PRAISED WITH A PURPOSE

EMPEROR WILLIAM DELUGED WITH HONEYED WORDS.

Count Douglas' Effusion Prepared with the Kaiser's Sanction and Taken to Mean That Bismarck's Services are to be Dispensed With.

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—Emperor William's reception at Vienna has sent a thrill of gratification throughout the empire. Apart from the popular demonstrations, the enthusiasm shown and the scenes at the banquet given to his majesty, the visit has been of immense value in displaying the Emperor's latent qualities. Emperor William has passed through the ordeal of Austrian society in triumph, acquiring new character as a man of cordial as well as kingly presence. But his social triumph is a trifle beside the significance of the exchange of imperial courtesies at the Rieltersal and the banquets. The official papers here and at Vienna comment upon the Emperor's speeches as assurances that the German and Austrian armies are practically united and ready for action against a common enemy. Any remotest suspicion of Emperor William's inclining towards the Czar has been dispelled. On the contrary, several incidents have occurred which impel the conviction that decisive action for the testing of the strength of the alliance will not be long delayed. Emperor William studiously showed himself gracious towards the militant and Slavic element in Austro-Hungary.

Emperor William will remain in Vienna until Wednesday, when he will start for Italy.

The interview of Cardinal Galimberti, Papal Nuncio at Vienna, with his Majesty on Thursday lasted only ten minutes. The cardinal, it is said, has freely stated that the Emperor, after expressing the hope that nothing would occur during his visit to Rome to wound the susceptibilities of the Pope, declined to discuss any question pending between the Vatican and Germany, simply referring him to Count Herbert Bismarck. The Nuncio's subsequent conference with Count Herbert Bismarck appears to have been limited to the arranging of the formalities of Emperor William's reception at the Vatican. Advices from Rome received here last evening announce that the Vatican is genuinely satisfied with the program arranged.

The German and Italian anarchists mean mischief. Letters from Zurich which have been intercepted refer to some plot against his majesty and give rise to the belief that he will be attacked during his tour of Italy.

Count Douglas' Panegyric.

Count Douglas' effusion is about to be published in pamphlet form for distribution throughout the empire. It opens with the declaration that "never before has our Kaiser, the only Prussian Prince, seen so much of practical life." This exaggeration is the key note of the whole eulogy. The author describes the Emperor as having acquired by severity of training habits of conscientious performance of duties, high moral earnestness and a clear perception of that duty toward the country which must cause him to place personal safety and personal affections below the public weal. According to Count Douglas, William, while a prince, showed himself a "begeisterter and schneideger soldat" amidst the unwearied exercise of his military functions. "He went through training in all the administrative departments, showing an intuitive perception and practical sense amazing to old experienced officials."

"As emperor," continues the panegyrist, "he has shown himself impervious to flattery, though open to conviction and honest advice; the champion of religious toleration; an earnest philanthropist; an assiduous friend of the working classes; not ascetic, but healthily pious; a foe to sensual indulgence and sternly opposed to gambling and other prodigalities. Finally, he is averse to war, sympathizes with popular aims and de progressive legislation compatible with nation's interests."

Count Douglas did not draw this character without the Emperor's sanction. Every line is meant to impress upon Germans the belief that he is a sovereign able to govern without the assistance of the greatest statesman and to lead armies to victory, relying upon his own strategy. The inference is that the emperor aims to prepare Germany for the retirement of Bismarck.

Prof. Geffcken and the Diary.

A Hamburgh dispatch announces that no definite measure has yet been taken to prosecute Prof. Geffcken. It is not true that the authorities have seen a written permit from the late Emperor Frederick authorizing Geffcken to publish the diary. The inquiry resulted in establishing the fact that Geffcken never got a copy from Frederick. It is not known whence he obtained the extracts.

As the inquiry narrows the circle of possible sources of the betrayal of the diary, the Bismarckian papers become more bitter towards the Ex-empress. "Keine frauenzimmer politik" is again their cry. Insulting suggestions of complicity on the part of the Ex-empress are common, though no one has dared to make a direct charge that she is responsible for the publication of the diary.

Notes.

The Reichs Bank, it is expected, will raise the rate of discount on Monday. The stock of bullion has decreased 45,000,000 marks within a week. The withdrawals have largely gone to Russia. Altogether there is considerable strain upon the resources of the banks. There is danger ahead and in the coming liquidation croakers predict a general smash.

The Americanists this morning visited the Polytechnic and afterward the mausoleum at Charlottenburg. In the afternoon they went to Potsdam where they inspected the castles and the grave of Frederick the Great.

The North German Gazette, referring to the report that the English Admiral Fairfax has been ordered to establish a protectorate over Savage Island, says that the British Government cannot assume the protection of the island, since by virtue of the Anglo-German agreement of 1886 the island was declared neutral territory.

The promoters of the Emin relief expedition decline to abandon the enterprise.

It is reported that the government has ordered several warships and 3000 troops to German territory in East Africa.

Fire at Rochesterville.

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—A fire which broke out in Booth's lumber piles, on Richmond road, shortly after midnight, was alarming at first from it proximity to the suburb of Rochesterville, but it was put out in a couple of hours. Eighteen small lumber piles and the workman's frame dwelling were burnt. The loss is about $3,000; insured.

A $50,000 Fire.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 7.—Fitzgibbon & Crisp's carriage factory was destroyed by fire early this morning, causing a loss of $50,000, which is nearly covered by insurance.

A Diamond Robber.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Charles W. Sohnell, 20 years old, who obtained several thousand dollars' worth of diamonds on memorandum from Maiden-lane jewellers, was sentenced to State prison for five years by Judge Cowing. The robbed jewellers got back their property at Police Headquarters afterward.

WHO OWNS THE "CUT?"

A Large Appropriation for the St. Clair Flats Canal.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—In the House yesterday Mr. Cutchins, from the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, reported the bill appropriating $186,250 for completing the improvements and dredging of the St. Clair Flats Ship Canal in the State of Michigan. Congress has always, in making improvements, named the place as in the State of Michigan. The United States assumes that it is within the jurisdiction of the State of Michigan, making that portion of Lake St. Clair west of the Commissioners' line a part of Michigan territory. As the lake and the canal are a part of a great water way, over which the commerce of the great lakes continually passes, it is regarded as somewhat peculiar that what belongs alike to all the States should be put down to the cost of the State of Michigan.

The pending appropriation for the completion of the canal will, when it is considered in the Senate and House, give Congressmen an opportunity to discuss freely the point whether the canal is or is not in the waters of the United States, and whether Great Britain has a right to revoke the provisions of an old treaty and make new provisions entirely unfavorable to the United States.

Ghastly Sight at the Bottom of the Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—A professional diver went to examine the machinery of the steamer City of Chester, which was sunk in the waters of Golden Gate in August last by collision with the Oceanic. The diver located the vessel in fifty fathoms of water, cut in two as if by an immense saw. While looking into the steerage the first thing which met his eyes was the form of a man standing with distorted face and tongue hanging from his mouth. The body was swollen to twice its natural size. Going a little further aft he saw another victim of the wreck on his knees grasping a third man around the waist. The diver returned to the surface and reported his discovery, but nothing could induce him to return to the wreck.

A Story of a Gold Mine.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 7.—A local jeweler of this city has come into possession of the facts concerning the location of a gold mine in Bayham and expects to reap untold millions therefrom. Bayham picked up a large piece of ore in the bed of a creek which runs through his farm, and observing that it glistened brightly he brought it to a jeweler in St. Thomas and had it assayed, with the result that it yielded $13.10 of pure gold. He kept his secret locked within his own heart, intending to interest some capitalists in developing the supposed mine. Meantime, however, he was seized with fatal illness and on his deathbed informed his wife of his discovery, and she it is who informed the local jeweler.

Laid His Ruin to a Woman.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—John B. Curtis of Salamanaca, stood in front of the mirror in his room in the Grand Central hotel at 11.30 o'clock yesterday morning and shot himself dead. Upon the table was found a letter written in lead pencil. It read:

NEW YORK, Oct. 4, 1888.

DEAR BOY: Forgive me what I am about to do. I do not feel equal to the strain of keeping the hotel at Salamanaca for two weeks. Please give my watch to Mr. Robbins, your good friend. Remember all the good I have done. That woman has ruined me, and I see no future. All have to die some time. Please see that I am buried by the side of poor mother. Good-bye, dear boy. I am, J. B. C.

He Could Not Live Without Her.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—"I cannot live without her," wrote Rudolph Mittauer just before he hanged himself to a door post at his home. Rudolph was 29 years old and a widower. His young and pretty wife killed herself a year ago by taking a preparation of arsenic. Mittauer sent to Germany for his wife's younger sister, whom he desired to marry. She refused to come to America and Mittauer became despondent. The note he left refers, not to his wife, but to her sister.

White and Cross Again Convicted.

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 6.—The second trial of Charles E. Cross and Samuel C. White, president and cashier of the State National Bank of this city, in the Superior Court ended to-day, resulting in their conviction on two charges of forgery. Cross was sentenced to six and White to five years at hard labor on the public roads. Both appealed to the Supreme Court. The new indictments against them are to be tried at the January term of the Superior Court of this county.

Mr. Stover Destroyed His Happiness.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Edward T. Manley, a saloon keeper, has begun a suit in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, against Edward R. Stover, dry goods merchant of Williamsburgh, for $10,000 damages for the alleged alienation of his wife's affections. Mr. Manley was a bartender in the Hoffman House three years ago when he married Miss Lillie Little, and soon after his marriage opened a saloon in Myrtle-avenue. He alleges that his domestic happiness was broken up through Mr. Stover's attentions to his wife.

He Had Diphtheria.

ORILLIA, Oct. 7.—A man from one of the lumber shanties to the north, reached here suffering from diphtheria, on the way to his home, in the vicinity of Bobcaygeon or Peterboro. The health authorities forbade him proceeding farther. The doctor who saw the man at the shanty, and advised him to go home, deserves severe censure.

THE SICKNESS IN TORONTO,

ORDER-IN-COUNCIL FOR THE HEALTH OFFICER TO REPORT.

Smallpox Breaks Out on George-street—The Eighth Case—Weekly Health Bulletin—What the Papers Say About Toronto's Sanitation.

Activity reigns in the Public Health Department. Vaccination proceeds briskly; orders are being issued for abatement of nuisances; neglect is being visited by summary proceedings; landlords and tenants are setting their houses in order.

"Prevention is better than cure" has become the watchword in many quarters, but in others, and those the poorest and most neglected, a masterly inactivity prevails. The spur should be put on ere worse things happen.

Yet another case of smallpox, making the eighth! And in a fresh district, George-street. Particulars are subjoined. All districts have now had outbreaks: Yorkville-avenue in the north, Seaton Village in the west, Richmond and Agnes-streets central, and Lombard, Sherbourne and George-streets in the east. Diphtheria and typhoid are in the region of the Don, and scattered over other districts. There were ten fresh cases of diphtheria and thirteen of typhoid reported to Dr. Canniff last week.

