Erected by the St. Quentin Chapter, I.O.D.E.

The above bronze tablet was unveiled yesterday afternoon before a large concourse at the Library Hall that had gathered to do honor to the boys who have made the supreme sacrifice in the great war. The impressive ceremony which was conducted by the Daughters of the Empire took place on the lawn in front of the main entrance to the building, the tablet being placed just west of the main doorway. At 3 o'clock about 70 returned heroes lined up behind the W.M.S. Band at the corner of King and William Streets and paraded to the library hall, the streets along the line of march being thronged with hundreds of citizens. Directly in front of the building a space had been reserved for the boys who had gone overseas and done their bit, and it was in full view of these that the ceremony took place. The triangular square was thronged with people and during the impressive service there were few if any dry eyes in the large assembly. The service opened with the singing of the National Anthem, led by the Band, while Miss Margaret Stuart, the standard bearer of the Chapter, displayed the good old Union Jack. Then followed inspiring, sympathetic and touching references from the clergy of the town. They spoke of the sacrifice the boys had made, how they had left comfortable surroundings, their dear loved ones, had gone to fight the enemy that peace, freedom and liberty should be ours. Sympathy was extended to the parents, the brothers and sisters, the widows and the sweethearts of the brave boys who had laid down their lives for their friends. Touching reference was made of those who had suffered through losing their loved ones. Above it all they had given their own for a cause that had triumphed, a cause that was right and just and as one speaker put it while we are here to sympathize with those who mourn we must also congratulate them on having sons and husbands who were willing to lay down their lives if necessary—that we might have peace and liberty. The scene was touching indeed when the large Union Jack, which covered the tablet, was released and the beautiful memorial was exposed to view. It was a sad occasion for many in the large concourse of people who had gathered to show their sympathy if only by their presence. The tablet is a beautiful piece of bronze work and is surmounted by a beautiful wreath. It was one of the most impressive services ever held in town and St. Quentin Chapter, I.O.D.E., are to be congratulated on the successful carrying out of this most worthy act. The order of service was as follows:

God Save the King, with Band accompaniment.
Address—Mayor Kutt.
Opening Prayer—Prof. Little.
Hymn—Oh God our help in ages past.
Addresses by Rev. McKerscher, Father Meyer, Rev. Harton, Rev. Harding.

FINE ADDRESS ON HOLY LAND

St. John's Lutheran Church held a large and appreciative congregation last evening the occasion being an illustrated lecture on the Holy Land by Rev. Prof. H. Schaefer of the Lutheran Seminary and Waterloo College. The lecturer gave a most precise and thorough talk on Palestine and accompanied as they were by excellent slides thrown on a large screen, held undivided attention of the large congregation throughout. The speaker took his hearers back to 4000 B.C. and gave a most exacting portrayal of the customs of the country and the peoples for the next 1000 years alone preventing him from continuing any longer much to the regret of the audience who would willingly have had the lecturer continue. It was an excellent discourse from beginning to end and perfect in every little detail. A silver collection was taken at the door for the seminary and a goodly sum realized.

Guelph Labor, Soldier Amalgamation
Although the municipal elections in Guelph are nearly two months away, there is already considerable activity in some quarters in getting ready for the big annual event.

In 1920 Guelph starts on the second year of its new form of civil administration and there are 12 members of the present Council who do not have to worry about a seat on next year's board. Six of these were elected for three years last January, while the other six went on for two years. The term of office of the remainder of the present Council expires at the end of the present year.

If the plans of a labor-soldier combination result in a happy amalgamation, both labor and returned men will make a strong bid to capture some of the six seats. The preliminary voting to further a labor-soldier combination for municipal honors was held yesterday at the Trades and Labor Hall, when representatives from the Independent Labor party, Trades and Labor Council and G. W. V. A. were present. No definite decision was arrived at, but those who attended the gathering are firmly of the opinion that the combination can get the representation on the Council to which they claim they are entitled. The aldermen who are elected next January and each succeeding January will go in for three years, which fact should be a big inducement in getting candidates to stand.

AGED RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

There passed away yesterday afternoon one of Waterloo's oldest and most highly respected residents in the person of Mrs. Elizabeth Keil at the advanced age of 80 years 11 months and 12 days, death following an illness extending over a period of a year and a half. The deceased who was born on Germany came to this country when quite young and for a number of years resided at Salem. During her residence in Waterloo she made many friends who will regret to hear of her sad demise. Her husband predeceased her about 20 years ago, one sister, Mrs. J. Schedewitz, of Windsor G. W. V. A. Objects to Prince Decorating Costello to Windsor, Nov. 8.—Aroused at the announcement that Harry Costello would be decorated by the Prince of Wales for gallantry on the Archaed front, the executive committee of the Windsor command of the G. W. V. A. to-day authorized Capt. Peacock, secretary, to take whatever steps he deemed advisable to prevent the ceremony. Capt. Peacock, however, believes it would be futile to ask the prince to cancel engagement with Costello "if the decoration is for bravery on the field."

He got in touch on Saturday with Sgt. W. E. Turley, provincial secretary of the G. W. V. A. with a view to referring the matter to that officer before communicating with Admiral Sir Lionel. Hansen, a member of the prince's staff. In the event of Mr. Turley advising action, the following letter drafted this afternoon by Capt. Peacock will be sent to Ottawa: "Costello, of Detroit, during September, of this year wrote for press distribution several scurrilous articles which were published by newspapers throughout the United States, attacking British expeditionary forces in Russia, especially personal gallantry and conduct of the British officers. Dispatches to-day state that Costello is to be decorated by the Prince of Wales. Is there some mistake?"

AT THE CHURCHES

First Armistice-Day Anniversary Observed.

Thanksgiving and special prayers on the approach of the first anniversary of Armistice Day were features at several churches on Sunday. Appropriate references to the occasion were also made by pastors in their sermons. Impressive words were uttered regarding the members to keep faith with the heroic dead.

Now that the big struggle is over the necessity of keeping the faith in order in one's own country was impressed. Notes of confidence, however, rang through the addresses and the common opinion was expressed that the British Empire and the Dominion would grow and continue to develop a high type of citizenship. Optimism was the keynote of the concluding parts of these addresses.

The following pastors occupied the pulpits of the respective churches. Rev. Lewis Slight, of England, conducted both services at the New Jerusalem Church.

At Alma St. U. B. Church the Rev. G. A. Shepherdson of New Dundee, preached in the morning while in the evening E. H. Thamer conducted the services.

The Rev. Arndt, city, conducted the morning services at St. Matthew's Church, the pastor, the Rev. John Schneider being at Preston where he installed the new pastor, the Rev. W. Knauff. The Rev. Schneider conducted the evening services at St. Matthew's as usual.
