THE MILTON LEAGUE.

The above League has been formed to assist in the circulation of High Class Political and Religious Literature, as and when it may appear specially needful and opportune. More particularly is it designed to give prominence to such writings as may be in danger of being either obscured by the exhalations of ignorance and prejudice, or misrepresented by the utterances of bigotry.

Facilities will be afforded for the publication of such political and religious correspondence, as may have been refused, for mere party or denominational considerations, by the established journals. And such measures will be adopted, from time to time, as may appear necessary to give increased publicity to what may be termed the courses and issues of active and progressive thought.

"The Milton League is a Canadian organization, with headquarters in Montreal, having for its object to assist in the circulation of political and religious literature of the higher class, especially such as falls of having a fair field through party prejudice and sectarian bigotry. It particularly aims to promote the publication of such essays and correspondence as may otherwise, for sectional or denominational reasons, have failed to see the light. Among its issues thus far are Scotch Pebbles, a collection of excerpts from Dr. Macleod's writings, and three sermons by Rev. Baldwin Brown of England, on the Doctrine of Annihilation, God's Elect, and Potter and Clay. Such an agent as this may be of good service in days like these.—Congregationalist."

Concerning the publications of the Milton League, the Literary World says:—

"Here is a new wave of literature, out of the deep and wide sea of religious thought, but sparkling and bright and gratefully refreshing. The Milton Publishing League is a new name to us. The organization is seemingly of Canada origin, having its headquarters in Montreal. Judged by these publications, the first we have seen under its imprint, it may be described as a Broad Church Tract Society, as such we give it a hearty welcome, and wish it a successful work. Its design, for religious literature, is to undo every yoke and let the oppressed go free; that is to say, to furnish the machinery for the freest circulation of religious thought; to give to the world discussions of vital themes which the Church press is too limited to touch. * * * * * Taken together, these publications are a suggestive sign of the determination of free thought to have its way inside of the Church as well as outside."

The publications of THE MILTON LEAGUE may be had at 162 ST. JAMES STREET, - - MONTREAL.

At all Bookstores—Price 30 cents.

THE ABOLITION OF DEATH, SLEEPING TO SEE, AND HOSEA'S ECLECTICISM, By A. B. M.

Of the volume from which the above discourses have been (by the Author's permission) re-printed, the English press gives the following notices:—

Those who will not agree with the preacher's doctrinal positions will recognize the keen activity of thought, high spiritual aspiration, and broadly generous social sympathy, which the discourses show.—Contemporary Review.

"They are what our American friends would call 'live' sermons; the spiritual instinct of the preacher never fails him; every incident of Scripture is made to turn a full light upon the present practical life of men. British Quarterly Review."

They will take rank with the productions of the very best preachers of modern days.—Nonconformist. As fine in thought and exquisite in style as are delivered from any pulpit in England.—English Independent.

TO DEVELOP CANADIAN LITERATURE

was the object for which THE NEW DOMINION MONTHLY was started on the day on which these Provinces became one country. It has aimed to bring Canadian writers and readers together, and being published at a price within the reach of the average Canadian household, it has largely succeeded. It has also sought in some measure to fulfil the function of an eclectic magazine, supplying its readers with some of the best articles, and selections from some of the best books published elsewhere. The variety of the wants which it seeks to supply have imposed on the publishers the necessity of increasing its size from time to time, so that it now contains 128 large pages of reading matter, both original and selected. In addition to general reading, there is a department devoted to Household Economy and another to Children. There is in every number a lively summary of Current Literature, with extensive extracts from one or more new works of especial interest. Some pages are devoted to Chess, under the able management of Mr. J. G. ASCHER, of Montreal, and a Draughts Department is under the supervision of Mr. ANDREW WHITE, of Bolton Forest. The Magazine is largely illustrated, especially the Household and Children's Departments, and a page is given to a Comic Cartoon. As an example of the contents of the Magazine, we may give some of the general reading in the January number, as follows:—
Claudine's Story, by the author of "The Holy Grail."
"Public Speaking," by Mr. George Murray.
"Nancy Carter's Theft," concluded.
"Nineteenth Century Progress," by Mr. S. E. Dawson, Montreal.
"Modern Mystics—Cagliostro," by Mr. Dedrick son.
The price of the Magazine is two dollars a year, and twenty cents a copy.
