SAID HE WAS DRUGGED.

Chas. Hennigar's Misfortudes Ventilated

in the Police Court. Friday morning Chas. Hennigar, ship carpenter, was driven to the police court by hackman O. V. Crozier, Crozier said Hennigar had been driving about town in the hack all night and refused to pay the hack hire. Crozier claimed $3.50. Hennigar had no money on him and was locked up in a police cell. The afternoon of the same day Hennigar was liberated, proprietor Berryman of the Occidental Hotel paying the sum demanded by the hackman.

In the police court this morning Hennigar was the prosecutor in a charge of robbery of $90, preferred against Edward Mutch, formerly foreman for Richard Broderick. Hennigar alleges that Mutch drugged him, and although he knew he was being so treated he was powerless to prevent the theft.

At 11 on Thursday night Hennigar went into the Occidental Hotel and took several drinks. Mutch and one Roop were with him. They with others drank for three or four hours and then left. Mutch, Rose and Hennigar then went to the Monarch saloon and afterwards to ing drinks. Hennigar paving. Rose left Mutch and Hennigar, and Mutch called a hack, saying he lived near Simcoe street, where Hennigar was going. They drove to Simcoe street and got out. Hen nigar had only 50 cents and offered that, The hack-driver refused, but afterwards took it. Mutch and Hennigar entered the hack again with the intention as Hennigar understood of driving to town to get change for a $10 bill. Instead of driving to town they drove to Henley's saloon on the beach. There Mutch and the hackman got drinks. Hennigar could not stir. He says he was helpless Mutch brought him a drink which he said was seltzer water and would sober him up.

The seltzer water turned out according to the evidence of Henry Henley, who mixed the drink, to be a "John Collins." Henley said he saw Mutch take out the drink. He could not have put anything in it or he would have seen him.

Hennigar notwithstanding claims that he was drugged; says he saw Mutch put his hand in his pocket and rob him and he was powerless to help himself. The hackdriver wanted him to get out at the Caledonia Park, but he refused. Mutch got out and the hack-driver drove on, but Mutch was again picked up and the hack-driver took a drink at the saloon near the James Bay bridge. Hennigar did not again see Mutch and the hackdriver drove Hennigar to the police station and he was locked up. Caretaker Miller gave evidence that Hennigar acted as if he had been drugged. The case will be continued to-

RETURN OF THE PHEASANT.

She Was Away in Southern Waters for

Fourteen Months, H. M. S. Pheasant returned from her cruise in southern waters yesterday. dropping anchor in Esquimalt harbor at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. A Times man was aboard to-day and learned the incidents of the voyage. The ship left here on May 15th, 1892, and went to Acapulco, Panama, Callao and Coquimbo, reaching the latter port in the beginning of August. She took stores there and returned to Callao, where she did her firing and drilling at the island of San Lorenzo, opposite the city. Later she cruised up and down the South American coast, meeting both the Warspite and Royal Arthur. She carried the Peruvian mails from Panama, as the regular steamers would have had to go into quarantine. As it was the mails were fumigated but the ship was not quarantined, that being agreed before the trip was made. She left for Esquimalt on June 10th, calling at Panama, San Jose de Guatemala, Acapulco, Magdalena Bay and San Diego. The ship will in all probability remain at the station for some time.

The officers of the Pheasant are Lieutenant-commander, Edward ·H. Blair; lieutenants, F. W. Melvill, Arthur J. D. Macaulay; surgeon, George C. Barrett; engineer, James Brown; assistant paymaster, W. W. Alton; gunner, Chas.

Mrs. Rome has four small children. The remains were interred at Salem.

Funeral of Geo. Morrison

The remains of Geo. Morrison, who was drowned in a pool of water near Fitzgerald's camp on the line of the E. & N. railway, were interred at Ross Bay cemetery yesterday. The funeral left Hayward's undertaking establishment at 2 p.m. and Christ Church cathedral half an hour later. A number of friends of the deceased followed the cortege to the cemetery. No inquest was held in the case, Dr. Dickson of Duncan's station certifying that death was due to accidental drowning.

A Big Haul. On Thursday night of last week, one of the big doors at the sheds on Porter's wharf was forced open and a number of skins stolen. The skins were brought from the north on the steamer Barbara Roscowitz and consigned to the R. P. Rithet Company, limited. There was one bale and one case. During the night some foreshore pirate obtained entrance to the shed by drawing a staple. The bale was cut open and the case broken. The following skins are missing, nine bear, six beaver, one wolverine, one wolf, one lynx and ten otter. The men were evidently disturbed for they left a lot of skins scattered around the warehouse. It is likely the skins were taken away in a boat. They were valued at about $275.

