Appreciation of Mr. Ireland

The following resolution was passed at the meeting of the Brantford Hydro-Electric Commission on May 12th:
Moved by Mr. McFarland, seconded by Mr. Wedlake: That the Hydro-Electric Commission of Brantford desire to place on record their great appreciation of the valuable services of Mr. Ireland. Under his capable and economical management in the construction of the Hydro-Electric system here we believe that he has saved the city thousands of dollars and given us an efficient and durable plant, which since its inception has given every satisfaction. His management of the system since the close of construction has been highly satisfactory to the commission and to the customers of Hydro, and it is with very deep regret that we have to accept Mr. Ireland's resignation. He leaves us to accept a situation of much more promise and greater chance for promotion, and we wish him the greatest success and happiness in his new position.

destructive fire. Numerous casualties were suffered but the men from Edmonton held on to their posts with grim determination.
Finally, after a prolonged and furious blast, the firing suddenly ceased and at a point where the lines are very close together, a party of Germans made a dash for our trenches. In view of the terrific bombardment apparently no opposition was expected. The enemy was taken by surprise. In a flash our soldiers under Lieut. R. C. Arthur had leaped to their feet. From the shattered parapets a withering hail of bullets from rifles and machine guns struck the advancing Germans before they had reached half way. Bombs fell among them thick and fast and in the withering light many were seen to fall. The impetus of their assault was broken long yards from our trenches. Out of an original party of twenty only two reached our line, an officer and a sergeant. Staggering blindly over the parapet both these men fell into our trench and were taken prisoners. The non-commissioned officer died of his wounds within two hours. The officer who led the attacking party had been hit seven times in the right leg, three times in the left and once in the right arm, but had nevertheless reached his goal.
Whether or not other assaulting parties attempted to come across on this occasion and were driven back by our fire is uncertain. It is considered probable that they did, but in the darkness, except at closest range, accurate observation is impossible. At all events, owing to the unflinching resolution of our soldiers in hanging on to their line under tremendous difficulties, prevented them from accomplishing their desired object.
Lieut. W. E. Doherty, better known as "Ted" Doherty, of Toronto, was in charge of a bombing party in a crater. During a bombardment he was struck by a shell, his left leg being taken off above the knee. Unconscious, he was carried back to battalion headquarters. When he awakened his first question was "Did they get the crater," and to the last his battalion was paramount in his thoughts. In the words of an officer who knew him quite well, "he was a plucky little kid."

With the Soldiers

NOTES OF THE 125th.

Officer of the day, Capt. Bingle; next for duty, Capt. Jordan. Subaltern of the day, Lt. Verity; next for duty Lt. Grobb.

No. 13 platoon, the brass and bugle bands and casuals received instruction in first aid at the Conservatory of Music this morning.

Weather permitting, another outdoor service will be held by the 125th to-morrow, when the battalion will parade to Tutela Park. To the present, good weather has always favored the open air services, and it is to be hoped that to-morrow will prove no exception.

All preparations for the football game against the 180th Toronto Sportsmen this afternoon have been completed, and a fast encounter is assured. A battalion soft ball team will also clash with the Beavers at Tutela park this afternoon.

The undermentioned officers are detailed to attend a class in map reading on Tuesday's and Thursday's, 9.00 to 10.00 a.m., commencing 23rd inst.: Major H. J. G. McLean, Capt. A. C. Emmons, Capt. S. R. Wallace, Lieut. H. B. Preston, Mr. Verity, H. J. Stratford, M. G. Smith, C. H. Wallace, J. P. Orr, C. Slemm, R. Brown, C. M. Sheppard.

The following additional officers from last class will take the lectures and practical work: Capt. Bingle, James and Cockshutt; Lieut. Bunnell and Seago.

The following will take practical work only: Capt. Jordan, Lieut. Grobb and Coghill.

NOTES OF THE 215th.

Four recruits were obtained yesterday by the 215th Battalion, whose strength is now 282.
Lt. Col. Cockshutt, Capt. Richardson, and Mr. J. H. Fisher, M.P., will speak at a recruiting rally in Burford to-morrow night.

The battalion will parade to Sydenham St. Methodist Church for divine service at 11 to-morrow morning. Rev. Mr. Smythe, pastor of the church, will conduct the service.

An excellent musical and sporting program has been arranged for to-night's concert, which will include vocal numbers by Miss Hilda Hurley, Miss Helen Oldham and Sergt. Oldham, and recitations by Miss Richards and Miss E. Middlemiss.

NOTES OF THE 216th.

A fresh and previously unworked field for the 216th Battalion, is being opened in Brant County, and that it is proving fruitful soil is evidenced by the steadiness with which recruiting continues. In three days' work, eight men have been received for the 216th Battalion, and it is expected that many more are expected. On Monday the work of canvassing the outlying districts of the county will be commenced, men going to Paris on that day. On Tuesday the work will be visited, and on Wednesday, Apr. 21, Capt. Blaney and Lt. McKissock are in Toronto on regimental business to-day.

The battalion sergeant tailor will arrive in the city on Tuesday for the purpose of fitting all men signed up with uniforms.

Got Three Weeks

Liverpool, May 20.—Max Wood Moorhead, claiming to be an American "independent" missionary, who arrived on May 13 to attend a Bible conference, was sentenced yesterday to three weeks' imprisonment and recommended for deportation, for neglecting to notify the authorities of a change in address.

