The big drive to free the United Baptist Parsonage of Bath of $750 of debt is meeting with splendid success. Although begun a couple of weeks ago the pastor announced Sunday that over $500 had already been subscribed. As many know this practically new parsonage, at present occupied by Rev. C. O. Howlett and family, is among the best in the county.

The United Baptist Congregation of Wicklow gave a most friendly visit to the parsonage at Bath on Jan. 27. Many were the choice things they brought for pantry and cellar besides a nice sum of money. Needless to say the parson and family greatly appreciated this tangible expression of good will and thoughtfulness. After much jovial conversation and singing around the piano and a dainty luncheon they returned to their respective homes happy in this practice of real unselfishness.

Horace Bourke of Bath died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Alpheus Gray, Somerville, on Jan. 30, after a lingering illness of bright disease. The remains were taken to his home at Bath and the funeral was held on Saturday in the Primitive Baptist church where a large congregation gathered to pay the last tribute of respect to the departed one. He leaves to mourn their loss his wife, three daughters, four brothers and four sisters. This is the first break in the family of nine children. Counsellor John Kenney conducted the service; sermon, Rev. P. J. Quinn.

The Soldier's Comfort workers of Lakeville met at J. F. Williams' in the evening of February 4 to bring their society to a close. About 60 old and young people made the house ring with games and music. Refreshments were served during the evening. During the year the society have forwarded to the B. C. A. at St. John, 325 pairs of socks, 18 Christmas stockings $20 to the Navy League. The Sec. Treas. reported $40 on hand. It was voted for $20 to go to the Salvation Army drive, and $20 to the B. C. A. St. John. The Society wishes to thank the other ladies for a helping.
