DRIVEN OUT BY RUSSIA.

PRINCE ALEXANDER RESOLVES TO ABDICATE.

An Ignominious Termination to a Grand Dramatic Show—His Highness Enters Sofia in Triumph, and Amid the Enthusiasm Announces His Abdication.

SOFIA, Sept. 4.—When Prince Alexander reached Sofia he was met by a vast concourse of citizens headed by the mayor. The latter presented to the Prince an address of welcome. It expressed loyalty and submission on the part of the Bulgarians and expressed grief over the recent events. Prince Alexander, in reply, said his confidence in the future was unshaken. He summoned all Bulgarians to assist him in preserving order. The Prince entered the town in triumph. His cortege was preceded by a troop of Roumelian hussars followed by infantry. Gaily attired peasants who had ridden out to meet the Prince followed. The dense masses which lined the streets cheered the procession as it made its way toward the cathedral, where the Te Deum was sung. A parade followed during which Prince Alexander left his suite and galloped toward the troops amid the deafening cheers of the multitude. All the consulate buildings, except that belonging to Russia, were decorated with bunting and flags in honor of the restoration.

The Prince Announces His Abdication.

SOFIA, Sept. 4.—Prince Alexander has publicly announced his intention of abdicating. He says he cannot remain in Bulgaria on account of the objections of the Czar. Before leaving he will establish a regency.

Prince Alexander made the following address at a reception given him by the officers of the army:

"For seven years I have labored for the independence and interests of Bulgaria. My constant special solicitude has been for my army and officers. I consider them my family, my children, and I have felt myself secure in my personal position when I have seen myself surrounded by officers who had been my comrades in our struggles for the glory of Bulgaria."

Here tears came from the Prince's eyes. Recovering his composure, he resumed:

"On that sad night, having heard a noise, I asked first whether troops were there. 'Yes,' was the reply. Then I felt tranquil, for I had confidence in my army. Notwithstanding the unfortunate events which followed, I have not been disappointed in my officers. They rose to the level of the situation and proved themselves capable of coping with the troubles which followed my departure. Thanks to Popboff and Moutkoroff (here the Prince embraced those officers), the honor of Bulgarian officers has been reasserted. I see around me the officers who are devoted to me, and I can quit Bulgaria addressing praises to those officers, and with the conviction that order will not be disturbed. In whatever circumstances I might find myself I would place my influence at the service of Bulgaria. I will pray to God for her. My heart will ever be with my officers, and I shall be the first to ask to be admitted among them as a volunteer in a campaign for Macedonia. I cannot remain in Bulgaria, for the Czar will not permit me, because my presence is inimical to the interests of the country. I am forced to quit the throne."

M. Popoff exclaimed: "We have been and shall ever be with you. Courage, forward."

Prince Alexander replied: "The independence of Bulgaria requires that I leave the country. If I did not Russia would occupy it. I will, however, consult with the superior officers and constitute a regency which will endeavor to protect the interests of my officers. In any case, I rely on the army."

Prince Alexander imparted his intention of abdicating to the German and Russian Consuls. A grand council, among the members of which are MM. Stambuloff and Karveloff, is being held to arrange for the regency. The Prince will probably leave within two days. The officers of the army are greatly excited and talk of detaining the Prince. They have resolved in any case to refuse to receive a Russian envoy. They will hold a meeting to decide what course to adopt. The city is tranquil.

Russia's Charity.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sep. 4.—The Journal de St. Petersburg denies that Prince Alexander was insulted while in Russian territory. The Journal declares that he was received at Reni, Bessarabia, with the respect befitting his station. He was hospitably entertained at the Mayor's house and both himself and his brother, who accompanied him, expressed themselves as satisfied with the treatment they received and accepted an invitation to go to Voltschist. Further, Prince Alexander having intimated that he had with him but $40,000 the Russian authorities ordered the railways to convey him free, and a Russian officer was detailed to accompany the Prince merely to observe the incidents of their progress.

How the Abdication is Regarded.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The Post's Berlin correspondent says Emperor William proposed Prince Alexander's telegram to the Czar as the best means of effecting a reconciliation and that the Czar's reply was therefore a direct blow at the Emperor. The correspondent says the news of Alexander's abdication causes the utmost indignation against Russia among the German army officers.

Advices from Vienna says the news of Alexander's abdication was received with consternation there, the Prince's action being looked upon as the beginning of a serious stage of the Bulgarian question. It is believed in Vienna that the abdication will not deter Russia from attempting to occupy Bulgaria, a proceeding which Austria cannot allow. Despatches from Sofia say the Russian party there, headed by the Russian consulate, show signs of great activity, and are preparing an address to the Czar. It is expected that Prince Alexander will go to Servia, thence to Darmstadt and then to England. M. Popoff and numerous Bulgarian officers have decided to accompany him.

The Work of the Rouble.

SOFIA, Sept. 5.—Thousands of copies of the Czar's reply to Prince Alexander have been printed by order of the Russian consul and distributed among the people. It is believed that Russia will give the throne to the Duke of Oldenburg, who is commander of a cavalry division at St. Petersburg, and a favorite of the Czar. Bulgarian army officials are greatly excited, although it is stated that Russia will not occupy Bulgaria unless a civil war should break out. It is also said that Alexander foresaw that the popular enthusiasm would speedily cool when the Russian rouble was again set at work. Many Bulgarian officers and politicians are still strongly pro-Russian and the disloyalty in the army is more widespread than was at first supposed.

Reports and Rumors.

M. de Giers, Russian Foreign Minister, has hurriedly left Berlin for St. Petersburg.

The Roumanian cabinet threaten to resign if Alexander abdicates.

It is reported at Paris that within the past few days fifty Russian officers in Mufti have arrived separately at Sofia and placed themselves in connection with the Zankoff faction of the revolutionists.

It is stated that the Bulgarian frontier is again closed. Telegrams from Sofia are very slow in arriving.

Prince Alexander has issued a decree summoning the National Assembly to meet 11th inst.

Prince Alexander has notified the Czar of his abdication of the throne of Bulgaria.

An Appeal to Europe.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The Morning Post says: "We greatly doubt whether Prince Bismarck's policy will ensure the peace of Europe. Europe will have no peace until the wrongs Russia has inflicted on a rising people are avenged. Whatever may be the reasons which induce Bismarck to sacrifice Prince Alexander to the personal animosity of the Czar, we cannot believe that Europe will approve a policy tending to make the Czar arbitrator of the whole continent.

THE HATED FERINGHEE.

Inhabitants of the Punjaub Called Upon to Rebel Against England.

BOMBAY, India, Sept. 4.—An anonymous proclamation, written in the vernacular of the country, has been thoroughly circulated in the Punjaub, calling upon the natives to combine and throw off the hated yoke of the Feringhee. The circular declared that Dhuleep Singh has joined the Russians and that the Russians are advancing on India.

The new Maharajah Scindia has been enthroned with imposing ceremonies at Gwalior, the capital of his dominions. A great durbar was given in honor of the event. The young Maharajah made a speech in which he promised to surpass his father in firm friendship to England.

[Dhuleep Sing, it will be remembered, a few months ago solemnly renounced the Christian religion which he adopted on his arrival in England, and shaking the dust off his feet against Great Britain, announced that he was about to return to the land of his forefathers and to revert to the worship of the Great Sutgaroo. He was, however, stopped at Aden and informed that the British Government would not allow him to proceed to India. Taking a homeward bound French steamer, he arrived at Marseilles, and when last heard from was quartered at Paris, where he gave vent to his feelings in terrible abuse of England, which had robbed him not only of his kingdom, but also of the great Koh-i-Noor diamond, which now figures among Queen Victoria's crown jewels. Like the notorious Nana Sahib, of the great Indian mutiny, his long residence in England has enabled him to become acquainted with many of the national weaknesses, and in the hands of Russia he may still prove a most dangerous foe to Great Britain.

A FALL OF FIFTY FEET.

A Policeman and a Street Fighter Struggle Until Both Roll Over a Precipice.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 5.—A sensational and probably a fatal accident occurred about 11 o'clock last night. Edward Hennig had engaged in a street quarrel and when the officers arrived he took to his heels. Constable Woods gave chase and finally drew his revolver and shot at the fugitive, the ball taking effect in Hennig's left forearm. Hennig stopped and stood at bay just on the brink of a precipice fifty feet high. They clinched, and after a short hard tussle both men disappeared. When the other officers arrived no one was in sight, but a faint cry from over the cliff attracted their attention. Looking down the two men were seen stretched motionless at the bottom of the cut. Woods was unconscious and both were terribly injured. Hennig is resting easier to-night, but Woods is suffering intensely and may die before morning.

A CELTIC LEAGUE.

Conference for Organization at Bonar Bridge, Sutherlandshire.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—A conference will be held at Bonar Bridge, Sutherlandshire, Scotland, September 22, for the purpose of forming a Celtic League. There will be present Dr. Parr Jones and Principal Jones, of Bala College, who will represent Wales; Commoners Sexton and Chance, who will represent Ireland, and Commoners Macdonald, Coneybare, Sutherland and Cameron, representing the Highlands. The gentlemen having the movement in charge have received from many parts of the kingdom communications in which the writers promise to join the league.

France Must Have a Hand in.

PARIS, Sept. 4.—The Republique Francaise insists that the French troops must remain in the New Hebrides Islands to prevent a recurrence of the massacres of Europeans by the natives. It says: "England, which annexed the Ellice Islands without any pretext whatever, has the least reason to complain of France's action in the New Hebrides." The paper also asks M. de Freycinet to make public the nature of the satisfaction he has promised England France would render for that action.

Business Dull on 'Change.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—Discount was easy during the week at 2½ for three months and 1 for short. On the Stock Exchange business was very limited, partly owing to absence of members on holiday vacation. There was a slight fall in prices under the influence of the unsettled political situation in the east. American railroad securities were inactive till yesterday, when they became buoyant, and there was a large demand for most issues.

More Disorder Around Belfast.

DUBLIN, Sept. 5.—At Ballymacarret, a suburb of Belfast, to-day, a mob attacked and severely handled four policemen and wrecked a house in which the men had taken refuge. Military aid had to be summoned to effect the rescue of the policemen. Two rioters were arrested. An Orange funeral procession to-day was attacked by Catholics and there was much throwing of stones.

The Grievances of Miners.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—A demonstration which was participated in by 40,000 miners, was held at Motherwell, Scotland, yesterday. Mr. Bradlaugh and others made addresses. It was resolved to form a federal union, whose object will be to redress the grievances of miners.

