In a few days the progressive citizen will be called upon to pay an extra amount for making the town more beautiful and the environment better, while the slovenly person who does not improve conditions but enjoys advanced civilization and places his surplus earnings in the bank is not taxed until he is a very wealthy man. In fact if there is any one who should pay an extra amount it is the citizen who does not try to help the town, and lives solely for himself.

The gifts, which were many and beautiful, were hidden in a large crepe wedding cake, which proved to be a great surprise to Miss Fowler, who on Ontario street, by three girl friends, and the singing of "Till we meet again," brought the delightful party to a close after receiving the good wishes of her many friends.

For several years Jack has been an enthusiastic and energetic member of the Baseball club, whose members wished to publicly acknowledge his services and show their appreciation of his sporting abilities. After a most appetizing dinner had been partaken of by the sixteen guests present, the President of the club, Mr. P. J. Dodds, read a nicely worded address regretting the departure of their guest and wishing him success through life, and Secretary Mr. Clare Roche presented him with a purse of money on behalf of his fellow sports. Jack made a suitable reply, thanking the donors for their gift and kind wishes and also the host and hostess for their many kindnesses to him. In sporting circles Jack Irwin will be missed, as he was an able and energetic member of both the baseball and hockey clubs and was always ready and willing to do all in his power to promote clean sport.

We regret to announce the death of an old and highly esteemed resident of Watford, Mrs. Powell, relict of the late William Powell, who passed peacefully away on Thursday afternoon at her home on St. Clair street where she lived alone. A neighbour went in to see her and found her sitting in her chair near the stove.  Mrs. Powell was a member of the Church of England, regular in her attendance and an arduous worker in that denomination. The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon from the home of her son-in-law, Dr. J. McGillicuddy, Main street, where service was held by Rev. J. H. Hosford, rector of Trinity church, and was largely attended. Interment was made in St. James' cemetery, Brooke. The pallbearers were Russell, Ernest and John Powell, J. McGillicuddy, E. McCutcheon and H. Shirley.
 Among those from a distance who attended the funeral were Mrs. McCutcheon and son, Thornedale; Miss Davies, Brantford; Mr. and Mrs. Brownlee and Mr. and Mrs. Lovell of Alvinston; Mrs. John Alexander, Brantford; Mr. John Powell, Florence.
