

ring Fishery—Singular stranding of a Shoal—Mackerel—Cod— Cod-pools—Flat-fishes—Crab—Lobster—Shrimp—Prawn— The Crab and the Baillie—Shelled Mollusca—Improperly called Fishes—Interesting Variations of Structure—Cliffs of Orkney— Sea-bird Catching—Perilous Enterprises—Gannets	PAGE 65
---	------------

III. THE ARCTIC SEAS.

The Spirit of Geographical Discovery peculiar to Modern Times— Commercial Enterprise—Whale Fishing—Majesty of Polar Seas— Coast of Spitzbergen—Fine Contrasts of Hue—Clearness of Atmo- sphere—Deceptive Distance of Land—Architectural Regularity of Rocks—The Three Crowns—Ice—Icebergs—Beauty—Vast Size—Varying Forms—Overturning—Sudden Rupture—Process of Formation—Ice Islands—Disruption of One—Marine Ice— Formation—Ice Fields—Irresistible when in Motion—Perpendicu- lar Ice-needles—Continual daylight in Summer—Phenomena of Winter—Aurora—Mock Suns—Fog Bow—Looming—Curious Results—Inversion—Ice-blink—Effects of Intense Cold—Frost Crystals—Their exceeding Beauty—Snow Stars—Antiseptic Power of Frost—Ship tenanted by a Corpse—Vegetation—Whale— Interesting Peculiarities in its Conformation—Whalebone—Arterial Reservoir of Blood—Blowhole—Windpipe—Eye—Blubber— Reflections on the Goodness of God—Whale Fishery—Accidents— Rorqual—Structure of its Mouth—Enemies of the Whales— Arctic Shark—Thresher—Swordfish—Narwhal—Use of its singular Horn—Torpidity of Mackerel—Sea Blubber—Arctic Clio —"Green-water"—Microscopic Animalcules—Dissecting Crab	103
--	-----

IV. THE ATLANTIC OCEAN.

Form of the Atlantic—Its Bays and Inland Seas—Extent of Coast—Sight of Land—Azores—Picturesque Appearance—Peak of Pico—The Atlantis of the Ancients—Islands swallowed up in Modern Times—Submarine Volcano—Stormy Petrels—A Shoal of Dolphins—Their Gambols—Capture of One—Gulf-weed— Barnacles—Ocean Crabs—Toad-fish—"Calm Latitudes"—Heat of the Sun—Gorgeous Sunsets—Southern Constellations—The Cross—Tropic Fishes—Coryphæa—Pursuit of Flying-fish—White
--