The request of the Provincial Board of Health to compel all Local Boards to report to the Central Board has been granted, and on Saturday an order-in-Council giving effect to the Provincial's wishes was issued. This settles the trouble between Dr. Canniff and the Provincial Board.

Another Smallpox Case.

Another case of smallpox was brought to the notice of the Medical Health Department yesterday afternoon. The infected house is No 79 George-street, directly opposite the George-street school. The patient is a young man, whose family is one of the four which occupy No. 79. The attack is said to be a mild one, and as soon as discovered resulted in the man's hurried departure for the Smallpox Hospital. The police say that the house where this last outbreak occurred is in a very dirty condition, and from this fact alone would breed disease.

This last case makes eight which are under treatment at the Smallpox Hospital. All the patients are doing well and no fatal results are expected. There is likely to be another case developed in the house on Sherbourne-street where the married lady was attacked. So far it has not shown itself with that distinctness which would warrant the sick person's removal. Meanwhile all the houses where the disease is known to have existed are being rigidly quarantined.

Dr. Canniff Points Out the Danger.

Ald. Drayton, chairman of the Local Board of Health has received a strong letter from Medical Health officer Dr. Canniff pointing out the great danger to Canada caused by steps not being taken to quarantine Buffalo. He lays great stress on the point that the cases occurring in Toronto could not all have been transmitted by one person, but must have been received from different parties, or goods imported from that city.

Other Contagious Diseases.

There were reported to the Medical Health officer last week, 10 cases of diphtheria, and 13 of typhoid fever. Scarlet fever does not appear on the list, and the city is to be congratulated on its freedom from this virulent disorder.

The Cook From Buffalo.

Ever since the discovery of the second case of smallpox the Medical Health department have been after the cook from Buffalo who it believes was the first to bring the disease to Toronto. They have followed her movements so closely as to have found out all her abiding places while here, and in each case the inmates of the house have all been vaccinated. She came from an infected house in Buffalo, and is supposed to have returned there as she has buried by the side of her mother.

Dr. Canniff Will Now be Compelled to Report.

The following order-in-Council appeared in the last issue of The Ontario Gazette:

Upon consideration of the resolution of the Provincial Board of Health passed on the 16th day of August last, and upon the recommendation of the Honorable the Treasurer, the Committee of Council advise that the following regulation be approved of by Your Honor:—

"That every Local Board and its Medical Health Officer shall at once notify the Provincial Board of Health of all and any cases of cholera and smallpox and of such outbreaks of diphtheria and scarlet fever as occur within the limits of the jurisdiction of said Local Board."

Certified,
(Signed) E. F. B. JOHNSTON,
Clerk Executive Council, Ontario.

Want to Get Rid of It.

The usual petition for the removal of the Smallpox Hospital from its present location is on its travels around St. Matthew's Ward, and is securing a large number of signers. It is the old story. As long as there is no smallpox there is no petition, but just as soon as the first comes along the other is trotted out.

Good Advice From The News.

The Local Board of Health knows what is expected of it. Now let it go fearlessly on with its duty no matter what obstacles may be presented.

The Sewage and Disease.
From The Telegram.

The sewage-poisoned bay is a breeder of disease. Its power is reinforced by decomposing garbage in the back lanes, foul well water, the leaks due to defective plumbing, sewer gas, and kindred evils that would be remedied under any efficient system of sanitary inspection.

The Stench at Don Bridge.
From The York Citizen.

Talking about typhoid fever there is sufficient of the article located at the Don bridge on Queen-street to supply the whole of Canada. The stench while passing over the bridge is something dreadful, and if it is not seen to at once by the Health authorities there is no telling what the results may be.

In Many Ways a Blessing.
From The Orillia Packet.

A paper like The Toronto World, which does not fear the frowns of the ward politicians on one hand, and can not be suspected of partisan motives on the other, is in many ways a blessing to the community in which it is published. Of late The World has been doing the city inestimable service in exposing the delinquencies of the Health Department, and revealing the shocking state of filth which exists in different parts of the city, breeding diphtheria and typhoid fever.

The Atmosphere Fatally Polluted.
From The Eastern Star.

Unfortunately we have this week to announce the death of two persons who for some two or three years have been residing on the shores of Ashbridge's Bay. H. K. Humphreys, the well-known boatman, a young man of only 37 years of age, passed away on Thursday afternoon after a short illness, although since moving to his late residence at the foot of Morse-street he had been ill on and off and kept his room for days at a time. Mrs. Dyer, for some time a resident at the foot of Carlow-avenue, also on Thursday afternoon, after a few weeks' illness, succumbed. In the neighborhood of the residences of both deceased, the water of Ashbridge's Bay is not more than 10 or 12 inches deep which is thoroughly impregnated with the refuse and animal matter from the cattle byres, etc. The filth can be seen with the naked eye, polluting the whole atmosphere, no wonder at the deaths, and unless the matter is attended to at once a number more may be expected.

Defective Plumbing Causes Disease and Death.

Editor World: You are on the right track to my own personal knowledge. Defective plumbing in particular has been the cause of very many deaths in this city. No house ought to be rented to a tenant, unless the landlord of the same can certify as to its sanitary condition. Again the inspection of plumbing should be attended to more thoroughly. I know of cases in this city where the whole neighborhood suffered from an open cesspool. Attention was called to it time and again, but it took close on twelve months before it was attended to. In the meantime considerable sickness occurred. There are hundreds of such cases in this city to-day which need immediate attention. In a day or two I hope to be able to furnish you a list of some of them if you care to publish the same.

Toronto, Oct. 6. ONE WHO KNOWS.

Toronto Very Far Behind.
From The Irish Canadian.

Much remains to be done before we can say that nothing has been left undone in the all-important work of sanitary reform. Sanitarians tell us that the larger portion of a city's mortality is due to local foulness. They point to statistics showing decrease of per centage of deaths where constant supervision is given and constant removal of excreta of all descriptions takes place. Cities on the European continent have long since learned their lesson, and, as a rule, are to-day models of cleanliness. The cities of North America are warned by irruptions, such as that which Buffalo is now scourged with, to follow in the footsteps of older cities. Boston has recently spent some millions in providing an extensive system of main sewers, encircling the city and discharging into the sea. Paris the Great is severed in the most perfect manner, and to-day the city of London, with its five million inhabitants, is spending, and has for some years back annually spent, large sums for sewerage purposes. In this particular Toronto is very far behind. From the earliest sewer construction to the latest all discharge has been into the water on our south frontage, and the accumulations of fifty years have so befouled the bay that it would not be any wonder if the exhalations therefrom had long ere this produced an epidemic of disease of some malignant type. But Providence has favored us signally in the matter, and preserved us from consequences only too likely to happen where the civic guardianship has been so remiss as it has been in Toronto. We should not, however, depend too much upon chance, but do all we can to promote the health of the city. The long-talked-of trunk sewer should be constructed, the mains should be improved and multiplied so that we should have an abundance of water. These are prime necessities, and should be undertaken with as little delay as possible. Surely a great chastening is not required to overcome the inertia of our City Council.

The Lessons of Canadian Outbursts of Disease.

Dr. George Ross, Professor of Clinical Medicine, McGill University, Montreal, President of the Canadian Medical Association, said in his address at Ottawa, Sept. 18:

The etiology of typhoid fever may be said to be pretty thoroughly understood; but even in the face of violent outbursts of that disease in some of our Canadian cities, what want of intelligence, and what unwillingness to be governed by competent medical opinion! What incapacity to realize the extent of injury done to the community, the cruel, unnecessary loss of life, with all the suffering attendant thereon!

A town near Montreal was recently thus affected to a most alarming extent, diarrhœa was almost universal, typhoid fever was very prevalent, and deaths were numerous. Many instances of both came to my personal knowledge. The visitation became notorious, and was much commented upon in the press. The facts were amply sufficient to show two things: 1st. That the water-supply was contaminated with sewage; 2nd. How the contamination was effected. Local health board there was none, and the disease for months continued its ravages to such an extent that the locality was shunned by every intelligent traveller, while the poor inhabitants suffered and died. It is a reflection upon the intelligence of the age that such a thing could be, and it is a reflection upon some of our sanitary organizations that no sufficient pressure was exerted to remedy the evil as soon as its cause was fairly determined. Is it the duty of every member of this noble profession to render every assistance in his power towards the furtherance of all good and effective legislation bearing we should be in accordance with the advanced teachings of the present day.

Hamilton Will Look After Its Milk Supply.

A by-law will be submitted to the City Council amending the milk by-law so as to require each dealer to take out a license once a year; to register with the Medical Health Officer his name and address, the source of his milk supply, the number of cows in his possession, the average quantity of milk disposed of and the kind of food given the animals. It also requires a periodic inspection, and each dealer must agree to give notice of any contagious diseases that appear amongst his stock or in his own family.

Vaccinate by all Means.
From The Detroit Journal.

The smallpox has got a good start in Buffalo, and Detroit and other cities are exposed to it. The health authorities will of course exercise extraordinary vigilance, but vaccination is the best and most trustworthy defense.

A Drug Clerk's Mistake.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 7.—Mrs. Ellen Watts sent to a drug store to get quinine for a child. The druggist's clerk by mistake gave morphine instead of quinine. Three grains of the drug were given the child. When she went to go to bed she found her youngest born breathing strangely and a little investigation showed that he was barely alive. Several physicians were called and worked with him the rest of the night, but he died shortly after daylight.

An Unhappy Marriage.

DETROIT, Oct. 7.—Janet Hart yesterday asked the Wayne Circuit Court to divorce her from Geo. Hart, to whom she was married at Walkerville, Ont., in 1871. The couple have one son, now 16 years of age. Mrs. Hart asserts that about Nov. 1, 1880, her husband left their home for the avowed purpose of going to the Michigan lumber woods, and she has heard nothing from him since. She has since supported herself and son by menial labor, with occasional help from her relatives and friends.

TOPICS FROM THE CAPITAL.

Dr. Valade Wages War on Adulterated Baking Powders.

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—The tenders in connection with the St. Lawrence Canal improvements have all been extended as presented to the Minister of Railways and Canals.

Mr. Gormully, barrister of Ottawa, has commenced an action in the Exchequer Court against the Crown as the instance of Hazleton, a Michigan lumberman, for the refund of $3000 duties, which he alleges to have been improperly imposed on a quantity of dimension timber, which the collector of customs, however, classed as manufactured lumber.

Thursday next has been fixed as the date for tendering a banquet to Hon. Mr. Chapleau by the Conservative workingmen at Ottawa.

James Fletcher, F. R. S., Dominion Etomologist, of Ottawa, has been elected president of the Association.

Dr. Valade in his report to the chief public Analyst wages a timely war on the use of adulterated baking powders.

BARRY RESIGNS.