'Twas the Strawberry Did It.

PROVIDENCE, R.I., Sept. 4.—Two young ladies, Maggie and Annie Hogg, of Manchester, N.H., while on their way to this city to visit friends, accompanied by their brother, Richard Hogg, partook of some strawberry-flavored cream at Boston on Aug. 27. On their way to Providence they were seized with cramps, from which one expired the day of their arrival, and the other the day following. The brother who ate chocolate cream is in good health.

Loss of the Honora Carr.

PORT COLBORNE, Ont., Sept. 4.—The schooner Honora Carr of Buffalo, bound from Buffalo to Port Huron, laden with 200 tons of stove coal, sprung a leak this morning when nearly abreast of here and went down in ten fathoms of water. One of the crew named Thos. Scott, from Buffalo, was drowned. The balance of the crew were picked up by the tug Ines and brought here. The vessel was owned by parties in Buffalo. The captain says she was not insured.

Reunion of Locomotive Engineers.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 5.—A reunion of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers was held to-day. At a secret meeting held in the morning a resolution was adopted expressing strong and decided approval of the actions of Grand Chief Arthurs during the recent labor troubles in the West and Northwest. About 1500 engineers are in attendance.

CABLE NOTES.

Sir John Stewart offered to sell to his tenants his Tyrone estate on the twenty years' purchase plan, provided they buy it all.

M. Leroux, cashier of the banking house of the Rothschilds, died while attending the funeral of Baroness Rothschild on Saturday.

The directors of the Isle of Jersey bank have been acquitted.

The British Government has decided to permanently increase the Belfast police 500 men and to erect new barracks in the quarters where disorders are most likely to occur.

Prince Bismarck, who is suffering from an attack of sciatica, is much chagrined because Lannenburg, hitherto the constituency of his son Count Herbert Bismarck, has returned a Liberal to the Reichstag.

The German Colonel who has been traveling throughout France under the name of Saxon, and who was recently arrested on suspicion of being a spy, has been released, the authorities being unable to obtain sufficient evidence to warrant his further detention.

SHOCKS ON THE SABBATH.

CHARLESTON STILL IN A STATE OF CONSTERNATION.

Religious Services in the Open Air—All the Churches Unsafe for Occupancy—The Loss of Property Underestimated—The Internal Workings of a Mountain.

CHARLESTON, S.C., Sept. 5.—Charleston is quiet to-day and the Sabbath silence is only broken by the singing at the different religious meetings which have been held in the open air. Hardly a church in Charleston is considered safe for occupancy and the ministers of the different denominations have for this reason held their services in the different public parks and in the grounds adjoining the churches. There is no doubt that the estimates of the loss by earthquake are far below the mark. The city appraiser, who has gone over the whole city, and is familiar with the value of property, estimates that it will cost at least $5,000,000 to put Charleston in a position as good as that which it occupied a week ago. There are many persons who are suffering for want of bread and meat. Their wants, however, begin to be known and will be quickly met. The Government tents have been erected in encampments in different parts of the city, where full attention will be given to sanitary requirements, but it is calculated that at least 5000 persons will need shelter for weeks to come, and it is proposed to erect huts on the public grounds for the accommodation of those for whom tents will not suffice. Ample accommodation will be provided for the colored refugees as well as the whites.

More Shocks.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 5.—At 9.30 Saturday night another earthquake shock of about five seconds' duration, the first of the day, startled the people. It was not nearly so severe as the shock on the preceding night.

There was another shock at 11.05 to-night. It was not very severe, and the duration was about ten seconds.

Rumblings in a Mountain.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 5.—News was received at Asheville to-night from Mitchell Co., that the earthquake phenomena were very startling in the vicinity of the pinnacle of the Black Mountain. The subterraneous rumbling were tremendous and continued 15 minutes. Immense rocks were hurled down the mountain into the valleys. People fled from their houses into the woods.

SIR EDWARD THORNTON DISGRACED

The Late Minister at Washington Superseded at Constantinople.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—During the past fortnight both the press and the clubs have been unanimous in declaring that British interests at Constantinople werein thoroughly incompetent hands. The notification that the Government has to-day summarily recalled Sir Edward Thornton from Constantinople and appointed Sir William White to be Ambassador in his place, has therefore given rise to a general feeling of relief in England. Sir William's appointment would clearly indicate that Lord Salisbury intends to pursue a very active policy in Eastern matters. The new envoy, who spent many years of his life as consul-general at Warsaw, has become imbued with the strongest anti-Russian feelings, which have been since intensified by his six years stay at Bucharest, where the Czar is a person in gratisima. Sir William is exceedingly popular at Constantinople, where he acted as British delegate to the convention of the great powers, which met there last winter to concerate with their sanction the new state of Bulgaria. Recently on the insurrection in Eastern Roumelia. On that occasion he figured very prominently as Prince Alexander's chief defender against the efforts made by Russia to bring about his deposition by the Sultan, and the warlike, aggressive tone with which he repelled the personal attacks on the Prince made by the Russian ambassador, M. de Nelidoff, thoroughly gained him the good will of the Turks and the confidence of the Sultan. Sir Edward Thornton, who has spent almost the whole of his long diplomatic career, extending over forty years, in the Western hemisphere, is regarded as the impersonification of respectable mediocrity, and appears to have been utterly oblivious of the intrigues at Constantinople of his clever Russian colleague. It is many years since a British ambassador has been so summarily superseded and publicly disgraced.

SLAUGHTER OF THE NATIVES.

Germany Avenges Herself on the Inhabitants of the New Hebrides.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—The steamer Maraoa arrived to-day from Sidney, Australia. She brought news of the arrival there of the German war ship Albatross from among the Hebrides Islands, where she had been for the purpose of punishing the natives for the murder of German subjects at the Island of Leneur. A crowd of armed natives who had gathered on the beach were fired into and 100 or more killed. The village of Tombolouga on the Island of Pentacost, was then bombarded and many more natives killed. When a landing was effected at the latter place, portions of human bodies were found, but most of the bodies had apparently been carried away. On both islands all the native villages that were found were burned. On Leneur a man named Kilind and on Pentacost a man of the German schooner Upoin had been murdered by natives. Before the Albatross returned to Sydney she is reported to have proceeded to the Caroline Islands and hauled down the German flags flying there.

Unloading Telegraph Stock.

MONTREAL, Sept. 4.—The Hugh Allan estate, Mr. J. Crawford and other large holders of Montreal Telegraph stock are selling out, Mr. Crawford having disposed of 1750 out of 2000 shares. The reason assigned is that holders of stock are not desirous of entering into another big telegraph war, which is threatened by the Canadian Pacific Telegraph Company.

A Cave in on the Northern Pacific.

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 4.—News reaches here that the eastern end of the Northern Pacific tunnel under construction through the Cascade Mountains has caved in and nine white men were buried under the stones and earth. There is little chance of being rescued alive.

THE WEEK'S AMUSEMENTS.

"Nancy & Co.," Gus Williams, "Uncle Josh," "Dreams" and the Kennedys.

There will be no dearth of amusements for citizens and visitors this week, five different attractions being advertised.

Manager Sheppard's bill of fare at the Grand Opera House is "Nancy & Co.," by Arthur Rehan's company. Such an authority as the New York Times says: "'Nancy & Co.' is positively and unreservedly a success—keeping the audience in a whirl of excitement for two and one-half hours. Throughout the piece, even in its most farcical scenes, the simulation of probability is retained, and there is an atmosphere of romance not usually found in farces. In how great a degree the presence of these desirable elements is due to the delicacy and finished art of Arthur Rehan's company we will not undertake to decide this morning. Certainly a more perfect representation of a farcical play was never given in this city."

Nearly all the seats have been placed in the Toronto Opera House and Manager Shaw says the remainder will be there in a few days. Gus Williams and his company will occupy the boards all week, presenting "Captain Mishler," "Oh! What a Night," and "One of the Finest." The bill to-night is "Captain Mishler." Of the star's performance in this piece the New York Herald says: "Gus is funnier than ever, having filled every nook and cranny of the character of 'Captain Mishler' with business, oddities and comicalities until it is the very embodiment of laughter. His humor is of a kind that catches the sense quickly, and at once there seems to be a sort of mutual good fellowship between the comedian and his audience—this is sometimes called magnetism, but whatever it is, Gus has it 'big,' as his numberless laugh-ing admirers attest. Not content with being funny himself in his excellent play, he has surrounded himself with a company strong in every particular."

The Yonge-street Opera House opens its season this afternoon with "Uncle Josh," the New England farmer, Comedian Baird taking the title role. Performances will be given every afternoon and evening.

At Horticultural Gardens the Templeton Opera Company will open to-night with "Dreams." The libretto is from the pen of Cartoonist Bengough and it is set to the airs of Gilbert and Sullivan's pieces. "The Mikado" will come later in the week.

The Kennedy family of Scottish vocalists, who open at Shaftesbury Hall to-night, require no introduction to Toronto people. They have frequently been heard here with delight, and their return will be hailed with pleasure by the thousands who love to hear a good Scotch song well sung. The veteran head of the family is credited with being as good as ever, and will be ably assisted by his four daughters.

The qualities of the steel wire door mat appreciated. Two more large orders from Australasian Colonies for steel wire door mats just received, making in all nearly two thousand within past few weeks. 136

ANGER OF THE ANARCHISTS.

Newspaper Reporters Called Bloodhounds and Threatened with Violence.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The Anarchists held a mass meeting to-night at Baumgardner's Hall, corner of Scholes and Leonard streets, Brooklyn. Altogether there were present 200 New Yorkers, 300 Brooklynites, and two women, who were even more enthusiastic in applauding the speakers than the men. Jacob Schulz vilified the judge and district attorney at Chicago. "Hang them all, the judge, district attorney and jury," shouted a drunken Anarchist who made his way to the platform. When Schulz finished the drunken Anarchist staggered to the front of the platform and pointing to the reporters said: "What are these bloodhounds doing here? They are worse than the police. Kill them, drive them out of the hall." A dozen men sprang to their feet and the chairman excitedly commanded them to be quiet. The meeting broke up in disorder.

Indian Depredations in Montana.

