The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is the positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have no much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Favorite Picture of The People's Prince

When it became definitely known that H.R.H. the Prince of Wales would open the Canadian National Exhibition this year the management at once got into touch with the official photographers in London and requested a profile photograph of him for reproduction on the Victory Year Medal to be awarded to the winners in the Agriculture and other sections of the Big Fair. The photo shown above was received after considerable delay, and immediately a cable was rushed back to this effect:

"A mistake has been made. An official picture is desired. One you sent shows the Prince without hat or coat and with khaki shirt collar turned in. Charming deshabille, but hardly dignified enough."

Then came the answer: "Sorry you dislike it. It's the Prince's favorite picture, taken with the Canadians in France and in every sense official." And that is the reason why the People's Prince will appear on the Canadian National Exhibition 1916 medals, hatless, coatless and in the careless attire of the Fighting Man in France. He will open the Big Fair on Monday, August 25th.

THE PRINCE OF WALES AS A SOLDIER.

Many charming little stories, demonstrating his great human and soldierly qualities, are being told about the Prince of Wales, who will open the Canadian National Exhibition on Monday, Aug. 25th.

The Canadian boys overseas had plenty of opportunity to observe his actions and declare that he seemed to love danger and at times his conduct bordered on the reckless.

This side of his character is well illustrated by the following extract from Ian Hay's book, "The First Hundred Thousand."

"Blakie lit his pipe—it was almost broad daylight now—and considered. 'Yes,' he agreed, 'perhaps. Still my son, I can't say I have ever noticed staff officers crowding into the trenches (as they have a perfect right to do) at four o'clock in the morning. And I can't say I altogether blame them. In fact, if I ever do meet one performing such a feat, I shall say, 'there goes a sahib—and a soldier,' and I shall take off my hat to him."

"Well, get ready now," said Bobby. Look."

They were still standing at the trench junction. Two figures in the uniform of the staff were visible in Orchard Trench, working their way down from the apex, picking their steps amid the tumbled sandbags and stooping low to avoid gaps in the ruined parapet. The sun was just rising behind the German trenches. One of the officers was burly and middle-aged; he did not appear to enjoy bending double. His companion was slight, fair-haired and looked incredibly young. Once or twice he glanced over his shoulder and smiled encouragingly at his senior.

The pair emerged through the archway into the main trench and straightened their backs with obvious relief. The younger officer—he was a lieutenant—noticed Captain Blakie, saluted him gravely and turned to follow his companion. Captain Blakie did not take his hat off as he had promised. Instead he stood suddenly to attention, and saluted in return, keeping his hand uplifted until the slim, childish figure had disappeared round the corner of a traverse.

It was the Prince of Wales.

LIFE

The Great "IF" in Life

It is this ever present "IF" that life insurance offsets. The man on a salary with a family to support will be able to provide for his loved ones IF he lives and does not become disabled.

He will pay off the mortgage on his house IF he lives until he has saved the necessary amount. He will send his son to college and present his daughter with a marriage portion IF an accident or an illness does not carry him off prematurely.

The partners in business will continue to prosper IF death does not rob the firm of the capital, brains or experience necessary to its success.

The youth will each week, or month, save something for his old age IF he sets aside a few dollars at regular intervals in a safe depository.

The aged mother will never experience want IF her son continues his dutiful support uninterrupted by death.

Thus the whole fabric is woven around the little word "IF."

The father on a salary, the partners in business, the son or daughter who supports an aged parent, in fact every man and woman on whom others depend, can make sure and permanent provision for the future by means of life insurance—IF taken in time.