Another Vacancy on the General Executive Board of the Knights of Labor

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., Oct. 6.—T. B. Barry, member of the general executive board of the Knights of Labor, has sent a lengthy letter addressed to the chairman and members of the general executive board of that order resigning his position as a member of the board. In his letter he scathingly arraigns the administration of the affairs of the Knights of Labor. He says that he cannot longer endure to be a witness to the many frauds and deceptions practiced upon the innocent masses; that he finds to be one of the members of the general executive board is to be a party to fraud that leads the unthinking masses to hunger and social suffering with nothing for it but promises never intended to be kept. Mr. Barry says he desires to see the order live, but thinks it is impossible for it to survive another year under the methods now practiced by the present administration of the order, and that these practices must cease if the order is to live.

The chief qualifications, Mr. Barry asserts, for membership on the general executive board are falsity, deception and to be able to tyrannize over those whose privilege it is to bear assessments; "to solve the secret problem for ourselves and our families by seeing that the salaries of the board are paid." Instead of calling the general officers of the Knights of Labor "the headquarters of united labor," it would be appropriate, Mr. Barry declares, to call it "the luxurious home of rats."

Mr. Barry concludes as follows: "For my official acts I have neither apologies nor regrets to offer. I did the very best I could to serve the order, and no one can do more. I hope that the common sense of the masses will soon prevail and that the order may be saved from the rocks of destruction it has run against in the past few years."

Windsor Thieves Captured.

WINDSOR, Oct. 7.—A week ago a quantity of pig lead was stolen from the water works yards. A watch has been kept nightly in expectation of a return of the thieves. Yesterday morning at 12.30 while Joseph Davis was keeping silent guard, three men rowed up to the dock, landed, and began work on the pile of lead. Davis reconnoitered around to the boat, jumped in, and managed to telephone Chief Baines. Before the chief and officers Nash and Moynahan arrived three more had landed. The three officers tackled the six in a hand to hand fight. They shackled two of them. A third made for the river and pulled out for Detroit. The other three hustled for the dock and one jumped in the river. He was fished out and he and his two pals locked up. These three refused to give their names or answer any questions. The two captured first gave their names as Frank Marcel and James Henry. Yesterday Magistrate Bartlett gave them each twenty-three months at the Central Prison in Toronto. The other two will be dealt with as soon as their identity is known. The officers think they shot the man who escaped.

The Mining Commission.

MADOC, Oct. 6.—The Mining Commission continued their enquiries here on Thursday when Judge Fralick gave some evidence with reference to slate quarry that gives a paying yield. Judge Fralick thought the establishment of reducing, stamping and smelting works by the Government would do more than anything to encourage prospecting. He was also of the opinion that there was a want of a "school of mines" where lectures might be delivered to prospectors.

The commission visited Eldorado, where the Consolidated gold mine is situated. Extensive works were erected at this mine, but were afterwards taken out at an expense that for a time caused the cessation of work. But when the mill was worked it yielded $9 worth of gold to the ton. There is complaint here at the dilatoriness of the Geological survey in issuing its report.

Canadians Badly Swindled.

ALBANY, Oct. 6.—D. L. Sheppard, barister, of Carleton-Place, Ontario, came here yesterday on a mission of inquiry. He had in his possession several papers purporting to be searches of real estate in New York City. These searches were dated April 18, 1888, and purported to have passed through the "second office of Albany," the "third office of Albany," and the "fouth office of Albany." Each bore a certificate headed, "Office of Albany," and signed Frank G. West, Registrar." Mr. Sheppard was convinced that the papers were bogus and that his clients had been victimized, but to what extent he did not divulge.

Mutilated in a Shingle Mill.

ROCKWOOD, Oct. 6.—A saw burst in Richardson's shingle mill here this morning, causing terrible injuries to a 14-year old son of the proprietor, who was working the saw at the time. One arm was broken off at the shoulder and one leg badly broken. His recovery is doubtful. Part of the saw went through the roof of the mill.

Caution to Smokers.

We beg to call the attention of the public to the fact that the market is being flooded with cheap cigars, packed in fancy boxes, which are foisted upon the public to the detriment of the consumer. The quality of our celebrated brands, "Cable," "Mungo," "Madre E' Hijo," and "El Padre," have been, and always will be maintained, and we would advise the public to insist upon having them, if they wish to obtain value for their money. We do not manufacture a cheap article, and we pride ourselves upon the superior quality of our make. Our sales in the years 1886 and 1887 were more than the total amount of cigars manufactured in the cities of Toronto and Hamilton combined, as shown by the government books of the Inland Revenue Department, thereby demonstrating that our brands have lost none of their original merit, but on the contrary are increasing in public favor. THE WINNIPEG SENSATION

A NUMBER OF WITNESSES SUBPŒNAED FOR THE DEFENCE

Including Four Members of the Local Government—Premier Greenway Denies the Accusation in Emphatic Terms—Wheat Away up—The Border Frauds.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 7.—In the criminal libel suit against the editor of The Call the latter has subpœnaed Hon. Messrs. Greenway, Jones, Smart and Pendergast, besides Hugh Sutherland, Duncan McArthur, Luxton, Scoble, Alloway and Beaton to give evidence for the defence.

The proprietors of The Free Press will probably be served to-morrow.

While Premier Greenway denies in the most empathic terms the truthfulness of the accusations the friends of paper say they have affidavits to substantiate them.

Wheat is quoted from 90c. to $1.20 in different parts of the province. Grain buyers say the markets have gone crazy.

The Mounted Police will patrol the southern boundary of the province to prevent further stealing of timber and evasion of customs duties by Dakota settlers.

THE GALT POISONING.

No Further Developments—Awaiting the Result of an Analysis.

GALT, Oct. 7.—There are no new developments with reference to the death of little Meta Cherry. Opinion is somewhat divided as to whether the poisoned candies were sent by some murderous miscreant or by someone innocent of any evil intent. The result of an analysis of the contents of the other packages is awaited with intense interest, but even that will throw little light on the vexed question which can only be settled by the detection of a fiendish plot or by the confession of a mistake on the part of the sender.

The Package Seized Here a Sample.

The Galt postmaster was in the city Saturday and called upon Postmaster Patteson, with whom he held a consultation, after which the two gentlemen called at Police Headquarters and interviewed Inspector Stark.

The package of candy addressed to Mr. A. S. McKay, of this city, at Picton, N. S., which was seized at the postoffice and taken to Headquarters, turns out to be a sample, Mr. McKay being a commercial traveler.

Another Blow Out the Gas Accident.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 7.—A young man named E. Ross, of Warwick, turned the gas off and then on again in his room at the Grigg House. Fortunately he awoke about 3 a.m. and managed to stagger into the hall, where he was found insensible by the night watchman. He recovered.

Dunlap's Hats.

The agent in Toronto, W. & D. Dineen, reports the sale of Dunlap's New York hats increasing daily. At first they moved slowly because our people were not acquainted with the quality, but every day they are getting more popular and orders are pouring in from all quarters. The Dineen firm can now supply all sizes from their fall supply in both silk and felt. Silks, $8.00; felts, $5.00.

Civil Assize Court Business.

Sir Thomas Galt presided in the Civil Assize Court on Saturday. Hall v Salter, an action to recover $4400 on a promissory note, was not heard, a verdict by consent for $3,748 being entered. Cowling v. Leys, an action for $5,000 arising out of a quarrel between client and counsel, was placed on the Chancery Division list. Duggan v. London and Canadian Loan was adjourned until next court. Cobban v. Hallway, an action on an old account against an insolvent estate, was dismissed.

The peremptory list for to-day is as follows:—Ryan v. Morrisburg, Western Assurance Co. v. Smith, Central Bank v. Cox, Haisley v. Elliott, Wilson v. McSherry, Ryrke v. Haulgrave, Berry v. Pease, Turnbull v. Lewers, Cameron v. Order of Foresters, McCormack v. Herrington.

Exclusive Advantages.

The designers of the ladies' tailoring department at Arthur Anderson's Arcadome return from abroad with what may be depended upon as fashionable and authoritative styles, the connection of the house securing for them the entreé into all the private establishments where innovations find their sanction. This is a privilege most exclusive indeed and that perhaps has no repetition in Canada and should be an advantage to ladies in their selections of gowns or wraps. Ladies should, we are advised, entrust their orders to this house for satisfaction and moderate charges deluges them with such excessive commands that the best attention is always assured at this earlier stage of the season.

From Police Blotters.

An abortive attempt was made on the safe in Mr. William Wordley's store, corner of Carlton and Church-streets, early Sunday morning. The door was partially drilled, but the thieves abandoned the job in despair.

William J. Trotter, No. 20 Windsor Place, reported to the police on Saturday that his house had been entered during the week and a suit of clothing stolen.

Inspector Detective Stark leaves for Kingston to-day to assist at the trial of Knight and Vance, the alleged distributors of counterfeit money.

Kate Hamilton and Lizzie Cullen, two young women, were run into Agnes-street Station Saturday night for disorderly conduct.

George Brady was taken to Headquarters on Saturday night charged with having assaulted Constable George Hunt on the St. Lawrence Market.

Mr. Arthur Grassett and his wife are absent in Europe, the servant alone being left to take charge of the house, No. 221 Simcoe-street. Last night while she was at church thieves broke in, but did not steal anything.

UNITED STATES NEWS.

It is said that twenty of the largest houses on the Chicago Board of Trade are trembling on the brink of a chasm that will swallow them unless "Old Hutch" agrees to accept considerably less than the price he fixed the last day of the deal.

TORONTO ART SCHOOL.

Important Matters Discussed by the Special Committee.

The special committee to consider how best to extend the usefulness of the Toronto Art School met on Saturday afternoon; present Dr. White (in the chair), Messrs. W. H. Parr, J. J. Withrow, C. March and Hamilton McCarthy.

After discussion it was resolved to form the Toronto Art Association and to make the governing body as representative as possible. For this purpose it was agreed to ask the following bodies to choose representatives to act on the General Committee, namely, the City Council, Ontario Society of Artists, Architectural Guild, Trades and Labor Council, Manufacturers' Association, Public School Board, Separate School Board, Canadian Institute and others interested in industrial work, decorative or the Fine Arts.

It was recommended that honorary members should be those who subscribed $25 annually to the funds, that those who subscribe $50 annually should be entitled to nominate a student each year to a free scholarship, and that the directors number twenty who shall meet monthly during the academic year.

It was thought the City Council would probably vote $1000 to the funds, especially if some more branch schools were opened in various parts of the city.

It was also pointed out that as the Pavilion was now City property it could not be put to a better use than that of an Art Gallery, and that the rooms in the Public Library buildings not required for library purposes might, when the present tenancies expired, be used as an Art School. It was announced that the Manufacturers' Life Association and Mr. J. Ross Robertson were giving valuable prizes for this year.

The City's Issue of Bonds.

