THE CITY MARKETS.

The advent of local strawberries in lerable quantities was the principal feature of the local markets during the past week. At first they were quoted at 25 cents a box, but since they have come down to 20 cents. There is a prospect, however, of a further drop of five ents before Saturday, and a few warm days will introduce the two for a quarter rule. New local potatoes also have made their apearance, and are being retailed at 4 cents a pound. The local fruits available have been augmented by cherries. They are sold for about 10 cents a pound. California fruit is coming in by every steamer, and apricots and peaches are in the greatest demand. Apart from these there are few changes to report, although sugar is showing signs of dropping in price. During the last few weeks a reduction of 12½ cents on the 100 pounds is notice-Other staple commodities remain very steady, and there are no indications of fluctuation

The Appeals Which Are Being Heard in Vancouver This Week.

The Full court is sitting at Vancouver this week with a long list of appeals to dispose of. The first case which came before their Lordships on Tuesday was Tanghe vs. Morgan, which was heard by Chief Justice Hunter, Mr. Justice 4 Irving and Mr. Justice Martin.

This was an appeal from the judgment of Mr. Justice Morrison and a jury sitting on the case in Rossland in December last. At the time Tanghe sued Morgan for $10,000 damages. The jury awarded $1,500, and now Mr. Morgan is appealling against the decision. The case is really the offspring of another case which was heard in the last Full court, and which attracted great interest, when it was decided that Tanghe, who was then the defendant, had the right to stake a placer claim above the famous Lucky Jack. Tanghe had been arrested by Morgan's request, and prosecuted for taking ore off the claim which the gold commissioner said he had which the gold commissioner said he had we represent the court asked if Hoch had anything to say the court asked no right to do, and as soon as the court reversed the gold commissioner's decistory of the gold commissioner's decistory o ion and confirmed his own claim, Tanghe of very considerable proportions. ing for the appellant Morgan.

Perhaps the most impressive facts so ed convincingly that he could rent tele far brought out, first, the extent to which 45.00 the telephone has been seized upon by 28.00 the farming population; and, second, the 8 enormous possibilities which lie before 11 this department of the industry. "A telephone in every farmhouse," is Sir William Mulock's goal. Ontario has not made as extensive use of the rulal tele phone as have several European countries, and a number of the states of the American Union; yet it is safe to say that the ordinary town-dweller will be the wires of the rural telephone. One reason for this is that the town-dweller, for the most part, is restricted to doing business with the Bell company. That corporation, according to a formidable mass of testimony, at the outset treated the rural business with indifference; then showed hostility towards the spontane-ous and independent efforts of localities to provide themselves with this convenience, and still preserves a difficult and rather impracticable attitude towards the there are about one thousand families, problem of the farmers' telephone.

That bitterness appears in almost every quar ter of Canada, and impresses one as a political factor of some importance.

A point to which the attention of the committee has been directed is the en-ormous possibilities of telephone extenion. Re Messenger Services in Cities. In consequence of the recent growth of messenger services in cities it is necessary to call attention to the fact that the Postmaster-General has the sole and exclusive right under the Post Office Act of conveying, receiving, collecting, sending and de-livering letters in Canada, and that, according to the opinion of the Department of Justice, the term "letters" covers everything in the shape of written personal communications, and includes accounts and even circulars when sent in closed covers.