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 5.—The officials of the War Department are exercised over the recent raid of Indians upon the stock of the Crows at Custer station. It is said that the commanding officer at Fort Maginnes has received orders to hunt up the depredators and that scouts from Fort Assinaboine are already out. A special from Assinaboine says some Gross Ventres Indians arrived here last night with six scalps of Blood Indians, who had been ambushed and killed. The Bloods had stolen horses. Upon arrival here the victorious band engaged in a scalp dance.

Pullman Palace Cars Burnt.

JERSEY CITY, Sept. 4.—A disastrous fire broke out at 5.10 o'clock this evening in the Pullman Palace Car Company's shed in the New York, Lake Erie and Western Railway yards. There were eight Pullman sleepers in the shed. Two of them were hauled out uninjured and a third was partially burned. The other five were destroyed, valued at $16,000 each. The car shops and freight houses and other valuable property were destroyed. The loss will amount to about $200,000, most of which is insured. Seventy-eight telegraph wires were burned off.

NIPPED IN THE BUD.

The Police Claim to Have Prevented a Prize Fight Sunday Afternoon.

The police flatter themselves that they nipped a prize fight in the bud yesterday afternoon. Between three and for o'clock they received "information" that a mill was about to take place on the Toronto Baseball grounds between Sergeant Gregory and two men hastened thither from No. 4 Division, and found about twenty men there. Pugilist Sam Bittle was one of the number. He was stripped as if about ready to go into the ring. When questioned by the Sergeant, Bittle said he had come down to take a shower bath. "That's all in my eye" replied Gregory, "get along out of this." The crowd see some races, but the officer would not swallow that story at all. At this stage Sergeant Stephen, Detective McGrath and three other policemen arrived on the scene, having driven down at high speed in a hack from headquarters. Their arrival intensified the consternation created amongst the party by Sergt. Gregory's unexpected appearance, and all made quick time to the city, going back by way of South Park-street. The police cannot tell who the opponent was to have been, but all the same feel satisfied that a fight was on the cards, for the benefit of the "small but select party" that assembled on the grounds. The "select party" said they were only there for a little innocent amusement in the shape of racing, so it is hard to say which is right.

Police News.

Frank Beaty, who has just completed a term at the Central Prison, is again in limbo, being wanted for stealing a revolver and other articles the property of Charles Ahner.

Twenty-six persons went to jail from the different stations yesterday morning.

Fred Switzer, aged 15, living at 700 Queen-street west, was arrested by Detective McGrath Saturday for stealing a caddy of tobacco from Wm. Calhoun's grocery store, Strachan-avenue. Detective Cuddy took Henry Mathison into custody Saturday, the charge against him being that he stole a bricklayers' line and reel. The accused lives at 52 Richmond-street west.

There was a clean slate at all the stations last night.

Sent Home for Burial.

Samuel Hamilton, who was found in a lane off Duke-street last Tuesday night and sent to the hospital, died Friday. He came from Peterboro', and had only been in the city two days. He leaves a wife and family in Peterboro'. The body was taken in charge by the Sons of England and sent there Saturday.

THE ISSUE IN HALDIMAND

MINISTER OF JUSTICE THOMPSON TAKES PART IN THE FIGHT.

The Contest Waxing Warmer as the End Draws Near—A Successful Tory Meeting at Hagersville—Mr. Thompson on Riel'ites and Secessionists—Working for Le's Vote.

JARVIS, Ont., Sept. 5.—The closing days in the Haldimand campaign are interesting and heated. Both sides are working heroically, and both are confident of winning the battle. A long list of political spouters and organizers have been in the field, but it was reserved until last evening to introduce a federal minister to the electors. This was Hon. J. S. D. Thompson, Minister of Justice. Sir Richard Cartwright, J. D. Edgar, Dalton McCarthy, Lachlin McCallum of Monk, Editor Bell of Dundas, Joseph Jackson and John Charlton of Norfolk and other leading political lights have all been laboring.

The contest has been worked for all it is worth over the remains of Louis Riel, now crumbling away on the Regina prairie. The scaffold of the alleged martyr has been reared up in all its hideousness and presented to the yeomanry of old Haldimand. Practically that has been the one single issue of the campaign. Many of the leading political questions of the day have been turned into mere side issues.

Mr. Thompson's reception here last night was enthusiastic. He was escorted from Hamilton by Senator James Turner, Thos. Robertson and Mr. Kilvert, the members for Hamilton, Mayor McKay and twenty other leading Conservatives of the Ambitious City as far as Hagersville, six miles from Jarvis.

The meeting took place in the Music Hall, which was packed to the doors. Hundreds were turned away. The meeting was presided over by Dr. John A. Laugrill, an old Toronto boy. The other speakers were Mr. Merritt, the Conservative candidate, and Mr. Preston, the well-known Grit organizer. These gentlemen spoke for half an hour each, and Mr. Thompson held the boards for over three hours. He entered into the tactics of his own party and those of his opponents very thoroughly. The last hour of his speech was devoted to Riel and the attempted secession of his native province Nova Scotia from the Union.

Speaking of Riel Mr. Thompson said he did not believe ever a criminal was put to death on the scaffold who more richly deserved his fate than he did. He (Mr. Thompson) spoke as a Roman Catholic too. No Roman Catholic in the Dominion who was loyal to his country could think otherwise. He took no stock whatever in Riel's alleged insanity. The man was a cunning political knave, whose sole object was to sell the poor ignorant Metis for body and soul for a price, some ten or fifteen thousand dollars. "Why," continued the hon. gentleman, "five weeks before the first bullet was fired at Duck Lake, when news was received by the Government that there was dissatisfaction among the Half-breeds, word was at once sent that commissioners would go to their country and adjust all these difficulties. But they did not give the Government the chance, and the rebellion with all its horrible results broke out. The rest of that story was known to all."

Mr. Thompson then proceeded to dress down the Nova Scotia secessionists. He first alluded to Mr. Anglin, an ex-speaker of the House of Commons. Mr. Anglin and the Globe, which journal he was a political writer for, were urging these secessionists on. He recalled a speech of Mr. Anglin, who had said that he hoped he would see the Stars and Stripes floating on the flag-poles and towers of the city of St. John. This was a sample of the men who were raising heaven and earth to disintegrate the Dominion. Mr. Vail, Mr. Mackenzie's Minister of War, was another. Mr. Fielding, Premier of Nova Scotia, was another. "Who are these secessionists in that far off province?" asked the speaker. "Why, the followers of Mr. Blake. They are the men who are crying, 'We will stick to Mr. Blake until the confederacy is broken.' I hope, as a good and true Roman Catholic, as a loyal citizen, and as a Minister of the Crown, that I will never see that day."

The hon. gentleman was attentively listened to during his address and enthusiastically applauded. Being a Roman Catholic, his outspoken condemnation of the Riel fanatics and the race and revenge elements of his own faith made a deep impression on his hearers.

Mr. Preston made a good speech. He adverted principally to the reckless expenditure of public money and said it was a burning shame that Tom White and other Ministers of the Crown and Members of Parliament should sit in that chamber and draw large sums of money from the public chest. They were there for "boodle" purposes only.

Mr. Merritt paid a nice tribute to the memory of Mr. Thompson, the late member for Haldimand. At the last election he (Mr. Merritt) was defeated by that gentleman by 134 majority. "This election," he said, "was lost by giving different principles and by different men." He felt certain that he would win.

After the meeting, Mr. Thompson was escorted to the American Hotel by the Hagersville cornet band and the Indian band from the New Credit reserve. The Indians were all presented to the Minister.

Mr. Thompson was driven to Caledonia this morning, where he attended church. He will be the guest of the Rev. Father Kelly, parish priest, until Monday morning, when he goes to Cayuga, where he is expected to address another meeting. He will also visit the Six Nation Indian tribes in Tuscarora and make a few addresses.

A strong effort has been made to get Sir John to visit Haldimand, but he won't come.

The situation here is very excited. Mr. Merritt is a young man, wealthy, and, as far as can by judged during a brief stay in Haldimand, more popular than Mr. Colter. It would be hard to predict the result. From outside appearances it is any one's victory.

A great deal of anxiety is felt about the Indian vote. There are 129 voters in the county. They are all located on the New Credit reserve, in the Township of Oneida. They belong to the Mississaugua Tribe, and as a rule are intelligent men. Generally speaking, they are educated and prosperous. One gentleman who is familiar with the tribe told me to-night that Mr. Merritt would get at least eighty Indian votes. This, he claims, would elect him. But two more days remain to fight out the battle. These two days will be hot ones all over the county. The result will be looked forward to with deepest interest. Every pair of political eyes in the Dominion is levelled on Haldimand.

Mrs. H. J. Hill's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Hill, wife of the Manager of the Industrial Exhibition, took place on Saturday to St. James' Cemetery, and was largely attended. The pall-bearers were Col. Gray, M.P.P., Messrs. George Booth, John Lee, W. H. Taylor, John Chambers and D. C. Ridout. Among those present were the mayor and council of Parkdale, President Withrow and directors of the Industrial Exhibition, City Clerk Blevins and civic officials, several aldermen, members of Alpha and Zeta lodges A. F. and A. M., Dr. Strange, Major Carlaw, Mr. W. S. Lee, Mr. Wm. Cooke, Mr. J. E. Mitchell, Drs. Rowe and Turner, Mr. C. R. W. Biggar, J. Sargent, secretary Commercial Travelers' Association, and Mr. M. McConnell. The mourning offerings were many and beautiful, wreaths, crosses and crowns being sent, among others, by Alpha Lodge, A. F. and A. M., the Commercial Travelers' Association, Mr. Jno. Chambers, Mrs. Ridout, Detroit friends, Mrs. Carlaw, Mrs. Titus, Miss Martin and Mrs. Crasie. Rev. Mr. Inglis read the service. Mr. H. Stone, sr., had charge of the arrangements.

Stoves! Stoves!

—No doubt the space taken by stove manufacturers in Canada will be the largest this year at the Toronto Industrial Exhibition since its commencement. Many are distinguished by their appearance; but the qualities of Copp Bros.' stoves exhibited by J. & J. M. Strathern, 179 Yonge-street, take the lead and will no doubt come out ahead as usual, as the leading features are well and favorably known. x

POLITICS IN THE CONFERENCE.

Methodists Not Sufficiently Represented in Public Offices.

At the morning session of the General Conference Saturday it looked for a time as if a political campaign were going to be inaugurated. Rev. S. H. Matthews introduced this resolution: "That in view of the fact that we, as a people, have not a position and influence in the management of the affairs of the country to which our numbers and intelligence entitle us, we recommend our people to take a deeper interest in the political affairs of the country and support each other more strongly than in the past." He then proceeded to illustrate that Methodists hitherto had not occupied sufficiently prominent governmental positions. They had no representative in the Dominion Government.

