HOW NOVA SCOTIANS VOTED AT ST. JOHN

Secretary of Yarmouth Athletic Association Corrects Erroneous Statement.

Sir—I wish to correct an erroneous report which appeared in the Herald on the 18th, in reference to the meeting of the M. P. B. A. U. of C. held at St. John, N. B., on the 12th instant.

It is not in accordance with the facts; the actual Club vote stood: For, 19; against, 28. It is therefore apparent on the face of it that Nova Scotia did not vote solid against the affidavit.

Furthermore, the motion to adopt the affidavit was made by A. C. Millie, of the Wanderers, Halifax, and seconded by myself, two Nova Scotia Associations with probably the largest membership in the west.

Possibly the Herald has got the matter confused with a certain solid occurrence which took place last fall in Nova Scotia. Thanking you for your kindness in publishing this correction, I am, Very truly yours, W. R. CANN, Secretary, Y. A. A. A. Yarmouth, April 14.

WILLIAMS WINS, JOHNSTON LOSES. Boston, April 18—The national amateur heavyweight boxing championship, one of eight decided at the tournament here, moved from the east coast to the west coast when John Williams, of San Francisco, defeated Gordon Munce, of New York, 1921 champion.

One of Canada's hopes of boxing conquest went out with the defeat of Jack Johnston, of Toronto, by Louis Raddy, of Cleveland, in the 115 pound semi-finals. The judges' decision was not entirely approved by the crowd of 10,000 which jammed the hall.

The crowd did not agree with either decision in the 126 pound class. George Fifield, of Toronto, went into the final in one of the expense of a local favorite, and Ernie Sawyer, of Boston, New England champion, advanced in the other over Billie Linder, of Pittsburgh.

George Fifield of Toronto survived the two nights' boxing and proved himself tonight the national champion in the 126 pound class, defeating Ernie Sawyer of Boston in the finals. Other results in the finals follow: 122 pound class—T. P. McManus, Pittsburgh, defeated Harry Marcus, Cleveland.

HITS SUNDAY GOLF EVILS. Hackensack Rector Also Denounces "Hip Flask" Habits of Girls. Hackensack, N. J., April 19—The Rev. H. Elmendorf, rector of Christ Episcopal church, the largest Episcopal parish in Bergen County, assailed Sunday golf and promiscuous drinking by young men and young women at dances, in his Easter sermon.

"I am broadminded as to Sunday golf and see no particular harm in it, but I think the members of this church should first attend to their religious duties on Sunday or play before the morning services," said Canon Elmendorf. "I am also opposed to compelling boys to caddy on Sunday, thus depriving them, too, of the chance to attend church. Let golfers do their own caddying if they must play on Sunday."

The "hip flask" habit is a more serious matter. The pressure of intoxicated girls at club dances is a sin and a shame. The rector said he had learned that while local clubs and restaurants do not sell liquor, they permit young people to take whisky with them and drink it at will.

Opera in Odessa. Music Well Patronized Though Thousands Starve. Odessa, March 17—(By mail)—It costs twenty-five cents, the price of two pounds of bread, for an entire leg at the Odessa opera. The musicians wear gloves while playing their instruments to keep their fingers from freezing in the heatless halls, but the music is exceptionally good.

Long lines of scrawny people wait in line before food stations and many are to be seen lying in the streets too weak from hunger to solicit food, yet the opera house is well patronized. The bill at a performance witnessed by the correspondent was "The Huguenots." The voices were good and the costumes—handbags from more prosperous days—were as good as many seen in America opera houses.

Several performances are given each week in a varied repertoire of Italian, German, Russian or purely local Ukrainian operas.

KING ALFONSO ON WINNING POLO TEAM IN INTERNATIONAL MATCH. Madrid, April 19—A polo team composed of King Alfonso, Count Lamara, the Marquis Villa Bragana and the Duke of Panaranda met for the second time and defeated a combination team captained by Baron Raoul Schroeder of Chile by a score of 7 goals to 4. The other members of Baron Schroeder's team were Colonel George Philippi, Captain Gill of Ransdagh and Colonel Melville of the Seventeenth British Lancers. The same teams met on April 10, when the Internationals won from the Spaniards 6 goals to 5.
