Truth for the Million.

The great number of parties, (including the most eminent physicians of the Province,) who have tested to the efficacy of these waters, while they proved them high in the estimation of the Medical Profession, and the proprietors of various other Springs, to try to put their waters into more favour than this. These other Springs have been known to the public in the distance for fifty years, and in that time have they done? Have they anything to show for the patronage they have received from the public? Have they done aught since the Plantagenet Springs came into the field? It is now only three years since the Plantagenet Waters were introduced to the Public, and in that short space of time what has become of other Springs, which have been before them? Can any amount of puffing, or in the public believe that they deserve the patronage in the same breath with the Plantagenet Spring? It may be safely said that no one has ever used the Plantagenet Water without the use of any other water. Their inferiority is so patent, and they are comparatively so worthless, that indeed have declared that they would more pay money, than for the best of them. Yet some of these Springs have a great advantage in locality over the Plantagenet, in as much as they are nearer Montreal, and are accessible, (if they are worth seeking,) to all classes without difficulty.

One great cause of this preference is the distinct character of the Plantagenet Water, and more particularly its solidity of body, and the jellicose quality it possesses, which distinguishes it in a remarkable degree from all other waters. These appear poor and thin in comparison with it. It may be truly said to have done more for the public health in four years, than any other water can ever performed in fifty, and some of the cures it has effected are truly miraculous. Many of these facts are already before the public, and others can be ascertained at Plantagenet, to where the public are invited to judge for themselves. In severe cases of rheumatism and other chronic diseases it is almost infallible, a number of cases having occurred where parties who had lost the use of their limbs have been restored to health and vigor by the use of it. The public are invited (in confirmation of this fact) to peruse the numerous testimonials of medical men and others, and of a similarly that of Dr. Nelson, who speaks of effects produced on members of his own family. Such being the case, it cannot be wondered at that the Plantagenet Water has driven all competitors from the field, and that its value should be placed so high above all other Springs ever discovered in the country.

In evidence of this, it is only necessary to refer to the opinions of the eminent Physicians, and private individuals, who have certified to the virtue of the Plantagenet Waters, and who regard it as a boon to the country.

In conclusion, it is to be borne in mind, that it is not simply as a saline drink that these Waters are beneficial, but because they have an oily, fattening property, unknown to any Water besides. There is a fact, but one Plantagenet spring, and the more that is known, the higher its reputation, and the more all others sink into insignificance beside it.

It is enough to read the names given below, of parties who have used the Plantagenet Waters, to be satisfied of their superior excellency over all others:—Doctors Crawford, W. Nelson, W. Fraser, Hector Nelson, George W. Campbell, Archibald Hall, Alex. McCulloch, Robert L. McDonnell, J. G. Raoul, E. H. Trudel, H. Mondelet, Lapinton, S. C. Sewell, F. Badgley, H. Peltier, J. E. Cadotte, L. F. Tavernier, G. D. Gibb, T. E. Ferrall, James Grant, L. H. Masson, S. B. Tassell, W. F. Smith, P. Munro, T. Bedard, W. Wright, L. Boyer; the Hon. A. N. Morin; the Hon. Peter Mitchell; the Hon. Louis Joseph Papineau; C. Wilson, Esq., Mayor; E. Pateman, Ex-Mayor; — Bellerose, Esq., Mayor of Quebec; D. Bernard, Esq.; Louis Boyer, Esq.; E. McLaughlan, Esq.; J. Kelly, N. P.; Maurice Roux, Esq.; J. S. Cameron, Esq.; and many others.

Sold only at No. 4, Place d'Armes, Montreal, where parties from the country, who wish it, can be supplied at liberal rates.

For sale also in Beauharnois by Mr. Robertson; and in Carrillon by McCuen, Esq., Plantagenet Hotel open for visitors.

LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY,

No. 1, Princess Street, Bank, London.

CAPITAL—ONE MILLION STERLING.

Empowered by Special Act of Parliament, 4 Vict., Chap. 9.

