DURANT'S DEFENSE.

Two Other Men to be implicated in the Case.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 10. - An evening paper prints a sensational story about the defense which will be offered in the trial of Theodore Durrant for the murder of Blanche Lamont. The statement is credited to a person connected with the defense. The alibi will be strong, but the defense has witnesses to show that Durant not only did not commit the murder but will indicate who did it. There will be more than one implicated in the murder. Witnesses will testify that they saw the girl enter the church on the fatal afternoon with a certain man, and at that time a second man was in the church. There the defense will rest its inquiry. It will not attempt to prove that these parties did commit the murder. The statements as to this are so direct that they will leave no ground for the prosecution to stand on, so far as Durant is concerned."

An express engine consumes ten gallons of water per mile

The London and Northwestern Railway Company consume 3,500 tons of coal a day. No tree has yet been measured taller than the great eucalyptus in Gippsland, Australia, 450 feet high.

Two hundred women are employed by Edison in working at the more delicate details of his electrical inventions. The whole of the land on the globe above water level if shoveled into the Pacific Ocean would only fill one-seventh of it. South American ants have been known to construct a tunnel three miles in length, a labor for them proportionate to that which would be required for men to tunnel under the Atlantic from New York to London. Vast quantities of flowers are gathered for perfumery purposes. Each year it is estimated that 1860 tons of orange flowers are used, besides 930 tons of roses, 150 tons each of violets and jasmines, 75 tons of tuberoses, 30 tons of cassia and 15 tons of jon-

The number of men and women in France is more nearly equal than in any other country, there being 1,007 women to 1,000 men. In Switzerland there are 1,064 men to 1,000 women, and in Greece only 933. In Hongkong there are only 366 women to 1.000 men.

A horse can draw on metal rails one and pavement, three and a third times as much as on good Belgian blocks, five times as much as on good cobblestones, twenty times times as much as on sand,

In Australia the rabbits climb built at enormous expense, under the delusion that they were "rabbit proof"-and run up and hide in the numerous hollow trees as if they were opossums. Tender of wet feet here, in Australia they have overcome the prejudice, and taken to the water, and swim across rivers like water rats.

The largest cargo steamship afloat was aunched the other day by Messrs. Harland & Wolff, at Belfast. The Georgic was built for the Oceanic Steam Navigation Company, and will run in their cargo and live stock service between Liverpool and New York. On the upper and bridge decks there will be accommodation for 900 head of cattle, besides stalls for a great number of horses in the center of the upper deck. She will be lighted by electricity. Her tonnage is 6,580 net and 10,000 gross.

CHINESE VENTRILOQUISM.

The following description of the performance of a Chinese ventriloquist is given by the author of "The Chinaman at Home." It was furnished to him by a friend, who heard the performance in Pekin.

The ventriloquist was seated behind a screen, where there were only a chair, a table, a fan and a ruler. With the ruler he rapped on the table to enforce silence, and when everybody had ceased speaking, there was suddenly heard the barking of a dog. Then we heard the movements of a woman She had been waked by the dog, and was shaking her husband.

We were just expecting to hear the man and wife talking together, when a child began to cry. To pacify it the mother gave it food; we could hear it drinking and crying clothes. Meanwhile another child had wakened and was beginning to make a noise. The father scolded it, while the baby continued crying. By and by the whole family went back to bed and fell asleep. The patter of a mouse was heard. It climbed up some vase and upset it. We heard the chatter of the vase as it fell. The woman coughed in her sleep. Then cries of "Fire! fire!" were heard. The mouse had upset the lamp; the bed-curtains were on fire. The husband and wife waked up, shouted and screamed, the children cried. Thousands of people came running and shouting. Children cried, dogs barked, the walls came crashing down, squibs and crackers exploded. The fire brigade came racing up. Water was pumped up in torrents, and hissed in the flames.

The representation was so true to life that everyone rose to his feet and was starting away, when a second blow of the ruler on the table commanded silence. We rushed behind the screen, but there was nothing there except the ventriloquist, his table, his chair and his ruler.

BLOOD AS A MEDICINE.

