Nowhere during the six months that have been away, have I found such signs of practical Catholicity as in Ireland," said His Lordship Bishop Leane, at 9 o'clock mass yesterday in the cathedral. The bishop told the congregation of his trip through Europe, Egypt and the Holy Land. He said that Christian civilization was far in advance of pagan civilization, but the present strife in Europe was a poor example of the Christian variety.

The St. John exhibition of 1914 was formally opened with appropriate ceremonies on Saturday evening. A crowd of fully 1,200 people gathered for the event, which was marked by speeches by leaders of the city and province.

At nine o'clock His Honor Lieutenant Governor Wood entered the big amusement hall attended by his secretary, W. C. Cruikshank and Lieutenant Percy McAvity, A. D. C., and accompanied by the directors of the exhibition association and a party of ladies and gentlemen who filled the seats on the platform.

Richard O'Brien, president of the association, opened the meeting with a brief address and introduced Mayor Frink as the first speaker.

The mayor congratulated the directors on their results they achieved and on their determination to have the fair this year in spite of the war. He urged that the citizens should all show the same spirit in carrying on their business and helping to build up the city until it becomes the greatest along the Atlantic seaboard. He closed with a patriotic and inspiring reference to the war and to the volunteers who have gone from St. John.

Hon. George J. Clarke, acting premier, referred to the fact that the exhibition opens with the war clouds hovering over the empire and pointed out that it was as patriotic a duty to keep the wheels of industry moving and to gather the crops as to aid in fighting the battles of the empire. He dwelt briefly on the agricultural and road policies of the government and suggested exhibitions of road making at the fair. He announced that part of the Valley rail with regard to the gift of 100,000 bushels of potatoes by the province to the Imperial government he suggested that this could be increased by private subscription and that this might be a valuable way for the agricultural societies to show their patriotism.

Hon. John E. Wilson said that the present conditions made the exhibition more necessary than ever before and predicted that it would be a great success. The lieutenant governor then pronounced the exhibition open.

During the evening vocal solos were given by Miss Andur, A. C. Smith and Fred McKean, D. Arnold Fox acting as accompanist. The City Cornet band was present and rendered several selections while the crowd was gathering and intervals in the programme. The singing of the National Anthem brought the exercises to a close.

In Main Building.

Probably never in any previous exhibition have the exhibitors expended such effort in making their booths in the main building attractive. The display throughout the numerous buildings is of a very high standard and especially in the main building—the decorative work has been in the hands of capable decorators and dressers. Even in the case of those merchants whose practical exhibits it is difficult to make very attractive, much success has been realized and the general appearance of this branch of the fair will no doubt solicit admiration from the visitors.

The main entrance—from Sydney street—has been made to look splendid; the lawns have been arrayed with flowers and plants; flags have been hung about the face of the buildings and strung from the entrance; myriads of electric lights have been scattered over the face of the huge building and glimmering through the darkness they reveal the interior.

The most conspicuous place of all—that is for general appearance—is located in the southern end of the main floor in the section which corresponds with the dining hall at the northern end. The place referred to is Murray & Gregory's booth. It is located at the northwestern extremity of the section. A touch of patriotism has been introduced into this exhibit which has been constructed in the very interesting form of a monument bearing testimony to the gallant chivalry of British.

The base is painted in slate color and at each corner is a cannon standing pillar-like and forming the support for an artistically designed top piece, bearing the gold crown, coats-of-arms, etc. "What We Have We'll Hold" is lettered on each side just beneath the cannons and then lower down on the base, one on each side, the following: Camperdown, 1887; Crecy, 1846; Trafalgar, 1806; Waterloo, 1815. The whole thing is decorated with flags, British, French, Russian, Belgian, Japanese, Serbian, and interwoven. This entire booth, outside this feature is well arranged, displaying art glass, mirrors and woodwork materials.

In this section of the building also are grouped several merchants displaying pianos and others with scales, adding machines, etc. All are arranged attractively of course and an array of demonstrators in the various lines are on the job looking for "prospects." D. Magee & Sons have a booth separated from the rest, situated at the beginning of the wing and opposite to it is the display of the St. John Railway Company. The Imperial Oil Company has an exhibit near Murray & Gregory's, in which the articles displayed are made to appear very attractive.

There are numerous other smaller booths, all arranged well and presenting a neat appearance, but it would be difficult to enumerate them individually.

The White Man's Burden

People are finding out that a lot of the troubles that go to make up life's burden are caused by

Tea and Coffee Drinking

Tea and coffee contain a drug, caffeine—from 1 1/2 to 3 grains to the cup. It not only stands to reason, but has been demonstrated scientifically and in practical experience, that this steady drugging is a foe to health and comfort.

A great army of people have found freedom from ills due to tea and coffee by changing to —a delicious pure food-drink, made from whole wheat and a bit of molasses. No caffeine, no drug, no harmful ingredient.

Even children drink Postum freely with benefit; they can't do that with tea or coffee.

Postum comes in two forms:

Regular Postum, must be boiled, 15c and 25c pkgs.

Instant Postum, a soluble form, made in the cup instantly, 30c and 50c tins.

Grocers everywhere sell both kinds and the cost per cup is about the same.

"There's a Reason" for Postum

Canadian Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Windsor, Ont.

Our Reason

why our clientele has increased so greatly is—that we give absolute satisfaction at moderate prices.