A voice—What about Mackenzie Bowell?

Mr. Matthews—He is not a member of our church.

Another voice—How about Hon. John Carling?

Mr. Matthews—He is a brewer, and not likely to be a member. Continuing, he said that out of 74 members of senate only 4 were Methodists. If there had been more Methodists around the Canada Temperance Act would not have been treated in the shameful manner it had been. They had only one Superior Court judge. Out of forty county judges only three were members of their church. Two-fifth of the electors of Ontario were connected with the Methodist Church, and yet they had no representative in the local government, while the Catholics and Presbyterians were largely represented. He thought that Methodists standing for local and Dominion houses should receive a more hearty support at the hands of their brethren.

At this point Mr. D. Allison, Superintendent of Education for Nova Scotia, rose to protest. He said: "Mr. Chairman—What is the proper course for those members who wish to stop all further discussion on this question. I feel that no good end can be attained by its continuance. Why, sir, we are not a flock of sheep. Each member must stand in his own shoe leather." Mr. Allison wished the whole thing consigned to the tombs of the Capulets, but the chairman told him to move that it be laid on the table. Several members eagerly seconded this suggestion, but Mr. John Macdonald said he was the first and claimed the right to speak.

Disorder ensued, above which the voice of the president could be heard: "No discussion, brethren, no discussion. You can't move an amendment. How can you amend a motion to lay on the table?" A stand-up vote was taken which resulted in 103 for motion and 88 against. The matter was therefore laid on the table and other business was taken up.

SHOT IN THE SIDE.

The Result of a Dispute in a Walton-Street Boarding House.

J. T. Johnston, a painter working for Matthew O'Connor on Church-street, and Fred. Manning, a turner at the Cobban Manufacturing Company, both young men, had a dispute Saturday night about 9 o'clock at the house of James Langdon, 65 Walton-street, where Johnston roomed. Manning threatened to shoot Johnston, when the latter pulled out a revolver. In the ensuing scuffle the revolver went off, the bullet entering Manning's side. Johnston was arrested by Sergt. Breckenreid. He was slightly under the influence of liquor. Manning was conveyed to the hospital, where the bullet was extracted. He was doing well last night. It has to be learned whether the shooting was accidental or something worse.

Drowned While in a Fit.

Wm. Grundler, Wm. Zears and Archie Babcock were bathing together in the Wiman baths at the foot of Frederick-street yesterday forenoon. The two latter left Grundler to have a race round the bath, when they returned he could not be seen. They searched the dressing rooms but saw him not. Then they went back to the water and found Grundler lying at the bottom. To get him out was but the work of a few minutes, the water not being more than four feet deep. He was frothing at the mouth and blood was coming from his nose. All efforts to resuscitate him failed; he rolled up his eyes once and died. Latterly deceased had been subject to fits and it is supposed he was seized with one of these while in the water. He was about 19 years old and lived with his widowed mother at 112 Church-street, whether the body was removed.

Dastardly Work.

The failure of the steamer Southern Belle to make her regular time lately, has been proved on investigation to be due to the fact that some evilly disposed person had lodged pieces of metal in the valves of the engines. A reward is offered by the Company for the discovery of the perpetrator of this outrage. For the balance of the season only one round trip will be made daily, leaving Toronto at 9 a.m. and Hamilton at 4.30 p.m. Beginning Wednesday and continuing throughout exhibition time the trip will be reversed, the steamer leaving Hamilton in the morning.

Sir Charles Tupper on the Fishery Trouble.

Sir Charles Tupper has been interviewed at Halifax by a correspondent of the Boston Journal, and is thus reported:

"I have fully discussed the question with Earl Granville and Lord Rosebery, the late Colonial and Foreign Secretaries of State, and also with Edward Stanhope, the new Colonial Secretary, and I have not the slightest doubt but that England will firmly maintain Canada's rights in regard to the fisheries, and will afford her every support."

"You mean moral support?"

"Yes, and active support by the British ships-of-war in North American waters. The American correspondents of English papers have grossly misrepresented the facts and attempted to mislead the press, but the British Government thoroughly understands the question, and the British public is getting to understand it also."

Sir Charles Tupper's statement was guarded, but your correspondent is able to state positively that the British fleet will be employed in assisting Canadian cruisers to vigorously enforce the treaty of 1818.

If this is not true it ought to be. Nowhere else in the wide world, except in Canadian waters, do the people of any one country claim the right of fishing on the coasts of another. The Americans certainly would not permit foreigners to fish in Delaware Bay or Chesapeake Bay; why then should they invade the Bay of Chaleur? They have not the ghost of a case to present before any court, and if they are firmly met will have to retire from their untenable position.

Again, what Sir Charles is reported as saying is confirmed from Ottawa. A despatch from the capital says that as the result of correspondence which has been going on for some time past between the Canadian and Imperial authorities, orders have been issued by the English Admiralty Office to the commanders of all the English war vessels now along the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts to report at once to Halifax for duty. They will be used to assist the Canadian cruisers in protecting the fisheries, and will also look after the protection of the Newfoundland fishery.

Proper Patriotic Pride.

The Globe has often been accused by its esteemed Tory contemporaries of lacking proper patriotic pride, and of not rejoicing in those things in which Canadians ought to rejoice, while rejoicing in those things in which Canadians ought not to rejoice. Heretofore The World has regarded this charge as the offspring of partisan spite, and has treated it accordingly, but its foundation in fact has just been demonstrated in a singular manner.

About a fortnight ago the Globe printed a leaded article on its fourth page, in which is made the startling statement that the anacharis alsinastrum was the fruitful source of many ills to the human family. As a matter of fact, the anacharis alsinastrum has no connection with the Anarchists of Chicago, or elsewhere; it promotes healthfulness, and is moreover a Canadian product to which we should all point with proper patriotic pride. A celebrated Hanoverian physician, Dr. Brandes, to wit, testifies that the anacharis alsinastrum, "a weed which comes from Canada," is not "an unmitigated nuisance which chokes up rivers and is altogether useless," but is rather a providential preventive of malarial diseases in swampy and marshy districts. The Hanoverian report says: "Dr. Brandes has remarked that in the district where he lives, and where malaria and diarrhœa yearly appeared in sporadic or epidemic form, those diseases have gradually decreased since the anacharis began to infest the neighboring rivers and marshes, and for four years have totally disappeared." Dr. Brandes goes on to advise that the anacharis alsinastrum be planted in malarial regions, as he has every confidence in its salubrious effects.

It will thus be seen that the anacharis alsinastrum has been wounded in the house of its friends—has been slandered upon its native heath, as it were—and that far from attacking it we ought to point to it with proper patriotic pride. Many a man may be walking the streets to-day, with the aid of a liver pad and a crutch, who would before now have slept in the valley had it not been for the wholesome influence of the anacharis alsinastrum. Canada has stood and is standing a good deal, but there is a limit to her forbearance. She has tolerated abuse of the C. P. R., misrepresentation of the Northwest, and denunciation of the N. P.; she has been patient under the burglarious entry of her fishing grounds; but she will draw the line at slanders upon her anacharis alsinastrum. This is a proper plant for "low and marshy grounds," according to Dr. Brandes, and therefore the Deacon ought to have an anacharis alsinastrum potted for each of the desks in his editorial rooms. He can learn that an anacharis alsinastrum is by applying to Dr. Brandes.

Our Muscovite friend with the Frenchified name, De Giers, has left Berlin and gone home. It he stays at home, all will be forgiven.

Alexander of Bulgaria thinks that Russian business endangers his capital.

The Knights of Labor have decided to take the stump against Congressman Reed, a leading Maine Republican. What go they out to see? A Reed shaken by their wind.

It is alleged that stimulants become more stimulating in proportion to the altitude at which they are absorbed. Perhaps this explains the origin of the popular bibulistic phrase, "getting high." The man who keeps the tavern on Mount Olympus, beloved of convivial gods and thirsty poets, ought to pay a high license.

The prayer and petition of 500,000 Irish ladies for Home Rule looks like a work of supererogation. If there be any husband whom a wife ought to be able to rule, it is an Irish husband.

Parnell's proposal to invest the law courts with authority to suspend evictions under certain conditions, is another proof that the land question is the question. The Government will probably prefer to formulate a scheme of their own, but they must shortly concede something to the general opinion that "something must be done."

About two years ago considerable sensation was caused in New York and thereabouts by the elopement of Miss Morosini with her father's coachman, the father being a wealthy broker of the Jay Gould set, and the coachman being a German named Schilling. Mrs. Schilling went on the lyric stage and Mr. Schilling went on the street cars as a conductor. They saved some money between them, but last week Mrs. Schilling eloped from her husband and with the money. Some say that she "went with a handsomer man," but many believe that she has gone back to her pa and the comforts of a luxurious home. In either case Schilling is like Lord Ullin, left lamenting. The World's advice to coachmen who are tempted to elope with heiresses is old but it is sound—"Don't." Better openly and honestly wed a girl of your own social status. Better are socks carefully darned at the heels than rich relatives-at-law who pass by on the other side.

Since Saturday last the Chicago Anarchists have had no organ in Toronto. It would not be accurate to speak in this connection of a long felt want.

The Chicago News admits that "Canada has the long end of the argument touching the seizure of the schooner Highland Light off Prince Edward Island." Canada also has the schooner, which her owners may have so soon as they put up. Canada has in fact several things—the argument, the fish, the schooner and the bulge. These are all Canada wants. Canada is no hog.

When you ask the Tories of Haldimand what struck Billy Patterson they explain that it was a cyclonic cataclysm, or words to that effect. Mr. P. has had great experience among candied dates.

Mr. Coultar of Haldimand makes the harrowing remark that he has put his hand to the plow and will not look back. He is probably afraid of seeing Mr. Merritt's furrowed brow. What the harvest shall be, or who shall be the thresher, is not known even to the machine.

The members of the Methodist Conference are to be congratulated upon their refusal to assert that the members of their church do not command that influence in public affairs to which their numbers and intelligence entitle them. The proposition to that effect was most injudicious. No church should seek to control political patronage, and no church is in less need of formally asserting such claims than the one represented by the members of the Methodist Conference. Methodists figure among our most active and most intelligent politicians, and it is to their credit that they are to be found working conscientiously upon either side of the party line of cleavage. Neither oil and water nor religion and politics can be successfully mixed. One or other ingredient is bound to come to the top, and not the one that is the nicer to take, either.

