VOL. 93. CHARLOTTETOWN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND, TUESDAY, MARCH 30, 1893. NO. 151.

Legislative Proceedings.
HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.
Wednesday, February 19th.
AFTERNOON SITTING.
COMMITTEE REPORT ON THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE, APPOINTED TO REPORT ON EDUCATION.
(Debate continued.)

Mr. PALMER. The question under discussion was said to be a Government measure, and that view of it had, he thought, been expressed in the House. It was a measure which would have the effect of increasing the number of school teachers in the island, and it was a measure which would have the effect of increasing the cost of the education of the children of the island. It was a measure which would have the effect of increasing the cost of the education of the children of the island. It was a measure which would have the effect of increasing the cost of the education of the children of the island.

Mr. WHELAN. I have hitherto refrained from offering any remarks on the Report under consideration, and have not done so because I have been busy with other matters. I am now, however, anxious to express my sentiments generally with respect to the complicated measure. I will therefore say a few words on the subject. The measure is a measure of great importance, and it is one which will have a great effect on the education of the children of the island. It is a measure which will have the effect of increasing the cost of the education of the children of the island.

Mr. PALMER. The measure is a measure of great importance, and it is one which will have a great effect on the education of the children of the island. It is a measure which will have the effect of increasing the cost of the education of the children of the island. It is a measure which will have the effect of increasing the cost of the education of the children of the island.

Mr. WHELAN. The measure is a measure of great importance, and it is one which will have a great effect on the education of the children of the island. It is a measure which will have the effect of increasing the cost of the education of the children of the island. It is a measure which will have the effect of increasing the cost of the education of the children of the island.
