York County News Toronto Junction, Nov. 12.—(Special.)— The annual commencement of Toronto Junction High School was held in the auditorlum of the school this afternoon, and, as usual, was one of those bright and pleasing functions which draw out the educationally inclined. Dr. G. S. Martin, chairman of the board, presided, and in his opening rethe board, presided, and in his opening rethe success attained by pupils at the retents examinations. He deprecated the the success attained by pupils at the retents examinations. He deprecated the the public school, and was pleased with the public school board in the public school should wo', in
the public school should wo', in harmony, and closed by telling the students that the Friday following Thanksgiving Day would be a public holiday.

Mr. F. C. Cobbeck, B.A., the principal, then read his annual report, which was a very graiffying one. It stated that 260 students were enrolled on the books of the school this year, of whom 180 are now in attendance. The school is one of the three largest in the province, and ranks larger than one-third of the collegate institutes.

One hundred and eight certificates had been granted at the past examinations to 57 students, as compared with 74 certificates last year, which was then considered remarkable.

The speech of the afternoon was that given by Rev. E. H. Dewart, D.D., who than one-third of the correlates had been granted at the past examinations to for students, as compared with 74 certificates last year, which was then considered remarkable.

The speech of the afternoon was that given by Rev. E. H. Dewart, B.D., who spoke sympathizingly to the students in their battles with the world, encouraginly to the teachers in their high and sacred work, and interestingly to the parents who were present to see the pupils rewarded for their scholarly efforts.

The presentation of certificates and diplomas was made as follows: To Form I., Ar. D. Fotheringham, Public School Inspector; Form II., Rev. W. R. Barker; Form III., Principal Wilson of the Model School, Dr. J. T. Gilmour and Prof. Rebertson of Victoria University, a former principal of the school; Form IV. Mr. W. Pakenham, B.A. Registrar of the Educational Council. Short Espeches were delivered by each. Dr. Gilmour, who was on the first Board of Trustees, and has continued to hold office ever since, took the opportunity of replying to the prisoners are wholly illiterate; one-third practically illiterate, and crime is ten times as great among the lilliterate as among these who have had public school education. The ages of the greatest criminals are between 20 and 30 years, the next between 18 and 21. He then went on to show what truancy led to, and said the teaching of the school was diametrically opposed to cytime.

Mr. E. Irwin, B.A., also addressed the students, and made a very effective speech. During the afternoon Rev. J. W. Graham, B.A., recited "Lasca" with great acception.

the school was diametrically opposed to crime.

Mr. H. E. Irwin, B.A., also addressed the students, and made a very effective speech. During the afternoon Rev. J. W. Graham, B.A., recited "Lasca" with great acceptance, Miss Nellie Nunn read an escay on "The Character of Byron, as Shown in Childe Harold, Canto IV.," and Oliver D. Colbeck gave an essay on "Julius Caesar." The High School Glee Club sang an opening glee and a closing one, "Blow, Blow, Thou Winter Wind," which was very appropriate, for during the whole afternoon the wind kept up an incessant howl.

A crisis in the affairs of Toronto Junction is rapidly approaching, sooner, perhaps. that most people anticipated, and not from the quarter where everybody expected ft. Very recently Mr. Park and Mr. Vipond, holders of some of the town's debentures, whose interest amounts to $144, recently got fudgment against the town. This, they are pressing for, and yesterday one of the firm's lawyers, acting for those gentlemen, was in town in reference to the matter. The town will have one month in which to act, after notice has been given that a special levy is required to raise the amount, and the notice is expected at any time. Of course, the town might pay the interest, but to do so would be unfair to other bondholders to whom the town owes $40,000 interest for last year, and such action would be tantamount to giving a preferred claim to Mr. Park and Mr. Vipond. The levy would be a small one, perhaps less than 1-10th of a mill on the assessment; but it would be as difficult of collection as a large one, and would entall upon the town officials as great an amount of work. On vacant property, too, there would be nothing to seize, and in mill the next tax sale in order to realize a portion of the town will be asked of the Provincial Government, and it is possible a mutual arrangement charge d'anfaires at Carlsenge charge and at Carlsune, has been relieved of the Grand Ducke and Carlsune of the Kingdom of Wurtemberg, and at Carlsune, has been elieved of his post at the court of Baden.
