MOVIES, MUSIC AND DRAMA

AT THE BRANT.

The attractions for the Brant theatre for next week promise to be well up to the excellent standard of this popular play house.

For the first three days the feature photo drama will be "The Golden Chance," a special Laskey production with Wallace Reid and Cleo Ridgely as stars. The vaudeville bill promises to be of extra merit, headed by The Six Cornettes, three men and three women in a sensational comedy acrobatic novelty and the Leslie Sisters, Australian Nightingales.

Valeska Suratt, the renowned American actress will be seen on Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the famous Laskey photo drama, "The Immigrant." In this stirring play Miss Suratt will be supported by an all star cast. The Ding Dong Five, a big Gypsy musical specialty, and The Gypsy Meredith Co., will be the vaudeville offerings for these three days.

TWO DISTINGUISHED STARS. Cleo Ridgely and Wallace Reid, the distinguished Laskey stars who will appear together in "The Golden Chance" at the Brant on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, will be seen, according to Cecil B. DeMille, the Laskey director-general, in the first real love story ever seen on the screen.

"The Golden Chance" has to do with the adventures of Mary Denby, the wife of the drunken thief, Steve Denby, who is thrust by the society woman for whom she is working, to fill a vacancy at a dinner, where a wealthy young bachelor falls head over heels in love with her and his affection is reciprocated; how the husband in attempting to burglarize the house finds his wife and later attempts to blackmail the young bachelor, but is killed after a desperate fight; must be seen to be appreciated.

In the cast supporting Miss Ridgely and Mr. Reid are such well known artists as Horace B. Carpenter, Edythe Chapman, Raymond Hatten, Ernest Joy, Hazel Childers, and other members of the Laskey all-star stock company.

British Progress Continues in German East Africa

Arusha Has Been Occupied and the Enemy Driven From His Line on the Ruwu River.

London, March 24.—Telegrams to the War Office from General Smuts, commander of the British forces in German East Africa, indicate that the German forces were dislodged from the defensive positions on the Lumi river and the Kitovo hills by operations from March 7 to 12. They retreated to positions in the thick forest along the Ruwu River.

On March 19 there was bush fighting in the vicinity of Kahe, the enemy stubbornly resisting. On the 20th a British force occupied Arusha, dislodging the enemy.

At Duesing the enemy attacked during the night, but were driven off with severe losses. In the meantime a strong mounted force traversing the bush country seized the Kahe railway station and many houses. The force then occupied a hill to the southeast of Kahe. This threat against their retreat decided the operations commenced March 7, and concluded March 12, effected their retreat through Kahe to a further series of defensive positions constructed in the thick forest belt, which lies along the Ruwu River. Direct pursuit was rendered difficult by a heavy rainfall and numerous swollen streams over which the bridges had been destroyed.

"The period between March 13 and 17 was spent in re-organizing the troops and transports and repairing roads and bridges for motor traffic. On March 18 the forces were pushed south to occupy Kilevo and Unterer Himo in close contact with the enemy on the Ruwu River.

"On the 19th there was a good deal of bush fighting in the vicinity of Kahe, the enemy maintaining a stubborn resistance.

"On March 20, a mounted force occupied Arusha, dislodging an enemy detachment. The night of March 20-21, strong bodies of infantry bivouacked in the Ruwu forest, in close contact with the German entrenchments. The enemy made a strong night attack, but was driven off with severe losses.

"Meantime a strong force of South African troops marched by night from Moshi, and, traversing the thick bush country, reached a point on the Pangani station by daybreak. The railway station was seized and many stores captured. The railway bridge over the Pangani river has been partially destroyed.

HEAVY LOSSES INFLICTED. "The mounted troops then established themselves on the hills southeast of Kahe, in contact with the enemy. This threat against their line of retreat decided the enemy to hold on throughout the whole day of the 21st with a view to effecting a further retirement under cover of darkness.

"Reinforcements reached him from the south by railway during the operations. Thus we were enabled to inflict heavy losses, which would not have been possible had the German forces been free to abandon their positions earlier. As it was they maintained an obstinate resistance.

"The night of March 21-22 the entire Ruwu line was evacuated and the enemy retired south along the Tanga railway, leaving a 4.1 inch gun, belonging to the cruiser Koenigsburg in our hands. The operations continue."
