

larger building in which to be able to accommodate those who are at present refused. May the time not be far distant when we shall be able to enrol as students all those who will apply for a place in the Institute. When this is possible, our many friends will be surprised at the large number of students who desire to attend.

WHEELING, although a very pleasant pastime, has its perils, and we often see its effects. Boys who persist in showing off before the ladies are apt to get light in the head, and losing their equilibrium are sure to come to disgrace; while teachers are sometimes compelled to lay aside their responsibilities for indulging in this supposed harmless sport. Thus the musical part of the school misses Mrs. Massé very much, and hope that she will soon be able to take up her responsibilities and be with us as of old.

In the staff of teachers there have been several changes this year. The place of Miss L. Watson, of Hamilton, Ont., for the past two years our assistant teacher of music, has been taken by Miss Rusteadt, of Richford, Vt. Dr. Rainville, also, who has been with so long as resident physician and teacher, has gone to New York for further study and practice. His place as teacher has been taken by Mr. E. S. Roy, one of our old students, and a fourth year undergraduate of McMaster University. The medical oversight of the school will be shared by the neighboring physicians. Mr. Fred Therrien, another old student, has also been engaged this year to give additional help in the teaching and management of the school. Though we regret to lose our old teachers, we heartily welcome the new ones, and wish them a prosperous and happy sojourn with us.

It is always a pleasure to know that others are interested in our work. May we not consider the large number of visitors that we have had since school opened, as a proof that the Grande Ligne Mission holds a warm place in many hearts. The Institute gates are always open, and a cordial welcome awaits all comers, for we feel that a visit must increase the interest in the school and all the work connected with it. The visit usually includes an inspection of the sleeping-rooms, class-rooms, library, pantry and linen-room; a stroll through the grounds, and a visit to the little cemetery where the graves of Madame Feller and others recall to mind the noble sacrifices of the founders of the Mission.

The Women's Convention in Montreal was not without meaning to us, for eight ladies, several from Ontario, took advantage of being in Montreal, to come and to see Feller Institute. They expressed themselves as pleased with what they saw, and as feeling better able to lay the needs of the mission before the various societies in their own cities. Mrs. Lillie, who attended the Convention in the interest of Moulton College, made many special inquiries about such students, as might, after graduating here, enter the University to continue their studies. We were also favored with a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Davies, who, for many years, have contributed very generously to the support of the Grande Ligne Mission.
