Henry Allen says; "Every one seems anxiou buy stocks. In face of this don't see use o lling them now." Henry Allen to J. J. Dixon & Co.: The stock market started off to-day with a big boom, but the bright prospect did not last, quotations sagged easily. The turn from last week's droopiness came so quick that most of the traders have been left bare of stocks. This ranges them against any advance until they can get in, and upon the other hand nearly all of the smaller fry who frequent commissi. In houses have loaded up again in a pretty free and easy, not to say reckless, way. This provides a point of weakness. Lots of assurances are given that Mr. Gould has acomplished all he desires. This may be true, but it isn't sure by any means.

GRATEFUL-COMFORTING

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Eppe has provided our breakfast tables with a defloately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bils. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hunares of subtempladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a phoperly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazefte.
