PROF. ORR GETS AFTER CANADIAN THEOLOGIAN

- Takes Issue With Prof. Jordan of Queen's-Dr. Harris and Certain Text Books,

Christian parents in this city would not be able to rest if they were aware of the contents of some of the text books used in some of the young ladies' colleges, said Rev. Dr. Elmore Harris, chairman, at Prof. James Orr's lecture in Jarvis-street Baptist Church last night.

Prof. Orr had a large audience, including a number of representative evangelical ministers. His topic was "Biblical versus Critical History of the Religion of Israel."

The lecturer leveled his argument at the critics of the last three decades in general, and specifically at Prof. Jordan of Queen's University, Kingston, in which city Prof. Orr lectured on in which city Prof. Orr lectured on Friday night.

Prof. Orr said that it had been intimated that he was "on the fence." He desired to make himself understood and pleased his audience from time to time by interjecting into hi saddress the question, "Is that clear?"

Prof. Jordan, he said, declared in the newspapers that there was no difference between Biblical revelation and the progressive revelation of the critics. Prof. Orr read an extract from one of Prof. Jordan's works in which the latter declared that the traditional and the critical view of revelation were distinctly different.

Tracing the teachings of the critics Tracing the teachings of the critics the lecturer said they swept away belief in patriarchal history, as family legends, that the passage of the Red Sea was a fortunate coincidence—for the Israelites—a high wind blowing the waters back, while they escaped, but rolling them mountains high over Pharaoh's army. It was claimed that the Mosaic law was a compilation ages after Moses' time.

So far as the Book of Deuttenomy was concerned "it was hidden by priests in the temple, who pretended to find it there to suit their purpose instead of falling in the order of the Bible chronology.

The critics represented Jehovah as being first the storm god of Sinal, the national god of the Cananites, but when he became the real god of the universe the critics had not made clear.

As to history and teachings the critics treated the Bible as if they took a pyramid and placed it on its The lecturer's view was that Jehovah in the Bible revealed Himself truly as historically stated. While he did not question the sincerity of critics who believed in the divinity of Christ, their learnest toney amazed him.

inconsistency amazed him.
He was confident that if the teachlings of the critics prevailed the whole liasis of the New Testament as well as of the Old would crumble into ruins. A suggestion that questions would be answered inspired several persons to attempt to give their religious ex-periences. This was disallowed by the chairman, who said the points would be dealt with in the lecture to-night.

WHERE we have given one whole section to Lace Curtains and another of the same size to Casement Cloths, when we come to Chintz and such like goods, we devote to them a double section. There are so many usefully pretty printed materials for household decoration-Coverings, Curtains, Spreads, Draperies, etc.—and there is such a constant demand for them that we have gladly given them plenty of room now that our new building enables us to do so. The Chintz family of fabrics give the maximum effect at the least expense. They can be used in pretty drawing-rooms—they can be used in pretty summer cottages. They are artistic enough to be rich and cheap enough to serve for temporary schemes for summer bedrooms, or for summer furniture covers and slip covers. We have a splendid assortment of these bright, flowery prints - American, English, French, Dutch, German and East Indian. Let us run over a few for your inspection. Come in and see these fabrics. They are always cheerful and companionable.

CRETONNES

The various staple styles and qualities are here, of course, but also many novel effects, particularly those which are reproductions in designs and colorings of patterns our great-grandmothers admired. There is an interesting antique design called the "Wooden Bird," and a quaint pattern of diminutive flower baskets, among those which sell from 15c to 50c per yard.

CHINTZ

Block printed for the most part, producing that artistic effect which is so near akin to handwork; a rich verdure design has a wreath of foliage greens, on a cream ground. The depth of this pattern is remarkable. Per yard, 50 inches wide, $1.00 to $2.00.

SATEENS

Dainty is the word which best describes this season's showing of Printed Sateens, because while there are some dark shades and elaborate designs, most of them are light, with pretty floral decorations in naturalistic colorings. Per yard, 12 1-2c to 75c.
