The Nickel Theatre announces the creen's greatest comedian, Harold Lloyd in his biggest comedy success to date, "Dr. Jack," which will be shown next week, commencing Monday. It's a scream from start to finish. There will be a big laugh when Lloyd starting out on an emergency call in his Ford, changes to a motorcycle, thence to a bicycle and arrives at the patient's house on foot only to find that it is a little girl's doll who has fallen into the family cistern and needs to be resuscitated. Another big laugh is where Dr. Jack in falling out of a window lands backward on a cow and is carried over the fields at full speed by the surprised female of the bovine species. Another very amusing situation is where Dr. Jack who is examining the eyes of Mildred Davis slips off the stool and ends up with his lips pressed to hers.

The picture is produced in five thousand feet and there is a sensation and a laugh in every foot. Charlie Chaplin has nothing on this spectacled youth for real comedy. A great big mammoth programme has been prepared for Monday, so it is here suggested that patrons attend early to avoid the rush.

In Memoriam.

MRS. JAMES O'BRIEN, HOLYROOD.

It is with very sincere regret we record the death of Mrs. James O'-Brien, of Holvrood, who died May 12th, 1923, in the 94th year of her age. Deceased was a native of Holyrood where she had lived all her life and was highly respected and will be deeply mourned by all her many friends. During the last few years her age had begun to tell on her, and although confined to her home she was always cheerful and bright. The last Sacraments of Holy Church were administered by Rev. Fr. Finn. The funeral was very largely attended and the remains were laid to rest in the Southside Cemetery. She leaves to mourn her two sons, William, now residing at Boston, and Bartholomew, living in the old homestead; also two daughters, Sister Mary Clarus, of Indiana, and Mrs. R. Cunningham, Holyrood, to each and all of whom we extend our since/e sympathy. May the Lord have mercy on her soul. -Com. Holyrood, June 5, 1923.

Dr. Warren K. Lewis, Professor of Chemical Engineering at the Massachusette Institute of Technology. holds that available surplies of gasoline alone, are sufficient . warrant against a gas famine and mounting prices. He says: "Let us assume that the motor industry will grow during . the next 15 years at the rate it has maintained in the past ten. If so, there might be 35,000,000 automobiles in use in 1937, against 12,500.-000 registered to-day. This might mean a pocsible consumption of 280,000,000 barrels of gasoline per annum, as against the present consumption o.

100,000,000 barrels. Has the United States sufficient petroleum reserves to meet this demand?" He replies that it has, pointing out that the production of crude oil in the United States. now amounts to 2,000,000 barrels a day, of which 29 per cent. is refined into gasoline. He calculates that in 1937 there will be available 3,000 .-000.000 barrels of gasoline as againstan estimated requirement of \280,000,000 barrels. The assumption that the Standard Oil Company controls the situation he points out in contrary to the facts of the case. There are some 30,000 producers and 450 refiners. and from a production of 20,000,000 barrels of gasoline in 1913 the sup-ply was raised to 120,000,000 barrels in 1922 .- Montreal Herald.