REDUCED RATES OF PREMIUM—HALF CREDIT RATES OF PREMIUM.

THE great and decided success which has attended this Institution, has induced the Directors to REDUCE the RATES originally required in British North America, to the ordinary European Rates. The result of such Reduction is to enable parties to avail themselves of the important benefits to Life Assurance at much lower Rates of Premium than those of any other Assurance Company transacting business in Canada.

The Directors have also resolved to extend to British North America the advantages afforded by the HALF CREDIT RATES of PREMIUM which have been so highly approved, and are so generally adopted by Policy Holders in the United Kingdom. The most liberal conditions are likewise offered to the Assured in the limits to which they may proceed by sea or land, to other parts of North America without affecting their interest in their respective Policies.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 15, 1851.

Legislative Assembly.

SATURDAY, Aug. 9.

Mr. Christie rose to explain of the Hon. Inspector General, whose chair Mr. Lawrence had left vacant. He had been informed that the sub-Collector at Gaspé, on his return from office, and seemed to say either that he was asking the question was that he had learned from unquestionable authority, that the gentleman was actively canvassing the electors of Gaspé County at the next general election. To this course he (Mr. Christie) could have no objection, it being free to every gentleman who had by law disqualified to offer himself as a candidate; but he must say that if the gentleman mentioned still held the office of Sub-Collector of Gaspé, which office while he held it, rendered him ineligible to a seat in Parliament, he was imagining himself and should be told so. It is true and that he is acting himself of his official influence to secure his election; holding out that if he succeeded he would be agreeable to the Inspector General, the head of his department. Mr. Christie, however, did the Inspector General the justice to believe that he had no participation whatever, and questioned if he even now knew of Mr. Kavanagh's proceedings, and which he felt well assured would not meet with the Inspector General's approval, so long as that gentleman was an officer of his department.

Mr. Hincks, in answer, stated that his honible friend, the member for Gaspé, did him no more than justice in disbelieving that he had any participation whatever, or indeed knowledge, until now, when he was informed of it for the first time, that Mr. Kavanagh was canvassing at Gaspé as a candidate for the representation of the County. [illegible] was still the Sub-Collector there, but had tendered his resignation in expectation of another situation at Montreal, in the branch of the Customs Department which remained under the direction of the Imperial Government. The Inspector-General had no hesitation in saying that if he were canvassing, he was acting improperly; though it may be possible that having tendered his resignation, he may have thought himself free to canvass the electors.

Mr. Christie believed that by law no person in the department is eligible to a seat in the Legislature, whether acting in one or the other branch of it. He (Mr. Christie) was informed, however, that Mr. Kavanagh was still acting as Sub-Collector, and it was said he was availing himself of the influence which his official position gave him to carry favour in certain quarters in a way to cause dissatisfaction in others, towards whom it seems less accommodating, but how truly or the reverse, he could not say.

Mr. Hincks took the opportunity of referring to what he had said on a previous day, relative to some supposed negotiation. Taking up a paper that morning, he saw an insinuation that when he had alleged that Government had had nothing to do with these negotiations, he had, in fact, screened himself behind the word Government; and that he (Mr. Hincks) had carried on the said negotiations himself. He believed no member in the House would think that he had attempted to screen himself behind a quibble, and he repeated now that the negotiations had reference to only one object—the establishment of a newspaper.

The following bills were read a third time, viz—For the relief of the estate of the late Alexander Wood; to consolidate the General Railway Clauses; to incorporate Montreal and Kingston Railway, to incorporate Kingston and Toronto Junction Railway Company's and to amend Bytown and Prescott Railway Company's Act.

On the order of the day for receiving the report of the Committee of the whole, on the bill to enforce attendance of witnesses in civil cases, Mr. Richards moved a number of amendments, which were all negatived, and the report being concurred, in the bill was ordered to be read a third on Monday.

The Supplemental estimates were then agreed to.

With relation to the grant for the North American Telegraph Company, Mr. Hincks said that this line went through an uninhabit d country, and in reply to an application for assistance the government determined instead of taking stock to give a gratuity of £500, to be paid when the line should be finished.