The Globe returns to the question of the issue of city bonds. It again makes the statement that whereas the city's fours are quoted in London at 102 to 104—the last time it gave them as 103 to 105—the Treasurer is only expecting to get par for them. The World does not know what the Treasurer expects to get, but presumes he will get 102 to 104 if that is the market price. But, as we pointed out the other day, that is not the real value of Toronto bonds at the present time and it cannot be expected that the proposed issue of fours will bring more than par. The Globe says the issue should be of 3½'s, because by the mere natural upward force of all good securities they would soon mount to par. The upward force of good securities does not rely on the fact of their being issued at a discount, so that that is not a sufficient reason to offset the various good reasons why the bonds should not be issued at such a heavy discount as 90.06.

In the first place the city cannot at this time issue more than one million dollars of bonds, and, as The World has before stated, that amount of money is required. Even if the city did not need the face value of the bonds it would be a questionable policy to go on issuing $110 worth for every $100 received. Such a policy would run the debt of the city, now the largest of any other city of the same population in America, up to an enormous amount. The city must endeavor to keep as good a per capita debt as possible. Then, too, the borrowing power of the city is limited and would soon become exhausted. Nor does it look well to see bonds quoted at 90; it is not conducive to confidence in the desirability of the investment.

These are some of the reasons why it would not be advisable to issue $100 worth of bonds for $90. It makes no difference at what rate of interest the bonds are issued. Investors, if they consider the city's 3½'s worth 91, will give an equivalent for 4's. Therefore to the investor, who is looking for a secure, fairly-paying investment, it will be of little moment whether the rate be 3½ or 4. It is the speculator who wishes to "bull" the city's credit who may wish to have the 3½'s. But the city would gain no benefit, indeed would suffer, rather, in future issues as the result of any but a legitimate rise in her credit.

The Globe says it is authorized by Ald. Gillespie to state that an English syndicate stands ready to give a minimum of 91½ for Toronto's 3½ per cent. bonds. This offer is 1.44 better than the equivalent of fours at par. Unless the syndicate wants to do some "bulling," if it wants the bonds as a safe paying investment it will be ready to give the equivalent of their offer if the bonds are issued at four per cent. The Globe says the syndicate "count confidently on the 3½'s advancing to par soon after issue." This indicates an intention to "bull" the market, for it is absurd to expect the city's 3½'s to go to par for some time to come, just as it is absurd to say the credit of a corporation is wholly dependent on the rate of interest its bonds are issued at.

The question is whether or not Toronto—a city continually going on the market with her bonds; a city whose debt is rapidly increasing, but whose credit is improving still more rapidly, and whose fiscal policy should not be such as to alarm the conservative, cautious money-lenders—whether this city should go into a speculation scheme with her credit, any tampering with which will be disastrous. It is not for Toronto to play into the hands of a syndicate of speculators who are putting forth a scheme for their own profit, and who are regardless of the consequences to the city. The World hopes that Toronto's treasury department will not go to speculators for its policy.

Senator Sherman says that Commercial Union between the United States and Canada will not lead to political union because, he says, the commercial union between the thirteen revolting American colonies did not unite them politically and that the German Zollverein did not promote German political union. Will Mr. Sherman say that political union did not follow the unions he refers to? and will he point out an instance where political has not followed commercial union?

The Two Tariff Bills.

There are before Congress now two tariff bills, one approved of by the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives; the other by the Republican majority in the Senate. The former shows how far the Free Trade leaders think it safe to venture at this time; the latter shows the most that the Protectionist leaders are willing to concede. Now, of the several millions of free and independent electors who will vote for President three weeks from to-morrow, probably not one in a thousand, on the average, has any very clear idea of what the difference really is between the two bills. The Democratic party has taken its stand on one of these bills, the Republican party on the other; yet among the men who are to do the voting there is a plentiful lack of knowledge as to the difference between the two. The New York Sun, therefore, supplies a much felt want when it gives to the public a condensed statement of the expected revenue result from each; and this may have an interest even for Canadians, who would like to get a fair idea of the two tariff bills without much trouble. Below are The Sun's figures.

The Mills bill (Democrat) proposes to reduce the revenue in this way:

Additions to free list, including raw wool	$22,250,000
Reduction in customs duties	30,000,000
Total reduction in customs	$52,250,000
Reduction in internal revenue	25,000,000
	$77,250,000

The reductions of revenue proposed by the Senate bill (Republican) are these:

Additions to free list	$6,428,095
Other changes in the schedules	8,199,654
Reduction on sugar	27,769,783
Total reduction in customs	$42,297,532
On internal revenue from tobacco	$24,371,460
On internal revenue from alcohol used in the arts	7,000,000
Total reduction in internal revenue	$31,371,460
Grand total of reductions proposed	$73,668,992

The Sun advises that the Mills bill (the one got up by its own party) be dropped, and the Senate bill (the one got up by the Republicans) adopted instead. It maintains that the latter is the safer, surer, and more practicable remedy for the evils complained of by President Cleveland in his message of December, 1887, and for reasons given, which run somewhat as follows:

It is surer, because the effect of the changes it proposes can be predicted with much nearer approach to certainty than in the case of the Mills bill. Three-fourths of its proposed reductions in customs are on one article alone—sugar—and the effect of this change upon the revenue it is easy to foretell with great accuracy. The Mills bill, on the other hand, proposes a cutting down of customs rates on many articles, the effect of which on the revenue no man can foretell. It is possible that the effect of this part of the bill might be so to stimulate importations as to increase the revenue instead of reducing it. Here The Sun writer's head is level; only he should have said that this would certainly be the effect. For it is tolerably apparent now that the excessive revenue of recent years was mainly due to the lower duties in the tariff bill of 1883, which largely stimulated imports, especially of iron and of woolen goods, and so sent the surplus "kiting" away up, instead of pulling it down.

It is safer, says The Sun, becauses it recognizes more distinctly than the Mills bill the principle of protection to the interests of home producers and manufacturers. What The Sun chiefly has in its mind's eye is, we take it, that it is safer from the election point of view.

It is more practicable, further says The Sun, because by the consent of the House Democrats and of Mr. Cleveland it can be put through Congress and be made a law, while it is not now in their power to enact the Mills bill. To take the Republican Senators at their word, to pass their bill, and thereby abolish the surplus, that would be a master stroke of politics, so says The Sun.

Our New York contemporary likes to dream pleasant dreams no doubt, but our notion is that there is too much "pure cussedness" alive and stirring among both parties to allow of this one being fulfilled. And therefore we do not expect that any tariff bill whatever will be passed this year. Meantime Canadian readers will not find anywhere a shorter and more intelligible presentment than the above, of the essential differences between the two tariff bills now pending at Washington. The Democratic bill has already been passed by the House; the regular debate on the Republican bill commences in the Senate to-day.

It seems almost certain that the poisoning of the children at Galt by confectionery sent from Toronto, was due to accident. Probably the amateur confectioner purchased the ingredients at a chemist's, and the chemist or his shop boy has made a fatal error. But for the Whitechapel scare it is not likely that anybody would have ascribed the poisoning to the homicidal insanity of a lunatic, or to the promiscuous villainy of a criminal. It only remains for the innocent and unfortunate sender here to give up his name and explain the circumstances.

What Are You Going to do About It?

This is a question that may now fairly be addressed to The Globe, also to Sir R. J. Cartwright, Mr. Laurier, and Mr. Edgar. Does Mr. Wiman's effort at trying it on with Annexation imply that his own pet scheme of Commercial Union is virtually withdrawn? Which question, by the way, very naturally suggests another. If the larger suggestion of Commercial Union does not adequately fill the bill according to American ideas, what chance is there of our neighbors accepting the smaller and more limited idea of Unrestricted Reciprocity? We should say none at all; but perhaps The Globe will explain. An explanation is much needed; for the following, from The Globe of Saturday, only serves to make darkness visible:

It may not be possible to unite commercially on the basis of a common tariff, but Unrestricted Reciprocity does not necessarily involve a common tariff. Evidently Senator Sherman has boggled over the difficulties of a Zollverein or Customs Union without ever understanding that the Canadian Opposition propose a plan by which each country might tax European goods brought into it through the other and yet freely exchange domestic products. If he thinks the plan impracticable for any other reason than that it would not promote Annexation, we hope he will tell why.

It is the Reform organ, even more than Senator Sherman, from whom an explanation is necessary.

The activity of the New York papers in trying to create an annexation boom by publishing columns and pages of Canadian opinion, all favorable to the project, is hard to account for outside of the fact that these papers are, more than usual, interested in the presidential election, and that, like President Cleveland, the "Canadian racket" has got to be worked for all its worth. Hence The Times, Tribune, Herald, World and Sun have all been giving great attention to this country. Most of what they publish is twaddle. After November 7th there will be little heard on this subject.

The Taxation of Church Property.

In making its declaration that it stands ready to pay municipal taxes the Jarvis-street Baptist church has set an example that other churches might follow and heighten the respect in which they will be held. There is something to be said for the exemption of church property from taxation; they are undoubtedly doing a work in the city worth incalculably more than is represented by the tax that might be placed on them. There is that to be said in favor of exemption. But all property should be taxed if justice is to be done all classes of the community.

Justice to those who are not supporters of any church demands that the churches should bear their proportion of the municipal burdens, and justice to the smaller churches demands that the larger ones should bear a larger proportion of those burdens, according to the value of their property. It will be a more equitable arrangement when all church property is asked to contribute, as do now other institutions also doing good work, for the benefits of municipal government. The Jarvis-street Baptist church has set a commendable example, which will, The World trusts, be followed by the other churches in the city.

When it has accomplished butter reform The World has been asked to enter a crusade against "fried" beef-steak. The hundreds of thousands of "fried" beef-steak dyspeptics in Canada will have extended to them The World's most distinguished consideration as soon as justice is done the cow. Yes, our esteemed petitioners' fried beef-steak is, as you say, an abomination, and is so pronounced in the Good Book.

IT WAS A FAVORITES' DAY.

A LARGE CROWD WITNESSES THE O. J. C. RACES AT WOODBINE PARK.

The Events Won by Harry Cooper, Evangeline, First Attempt and Chandos—Montreal Hunt Club Meeting—Ball Games on Saturday.

Judges—Wm. Hendrie, T. C. Patteson and W. Dixon.
Timers—Wm. Christie and G. Brown.
Clerk of the Scales—T. W. Jones.
Assistant Clerk of the Scales—C. T. Mead.
Starter—J. Stanton.
Assistant Starter—A. W. Smith.

The Ontario Jockey Club has certainly cause for congratulation at the successful meeting at Woodbine Park on Saturday. Not that the racing was in any manner extraordinary, but the several contests were of sufficient interest to arouse considerable enthusiasm in the crowd, which was of imposing proportions. Finer weather could not have been desired, and had it not been for the unfortunate accident to Dr. Moorhouse's horse, Trustee, and the rider, Timothy Blong, the huntsman of the Toronto Hounds, in the open Steeplechase there would have been little regret in the afternoon's record. The accident occurred at the last jump, which Trustee struck, falling on his head with the result of breaking his neck. The rider, Blong, escaped with a fractured collar-bone. Dr. Moorhouse set the injured bone without delay, and favorable reports in regard to his condition came from the clubhouse as the crowds left the grounds. The death of the horse is a sad loss to the Doctor, as he was a capital hunter, and much sympathy is expressed for his owner.