"Let me have three ounces of that bottled blood quick!" bids fair yet to become not an uncommon order in the corner drug store. According to a wellknown Philadelphia physician, startling progress has been made in bloodhealing or hematherapy. "Blood is not only life," he declares, "but lives itself independently. It is a highly organized living tissue supply in the transition state. It can be made to live apart from the body indefinitely in perfect condition, and can then be turned into any tissue by any opening at any time, when it will instantly resume its full creative activity. It can even be swallowed, when the patient, suffering from draining of blood or hemorrhages, can take no other drink. Death from blood starvation will one day be exceedingly rare, indeed, and these corked-up vital corpuscles will be used not only for imminently dangerous, but for intractable lingering cases."—Philadelphia Record.

HOPE ABANDONED!

No Escape for the Men in the Osceola Mine.

Rescuing Parties Driven Back by the Deadly Gas and Smoke-29 Men and Boys in the Death Trap.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 10.-Ten miners went down the southern shaft of the Osceola mine yesterday morning. The party descended in the skip, or iron car used in bringing up rock from the mine to the 24th level, and managed to press north on that level within 250 feet of the shaft next south of the burning one. At that point two of the party were overcome by the gas and to save adding fresh victims to the already long list, the relief expedition turned back.

In No. 1 shaft at the other side of the mine a similar attempt was made, but at a depth of only 280 feet down the shaft smoke was met in such volume that it was deemed foolhardy to descend further, and the miners quickly came to the surface.

The experience of the rescuing parties renders it certain that the entire mine is now filled with gas and cuts off the last hope that the missing men may have been able to preserve their lives. Rescuing parties will be sent down as quickly as possible to test the condition of the mine. It will probably be some days before the mine will be clear of smoke, even if the fire has gone out, which is quite doubtful.

It is now positively known that 29 men and boys were caught in the mine. Nineteen of them were married. Houghton, Mich., Sept. 9.—Twenty women are widows and 50 children are fatherless by the disaster in the Osceola mine. Most pitiful scenes are being hourly witnessed in the vicinity of the shafts that have not yet been sealed, bereaved women and children clinging to the spot in the desperate hope that some loved form may yet emerge from the opening.

ANOTHER CONVENTION FOR LONDON.

King's Daughters and Sons of Ontario Meet Here Next Month.

The Ontario Provincial Convention of the International Order of the King's Daughters and Son is to be held in this city on Oct. 15, 16 and 17.

The conventions of this society have always been of the most interesting character, and it is expected that this one will not be behind those of former years. The society is interdenominational. Its aims and objects are "to develop spiritual life and stimulate Christian activities." The watchword is:

"In His Name." Circles may be and are formed in different churches under the guidance and teaching two third times as much as on good asphalt of the pastor. Each circle is independent of the others and at liberty to choose its own line of work. Anything that can be done in the name of Jesus Christ, the King as much as on good earth road, and 40 and Savior, is legitimate work for the circles. They may also be, and are, formed outside of churches for philanthropic work.

The work of the London circles is unobtrusive, going on quietly. Many of them, apart from this work, have taken a deep interest in and furnished rooms in the Home for Incurables and visit it constantly. In fact all the homes and the hospitals in our city have received care and ministry from the King's Daughters. London was honored by having the convention of 1892 held here, when enthusiastic numbers of people attended the meetings. An opportunity will once more be given to our citizens to show their interest in the work, and also to profit by the practical Christian work and methods of the order laboring in His name.

MAKING USE OF AN OLD BICYCLE.

(Philadelphia Call.) "I had often wondered what became of the old-style bicycles," remarked a wheel-man. "I discovered the other day what had become of them. During a ride down in Jersey I came across a sawmill in the woods. To my astonishment I found that the motive power for the mill was supplied by a young man and one of the big-wheeled bicycles that were in vogue before the safeties appeared. The bicycle was suspended from the ceiling and connected with the mill machinery with a belt. The young man sat on the seat of the wheel and worked the pedals with his feet, and in this way kept the saw in motion for hours at atime.

JACKETS.

Each season the aim of cloak manufacturers seems to be to outdistance their previous efforts as regards style, finish and make of garments. The experience we have gained in the cloak trade gives us a decided advantage in getting together the latest and best productions of the style makers, and buying in large quantities enables us to place before our customers the pick of the market at popular prices. Our cloak and costume department has this season been early filled with the latest ideas in jackets and capes of all kinds, from the lowest to the highest prices. But because we handle and show expensive cloaks, don't think we cannot supply you with a cheap one, and it is well to remember that our cheap cloaks are well made and stylish, not shopworn articles. When we say cheap, we mean the price is cheap, not the article. Our aim is to suit every lady and girl in London with one of our cloaks.

