Having been informed of all these things, let the men of the Moon be witnesses of the whole dancing procession, from Newfoundland to the Detroit river, and what would be their opinions of the entertainment? They would assuredly conclude that dancing is the chief of earthly enjoyments—a kind of sacred homage which the people pay to their sovereigns, and that the visit of the prince was for the purpose of ascertaining the progress of his Canadian subjects in this peculiar ceremony of homage, and to drill them into the perfection of it. The Moonites would, no doubt, have some difficulty in discovering any reasonable connection between this dancing enthusiasm and the intellectual, scientific, and philosophical pursuits of the Earth men, and would, probably, connect it with their religious ceremonies as the easiest way of accounting for it.

These strictures are, by no means, intended to reflect on his Royal Highness or on the spirit in which he was welcomed in the country. Dancing, by some means or other, has got to be the fashion of the times, and the Prince, we presume, is fully up to the fashion. Still, we think it is to be regretted, we think it is very small that such an important occasion should have been so entirely devoted to dancing. We certainly do not think that six weeks of the dazzling banquet-hall, with all its splendors and its lovely allurements—six weeks of wheeling and whirling, of young ladies and old ladies, through the quadrille, the waltz, and the polka, was a proper representation of the country called Canada. In short, the Royal party came to see the country, and they saw it in disguise—they saw it in a mask, or rather, instead of seeing Canada, they saw a costly, an extravagant imitation of the fashionable idleness and profligacy of European life, and their future recollections and criticisms will not be concerning Canada, but concerning its dancers and its imitators. The Duke of Newcastle, may, indeed, remember the something of the country's greatness which he saw at the Provincial Exhibition, but beyond that the remembrances will be chiefly confined to the dancing-hall and the Dancers. Yea, even the Prince has left little else than a remembrance of his dancing. Verily, the dancing has, in our opinion, left but a small, sorry picture of the Royal vist to Canada!

The Harpurhey Show,

In so far as men, women and children were concerned, was by far the best we have seen in the County of Huron. We think that not fewer than fifteen hundred persons were on the street, at one time of the day, and besides these, the two hotels were choke full throughout the whole day. The crowd on the street was, of course, composed of farmers with their wives, sons and daughters, and it is no flattery to say, that it would be difficult to find such a turn out of strong, healthy, clean and home-clad rural population in one village, as was to be seen in Harpurhey on Friday last. The show of cattle, we think, was not so good, either in number or in quality as we have seen on some former occasions in the same place, though there certainly was a few superior animals, and a two-year old and three-year old, both in milk, and shown by Alexander Broadfoot Esq., were equal to any of the same age we have ever seen in Huron. There were two or three other good milk cows exhibited, and a considerable number of young animals, conspicuous among which were some good steers. Working oxen were in good numbers, and among them were two yoke of excellent beasts. Several spans of strong, handsome horses were exhibited, a few young horses, and some brood mares and foals, of which, a horse foal of Thomas McMichael's was notable for size and strength of bone. We did not learn who were the owners of the various kinds of Stock, but their names will appear in the Prize List. The show of sheep was good, and more than an average number were on the ground, including two or three good rams. The swine tribe was but indifferently represented in numbers, but this deficiency was amply made up by the gigantic dimensions of the two pet animals exhibited by Mr Cresswell of Tuckersmith. These two, taken in regard to size, form and bodily condition, are superior to any we have ever seen, even at the Provincial Exhibition—they are entitled to a place in any show of beasts, and would be no discredit to Wombwell's Menagerie.

There were three new wagons of superior construction, and three ploughs on the ground. Mr. Gray of Rodgerville, showed one of his celebrated iron ploughs, which received a full share of inspection and commendation, also a wooden plough, with more iron than usual. This he valued at only eighteen dollars, and it is certainly the best article that we have seen offered at that price.

The produce show was held in the new storehouse of Malcolm McDiarmid, which was well filled. Wheat, oats and peas were very fair samples. Butter was in great abundance and of first-rate quality. Apples, onions, melons, cabbages, tomatoes, Indian corn &c., showed to great advantage. Maple sugar was excellent and the ladies' work was very beautiful, while the home-made cloths gave most encouraging proofs of industry and comfort. In short, the Harpurhey Society is evidently a "great success,"—is evidently ahead of all others in the county, not excepting the County Society; and while much of the success is owing to the spirit of the farming population of the locality, something is also due to the Directors, and in a particular manner to the President, who busies himself as much and seems to take as active an interest in the management of the Show and everything belonging to the society, as though it were part of his own private business. A willing, working Directory is absolutely essential to the success and stability of an Agricultural Society.

