It is understood the commander of the grand fleet was intending to take six weeks leave of absence during which he might cross the Atlantic, but the European trouble now brewing may prevent him leaving the British Isles.

BRIGHT NEW BILL AT OPERA HOUSE

Good Wholesome Comedy, a Pleasing Musical Act, Dainty Dancing Offering, and Feature Comedy Cycling.

With some good wholesome comedy, an exceptionally pleasing musical act, a dainty dancing offering and a great comedy cycling offering, the new programme in the Opera House last evening won general favor and evidently made a big hit with the many patrons in attendance.

The first three chapters of "The Silent Avenger," a $1,000,000 Vitaphone production, were very interesting and consistent and the serial promises to become very popular. William Duncan in the leading role, has a part just suited to his capabilities, and his appearance in the first episode would indicate that he was a good choice for the great part he is portraying.

Cordini, "The Piano Accordion Wizard," made a favorable impression and his tuneful melodies, both classical and popular, were thoroughly enjoyed.

The management of all other amusements and the supper tables reflects great credit on those who gave their time to making the picnic a success.

The Royal Shroveton, in a comedy cycling performance, won well merited applause. They are clever riders and intelligent in their offering, which makes the act very popular.

Jack McDermott, who was formerly in a big figure on the vaudeville stage in the States, was well received in his skit, which featured funny songs and chatter. He is a clever entertainer and received well earned applause.

O'Brien and Woods were considerably applauded in their offering. Their songs and amusing repartee were enjoyed. This programme will be repeated to-night and tomorrow afternoon and evening.

WILL ESTABLISH CENTRAL SCHOOL FOR TEACHERS

A plan to establish a central school by the dominion government for the training of vocational teachers throughout Canada was endorsed at a meeting in the city last night of the New Brunswick Vocational board. The subject came before the board in the form of a communication from Senator Robertson, minister of labor, calling attention to a conference on the matter to be held in Ottawa in September, and asking the co-operation of the provincial board. The meeting was held in the government rooms, and was presided over by Mr. Magee, M.P.P. for Port Elgin. The other members of the board present were Dr. H. V. Bridger, Frederickson, George H. Maxwell, St. John; Fletcher Peacock, provincial director of vocational schools.

A resolution was passed expressing the thanks of the vocational board of New Brunswick for the use of the Fisher school, Woodstock, and that a copy of the resolution be sent to the executives of the Fisher estate and the Carleton county vocational committee.

There were eighty-one students enrolled and seventy-one finished their courses satisfactorily. The school was successful. Each teacher was a specialist in his or her line and the students were eager learners. The social side was not neglected. A cafeteria under the control of Miss Barnett boarded the students at the rate of $4.04 a week.

The approximate cost of the summer school was $3,704.64. This exceeds the estimate by about $700, five hundred of which was on capital account. The equipment now on hand represents an asset which would at least partly cover the over-expenditure.

The classified expenditures were as follows:
Salaries $1,451.60
Traveling expenses of students 489.05
Cafeteria 1,388.70
Equipment 541.05
Incidentals 102.53
Less receipts $3,942.90
Total 238.32
Total $3,704.64

KILLED IN BUGGY Wife Finds Ontario Man Lying in Rig With Head Between Shaft and Wheel.

Guelph, Ont., Aug. 10.—John Clifford, a well-known farmer, who resides near Morriston, met a terrible death last week when he had his head crushed to a pulp in a very mysterious accident. Clifford had been out driving through the country all morning and shortly afterwards the horse wrenched back home with Clifford's dead body stretched across the floor of the buggy. His head was plucked between the shaft and one of the wheels, and the side of his face had been completely lacerated from the pressure of the wheel.

When his wife went over to see the rig, she was horrified to find that her husband had met death in a most frightful manner.

Neighbors were immediately notified and before the body could be removed from the buggy, the wheel had to be taken off, the man having been wedged in between the side of the vehicle and the wheel.

The cause of the fatality is a mystery and how the unfortunate man came to his death may never be known. He left home about 10 o'clock in the morning, but did not say where he was going. So far as is known, the only place he was seen was on a road about two and a half miles from Morriston, where he had been talking to a man running a road roller, about 1:10 in the afternoon. Clifford was a man about 50 years of age, and married. Coroner Dr. Savage, of Guelph, will hold an inquest.

Deskman Thomas of the Central Police Station, is performing the duties of Police Court Sergeant Hastings while the latter is on his holidays.