NEW HOSPITAL

A scheme has been inaugurated by the Lord Provost of Glasgow for the establishment and endowment of a Scottish hospital for limbless sailors and run, and even play football. This skilled artist now employed a man maimed on the battlefield can walk and run, and even play football. This is happening at the Limbless Hospital in England; within a few months it will be repeated at Erskine House, another hospital in Scotland.

"BOTTLE WEEK"

Remarkable success has attended "Bottle Week" in Aberdeen, and a little over 150,000 bottles have been collected and stored at the cleansing department's premises. A good many lots have yet to come in from the city and it is expected that the 150,000 aimed at will be more than realized.

BODY FOUND

Distressing details were given at an inquest at Palmer's Green the other day on a widow. It appeared that the neighbors had not seen the woman for several days. When the police endeavored to enter the house three large dogs sprang at them and showed so fierce a demeanor that it was necessary to obtain a gun and shoot the animals. The woman's body was then found. She was partially clad, and a portion of the body had been eaten away by the dogs, who were starving. Medical evidence showed that she had died from heart failure, and that the body was attacked by the dogs after death.

GRUMBLINGS OF BRITISH MEAN CHEER TO THE ENEMY; GERMANS CANNOT COMPLAIN

By Jerome K. Jerome in Lloyd's Weekly News.

Suppose the news reached us day by day and week by week that the Germans were chiefly occupied in quarrelling among themselves; that half the German press were busy proclaiming aloud that everything in Germany was rotten; that her rulers were traitors, and all her officials incompetent asses. Suppose we gathered from the German papers that the general staff was being held up to ridicule throughout Germany as an effete and useless collection of nincompoops. It started out to conquer France in three months, and then, turning east, defeat Russia before she had time to bring up her resources. The whole plan had miscarried. There could be no hope for victory till every unit of the general staff had been scrapped, and certain popular journalists and notoriety-mongers appointed in their stead. Suppose we heard that Hindenburg's statue in Berlin instead of being decorated with golden nails was being covered chiefly with mud. Why was he not already at Riga and Petrograd?

KNOCKING EVERYTHING.

Suppose the German papers were filled with virulent attacks on Mackensen. Why had he failed to settle the Turkish business? Why was Russia at Erzerum and Ispahan? Was this the way to make "Germany" supreme from Berlin to Baghdad? The Serbian army reforming, Greece wavering, Rumania making ready to join the allies. All this the consequence of Mackensen's miserable miscalculations. Down with Field Marshal Mackensen! Suppose we heard in the German papers furious attacks upon the German Foreign Office. Its contemptible diplomacy—Italy driven into the enemy's arms, America antagonized. Suppose we heard of German politicians denouncing each day the German Board of Admiralty. Where was that much-talked-of blockade of England? Why were German submarines allowed to be caught by English nets? Why had not the German navy dug out the English fleet and sunk it? Suppose we read of public meetings called to suppress the anger and contempt of the German people at the shameful inadequacy of the German air fleet service. Why had not London been destroyed? Why this absurd sentimentalism that refrained from wiping England out of the sea?

WHY, OH WHY, OH WHY
It could be done so easily. All that was wanted was a "hundred" of them sand Zeppelins with suitable equipment.

ment. Why had they not been provided? Why were enemy aeroplanes allowed to drop bombs on Freiburg? Kill good German citizens in Karlsruhe? Suppose we read of public men in Germany maintaining that nothing else should be considered of importance but the safety of the citizens of Freiburg and Karlsruhe. The men in the trenches must wait. A million of them have died. What does that matter? That is what is there for. These bombs are killing the comfortable stay-at-homes. Why even a journalist may be injured! The army! The army is not writing letters to the papers. The needs of the army are of secondary consideration. Krupp must devote itself to providing protection for the citizens of Freiburg and Karlsruhe. Suppose that half the German papers were filled with bitter articles sneering at their own statesmen, insinuating that they were only clinging to their places for the sake of their salaries. Suppose in popular German papers we read veiled hints that the true reason for the German failure at Verdun might be looked for in the fact that the German Crown Prince's grandmother was an Englishwoman. Suppose, in short, it was evident to all the world that Germany was a seething mass of discontent, or angry recrimination, and divided councils.

WOULD CHEER US UP.

Wouldn't it buck us up? Should we not say to ourselves—whatever might be happening at the fighting front—"Never mind. We have only to hold on, and our enemy will go to pieces by the mere process of internal disruption. He has not the will to conquer. He is not man enough to shut his mouth and grit his teeth when things are going wrong. He does not understand war. He has no power of silence. The Germans are no longer a united people. Listen to them, screaming, cursing, quarrelling among themselves. We have only to stand firm and they will destroy themselves by their own disunity."

Cannot we imagine how it would strengthen the determination of every one of Germany's enemies; how it would dishearten Germany's allies? We are doing precisely this very thing. Our Times, and our Daily Mail, and our Evening News, our Morning Post, and all the rest of them, are read with delight in every cafe of Vienna and Berlin. Reports of our public meetings, of our elections, are devoured by our enemies, for in every city of Central Europe. The German government are using a section of our press to silence any doubts the German people may be harboring concerning the final result of the war. And I conceive of no better ally that they could have secured.