Two members of the loyal and gallant corps known as the Gov.-Gen.'s Body Guard were brought up in the Police Court Saturday upon a charge of neglecting their accoutrements. The Police Magistrate preferred to lead Denison's Cavalry upon some other sort of charge, and therefore temporarily delegated his function to Mr. Love, J.P. "Love rules the court, the camp, the throne." The accused volunteers were charged with permitting their swords to get rusty. That is not half as bad as Campbell's scheme for beating swords into pruning hooks and other agricultural and horticultural implements. It may be answered that though Kosciusko's admirer was a good poet he was a bad disciplinarian, and that the close of the Northwest rebellion and the advent of the piping times of peace do not guarantee that Canadian swords will never more be needed. Still we read of certain chivalrous soldiers:

"The knights are dust,
Their swords are rust,
Their souls are with the saints, I trust."

It would not do them much good to have their souls with the saints if their bodies were in the Police Court.

Here is something important, if true, which comes to us from Montreal via Chicago. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the Allan Steamship Company have entered into a spirited competition for the English and Canadian trans-Atlantic mail contracts. This is the first step of the former company to absorb the Allan Line. Sir Donald Smith, who has recently returned from England, has made arrangements on behalf of the Pacific company for eight fast ocean steamers, the object being to reduce the time not only between Liverpool and Canada, but between English ports and trans-Pacific points. The Pacific Company are determined to open up the fastest means of communication between England and the East through Canada that can be effected by skill and capital, and it is believed its management has the hearty co-operation of the Salisbury Government. Should the effort to capture the Atlantic mail contract succeed, the Canadian Pacific route will be one of the heaviest subsidized lines in the world. The company has already secured the Pacific mail contract, together with assurances of a $5,000,000 subsidy from the English Government, and a like amount from the Canadian Government to assist in opening up the route.

The House of all Houses

Is "Green's 104 and 106 Shuter-street," where you can get square meals, moderate charges, no extortion, no extra charges for Exhibition people or strangers coming to the city, and through it Green's house has become known all over the Dominion of Canada and the continent of America as the best temperance hotel—carrying always the largest bill of fare at all meals, as well as the greatest variety of food of any house of the kind. The rooms are all well furnished; sitting rooms, smoking rooms, in fact every equipment for guests. The proprietor has lately added a gentleman's lavatory, which is a boon to those taking meals only at his house. During the exhibition H. L. Green will be prepared to supply 1500 meals a day, having made every preparation. Telephone communication at this house No. 1144, so that strangers will have every accommodation. Vacancies for any number of table boarders. Terms from $2.50 per week, and the bill of fare placed on the tables cannot be equalled in this city. Soups, entrees, baked meats, roasts, vegetables of the season, six or seven kinds of pastries, pudding, tea, coffee or milk. Just the house for students or anyone that requires good and substantial board. Oatmeal and cornmeal every morning, as an appetiser. Breakfasts or teas only 20 tickets for $3.00. Dinner tickets 6 for $1.00 or 20 tickets, all meals for $3.00. There is no house in the city can compete with Green year in and out. He defies competition and if the addition to these premises which is talked of takes place, there will be nearly 70 bedrooms besides every other convenience which will make Green's one of the largest and best regulated houses in America. Low prices, good meals, ready cash and quick returns are the mottoes of H. L. Green. x

Deaf Mute Convention.

An unusual number of persons conversing in pantomimic language are observed on the streets of the city just now. They are deaf mutes from all parts of Ontario attending a convention for their benefit, which is being held in Shaftesbury Hall. There were interesting religious exercises yesterday afternoon and evening, when a large number of mutes and their friends were present. Dr. Withrow, editor of the Methodist Magazine, and others gave short addresses. The business part of the convention will begin this afternoon, and will continue to-morrow. The object is to bring the mutes together for mutual improvement. A number of persons interested in the welfare of this class will take part in the proceedings. Those attending will also have an opportunity to visit the Exhibition and other attractions about the city.

LAYING THE CORNER STONE.

Another Handsome Edifice to be Added to the City's Churches.

The ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new Sherbourne-street Methodist Church was performed Saturday afternoon. The members and friends of the church turned out in large numbers, and many of the members of General Conference were present. On the platform were such leading ministers as General Superintendents Williams and Carman, Rev. Drs. Dewart, Burwash, Parker, Stone, Potts and Withrow. The band of the Q. O. R. played selections for the first half hour. At 3 o'clock the pastor of the church, Rev. S. T. Shorey, announced the hymn:

O Lord of hosts, whose glory fills
The bounds of the eternal hills,
And yet vouchsafes in Christian lands
To dwell in temples made with hands.

He then led in prayer, invoking the Divine blessing on the new building. Addresses were delivered by the General Superintendents. Mr. John Donogh, a church trustee, read over a list of the articles that were about to be placed in the stone. They were the daily papers, church magazines, coins, and a statement on parchment of the chief officers of the church, city and province, the population of the city and other information. The articles found in the corner stone of the old church were replaced in the new stone. The ceremony of adjusting the stone was performed by Mr. J. N. Lake, one of the oldest members of the church. A liberal collection was realized.

The Methodist Conference.

The Methodist General Conference held only a morning session Saturday. General Superintendent Williams presided. On motion of Prof. Shaw of Montreal the secretary was instructed to send a fraternal greeting to the Provincial Synod of the Church of England in Canada, which meets this week in Montreal. Rev. Dr. S. J. Hunter asked that the name of the Niagara conference be changed to that of Hamilton. The feeling was against such a change, but the motion was referred to the Annual Conference Committee. Rev. Dr. Sutherland, on behalf of the Mission Board, stated there had been no falling off in the contributions, as might have been inferred from the remarks of a speaker the previous evening.

An adjournment was made at 12.30 to meet this morning at 9.30.

Prominent delegates to the General Conference filled the pulpits of the various Methodist Churches in the city yesterday. At the Metropolitan Church able sermons were preached in the morning by Rev. Dr. Carman, General Superintendent, and in the evening by Rev. Dr. Stewart, Professor of Theology at Sackville, N.B. The church was filled to overflowing on both occasions. In the afternoon the General Conference Love Feast was held; Rev. Dr. Williams and Rev. Dr. Carman presided. A large number of "experiences" were given, and all present passed a "time of refreshing."

Signorina Ada Arthurs.

Toronto may well be proud of a prima donna whose birthplace was in our city, but whose reputation as an artist has captured the tastes of the most cultured and eminent musicians of the Continent of Europe. Miss Ada Arthurs is a daughter of the late George Arthurs, one of Toronto's oldest merchants. After her father's death, her mother, perceiving that her daughter had an excellent voice and a taste for music that is seldom developed in one so young, took her to Europe, and placed her under the tuition of one of the first masters. The development of her voice was both rapid and wonderful. The Italian papers are loud in her praises. In speaking of her representation of the part of Violetta in the opera of "Traviata," the L'Geo del Carione of Carrara, Italy, says: "Miss Ada Arthurs in the interpretation of that most difficult character, the unhappy Parigina, has shown herself to have exquisite sentiment in the character of Violetta." Another Italian journal says, in speaking of the same role, "her voice is beautiful, extensive, full and fascinating." Toronto will in all probability have an opportunity of hearing Miss Arthurs in opera this season.

The Niagara Camp.

Company I. will be the first corps to go into camp at Niagara. They will cross over on the Chicora this morning. The Toronto Field Battery are summoned to parade at the Old Fort at 8 o'clock this morning. New uniforms will be served out and the men will get everything ready to leave for the camp Tuesday morning. Lieut. H. Mead will be in command of the Battery. Among other troops who will put in their annual drill at Niagara are the 12th York battalion, 36th Peel battalion, 77th Wentworth battalion, 37th Norfolk battalion and the Welland and Hamilton Field Batteries. The camp will be in command of Lieut. Col Otter, D.A.G., with Major Smith, I.S.C. as brigade major; Capt. Mutton, Q.O.R. as brigade quartermaster, and Lieut. Sears, I.S.C. as brigade orderly. The camp life will last twelve days.

MRS. SCHILLING'S ELOPEMENT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Ernest Schilling made the following statement last night regarding the desertion of his wife:

"Wednesday night about 8 o'clock I received a note calling me home. When I got there, instead of finding my wife at home, she had everything packed and had left the place. She did not leave any word whatever. The note was sent and signed by the landlady, who wanted to acquaint me with the fact that my wife had gone. She packed everything she had in the trunk and took it with her. She also took the money which we had accumulated. The total amount, the savings of both—for we placed it in the bank together in her name—reached nearly $2100. I trusted it with her. She broke open my writing-desk and tore up receipts and an anonymous letter I had received.

"Nine months ago, when we were living in Twenty-sixth street, the man whom I believe she went off with introduced himself by a note which he sent to my wife at the Casino. He asked for an introduction as a friend. My wife replied, granting him permission to call, providing he would meet us both. He called on the following Sunday at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. He stayed about one hour. Since then he has made a number of calls at the house in my absence, and has nightly frequented the front row at the Casino.

"On the 13th of the past month my wife left the city to spend a vacation of ten days, as everybody was given to understand, with a lady. Instead she was accompanied by this man, who registered them at the Nantasket Beach Hotel. He registered his own and her name. They occupied rooms No. 53 and 54 for ten days. They were seen by several acquaintances strolling on the beach. During that time I wrote two letters, which she simply acknowledged, forwarding her address. When she returned she looked as though she had been on a regular racket. She acted very strangely when I spoke to her about it, and said in reply to my statement: 'I don't care. I don't care what becomes of me.'

"She seemed very indifferent about the matter. She has been out on several evenings when she should have been on the Casino stage, and I have never been able to ascertain where she went. The man whom I accuse has been in the habit of calling on my wife during the day while I was at work. These calls became so frequent that the landlady's suspicions were aroused, and she told him he must not come to the house any more in my absence. I never suspected that he was using his friendship for any other purpose. Since our marriage Victoria and I have lived happily together. Until this man made his entry into our home, no cause for complaint on either side had occurred. I am satisfied he has led her away, and under the circumstances I shall be pleased if she never returns. I will not again receive her.