As to the racing it was on the whole excellent, and the time in all the races was good. The day was also a good one for backers, as four of the five first horses named above were favorites with fairly good odds against them. It began and ended with the success of Allie Gates, who not only twice piloted to victory, but added to his bank account by winning with his own horse Harry Cooper, the three-quarters and heat race. Evangeline, also owned by him, captured the open steeplechase, while Dr. Smith's victories they were certainly popular ones, especially First Attempt's success, which was due, as a horseman said there on Saturday, to reasonable preparation and not excessive training and sweating. As she was trained by Charley Wise, it will be a feather in his cap for having trained the first English winner in America in the same year in which it was imported. First Attempt as a two-year-old won the Lee Nursery Handicap at Lanark, it being her only victory previous to that of Saturday. She was purchased by Dr. Smith in Scotland last August and only arrived here the first week of September after a very rough voyage. She is a grand looking filly of symmetrical build and showed to great advantage and ought to win at one and of races next season.

The first race was at three-quarters of a mile and tour responded to the summons, Harry Cooper was the favorite and won somewhat easily, though it was thought Salteptre had an excellent chance, but he could not run a bit.

For the open steeplechase Evangeline was greatly fancied. Trustee went to the front and never was headed until he came to grief at the hurdle in the stretch, which allowed Evangeline an easy victory. The Open Cash Handicap brought out Drake Carter, First Attempt, Wild Rose and Felix. They were all well supported, Felix, who won the event at the May meeting, carrying 97 pounds in 2.15, being the favorite. He proved an easy gallop for the Chippendale filly, who made a record for that distance over the Woodbine It was with sorrow that many looked at Drake Carter, having to lower his colors to such horses as Felix and Wild Rose, but the old game fellow had no speed and was not equal to the pace that the English filly set. The Hunter's Steeplechase proved the best contest of the day. It had five starters, of which three were piloted by gentlemen riders. It was a good race from start to finish and was only won in the last hundred yards by Chandos. Harry Cooper was the favorite in the last race, at mile and an eighth heats, which he had no difficulty in winning. Details follow:

Betting—3 to 5 against Harry Cooper, 3 to 1 each Oliver and Saltpetre, 6 to 1 Tam O' Shanter.

The race—It was an excellent start with Harry Cooper in front, but he soon gave place to Oliver, who showed the way down the back stretch. At the half mile post, the order was Oliver, Tam O'Shanter, Harry Cooper and Saltpetre. The positions were unchanged till entering the stretch when Gates brought up Harry Cooper, and led clean at the last furlong. He maintained his advantage to the finish, winning easily by two lengths from Oliver, who was several lengths in front of Tam O'Shanter with Saltpetre last.

Second race—Open Handicap Steeplechase, purse $250, of which $50 to 2nd and $25 to 3rd; about 2½ miles.

Time, 5.06.

The race—The start was made in the west field. Williams led over the first bank, closely followed by Trustee, who assumed the command on going to the rail fence. On coming to the board jump before entering the east field the order was, Trustee, King Tom, Williams, Oliver and Evangeline. These positions were unchanged until coming to the water, where Oliver ran up into second place, King Tom dropping back third with Evangeline fourth, in which order they crossed it. Williams stopped at the water and notwithstanding Graver's vigorous riding he was unable to get the sulky brute over and had to take him off the course. In the meantime Oliver had closed the gap between Trustee but in crossing the board jump in the west field the second time, he made a bad mistake and Phair lost both stirrups and before he could get his feet in again he had to pull Oliver up and was therefore out of the race. Evangeline had worked up into second place on going from the Stone Wall to the bank at the head of the stretch and was only a few lengths behind Trustee, on entering the regular track. Trustee, however, continued in the lead until the last jump which brought him to grief and Evangeline went on and won with King Tom several lengths away followed by Oliver third.

THE ENGLISH FILLY'S GOOD RACE.

Third race—Open Cash Handicap, purse $200, of which $40 to 2d and $20 to 3rd; 1¼ miles.

Betting—Even against Felix, 8 to 5 First Attempt, 3 to 1 Wild Rose, 4 to 1 Drake Carter.

The race—Immediately after the start First Attempt took the track, and running out led by two lengths past the stand, with Drake Carter second, followed by Wild Rose and Felix. As they ran up the back stretch Coleman took a steady pull on First Attempt and at the lower turn she only led by a length, with Wild Rose two lengths in front of Drake Carter. When well into the stretch Coleman let go of the filly's head and she came away, winning easily by three lengths from Wild Rose, with Felix third and Drake Carter last.

THE BLACK AND WHITE AGAIN IN FRONT.

Fourth race—Hunter's Handicap Steeplechase, purse $125, of which $25 to 2nd; gentlemen riders allowed 5 lbs; about 2½ miles.

Time, 5.19.

Betting—Even against Chandos, 2 to 1 Toronto, 2½ to 1 Driftwood, 4 to 1 Lochiel, 5 to 1 Billetto.

The race—At the second attempt the flag fell with Chandos slightly in front, but after taking the bank, Toronto rushed forward and came to the board jump facing the stand with a lead of two lengths. Lochiel was second, a length from Chandos, while Driftwood was close behind them with Billetto last, who bolted and was out of the race but was eventually ridden over the course. In the meantime the others went on in the same order, Toronto cutting out the work at a good pace and when they came to the water he was three lengths in the van of Lochiel, who was only a length from Chandos. This order was not varied until they had leaped over the bank at the head of the stretch; just before entering the track Mr. Doane urged Toronto to further effort and the pace was considerably increased. On entering the track it was now Lochiel's turn to force the pace, and he did it earnestly, and when the hurdle was reached the trio rose as if in unison, but then Chandos made play and quickly assumed the lead, followed by Lochiel. The latter struggled heroically to overtake the favorite, but Chandos was kept down to his work and stalling off Lochiel's challenge, won by a length with Lochiel the same distance in front of Toronto, Driftwood beaten off.

HARRY COOPER'S SECOND VICTORY.

Fifth race—Purse $300, of which $75 to 2d; horses not having won in 1888 allowed 7 lbs.; maidens 10 lbs; winners of any race in 1888 value $300 7 lbs extra; 1½ mile heats.

The Last Day of the Montreal Hunt Club Meeting.

Judge—J. Crawford.
Clerk of the scales—R. B. Ross.
Stewards—Messrs. Ross, J. Major.
Starter—J. P. Dawes.

MONTREAL, Oct. 7.—Saturday was the second day of the Montreal Hunt Club's fall steeplechases and as big a crowd as ever was seen on a Montreal race course congregated to see the day's sport. The weather in the early part of the afternoon was fine, but when the cup race began so did the rain and a nasty drizzle it was, drawing many of the spectators away and added to the heaviness of the track, which was a regular sea of mud. The results are as follows:

Second race—Farmers' race, purse $500, of which $100 to 2nd, $80 to 3rd, $60 to 4th, $40 to 5th, $30 to 6th, $25 to 7th and $20 to 8th. Racing in the Rain.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Rain spoiled a good track and a brilliant program at Jerome Park yesterday. There were many withdrawals, and deep mud ruined the chances of nearly all the horses that remained to contest the various races. The day began with a serious upset. Salvator did not start for the Champagne Stakes, and the Mimi filly was made a warm favorite over the field. Champagne Charlie, whose name seemed to give him a mortgage on the stakes, was a strong second choice. The Mimi filly made most of the running, but she going stopped her, as she was conceding lumps of weight to every one of her opponents. "Dave" Gideon's Radiant, a despised outsider, at 15 and 20 to 1, won cleverly by a neck. The results follow:

First race—Champagne Stakes, for 2-year-olds, at $50 each, with $1,500 added, of which $300 to 2nd and $100 to 3rd; ¾ mile.

D. Gideon's b c Radiant, by Reform—Rachel, 115 ..... (W. Donohue) 1
W. P. Maxwell's br c Champagne Charlie, 116 ..... (Johnson) 2
D. D. Withers' b f—by King Ernest—Mimi, 119 ..... (Taylor) 3

Time, 1.19¼.

Second race—Purse, $750, for 3-year-olds and upward; 1 mile. Byron McClelland's Badge, the favorite, ridden by Anderson, won without effort, beating Ovid, Caramin and Lelex, who finished in the order named. Odds 3 to 5 against Badge. Time 1.46¾.

Third race—Mahopac Handicap, for 3-year-olds and upward at $50 each with $1500 added, of which $300 to 2nd and $150 to 3rd; 1⅛ miles.

Wheeler & Co.'s ch c Paragon, 4, by Plenipo—Whizgig, 109 ..... (Taylor) 1
La Masney Bros. ch g Climax, 5, 113 ..... (Williams) 2
Chicago Stable's ch c Terra Cotta, 4, 118 ..... (McLaughlin) 3

Time, 2.01.

Betting—9 to 5 against the winner.

Terra Cotta was made favorite over Paragon and Climax, his only opponents. He was never in the hunt however being beaten off in a shameful way. Paragon won without effort.

Fourth race—Purse $1000, of which $200 to 2nd, for 3-year-olds; 1 1-16 miles. Fordham, the favorite with Williams in the saddle, won, leading from start to finish. Eleve was 2nd, Santalena 3rd. Time, 1.54¾. Odds 11 to 5 against the winner.

Fifth race—Heavy weight handicap sweepstakes, 7 furlongs. Cambyses with Fitzpatrick up, won in hollow style, leading all the way. King Crab, the favorite, was 2nd, Focatello 3rd. Odds, 3 to 1 against the winner. Time, 1.34¾.

Sixth race—Purse $600 for 3-year-olds and upward; ⅞ mile. Drumstick ridden by Anderson won with Umpire 2nd and Maia 3rd. Time, 1.19¾.

Racing in England.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The Kempton Park October meeting began yesterday. The two-year-old attraction was the Champion Nursery Handicap at seven furlongs. It had fourteen starters, of which Mr. A. Taylor's Stourbay was the favorite at 3 to 1 against. She ran unplaced, the Duke of Westminster's filly Fleur de Lys, a full sister to the famous Ormonde, winning by a head from Capt. Jones' Theophilus, who was the same distance in front of Capt. Machell's Italica. The last betting was 6 to 1 against Theophilus, 10 to 1 Italica and 12 to 1 Fleur de Lys. Conditions:

Kempton Park Champion Nursery Handicap of £1000, for 2-year-olds, by subscription of 25 guineas each; the second to receive £50 out of the stakes; any winner, after the publication of the weights, to carry 5 lb.; twice, or once of £500, 10 lb. extra; last seven furlongs of the new mile.

Duke of Westminster's b. f. Fleur de Lys, by Bend Or, dam Lily Agnes, by Macaroni, 97 1
Capt. L. H. Jones's b. c. Theophilus, by Arbitrator, dam Theodora, by Uncas, 104 2
Capt. Mitchell's b. f. Italica, by Arbitrator, dam Sibyl, 110 3

Eleven others ran, including Mr. A. Taylor's brown filly Stourbay, by Friar Tuck, at 87 lb.

