The Pirates got six hits off Johnson one more than in the first game, and had several chances to score, but found the big veteran's "smoke" and the Senator defence invincible in every emergency. Stan Harris was particularly brilliant on the defence, spearing Wright's smash with a jumping one-hand catch in the seventh and doubling Traynor off first, while in the ninth the Senator leader picked up Traynor's grounder, tagged out Barnhard on the base line, and got the batter at first for another double-play.

Johnny Morrison and Babe Adams, playing in his first world series since 1909, shared the hurling burden for the Pirates after Yde went out, and held the Senators scoreless.

Max Carey got to second base twice, in the first and sixth innings, but was stranded both times, but the Pirates missed their best scoring chance in the second, when hits by Traynor and Grantham, mixed with a force-out by Wright, put two men on bases. They advanced to second and third on Gooch's out, but Yde grounded to Stan Harris to close the spurt.

But I don't believe we'll ever have But I don't believe we'll ever have to bother about that third chance; in fact, I expect the series to end with the fifth game. I'm going to send Stanley Coveleskie back at the Pirates in the Monday scrap here, and if he pitches as he did in Pittsburg last Thursday, Washington will win hands down. down. Wonderful Walter Johnson! How re-

Wonderful Walter Johnson! How remarkably he pitched to score his second victory in the 1925 series! And his effort Sunday was even more remarkable than the fans who saw him perform realized, for after the third inning Walter pitched practically on one leg.

Last month Walter sprung a charley-horse in his right leg, and for a time we feared he might not be fit to toll in the big series. But Mike Martin, who conditions the Washington players, brought the oig fellow around in fine style. Walter's great game last week revealed that.

and two homers that netted us all our runs.

The homers by "Goose Goslin and Joe Harris in the third were terrific drives. Goslin's made quite a bound over the bleacher wall, and Harris lined his far up into the permanent left field stand. That second circuit clout so unbalanced Yde that he passed Judge to first base and himself out of the game.

Morrison, who followed Yde, showed Washington the best pitching it has seen during the series. He looked mighty good, and I am gla2 he is out of the way for the last game on our home field. After working nerly five innings, as he did in his relief role, we are not likely to see him agair. Babe Adams, coming back to a world series for the first time since 1909, had something on the ball, too although we reached him for a couple of safeties in the eighth.

All but one member of the Washington line-up broke into the hit column, and every man was alert on defence. Buddy Myer, youthful recruit, in his first year in professional baseball, found the going a trifle rough around third base in the second inning, but he did very well for a shortstop, pinch-playing at the hot corner for the injured Ossie Bluege.

There was plenty of dash in the Washington club's work Sunday, but to me there was surprisingly little in the performances of the Pirates, I know we will retain our punch and dash, and I figure Washington will have a world champion team for the second year in succession after Monday's game is concluded. also started. SIRED HOMERS WHICH CINCHED THIRD VICTORY FOR SENATORS ON SUNDAY.

The one one-two punch displayed by Goslin and Joe Harris in the Sunday game, assured Washington of victory, and quickly put Yde out of misery. It is the third game of the series in which home-run smashes have been the dominant factor, and the champions have come when needed the most.

The line-up which Coach Nicholso paraded for the second game of the series following the rout at Ottawa the week previous demonstrated his faith in the squad. Toronto, Oct. II.—At the University of Toronto stadium the Ottawa Senators were rough riders for one day at least, and they gave the oarsmen a mighty battle, even if the superiority of the Toronto team was nearly always apparent. The final score was 13 to 5, the visitors averting a shutout when on successive downs they ripped through the double blue center from their own 30-yard line, and just as the game ended scored a touchdown which they failed to convert.

Argos opened the struggle n a way that indicated they would romp right through the visitors. Facing a strong wind they gained yards three times in succession and then tried to kick a goal from the field and failed.

Ottawa fought courage-ously and held the Argos scoreless until near the end of the third quarter, when Hambly booted to the deadline and also forced a rouge.
