ral office with praiseworthy regularity.

Some few weeks ago the selling of cigars was reported, Louis Green, of King street, being the offender in this respect. The reports against Mr. Green are also sent in regularly on Monday mornings, but as yet none of them have been presented to the magistrate.

A third offender has now appeared, and if the present rate of progress keeps on St. John people will be able to buy almost anything they please on Sundays. Yesterday the store occupied by J. G. Sperdakes, on Charlotte street, known as the Klondyke Candy Kitchen, was kept open practically the whole day for the sale of soda water, fruit and candy. Business was only fair.

This has been reported to the chief of police by the sergeant on day duty, and it remains to be seen what action will be taken. Chief Clark is cautious about the matter and says that he will nove slowly until there is something more definite to work on. The recent decision of the Privy Council, which ruled that regulations for the proper observance of the Sabbath should be made by the dominion, is evidently the reason why these reports have not been presented to the magistrate.

Judge Ritchie said today that if the offenders were reported to him he would certainly impose fines in all cases where evidence warranted conviction.

Notwithstanding the above increase the big annual mid-summer sale is still going on at Amiand Bros', Waterloo street, and big reductions from regular prices are made in all kinds of furniture. RAID ON A BANANA STAND.

On Saturday afternoon a rufflan partly under the influence of liquor, attempted to take charge of the peanut and candy stand at the Oakhall corner. The proprietor of the stand was compelled to drive off the rufflan with a large banana stalk, and in the scramble that ensued a number of packages of peanuts were scattered over the pavement. The only damage sustained by the peanut and candy manuesides the loss of a quantity of his peanuts, was a torn necktie, which coming in contact with the claw of the drunken man, left the neck of its wearer. No arrest was made.

CUSHING CASE STILL ON.

Plaintiffs Try to Show Geo. S. Cushing Responsible For Alleged Extravegance.

The Cushing equity suit was continued this morning, Harry W. Schofield, the secretary-treasurer of the Cushing Sulphite Fibre Company, still being on the stand.

H. A. Powell, K. C., began the re-examination of the witness this morning. He quoted largely from correspondence between Capt. Partington, the president of the company and George H. Cushing, the managing director, his object being to show that Mr. Cushing had full authority during the period in dispute and is personally responsible for the extravagance charged against him in the management of the concern. The witness said that he knew of no correspondence contrary to the fact that Capt. Partington always looked specially to Mr. Cushing in the direction of the affairs of the plant. Men whom Capt. Partington sent out from the old country occupied the position of mere assistants to Mr. Cushing and were answerable to him personally.

Mr. Powell offered in evidence the and: Fowen orered in evidence the audit reports from March 1901, up to the time when Mr. Cushing severed his connection with the company.

As most of the facts bearing on the case have to be drawn from correspondence and official papers, in all probability the hearing of the suit will take longer than was at first thought.

HELP FOR THE HARVEST.

About 1,500 Maritime Laborers Will Leave for the Western Grain Fields Next Friday.

Fields Next Friday.

On Friday next St. John will see the first rush of laborers to the west. On account of the scarcity of labor throughout Manitoba and the North-West territories, the eastern provinces are again asked to send out help for the harvest. The first detachment will gather here on Friday and will leave by special trains between six and cight o'clock in the evening.

Three years ago twenty-six hundred men were sent forward from here on one day, but/t is not thought that so many will y this year. Times are so good in the east and so few men are out of employment that probably not more than fifteen hundred will go on the first excursion. The Sydney men are due to reach St. John early on Friday morning, and the different trains arriving during the day will bring large parties from other provincial points.

TRAINMAN SAVES TWELVE ON WILD TRAIN.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 15. —
Presence of mind of a trainman saved a dozen of his fellow passengers from serious consequences in the railroad yard at North White Plains early this morning. Noticing that the engine and it so ne car had sped past the station where it should have stopped, George Simmons, a fireman employed on the Harlen road, riding in the coach, it looked out of the window. He saw Frank Warrer, the fireman, who was running the engine during the temperary absence of the angine driver, leaning out of the cab with a gash on his head.

Simmons ran to the platform of the passenger car and pulled the emergency air-brake, but, it is said, the brake hose had not been connected with the engine, and this effort to stop the train was rapidly approaching the railroad yard limits, and the tower man there would throw the runaway train into the yard siding, where it would be certain to orash into some or the follar folling stock, rather than endanger passenger trains on the main track. Simmons appreciated this and quickly climbed over the coal in the tendent Warrer.