On the vote for £1000 to protect the fisheries, Mr. LaFontaine explained, that the object of this grant was to keep up a steamer in connection with the other Colonies for the protection of the fishermen, who were now driven off their ground by the Americans and French.

Mr. Merritt contended that it would be better to give bounties to the fishermen as was done by France and the United States.

Mr. LaFontaine said the fishermen only asked for protection against force; not for bounties.

Mr. Hincks thought the hon member for Lincoln a most extraordinary free trader. What were bounties but taxes levied on all the rest of the people, to add to the profits of a popular class. If the fisheries were profitable, why should the fishermen have an addition to their gains at the expense of other people. If they were not profitable why charge any one with taxes in order to induce people to go into an unprofitable business, which they would not otherwise engage in.

On the item of £4000 for the Post Office at Toronto, Mr Merritt objected to it as a most profligate grant. There would soon be plenty of suitable buildings at Toronto (why not take one of them?)

Mr. Sellmour (Scott) Mcdonald thought money would be saved by building the Post Office instead of renting them. At Hamilton the Postmaster charged £140 a year rent for his office.

Mr. Merritt—What's the interest on £4000.

After the whole of the items had been passed through.

Mr. Boulton moved an amendment to the effect that the items of the estimates should be printed with the statutes. This he said was the practice in the United States, and in every British American Colony except Canada. Even in Upper Canada this had been done under the Republican name as they were called, of toryism and the family compact.

Mr. Hincks remarked that several of the newspapers had already published the estimates in full, and they would be printed in the journals now about to be distributed through the country. The whole intention of the hon member, too, was this, that he might have an opportunity of making a long speech on party point. The humble member for Haldimand had taken up one half of the evening in himself, and he thought that was enough, without opening a door for more debate.

Mr. Mackenzie did not understand being thus lectured by the hon Inspector General, who had formerly spoken quite as strongly as he [Mr Mackenzie] on all the subjects on which he had addressed the House. The hon member, however, had got an office, and had his principles, and had now gone the complete round of everything. He came to the Province a tory, acted with the tories and voted with them some in the memorable elections, till he came into the People's Bank with the reformers and then joined them in politics. He therefore thought the hon member the last man to lecture him only for his consistency. Providence had spared no pains upon the hon member's brains, but he should not lecture others. He went on to show that the proposed plan prevented Washington.

Mr. Scott [Two Mountains] complained that the hon member was breaking a promise he had given to a member of opposition. Instead of this he was making bonhomie speeches.

Mr. Mackenzie had never made a bonhomie speech in his life. He had always been ready to sacrifice everything personal, when in a position of independence, for his principles. The hon member did not think it bonhomie when £500 had been offered for the hon member's head.

Mr Hincks said he would agree to the motion if it were understood that when the Bill of Supply came up the items would not be discussed a third time.

Mr Boulton assented; but

Mr Geo. Sherwood hoped the hon member would take a special understanding to that effect; for there were certain members who would make their good independence could not resist the temptation of taking (laughter.)

The motion was then carried, and the Supply bill read a first time.

The Bytown and Prescott Railway Incorporation bill was read a third time.

The House went into Committee on the bill to confirm certain Grants in the Clerks of Chancery; and passed through the House the House resumed in the report.

The House went again into Committee on the fourth reading of the Municipal Committee of printing. This report was received, as the estimates of printer, copies of bills instead of the various parchment copy which has been hitherto used in their third stage of progress; and various resolutions passed through the Committee which were concurred in by the House; and a bill founded thereon was read a first time.

The bill to improve the law of evidence, Canada East, was read a second time on motion of Mr. Badgley.

The following bills were read a second time:—To prohibit whipping of Pub. Rec. in certain cases.—Mr. Boulton (Toronto.)

To facilitate conveyance by married women living in foreign countries, for their interests in Real Estate in Upper Canada.—Col. Prince.

To provide payment of Mounted in Gaols.—Mr. Boulton (Toronto.) (This bill was ordered to be confined to Toronto.)

