

D2. What happens if a country refuses an on-site inspection?

If the membership at large orders an on-site inspection, the implicated State Party must comply or face censure. Censure can include a variety of measures including, in urgent cases, referral to the United Nations Security Council.