There is not a bank in New York which has not taken them over its counters and paid them out unsuspectingly. So perfect were the coins Angeloni made that bank tellers argued with the Government agents. They would not be convinced that the dollars which they had accepted were spurious.

PUNCH'S EDITOR.

Sir Francis was on the staff of Punch from that time and afterwards became its editor. He wrote more than 120 plays, the majority of which are burlesques and light comedies. With Arthur Sullivan, he wrote two light operas, Contrabandista, and The Chiffonier. He adapted several German farce comedies for Augustin Daly and was the author of books of light burlesque.

DANISH KING'S BODY REMOVED.

Taken From Copenhagen to Cathedral at Roskilde.

Where It Will be Laid Beside Other Kings of Denmark.

A Copenhagen despatch: The body of King Christian was removed from the Christianberg Church here to-day to the Cathedral at Roskilde, 30 miles from Copenhagen, where it will be buried on Sunday morning among the tombs of the Danish Kings, who for a thousand years have found their last resting place in the ancient capital of the kingdom.

The whole of Copenhagen was given up to mourning. Business and work were at a standstill, while emblems of sorrow were displayed everywhere. The enormous black garbed crowds of townspeople swelled by thousands of arrivals from the country districts, thronged the square in front of the Christianberg church, and the route thence to the railway station from early morning, standing patiently for hours in order to pay a last tribute to the dead monarch.

Shortly before noon the Kings of Denmark, Greece and Norway, Queen Alexandra, of Great Britain, the Dowager Empress of Russia and other Royal relatives of the deceased, and the representatives of foreign sovereigns reached the Christianberg Church where a brief service was held, at the conclusion of which the coffin, covered with the Danish standard, was borne high by naval and military officers to the waiting hearse. Then, headed by infantry and cavalry, a simple cortege was formed and slowly proceeded through the three and a half miles of streets between the church and the railroad station.

The bells of all the churches were tolled and minute guns were fired from the arsenal throughout the progress of the cortege and until the coffin was placed on the funeral train.

This was the first time in history that the body of a Danish King has been transferred by railroad to the burial place. At the time of the death of Frederick VIII, the predecessor of King Christian, in 1863, the use of a railroad train for the conveyance of the king's body to Roskilde was not considered sufficiently dignified.

About $10,000 or $50,000 is required.

E. R. CARROLL'S TRIAL.

Pleads Guilty to Two of the Three Charges.

Guelpch despatch: Edward B. Carroll was placed on trial before Judge Chadwick this morning on three charges—first, making use of the mails for fraudulent purpose; second, obtaining $20 from a machinist in Quebec Province under false pretences, and third, obtaining $1 from Mr. C. H. Braithwaite of Harrisburg, under false pretences. Carroll pleaded guilty to the first two charges, and in mitigation of sentence Mr. Dunbar put in the box Mrs. Carroll, mother of the prisoner, who gave evidence that her son had not been in good health for a year, that his father was in an asylum, that his aunt was insane, and that his grandfather died in an asylum. Dr. Holbs, medical superintendent of Homewood Sanitarium, testified that if the prisoner's antecedents were so prone to insanity he considered that a youth of eighteen with such heredity would become violently insane if committed to jail for a long period. On the third charge, that of obtaining $1 under false pretences at Harrisburg, the prisoner pleaded not guilty.
