The return of the Duo Pach

Arlene and Joseph Pach

After an absence of several years, the piano-violin team of Joseph and Arlene Pach returns to the Creative Arts concert stage at the Playhouse next Wednesday, November 2. Free tickets for UNB and STU students are now available at the SUB office, STU, business office, Art Centre, and Residence Office.

Arlene and Joseph Pach came to UNB as resident musicians in 1964. For several years they performed as the Duo Pach until, with the arrival of other musicians-in-residence, they were able to expand into the trio and quartet repertoire. When finally Joseph Pach formed the Brunswick String Quartet it assumed the central role of campus musicians, although Arlene Pach was always available for the occasional piano quartet or quintet. And occasionally, the Duo Pach reappeared in performance for small gatherings of friends and admirers.

In returning to the concert stage in the Creative Arts series, the Duo Pach promises an evening of outstanding violin sonatas from the Romantic tradition, including works by Schubert, Faure, Debussy, and Respighi. The Faure sonata, the first of the two he wrote, is especially pleasing with its lilting, spring-like quality.

Seats for Creative Arts subscribers and students who pick up tickets are assured. A limited number of general admissions will be available at the door at $6 per ticket. Concert time is 8 p.m.
