A GAME PIECE FOR THE TWO BALL TEAMS

Double Victory of Winnipeg Places That Team at Head of the League

We split even in the double bill with the Mid Hatters yesterday. We should have won them both in the words of the poet that is quite another story. The game in the morning was somewhat of the nightmare kind, but the controversy in the evening was the story of a ball game. The attendance was very fine and the directors are well satisfied with the day's performance, the only but in the morning being the morning's disaster. In the evening 1,618 people put down real money at the counter, which is a record attendance, the previous high water mark being 1,101.

These ninth inning disasters are getting entirely too numerous and are exceedingly painful, and the race on Tuesday morning was one of them. It was one of those hard fought, well contested, heart-breaking contests that make one somewhat disappointed with life. Pete Standeridge was the flinger and did well until the game had run past its usual course, when he weakened a bit. But he had the game won a couple of times, and errors and plays of the bonehead variety lost the game for us. The third inning was really the heart-breaker, and two runs were scored, which would never have been the right of a score board but for the stupid work of the players on the infield. Chandler was the principal offender and played as though he were in a trance, and a sound trace at that. It was terrible medicine.

As usual, we started out in the lead and got away to a two run lead in the first through good awaiting by Paddock and Carney and a wild play by the big Swede in the box for Medicine Hat.

But we lost them all in the third inning. With one out Nelson singled. With the second man out McCarter put out one which Chandler might have reached had he been somewhat speedier, and when it was gone he started in to think it over, and before he thought it all out the runner had scored. McCarter scored on Wilson's single and there is the game tied up again.

We broke the tie in the fifth. Flanagan doubled and Standeridge sacrificed him to third, but he was slipped at the plate trying to score on Paddock's effort. Paddock scored when King William whaled a three racket to right.

The hat came back in the sixth and played a run after two were out. Then Sturgeon hit for three sacks and scored on Shafer's hit.

But we were in the run business ourselves. First up, Smith smashed nicely for two sacks, and got third on Kellackey's sacrifice, scoring in Chandler's out.

We worked into the ninth inning with that one run lead, when Shafer first up, singled for the third time, and stole time during the morning. Pete got the next two, and it was Nelson to bat. Dunn took his place and swatted a hard sock punch down at Smith. As it reached the third sacker the ball took a bad bound, and that was the beginning of the downfall. But for that mishap the game would have been a close one.

In our half we started out well with a single by Flanagan, but Pete doubled him up in attempting to sacrifice.

And then came the nightmare of a tenth. Wilson singled, Zimmerman tried to sacrifice, but failed, but Pete threw it badly to second and two were on the plate. Sturgeon filled the bases. Then Shafer hit and two men scored. Harper lifted a long one to Carney, and Sturgeon scored. Shafer scored in an offering that was partly a wild pitch and partly a passed ball.

With two out Smith got on in the last inning, but no further than first. Here is the score of the memorable episode:

HIGH RIVER WON GAME BY VERY CLOSE SCORE

High River Team is Very Strong and Played Good Lacrosse

The Calgary Lacrosse team returned to the city last night from their trip to High River, or at least a part of the team did, for one of the members who started out in an automobile hadn't reached either High River or Calgary late last night.

The game was an excellent one in every respect and though the High River team won by 2 to 1, it was only in the last four minutes of play that the tie was broken and even at that the goal was not the result of a shot on goal at all, but glanced off McLean's stick and carried into the net. The game was a good exhibition and though a stiff one all the way through it was clean lacrosse.

The High River team was mooted to be a good one, and the Calgary boys found that the truth had not been exaggerated any. Several eastern players have made High River their home during the past year and they strengthen the south town team a whole lot.

Calgary found the net for one toward the middle of the second quarter, some beautiful combination work doing the trick. Coulson got the ball, passed to McLean, who passed to Belcher, he putting it over to Dickie, and the latter slamming it fair into the net. It was nice and the spectators cheered. Neither side could do anything then until only four minutes of the last quarter remained, when Adams took a pass from Matheson and shot it in the air and allowed several bunched hits. Fraser for the Leafs, pitched a steady game, Cameron, Leach, McGinty and Fraser made hits for the winners. The batteries were: Adams, Westmore, Curtis and Jones; Eagles, McConkey and Rogers.

WESTMINSTER WON FIRST GAME IN COAST LEAGUE
New Westminster, B.C., May 24.—By a score of two goals one Westminster defeated Vancouver in a hard-fought lacrosse match this afternoon, the teams being evenly matched.

The Salmon-Bellies had the advantage of home grounds and can hold their feet, better on wet grass. The Leafs scored their two goals in the second quarter, while Vancouver secured their lone one in the third. Six men on each side were penalized, three for twenty minutes for fighting.

Tom Rennie, Westminster's centre, suffered a broken shoulder blade, the result of body checking Howard. He will be off for two weeks.

Dave Gibbons, Vancouver's all time leader, was laid out for a few minutes. In spite of inclement weather nearly five thousand people attended the match. Close followers of the game believe the teams so evenly matched that the leadership of the league should see-saw all season. The teams were: Westminster—Gray, Galbraith, T. Gifford, Marshall, J. Gifford, T. Rennie, Westmore, C. Spring, L. Turnbull, G. Spring, Latham.

Vancouver—Gibbons, Gifford, Howard, Clarkson, Pickering, Garvey, West, Matheson, Murray, Allen, Ravay, Adamson.

Referee—Billy Ditchburn of Victoria.

LAUDER'S EASY WIN BUT ON A DECISION

Had Standon All But Out Once or Twice But Couldn't Land the Knockout

In a whirlwind mill Billy Lauder got the decision over Rod Standon, the Nanimo boy, at the Star arena yesterday morning.

Had Lauder had the necessary kick in either hit he would have had his man out in the sixth round, but he could not lay one on. Standon stayed until the finish on his nerve, having no show to win.

Lauder was far from being in good condition and showed it in the last few rounds all the steam seemed to go from him, and it took a lot of exertion to slip one over. He missed the chance time and again to put Standon into dreamland, and yet he fought the best fight that the Calgary fans have ever seen him put up. His style of fight seems as a surprise to those handling him. It was a case of stand up and take, and may the best man win, and little Billy Lauder, who used to play the game depending on his foot to keep him out of trouble, stood the racket better than his opponent.

Cappy Smart, who refereed the fight, could give no other decision, as in the eighth Standon complained his men in every round except the first and second, where Standon had a shade.

The men fought fairly even up to the sixth, when Lauder put in a right swing to the jaw and Standon went down. He stayed for nine and came up groggy. Billy went after him and sent him down for the count with a right uppercut. Standon came up on his feet, but only the bell saved him, as a very tight punch would have sent him down.

On the opening of the seventh round Lauder tried for the knockout, but the punch lacked strength, and Standon went down for the count, getting up to wipe the foam from his eyes. They started in again and Billy drove him around the ring, but could not connect. Standon was very groggy when he was hit on the corner.

In the eighth round Lauder's chances to win by the knockout route had disappeared, and Standon seemed to strengthen, and Lauder only had this round by a narrow margin.

In the ninth Standon was on the aggressive, forcing Lauder around the ring, with the Scotch boy doing the most damage. He kept crowding the kidneys, seemed to weaken Standon considerably, and Billy was laying on the left jab to the head.

In the tenth Standon tried to win back some of Lauder's lead, but could not lay them on, being too tired to land with any effect, and wasting a lot of strength with wild swings.

The eleventh round brought out some of the best milling of the fight. Lauder was there with the speed and hit his man at will, but the punches lacked power. He kept crowding the kidneys, made a great showing by his pluck and appetite for taking punishment. He was beaten to a standstill, and the crowd cheered him repeatedly for the plucky way in which he stayed with the game.

Rounds twelve and thirteen gave Lauder a decided advantage. Standon was telegraphing wild haymakers, but they were a waste out. Lauder opened the fourteenth with a right uppercut, but the right hand was a right to do get started and started to tear loose in clinches, and was warned by Referee Smart. They finished with the ball in the center of the ring, but no damage was done, both being wild.

The final round started off with Lauder forcing matters, and the fight he had a strong groggy, and the crowd were yelling for the exterminator, but Billy was all in, too. The round ended with Lauder rushing his man, sending in left and right jabs to the head. Cappy Smart did not hesitate, he gave Lauder the decision.

Another Aged One is Walking

New York, May 24.—John Ennis, the Stamford, Conn. pedestrian, who applies to break Weston's record from New York to San Francisco, left the city hall at 10:15 Monday morning, armed with letters from Mayor Gray to the mayors of Chicago and San Francisco. Ennis will be 88 years old on June 1, just about three years younger than Weston.

"I got stirred up by a reported statement of Weston's that no one except a person born in America could do such a walk," said Mr. Ennis. "I have a pair of good legs and I think I could turn as good as a better stunt myself." Mayor Gaymer started Ennis on his long journey.

Sunday School Game

Teams from the Presbyterian and Methodist churches of Hillhurst played a game of football yesterday afternoon on the Hillhurst grounds. The game was very close, and the Methodist backs played a good game. The game was a very clean one, and Referee McDonald gave out very few penalties.
