

5 Alliance, and we will be giving consideration to a specific proposal that will involve the whole question of European unity. This is an objective and we will be enabled, I believe, to make some progress in this area as a result of our determination at the present time to continue as members of a strengthened, a re-strengthened NATO.