Representative of School Board to Attend Meeting of the Finance Committee.

Mayor George Wenige eliminated the entire school building program this year, and saved the average of London five cents month, claim members of the board

By forbidding the erection of new | buildings and the completion of class. rooms under construction, the city council cut $23,348.84 in sinking fund nd interest from the general estimates. To provide temporary accommodation made necessary by this move, the board added supplementary estimates of $11,420.

After all figures had been juggled and totalled it was found that the general commates had been reduced

A mill on the general estimates of the city produces approximately $60,-000. Working on this basis the actions of the city council in refusing debentures for a new collegiate and for the Trafalgar street school, reduced the tax rate by one-fifth of a mill. The average wealth of the taxpayers corated as well as it was in 1922.

The board is asking for supplementary estimates of $4,500 to provide temporary classrooms, heating, janitors, and for any repairing and remodeling necessary, in order that the congestion in the public schools may be eliminated this year. A like amount is asked for the sec ondary schools, and $2,420 for the Technical School.

The total school estimates as they now stand are $932,930.73. Originally hey were $944,859.97. It is probable that the board will he finance committee of the council