The winner was bred by the Duke of Westminster and she first ran at Goodwood, where she was second for the Ham Stakes and unplaced for the Rous Memorial. She was also unplaced for the Prince of Wales Stakes at York. Fleur de Lys is a beautiful filly, with more quality than her famous brother. She is, of course, well engaged.

Fifth race, 1 mile—Hypocrite 1, Lavinia Belle 2, Roundabout 3. Time 1.45¾.

A Fight Over the Decision of a Race.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 6.—A scene of excitement was witnessed on the race track at Latonia yesterday that has never been equalled there. Some time after Irma H. had been disqualified for a foul in the third race Jack Chinn, R. Tucker and John Bowling, a bookmaker, began a quarrel over the decision. Words were soon followed by the drawing of knives and pistols. Chinn cut Bowling twice in the arm with a knife; then Tucker and Bowling both drew pistols, but before any shots could be fired friends interfered and separated them. Bowling's wounds are said not to be serious. After the excitement had cooled off Chinn walked to the club-house bar, where he was arrested and taken to Covington. It is said no bad blood has existed between them for some time. The governors suspended Chinn, Tucker and Bowling, pending an investigation of their conduct.

Gossip of the Turf.

Phallas, fresh from the stud, trotted a quarter at St. Louis last Monday afternoon in 30¾. The "king of the turf" can evidently go a bit yet.

R. Tucker, owner of Roi D'Or, hit the books for over $7000 in the third race at Latonia last Tuesday. Roi D'Or has been a great money-maker for Tucker this year.

A gentleman in this city has purchased from A. E. Gates the chestnut filly Evangeline, who won the open steeplechase at Woodbine Park on Saturday. Her new owner bought her for his own use and, not for racing. She will undoubtedly prove a useful mare and well worth the money paid for her.

The following officers have been elected to serve the Coney Island Jockey Club for the ensuing year: President, Leonard W. Jerome; Vice-Presidents, C. Fellowes and W. K. Vanderbilt; Treasurer, J. H. Bradford; Secretary, J. G. K. Lawrence.

The following persons were ruled off by the Judges of the West Side Park meeting, Chicago: Eugene Haydon, Smith and (Indian) Houston, steeplechase jockeys, and the jumper, gr g Linguist, also C. F. Stout, owner.

Charley Boyle's filly Queen of Elizabeth pulled up lame at Brooklyn a few days ago.

Mr. August Belmont's colt Prince Royal added another victory to his list on Friday at Jerome Park, bringing his total earnings this year up to $32,250.

The National League.

At Washington.

Through the generosity of Manager Sullivan the Chicago club won yesterday's game. At the appointed time to call the game the Chicagos were not ready to play. They were detained at the hotel on account of the non-arrival of their baggage and suits. The Washingtons seeing an opportunity to secure the game, announced themselves ready to play and Umpire Daniels called "Play." After 9 balls had been pitched he declared the game forfeited to the Washingtons—nine to nothing. A few minutes later, however, Capt. Anson and his team arrived and when Anson had been informed of what had taken place he declined the suggestion of Mr. Sullivan to play off a postponed game and was steadfast in his refusal. Rather than dismiss the crowd Mr. Sullivan waived his claim to the game, ordered his men to play, and had them defeated in a seven-inning contest. Score:

Charlie Maddock's Benefit.

The benefit of Superintendent Maddock of the Toronto baseball grounds took place on Saturday afternoon. Nearly one thousand persons were present at the grounds. The first event on the programme was a game between the Athletics and Dry Goods clubs, which was won by the former by this score:—

	R.	H.	E.
Athletics	9	3	3
Dry Goods	3	4	12

Batteries—Wall and Jackman, Sinclair and Lees.

A 100 yards' dash followed between Harnett and Oldfield, which was won handily by the former in 13 seconds.

There were five starters in the base running competition, and the following was the time made:

Sparks.....15 1-5 sec. Potter.....15 2-5 sec.
Andrus.....15 1-5 sec. Bennett.....16 sec.
Scott.....17 sec.

Sparks and Andrus having tied, a run off was necessary. Sparks in his second essay made the circuit in 14½ seconds, failing to touch second base on the journey. Andrus was satisfied that he could not equal this performance and withdrew, and the prize was awarded to Sparks. Potter ran a second time and lowered his time to 15½.

Denny Connors captured the long distance throwing competition, closely followed by Burke and Mansell. Denny's best throw was 114 yards.

The concluding event was the match between the Torontos and a picked team. The score:

AMONGST THE CHURCHES.

WHAT INTERESTED THE CONGREGATIONS YESTERDAY.

Opening of Church of the Sacred Heart—Grenadiers at All Saints—Anniversaries of Cooke's and Bond-street Churches—New Lecture Room for the Polymath.

The Royal Grenadiers, 350 strong, paraded in the Queen's Park yesterday afternoon, under command of Col. Dawson, and thence marched to All Saints' Church to attend divine service. The grand instrumental band of the regiment and the drum and fife band headed the corp. The line of march lay from the Queen's Park east along Yonge-street-avenue to Yonge-street, thence south along Yonge to Wilton-avenue, and then east to the church. The building was crowded to the very doors, there being fully 1000 people within the walls, including the citizen-soldiers. The service opened with the hymn: "Through all the Changing Scenes of Life," and concluded with "God Save the Queen." Rev. C. Acheson, who fought with the Q. O. R. at Cut Knife, read the service and the choir was under the direction of Mr. Percy V. Greenwood.

The rector, Rev. A. H. Baldwin, delivered the sermon, taking for his text I Kings, 20th chapter, 40th verse, "As Thy Servant was Busy Here and There He was Gone." After welcoming the Grenadiers to the church, the speaker entered upon a descriptive discourse on the battles between the Kings of Israel and Assyria, and the two great victories gained by the former. It was after he had been defeated a second time that the Assyrian King sought a treaty with Israel. The danger, said the speaker, does not lie in the battle but in the use or abuse of the opportunity in the after-time of peace. He showed that all were soldiers of a higher power, and in being loyal to their country and themselves the Grenadiers should not forget to be loyal to the King of Kings. Quoting the words of the text, he instanced how people "busy here and there" in the affairs of this life, let their chances for salvation slip past them. Christ had made the Devil, man's great foe, a captive, but men while fixing their hearts on earthly things allowed him to run rampant. Rev. Mr. Baldwin concluded an eloquent sermon by exhorting his hearers to fight in the battle of life as Christian soldiers.

The regiment marched to the Armory by Sherbourne, Queen and Jarvis-streets. The splendid appearance of the regiment in every particular was much commented upon by the thousands who lined the route. Had the rain not interfered there would have been 100 more men on parade, as many are under the impression that a church parade is always postponed if there is the slightest rain. Before dismissing the parade Col. Dawson informed the men that they would have their annual fall outing next Saturday, for which purpose they would muster at the Armory at 1.30 o'clock.

"CHURCH OF THE SACRED HEART."

Opening of the French Canadian Place of Worship.

When the neat red brick edifice on the north side of King-street near Sackville was built by the Presbyterians some years ago and christened "The East End Presbyterian Church," it was little thought by its promoters that it would yes be the scene of the services of the Roman Catholic Church, but time, which brings so many changes also, has made this unanticipated change, and yesterday afternoon the building was blessed as a Catholic church and christened "Church of the Sacred Heart," for the use of a large congregation of French Canadians. The idea of such a congregation originated with the late Archbishop, as will be seen by this circular, which he issued to all the priests of the city:

St. Michael's Palace,
Toronto, June 29, 1887.

Reverend Sir.—We have for a long time been desirous of having a priest who should be entirely devoted to the French Canadians of this city. We have been so fortunate as to obtain one from His Grace the Archbishop of Montreal; the good priest's name is Rev. P. Lamarche. He will reside for the present at St. Michael's Palace and will have the use of St. Vincent's Palace for his congregation. His jurisdiction will extend over all the French Canadians in the city, so that he can visit them and give them the sacraments. He therefore will have the care of the souls of the French Canadians in the city. You will please announce this to your people in both English and French.

Yours in Christ,
(Signed) X JOHN JOSEPH LYNCH,
Arbp. Tor.

Father Lamarche assumed charge in due time and the congregation grew so that St. Vincent's Chapel became all too small. Recently the East End Presbyterian Church was purchased for $12,000 from its congregation, which built elsewhere.

The service yesterday afternoon was very impressive and was witnessed by a gathering that filled every space. The sides of the steps leading to the entrance were loaded with evergreens, an arch of which was erected over the door. Within the decorations were of a most tasteful design. Bunting was festooned around the walls and from the ceilings to the side while all about hung silken banners, banderettes, wreaths, sacred pictures and mottoes, and the corners were filled with evergreens. A hadsome altar built in the Italian style of architecture was surmounted by a figure of Christ, flanked by others of angels. A circular communion rail was of oak to match the woodwork of the pews. In the congregation were many prominent Catholics who are not French, among these being Hon. Frank Smith, Dr. D. A. O'Sullivan, Eugene O'Keefe, Patrick Hughes and Chas. Burns.

The ceremony of blessing the edifice, which consists of sprinkling the walls, internally and externally, with holy water, was performed by Very Rev. J. M. Laurent, Administrator of the Diocese, with Rev. Fathers Cherier and Finan as assistants, Rev. Father Hand as master of ceremonies and Rev. Fathers Chalandard and Murray as chanters, who were assisted by the choir. Others present were Very Rev. J. P. Rooney, Administrator of the Diocese; Rev. Father Lamarche, the pastor; Rev. Father Nolin, C. M. I. of Ottawa, who came up to deliver the opening sermon; Brother Odo and several others of the Christian Brothers in the city.

Rev. Father Nolin spoke in French a few congratulatory words, and then in English delivered his sermon, taking for his text St. John xxix.:

27. Behold thy mother.

The reverend gentleman, after remarking how auspicious the occasion was because of its being one of turning a Protestant church into a Catholic one, proceeded to his subject, which was a definition of the reasons why Catholics claim theirs to be the only true one of Christ, and out of whose pale there was no salvation. His church is the mother of all true followers of Christ and the four great reasons why it was the only true church are contained in its possession of Apostolicity, Catholicity, Unity and Sanctity. It is apostolic in tracing its history back to Christ and the apostles by a succession of 259 Popes, catholic in the wide sense of the term, because it is universally spread throughout the world and embraces all nations, all peoples; united because it contains no dissenting sect, its people being bound in harmony; and sanctified by the long series of martyrdoms, sufferings and sacrifices of its servants who have devoted themselves to God.

While the altar was being dressed for Benediction, Rev. Father Rooney spoke a few congratulatory words and expressed his admiration of the French Canadians' enterprise. During the Benediction this choice musical program was sung, Miss Jendron presiding at the organ: Verdi's trio, "O Jesu Dei Vivi," by Miss Gudge and Messrs. Charlebois and Derham; Kast's "O Salutaris," by Rev. Father Chalandard; Millard's "Ave Verum," by Mr. Derham, and Lambillotte's "Tantum Ergo," by the choir.