-Twenty-two marriage licenses were issued during July.

NEW WESTMINSTER.

New Westminster, July 28.-At Mc-Keen's logging camp, near Port Neville, on Tuesday, Joseph King, a logger, was paid off to return to Vancouver. He placed $40 in his pockets; the rest of the money he hid about his clothing. On the way from Port Neville, a few miles from camp, another logger, Jas. Grant, who saw him receive the money, stepped out from the bush, pointed a Winchester at King and ordered him to throw up his hands. King complied, when the robber took $40 from him and turned into the bush. It is thought the thief immediately left for another camp further north. 'Police will go from here to arrest him.

The search for the escaped prisoner Cubbins proved futile last night. The report is confirmed that it was he who chased two little girls.

New Westminster, July 29.-The executive committee of the provincial lacrosse association met this morning in the Board of Trade rooms to consider the conduct of Harry Morton in a match between Westminster and Victoria towards L. A. Lewis of this city. Among those present were W. H. Ellis, T. Al-W. H. Cullin, G. Murphy, Victoria: A. Goodman, A. Larwell, Vancouver; J. Reid, R. McBride, A. B. Mackenzie, R. G. MacPherson, Westmin John Reid was in the chair and read a letter from the president of the Victoria lacrosse club saying he would waive all technicalities to allow the charge to be heard at the meeting. To make the matter legal a resolution was passed endorsing the action of the president in calling the meeting. The president then read article 10 of the constitution of the British Columbia amateur lacrosse association, which provides for dealing with such cases. The charge against Morton was read,in which it was set out that he did on July 15th use threatening language towards L. A. Lewis and also indulged in foul play. Murphy contended that the charge could not proceed, as they had not received a copy of the charge, and no defence could be entered. In reply it was stated that the Victoria club had waived all technical points. W. H. Ellis said they only waived technical points so far as the meeting was concerned, and her wanted to see a definite charge laid, stating the words used, the time and The charge was then read that place. Morton did use the following wirds: "I will fix Lewis." There were other threats used by Morton to the same effect at Queen's Park during the lacrosse match on July 15th. Mr. Laurier's Popularity The growth of Mr. Laurier's personal popularity in the country, and his undisputed supremacy as leader of the Liberal party, says the Sydney, Cape Breton, Reporter, are most noticeable features in current political history. One of the delegates from Nova Scotia to the Ottawa convention, Mr. W. H. Guild, of Shubenacadie, Hants county, has penned an open letter to the electors of Hants, in the course of which he says:

"But permit me to say that there never was a man more in the hearts of the people than Hon. Wilfrid Laurier. He never entered that convention hall but that vast multitude of people rose to their feet as one man, and I shall never for get the sea of fans, handkerchiefs and hats waving in the air, and rousing cheer after cheer went up until you would almost imagine that the great roof could no longer contain it; and no less did they cheer every time he came to the front, and whenever any other speaker would burst forth that could be heard a long distance away. You have only to see him to admire him; look into his eyes and you will respect and trust him; shake hands with him and you love him. Every man of the great Liberal party who has met him esteems him highly, and I am led to believe that hundreds of the Conservative party admire him so much that they will fully support him at the next election. We feel proud of such a leader and such a platform. No better platform for good government and prosperity of our noble country could be laid down by the great Liberal party of Canada. Let us, therefore, be ready and willing at the next election. come when it may, to send a gentleman, whoever he may be, who will assist this noble man—Hon. Joseph Howe Memorial. It is proposed to erect a monument in Victoria Park, Truro, Nova Scotia, to the memory of Joseph Howe, and a committee, under the chairmanship of Principal Calkins, of Truro, is now at work endeavoring to raise a fund for the purpose. Howe's figure looms great in that noble struggle for constitutional freedom which brought about, half a century ago, the establishment of parliamentary government in all the British North Ameri can colonies. While a young journalist Howe broke down the libel laws, drafted for the suppression of free speech, and established the liberty of the press. As leader of the Liberal party, he effected reforms of all kinds. As a writer, orator and patriot he is worthy of a monument.

Don't You Know That to have perfect health you must have pure blood, and the best way to have pure blood is to take Hood's Sarsaparilia, best blood purifier and strength builder.
