

A Real Live Story

DAVID HARUM

By Edward Noyes Westcott * Paper, 75c.; Cloth, $1.25

The Christian Guardian

"David Harum has come to take his place in the gallery of friends to every reader who has human nature enough to appreciate a whole-souled man. . . . His quaint, illustrative way of expressing himself makes him a most entertaining companion. It is a long time since we read a book with so much originality and vivacity in conversation. David Harum is one of the cleanest, cleverest, and most exquisite literary portraits ever drawn in America."

The Toronto Globe

"Fame has come tardily to him (the author), but it is likely to be enduring fame, for he has added another figure to the immortal circle of the people we meet in books. David Harum is one of those rare creations in fiction, so vital, original and perennially interesting as to become traditional. . . . Mr. Westcott in delineating an individual of this type, with so fine an appreciation of its salient qualities, has achieved a great thing for American literature."
