A special from Austin, Pa., says that 75 men were seriously and perhaps fatally burned. Supt. Badger, of the S. V. R. R., and three or four of his men are still missaing. The entire southern part of the country has been swept by the flames.

EVANSPORT, Pa., May 11.—At Moore's Evansport, Pa., May 11.—At Moore's Run, on the Sinnamahoning Valley Railroad, a train-load of 75 men, sent out from Austin, on Sunday night, had been fighting back the fire by every conceivable means. They made trenches, piled up earth and lighted back fires, but were finally obliged to retreat. The men hastily boarded the train and started to make a run to another point, when it was found they were HEMMED IN.

by the forest fire on one side and a huge skid-way of logs on the other. It was finally decided to dash past the burning skidways, and the engineer and fireman, with faces covered with dampened cloths, and their hands and arms wrapped in wool, mounted the little engine and pulled out through the wall of fire. The 75 exhausted on gathered in groups on the flats for otection or lay on their faces on the floor. As the blazing furnace of logs was approached the heat became unbearable, and the smoke was so blinding and stifling that the men were obliged to cover their mouths it cloths. Just opposite the minimal of set of burning logs, where the heat and smoke and flame were greatest, a terrible thing occured. The engineer had torgotten that such great heat would surely spread the rails, and he pulled the throttle wider in the hope of sooner escaping a torment of heat and smoke. Then there was a lurch, an ominous heaving and a shriek of despair as the train toppled over into the HELL OF FIRE beneath. A scene ensued never to be forgotten by those who escaped. Every survivor will bear to his grave a mark of that awful moment. within, half-blinded and scarcely realizing anything except that they were being roasted to death, struggled fearfully to regain the track, where safety lay for a time at least. Those uninjured from the fall, and only smarting from the pain of the intense heat, bravely turned with burned and blackened hands to aid their more unfortunate fellows. When the train ditched so suddenly Superintendent Rodgers of the Sinnamahoning Valley Road, gers, of the Sinnamahoning Valley Road, must have been injured so as to be unable must have been influed as a so to be the himself, and owing to the smoke and panic he was not found until too late, jammed in the wreck, where he had evidently slowly burned to death.

SEVEN PESSONS PERISH.

It is known that six others also miserably perished at once or ded soon after, and 30 others of the party were badly burned—many probably fatally, owing to the fact that they inhaled the flames. Owing to the great devastation done in the way of the fire communication is badly interrupted, and it is impossible to learn the names of the men burned or those still missing.

As to the damage it is known 40,000,000 feet of hemlock logs and timber and 25,000 cords of valuable bark have already been destroyed and the free are raging without corresponds discourses. THE DAMAGE

The body of Superintendent Badger was found burned to a crisp, and the entire party would have perished in the burning train or forest fires had they not immersed themselves in a creek. The fires have been ranging 48 hours. Twelve solid miles of lumber in one district have already been burned, and the end is not better.

BUILDINGS BURNED.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 11—A special from Keating Summit says: One of the largest forest fires known for years is raging south and west of Austin on the lands of F. H. & C. W. Goodyear. The fire has been burning since Saturday noon. It is estimated 30,000,000 feet of logs and 10,000 cords of bark have been destroyed, besides ten miles of train railroad.

PHTSPIELD, Mass., May 11.—The Glen House, a road resort near here, was burned last night. Loss, $10,000.

TORONTO, May 12.—Mr. Thomas Jubb, probably the most widely known hotel clerk in Canada, was found dead in his room at the Arlington Hotel shortly after 8 o'clock last night. Yesterday morning at 6 o'clock upon being relieved from his duty he chatted cheerfully with Mr. Read, the chief clerk. Dr. Burns, who examined the body, concluded that death had resulted from natural causes, probably heart failure. Deceased was 58 years old, having been born at Hull, England. For 25 years he was night clerk at the St. Lawrence Hall in Montreal, and occupied a similar position for several years at the Russell House, Quebec: Russell House, Ottawa, and at the Avonmore Hotel, Cornwall. A BEAUTIFUL SIGHT.

Talented and Well-Trained Londo

London has had many amateur performances of one kind and another, but for bright, novel and applause producing qualities nothing has excelled the "Gathering of the Clans and Carnival of Nations," which was commenced at the Grand Opera House last evening under the auspices of Clan Fraser, No. 43, O. S. C., and directed by Prof. J. A. Walker. Had it been possible to have known the merits of the entertainment beforehand the house would, no doubt, have been crowded to the doors. Prof. Walker has been in the city for several weeks drilling a number of girls and boys, and the result of his skillful tuition and the careful application of the young performers was seen last night. Many of those who attended were prompted by curiosity, and were both astonished and delighted.

After an opening selection of Scottish airs by the orchestra the sound of 150 sweet young voices singing "Rob Roy" in chorus was heard from behind the curtain. At the sound of a trumpet the curtain rolled back and revealed the "Tableau of All Nations"—Germans, Irishmen, Scotch lads and lassies, English sailors, United States maidens and dark-eyed Spaniards, mingled in a woody glen in ricturesque profusion. Petched on the crage of the mountains the Scottish clans appeared. All the costumes were bright and new, and only those who witnessed the sight can understand the

Then came the measured tread of the claus as they gathered from far and near singing "The Claus They Are Gathering" and afterwards "The Standard on the Brees of Mar." The international march, a marvel of circles, crosses, squares and counter-marching, lasting fully twenty minutes, tollowed, ending in the formation of all the claus and nations, four deep, around the back and sides of the stage. In the space thus formed eight little tots, about 6 years old, in long white dresses and poke bonnets performed the "Kate Greenway dance"—a mith-provoking and quaint

The Cobourg correspondent of the Toronto Globe, speaking of the convocation services of Victoria University Sunday, says: "The programme of exercises in connection with the convocation of Victoria University was opened this morning, when the annual sermon to the Theological Union was preached by the Rev. Wm. McDonagh, of London, at 11 o'clock. In his sermon Rev. Mr. McDonagh made one or two indirect allusions to the much-debated views of Rev. Dr. Workman on the subject of Messtanic prophecy. These somewhat peculiar references created quite a flutter in the congregation of collegians, by all of whom Dr. Workman is held in especial esteem. At the experience meeting in the afternoon a remarkable incident occurred illustrating the temper of the college just now. Rev. Mr. McDonagh, the preacher of the morning, made some reflections upon the so-called doubts of professing Christians, which were, he said, of the devil. The divinity students did not sympathize with these sentiments, and applauded very loudly one of their professors who differed with Rev. Mr. McDonagh."

A gentleman of middle age, occupying a Government position in the city of Ottawa, and who is well known in social circles, came through a serious illness some months ago. Before using the great remedy which restored him (Paine's Celery Compound), he was very nervous and extremely week; his appetite had failed so much that his wife became very anxious. Brandy and water for some time seemed to sustain life, and altogether his condition was serious and doubtful. Nervous debility had reduced him to a skeleton. Two of his friends urged strongly the use of Paine's Celery Compound, which his dear wife consented to try.

AFTER!

After using the Compound for a few days happy result were observed. There were evident signs of increasing strength and appetite and less prostration. In two weeks the nervous symptoms had abated, and the patient was able to converse freely and withoutfatigue. Inseven weeks after the continued use of Paine's Celery Compound the gentleman was able to be out and visit his office. To-day he is one of the strongest and most robust men of the capital, and takes pleasure in speaking of the great Compound that restored him to life and health.
