Violations of Bait Act.

It is most refreshing to find that the conversion of the Hon. M. P. Cashin to the policy of excluding Americans from the Newfoundland bait supply on the non-treaty coast has been so complete that he is taking a personal part in the pursuit of supposed violators of the Bait Act. The authority for this statement we find in the Daily News of this morning. This is what the News says:—

"Finance Minister Cashin, learning from Cape Race that the Arethusa, Captain Clayton Morrissey, and another Gloucester schooner were in that vicinity searching for bait at different coves, left yesterday for Ferryland, joined the Fiona, and started in pursuit of the vessels which had passed the Cape at 10 a.m. If captured the schooners will be brought here and prosecuted for violation of the Bait Act."

The ardent desire of this gentleman to take a personal part in enforcing the Bait Act against Americans resorting to the Ferryland waters will be watched with interest by those who remember that Mr. Cashin left the Liberal party for inaugurating a bait policy against Americans. We were not surprised that Mr. Cashin did not make the reversal of the policy a condition of joining Sir Edward Morris in forming the Tory Government. Nor were we surprised at the careful enforcement of the Bait Act this year after what took place in the House of Assembly last session, and we feel inclined to congratulate Inspector O'Reilly on his success on the seizure and fine in the Harmony case recently, for that was a gross violation of the Bait Act. But we were surprised at the activity and enthusiasm of Mr. Cashin in taking upon himself the direction and pursuit of the supposed violators of the Bait Act in the Ferryland District. Although we believe Mr. Cashin was unwise in superseding so experienced an officer as Inspector O'Reilly, we also believe that Mr. Cashin has shown wisdom in allowing himself to be converted to the Bait Act Policy, in spite of all he did and said from 1905 to 1909.

Found House Open.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Cowan left by the Mongolian last week for England, and last evening Mrs. Howley drew Const. Hutchings' attention to the fact that the rear doors of their house were left open, one of the front windows was up and thieves could enter the place. The room doors were all open when the officer investigated, and silverware and other valuables could be taken at leisure by any thief. The officer reported the matter to Mr. J. Cowan, and he had the place locked up.

Hurt at Bell Island.

Cyril Leary, of Brigus, C.B., drill foreman blaster with the N. S. Co. at Bell Island, will not be able to do any work for several weeks. He met with a serious accident there yesterday which obliged him to go home and get the doctor's attendance. He jumped on a loaded ore car coming up the slope on the way to get his lunch and in doing so got "squeezed" between the car and a prop. His chest and hip suffered. The company sent him home on the steamer.

Operetta.

"GOLDEN JUBILEE." This operetta will be performed in honour of the Apostolic Delegate by the children of the Convents at the T. A. Hall on Tuesday evening, 25th inst., at 8 o'clock. As there will be some spare seats after the guests of the Archbishop are seated, a charge will be made for them.

"Greasy Pole."

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—Noting the Regatta programme of this year, I have not seen any mention of the "greasy pole." We must have the pole, sir, it is a most interesting item in the day's sports, and surely will be considered by the gentlemen of the committee. Yours truly,

"VERITAS."

The New Targets Will Imitate Men.

London, July 13.—To improve the marksmanship of soldiers the British army is introducing a new kind of moving target. This device, which is operated electrically, provides targets moving in different directions, in straight lines, curves, forward or back, to represent actual conditions. The apparatus used by the English and other European armies is a target moving in certain directions. By observing the speed it is easy for the men to reckon the range. Thus it is said they fall to get the practice needed and soon lose interest, failing to develop into shooting stars.

In the new system, which has been adopted by the Society of Miniature Rifle Clubs, there is scarcely a movement that a running man is capable of making which this new target cannot imitate; running at right angles to the firer, disappearing, running straight for the line of fire, or advancing straight for the rifle's mouth. The targets are manipulated entirely by switches at the firing point or any convenient place, and may be used either indoors or out. In general the targets are laid out in curves, not unlike a race railway, over a large area, providing hills and hollows. The targets are in armored carriages so that the hits will not destroy the apparatus. Three targets going in different directions can be provided at the same time.

The operation of this new target which is called the Whitney, after its inventor, Asa Whitney, is comparatively simple. A wire is run from an electric main to the rails of the tracks on which the target travels. This current works the motor which is protected by an armor plated carriage. The targets are kept broadside on to the firer. The current necessary for an entire day costs only a few cents, but where storage batteries have to be used it is slightly more expensive.

Workman Lost His Eye

Court Awards Him $425 Under Compensation Act.

As compensation for the loss of his eye, resulting from an accident, while working as a free riveter at the C. P. R. Co.'s Angus Shops, William Harland has been awarded $425 by a judgment of Mr. Justice St. Pierre, in the Superior Court. Plaintiff claimed $600 when he entered his action under the Workmen's Compensation Act, but the attorney on the other side got together and it was agreed to settle the claim out of court on the company paying the plaintiff $425. This agreement was formally ratified by court judgment.

Trial Fixed for Oct. 11

Los Angeles, July 14.—Judge Bordwell to-day set the trial of the McNamara brothers for Oct. 11. The District Attorney and counsel for the McNamara Brothers did not enter the proposed conference as to the time set for the trial of the alleged dynamite plotters, but went into the court to-day prepared to argue the matter vigorously.

Longest Telephone Circuit in the World

On May 8 the longest telephone circuit in the world was opened for public service, being between New York City and Denver, Colorado. The distance is 2,020 miles, over which the human voice can be plainly heard. The amount of copper in the circuit is over a ton to a mile, a total of 2,100 tons, and the circuit represents an investment of more than two million dollars.

Scientific wonders reach their climax in the new line. With the two circuits of four copper wires, it is possible not only to carry on four telephone conversations at the same time between the two cities named, but as many as seventy-two telegraph messages may be sent over the circuit simultaneously with the conversations.

The cost of using the line is somewhat expensive. For the first three minutes of conversation between Denver and New York the charge will be $11.25, and $3.75 for each additional minute. It is expected in time the through circuits will be completed to Los Angeles and San Francisco, and it will then be possible to talk from the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific, at a cost of about $25 for the first three minutes of conversation.

Train Notes.

The west bound express reached Port aux Basques on time last night. The local with a freight special from the west arrived from Carbonear at 12:50 p.m. to-day.