To provide for the collection of claims against Vessels.—Mr. MacFarland. (Referred to a Select Committee.)

To abolish Special Bailiwicks, &c.—Mr. Smith (Durham.)

To exempt Firemen from serving on Juries.—Mr. Boulton (Toronto.)

To amend Act relative to Bills of Exchange.—Mr. Holmes.

The following bill received the three months' postponement on a motion for its third reading—To enforce attendance of witnesses in civil cases.—Mr. Sherwood (Brockville.)

The following bills were introduced by the hon. Mr. Hincks:

To amend the act for regulating the shipping of seamen.

To amend the laws regulating the election of members in certain counties, in as far as relates to the rate of assess.

The House received the report of a Committee of the Whole on the bill to incorporate the St. Lawrence School for Medicine.

On Mr. Scott (Two Mountains) moving the reception by the House of the report of the Committee of the Whole on the bill to afford a remedy against depredations by railrafts,

Mr. Malloch moved the reception of the bill that day three months.

Mr. Scott (Two Mountains) gave some reasons for this motion.

Mr. Flint said it was easy to give a reason. The bill provided that if any depredations were committed on land by raftsmen, the owner of the raft, though not present, should be made responsible for anything they did; and that if the raft were two miles away from the place where the depredation took place, that fact should serve as a notice, and enable the party to begin his action. Ayes 24, nays 14.

Mr. Morrison moved the second reading of the bill for securing the independence of municipal Councils, which was carried, and then agreed.

Mr. Merritt moved again that the bill be read again to-morrow.

Mr. Malloch moved in amendment that the bill be read again that day three months.

Messrs. Smith (Frontenac) and Robinson argued that if it passed, it would disqualify the best qualified men in many townships. The Attorney-General ought to be a liberty to choose those persons in whom they place confidence. The amendment was carried, Yeas 20, Nays 19.

Mr. Badgley moved the House into Committee on the Temporalities of the Church of England in the dioceses of Montreal bill.

Mr. Morrison moved that the Committee do rise, which was lost.

The Bill having then passed through Committee, Mr. Badgley moved the reception of the report by the House.

Mr. MacKenzie objected to the reception of the report in nearly the same terms as reported on second reading of the bill.

Mr. Flint followed, reiterating Mr. MacKenzie's argument.

Mr. Morrison expressed his desire to record his vote against the bill in every stage, as he believed it would be productive of the very worst effects upon the country, and also upon the Church of England.

Col. Prince contended that the Church of England should be allowed to manage its own affairs.

Mr. MacKenzie said he would move the six months hoist, which he did after a speech of some length on the principle of State Churches, contending that this principle had reduced the people of Rome from the highest in the world into a set of miserable slaves.

Mr. Morrison defended the position he had assumed in favor of the Church of England.

Motion lost: Yeas 8, Nays 40.

The Yeas and Nays stood as follows:—Yeas—Messrs. Burwell, Cameron (Huron), Cameron (Toronto), Christie, Cook, Dunkin, Ferguson (Leeds and Grenville), Fitzsimon, Flint, Foley, Fortier, Gaucher, Hall, Hincks, Holmes, Lafontaine, Lafontaine (Verchères), Lafontaine (Terrebonne), Lafontaine (Kamouraska), Lemieux, Lyons, Macdonald (Glengarry), Macdonald (Kingston), Macdonald (Cornwall), Malloch, Mathieson, Merritt, Morris, Morrison, Papineau, Pelletier, Perrault, Prince, Richards, Robinson, Sherwood (Leeds), Smith (Frontenac), Smith (Wellington), Stevenson, Thibaudeau, Wilson—40.

TO FATHERS OF FAMILIES.

Bile and foul state of the stomach causes more sickness and deaths in families than all other causes of disease put together. In the latter part of Summer and Autumn, when the atmosphere everywhere is poisoned from fetid vegetation, bilious fevers and Agues and decay of vegetation, whole families are laid down by Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague and other dangerous diseases, all proceeding from a bilious and foul state of the stomach.