"When I first entered the employ of Mr. Morosini I had not been in the stables more than five minutes before Victoria came down from the house to see what the new coachman was like. That was in the morning. In the afternoon she came again and thereafter she used to make two visits every day to look at the horses, and would loiter around the stables talking with me. She paid me many little attentions which I construed as acts of her kind heart, and the idea that she was actuated by any motive never entered my mind. I was at one time kicked by a horse and received a severe injury on my leg. She came down to the stables to see me and gave $2 to pay the doctor. Afterwards she brought me many little delicacies at every visit. This continued until the end of the month, when one day I was surprised beyond measure to hear her say: 'Do you know I l—l—lul—l—lul—'

"'What?' I asked. 'I lul—opposite to hate.'

"'I don't know what you mean,' I said. I did know well, by the way she acted, but I pretended otherwise. 'Opposite to eight is nine.' 'Not eight, but hate,' she said. 'I love you; I really do.'

"'You don't mean that,' was my reply. Then she became angry and reiterated her statement. Then somebody came along and when they had gone she continued in the same strain. I reasoned with her and told her we could not live on my slender salary as she had been accustomed to, and that it would be very foolish for us to go away. She said she would be willing to live in a cottage and wear a calico gown if she could be mine. Finally we arranged our plans to leave, but not until she had threatened to throw herself into the river unless I would marry her."

The man with whom Mrs. Schilling is said to have eloped is a Bostonian, the son of a rubber manufacturer and a graduate of Yale.

Fighting for Pieces at Table.

From London Life.

The drollest scenes, I hear, are daily enacted at the American legation, where, in consequence of the vast throng of Yankees who have come over this summer and who dare not go to Italy for fear of the cholera, there is constant trouble as a result of the inability of Mr. Phelps to seat the entire crowd of some thousands at his table. Every Yankee in England wants to go into raptures, and because Mr. Phelps cannot accommodate all their wrath is immense.

Blue Blood Succumbs to Comic Opera.

From the New York World.

In a short time we shall have with us a noble English earl in the capacity of general manager of a London opera comic company. There will be a disposition on the part of our hautton, no doubt, to present a turn-up nose to Lord Lonsdale, but we trust that His Lordship, by strict attention to business, will be able to overcome any prejudice that his descent to the common level of a showman may excite. It took good managerial talent to introduce Lydia Thompson to our amusement public some years ago, and Lord Lonsdale will doubtless find that his efforts to place the charming Violet Cameron before us will in the end be appreciated. Already we are beginning to hear from the other side that Lonsdale is a jolly good fellow. The lavish style in which he presents his star to the public, and the firm but energetic way in which he kicks her offensive and obtrusive husband into the street when he makes himself objectionable to the management, show conclusively that he is a man of discernment, and one who knows how to handle a frivolous burlesque opera troupe. The spectacle of a rich earl busily engaged in looking after the interests of his theatrical combination will be in the nature of encouragement to counts and dukes who are cooking and shaving in our midst, so to speak, and who are looked upon with something like contempt by high society.

The Saratoga Walk.

The Saratoga walk is said to be the latest fashionable gait for women. One who describes it says that "the first requisite is to throw your shoulders back, the chest forward, chin up and stomach in, and then walk, wriggling head, limbs, body, and especially bustle. The aim is to secure a series of revolutions which shall be simultaneous, but opposite. In simple brevity, if your head moves right your body must move to the left, and before your foot reaches ground you must describe a circle with the entire limb. The gait is practised in a night dress before the mirror. The part of the business most difficult to master is the proper position of the stomach."

A Jewish Journal Denounces Anarchy.

From the American Hebrew.

Among the Jewish immigrants of recent years, as well as among immigrants of other denominations, there are a number who have brought their Anarchist views with them from over the sea, and still retain them. Neither the government nor the people here will tolerate the methods which they learned in their struggle with despotism. We have here a government by law, and a people devoted to order. Woe be to him or to them who violate either. The Jews as a race have a history, as a people they have a literature, as a religious body they have synagogues to worship in; but as laborers, as workingmen, as wage-earners, as members of the social organism and the body politic, they are, in this country, Americans.

—No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

Opening of the Oyster Season.

From the New York Times.

This morning all the spare sloops and schooners and many steamers will go out for Rockaways and the kind of Blue Points that grow elsewhere than in their native beds. As Blue Points cannot be taken up where they grow most abundantly until Sept. 15, Blue Point seed has been transplanted to other beds, so as to bring that oyster into market for the beginning of the season. The old-fashioned way of depending on canvass and hand labor to supply a brisk market is fast falling into disuse, steam making quicker and surer work. To-morrow, therefore, the market will not be tardily supplied, and people will be sure of getting oysters only a few hours out of water. Some figures were furnished yesterday by J. W. Boyle, who does business at the foot of Perry-street, showing what a wholesale dealer calls a good business. The average daily sales of shell oysters for six months in the year are $1500 a day, with spurts at the holidays running to $5000 a day. For two months more the average sales are about $1000 a day. As there are forty wholesale dealers in the city, doing of course, a varying business, and the average price of oysters is ½ cent, it is estimated that close to 1,000,000 oysters are sold by them in the shell every day for six months, and 500,000 a day for two months. The greater part of this consumption is local, or within a day's journey of the city. The shucked oyster business is nearly as large here for shipping purposes. Baltimore is the great place, however, for that branch of the business. One Chicago firm alone takes from Baltimore and this city an average of $2000 worth of oysters a day. Prices for all kinds of oysters will probably remain as last year.

—Cholera morbus, cramps and kindred complaints annually make their appearance at the same time as the hot weather, green fruit, cucumbers, melons, etc., and many persons are debarred from eating these tempting fruits, but they need not abstain if they have Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, and take a few drops in water. It cures the cramps and cholera in a remarkable manner, and is sure to check every disturbance of the bowels.

Assaulting a Lord.

From the New York Times.

Lord James Manning, three years ago, was one of the best known men about town in New York. He is the son of one of the best known mercantile men in London, and of royal descent. Lord James came to this country possessed of a fortune that is variously estimated at from $75,000 to $150,000. In New York he fell in with a jolly lot of companions and the fortune soon vanished. Then he drifted over to Long Island and obtained a clerkship in the office of ex-District Attorney Deming. While in the office and suffering from temporary aberration of the mind he attempted to commit suicide, for which he was lodged in gaol. He is a man of good education. He made himself useful in the sheriff's office, where he has since held a position. Yesterday morning Lord Manning appeared in the Long Island City Police Court against James Flandreaux, whom he accused with threatening to take his life. Flandreaux denied that he had ever seen him before, but Justice Kavanagh thought otherwise, and held him in $500 bail for examination. Manning says that while he was being shaved on Sunday morning Flandreaux assaulted him and for a time made things extremely lively by hurling all kinds of missiles he could lay hands on.

Read What You Sign.

From the Woodstock Times.

The newest swindle on farmers is operated by a man who travels the country claiming to represent a large provision house in some one of the leading cities, and to be desirous of learning from farmers their opinion of the crop. The sharper produces a notebook, questions the agriculturist closely and carefully takes down his answers. The examination completed the inquirer induces the farmer to sign his name to the report to give it due weight and appearance of accuracy. In a few months afterward a note signed by the farmer turns up in the hands of an innocent purchaser, and he kicks himself sore for not having heeded the hundreds of warnings he has received to be careful where he puts his signature.

Smitten by an Athlete.

Ida Granrath, a pretty little 14-year-old daughter of a St. Louis boarding house keeper, fell heels over head in love with big Anton Pierre, the Canadian wrestler, who boarded at her father's house. The brawny athlete had no idea that he had made such a conquest until he was about to quit St. Louis, when the girl, weeping, begged him to take her with him. He said that he could not, because he had no money; so a few days afterward she stole $400 of her father's money and set out to find Anton. Her father caught her at Indianapolis and took her home, but she says that she will yet go to the man she loves.

It is a question whether the man can be implicitly trusted who smokes first-class cigars himself and distribute abominable ones among his friends.

—Thos. Sabin of Eglington says: "I have removed ten corns from my feet with Holloway's Corn Cure." Reader, go thou and do likewise.

The economical man is never happier than when he discovers a tobacconist's shop in which he can buy a ten-cent cigar for five cents.

—"I say aunt Chloe, you is getting around right smart." "Yes; indeed I is, honey. I was pestered and sick abed with rheumatism for six years and done tried this West's World's Wonder or Family Liniment the people are talking so much about, and I was sure enough cured. It done saved this old nigger's life." Price 25 and 50c. per bottle. Sold by all druggists. d

The Indian smokes the pipe of peace; the Irishman the piece of pipe.

We never doubt a man's courage after seeing him smoke cheap cigars.

THEIR SEVENTH SUCCESS.

TORONTO L. C. DEFEATS CORNWALL L. C. IN THREE STRAIGHT.

An Exciting Contest Between Montreal and the Shamrocks—R. C. Y. C. Race for the Lorne Cup—Oswego Downs the Boys at Baseball.

The Toronto Lacrosse Club on Saturday defeated the Cornwalls three straight games and did it "dead easy." About 2000 people witnessed the match. Little rough play was indulged in. The weather was faultless.

Game.	Won by.	Scorer.	Time.
First	Toronto	Dixon	4 min.
Second	Toronto	Sewell	32 min.
Third	Toronto	Eckardt	21 min.

Play commenced at 3.45, the Torontos playing south. The ball went first to the Cornwall goal, but immediately traveled north again. Shortly afterwards Irving stopped his first shot, did it well and threw down field. Here Lally stopped a hot shot from Sewell, and Lewis started out on a dodging exposition. He passed several blue shirts cleverly, but struck a snag in Dixon. Dixon threw on goal and McAteer relieved it. Finally Sewell gained the ball in one of the many scrimmages around the south posts and passed it a few feet back to Dixon, who scored for Toronto by a neat shot. Time, 4 minutes.

Shortly after the second face the ball went down to the Toronto defence. Here Dynan got away with it by clever play and running up field shot for goal. The ball was turned aside and Dixon and McAteer had a tussle for it up near the dressing room. The ball went over the fence and a face followed. After a few minutes one-sided play, the ball only once staying for any length of time near the Toronto goal, Dave Coulson by strong play got the ball from two Cornwall men over against the fence and threw to Dixon. Dixon passed it on to Eckardt, who threw a hot shot for goal. Lally stopped the ball, but was checked by Stowe, and Sewell, who had all along been playing a brilliant game, and who was standing just in front of the goal, knocked the ball coolly through, and scored the second game for Toronto. Time, 32 minutes.

