The old man and the old woman were fellow passengers in a stage coach in the Virginia mountains, and the old woman kept staring at him as if trying to remember. At last she said: "Stranger, 'pears to me I seen you somewhar." The old man e, ed her reflectively and scratched his head. "Spec you have," said he. "Ah been thar."

The minister was hurrying to the station, when the village scapegrace stopped him. "If ye'll gie me hauf-a-crown," he said in a wheedling tone, "I've some information that might be verra usefu' tae ye." The minister replied—"I have no time t. listen to your story." "Eh, but sir, ye'll be verra sorry if e' dinna get this hint frae me." "Oh, well, here's a shilling; now, what is it?" "Minister, I'll tell ye, though it's too cheap for a shilling. If ye're ever pit in the toon jail try and get the second cell on the left han' side. It's the maist comfortable cell, for I've tried them all!"
