Seen and Heard at Double-Header

The eventful eighth innings will will long be remembered in tandom as the first time they have seen such a swat fest this season. But the Brants got out of the hitting mood during the next game, and only made a weak single. Pitcher Close showed that he had a homer and a double in five times at homer and a double in five times at homer and bone-head plays There seems to be no doubt that

Mike Mullin is a warm weather player. In his five times up, he walloped out a homer, double and a single, scoring two runs.

He managed to whole MacBride bunch were on their to worry through the two games without any trouble. In the last game, the Saints fourth was a freak. The three men up hit the ball into exactly the same spot and were all thrown out by Fried. Manager Stewart, at the beginning of the second game threatened to protest the match if two new balls were not put into play. He had to kick about something, especially after the Brants had smashed out so many in the previous game.