TORONTO INDUSTRIAL.

Citizens' Day-Fine Display of Live Stock

and a Record-Breaking Dog Show. Toronto, Sept. 10.-Citizens' Day was misnomer for the twelve hours folwing noon at the Fair yesterday. Citizens started out early in large numbers to hold and enjoy the day set apart for them, but before noon the urban forces were overwhelmed and routed by the multitudes from the country which the railways and boats emptied into the city. Although the grounds held thousands of city people, the country people seemed to hide them from view, and instead of "citizens" it was

"everybody's" day. The live stock is all in now. There are 870 horses entered, 160 of which are readsters, and 80 hunters and 106 carriage horses. There are 737 entries in the cattle sheds. There are 158 Ayrshires, 122 Jerseys and 121 Holsteins. Four houndred and forty-seven sheep are entered, and 435 swine. There are 400 entries in the poultry department. The dog show has 648 entries. It surpasses anything of the kind ever held in Toronto. Dr. Loughet, of Boston, shows 12 bloodhounds, which are each valued at $10,000, and the same value is placed on some mastiffs.

THE HOME RATTAN COMPANY Of Chicago, through Mr. Geo. Brooker, their general agent, extend a cordial invitation to all furniture dealers to inspect their fine exhibit at the Toronto Industrial Exhibition. They are located in the west end main gallery of the main building. Make it your headquarters during your visit, and have your mail sent in our care to the ex 92uty hibition grounds.

UNIVERSAL PATENT COAT AND MANTLE RACK.

One of the most interesting exhibits to drygoods, millinery and clothing merchants is located in the first gallery of the main building. This is the any of the many contrivances for the purpose, and is now in use in all the large ready-made clothing stores. It ily to a place of amusement, when a add's to the appearance of the store, man told me that a company would adds to the appearance of the store, keeps the garments fresh and free from wrinkles, and altogether accomplishes the purpose for which it is designed. The window mantle displayer reaches the heart of that special artist, the window dresser, at once, and aids him in his fascinating art of display. While showing the mantle off to the very best advantage, it at the same time leaves the floor space of window free for dress goods and clothing. When used in window with mirrors the effect is perfect, and cannot fail to please both merchant and customer. S. F. McKinnon & Co., wholesale milliners, speak of this patent as follows: This is to certify that we are using the Universal Mantle Rack in our cloak department, and take pleasure in bearing testimony to its usefulness, and can highly recommend it to the retail trade, as being, in our opinion, the most complete and convenient article of the kind on the market." Percy Bros., of Smith's Falls, say in correspondence: "Your rack is all one could wish for; in fact, it more than fills the want. For ready-made clothing it is complete; also it is very useful in our tailoring department to display our ordered clothing. We accept draft for amount, and feel satisfied it is money well placed." Wm. Thompson, merchant, Penetanguishene, says: "I am in intention of making a brief stay with the work of two weeks purchased from receipt of two racks purchased from you, one for window, and one for body of store. I am very much pleased with them, and am confident that I shall be able to increase my clothing and mantle trade with them. They are just what every clothing house should nave." From those letters and expressions of approval merchants can rely on the merits of this useful aid in displaying their goods, and should hail with satisfaction its appearance. Merchanis, clothing men and private citizens should write to the head office of above firm at Colborne, Ont., and secure catalogues and price lists.

My first destination, I had determined, should be the newest continent of all—continent H (formerly Antarctic-pare and eat them must become exana)-and the slow passage thither on an airship freighter was a novel sensation indeed. Under the most favorable conditions a speed of over 100 miles an hour was impossible, and the voyage, although enlivened by numerous well told legends of ships that sailed on the water, seemed interminable. When we flew over the gigantic system of mirrors that by deflecting the rays of the sun have made a semitropical country out of this erstwhile ice bound coast, the air became rather oppressive, but in a very few minutes we had reached the elevated landings. Rapidly spreading my wing planes, I most nearly approaching perfection of jumped outward from the deck and soon reached the ground in safety. The moving sidewalk carried me rap-the women of my acquaintance. Aside from the wearing of such strange drapery, her voice was low and even, instead of having the usual womanly harshness, and her glidling walk and composed manner bore no resemblance o the manner of the brusque, exciteable woman who lead the van of advanced thought in our world councils. When I ventured to ask his reasons for returning to barbarism in eating and dressing, he turned on me fiercely and said: "Young man, I'm tired of being a machine.
