LAMP DROPPED ON BED
Bedclothes Catch Fire From Spattered Kerosene in Early Morning.

When a lamp was dropped onto a bed a fire started which did damage estimated at nearly $100 at the home of John Hain, 522 York street, about 1 o'clock this morning.
The kerosene, spattered over the bedclothes, lighting from the lamp, and caused the bedding to blaze fiercely. A phone call brought apparatus from the Central fire hall to the scene and the flames were extinguished within a few minutes with chemicals.

AUTOS CRASH ON CORNER
Two Machines Come Together at Richmond Street and Queen's Avenue.
A car belonging to James Paisley, of Ilderton, crashed into another machine owned by Harry Ross, of East London, at Queen's avenue and Richmond street, at 9 o'clock, last night. No person was hurt and neither car was damaged beyond a few dints in headlights and fenders. Paisley's motor was slightly in the lead running up the avenue, and it was when attempting to turn onto Richmond that he hit the other auto.

OH! THE CRUEL WINTER
London Must Endure Three More Weeks of This, Says Weather Prophet.

According to Joseph Graham, a local weather prophet, Londoners must endure another three weeks of cold, disagreeable weather, before summer becomes a reality. Last night, at eleven o'clock, Mr. Graham declared there were three or four degrees of frost registered, and that if clouds didn't come to the rescue and cover up a few degrees, the damage would be heavy. At sundown, he stated the "quickstuff" in the thermometer was recording 59 degrees, making a sudden fall of the mercury of about three degrees in a little over three hours.

ATTACKS CONTINUE ON LORD KITCHENER
"Northcliffe Press" Keeps Alive Ammunition Question.

LONDON, May 26. — The Daily Mail and other papers known as "The Northcliffe Press," continue their attacks on Lord Kitchener over the ammunition question.
They point to the unexpected strength and tenacity the Germans are displaying in all the theatres of the war and the necessity of the heaviest sacrifices if the war is to be brought to the desired end.
The Times, in an editorial, says: "The mistakes and shortcomings will be quickly rectified. The scales are falling from English eyes and the country looks the situation in the face boldly and without dismay."
"Nobody now expects the war to end for a long time to come. The country is no longer blind; it has begun to see the truth, but it awaits a lead. All eyes are turned to the new Government in the hope that it will furnish the leadership which has been so long lacking."
The Mail, in a similar editorial, says: "We can recruit almost as many men as the Germans can and we shall need them if we are ever to accomplish the march to Berlin so loudly boasted of by optimists a few months ago."
The Mail strongly advocates recourse to the United States for ammunition supplies, and says: "It is calculated that there are no fewer than 17,000 metal working businesses in the United States alone that could help us in the manufacture of war munitions."

ADDED TO THE CABINET
Samuel, Smith and Montagu Have Portfolios.
LONDON, May 26. — Additional appointments in connection with the reconstruction of the Government were announced today. The appointments were all to places outside the cabinet. Herbert L. Samuel, who was president of the local government board, was appointed postmaster-general, a position he held several years ago. Frederick B. Smith, who has been director of the official press bureau of the war office, has been made solicitor-general. Edwin S. Montagu has been reappointed financial secretary to the treasury.

LOGAN—MACFIE
Two Much-Admired Young Residents United in Marriage.
A pretty wedding was solemnized recently in the Grange Memorial Church, when Lena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Macfie, was united in marriage to Robert Logan by Rev. R. W. Norwood, rector of the church.
The bride, leaning on the arm of her father, was met at the church door by the bridegroom, who was wearing a tuxedo and carrying a sword. The bride wore a white gown with pink trimmings and a hat to match, carrying pink carnations, while the bridegroom wore a tuxedo and carried a sword. The ceremony was a simple one, and the bride and groom were married in the presence of a few friends. The bride's brother, W. A. Macfie, while J. Logan and J. Macfie acted as ushers.
During the registry the choir sang "No Perfect Love." Logan will be at home to their friends after June 1 at 95 Edward street, this city. Toronto papers please copy.

JUDGMENT IS RESERVED IN CASE OF NERLICH
TORONTO, May 26. — Judgment in the appeal of Emil Nerlich from the verdict of the high court jury, finding him guilty of conspiracy to assist an alien enemy to leave the country, with view to taking up arms with the enemy, was today reserved.
The arguments throughout were largely technical in character. Many legal citations were made. On behalf of the appellant it was argued that conspiracy to assist could not be established unless it be shown that more than one participated in the alleged conspiracy. The crown argued that the indictment was sufficient to include Zissov, the alien involved.

CRUEL FROST
ONE NIGHT KILLS
MUCH OF GROWTH
Strawberries Will Suffer Most and Early Potatoes Are Injured.
NO INJURY TO WHEAT
And Recent Weather Conditions Have Actually Helped Hay Crop.

Frost played havoc with the farmers, market gardeners and amateur gardeners last night in London and throughout Western Ontario. Following a precedent established this spring, when after a rainfall the sky cleared and the air became cold, then colder to freezing, the weather man has continued this performance throughout May, with the result of retarding growth seriously and almost, if not altogether, killing what was expected would have been one of the biggest strawberry yields on record.
Heaviest of Season.
Last night the heaviest frost of this season came, and the fruit will be discouraged. Those who had large areas under cultivation will suffer heavily. The plants may bloom again, but it is not likely, and the fruit will not mature until late. The first blooms were nipped by frost some weeks ago. What escaped then have set, and are consequently did not suffer from last night's cold, but these are very few. To quote a mar on the market this morning: "Just yesterday I saw my three acres of strawberry blooms, and the sight gladdened my heart. One white mass of bloom it was, and now this morning—"

Potatoes Victims, Too.
The potatoes got a hard setback last night. The earlier varieties are in bloom, but the new ones, which are three or four-inch growth. The cold of two weeks ago did not do serious harm, for the farmers killed the plants the evening previous to the freezing, and they thus escaped. But this was impossible last night. Although the farmers knew frost would be heavy before morning, it was impossible to hill the plants, as they had attained too great a height. Potatoes will be set this year, but new shoots must come from the underground seed.
Early Corn Hit.
Corn, or the most likely is up, was ruined by the frost, farmers say. That is, what has attained any size. Corn has been slow this spring, the cold weather and excessive rain militating against its quick growth. As one farmer said today: "The man who plants his corn in a week or so, when the really warm weather has struck its heels, will be the one to benefit. Corn, once it starts to come, grows rapidly. There has been very little growth so far, and what there has been will mean a loss."

The hay outlook is never better. The old jingle that runs somewhat to the purpose of "Cold and wet in the month of May is simply good for wheat and hay," is borne out by conditions this spring. There has been much wet and the weather has certainly not been warm. Timothy and clover in the meadows never looked better. Some of the pessimistic farmers are inclined to the belief that last night's frost may affect more or less the clover, that is the red variety and alfalfa. What there is of rye and barley is in flourishing condition, and the oat outlook is especially promising.
The apple, pear, peach and plum yield should set a new record, think the farmers, for if what could be learned from the past, it was a hard matter to get the crop of trees advanced to such an enormous extent as recently. You have the satisfaction of knowing, however, to whatever price Salada almonds, it will always be the finest tea procurable at that price.

What monies the municipality spends is made up to them by grants from the department. In part at least, the municipalities in East Middlesex which have received monies, and the teachers, are listed as follows:
