

Good Roads Campaign.

Motor Association Approaches Government.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—At a meeting of the Executive and Road Committee of the Newfoundland Motor Association, held on the 24th inst., I was instructed to forward you enclosed copy of letter to the Colonial Secretary with the request that you be kind enough to give it publication in the interest of the general public.

I am, Sir,
Yours respectfully,
THE NEWFOUNDLAND MOTOR ASSO.
P. E. OUTERBRIDGE,
Secretary-Treas.

Sept. 28, 1921.

The Colonial Secretary,
St. John's.

Dear Sir.—At a meeting of the Executive and Road Committee of the Newfoundland Motor Association, held on the 24th inst., we were instructed to respectfully convey to you the following Resolution passed unanimously at that meeting:

"That if the Government decide to pass further grants for relief road work, the Road Committee recommend that such amounts be expended only upon the main highways, many of which are badly in need of repairs, citing for instance that part of the road leading from Seal Cove to Holyrood, commonly known as the 'Cow Path,' roads leading to Bay Roberts and Spaniard's Bay and from Carbonear to Heart's Content; also the road from Holyrood to Salmonier, certain sections of the Southern Shore road and certain sections in the eastern part of St. John's."

"The Executive and Road Committee further strongly recommended that all moneys expended in relief road work should be expended under the direction and control of the Newfoundland Road Commission."

"The Road Commission further recommended that where bridges are unsafe and consequently need replacing, they should preferably be replaced by concrete and that in the case of smaller bridges they should all be replaced by concrete culverts."

We are, Sir,
Yours respectfully,
(Sgd.) For and on behalf of
THE NEWFOUNDLAND MOTOR ASSO.,
H. E. COWAN, President,
P. E. OUTERBRIDGE, Secy.-Treas.
Sept. 28, 1921.

Keep At It.

Premier Squires has inquired into the Federal Tariff Bill with the Senate Committee at Washington, and that body may not allow the passing of the measure, thus affecting the entry of our produce into America.

If the Premier should be successful in his endeavours, the $5 tax on herring will be saved, thus giving us a chance to keep up that industry at a profit to U.S.A.

When we consider the immense trade done in herring, even in this section of the District, we see that even though the price is not the highest, but it has helped to accommodate our people with the present needs.

The American tariff has not effected last spring's catch, and many of our shipments have been to Halifax, thence to the Southern markets.

The catch was, we are surprised to learn, in the neighbourhood of 100,000 worth for this District, the export from Twillingate being about $75,000. In the Northern part of the District we learn that not more than 10,000 barrels of herring were shipped. This includes Springdale, and the people there will have a chance to sell again this fall, as buyers are thinking of doing business there. The Union Trading Co. intend packing, also Redman and Book.

This industry gives employment to coopers, sawyers, and a host of our people who engage in netting, packing and shipping, besides gaining a livelihood when other industries are dormant.

If it had not been for the turn over of the herring business—although at a low value—this spring, we fear a cessation of affairs would have overtaken us, that we would perhaps not have emerged from.

The Sun tenders a word of gratitude to the suppliers here and elsewhere, for their venture into the herring trade, and to the fisherfolk who helped in no mean way to get this article of food to other races of the earth.

The packages sometimes are not the best, and this often causes our product to be lying on the piers at Halifax and New York in a bad condition. If care is taken our market should continue as a lasting benefit to Newfoundland, and perhaps other markets will be opened that would be glad to purchase from us. Russia, it seems, can tackle large stocks of pickled fish, and perhaps our men in control can gain that field for big shipments. Twillingate Sun.

If you are looking for comfort see the Hug-Me-Tights at I. LEVITZ. Black only. Worth $2.00. Clearing for 79 cents. 252 Water Street, opp. Dicks & Co. sept23, 21

The Industrial Home.

OUR ONLY REFORMATORY.

The Industrial Home, in which five young girls, who would otherwise be roaming the streets, are given a good home and taught proficiency in various spheres of usefulness, is the nearest approach to a reformatory which we possess. But it is not a reformatory in the sense in which the word is now currently used. It is, rather, so Mrs. Hunter, President of the W.C.T.U. told the Telegram yesterday, a home where girls who have fallen into bad ways are weaned from their unfortunate habits by kindness. The Girls' Industrial Home, to give it its proper title, was founded in April of the present year. The Jensen Camp Committee kindly offered the Jensen Camp Staff House for the purpose and under the superintendence of Mrs. Lockyer, of Burnt, the Home was opened. The first inmates were the two unfortunate girls, Teena, Mrs. Lockyer did splendid work during her stay as matron and when she left recently she was succeeded by Capt. Crann, R.A., who has as her assistant, Miss Willis, also of the Salvation Army. The girls who reside in the Home are given the rudiments of education, and are taught sewing, knitting, crochet work and domestic science, everything, in fact, which will adapt them for the places which they should fill in life. It is proposed to add a man to the staff, and the committee in charge are planning to have poultry raised to enable the Home to become self-supporting. The Home, which has the sympathetic support of Lady Harris, Archbishop Roche, Sir Richard Squires and Judge Morris, is run under the guidance of a committee, whose officers are: President, Mrs. Hunter; Vice-Pres., Mrs. (Col.) Martin, S.A.; Secretary, Mrs. Withers; Treasurer, Mrs. (Rev.) Forbes; Asst. Treasurer, Mrs. J. C. Baird; Purchaser, Mrs. P. J. Shea. It has the support, too, of clergymen of all denominations. The Home is at present handicapped by lack of funds and its progress must naturally be retarded until this deficiency can be supplied. At present it is kept going by private subscription, but funds are urgently needed if it is to continue to flourish. That it is doing a good work, none will deny, and it should most certainly receive the support of all philanthropic citizens.

Deadly Inventions.

After laboriously working out a theory which engrossed his attention ever since 1911, M. O. Radley, a Vancouver man, claims to have perfected three engines of destruction that must be classed as among the most terrible known, even in those days of scientific warfare. These are an aerial torpedo, a water torpedo and an aerial bomb, all of which are steered or controlled by wireless electric currents.

According to the inventor these missiles will easily destroy steel ships, bridges and even shore fortifications.

The aerial torpedo, Radley explains, will be similar to a seaplane charged with high explosive, elevated and steered with electric current and driven with gasoline. It will have an approximate speed of two miles a minute, which can be appreciably increased when the objective is sighted and impact is imminent. The torpedo can be adjusted to attack airships or aeroplanes, the distance between start and target being limited only by the quantity of gasoline which can be carried. The chief difference between the water torpedo and the aerial torpedo is that the former has no wings. It is driven with a propeller and can only be discharged from land or wooden ships. Its approximate speed is one mile a minute, and it can be adjusted to attack undersea craft after submerging.

The aerial bomb, which can also smash into submarines while under water, is to be discharged from airships or aeroplanes, steering being by means of a new style rudder operated by wireless current.

It is understood that these three inventions will be offered to the British War Office, and that, falling acceptance in that quarter, a friendly foreign power will be given the second chance.

Shot Gossip Dead.

Rather Than Fall Out His Tongue. How gossips are treated in Bangkok, Siam, is told by a Daily Mail correspondent, who describes the shooting of a Siamese rice merchant by a jeweller, whose ipse dixit was that "all gossips should be killed." We are not so severe on "tongue artists" in this country.

"At the Baptist Criminal Courts, Nai Nuam, a jeweller has been sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment for shooting Nai Chun, a rice merchant, for being a gossip."

"It was more merciful to kill him," the prisoner said, "than to follow the ancient law and pull out his tongue. Indeed, I gave a feast to my friends, including Nai Chun, and before ending his life I gave him opium to smoke. A few minutes before I shot him Nai Chun told me that he heard singing and saw girls dancing in his opium dreams. His end was merciful. My conscience is clear. All gossips should be killed."

It appeared that Nai Chun had gossiped about a present of jade which the jeweller had made to an actress.
