Martial Law in Twenty Towns—Women Burn Railroad Stations and Spread Terror—Stormy Scene in Parliament

Rome, June 10.—Rioting and disorder in various places throughout the country in consequence of the killing of two Socialists by the police at Ancona on last Sunday were the subject of a violent discussion in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday. Premier Salandra said the government was determined to suppress the rioting. This aroused the anger of Socialist members, and they made bitter attacks on the premier. He also threatened that if the government look arbitrary measures there would be reprisals from Socialists. This caused an uproar which became so violent that the president was obliged to adjourn the session, as it was feared that the rioters would attack the place. The city is patrolled by troops.

Resorting to fire, striking workmen spread terror in Italy today. They burned the railroad stations at Imole and Fabriano, and disorder was reported from many other places. In order to prevent anarchy in Central Italy, martial law has been proclaimed in twenty towns where radical socialists are inciting disorders to gain adherents for general strike.

The device will also control signals to mines or railway tunnels for blasting purposes, alarm signals between vessels and call signals for the wireless telephone.

Mrs. Pankhurst Succeeds in Dodging The Police Again

Gets Away From Guarded House—Another Picture Slasher Wild in Court—Strong Denunciation of the "Furies" by Women of Sense

London, June 10.—The elusive Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant suffragette leader, again succeeded during the night in evading the police, who were closely watching a house in Grosvenor Square from which she had recently been conducting a campaign against members of the royal family at Buckingham Palace and other places.

The ingenuity of the women and their ability to circumvent trained brains of Scotland Yard whenever circumstances demand a real contest of wits are giving the police great satisfaction. The documents seized revealed very few names of public speakers.

Miss Bertha Ryland who yesterday destroyed George Romney's "Portrait of a Boy" in Birmingham art gallery was seriously injured for striking with a scene in court shrieking without cessation and quoting scripture.

A resolution strongly condemning Mrs. Pankhurst and demanding urgent action by the government to stop the reign of anarchy was adopted today by a large majority at a conference of the Women's Liberal Federation now in session in London. Lady Carlisle, president, in moving the resolution spoke of the "terrible scourge of violence" which has become a part of the methods which the "Furies" employ to achieve their ends. She said: "The outrageous example of unchecked violence of these criminal wreckers is injuring the moral fibre of a considerable number of men and women in this country." Lady Carlisle denounced as "spurious sentimentality" the advice: "The suffragettes should be treated as criminals" and said that the women should not be made to suffer the same penalties as men under the law. Her remarks were received with loud cheering.

MANUFACTURERS' REPRESENTATION

Not Sufficient in Parliament, Says Report

SOME TRADE MATTERS

Question of Assistance to Lumbering Industry—C. J. Henderson is to be the New President of Canadian Association

Montreal, June 10.—The contention that Canadian manufacturers were not fairly represented in either the provincial or Dominion parliaments was made in a report of the legislation committee to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association today. "It is not to be expected," this committee reported, "that others will safeguard the interests of manufacturers when the latter fail to look after their own interests."

This afternoon there was a meeting of the biscuit and confectionery sections. Referring to the matter of making trade commissioners agents for Canadian business firms, the executive reported. The fact that all industries in Canada lumbering is practically the only one that is entitled to assistance of some kind. Under no circumstances, however, should it be permissible for government commissioners to act as salesmen. They should only be permitted to act as salesmen when the dignity of the office, but inferentially it would make the government responsible for the foreign buyer for quantity and quality of the goods. It is recommended that C. J. Henderson, manager of the Canadian Salt Co., Windsor, Ont. The nomination of Henderson was also recommended that J. H. Sheppard, of the Alaska Feather and Down Co., Montreal, move to amend the resolution, and that Lt. Col. W. M. Garshore, of the McClary Mfg. Co., London, Ont., be the new second vice-president, and that the president of the executive are nominated for election. The convention yesterday adjourned to meet at 8:00 to-morrow.

Business Is As Good As We Make It

The head of a great national industry—a veritable live wire—remarked recently that he could have a panic in his business any time he wanted it. All he had to do was to let up driving and begin to talk hard times.

But instead of doing this, he increases his advertising, when things look equally and gives his salesmen harder.

And good times or bad, there has never been a year that his business has failed to go ahead and yield a handsome profit.

This man incidentally practically does all his advertising in the local newspapers, figuring wisely that by making direct appeals to the distributors of his goods, he is paving the way for his own salesmen to get more orders.

The Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, is working to help builders of business build better. Buckle up on request to 808 World Building, New York.