In the evening Rev. Father Lamarche sang Vespers and Rev. Father Nolin preached in French.

Catholic Presentation.

On Saturday night the choir of the French Canadian Church of The Sacred Heart presented Mr. Charlebois, who is about to remove to Montreal, with a handsome silver tea service.

Changes in the Archdiocese.

Very Revs. Rooney and Laurent, administrators of the archdiocese, have made the following changes among the priests: Rev. Father Gavin leaving for California has his curacy at St. Mary's filled by Rev. Father Cruise of St. Helen's, Brockton; Rev. Father McPhillips of Floss goes to St. Helen's, and Rev. Father Gibbons of Lafontaine to Floss. Rev. Father McCabe, who has been for some time past stationed at St. Mary's, will go to the Cathedral.

Rev. Father Harold, parish priest of Dixie, has been in failing health for some time past, and has given it up. Rev. Father Shea, chaplain to the House of Providence, taking his place. Until he has made arrangements to go south Rev. Father Harold will act as chaplain to the House of Providence.

About the Vacant Archbishopric.

A well-known priest told The World on Saturday that there was but little doubt that Bishop Walsh of London would be the next Archbishop. "He can get it if he wants it, and I think that sufficient pressure will be brought to bear upon him to make him accept. The question which is now puzzling the priests of the diocese is not who will be Archbishop of Toronto, but who will be the next Bishop of London."

IT HAS TO BE GIVEN.

Cooke's Presbyterian Church Celebrates Its Anniversary.

A year ago the congregation of Cooke's Presbyterian Church, Queen-street east, spent $18,000 on alterations in and additions to their place of worship, making it more comfortable and more commodious. The liberal expenditure has been justified in view of the largely increased attendance during the year just closed. The church is attractive and the pastor, Rev. W. Patterson, an able young preacher. The congregation feel it an easy task to carry the total debt of $21,000 and are confident of speedily discharging it.

The anniversary of the re-opening of the church was held yesterday, the Rev. W. T. Herridge, B.D., of St. Andrew's church, Ottawa, preaching the sermons. In the evening his text was, Luke xx., 31:

"And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold Satan hath desired to have you."

There were surprises in men's lives, he said, which vividly set forth to them what they were. The words addressed to Peter created such a surprise and soon after Peter realized how man is beset with evil.

People nowadays were almost too polite to mention the name of the Devil, except in flippant profanity. The fading away of the grotesque idea of the personality of the Devil led people to laugh at and deny the Devil's existence. Would that there were no devil! But there was a Spirit of Evil. Every man felt at times an unseen power which lifted Him up or dragged him down. It involved the deepest of problems—the origin of evil. Was it in God? They could not believe that. Was it in man's nature? Man was born in the image of God.

In all ages men have had vivid concepts of heaven and hell. In all ages have they had concepts of the devil. He was now the crafty Mephistopheles, now the puissant fiend of Milton, and now the roaring lion—but always the Spirit of Evil to destroy.

It was not, however, a good sign to find a man saying that temptation was easily resisted. It was only the man who plunged in and swam against the stream who knew the power of the current. He that floated with the stream knew not how swift it was. All were liable to be tempted. The Prince of Darkness was even ambitious enough to attempt the overthrow of the Prince of Light.

If evil was constantly resisted it would go away by degrees, and what then? The angel spirits would abide with him that faithfully battled against sin.

BOND-STREET CHURCH.

Dr. Wild Enters on the 9th Year of His Ministry.

Yesterday was a great and high day at Bond-street Church. A dual event was celebrated. It was the anniversary of Dr. Wild's ministry. The pastor commenced his ninth year yesterday. The platform and choir rails were beautifully adorned with choice flowers and plants. The morning sermon was on "Future Recognition," and in consonance with this the choir sang in admirable style, Pope's "Vital Spark," and the sweetly solemn hymn, "They are gathering home from every land, one by one," in respect to which the doctor said he wished they could hear the music that was being sung on the other side. There was a large congregation above of those who had worshipped in this church. The foundation of his discourse was taken from Paul's Epistle to the Thessalonians, "Whether we wake or sleep we live together with Him." The Doctor denied the doctrine of an everlasting sleep and of annihilation after death. The future life would be a grander and nobler one on a higher plane than that we possess. There would be marvellous changes. He fully believed in the doctrine of recognition. There would be no marriages in the next world. Some might want to be married forever, but that could not be. [Laughter.] Marriage, and languages, and prophesying belonged to this earth and would pass away; but charity or love would never die. If anyone were absent from that divine circle no one would know it; hence there would be no regret. The kind Lord would not allow us to suffer any drawback to our happiness in those happy realms. He hoped they would all meet in heaven, and that there might be "a Bond-street church anniversary there" and "You will say to each other: don't you remember the flower on the platform; don't you remember the beautiful singing, and the big collection they took up?" (Laughter.) The collection amounted to $1200.

Opening of a New Sunday School.

In the afternoon the new school house and lecture room was opened. In the basement is the dining room completely fitted up and capable of seating 375 people, on the first floor are the church parlors and minister's vestry. There are also on this floor the Board room and infant class room. The latter is capable of seating 150 children. But the school room proper on the second floor is the capital feature. Yesterday it presented a particularly attractive appearance, being decorated with cut and potted flowers. On the west wall was hung a portrait of Dr. Wild presented by Mrs. James Dixon. There were about 800 persons present, although the room is supposed to furnish seating accommodation to 700 only. The addresses delivered by Revs. E. Barker and Robertson, Rev. Dr. Wild and others were all of a congratulatory and encouraging nature. These, together with the singing by all present of a number of hymns, occupied the greater part of the afternoon. Mr. J. G. Lawson presided at the organ. A collection taken up for the organ fund amounted to $90.

Home for Young Women—A Rubbishly Fence—The Tariff—Law of Propinquity.

At night Bond-street Church was crowded. The Doctor gave an important announcement. He and the deacons are contemplating the establishment of an institution where young and old may spend their time pleasantly and profitably by day and in the evenings free from city temptations. It would be something after the style of the Young Women's Christian Guild on Yonge-street. [Applause.] As to the proposed inter-change of Church of England pulpits with Nonconformists he would be glad to exchange pulpits with Canon Dumoulin. "He could preach in Bond-street church as well as I can, and I could preach in St. James' Cathedral as well as he." [Laughter and applause.] On the tariff question he condemned the Americans taxing lobster tins and the Canadians taxing fruit baskets. This was paltry for two great nations. It was just as contemptible as the huggity puggerly rotten fence about the Normal School. [Laughter and applause.] Satirically he said this wooden enclosure was an honor and credit to the Ontario Government. "If," said the Doctor, "They cannot get a better fence I will give them $10 and also take up a collection in church." [Loud applause.]

He then preached on "The Law of Propinquity," the meaning of which long word he explained to be "nearness in place, time and relation." It was an admirable address in which the attracting and assimilating power of human love was shown to be analogous to the Divine. The gospel, missions to heathen and science showed the working of the law of propinquity.

Dr. Wild eulogized the amity and democratic spirit of that church, recited the well-known hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds our Christian love," and was applauded on his effective solo rendering of Sankey's solemn hymn "Almost persuaded." This was a novelty in the impressive and successful anniversary services.

At St. Peter's Church.

Rev. Cecil Owen, the new assistant minister of St. Peter's Church, preached yesterday morning on "The Attainment of Happiness." No one, he said, could fail to perceive in the pages of history a longing and searching for some ideal happiness. Philosophers had applied to it such terms as "the highest good," the greatest good to the greatest number, but had been unable to discover any perfect good. In the result of their labors there was something of truth, but only a dim foreshadowing of the true happiness found complete in Jesus Christ. The peace of which real happiness consists was seen in the Master's life. Betrayed by one of His chosen twelve, brought before Pilate, condemned to die, led out to suffer on the cross, the spirit of peace still enabled Him to endure, and to say, "Forgive them for they know not what they do."

The People's Church.

The re-opening services of the People's Church, King and Bright streets were continued yesterday large congregations being present at both services. Ex-Mayor Howland was the preacher at night.

At Association Hall.

Mr. Buron addressed the Saturday evening meeting at Association Hall. On Sunday evening the speaker was Mr. D. McLean. There were good audiences on both occasions.

The Temperance Revival.

The Temperance Revival Services under the auspices of the Royal Knights Templar of Temperance were continued yesterday. At 3 p.m. a meeting was held in Temperance Hall, Rev. Mr. Lucas being the principal speaker. An efficient choir rendered suitable selections in a creditable manner.

A BANK MANAGER INTERVIEWED.

Mr. Walker Talks to The World About the State of the Money Market.

Mr. B. E. Walker, general manager of the Bank of Commerce, on his return from New York was seen by one of The World's young men. He reports increased activity in the money markets both in Europe and America. The plethora which existed in the London money market last summer, he says, is passed away. The low rates of interest led investors to put their money into all kinds of securities, thinking, as they always did think when rates were low, that rates would never be high again. The intense inclination to invest led to a large amount of money being absorbed. Besides, the difficulty with the Chilian banks demanded a large importation of gold to Chili for strengthening purposes. Another condition which is producing activity for money in England is the buying of Russian wheat with English money. It is more difficult to buy exchange between England and Russia than between England and the United States. Most of the wheat, therefore, is bought with Bank of England notes, and these notes going out in large quantities necessitates the building up of the gold reserve a corresponding amount. All of these circumstances tended to make dearer money in England. Mr. Walker was of opinion that 3½ per cent. debentures of the City of Toronto had no prospect of being floated at par.

ANNEXATION.

What The New York Tribune's Ottawa Correspondent Sends His Paper.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The Tribune's special from Ottawa says: Mr. Sherman's statement on the relations of the United States with Canada is accepted by statesmen and public men generally, irrespective of party, throughout the Dominion, as an intimation that leading Republicans have decided that Canada must be annexed, or fight for her independent national existence. It is expected that annexation clubs will be started shortly throughout Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces. Leading Imperial Federation managers have resolved to push the immediate extension of the League to fight the Annexationists. The question of annexation is coming rapidly to the front, and shoving out of sight the proposal of commercial union and unrestricted reciprocity. An annexation campaign this fall in preparation for the meeting of Parliament in January is now considered inevitable.

Boys' suits at the Army and Navy Stores, in tweed, serge corduroy, velvet, worsted, and any other kind you want. Do be persuaded—see the Army & Navy boys' suits before you buy. It will pay you. No pressing people to buy when at the Army & Navy. The goods themselves do the talking and the price is sufficient argument. The Army & Navy, 185 King-street east, and 138 Yonge-street.

The Young Liberals.

A meeting of the Young Men's Liberal Club will take place to-night at their rooms, Yonge-street Arcade, when the election of officers will be held, and the retiring secretary, Jas. H. Falconer, will read the report of the last session.