The third game was a slow one and as one-sided as the other two. Shortly after the face, in an attack on the Torontos' pole, Irving saved a possible goal by well-judged play. One Cornwall player was bearing down from behind with the ball and another was standing in front. The Toronto defence was for the first time in the game scattered. Irving, instead of checking the man behind waited until he threw to the man in front. Intercepting the ball and neatly dodging a couple of claret shirts he got the ball cleverly away amid cheers from the spectators. A protracted attack on the Cornwall goal followed and it looked at one time as if the Toronto home were spinning out the play for the benefit of the spectators. Finally Eckardt scored the third game and the match for the Torontos by a quick shot. Time, 21 minutes.

The game was throughout of the tamest description, and was virtually a practice match for the home team. After the Torontos' defeat by the Montrealers there have not been wanting many—even of their reputed friends—who have prophesied with some glee that they would now be beaten all along the line. These people must have been considerably disappointed Saturday. The Toronto defence played a steady, careful game, almost without error. Irving between the posts promises to revolutionize the science of goal keeping. He plays the same brilliant dodging and running game as he did on the home field. The Toronto home appeared to be a trifle sleepy and suffered relapses at times into their old habit of playing away from the goal, and throwing drop shots. Blight in his old place in centre field was all there, though still somewhat out of condition Dave Coulson is an acquisition to the team. He is now one of the team heavy weights, has great staying powers and is fleet of foot.

After the Cornwall talk of the last few weeks, their play was disappointing. They may be dismissed in a few words. On the home and in the field they were nowhere. On defence they were good, Lally, Lewis, Adams and Crites being a great team. Lally is a good goal minder and he should use his stick more and his hands less. Our mulatto friend Lewis for a good player can play about as foul a game as any man in Canada. He tripped Stowe headlong every time they came together. Crites did the biggest share of the good work.

The Torontos have now succeeded in defeating the Cornwalls in each of the three matches played and have lost to them only one goal.

Richmond Hill v. Toronto Second Twelve.

Before the match between the Senior Torontos and the Cornwalls the second twelve of the Torontos crossed sticks with the Young Canadians of Richmond Hill. The game was one of great interest. Good lacrosse was played throughout, and on the merits of the game the second twelve perhaps deserved the match. But luck seemed to go against them. The Hill team were better runners, something unusual in opponents of a Toronto team. And their combined play was much superior to that of the Torontos. Taylor scored both the Toronto games by neat play. With him, Carmichael, McCaul, Scholfield and Wilson shared the honors. The Pugsleys, McConaghy, Kelly, Paterson and Palmer especially distinguished themselves for the Young Canadians.

The Montrealers Defeat the Shamrocks.

MONTREAL, Sept. 4.—The lacrosse match between the Montrealers and Shamrocks here this afternoon was witnessed by nearly as many people as were present at the Montreal-Toronto match of the previous Saturday.

Second	Montreal	McNaughton	8 mins.
Third	Shamrocks	Reilly	39½ mins.
Fourth	Montreal	Hodgson	19 mins.
Fifth	Montreal	Paton	1½ mins.

The first game was started at 4.05½ and after 1½ minutes' play Barry put the ball through, winning the first game for the Shamrocks. In this game Louson got a bad cut over the left eye. The match on the whole, however, was characterized by an absence of rough play.

The second game was started at 4.19, the Shamrocks drawing the ball, and after 8 minutes' play in course of which the ball traveled rapidly up and down the field, and some good close checking was done, McNaughton made the winning shot, scoring the second game for the Montrealers in 8 minutes. The playing of both teams appeared to be pretty even, and when the third game was started it was eagerly watched. After 13 minutes' hard play during which the ball was dangerously near both goals, Grant was after the rubber up against the fence, but he had lost his stick, and when Cregan came for the ball Grant hit him, whereupon Cregan hit him on the head with his lacrosse stick. "Time" was called and after a delay of 19 minutes the ball was again faced. In a little over 7 minutes Tansey got the ball behind the Montreal goals and ran round to the side in front of the goal and threw it in, when Reilly swiped it through, winning the third game for the Shamrocks. Time, including 19 minutes stoppage, 39½ minutes.

The fourth game was taken by the Montrealers in 19 mins., Hodgson putting the ball through. The excitement was now very great, and as all the games had been taken at the western goal, which was kept by the Montrealers, many thought the chances for the fifth game were in favor of the Shamrocks, but after 1½ minutes play Paton put the ball through, winning the match for the Montrealers by 3 games to 2.

*The Torontos and Ontarios played a draw.

Oswego 4, Toronto 3.

The weak point with the Torontos is base running, and never was this weakness more apparent than in Saturday's match with the Oswegos. The home team played a better fielding game and did heavier work at the bat than the visitors, but their lack of judgment in base running proved suicidal. Notwithstanding Horner's effective work in the box, the Torontos had the game in their hands, and should have won, but what could be expected but defeat when such men as Morrison, Faatz and Albert were caught half way between first and second—the two first mentioned in the initial innings and the latter in the third. The brilliant feature of the game was Horner's pitching; he struck out no less than eleven men. But at the same time the Torontos, or rather some of them, batted him pretty freely, and all their hits—eight with a total of thirteen—were clean and hard. Their three runs were earned. In the first innings Albert scored on his own two-bagger and Morrison's single. The two runs in the fourth innings were due to Faatz's single, Spill's grand lift between centre and left for three bases, and Darling's two-bagger, the plate being crossed by Faatz and Spill. Horner retired the side in one two three order in the second and fifth innings. In the seventh innings he had two struck out to his credit and one each in the third, eighth and ninth. The Torontos should have scored in the sixth innings. Faatz was at first on a base hit, when Darling made a drive to right field. The ball was fielded slowly and Faatz had time to reach the plate in safety, but stayed at third in obedience to some blundering coacher. Then the next man and the side went out and that settled the chances of a run. In the seventh Osterhout was declared out at third on a questionable decision after having earned his way to second by a hit to the left field fence. The Torontos failed to reach first in the two last innings. The Oswegos had five errors, none of them costly. Two of their runs were due to errors—Horner's in the second on Spill's error and a passed ball by Darling, and Ardner's in the fourth on an easy error by Faatz (who thus broke his great record of twenty-one consecutive games without a misplay) and Davis' wild pitch. Householder scored in the fifth on his own single and West's two-bagger. In the seventh Toy made a dandy three-bagger and came in on Chrisman's single. McGuckin's muff in the eighth will rank with the famous one Davis made in Buffalo last season. Davis made a good show in the box, with five struck-outs, two put-outs and six assists. Hoover's umpiring was capricious; he does not display good judgment in distinguishing between strikes and balls.

Baseball This Week.

The Toronto baseball association will offer an unusually attractive program this week. To-day and to-morrow the Torontos play Binghamton, the game being called at 4 o'clock. Wednesday the Smith benefit game will be played between the home nine and a picked nine from the Western Ontario league, comprising the best players from London, Stratford and Woodstock. This, both from the intrinsic interest in the match and the object in view should prove an exceptionally strong drawing card. On Thursday the all-conquering Guelph Maple Leafs (Sleeman's aggregation) will be struck and the match of the season will be played. On Friday the Hamiltons come to town and the Torontos will do their level best towards evening up on the series. Saturday our nine go to Hamilton. Monday, the 13th, the Hamiltons return here and play a championship game on the Exhibition grounds, the game being called at 2 p. m.

Amateur Baseball on Saturday.

The Young Tecumsehs beat the Eagles by a score of 13 to 2. Synge, the News "devil," pitched for the Eagles and was batted out of the box in four innings. Doulas pitched effectually for the Tecumsehs and was brilliantly supported.

An interesting game of baseball was played at Oakville on Saturday afternoon between the Victorias of Toronto and the Stars of Oakville, resulting in an easy victory for the Victorias by 16 runs 2 bh., 5 e., to 7 runs 5 bh. 14 errors. Cornwall and Moor were the battery for the Stars and Smith and Bates for the Victorias. Smith struck out 13 men.

A team from the Commercial League, comprising chiefly the Dry Goods B. B. C., visited Whitby on Saturday and played a game with the local club there. The following is the score by innings:

C. L. S. B. C.	4	4	0	4	0	3	2	1—	18

As Whitby has been playing a strong game during the present season, having on a recent tour defeated Lindsay, Peterboro, Bowmanville and Markham, the Toronto boys expected a pretty hard game, but they were disappointed. The curves of Schultz, the Toronto pitcher, proved too much for the Whitby sluggers, who only made two single hits off his delivery and retired 17 times on three strikes. Mr. Geo. Lyon, of Toronto, umpired the game.

Miscellaneous Games—Ku-Klux 14, Standards 13; 10 innings. Clippers 20, Primroses 17. Atlantics 11, Maple Leafs 9. Jas. Murray & Co., 18, Mail Press room 10. Firstbrook Bros. 29 r., 28 b., 9 e.; Bryce Bros. 15 r., 17 b., 18 e. Manufacturer's League—Cobban Mfg. Co. 15, Singer Mfg. Co. 8.

Fair Balls.

The Rochesters have won seven straight games.

The Manitoba Baseball League has practically disbanded.

Hamilton has forfeited two games to Binghamton by 9 to 0.

Utica won four games last week by one run each. Hamilton lost three games last week in the 9th innings.

Why does it invariably happen that Toronto loses when she has an opportunity of closing up a trifle on the leaders?

Jack Glasscock is pronounced a great improvement over Dunlap as a field captain by the St. Louis papers.

The Guelph Maple Leafs have won 23 games and lost one during their present trip, and then they grabbled up the pitcher.

The International League games to-day are: Oswego at Hamilton, Binghamton at Toronto, Utica at Rochester and Syracuse at Buffalo.

The Maple Leafs were defeated on Thursday at Steubenville, Ohio, the score being 3 to 2. Schelbeck and Purvis were the battery for the Leafs.

At the beginning of the season certain Toronto said Horner would be "pie" for them. The pastry was evidently not to their liking on Saturday.

The Guelph Maple Leafs were victorious Friday at Alliance, Ohio, winning by 5 to 3. George and Dillon were the battery for the Leafs.

The players of the St. Louis League Club have addressed a petition to the new owners of the club asking that Gus Schmelz be retained as manager.

William Kiley, a young man of 17, belonging to Montreal, was playing in a baseball match at Rouse's Point, when he was severely run into and his arm was broken.

