

ORDER MORE OIL FOR THE STREETS

Works Board Decides To Use
Thirty Thousand Additional Gallons.

PAY OF THE STOKERS

Engineer Suggests 28 Cents an Hour,
But Committee Says 25 Cents
Is Enough.

Thirty thousand gallons of oil, in addition to the 80,000 already applied to the London streets, were authorized to be ordered at the meeting of the board of works Thursday night. Chairman Bennett pointed out that the estimates for this year had already been exceeded, but Mayor Graham moved that the additional quantity required be purchased.

Ald. Bennett advocated the building of storage tanks for storing oil required for street lighting, but Mayor Graham and Ald. Saunders thought it would be cheaper to pay demurrage on carloads left on sidings.

Pay of Stokers.
City Engineer Ashplant recommended that the stokers at the incinerator be paid 28 cents an hour. The committee fixed the maximum, however, at only 25 cents an hour.

The C. P. R. Company communicated with the board to the effect that they would pave and construct a curb and gutter on Pall Mall street between the roadway and their right of way.

Ald. Glass moved that the city engineer prepare estimates of the cost of oiling Dundas street east, from the old city limits to London Junction.

Sidewalks.
Engineer Ashplant recommended a sidewalk on Nelson street, but Mayor Graham quoted Judge Macbeth to the effect that there are no streets south of South street, and west of Wellington, this part of Nelson street being therefore only a private right of way. The engineer was instructed to look into the matter.

Ald. Saunders moved that the water commissioners be notified that they are responsible for cutting the weeds on the city boulevards. Complaints have been made, Ald. Saunders said, of the unsightly condition of many boulevards.

The city engineer will secure prices on cement in carload lots. Inquiry being made as to the progress of the Wharfedale bridge and the King street pavements. Mayor Graham alleged that there was unnecessary delay in the engineering department.

Ald. Saunders expressed the opinion that there was too much tape being introduced into the department. He wanted an estimate of the cost of an asphalt pavement on King street submitted to the council on Monday night. City Engineer Ashplant stated that plans and surveys for the pavement in question were not yet completed.

Regarding the Wharfedale bridge, Mr. Ashplant understood that County Engineers Bell and Talbot were to call for tenders. It was pointed out that the tenders would have to be let through the office of the city engineer.

MILITARY REVOLT WAS PLANNED BY SOCIALISTS

Wholesale Desertions Taking Place As a Protest Against the Three Years' Law.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, July 4.—A Paris cable says: According to news reaching here from all parts of France a general military revolt, accompanied by wholesale desertions, has been organized by the Socialists, especially those of the Labor party, in protest against the three years' law. It is said that the revolt will break out as soon as the law finally passes into effect.

The recent incidents at Toul, Belfort and Rodez, according to official information, were only preludes to a general outbreak, and this is why the Government is now acting so rigorously against the anti-militarists.

With the Central Labor Council dissolved, and most of the officials of the confederation in prison awaiting trial, it is hoped that the movement against the safety of the republic has been checked. There is a general fear, however, that the conspiracy is so widely ramified that the danger of a military revolt will have to be quelled even should the plan for a simultaneous rising by the dissatisfied Socialists in the army fail through the incarceration of their political leaders.

EXPERTS SURPRISED BY THE KAISER'S KNOWLEDGE

Went Over Italian Battleship
and Tested All Apparatus, to the Admiral's Great Astonishment.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, July 4.—A Berlin cable says: Kaiser Wilhelm gave another proof of his thoroughness yesterday at Kiel when his royal visitor, King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, accompanied by Queen Elena, took the German Emperor aboard the Italian battleship Amalfi, representing the most powerful type of Italian warship afloat.

King Victor and his flag admiral made the round of the ship usual when a visitor of prominence comes aboard. The Kaiser examined the big guns and the quick-firing guns of the lesser batteries and closely scrutinized the electrical appliances for feeding these weapons from the ammunition rooms. He questioned with expert directness the officers in charge and personally tested many of the appliances. The surprise of the Italian officers came when the German Emperor was escorted with the King and Queen to the engine rooms and coal bunkers, and defying coal smudges and oil, satisfied himself that the vitals of the great ship were in good going condition. The admiral and chief engineer, with true Italian politeness, and not a little amazement, complimented the Kaiser upon his perfect knowledge of every item in the make-up of the battleship. The Kaiser, on his part, expressed his satisfaction that King Victor, his ally, possessed ships and men so fit for any emergency.

THE MONEY FAMINE AND ARMA-

MENTS.

"The new German and Prussian loans, aggregating more than eleven millions, have failed, and but half the required amount has been subscribed. This is a remarkable event, and it may have a remarkable effect upon German policy," says the Daily Mail.

"It proves that there is not enough money to 'go round' even now. How much less will there be if Germany spends a further fifty millions of capital on the equipment required by her new Army Bill? Even the greatest of empires may be taught by this suggestive incident that it must 'cut its coat according to its cloth,' and thus out of evil of the money crisis good may come.

"The failure of the loan is from many points of view not a matter for tears. The increase of armaments on all sides is largely responsible for the money crisis, and now the money crisis begins to threaten the advance of armaments.

"In the past the German Michael, as an American writer has cleverly observed, has flourished in virtue of constant subcutaneous injections of French and American capital. But French financiers are face to face with a French loan for forty millions. American financiers will have more than they can do to meet the requirements of their own railways. Thus Germany cannot borrow abroad the money which she cannot obtain at home.

"It really looks as though sheer financial pressure might at last check the race in armaments which is exhausting the energy of Europe, and might thus assuage the rivalry of the nations.
