

Social Notes of Interest

The post-nuptial reception of Mrs. J. Gilmour Armstrong, 174 Duke street, was a delightful event yesterday afternoon, when she received for the first time since her marriage. The bride was attractively gowned in madonna blue georgette, over black Canton, with pearls and diamonds. She was assisted in receiving by her husband's mother, Mrs. J. S. Armstrong, who wore a handsome black satin gown with diamonds trimming, and Mrs. J. A. Murdoch, mother of the bride, who looked very attractive in black georgette with sequins. The large drawing room, furnished in rich shades of blue, with exquisite hangings of blue and cream, was very pretty with its arrangement of harmonizing bachelor buttons, intermingled with calendula and autumn effects suggested by autumn and other offerings from the woods. The open fire made a delightful glow in the dimly lighted room. A lovely arrangement of pink snapdragons with here and there bouquets of roses made the room very pretty. In the dining room yellow chrysanthemums centred the richly appointed table, which was presided over by Mrs. F. G. Spencer, who wore amethyst lace over satin and a handsome picture hat of velvet with feather to match her gown, and Mrs. Sheldon, in black Canton with smart black hat. Yellow candles in silver candlesticks lighted all the rooms and made a very pretty setting for the reception gowns and for those of the waitresses and guests. Those assisting in serving were Miss Margaret Gilmour, Miss Alice Murdoch, Miss Audrey Kerr, Miss Louise Sheldon, Mrs. Lester Mowry and Miss Frances Murdoch. The ushers were Mrs. W. C. Brown, in powder blue Canton with black hat; Miss Margaret Bolton, in cocoa Canton, with hat of brown, and Mrs. Arthur S. Walker, in flame Canton, with pretty turned up hat of black velvet. Little Miss Doris Nickerson was the dainty door attendant and was very attractive in her bright frock of peach-colored georgette. There were many callers during the afternoon.

Mrs. John H. Vaughan and Mrs. Doris J. Seely were successful hostesses yesterday afternoon when they entertained at 14 tables of bridge at Mrs. Vaughan's residence, 290 Princess street, in aid of the Free Milk Fund. The rooms were beautiful in their lovely decorations of autumn blooms that made the place a bower in which the pretty gowns of the guests were gems to a charming advantage. Dahlias, pink, white and yellow, with bachelor buttons, and here and there a lovely fern, with golden marginals and autumn leaves skillfully intermingled were among the flowers used. Mrs. Vaughan received in a fawn crepe gown with touches of brown silk gold trimming. Mrs. Seely wore black chiffon velvet with jet and dainty lace. Those who served were Mrs. Percy Gibson, Mrs. Harold Sullivan, Miss Kathryn Hoyt, Miss Kathryn Patterson, Miss Audrey Hunter, Mrs. L. Yeomans and Mrs. Peter Sinclair. The prize winners were Mrs. T. B. Reynolds, Miss S. Logan, R. N., and Mrs. Walter Myles. More than $25, it is expected, will be added to the Milk Fund.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Carter and young son, after spending 10 days with Mr. Carter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Carter, at Fair Vale, left by last evening's Boston train en route for Nutley, New Jersey, a suburban district of New York, where they will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. James Johnstone are home again from their delightful trip to Portland, Me., where they were guests of their son, Mr. J. Gray Johnstone, and Mrs. Johnstone. While in Maine Mr. and Mrs. Johnstone were taken for a motor trip of 1,000 miles. They were charmed with their visit and the people of Portland, which they call a very hospitable city.

Mrs. A. D. Taylor and baby daughter, Shirley, of Minto, are in the city guests of Mrs. Taylor's mother, Mrs. Robert Wisely, who spent some time with her daughter in Minto this summer and was also a visitor in Fredericton for a short time. Mrs. Taylor will remain this week with her mother.

Miss Margaret Murray, M. A., graduate of Toronto University, has returned to her Alma Mater to take up special studies.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Atcheson, of West St. John, and their daughter, little Miss Edith, left yesterday for Montreal, where they will spend a week at the Mount Royal Hotel. Mrs. Atcheson and daughter will return home on Monday and the young people of the church will proceed to New York for a week's trip of business and pleasure.

Dr. Doris Murray returned to Baltimore, Md., a few days ago to resume her school and welfare work there. Dr. Murray spent a month here on vacation.

METHODIST RALLIES IN THE NORTH END

Portland Methodist church has followed up the Sunday school rally of last Sunday with a general activity in every department of the church this week. Last evening's service being under the auspices of the W. M. B. On Tuesday evening a social evening was a lecture by Rev. E. E. Styles was given under the auspices of the official board of the church. The Ladies' Aid began their activities on Monday and the young people of the church will rally tomorrow evening. On Sunday there will be a special assembly of the congregation to get into line for the winter's programme. This evening there will be a social evening, when the whole congregation will meet in the Y. P. S. hall to be welcomed by the Rev. H. A. Goodwin and Mrs. Goodwin and a competent committee.

The meeting last evening was presided over by Mrs. A. W. Lingley with Miss Jane Henderson leading the devotional service. She was assisted by Mrs. H. A. Goodwin. Rev. "Father" Small, of Quebec, West China, gave a fine address. Bayard Stillwell sang a solo, with Miss Lillian Brownfield as accompanist. Miss Joyce Spinney read the report of the Mission Band. Miss Ada Calhoun gave the report of the Jesse Chipman Mission Circle. Miss Phyllis MacGowan sang. Mrs. Andrew Myles gave the report of the W. M. B.

Rev. Mr. Small, who has just returned from the province of Szechuan, China, near Tibet, brought with him his two daughters, the Misses Dorothy and Charlotte, who were dressed in the costumes of China, denoting the student girl and the holiday girl, respectively. A map shown by the speaker had on it a sentence from Confucius in Chinese characters, which interpreted, read: "Within the four seas all men are brothers." He em-phased how much this spirit would do in bringing the world to God. He told of the age of civilization in China and its great learning, but that with all this, there had been no advancement except where the Gospel had penetrated. He spoke of the financial changes in the country and how, when the missionaries knew that Canada was not sending enough to meet the demands of new work, they took smaller salaries that the work might go on. The Chinese people, he said, were very willing to pay for medical aid and for education, but the matter of introducing religion had to be done very carefully, so deep-rooted were their prejudices. He said that there was great

It is one thing for white enamel to be white when first applied, and quite another for it to remain white month in and month out.

The pigment used in Luxberry White Enamel was developed after years of research in America and Europe by Berry Brothers' chemists. It stays white.

Use Luxberry in your home. It will keep the room with light and give them warmth and cheer.

Irresistible!

No matter how served

HOW good—how luring are these toasted kernels of Rice and in what a variety of ways can they be served. Puffed Rice makes every bowl of milk inviting—makes every dish of fruit more luscious. For children douse the grains with melted butter as you would popcorn. Use as a garnish for desserts, and instead of nuts in home candy making. Let the children have all they like—at meals and between meals. The utmost in a delicious food—digestible, appetising.

Quaker Puffed Rice and Quaker Puffed Wheat are whole grains—steam exploded to eight times normal size. They are energy foods. They are wise foods, for they contain the whole grain. Serve in plenty every day.

Keep both on hand.