Knouff, whom it was said by the Syracuse directors was among the Southern league players who would join the Stars next Wednesday, has returned to Detroit where he will pitch the remainder of the year.

The directors of the Stars say that the club will not play off the postponed games in Hamilton and Toronto as it is a fact that the postponed Hamilton game here is also off. They say it wouldn't pay to play them.—Syracuse Courier.

Manager Buckenberger of the Maple Leafs, has signed the Steubenville pitcher. He must be a good one. He held the leaders down on three hits on Wednesday, and was the main cause of their defeat on the following day.—Guelph Herald.

The finishing game of the Southern League clubs was played at Memphis, Tenn., Saturday, between Memphis and Charleston, and was won by the home team by a score of 12 to 6. Knouff, pitcher of the Memphis club, surpassed all previous records by striking out sixteen men in the eight innings that were played. The standing of the Southern League clubs are as follows: Atlanta, Savannah, Nashville, Memphis, Charleston, Macon.

The R. C. Y. C. Race for the Lorne Cup.

Many years ago, when some of our present yachtsmen were yet in the stage of sharpened shingles and a paper sail, some dependence could be placed on the weather, and the regatta day was generally heralded by a mare's tail sky, portending the coming breeze. Even were this delayed beyond the time of starting, the Clerk of the Weather could be easily coaxed by whistling, screaching in the mast, or some similar honored propitiatory custom. The organization of the Meteorological Bureau brought about a complete change. Whether the scientific gentlemen in charge of this department were disgusted with the barbaric practices of the ancient mariners, or whether Boreas himself was offended at the undue popularity indulged in at his shortcomings has never been satisfactorily determined, but the fact remains that, until lately, the advice of Old Probabilities has been decidedly unfavorable to the yachtsmen, and nothing but picnic weather has been served out for regattas.

Saturday was, however, a grand exception, and it is hoped may prove the earnest of a better state of things. The occasion was that of the R. C. Y. C. race for the Lorne cup, and towards noon, the competing yachts were seen to be hoisting their mainsails and getting ready for action. Although from the peculiar conditions of the race the entries were only three, there was a great deal of interest attached to the contest, inasmuch as Vice-commodore Cockburn's new schooner, named after her predecessor, the Oriole, was to make her debut and test her speed against the well-tried cutters, Aileen and Verve.

At 1.30 the preparatory gun was fired, and half an hour later the yachts made a fine start, almost together, but with the Oriole leading. The run to the western channel was accomplished in good style, the Aileen and Verve getting up their spinnakers, but Oriole making them in on nearing the Queen's wharf. They then headed south to clear the harbor buoys; and the yachts passed quite handily the bell buoy off the Island, which was rounded in the following order:

Aileen 2.41, Oriole 2.42, Verve 2.43.

A beat of five miles to buoy No. 3, which was placed opposite Victoria Park, now followed, and the sailing qualities of the yachts were put to a severe test. The sea was lumpy, with fair sized rollers, a condition which proved very unfavorable to the Verve. The Aileen still kept the lead and increased her pace, and the Oriole, though a schooner, surprised all by the manner in which she kept up with the cutter, pointing almost as high, and going through the water at a rapid rate. Buoy No. 3 was rounded as follows:

Aileen, 3.53; Oriole, 4; Verve, 4.24.

A free run was made to buoy No. 4, situate at the apex of a triangle of which the former course was the base. The Aileen had a great lead and set her big jib topsail; the Oriole followed with her balloon main top-mast stay-sail and racing jib-topsail. The schooner, with starboard sheets, now began to show her characteristic qualities, and gained nearly four minutes on her rival. The order in passing the buoy was:

Aileen 4.30, Oriole 4.33.

The time of the Verve was not taken, as the interest had now centred on the other contestants. The Aileen set her spinaker, and the Oriole attempted to do the same, but in a few seconds the boom snapped and the sail had to be taken in. Notwithstanding this the schooner went like a racehorse, and in a short time passed the cutter, increasing her distance every moment. On a line being taken from Hanlan's to the Exhibition wharf it was found that the Oriole was now fully six minutes ahead, and as it was stipulated in the printed sailing regulations, that the race was to be finished outside, the victory was hers, provided the tonnage allowance would not amount to more than this, which is a question not yet decided, as the measurements of the new yacht have not been officially determined. The boats continued on, and a beat through the western channel was necessitated. In this the cutter, by her shorter length, and quickness in stays, again came to the front, and her arrival was announced by the first gun fired at the Yacht Club Wharf, the Oriole following a few minutes later and the Verve some thirty minutes after wards.

As the calculations of measurement have not yet been fully made, and the finishing point being in doubt, the result of the race has not yet been announced. The general impression appears to be that the Aileen's tonnage allowance will give her the race, but it is also evident that the cutter, which has hitherto been victorious, will now have to look sharply to her laurels.

The Wheel Tournament at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Sept. 4.—At the meeting of the New York State Division League of American Wheelmen here to-day the five-mile championship was won by S. P. Hollingsworth, of Russellville, Ind., after a hot race with Kavanaugh. Time 15.23¼. W. F. Barber of Rochester broke the unicycle record, covering a mile in 3.37½.

In the mile open race there were seven starters. A close and exciting contest resulted in H. P. Davies of Toronto taking first prize, a gold medal, beating S. P. Hollingsworth of Russellville, Ind., about a foot. E. A. Gamble was a good third, with the others close after him. Winner's time, 2.48, fastest ever made on the track.

Davies of Toronto took the lead in the three-mile handicap race, and was not headed by any of his companions. He won easily in 8.36. J. Dukelow of Rochester was second and A. M. Montgomery, Lockport, third.

The Toronto Cricket Club v. Toronto Bankers.

The Toronto Bankers were worsted on Saturday for the second time this year by the Toronto club. The Toronto Bankers were unfortunately without the services of Mr. G. W. Yarker, who has come to the front conspicuously lately as a player of the grand old game. It was perhaps fortunate for the club, as there is no telling what harm the shade of George Anthony Barber might have wrought the inquiloting club. The clubran up 61. Saunders played up to the notch for 26, not out. The Bankers lacked backbone 2 wickets, piling up 44 runs, but the remainder fell for 4 runs. G. Brown appeared for the first time in his cricketing career as a demon bowler, five wickets falling to his cunning for that number of runs.

Ontario v. Great emen of England.

The Ontario eleven which meets the Englishmen on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, has been announced and is as follows: A. C. Allan, Jones Vickers and Wilson (Toronto), Harley and H. Guthrie (Guelph), Simpson (Galt), F. G. Allan (T. C. S., Port Hope), M. Hamilton (Peterboro). The team is a capital one and should give a good account of itself.

The Sawbones v. Peterboro.

Dr. Ross Cameron made a century on Saturday against Peterboro. Dr. H. C. Scudding just missed it by five runs. The total Sawbone score was 218. To bat against this gigantean score was a heavy task. Peterboro got 88 for the first innings and 123 for one wicket in the second. R. T. A. Bell got 87 not out and M. Hamilton 25 not out.

The Fourth Day at Sheepshead.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY, Sept. 4.—First race, ⅞ mile—Matins won, Goliath second, Rio D'Or third; time 1.15⅞. Second race, a mile and a furlong—Brown Duke won, Fonso second, Attorney third; time 1.57½. Third race, a mile and a half—Rupert won, Houseatonic second, Aretino third; time 2.33¼. Fourth race, a mile and a furlong—Supervisor (late Jim Guest won, War Eagle second, Gleaner third; time 1.57. Fifth race, one mile—Elizabeth won, Pilot second, Tattler third; time 1.45.

Hanlan to Row in England.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—Hanlan's challenge to Beach will be accepted, as Beach's backers are eager to make the match. Hanlan has cabled here to have quarters prepared for him at Putney, where he will stay with Gaudaur. In the event of Beach and Hanlan being unable to agree upon a referee, Corbett, the champion scullers now in England will be ready to meet Hanlan, so that he need not return home without a race.

The English Cricketers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—The English cricketers, victorious and happy, left this city for Niagara Falls yesterday morning, where they will remain until Monday, when they go to Toronto. After a three days' sojourn there the team will visit Montreal and play there on Sept. 11, 13 and 14. In their return they will pass at Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia, reaching New York on Sept. 27 and going back to Philadelphia Oct. 1.

Jem Smith's Next Opponent a Toronto Boy.

From the Canadian Sportsman.

Few people are aware that Knifton, the 81 tonner, who is to fight Jem Smith for the championship of England shortly, is a Toronto boy and used to work for Thompson & Flannigan, the famous cattle and beef exporters, in the market. Mr. Thompson was over in England time and time again to see Knifton about old times. That now distinguished individual expressed the greatest confidence in his ability to defeat Smith, and said that when he had accomplished that task he intended to return home and polish off Sullivan. The information that Knifton, who, by the way, migrated to England with a shipment of cattle, is a Canadian will greatly increase the interest this side of the Atlantic in the struggle for the laurels that Sayers once wore.

General Notes.

Financially the Buffalo bicycling tournament was not a success, the Buffalo-Utica baseball match catching the crowd.

At Hartford, Conn., Saturday, Arab won the first race, 2.17 class; best time, 2.17¼. Charlie Ross took first money in the 2.21 class; best time, 2.19¾. Viking won the 2.25 race; best time, 2.20¼.

The gross winnings of Tremont, Inspector B. and Miss Woodford, the Dwyer Bros. great trio of race-horses, last year were $189,135, of which Tremont has contributed $40,135, Inspector B. $38,375, and Miss Woodford $21,630.

The trustees of the International canoe cup race at New York Saturday were Messrs. the English canoe Nautilus, the Lassie being second. The second race was won by the Lassie, the beaten boat, the Nautilus. There were four entries. The deciding heat will be sailed Monday.

The Vicomte de la Motte-Rouge, the Inspecteur Generale des Haras d'Alencon, accompanied by M. Henry Le Conteuex de Catumont, officer of the staid, has arrived in New York, being on an official tour of inspection of American horses.

A two-mile sculling race took place Saturday on the bay between T. F. Higgins and Geo. Cunningham. They rowed neck and neck for a turn and then Higgins being the outside turn around secured an advantage which he never lost, winning easily by two lengths.

A small gasoline launch was raced under the grand stand at the Columbus, O., fair grounds race track Friday. Some one cried "fire," and there was a panic among the 7,000 people on the stand. In the scramble to the exits women were trampled upon and bruised and some women fainted, but no one was seriously injured.
