PECULIAR DEAL IN THE C. P. R.

Interesting Details Furnish- Amendments to Railway ed the Insurance Commission

Ottawa, March 23.—The examination ago there was an instance of premium notes being entered as cash. It was a solitary case. Mr. Shepley, the Gov-ernment counsel, remarked that it was somewhat stale and they might pass Overdraft of Half a Mililon.

In 1890 the Canada Life and Mr. Fitzgerald had some correspondence. On Dec. 31, 1889, there was a sale shown of the company's bonds to the extent of $468,000 to meet an overdraft. On Jan. 1, the sale was reversed. There was no real sale and the transaction was made to prevent the overdraft to have shown. to prevent the overdraft being shown. The cash book in January showed the bank book to be overdrawn to the extent of over half a million. Mr. Fitzgerald took this matter up with the company. A reply was received stating that the company. ting that the company got an opportunity during the year to make some good investments and purchased more than they had cash to meet. The transaction referred to took place with the appropriate of the property of the prope proval and consent of the directors.

They did not want their opponents to use the overdraft against them. The securities which were used to offset the overdraft were not among those who were returned to the Government as being held by the component ing held by the company.

Foreign Investments.

Correspondence with Mr. L. Goldman of the North American Life and B. Mac-Aulay of the Sun Life and D. Burke of the Royal Victoria Co., was submitted, in reference to their companies hav-ing invested a larger amount than per-mitted by law in foreign securities. The North American Life had two and a half times the amount authorized so invested, and Mr. MacAulay contended that his company had been unable to find sufficient Canadian securities in which to invest, and if not allowed to invest in foreign securities would have out, and this, Mr. Burt said, had been done by the children.

Mr. Curry went on to tell the witness in very plain terms that one of the books which purported to have been in use since 1903 was a new one, and copied out from the original books at the same time.

This rather startling statement the witness denied.

After an hour's cross-fire, the Phillips' inquiry was adjourned until two company were $1.295.000 in excess of the company were $21.295.000 in excess of the companies. witness denied.

After an hour's cross-fire, the Phillips' inquiry was adjourned until two o'clock in the afternoon.

Burt Says He Was Mistaken.

Burt procured other books for the afternoon sitting Burt said he had been under the impression that they were the original books, but was mistaken.

Burt could not say where the books of original entry were. Mr. Curry had all the books now, excepting his registing the books now, excepting his registing that the factory, which he had not had time to get.

Other festimeny tended to bring in the Lisxt Piano Co. as an asset of the York Loan Co.

George R. Burt claims that the business is his own. Sworn declarations of President Phillips, procured by Crown Attorney Eurry from the registrar's office, say that he (Phillips) intends to carry on the business.

If it can be shown that the business belongs te Phillips, then it also belongs to the York Loan Co. by virtue of the loan made to it by the latter company. This is the question te be decided.

A Deal In C. P. R.

In the afternoon these points were elicited from Mr. Fitzgerald: That $132,000 was paid by the Manufacturers' Life in instalments to Pellatt & Pellatt, brokers, (Col. Sir H. M. Pellatt being vice-president of the Manufacturers' Life) for the purchase of 1,000 wheres of C. P. P. treely shares of C. P. R. stock

That when delivery was sought, it was found the brokers had hypothecated the stock for $101,000.

That the Manufacturers' Life paid that additional amount though C. P. R. had decreased from 132 to 119; and also $25,000 for shares hypothecated by Col. Pellatt, which he pledged as se-

That Sir H. M. Pellatt still owes the company $100,000, secured on an unre-corded mortgage on land which Mr. Fitzgerald declare worth $46,000. That a bank balance of $388,000 was created Dec. 28, 1903, and dissipated shortly thereafter, apparently to make a showing in the annual report.

That the "loose-leaf ledgers" showed many sheets abstracted.

That the active directors of the Manufacturers' Life formed the Prudential Securities Co. to take over the insur-ance company's stock-holdings. That employes of Mackenzie & Mann form the directors of other similar or-others.

The voyageurs who served in the Red River expedition of 1870 will not receive any recognition from the Government, either in money or scrip. Mr. Hyman said these men were in precisely the same position as teamsters. They had been paid and that was the end of it.

Mr. Walsh of Huntingdon asked several questions with regard to outside eral questions with regard to outside occupations of civil servants at Ottawa. The Premier told him that they are not supposed to carry on any business of work outside of their official duties, and the Government does not know of any who do so.

Lancaster's Success.

Mr. Lancaster (Lincoln) got the surprise of his life during the afternoon.
The Government accepted two legisla-the measures proposed by him.

His bill in amendment of the Railway Act deals with procedure when a railway takes land by arbitration. Now the railway company may offer a man a price. If not accepted the company may pay into court such sum as the judge deems proper and take immediate possession. The company may then wait until it sees fit to ask the court to appoint arbitrators, the land owner being left helpless because the court can appoint arbitrators only on application of the company. Mr. Lan-caster's bill allows the court to appoint arbitrators on application of either

Mr. Fitzpatrick stated that the commission on the modification of the statues had already called attention to this defect, and the Government had intended to remedy it, but Mr. Lancaster had been diligent and was entitled to the credit.

To Benefit Mariners.
The other bill provides that masters and mates of ships on the inland waters of Canada must be British sub-

The Government did not look favorably on this proposal last session.

Mr. Pardee (West Lambton) remarked that there were many mariners in his constituency, and before reaching a decision he would like an opportunity to learn their views. In committee the bill was considered in detail, and several changes suggested. Several Mr. Lancaster was willing to accept, but none were definitely agreed upon. Mr. Fitzpatrick intimated that the fundamental idea, as to mates and masters being British subjects, would not be eliminated.

Another bill on the order paper in Mr. Lancaster's name concerns the The Government did not look favor Another bill on the order paper in Mr. Lancaster's name concerns the safeguarding of level crossings.

The Minister of Justice a few days ago described it as the "hardy annual." The Government expressed a desire to adjourn at 6 o'clock, and he consented to postpone it.
