ULSTER POLICE
THIRD TIME HOLD UP CARDINAL

Primate Ordered out of Automobile and Papers Scrutinized

Four Men and a Woman Shot Dead This Morning in County Armagh—Ulster Parliament May Fix Death Penalty for Incendiaries.

(Canadian Press Cable) Belfast, June 17.—Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, and his companion, Archbishop Donnel, were again held up by members of the Ulster constabulary last night, when their automobile was stopped near Newry by a patrol of "sp" agents.

The constables at first demanded the archbishop's license, which he produced, and then asked to search the automobile. He refused to submit to a search, to which they consented, although against giving their names.

The constables then ordered the primate to get out of the car, and to get out of the car were the primate and documents carried by the primate were scrutinized, after which the party was allowed to proceed.

This is the third occasion recently on which Cardinal Logue has been held up by constables.

Winston Churchill, British colonial secretary, following the second holding up of Cardinal Logue, expressed regret in the House of Commons over the incident. He declared he had conversed with Sir James Craig on the subject, and that the Ulster premier desired him to say it was far from the wishes of the northern government that any want of consideration should have been shown to a dignitary of the Catholic Church.

Churchill also declared that "those concerned" had been officially rebuked. "Shot Dead." Belfast, June 17.—Four men and one woman were shot dead and two men were wounded this morning in the vicinity of Bess Brook, known as county "sp" agents, in the houses of several loyalists were burned.

The affairs are thought to have been in the nature of a "sp" raid. It is believed that two gangs participated in the massacre. The firing and explosions were plainly heard in Newry. Those killed were a man and his son, who were staying together, and a young man. In addition a man and his son were wounded, and another boy and girl were injured by bomb splinters when the home of two of the victims were destroyed.

Members of another household narrowly escaped when the premises were burnt down. Attempts were made to burn several other homes, and one at Cloughra, near Bess Brook, was attacked with rifles and bombs.

Death for Firebugs. London, June 17.—The campaign of incendiarism in Belfast has become so alarming, says the Morning Post's correspondent, that when the Ulster parliament assembles on Tuesday the northern government is likely to introduce legislation imposing the death penalty on persons convicted of setting fires. The writer ascribes the burnings to a plot to strangle the industrial life of Belfast by destroying manufacturing and business premises.

Mukden, Manchuria, June 17.—A proclamation of a new form of government throughout Manchuria, published by assemblies representing the three provinces, provides that each province shall govern itself, while recognizing Manchuria as still a part of China, and names Chang Tso Lin commander in chief of all the troops.

Kiungtung, China, June 17.—Northward advances of an army sympathetic to Sun Yat Sen, president of the Chinese Republic at Canton, have brought it from Kanchow to near Kiancheu. GAVE CHAMPION TENNIS PLAYER A HARD FIGHT Montreal, June 17.—A. J. Vesey, 1920 singles champion of the province, narrowly escaped defeat last evening in the singles of the Westmount Tennis Club annual tournament when he met E. B. Greenfields, the former champion winning by 6-4, 5-6, 6-4.

Greenfields, who won the intermediate championship of the province last summer, played a surprising match against the more experienced opponent and for a time seemed to have the struggle won. Vesey took the first set 6-5, after Greenfields had tied the games at five all, but lost the second set 5-6. Greenfields had the third set at 4-1 in his favor when Vesey settled down and with brilliant cross court play tied the count at four all and won the set and match, taking the final two games.

Sentiment Favors Union. This very lack of communication, especially between any of the islands in the West Indies, was spoken of by Mr. McKinstry as one of the big reasons for the way of a scheme of confederation. Sentiment in British Honduras also favors the plan, he said, and generally felt that all the British West Indies would like to be governed by Canada. Many consider that the West Indies are economically the natural complement of the Dominion, and that some sort of political union would be mutually beneficial.

Another important project from the standpoint of the islands is the proposed link between Canada and the West Indies by two routes. One route leads to the Bahamas, Jamaica and British Honduras, the islands, Barbados and Trinidad. Another route, he said, Mr. McKinstry, is the proposed link between the islands and the Dominion, which is given in the matter of tariffs. In British Honduras, both trade in coconuts, nutmegs and other products, and the German market, although the export trade on Canada is not so heavy as it might be.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION IS UNDER FIRE

Much Criticism When Vote of $307,000 is Presented

Question of Patronage in Public Appointments is Reviewed—One Member Describes Classification as a Joke Book.

(Canadian Press) Ottawa, June 17.—There was much criticism of the Civil Service Commission in the House this evening, when a vote of $307,000 for that body was under discussion.

"Patronage still exists," asserted Hon. Charles Marcell, former speaker and Liberal member for Bonaventure, "but it is not exercised by the only people who have a right to exercise it, the representatives of the constituencies."

In reply to a question from W. G. MacQuarrie, Conservative, New Westminster, Mr. Crerar said that the government should consult all members in parliament in making appointments.

Hon. T. A. Crerar, Progressive leader, came out strongly against any return to patronage, and condemned the old system on the ground that it tempted the member to reward his political workers with public office.

"Why not?" asked a Liberal member. "Because I conceive it is not part of the business of the members to make appointments as a reward for party service."

"What about the Senate?" came another interruption from the Liberal ranks.

"If honorable members desire to make a change in appointments to the Senate," replied Mr. Crerar, "it would have my hearty support."