CLINTON.—On arriving at this flourishing village, on Saturday last, we were astonished to see the sad blank which the fire on Wednesday evening has left on one of the principal business streets of the Town. Middaugh's Hotel, with all its appurtenances, the stores of Mr. McGarva and Mr. Reid, and the saloon of Mr. John McKay, can now be traced only by the charred remains of the cellars and brick chimneys, and the greater portion of their valuable contents perished with the buildings. The actual loss is estimated variously, at from ten to fifteen thousand dollars, and it is difficult to say, whether the owners of the premises or the occupants have

Office of the Clerk of the Peace,
Goderich, 22nd Sept., 1860.

Clerk of the Peace,
Huron and Bruce.

been the greatest losers. The calamity is a severe one, but really, in looking at the ruined site, and considering the circumstances, one is surprised that it was not much worse and assuredly had there been any wind at the time, the ruin must have been far greater.—The loss, however, is not confined to those whose goods were consumed by the fire, as several of the adjoining stores were hurriedly emptied of their contents, which were thrown promiscuously on the street, in the greatest possible confusion. A large amount of property was thus damaged and broken, and, we regret to learn that a still greater amount became the prey of the prowling wretches who make their living in darkness. This in our opinion, is the most lamentable feature in the whole melancholy case, for the heartless thieves who can take advantage of such a dire calamity to rob the sufferers of their property, are a sad curse to the community in which they exist. Smith and Fisher, whose fine new store had the inside torn out of it, Mr. Jackson, merchant tailor, and Mr. Coates in the brick corner, are the principal sufferers by having their effects thrown recklessly to the street. Mr. Coates is said to have lost some two dozen pairs of new blankets by the thieves, besides many other valuable articles, and the losses of Messrs. Smith and Fisher cannot yet be ascertained. A portion of the premises destroyed belonged, we think, to Mr. Forrest of the Township of Morris, and the larger portion to George Fulton Esq. The insurance is a mere trifle compared with the loss; nevertheless, as Clinton is again on the go-ahead key, we trust the blank will soon be filled up.

☞ We call particular attention to the Schedule of Convictions, which occupies such an unusual portion of our columns to-day.—The counties of Huron and Bruce are larger than four ordinary Counties of Upper Canada—larger than eight of some other Counties, and, therefore it is that the List of Convictions is always large. But the present List exceeds all that has gone before it, by an increase of nearly fifty per cent! It occupies thirteen full sheets of foolscap, in the handwriting of the Clerk of the Peace, and is compiled by him from some thirty lists, sent in by the same number of honorable J. P.'s. Many of these worthy Magistrates write a fist and a language peculiarly their own, and in so far as transcribing, or, we might say translating them into English is concerned, they might as well write in Gaelic! For the labor of translating these thirteen sheets of foolscap Mr. Lizars informs us that the Bench allows him the sum of one dollar! Now, we very seldom advocate an increase of office fees or salaries, because, in most cases, they are too high, but after seeing these thirteen sheets, and, more especially, after examining the hieroglyphics from which they were translated, we declare candidly, that few educated men could translate them, and that the man who can do so, would make nothing too much at a dollar a sheet, instead of a dollar for thirteen sheets. We are not posted up in the schedule of fees, but if the judges or the legislature provided but one dollar for compiling the Schedule of Convictions, they could not possibly have contemplated the United Counties of Huron and Bruce. We again call attention to the extraordinary dimensions of the present List of Convictions!

☞ We must apologise for the deficiency of reading matter in our present issue. The Supplement was printed before we were aware of the extent required for the Convictions, otherwise it would have been printed on both sides. Our readers, however may rest assured, that we will try to make up for the short-coming in our next, when the election question and the claims of our present Member will receive full justice.

☞ At the meeting of the Town Council, on Friday evening last, there were present His Worship, the Mayor, and councillors Horton, McGardy, Smith, and Rumball. A quorum not being present when the regular hour of meeting had elapsed, the Council adjourned until Friday evening next!

☞ We understand that the Goderich Amateur Dramatic Club intend giving their first representation for the winter season, this evening. The opening piece is entitled "The Golden Farmer," an old favorite; to conclude with the celebrated Farce, entitled "The Omnibus, or a Convenient Distance."

The "Omnibus" well played, will al ways furnish most excellent food for mirth, and is likely to retain its position among the best modern acting farces of the day.

☞ We are informed by M. C. Cameron Esq., Solicitor to the Council, that the application made by the four northern townships to quash the Bye-law, under which the County Rates were to be levied, also the application for a Mandamus to compel the Council to a more equitable system of Assessment, have been quashed, with costs to be paid by the applicants.

☞ We observe from our exchanges that the Hon. Malcolm Cameron has been returned without opposition for the St. Clair Division.

☞ Spring Wheat was selling at ninety cents in Clinton on Saturday last, and 88 cts at Seaforth. Can Goderich beat this?
