

TELLS OF PLOTS AGAINST CANADA TO CAUSE PANIC

Von der Goltz Says Von Papien Proposed Raids on Country.

INVASION WAS FIRST PLAN

German Ambassador Vetoes It—Dynamite Plots Next.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Details of alleged German conspiracies—one to invade Canada with an armed force and another to "blow up the Canadian-American border"—were related on the witness stand today in the trial of Hans Tauscher, former German army officer, and Krupp's agent in America, by Horst Von Goltz, upon whose confession of participation in the alleged plot to dynamite the Welland Canal in September, 1914, Tauscher, Wolf Von Igel and others were indicted.

Von der Goltz testified that Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador at Washington, "objected" to the plan to send an army into Canada, and that in lieu of this scheme, Captain Franz Von Papien, recalled military attaché of the German embassy, engineered a plot to destroy with dynamite, grain elevators, bridges, canals and railroads along the Canadian-American border.

Wanted a Panic
The purpose of this campaign, the witness said, was to throw the Canadian people in a panic, destroy the morale of their troops and stop the sailing of troops and munition-laden steamers to England. After Von der Goltz had accepted employment from Von Papien, according to his own testimony, the latter gave him a letter to German consuls at Baltimore and St. Paul, asking them to do everything possible for Von der Goltz.

Von Papien's Check.
Von der Goltz identified a check for $200 signed by Von Papien, dated September 1914, in favor of the witness.

Under cross-examination, Von der Goltz said that while in El Paso, Texas, he adopted the name of Von der Goltz, at the suggestion of the German Government.

He declared that he deserted the United States army because he was "forced to do so by the secret organizations in Galveston, Texas."

Frederick J. Busse, the second witness, identified Von der Goltz as a man into whose employ he entered about the middle of September, 1914. He declared that at one time Von der Goltz told him that Captain Von der Goltz was back of the "Canadian enterprise," and he admitted, after lengthy questioning, that he saw Von Papien personally in April, 1915, but he refused to say whether he worked for him at that time.

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use soaps and prepared shampoos that contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulberry cocoon oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair. Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulberry cocoon oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Adv.

SHACKLETON FAILS TO RESCUE HIS MEN OWING TO THE ICE

Gets Within 20 Miles and Obligated to Return.

BELIEVES THERE IS HOPE

Thinks They Will Be Able to Survive Until Ice-Breaker Arrives.

LONDON, June 27.—Lieut. Sir Ernest Shackleton has been unable to rescue the men, numbering 22, comprising the main body of his Antarctic expedition, who were left on Elephant Island. This information was received in a dispatch from Shackleton from Port Stanley, Falkland Island. The explorer has evidently returned on the steamer which has been placed at his disposal by the Uruguayan Government for the purpose of effecting the rescue of his men.

According to his dispatch, the ice conditions had so increased in severity that he was unable to get nearer than 20 miles of the island. He thinks, however, as there is an excellent chance that they will be able to survive on short rations supplemented by penguins until another rescue party, provided with an ice-breaker, can push through to them.

The steamer Intrepid, provided by the Uruguayan Government, left Montevideo on June 8, with Lieut. Shackleton aboard, to succor the men on Elephant Island.

CHIEF INSPECTOR FINDS THE CAISSONS RESTING ON SAND

Manitoba Parliament Buildings Have No Supports.

EVIDENCE IN KELLY CASE

Former Provincial Architect Admits Giving Conflicting Evidence.

WINNIPEG, June 26.—Ten witnesses were heard in the assize court today in the trial of Thomas Kelly.

W. W. Horwood, former provincial architect, recalled today, at the suggestion of Mr. Justice Prendergast, stated, in reply to questions from his lordship, that before the public accounts committee he had testified on material matters, and under oath, differently from his evidence at the present trial.

Thomas Wallace, the last witness of the day, produced bottles of silt—a mixture of water and sand—which, he said, were taken from below various caissons which help to bear the weight of the parliament buildings. Between the caissons and rock, he said, there was found by excavation, in various cases, from fourteen to about twenty feet of boulder clay and silt.

Wallace, since last September, has been chief inspector for the government on the parliament buildings.

Hugh B. Lyall, of the Manitoba Bridge and Iron Works, swore that a reasonable price for the steel superstructure of the north wing, allowing a 10 per cent profit and providing for erection, would have been $94,544.

A contract was given Thomas Kelly for this work at $230,100.