Voting will take place for the offices of first vice-president, third vice-president, and corresponding secretary. The candidates for first vice-president are W. B. Lawson and Geo. H. Smith; for third vice-president, Frank Armstrong and James H. Falconer; and for corresponding secretary, J. W. Roswell and H. M. Cleland. The executive committee will also be nominated.

Whether you buy or not at the Army & Navy—look there before you buy; it will pay you. The Army & Navy, 185 King-street east, and 138 Yonge-street.

A Rich Toronto Heiress.

From The Eastern Star.

This week, Ellen, the seventeen-year-old daughter of P. O. Veitch, received information that she had become heiress to the sum of $15,000 by the death of an aunt in Kent, England. The fair Ellen is, however, allowed only to draw the interest thereon till she becomes of age. Now is the chance for the young bachelors of the east end.

A lady from Syracuse writes: "For about seven years before taking Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, I suffered from a complaint very prevalent with our sex. I was unable to walk any distance or stand on my feet for more than a few minutes at a time without feeling exhausted, but now I am thankful to say, I can walk two miles without feeling the least inconvenience." For Female Complaints it has no equal.

How Annexation Only Can Come.

From The Monetary Times.

Canada is in no mood to accept an invitation to annex herself to the United States. A large number of people cannot be got to express their real sentiments about it in public. But that a large majority of Canadians are opposed to annexation does not admit of doubt. At present it looks as if annexation, if it ever come, would come as the result of war; and this is the worst form in which it could come. The means taken to bring it about would be the direst calamity that could happen to Canada.

In Aid of a Dublin College.

In Carlton-street Methodist Church yesterday morning, Rev. Mr. Jones of the Irish Conference, delivered a forcible sermon from the text, "Behold the Lamb that taketh away the sins of the world." He traced the ancient custom of offering lambs as sacrifice from Abraham's taking Isaac up to the Mount down to the last great sacrifice of the Lamb of God. He spoke of the character of the Lamb, of His divine attributes and how He was worthy of all adulation. They were not, he said, to take a furtive look, but to behold—to live ever beholding—Him. The sermon was delivered with much eloquence and elegance of diction. The Rev. Mr. Jones is in Canada to raise funds for the assistance of Wesley College, Dublin, which has struggled with an immense debt until it feels that it can do nothing more, and must ask aid for its support.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC

The McGibney Family of sixteen musical members who have been a success in the States for years, make their first appearance before a Toronto audience at Association Hall to-night. As they come highly commended by the Press of the States they will doubtless receive a cordial welcome. They have a fair line of soloists, an elegant band and orchestra. They travel in their own special car, which is a novelty, and remain three days in the city, at the Hall. Seats can be obtained at Nordheimer's.

The Y. W. C. G. Concert.

The first of a series of concerts was held in the parlor of the Y.W.C. Guild Saturday night, Rev. Hugh Johnston was present and delivered an address. Music was furnished by the choir of the Queen-street Methodist Church under the leadership of Mr. Baxter, Miss Howard, Miss Ledley, Mrs. Baxter, Miss E. Baxter. Messrs. Spice, Smith and Young also contributed to the musical part of the program.

"A Trip to Africa" This Week.

The Eastern Daily Express says: Wealth of costume, excellent music, both vocal and instrumental; a large and well trained chorus, containing many pretty girls, and better than ordinary comic opera acting on the part of the leading members of the J. C. Duff Comic Opera Co., went far to make the presentation of "A Trip to Africa" a complete success. The opera itself, composed by Von Suppe, is well up to the standard of comic operas, amusing in plot, novel in material, and containing really good music. The voice of Mr. Hubert Wilke is so well reputed that there is nothing left to say about it that is not already familiar to our readers. As for Miss Laura Bellini, with a voice as clear as a bell, and musical generally as the notes of a nightingale, everybody was spellbound by the general sweetness of her singing. Mr. Harry Brown, in the comedy role of Fanfani Pasha, contributed largely to the fun of the performance, and at the same time was not deficient musically. Miss Agnes Stone, a good singer, made the role of Tessa the more attractive on account of the wealth of her personal beauty. This great company will appear this week at the Grand Opera House, and the box plan for sale of reserved seats is now open.

The Avenger's Oath.

At the Toronto Opera House each night this week will be played "Dot, or the Avenger's Oath." The play is a sensational dramatic performance full of startling situations. Florence Bindley, the little "Dot," has won for herself a place among clever actresses.

A Bad Mistake for Gloster.

Cornelius Gloster is a Water Works employe whose duty it is to see that the different excavations made by the departments in the streets are furnished with lanterns to warn the drivers of vehicles. About 2.30 yesterday morning he started out to collect the lamps again. A policeman saw him lift one of them and thinking he was stealing it, marched him to headquarters and had him locked up. Later in the day Water Works foreman Edward Foley came round and had Gloster released.

"Wine, Women and Song,"

but the greatest of these is "women." "Wine is a mocker," and song is good to "soothe the savage," but women respond to every active power and sentiment like humanity, when in good health. But when afflicted with disease you will find them tantalizing, coquettish, cross and hard to please. For all "female complaints," sick headache, irregularities, nervousness, prolapsus and other displacements popularly known as "female weaknesses" and other diseases, peculiar to the sex, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the great world-famed remedy. 14

COUSINS AND LOVERS.

or The Wind of Destiny.

Rudolph and I had loved each other ever since children, and so when Grandfather Ackland said on his deathbed that it would make him happy if we promised to be married at a certain age, we readily consented.

We were not to marry until I was twenty and he twenty-two, and in the meantime travelled through Europe with some relations. While in Rome I met a rich young sculptor, by name Giovanni Monaldi, and he proved such an interesting companion that I and my chaperon found new pleasure in visiting the sights of the Imperial City. I woke up one morning to find that, while I still loved Rudolph, I loved the sculptor and that he loved me.

I felt miserable over this dawning truth and prayed for help, not knowing what to do in such a trying emergency. After a long and tearful time I slipped away from the house and entered a church near by, where I thought to spend an hour in prayer.

There were few in the church at that hour, but my attention was attracted to an English girl in deep mourning who knelt at a shrine, her face buried in her hands. There was a wild look in her eyes, as if she contemplated suicide.

"The victim of some wretched deceiver," I thought to myself. "But she shall not—she shall not. I will follow her and save her;" and when, in a moment or two, she slipped out of the church, I was at her heels.

She turned, as I expected, into the Strada di Repetta, which leads straight to the banks of the Tiber, and at last she stood close to its edge, in the shelter of an old wall, making up her mind, as I saw, to the awful plunge she had contemplated. Then I went close to her and caught her by the dress, and said, softly:

"Stop! I know what you are going to do. You are wrong, whatever troubles you have. I have followed you to keep you from the river."

The girl turned sharply and looked at me.

"What do you know about me?" she asked.

"Only what I saw in the church," said I.

"Is it so plainly written in my face that a stranger can see it?" she cried; "Then, indeed, the water is the place for me—no other!"

I held her tighter.

"How do you know what comes after?" I cried, "after this life? Worse than shame, perhaps."

"Shame!" she said. "Oh! how dare you! Do you think I am a young person who has had no respect for herself?"

"People always think that of girls who drown themselves," I answered.

"Don't think it of me," she said. "I am only foolish. Perhaps you came there to the cathedral to pray because you were sad?"

"Yes," I said.

"You know about me because your own heart told you," she said. "You've been good and kind to follow me. I think I'll tell you—but tell me your name."

"I'm a governess, as poor as a mouse. I came here with a rich family, and a friend of the son's—he visited them. He is a splendid creature, good, true, perfect, beautiful; but he liked little me. And I used to sing to him—I am quite one of the family—and—I grew to love him; and yesterday, as twilight, he walked on the hills with me. Suddenly he told me how he loved me, and how he should never be happy, for he was engaged to a girl whom he must marry.

"'Little Violet,' he said, 'I ask nothing of life but the right to love you and protect you, and that I cannot have for honor's sake.' And he told me how good she was, and handsome; and nothing, nothing to him beside little me.

"So all night I lay awake, and I made up my mind to kill myself this morning. Now you know all. Life is nothing to me if Rudolph is lost—married to that girl! Rudolph, who cried when we parted, though he was a man!"

"Rudolph!" cried I.

"Hush! she cried. "I did not mean to say that."

"Rudolph Ackland?" I continued.

"I never told you," said she.

"No," said I. "I am a fortune-teller. Violet, look into my eyes. Believe—me I know. There is no need of drowning yourself. That girl will not marry Rudolph Ackland. She loves some one else better. She feels free to marry him now. She knows that Rudolph's heart will not be broken. Go home, Rudolph will come to you."

"What do you mean?" asked the girl. "Are you a fortune-teller? I believe you are—that girl herself."

"We will make no confessions," said I. "Kiss me and go home."

She put her lips to mine. And then we went together up the Strada, and I went home. On the way I met Giovanni. My heart beat high with joy—yet when we parted, for we had pledged our faith to each other.

My chaperon and Cousin Rudolph were breakfasting together. Rudolph was pale; he said nothing. My chaperon scolded me. But when she left us for a moment I said to him:

"Cousin, cheer up. Let us thank Heaven we were only engaged, not married. I think you had better go and see Violet this morning. I am going to the Vatican with Giovanni. We make excellent cousins. Let us retain that relation only. Our romance has come to us otherwise than we hoped."

I think—such a man—that he was hurt and angry with me, but he went to Violet, and she is his wife to-day, and I Giovanni's.

In his VEGETABLE PILLS, Dr. Parmelee has given to the world the fruits of long scientific research in the whole realm of medical science, combined with new and valuable discoveries never before known to man. For Delicate and Debilitated Constitutions Parmelee's Pills act like a charm. Taken in small doses, the effect is both a tonic and a stimulant, mildly exciting the secretions of the body, giving tone and vigor.

An Eloquent Gift.

Wife (of a year)—"How sweet you are! A solitaire pearl ring for my birthday present! How did you come to select this?"

Husband—"The pearl represents our child, our dear little Pearl."

"Oh, of course. Then I suppose the gold represents me."

"Well, yes; you are always 'round."

FOR OLD PEOPLE!

In old people the nervous system is weakened, and that must be strengthened. One of the most prominent medical writers of the day, in speaking of the prevalence of rheumatic troubles among the aged, says: "The various pains, rheumatic or other, which old people often complain of, and which materially disturb their comfort, result from disordered nerves." There it is in a nutshell—the medicine for old people must be a nerve tonic. Old people are beset with constipation, flatulency, drowsiness, diarrhœa, indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia.

These diseases are of nervous origin. Paine's Celery Compound, that great nerve tonic, is almost a specific in these disorders, and by its regulating influence on the liver, bowels, and kidneys, removes the disorders peculiar to old age. Old people find it stimulating to the vital powers, productive of appetite, and a promoter of digestion.

Sold by druggists. $1.00. Six for $5.00. Send for eight-page paper, with many testimonials from nervous, debilitated, and aged people, who bless Paine's Celery Compound.
